(c) To exercise such other powers and assume such responsibilities as are set forth in Directive 42 and PR–33, except in connection with appeals.

(d) To redelegate to one specific person within the Development and Reutilization Division in each region authority to exercise the above functions in his behalf; such person, whose name shall be registered with the Central Office Priorities Section, to act as Liaison Officer with the Central Office in priority matters. (All such actions shall be in conformity with the applicable CPA and NHA regulations.)

(x) Pursuant to the authority under the First War Powers Act, and Executive Orders 9001, 9116, and 9686, to waive the requirement of performance and payment bonds, in connection with lump-sum contracts relating to the development of veterans' emergency housing projects, in those cases where the FPHA contracts with a local public body (such as municipalities and educational institutions), for the erection and repair of trailers to be done by the local body, subject to a legally sufficient determination that such action will facilitate or expedite the veterans' housing program.

Such bonds, however, may be required from the subcontractors of the local body, at the option of the above-mentioned FPHA officials, when such action is deemed necessary and in the best interest of the Government.

(xi) Pursuant to Title V of the Lanham Act, as amended, to execute contracts or other documents conveying surplus personal property available to FPHA to local bodies (educational institutions, States or political subdivisions thereof, local public agencies, and nonprofit organizations) for use in connection with veterans' emergency housing.

(b) Delegations of authority to the Regional Director and Assistant Regional Directors of Region IV. In connection with the decentralization of FPHA relationship with TVA pertaining to the operation of FPHA-owned housing projects, the Regional Director and Assistant Regional Directors of Region IV are delegated the power to execute agreements and revise or amend existing agreements.

(c) Delegations to Deputy Regional Directors. (1) The deputy regional directors are delegated the power:

(i) To exercise the same authority delegated heretofore or hereafter to the regional director.

(ii) To exercise the same authority delegated heretofore or hereafter to the assistant regional directors.

(iii) To exercise the same authority delegated heretofore or hereafter to other regional officials.

(2) The power delegated to the deputy regional director shall be subject to:

(i) The limitations imposed by the regional director.

(ii) The limitations imposed by the nature of delegations, such as a delegation made by name rather than by title or position.

(iii) The limitations imposed by formal requirements, such as filing of a bond or signature card, in which case the deputy regional director shall not exercise such powers without complying with the formal requirements.

(d) Delegations of authority to Assistant Regional Directors for Development and Reutilization. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Public Laws 671, 781 and 849 (excluding Title V thereof), 76th Congress, and Public Laws 9, 73 and 353, 77th Congress; all as amended and supplemented, assistant regional directors for development and reutilization are authorized in connection with the development of projects:

(i) To execute or approve contracts in any amount (within the limits of available or allotted funds) with respect to the development of projects.

(ii) To execute or approve contract changes in any amount (within the limits of available or allotted funds) with respect to the development of projects, and to act as the representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving such contract changes when the contract documents require the approval of contract changes in excess of $500 by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative; and to execute documents involving any extensions of the contract completion date which may be approvable under the terms of the contract irrespective of whether extra work is involved.

(iii) To select or approve sites.

(iv) To effectuate, wherever possible, the annexation of project properties by political subdivision if necessary to facilitate the extension of adequate public facilities or services including utilities to such property.

(v) Pursuant to the terms of CPA Directive 42 as amended, NHA General Order 21–33A, Priority Regulation 33 as amended, and in consideration of CPA Order VHP–1:

(a) To process and approve application for HH preference ratings, and to begin construction for projects within the terms of PR–33, when such requests are submitted on Form CPA–4386;

(b) To exercise such other powers and assume such responsibilities as are set forth in Directive 42 and PR–33, except in connection with appeals;

(c) To redelegate to one specific person within the Development and Reutilization Branch in each region authority to exercise the above functions in their behalf; such appointee, whose name shall be registered with the Central Office Priorities Section, to act as liaison officer with the Central Office in all priority matters.

(All such actions shall be in conformity with the applicable CPA and NHA regulations.)

(2) Pursuant to the U. S. Housing Act of 1937, as amended and Title II of Public 671, 76th Congress, approved June 28, 1940, assistant regional directors for development and reutilization are authorized to execute agreements and waivers and give approval in connection with FPHA aided projects as set forth in regional director's delegation in paragraph A4 above.

(3) Pursuant to Title V of the Lanham Act as amended, assistant regional directors or development and reutilization are authorized:

(i) To negotiate and execute cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contracts Form FPHA–1482, including schedules of prices for finished dwelling units for the construction of veterans' emergency housing projects and any amendments to this contract and additional schedules of prices for finished dwelling units subsequently approved by the Assistant Commissioner for Development and Reutilization.

(ii) To execute or approve changes in the contract in any amount within the limit of available or allotted funds, and to execute and approve documents involving any extensions of the contract completion date which may be approvable under the terms of the contract irrespective of whether extra work is involved. Any changes approved by any region shall apply only to Notices to Proceed with projects to be erected in that region (without regard to the original location of the buildings).

(iii) To execute Notices to Proceed.

(iv) Pursuant to the authority under the First War Powers Act, and Executive Orders 9001, 9116, and 9686, to waive the requirement of performance and payment bonds, in connection with lump-sum contracts relating to the development of veterans' emergency housing projects, in those cases where the FPHA contracts with a local public body (such as municipalities and educational institutions) for the erection and repair of trailers to be done by the local body, subject to a legally sufficient determination that such action will facilitate or expedite the veterans' housing program. Such bonds, however, may be required from the subcontractors of the local body, at the option of FPHA when such action is deemed necessary and in the best interest of the Government.

(v) Pursuant to the terms of CPA Directive 42 as amended, NHA General Order 21–33A, Priority Regulation 33 as amended, and in consideration of CPA Order VHP–1:

(a) To process and approve application for HH preference ratings, and to begin construction for projects within the terms of PR–33, when such requests are submitted on Form CPA–4386;

(b) To exercise such other powers and assume such responsibilities as are set forth in Directive 42 and PR–33, except in connection with appeals;

(c) To redelegate to one specific person within the Development and Reutilization Division in each region authority to exercise the above functions in his behalf; such appointee, whose name shall be registered with the Central Office Priorities Section, to act as liaison officer with the Central Office in all priority matters. (All such actions shall be in conformity with the applicable CPA and NHA regulations.)

(4) Pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act as amended, SPA Regulation 5, Order 6, and NHA General Order 21–29–A, to make the necessary factual findings as to which housing, assigned to the National Housing Agency by the War Assets Administration for disposal, is of the class and types determined by the National Housing Agency to be of a temporary character.

(e) Delegations of authority to Regional Construction Advisers. Pursuant to the provisions of Public Laws 671, 781, and 849, 76th Congress, and Public Laws 9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress, all as amended and supplemented, regional construction advisers are delegated in connection with the development of projects, the power:

(1) To approve contract changes for $2,500 or less, which do not involve any extension of the contract time for completion, and to act as representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving contract changes for $2,500 or less, when the contract requires approval of such changes by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative.

(2) To execute contract changes in any amount, which do not involve any extension of the contract time for completion, subject to the approval of all contract changes in excess of $2,500, by the regional director or assistant regional director for development and reutilization.

(f) Delegations of Authority to Assistant Regional Directors for Management. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 67, 73rd Congress, Public Laws 671, 781, and 849, 76th Congress, and Public Laws 9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress, all as amended and supplemented, assistant regional directors for management are delegated, in connection with the management of projects, the power:

(i) To execute contracts of agency and leases and amendments thereto for management of such projects by local housing authorities.

(ii) In connection with the provisions of section 3A and 3B of the Administration Fund Agreement, with respect to leased war housing projects:

(a) To determine when an event of default has occurred under a lease of a war housing project to a local housing authority.

(b) After the determination that an event of default has occurred, to sign and transmit notices to banks pursuant to any such agreement and to draw checks and execute certificates and to transmit the same to banks pursuant to such agreements.

(iii) To approve management program resolutions, rents, income limits, and conditions of eligibility for such projects.

(iv) To execute or approve contracts and contract changes in any amount within the limits of available or allotted funds with respect to the operation, maintenance, repair, alteration, or betterment of such projects and to act as the representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving such contract changes when the contract documents require the approval of such contract changes in excess of $500 by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative.

(v) To act as representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving the consideration of contractor's request for extension of time when contracts permit the waiver by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative of the contractor's failure to notify the Government of the delay within the period of time stated within the contract.

(vi) To execute amendments to outstanding war housing project leases authorizing local housing authorities to make payments in lieu of taxes directly.

(vii) To renew, upon expiration, leases for land made by the Farm Security Administration on projects transferred to the FPHA by Executive Order 9070.

(viii) To execute agreements for payments in lieu of taxes.

(2) Pursuant to the U. S. Housing Act of 1937, as amended, and Title II of Public 671, 76th Congress, approved June 28, 1940, to execute agreements and waivers and give approval in connection with FPHA aided projects as set forth in regional directors' delegations in paragraph A4 above.

(g) Delegations of authority to Regional Comptrollers. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Public Laws 671, 781, and 849, 76th Congress, Public Laws 9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress, all as amended and supplemented, regional comptrollers are delegated, with respect to the administration of projects and of the regional office, the power:

(i) To execute contracts and leases for supplies, equipment, space, and services (excluding personal services).

(ii) In accordance with the provisions of GAO Reg. No. 66, 7 Comp. Gen. 861 and Supplement 1 thereto, 7 Comp. Gen. 870, to order the publication of advertisements required by law or permissible under the policies and procedures of the FPHA.

(iii) In connection with the provisions of sections 3A and 3B of the Administration Fund Agreement, Form FPHA–875–2 with respect to leased war housing projects:

(a) To determine when an event of default has occurred under a lease of war housing project to a local housing authority.

(b) After the determination that an event of default has occurred, to sign and transmit notices to banks pursuant to any such agreement and to draw checks and execute certificates and to transmit the same to banks pursuant to such agreements.

(iv) Pursuant and subject to the provisions of the First War Powers Act, Executive Orders 9001, 9116, and 9686 and the National Housing Administrator's General Order FPHA–7:

(a) To make advance payments to contractors (other than CPFF contractors) in connection with veterans' emergency housing.

(b) To waive requirements of advertising and competitive bidding to the extent permitted or required by established FPHA policies and procedures in connection with veterans' emergency housing.

(2) Pursuant to the United States Housing Act of 1937, Public Law 412, 75th Congress, as amended, and Title II of Public Law 671, 76th Congress, approved June 28, 1940, regional comptrollers are authorized to execute agreements and waivers and give approval in connection with FPHA aided projects as set forth in regional directors' delegation in paragraph A4 above.

(3) Pursuant to the provisions of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 and Regulations 1 and 9 of the War Assets Administration, the following powers are delegated to the regional comptrollers:

(i) To make final determination that personal property under his jurisdiction at any one place at any one time which costs under $25,000 is salvage or scrap.

(ii) To execute contracts covering the sale, at the best price obtainable, of small lots, salvage, and scrap as defined by War Assets Administration.

(iii) To execute contracts covering the sale, at a price which is fair and reasonable under the circumstances, of any personal property, the immediate sale of which in his judgment is desirable because of emergency circumstances, such as danger of deterioration or consideration of health, safety, or security.

(iv) In accordance with War Assets Administration Regulation 1, to declare as surplus and to turn over to the appropriate disposal agency any personal property other than small lots, salvage, and scrap.

(4) Pursuant to Title V of the Lanham Act, as amended, the power to execute contracts or other documents conveying surplus personal property available to FPHA to local bodies (educational institutions, States or political subdivision thereof, local public agencies, and nonprofit organizations) for use in connection with the veterans' emergency housing program.

(h) Delegations of authority to Regional Property and Procurement Officers. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Public Laws 671, 781, 849, 76th Congress, and Public Laws 9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress, all as amended, in connection with administration of the regional office, powers are delegated as follows:

(i) To execute contracts for supplies, equipment, space, and services (excluding personal services).

(ii) Pursuant to the provisions of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 and Regulations 1 and 9 of the War Assets Administration:

(a) To make final determinations that personal property under his jurisdiction at any one place at any one time which cost under $25,000 is salvage or scrap.

(b) To execute contracts covering the sale, at the best price obtainable of small lots, salvage and scrap as defined by War Assets Administration.

(c) To execute contracts covering the sale, at a price which is fair and reasonable under the circumstances, of any personal property, the immediate sale of which in his judgment is desirable because of emergency circumstances, such as danger of deterioration or consideration of health, safety, or security.

(d) To destroy or abandon property when such destruction or abandonment is determined by the regional director or regional comptroller to be required by considerations of health, safety, or security.

(e) In accordance with War Assets Administration Regulation 1, to declare as surplus and to turn over to the appropriate disposal agency any personal property other than small lots, salvage, and scrap.

(iii) In accordance with the provisions of GAO Reg. 66, 7 Comp. Gen. 861, and Supplement 1 thereto, 7 Compt. Gen. 870, to order the publication of advertisements required by law or permissible under the policies and procedures of the FPHA.

(iv) Pursuant and subject to the provisions of the First War Powers Act, Executive Orders 9001, 9116, and 9686 and the National Housing Administrator's General Order FPHA–7, to waive requirements of advertising and competitive bidding to the extent permitted or required in connection with veterans' emergency housing.

(v) Pursuant to Title V of the Lanham Act, as amended, to execute contracts or other documents conveying surplus personal property available to FPHA to local bodies (educational institutions, State or political subdivisions thereof, local public agencies, and non-profit organizations) for use in connection with the veterans' emergency housing program.

(i) Delegation of authority to Assistant Regional Directors for Real Estate and Disposition. (1) In any matters pertaining to the disposition of projects undertaken pursuant to the provisions of the Lanham Act, as amended, PL–781, 76th Congress, or PL–9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress, assistant regional directors for real estate and disposition are delegated the power:

(i) To execute contracts of sale, transfer documents, and other instruments in connection with the disposition of surplus property, other than transfers of jurisdiction to other Federal agencies.

(ii) To order advertisements in connection with disposition of surplus housing property.

(iii) To execute contracts granting compensation for and to purchase the results of the services of surveyors and appraisers.

(iv) To execute contracts with brokers for the disposition of surplus housing property or the disposition of conversion leaseholds.

(2) In any matters pertaining to the disposition of property assigned to the National Housing Agency under provisions of the Surplus Property Act of 1944, or Executive Order 9425, February 19, 1944, the assistant regional directors for real estate and dispostion are delegated the power:

(i) To execute sale or other transfer documents for surplus property, other than transfers of jurisdiction to other Federal agencies.

(ii) To order advertisements in connection with the disposition of such property.

(iii) To execute contracts granting compensation for and to purchase the result of the services of surveyors or appraisers when the obtaining of services or results has been previously authorized by the Assistant Commissioner for Real Estate and Disposition.

(3) In any matters pertaining to the management of public conversion projects pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 849, 76th Congress, assistant regional directors for real estate and disposition are hereby delegated authority to exercise all powers delegated to regional conversion management supervisors in paragraph J1 below.

(4) To grant revocable licenses, easements, and permits to other than Federal agencies and to execute the appropriate instruments therefor, to facilitate provision of adequate utility services.

(5) Any instrument executed by the assistant regional director for real estate and disposition under the authority of NHA General Order 21–31 and this delegation, purporting to transfer title to a bona fide purchaser for value, shall be conclusive evidence (i) of the authority of said assistant regional director to execute such instrument and (ii) that any conditions attached to said authority have been satisfied.

(6) In connection with projects developed under the provisions of Public Laws 671, 781, and 849 (except Title V thereof), 76th Congress and Public Laws 9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress:

(i) To execute deeds of conveyance or other instruments for the dedication of land acquired for permanent projects only, for necessary streets, alleys, walks or other means of ingress and egress and utilities.

(ii) To execute a lease on behalf of the United States of America for the site of any project which is to be erected on a number of noncontiguous parcels.

(j) Delegations of authority to Regional Conversion Management Supervisors, Assistant Regional and Area Conversion Management Supervisors, and Field Representatives. Pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 849, 79th Congress, in connection with the management of public conversion projects, powers are delegated as follows:

(1) To regional conversion management supervisors the power:

(i) To establish, adjust, or revise rentals for dwelling units in conversion projects provided that no rentals shall be increased above the rentals specified in the program assignment by the Office of the Administrator.

(ii) To modify or extend leases for converted properties and, where the Office of the Administrator has approved termination of conversion projects, to sell, cancel, or dispose of leases when approved by the Commissioner.

(iii) To exercise all rights and privileges of the United States under leases for conversion projects other than the termination of leases.

(iv) To execute or approve contracts and contract changes with respect to the operation, maintenance, repair, alteration, or betterment of public conversion projects, and to act as the representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving such contract changes when the contract documents require the approval of such contract changes by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative.

(v) To act as representative of the head of the department for the purposes of approving the consideration of contractors' requests for extension of time when contracts permit the waiver by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative of the contractor's failure to notify the Government of the delay within the period of time stated in the contract.

(2) To assistant regional and area conversion management supervisors the power: (i) To approve expenditures in connection with the operation, maintenance, repair, alteration, or betterment of public conversion projects in amounts not exceeding $500 for any one transaction.

(ii) To approve in writing the settlement or compromise of claims of tenants or former tenants.

(iii) To approve the incurring of court costs and consul fees by contract managers in connection with any claim against tenants provided such counsel fees conform to the FPHA established schedule.

(3) To field representatives the power: (i) To approve expenditures in connection with the operation, maintenance, repair, alteration, or betterment of public conversion projects in amounts not exceeding $100 for any one transaction.

(ii) To approve the incurring of court costs and counsel fees by contract managers in connection with any claim against tenants provided such counsel fees conform to the FPHA established schedule.

(k) Exercise of war powers in connection with payments under the Homes Conversion Program. (1) Pursuant to the authority vested in the Commissioner by virtue of the First War Powers Act of 1941, Executive Orders 9001 and 9116, and General Order FPHA–7 of the Administrator of the National Housing Agency, authority is delegated to all persons charged with the responsibility for certifying any payments of rents or amounts paid in lieu of rents under the terms of the leases made in connection with the homes conversion program to certify and cause to be paid any installments of rent or other payments in lieu or rent as required by such leases, whether such payments are required by the lease to be made in advance of the period or term for which such payment is made, and whether or not such payment would, except for the authority hereby delegated, violate the requirements of section 3648 of the Revised Statutes of the United States of America and all such contracts which require payments in advance of the term for which such payments are made are hereby ratified and confirmed. The Commissioner has made a finding that unless such contracts are continued in full force and effect and payments of rent due thereunder are made promptly by the Government, the rights of the Government in and to the possession of said premises for the purpose of housing war workers therein, as provided for by the Lanham Act, may be seriously impaired, further, that the war effort will be facilitated if the housing now provided for war workers is maintained.

§603.3 Delegations to General Field Office officials with respect to Greenbelt Towns, Subsistence Homestead, Limited Dividend and Rural Housing Projects. (a) The Director and Deputy Director of the General Field Office are authorized with respect to Greenbelt Towns, Subsistence Homestead Projects, Limited Dividend, and Rural Housing Projects:

(1) To approve management budgets, rents, income limits, and conditions of eligibility for such projects.

(2) To execute sales contracts between the Government and individual occupants of projects and between the Government and associations or corporations.

(3) To execute leases and rental contracts for premises occupied by managers.

(4) To execute leases of Government owned commercial and industrial facilities, and agreements for use of and lease for land and buildings to be used for educational and religious purposes.

(5) To execute contracts for utility services.

(6) To execute appropriate deeds of conveyance or other instruments for the dedication of land for necessary streets, alleys, walks or other means of ingress and egress and utilities; to grant revocable licenses, permits and easements, and to execute appropriate instruments therefor.

(7) To execute leases for land on partially developed projects.

(8) To execute payments in lieu of taxes.

(9) To execute contracts and contract changes involving expenditure of revenues derived from operation of these projects in any amount whatsoever with respect to the operation, maintenance, repair, alteration, or betterment of such projects and to act as the representative of the Commissioner for the purpose of approving such contract changes when the contract documents require the approval of such contract changes by the Commissioner or his duly authorized representative.

(10) To act as representative of the Commissioner for the purpose of approving the consideration of a contractor's request for extension of time when contracts permit the waiver by the Commissioner or his duly authorized representative of the contractor's failure to notify the Government of the delay within the period of time stated within the contract.

(11) To approve on behalf of the Government such actions as require approval under agreements with homestead and cooperative associations.

(12) To execute Administration Fund Agreements.

(13) To execute Requisition Agreements.

(14) To countersign checks drawn on "Principal" bank accounts of cooperative associations.

(15) To countersign and designate other officials to countersign checks drawn on "Local" bank accounts of cooperative associations.

(16) To execute releases of Governmental liens on personal properties of cooperative associations.

(b) With particular reference to Rural Housing Projects, the Director and Deputy Director of the General Field Office are hereby authorized:

(1) To execute Development Fund Agreements.

(2) To execute certificates of completion.

(c) The Assistant Director for Administration of the General Field Office is authorized with respect to Greenbelt Towns, Subsistence Homestead, Limited Dividend, and Rural Housing Projects:

(1) To execute contracts up to and including $5,000 and to execute contract changes for amounts up to and including $5,000 in any one contract, with respect to the operation, maintenance, repair, alteration, or betterment of such projects, and to act as the representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving such contract changes when the contract documents require the approval of such contract changes by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative.

(2) To act as representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving the consideration of contractor's request for extension of time, when contracts permit the waiver by the head of the department or his duly authorized representative of the contractor's failure to notify the Government of the delay within the period of time stated in the contract.

§ 603.4 Delegations to field project personnel—(a) Delegations of authority to Project Engineers on other than Veterans' Emergency Housing Projects. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Public Laws 671, 781, and 849, 76th Congress, and Public Laws 9, 73, and 353, 77th Congress, all as amended, and supplemented, project engineers (except in connection with the development of veterans' emergency housing projects) are delegated in connection with the development and administration of projects the power:

(i) To execute contract changes in any amount, which do not involve any extension of contract time for completion, subject, however, to the approval of all contract changes in excess of $500 by the regional director, assistant regional director for development and reutilization, or the regional construction adviser: Provided, however, That the regional construction adviser is not authorized to approve contract changes in excess of $2,500.

(ii) To execute contract changes which do not involve any extension of contract time for completion in the aggregate of $5,000 on any one project if the contract change involves only latent soil or other conditions covered by Article 4 of the lump-sum contract, and to act as representative of the head of the department for the purpose of approving such changes in excess of $500.

(iii) To approve subcontractors having lump-sum subcontracts up to and including $500.

(b) Delegation of authority to Project Engineers, Veterans' Emergency Housing Projects. (1) Provisions of Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Construction Contract, Form FPHA–1482. Article 2b of the General Conditions of the Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Construction Contract states that "the project engineer is the authorized representative of the contracting officer for the purposes specified in . . ." certain listed paragraphs of the Contract. Project engineers are therefore delegated authority to exercise those functions listed in paragraphs 2 and 3 below, subject to the limitations set forth herein.

(2) Delegations Limited Only by Considerations Set Forth in the Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Contract. The project engineer shall act as the representative of the contracting officer for the purposes set forth in Articles 3, 5, 6, 10, 14, 15, 19, 25, 26, 28, 29, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, and 45 of the General Conditions of the Cost-Plus-A-Fixed-Fee Construction Contract.

(3) Delegations subject to additional administrative limitations. The project engineer shall act as representative of the contracting officer for the purposes set forth in Articles 8 and 18 of the General Conditions, subject to the limitations set forth below.

(i) Article 8, Construction Subcontract Work and Payments Therefor.

(a) The project engineer is empowered to approve subcontractors and subcontracts, subject to the following limitations:

(1) Cost-plus-fixed-fee subcontracts must have the prior approval of the assistant regional director for development and reutilization, or his authorized representative.

(2) The project engineer is the authorized representative of the contracting officer for the purpose of approving any lump-sum subcontract, which does not involve an amount in excess of $500, and subject to this limitation, modifications of such subcontracts. Regional construction advisers are authorized to give prior approval to subcontracts in excess of $500, but not in excess of $2500. The assistant regional director for development and reutilization may give prior approval to subcontracts in excess of $500 without limitation as to the amount.

(b) The project engineer is the authorized representative of the contracting officer, for the purpose of accepting delivery, by the contractor, of two fully executed copies of each approved subcontract, together with the original proposal.

(c) The project engineer is the authorized representative of the contracting officer, for the purpose of making determinations with regard to specialty work and specialty subcontractors, subject to the limitations of subparagraph (a) above.

(d) The project engineer's powers, with regard to approval of the form, substance, and amount of changes in lump-sum subcontracts, are limited to those which involve an amount not in excess of $500.

(c) Delegations of authority to General Housing Managers, Housing Managers and their Assistants, and Management Aides. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 67, 73rd Congress, as implemented by Public Law 412, 75th Congress, (as to PWA projects only); Public Laws 671, 781 and 849, 76th Congress; and Public Laws 9, 73 and 353, 77th Congress; all as amended and supplemented, general housing managers, housing managers and their assistants, and management aides are delegated, in connection with the management and administration of projects, the power:

(i) To execute contracts for supplies and services (other than personal services) necessary in connection with the maintenance and repair of projects within approved budgets as follows:

(a) In amounts less than $100 in the open market without advertising for proposals; and

(b) In amounts between $100 and $2000 after advertising for proposals. This requirement of advertising proposals for contracts involving more than $100 need not be observed when immediate delivery and performance is required by the public exigency, except that such contracts must be approved by the assistant regional director for management if they involve amounts over $300.

(ii) To purchase fuel necessary for the operation of projects, such purchase to be made pursuant to Treasury Department Procurement Division regulations.

(iii) To execute and cancel leases and rental contracts for occupancy of the respective projects.

(iv) To approve in writing the compromise of rent claims against tenants or former tenants where such compromise has been recommended by the United States Attorney or his representatives.

(v) To approve the payment of court costs in connection with any claim against tenants or former tenants where the payment of such costs is recommended by any Government attorney.

(vi) To approve for payment but not to certify pay rolls for all those employed under their jurisdiction and all other vouchers covering expenses for their respective projects.

(vii) In accordance with the provisions of GAO Reg. 66, 7 Comp. Gen. 861, and Supplement 1 thereto, 7 Comp. Gen. 870, to order the publication of advertisements required by law or permissible under the policies and procedures of the FPHA.

(viii) To act as field appointing officer.

(a) To appoint persons to positions up to and including CAF–5, CPC–8, P–1, and SP–6 for their respective projects and offices.

(2) Pursuant to the provisions of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 and Regulations 1 and 9 of the Surplus Property Board, the following powers are delegated to general housing managers and housing managers:

(i) To execute contracts covering the sale, at the best price obtainable of small lots, salvage and scrap as defined by War Assets Administration. In cases where the regional property and procurement officer or his authorized representative has set a minimum price on salvage or scrap, the general housing manager or housing manager shall not sell below that figure.

(ii) To execute contracts covering the sale, at a price which is fair and reasonable under the circumstances, any personal property, the immediate sale of which in his judgment is desirable because of emergency circumstances, such as danger of deterioration or consideration of health, safety, or security.

(d) Housing Managers, Community Managers, and others acting in such capacities, with respect to Greenbelt Towns, Subsistence Homestead, Limited Dividend, and Rural Housing Projects. Housing managers, community managers, and others acting in such capacities with respect to Greenbelt Towns, Subsistence Homestead, Limited Dividend and Rural Housing Projects are authorized:

(1) To approve applicants for occupancy in accordance with eligibility requirements.

(2) To execute and cancel lease and rental contracts for occupancy of their respective projects, except for occupancy by themselves.

(3) To execute sales contracts with tenants for furniture and farm equipment purchased by the Government under the Farm Security Administration program.

(4) To execute releases of mortgaged furniture and farm equipment.

(5) To accept and receipt for in the name of the Authority all rentals and other revenues derived from the operation of the projects and to deposit such revenues.

(6) To execute contracts for supplies and services (other than for personal services) necessary in connection with the maintenance and repair of projects within approved budgets as follows:

(i) In amounts less than $100 in the open market without advertising for proposals.

(ii) In amounts between $100 and $2000 after advertising for proposals. (This requirement of advertising for proposals for contracts involving more than $100 need not be observed when immediate delivery and performance is required by the public exigency, except that such contracts must be approved by the Director of the General Field Office if they involve amounts over $300).

(iii) For purchase of fuel necessary for the operation of assigned projects pursuant to Treasury Department Procurement Division regulations.

(7) To approve in writing, the compromise of rent claims against tenants or former tenants where such compromise has been recommended by a United States Attorney or his representative. If there is any dispute as to the amount of a settlement or compromise, the matter shall be referred to the General Field Office.

(8) To pay or approve the payment of court costs in connection with any claim against tenants or former tenants where the payment of such costs is recommended by any Government attorney.

(9) To appoint persons to positions up to and including CAF–5, CPC–8, P–1, and SP–6 for their respective projects and offices.

(10) Pursuant to the provisions of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 and Regulations 1 and 9 of the Surplus Property Administration:

(i) To execute contracts covering the sale, at the best price obtainable, of small lots, salvage, and scrap, as defined by War Assets Administration.

(ii) To execute contracts covering the sale, at a price which is fair and reasonable under the circumstances, any personal property, the immediate sale of which in his judgment is desirable because of emergency circumstances, such as danger of deterioration or consideration of health, safety, or security.

(11) In accordance with the provisions of GAO Reg. 66, 7 Comp. Gen. 861, and Supplement 1 thereto, 7 Comp. Gen. 870, to order the publication of advertisements required by law or permissible under the policies and procedures of the FPHA.

PART 605—GENERAL PROCEDURAL PROVISIONS

Sec.
605.1 FPHA records.
605.2 Final FPHA actions.

§ 605.1 FPHA records—(a) Availability of records. Section 3 (c) of the Administrative Precedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, requires that the FPHA make its official records available to persons properly and directly concerned. The responsibility for compliance with this provision is vested in Regional Directors and the Director of the General Field Office. Persons desiring to consult such records should apply, in writing, to the Regional Director or to the Director of the General Field Office having jurisdiction over the matter as shown by the organization statement herein. Such applications shall identify as precisely as possible the official records which the applicant desires to consult. The Regional Director shall advise the applicant, in writing, either (1) of the time and place at which the records will be available to him; or (2) that the records are not available to the applicant, in which case the reasons for such action shall be briefly stated.

(b) Definition of official records. The term "official records" as used herein means those documents which embody the official acts of the FPHA. It does not include internal memoranda and other reports prepared by employees of the FPHA for use within the FPHA as they merely reflect research and analysis prior to official action. The term includes copies of:

(1) All contracts entered into by the United States Housing Authority or the FPHA under the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended, and all formal papers, reports, and documents required by these contracts to be filed with the FPHA.

(2) All contracts to which the FPHA is a party for the construction, operation, sale, or other disposition of permanent, or temporary war, or veterans housing facilities and all formal papers, reports, and documents required by those contracts to be filed with the FPHA.

(3) All contracts, exclusive of those covered by paragraphs 1 and 2 above, heretofore or hereafter administered by the FPHA under Executive Order 9070 and all formal papers, reports, and documents required by those contracts to be filed with the FPHA.

(4) All formal papers, forms, bids, contracts, and reports incident to the disposal of properties made available to the FPHA by the War Assets Administration for disposal.

(5) Such other documents as the Regional Director in his sound discretion determines to be "official records".

§ 605.2 Final FPHA action—(a) Availability of final FPHA actions. Section 3 (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, requires that the FPHA make available to the public all final opinions or orders in the adjudication of cases and all rules. Except as hereinafter provided, the required information will be available at the Regional Office or at the General Field Office having jurisdiction, as shown by the organization statement herein, over the project covered by the particular action. It is the responsibility of the Regional Director to assemble the actions in a form in which they may be readily consulted by members of the public. The only exceptions to the foregoing are the following:

(1) Actions on applications for tenancy. Informaton on final action on applications for tenancy shall be kept at the project office and made available to the public by the project manager.

(2) Project management procurement. Information as to final action of project managers in the procurement of supplies and materials for which such managers, as shown by the delegations herein contained, are authorized to contract, shall be kept at the project office and made available to the public by the project manager.

(b) Statements of procedure which may have been inadvertently omitted from this publication may be obtained from the Regional Office or the General Field Office having jurisdiction of the subject matter involved.

(c) Whenever forms are specified in the procedures, copies thereof may be obtained from the Regional Office, General Field Office, or Project Office, as indicated in the text.

Commissioner.

PART 610—LOW-RENT HOUSING AND SLUM CLEARANCE PROGRAM: PROCEDURES

Sec.
610.1 FPHA requirements for urban low-rent housing and slum clearance.
610.2 General statement of administration.

§ 610.1 FPHA requirements for urban low-rent housing and slum clearance. The procedures for the making of loans and annual contributions for projects undertaken subsequent to May 1, 1945 are governed by the FPHA Requirements for Urban Low-Rent Housing and Slum Clearance, dated May 1, 1945, as amended, and heretofore published in the FEDERAL REGISTER under Part 601, of this chapter. These requirements are hereby incorporated by reference at this point.

§610.2 General statement of administration. (a) The administration and completion of those low-rent housing and slum clearance projects (other than those Federally owned and directed operated) which are now part of the FPHA program are governed entirely by contracts with particular local housing authorities. These contracts are available for inspection at the regional offices.

(b) Persons seeking occupancy in low-rent housing and slum clearance projects should apply to the local housing authority or, in the event that the project concerning is one directly managed by FPHA, to the housing manager located at the particular project. The local housing authority or the housing manager, as the case may be, is responsible for selecting tenants.

Commissioner.

PART 611—LOW-RENT HOUSING AND SLUM CLEARANCE PROGRAM: POLICY

Sec.
611.1 Definitions of terms.
611.2 Leasing of PWA Housing Projects.
611.3 Determination of net annual income for families of servicemen.
611.4 Citizenship.
611.5 Removal of high income tenants from low-rent housing projects (including "PL 671" Projects insofar as the latter have been converted to low-rent housing).
611.6 Payments in lieu of taxes on PWA Projects.
611.7 Determination of property damage claims under $1,000 against the FPHA.

§ 611.1 Definitions of terms. Definitions as used in this statement of policy and in contracts of the FPHA are as follows:

(a) Contract rent. The term "contract rent" means the rent charged a tenant for use of the dwelling accommodation, equipment, services and utilities provided by the project. "Contract rent" does not include charges for a utility or fuel which may be purchased by the project and sold to tenants as a transaction separate from the payment of rent, charges for an excess utility consumption, or charges for dwelling furniture. This term is used in connection with Federally owned and FPHA-aided projects.

(b) Gross rent. The term "gross rent" means "contract rent" plus the estimated average monthly (or weekly, if rent is on a weekly basis) cost to the tenant of utilities not provided by the project. This term is used in connection with Federally owned and FPHA-aided projects.

(c) Shelter rent. The term "shelter rent," unless otherwise qualified, means the portion of contract rent, exclusive of the charges or estimated charges for utilities, furnished by the project. When properly qualified, however, the term may have other meanings; for example, "economic shelter rent" refers to that portion of economic rent exclusive of the cost to the project of utilities furnished by the project. This term is used in connection with Federally owned or FPHA-aided projects.

(d) Statutory rental value. The term "statutory rental value" means contract rent plus the value or cost to the tenant of heat, light, water, and cooking fuel, when these items are not included in contract rent. It should be noted that refrigeration energy (gas or electricity) or ice, is included in statutory rental value when furnished by the project and included in contract rent; however, when it is not furnished by the project the value or cost to the tenant of refrigeration energy or ice is not added to the contract rent in computing statutory rental value. This term is applicable to FPHA-aided and PWA projects and has the same meaning as the term "rental" in section 2 (1) of the United States Housing Act, as amended.

§ 611.2 Leasing of PWA housing projects. The FPHA uses the service of qualified housing authorities in the management and operation of federally owned PWA housing within the jurisdictional area of such local authority provided that a lease arrangement can be made. Such local housing authority shall be considered qualified when in the judgment of the regional director there is assurance that it will manage and operate the PWA project in accordance with the agreement made with FPHA and policies and procedures established by FPHA, consistent with such agreement.

§ 611.3 Determination of net annual income for families of servicemen—(a) Determination of net family income when servicemen is living with his family. All of the income received by the serviceman, including his base pay, all extra pay, subsistence and rental allowance, if any, and that portion of the family dependency allowance contributed by the Government, is included with income received by all family members from all sources. Deductions will be allowed in accordance with section 403 of the FPHA Requirements.

(b) Determination of family status and income of family of absent serviceman.—(1) Determination of serviceman's relation to family. A family head, e.g., a husband, will be considered as a member of the family temporarily absent from home. An adult son or daughter, not a family head prior to service in the armed forces, will be considered as having severed ties with the family. Other questions of relationship to the family will be determined on an individual basis.

(2) Determination of income of family with absent serviceman.—(i) Serviceman considered not a family member. In such cases, only such portion of the serviceman's income as is contributed regularly to the family will be included in the aggregate family income, with no deductions allowed.

(ii) Serviceman considered a family member. In such cases, the entire income of the serviceman (including extra pay for sea, overseas duty, submarine or field duty, longevity and other special but regular additions to pay for honor and merit awards plus full allowances for subsistence and rental, if any), that portion of the family dependency allowance contributed by the Government and income to the family from all other sources wil be included in computing the aggregate income of the family. In respect to such income, deductions specified in Section 403 of the FPHA Requirements will be allowed, plus the following deductions for special occupational expenses of the serviceman incurred by reason of his living away from home; such deduction may not be more than (a) the first $50 of base pay or so much thereof as remains after the serviceman's mandatory contribution to the family dependency allowance, plus (b) 25% of his base pay over $50 per month. For officers, who have no deductions from their pay for family allowance but who have extra living expenses, the deductions will be $50 per month plus 25% of his base pay over $50 per month.

(iii) Cases involving exceptional circumstances. In exceptional cases deviations from the above stated policy will be allowed where the tenant shows to the satisfaction of the local management that extraordinary expenses of the serviceman justify additional allowances.

§ 611.4 Citizenship. With respect to all low-rent projects for which contracts were entered into after April 18, 1940, and with respect to all leases for dwellings in PWA projects entered into after June 23, 1944, only citizens of the United States may be admitted as tenants. Noncitizens admitted prior to such dates may continue occupancy, if otherwise eligible.

§ 611.5 Removal of high-income tenants from low-rent housing projects (including "PL 671" Projects insofar as the latter have been converted to low-rent housing.) (a) Families in low-rent housing projects, whose net annual income at the time of reexamination exceed the maximum limits established for continued occupancy, shall not be eligible for continued occupancy. Such families, if otherwise eligible, may be permitted to remain in these projects if suitable housing appropriate to their use and at rents within their incomes are not available from private enterprise. Such families will, however, be notified of their ineligibility for continued occupancy, and will be required to move when other accommodations are available.

(b) Tenants with incomes over the maximum allowable will be charged increased rentals appropriate to their incomes, provided, however, that in no event will a rent be charged for any dwelling which exceeds the rent prevailing in the locality for comparable accommodations provided by private enterprise.

(c) Satisfactory evidence shall be presented by housing managers, in the case of directly operated projects, or by local housing authorities in the case of leased projects, to the FPHA, showing that adequate accommodations, as described above, are not available for such families.

§ 611.6 Payments in lieu of taxes on PWA Projects. Local housing authorities are authorized to make payments in lieu of taxes on PWA Housing Projects leased to them, and the FPHA will make payments in lieu of taxes on such projects operated directly by it. The payments (together with any payments in lieu of taxes heretofore agreed upon), provided funds are available therefor from current project revenues, will equal 10 percent of actual shelter rents, but will not exceed the amount of full real property taxes. The term "actual shelter rent," as used herein, is defined as the total of all charges to all tenants for dwelling rents and nondwelling rents (excluding furniture rentals, and all other income), less the cost of all utilities (including commercial utilities).

§ 611.7 Determination of property damage claims under $1,000 against the FPHA. (a) Each FPHA regional office has a committee of three persons responsible for investigating and recommending disposition of all claims arising in this category. Claims must be presented by the owner of the damaged property, his legal subrogee, or his authorized agent within one year from the date of the occurrence of the damage. They must be addressed to the particular regional office in which the employee whose alleged negligence caused the damage is employed. The claim must be supported by the following papers: (1) A statement over the claimant's signature and address setting forth all facts of the alleged damage, including date, circumstances, extent of damage, parties involved, etc.; (2) Evidence of the amount of damage in the form of either a receipted bill for the repair, or a notarized estimate of the cost; (3) If a subrogee or agent is submitting the claim, a notarized statement proving such relationship; and (4) If the claim involves damage to a motor vehicle, Standard Form No. 28, Claim for Damage—Accident, Motor Transportation.

(b) If the damage occurs on an FPHA housing project, the claim must be prepared by the party claiming damage and submitted to the appropriate project engineer of housing manager, who will forward it to the regional office. The regional office will notify the claimant of the action taken in each case.

PART 620—RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM; PROCEDURES

§ 620.1 Tenant relationships. Application for occupancy in greenbelt towns and subsistence homestead projects must be filed with the manager of the particular project to which admission is sought. Requests for application forms should be addressed to the project office. The selection and approval of tenants is the responsibility of the project manager. Upon selection and before taking possession, prospective tenants are required to enter into a tenancy agreement specifically defining the term of their occupancy.

Commissioner.

[F. R. Doc. 46-15367; Filed, Aug. 28, 1946; 4:22 p. m.]

PART 621—RESETTLEMENT PROGRAM: POLICY

Sec.
621.1 Eligibility for tenancy.
621.2 Pasturage and use of equipment.
621.3 Payments in lieu of taxes.
621.4 Disposition of resettlement projects.

§ 621.1 Eligibility for tenancy. Eligibility requirements for admission to greenbelt towns and subsistence homestead projects have been established for each separate project and are based on the economic factors prevalent in the area in which the project is located, and on the income, financial condition, employment prospects, and composition and size of the family. The requirements for any project are available from the project manager. Subsistence homestead tenants who have had one or more years of satisfactory tenure as renters are eligible to apply for a purchase contract. Occupancy preference will be given to former residents of subsistence homesteads and greenbelt towns who have been honorably discharged from the armed services. This preference consists of priority over the outside waiting list, but not over the waiting list of resident transfers within the project, provided that they meet current eligibility requirements, and provided further that such former tenants moved from the project not more than 60 days prior to the actual date of entry on duty, and applications for readmission are filed within one year of the actual date of separation from the armed forces. Reexamination of the status of all tenant families in greenbelt towns projects will be made at least annually to determine the eligibility of the family for continued occupancy in the project, but may be made more frequently in the case of an individual tenant at the request of and upon representation by him that there has been a sufficient reduction in his family's net income to warrant a decrease. Due to the present housing shortage and OPA restrictions on eviction of tenants, removal of tenants who are ineligible because of increased income or a change in family composition is not always practical. Under such circumstance adjustments following reexamination will be made to the greatest extent possible with respect to both dwelling space within the project and rents.

§ 621.2 Pasturage and use of equipment. Pasturage rights to common lands located within subsistence homestead project boundaries may be granted to resident livestock owners. Where all pasturage needs of project occupants are being met satisfactorily, pasturage privileges may be extended to non-residents. Government-owned machinery and equipment located on subsistence homestead projects may be rented or loaned to individual tenants, groups of tenants, or cooperative associations for general agricultural operations, maintenance and repairs of structures, and other similar activities for which tenants do not have the proper tools or equipment.

§ 621.3 Payments in lieu of taxes. All payments in lieu of taxes under the Bankhead-Black Act are made on a real property taxation basis and will not be in excess of that computed by using the established valuation of the project properties and the tax rate established by the local taxing body for the period covered by the agreement. Such payments will be made pursuant to a contract or agreement entered into between the taxing unit and the United States. Payments in lieu of taxes will not be made in advance by the Government, but at the expiration of the agreement period after the services have been rendered. Usually payments are made annually. In justifiable cases, however, installment payments may be made at definite installment dates on the basis of the ratio of the service period which has elapsed.

§ 621.4 Disposition of resettlement projects—(a) Greenbelt towns projects. (1) The FPHA will continue to operate the greenbelt towns projects as rental properties and will undertake to sell undeveloped lands essential to completion of the projects in such manner as to enable each community to carry a reasonable tax structure and to form a substantial community in line with that contemplated when the projects were initiated. Lands suitable for commercial developments may be leased instead of sold outright.

(2) Subject to funds being available, certain development may be undertaken where necessary to the sale of vacant lands and the completion of the plan for the disposition of these projects.

(b) Subsistence homestead projects. (1) Housing units. Units in these projects will continue to be sold by the FPHA as rapidly as possible. Sales will be made to families who will occupy the houses, or to homestead associations, depending upon whether the continued maintenance and operation of community facilities and services are involved.

(i) Determination of sales prices. Sales prices will be determined in conformity with commitments made by any agency of the Federal Government which had jurisdiction over these projects. In the absence of such commitments, sales prices will be established by FPHA in an amount equal to the fair market value based upon competent appraisal.

(ii) Terms of sale. The terms of sale will provide for payment of the purchase price over a period not exceeding forty years, with interest at 3 percent.

(iii) Eligible purchasers. The FPHA and the homestead associations to whom property may hereafter be sold by FPHA, will give preference in the sale of individual units, first, to occupants, and then to prospective occupants, with veterans having preference as among prospective occupants. Families (other than present occupants) purchasing from either FPHA or a homestead association, must meet established eligibility requirements and income limits to be set in view of current local economic conditions at the time of sale.

(iv) Resale by grantees. Except on those projects where sales have been made previously, each deed hereafter given by the FPHA within less than two years after the date of the contract will contain a provision that, in the event of resale within two years from the date of the purchase contract, (a) the selling price will not exceed the purchase price paid by the grantee named in such contract, plus certain allowable fees, and costs of improvements added to the property, and (b) the property will be offered for sale exclusively to veterans, servicemen or their families for a period of thirty days before sale to a non-veteran.

(2) Industrial, commercial and community facilities. Streets and other public ways will, where necessary, be dedicated. Schools, utility installations, and community, commercial, and service facilities necessary to the operation of the project, and now owned by the Government, will be disposed of by FPHA in such manner as to continue these facilities in operation. Government-owned industrial and commercial facilities, other than those needed to provide service to the residents of the community, will be disposed of under the provisions of the Surplus Property Act. Where title to leased facilities is vested outside the Government, the obligations held by the Government on account of such facilities will continue to be serviced where no default has occurred. Where defaults have occurred, the FPHA will either commence foreclosure proceedings or will require the proper disposition of the collateral security by those holding title to the property, or will follow some other suitable form of liquidation. The proceeds of such disposition, in all instances, will be credited against the indebtedness to the Government. In disposing of such assets, it will be the policy of FPHA to secure the greatest financial return to the Government consistent with the maintenance, if possible, of the property as a going business in the interest of the economic life of the community.

(3) Lands and other properties. Lands and other properties held in connection with this program, and not being administered in any of the ways outlined hereinbefore, will be declared surplus to the War Assets Administration as rapidly as possible.

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

PART 630—WAR HOUSING PROGRAM: PROCEDURES

Sec.
630.1 Present status of program.
630.2 Occupancy.
630.3 Disposition of war housing.

§ 630.1 Present status of program. The public war housing program was initiated to provide housing for persons engaged in national defense activities, including enlisted men in the naval or military services, civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments and of private industries engaged in war contracts, and officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps up to specified ranks. Inasmuch as hostilities have ceased, no new projects are contemplated under this program and therefore no procedure is included with respect to the acquisition or development of war housing projects.

§ 630.2 Occupancy. The projects were initially occupied by the persons specified in A above. However, in the absence of in-migrant war workers and others originally eligible, the projects, pending their disposition, are now being devoted to housing distressed families of servicemen and veterans and their families. Tenants now in the premises are permitted to remain. Inquiries as to vacancies should be made to the project manager or the local authorities or the regional office having jurisdiction of the project.

§ 630.3 Disposition of war housing. Disposition of war housing is administered by the regional office. All inquiries as to the time, manner and conditions of disposition should be addressed to the Regional Office having jurisdiction of the project. Due notice of the sale of any project will be given to the public in accordance with the policies of the FPHA as set forth in Part 631 of this chapter.

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

[F. R. Doc. 46-15369; Filed, Aug. 28, 1946; 4:22 p. m.]

PART 631—WAR HOUSING PROGRAM: POLICY

Sec.
631.1 Status of program.
631.2 Rental and occupancy.
631.3 Payments in lieu of taxes.
631.4 Disposition of federally owned war housing projects developed under the Lanham Act, Public Laws 781 and 9.

§ 631.1 Status of program. War housing projects were originally constructed for the purpose of housing persons engaged in national defense activities including enlisted men in the naval or military services and officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps up to ranks as specified in the Lanham Act. With the cessation of hostilities projects are no longer needed for such purposes and are now being devoted primarily to the housing of distressed families of veterans and servicemen, residents in such war housing being permitted to remain. Where the need for veterans housing does not require a continued ownership in the government and where the orderly progress of demobilization and reconversion permits, the properties are being disposed of as rapidly as possible and in accordance with the policies of FPHA as set forth elsewhere. In projects which are determined to be of a temporary character and must under the terms of the Lanham Act be removed within not more than two years after the termination of the national emergency, the FPHA at any time it determines the need for a continued operation of the projects no longer exists, may require tenants to vacate the premises at a time specified in the notice to the tenant. Upon failure of the tenant to vacate by the time specified in such notice, application will be made with the OPA Rent Director for an eviction certificate.

§ 631.2 Rental and occupancy. Persons seeking admission to vacant units in these projects should make application to the project manager, to the local housing authority, or to the regional office having jurisdiction over the project. All projects are subject to the OPA maximum rent regulations. Generally, such rents shall be fair rentals based on value. The national rent schedules established by the War and Navy Departments will be applicable to military personnel. Where rents charged to families constitute an excessive proportion of family income such rents will, upon application of the tenant, be adjusted to the net anticipated family income, subject, however, to the provision that the adjusted rent to be charged will not be less than the minimum rent established for the project.

§ 631.3 Payments in lieu of taxes.—(A) Payments in lieu of taxes on projects. The FPHA will make or authorize local housing authorities to make payments in lieu of taxes on projects under its jurisdiction in accordance with the following policies:

(1) Federally owned projects. Payments in lieu of taxes in respect to any federally owned war housing project under the jurisdiction of FPHA will be made in an amount which will approximate real property taxes, which would be paid upon such project if it were not exempt from taxation, with appropriate allowances for expenditures by the Federal Government or local housing authority for streets, utilities, or other public services to serve such project. Such payments will be made to the appropriate taxing jurisdiction, not later than the date on which taxes are normally due, and will date from January 21, 1942. The amount of all such payments will be determined by the FPHA.

(2) Locally owned projects. Local housing authorities are authorized in respect to any war housing project in active status under Public Law 671 approved June 28, 1940 to make payments in lieu of taxes which (together with any payments in lieu of taxes contracted for) will equal either (i) net revenue before payments in lieu of taxes, or (ii) 10 percent of actual shelter rents, whichever amount is the greater, but not in excess of the amount of full real property taxes less appropriate allowances, if any. In respect to any fiscal year or period for which an FPHA annual contribution is to be made after the end thereof, no payments in lieu of taxes (whether contracted for or not) may be made in an amount which would reduce the total local contributions for said year or period to less than 20 percent of such FPHA annual contributions.

(b) Payments for, or in lieu of, taxes on land held under lease. Policies governing payment of taxes or payments in lieu of taxes on land held by FPHA under a lease or under a court order, providing for the exclusive use of the land for a term are as follows:

(1) Land owned by private parties. The standard form of lease of land from private parties (Form FPHA-994), and the court judgment, where land is obtained by condemnation for a term of years, provide that the Government shall pay the taxes on the land or reimburse the owner for such taxes paid by him. As any structures, alterations, or improvements placed on the land by the Government are treated separately, the land owner will not pay any taxes for them. Land owners are not authorized to pay the taxes based on valuations exceeding those in effect at the time the Government acquired use of the land. Normal increases in valuation of the land only, which might have occurrred in the normal course of events and regardless of the construction of the project on that land, may be approved. Increases in valuation based upon the construction of utilities and improvements on the land by the Government cannot be approved.

(2) Land owned by public bodies. Where land is acquired from public bodies by lease (Form FPHA-993) or by condemnation of exclusive use for a term, the land, being owned by the public body, is tax exempt. The standard form of lease of land from the public body contains provision for payments in lieu of taxes with respect to the land, and a judgment of the court where an exclusive use for a term is acquired by condemnation may provide for such payments. In such cases, payments in lieu of taxes will be made in respect to both the land and the improvements in the same manner as payments for projects erected upon land owned by the Government.

§ 631.4 Disposition of federally owned war housing projects developed under the Lanham Act, Public Laws 781 and 9. The FPHA is responsible for the disposition of war housing projects, or parts thereof, upon their termination by the Administrator of the National Housing Agency.

(a) Definitions. (1) "Government agency" means any executive department, board, bureau, commission, or other agency in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government, or any corporation wholly owned (either directly or through one or more corporations) by the United States. (This includes the priority awarded Smaller War Plants Corporation for sale to veterans and owner-operators of small businesses.)

(2) "State and local governments" means any state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, and any political subdivision or instrumentality thereof.

(3) "Non-profit institution" means any scientific, literary, educational, public health, public welfare, charitable, or eleemosynary institution, or hospital or similar institution, or any volunteer fire company (i) which is supported in whole or in part through the use of funds derived from taxation by the United States, its territories or possessions, or by any State or political subdivision thereof, or (ii) which is exempt from taxation under section 101 (6) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(4) "Veteran" means any person who served in the active military or naval service of the United States during World War II, or any person who served in the active military or naval service of the United States on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to the termination of World War II, and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable. This includes those on terminal leave or final furlough and those whose status has been changed from "active" to "inactive". "Serviceman" means any person who is serving in the military or naval forces of the United States.

(5) "Temporary dwelling structures" means any dwelling structures determined to be of a temporary character pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act, exclusive of trailers and portable shelter structures.

(6) "Portable shelter structures" is a temporary dwelling structure of a panelized character designed so as to be readily movable as a whole and built under a standard FPHA portable shelter unit plan (PFD and PSU or mobile house plan).

(7) "Permanent dwelling structures" means any dwelling structures not determined "to be of a temporary character pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act" which are fixed in their present locations.

(8) "Demountable dwelling structures" means any dwelling structures not determined "to be of temporary character pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act" which can be demounted and re-erected elsewhere.

(9) "Suitable for individual ownership" applies to any permanent project which consists predominantly of detached single family houses, semi-detached family houses (twin houses, with the units side by side), or group houses where each unit has its own land and where sales of the separate units in group house units are considered feasible in the locality. However, sales shall be deemed to result in "individual ownership" only if the purchaser buys the dwelling occupied or to be occupied by him, and as a maximum buys an adjoining unit of a semi-detached house, since in larger sales the investment interest predominates.

(b) Local consultations.—(1) Responsibility for local consultations. Without awaiting termination of projects, the FPHA Regional Director will initiate consultations with representatives of the local governments in those localities where war housing projects exist. The purpose of such consultations is to acquaint the local community with an opportunity to study disposition problems, reach agreements within the community, and make recommendations concerning disposition within the framework of disposition policies.

(2) Invitation to consultation. The elected head of the local government having jurisdiction over the area in which the housing is located will be requested to designate representatives with whom government representatives may discuss disposition problems. Whenever a local housing authority is managing any of the housing involved, the Regional Director will invite the local authority as an agent of the FPHA to participate in the conference.

(3) Local recommendations. The recommendations of the designated local representatives should be approved and transmitted by the elected head of the local government to the FPHA Regional Director within not more than 90 days from the date local consultations are initiated. Such 90-day period may be extended by the FPHA Regional Director upon request of the community, where additional time is required to consummate local public action.

(4) Review of local plans. If the Regional Director believes that the local recommendations should be modified or rejected, he will advise the Regional Representative and consult with the local representatives to endeavor to reach a mutually satisfactory conclusion. However, the final determination is, of necessity, the responsibility of the Federal Government acting through the FPHA. If no recommendations are submitted by the local government, the FPHA will prepare a tentative disposition plan and send a copy to the elected head of the local government for his information.

(c) Disposition of temporary projects not used for Veterans' Emergency Housing.—(1) Demolition and removal of temporary dwelling structures. Where temporary dwelling structures are not to be used for veterans' emergency housing, such dwelling structures will be sold for demolition and removal as promptly as possible after termination through contracts awarded after the taking of competitive bids. If transfer or sale is requested, however, by Government agencies, state or local governments, or non-profit institutions prior to the advertisement for competitive bids for demolition such transaction may be effected as provided in subparagraphs (3), (4), and (6) below. Demolition, as used in this part, means reduction of structures to component parts no greater than flat panels.

(2) Disposition of non-dwelling structures. Non-dwelling structures including community, administration, commercial or utility buildings financed by or transferred to the National Housing Agency and located on sites of projects with temporary dwelling structures may be sold or transferred for use on or off the present project site. "Sold" as used in this paragraph includes transfers of structures (in connection with lease settlements) to owners of land leased by the FPHA.

(3) Sale or transfer of temporary dwelling structures to Government Agencies, State and local governments, and non-profit institutions. The following conditions will apply in the sale or transfer of terminated temporary dwelling structures which are not sold for demolition as provided in subparagraph c. (1) above.

(i) Federal agencies. (a) Dwelling structures may be transferred to a Government agency for its use on or off the present project site, provided that where the use is to be on site and transferee Government agency will carry out the provisions of the Lanham Act and National Housing Agency regulations concerning the removal of temporary housing.

(b) Provisions of this Section apply to projects on owned, leased, or temporary use sites. If the structures are on other than owned sites and are to remain on such sites, any transfer will be subject to any conditions underlying the lease or use of the site.

(ii) State and local governments and non-profit institutions. Temporary dwelling structures may be sold to state or local governments or non-profit institutions for any use off the present site. They shall be demolished as defined in subparagraph (1) above unless they are to be removed for non-residential use.

(4) Priorities. In the disposition of temporary war housing projects, the following order of preference will govern: (i) Government agencies; (ii) state and local governments; and (iii) non-profit institutions. The priorities set forth herein will be effective only if the priority holder purchases the project for its own use and not for resale, and purchases at the market value as established by the FPHA. They will be effective only if exercised before the first advertisement for competitive bids for demolition is published. No priorities will be recognized in the sale of temporary dwelling for demolition.

(a) Temporary dwelling structures. In the case of temporary dwelling structures, the FPHA will use only a public announcement (made not less than 30 days prior to advertisement for bids) and community consultation to bring the availability of temporary dwellings to the attention of priority holders set forth in subparagraph (4) above, and will advertise them for sale by competitive bid only after such measures have brought no expressions of interest from priority holders.

(b) Non-Dwelling buildings sold separately from the dwellings. In the sale of community, commercial, administration or utility buildings on owned land, in addition to the priorities set forth above, veterans will have next priority for owner-operated small business or commercial purposes. The priority of a veteran hereunder may be exercised in connection with only a single purchase. Such buildings will first be offered by published advertisement to priority holders at the current market value as established by FPHA, and if no priority holder accepts the offer within 30 days of advertisement the buildings will then be advertised for competitive bids in the open market for a period of 30 days. Priority holders may bid, but will have no priority. If no acceptable offer is received from competitive bidding, sales through negotiation, auction, or other means should be made. Where non-dwelling structures are on leased land, any which are not transferred to the landowner in connection with settlements will be sold as provided above.

(c) Priorities on portable shelter structures. Portable shelter structures may be sold under priorities set forth in the first sub-paragraph of this paragraph, unless it is determined that substantially the entire group of portable shelter structures are salable as individual units. In the latter case individual consumers will have fourth priority, with veterans and servicemen, or their families having preference as among consumers.

(5) Portable shelter structures. Portable shelter structures are of temporary construction, are not considered suitable for long-term residential use, and must be removed under the terms of the Lanham Act. Furthermore, portable shelter structures do not generally comply with existing urban building regulations. They may, however, be adaptable for use as vacation-type summer housing, tourist cabins, migratory seasonal farm labor, and non-dwelling use. Accordingly, portable shelter structures are to be treated in the same manner as temporary dwelling structures, except for the priorities differences set forth in subparagraph (4)(c) above, and except that these units may be sold for removal off the site without the requirement that they be reduced to flat panels. Portable shelter structures are not considered suitable for long-term residential use and do not generally comply with urban building regulations. They are suitable for vacation housing, tourist cabins, migratory seasonal farm labor, and non-dwelling uses. Portable shelter structures are to be advertised for a thirty-day period for sale to priority holders for removal from the site. Unless priority holders pay the market price as fixed by FPHA they have no priority. If not sold to priority holders, portable shelter structures will be advertised for a thirty-day period for sale for removal from the site to the general public on a competitive sealed bid basis. If not sold as outlined above, sales may be made for off-site removal at the best obtainable price, by re-advertisement for bids, by auction, negotiation, by sale for demolition, or any other method which will bring the best financial return to the Government.

(6) Sales prices. All sales or transfers other than those on a competitive bid basis will be made at a price established by the FPHA based on the current market value unless, in transfers to other Government agencies, transfers without reimbursement are authorized by law. In sales by competitive bidding the highest eligible bid will be accepted unless it is determined to be in the best interest of the Government to reject all bids. Sales will be for cash unless a sale on terms is approved by the Commissioner, except that transfers may be made to landowners in effecting settlements. When the FPHA finds that the cost of the care, handling, and demolition of structures would equal or exceed the estimated proceeds, or otherwise determines that structures have no commercial value, the FPHA may then without receiving monetary payment make a transfer to Government agencies, state and local governments, or non-profit institutions; but only under the conditions set forth in subparagraph (3) above.

(7) Trailers. Trailers no longer needed in the public housing program will be declared surplus to the appropriate disposal agency designated by the War Assets Administration for disposal pursuant to the Surplus Property Act of 1944.

(d) Disposition of permanent and demountable federally owned war housing projects. The following subparagraphs set forth the policy of the FPHA for the disposition of permanent and demountable federally owned war housing projects developed or acquired under the Lanham Act, PA-761, or the Temporary Shelter Acts.

(1) General policy. Terminated permanent projects will be sold by FPHA for private residential purposes unless transferred to other Government agencies for residential use or unless sold to a local housing authority under authorization of Congress.

(2) Occupancy, rent, and sale restrictions. The disposition of terminated permanent projects or parts of projects to be used for private residential purposes requires the agreement of all purchasers, their successors, or assigns to the following:

(i) Until 12-31-47, or the date of termination of rent control under Federal regulation (whichever date is the later):

(a) They shall not evict the present occupant of any unit except for causes recognized by courts of law as justifying an eviction because of breach of contract of tenancy;

(b) They shall not raise the rent of any tenant occupying the project at the time of sale above the scheduled rent in existence at the date of sale; except that prior to December 31, 1947, the rent of any tenant who is paying an adjusted rent less than the scheduled rent because of distressed circumstances may be increased upward at any time in accordance with any increased ability to pay but not to exceed the scheduled rent, and provided that such increase is approved by FPHA.

(c) Resale prices of units originally sold to individual owner occupants shall be subject to FPHA approval.

(ii) Prior to December 31, 1947, first preference on resale, rental, or sub-lease of individual units shall be given to veterans, servicemen, or their families. Such preferences will not be deemed to be complied with if the unit is sold or rented within thirty days of the unit's availability to other than a veteran, serviceman, or his family who is available and qualified.

(3) Sales to occupants, prospective occupants, or private investors. The plan of sale for private residential properties will be based on the following:

(i) Occupants or prospective occupants. Preference will be given to actual occupants and prospective occupants—that is, those who are actually using or will themselves use the premises for residential purposes. Actual occupants will have priority over prospective occupants. As among prospective occupants, veterans, servicemen, or their families will have priority over nonveterans. Occupants and prospective occupants include individuals or mutual ownership corporations whose membership is comprised of occupants or prospective occupants. These preferences are subject to the following conditions:

(a) In case of sales to individuals, the project must be suitable for individual ownership; it should be found that substantially all the dwellings in the project can be disposed of in this manner within a reasonable time; and it should be determined that a substantial majority of present occupants are willing to purchase.

(b) No sale will be made to a mutual ownership corporation unless there is a financially sound plan of purchase and its membership meets FPHA requirements.

(c) In case a sale is possible either to individuals or to a mutual ownership corporation, preference may be given to the plan which is in the best financial interest of the Government, taking into account the probability of ultimate collection of principal and the possibility of houses remaining unsold.

(ii) Private investors. In the event it is not possible or feasible to dispose of a project to occupants and prospective occupants, projects or portions thereof may be sold to private investors. Projects which are suitable for disposition in separate portions will be offered for sale in such portions as well as in their entirety. Sales will be consummated which will result in the disposition of the project at the best price and under the best terms available to the Government.

(iii) Sales prices. (a) In case of sales to occupants or prospective occupants, including mutual ownership corporations, sales prices will be established by FPHA in an amount equal to the fair market value as established by competent appraisal in order that advantage will not be taken of scarcity in the market to obtain inflated prices. Prices so established will be publicly announced and thereafter sales consummated with purchasers at such prices.

(b) In case of sales to private investors, properties will be advertised requesting the submission of sealed bids within a ninety-day period from the date of the first advertisement. Bids will be opened publicly at the expiration of the ninety-day period. The highest eligible bid will be accepted, subject to the right of the Government to reject all bids if none is satisfactory, and subject to the right of the Commissioner to accept a lower offer if he determines such action to be in the public interest.

(4) Sales to local housing authorities. Consideration will be given to sale of a permanent housing project to a local housing authority only if the governing body of the community and the local housing authority in whose jurisdiction such a project is located determine, by appropriate resolution or other act, that it is in the best interest of the community for such a housing project or a part thereof to be conveyed to the local housing authority to fulfill its legitimate needs for public low-rent housing. If FPHA concurs in the determination of the local governing body and the local housing authority as to the need for such project or part thereof to provide low-rent housing in the community, recommendations will be made that the Administrator submit to Congress the requested authorization to sell such housing projects to the local housing authority, pursuant to a plan of sale which will enable the project to be utilized for the sole purpose of providing decent, safe and sanitary low-rent housing for families of low income whom private enterprise cannot adequately serve. The plan to be submitted to Congress for achieving such purpose will be the following, unless the local housing authority propose an alternative plan which will accomplish this purpose and be acceptable to the FPHA:

(i) Terms and conditions of sale. Any such project will be conveyed to a local housing authority in consideration of any agreement by the local housing authority (a) to pay as the purchase price all net income to FPHA over a fixed period of years, which fixed period of years shall be determined on the basis of the estimated useful life of the project for decent, safe and sanitary low-rent housing purposes; (b) to utilize the project during the aforesaid fixed period of years for the sole purpose of providing decent, safe and sanitary low-rent housing; and (c) not to dispose of the project throughout the aforesaid fixed period of years. In addition and as a local contribution the property and assets of the local housing authority must be exempt from state and local taxation; however, local authorities may be permitted to make payment in lieu o ftaxes from available project revenues to the same extent as permitted under FPHA policy with respect to the PWA Housing Division Projects.

(5) Disposition of demountable dwelling Structures. When sold for on-site use, demountable dwelling structures will be disposed of as permanent projects as outlined in preceding paragraphs. The community may recommend the removal of demountable family dwellings if there is no physical need for such structures in the community or if not appropriate to the sites on which they are located. Community recommendations for the removal of demountable family dwellings will be given every consideration by the FPHA, consistent with Broad Federal policy and the protection of the Federal interest. It is recognized that there may be some misunderstanding concerning the retention of demountable family dwellings in some communities. The FPHA will carefully examine any commitments as to removal, either formal or implied, and will faithfully carry out any obligations. When sold for off-site use, appropriate terminated demountables will be sold to meet veterans' needs in the following order of preference: (i) Federal agencies; (ii) educational institutions or local public bodies or their representatives; (iii) individual veterans, servicemen, or their families and (iv) others who will purchase the housing in marketable quantities and remove and resell or rent the housing to veterans, servicemen, or their families. Sales will require that purchasers, successors, and assigns shall agree that until December 31, 1947, they will give first preference to veterans, servicemen, or their families among qualified tenants or purchasers, in the rental of dwellings or their sale for owner occupancy as the case may be and at sales prices approved by the FPHA.

PART 640—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM: PROCEDURES

Sec.
640.1 Administration of projects.
640.2 Construction and management.
640.3 Authorization for construction and priorities assistance for materials and equipment.

§ 640.1 Administration of projects. The Veterans' Emergency Housing Program is designed to provide housing for distressed families of servicemen and veterans and for single veterans attending educational institutions, through the use of existing facilities either in their present location or by moving and relocating them. This program is administered through contracts with local bodies, i. e., educational institutions, state or political subdivisions thereof, local public agencies, or non-profit organizations. These projects may be developed with or without the aid of Federal funds, the properties of the government not otherwise needed for its own use being available for transfer to or used by the local bodies in the carrying out of the program. The initiation of a project may be undertaken by application to the regional director in the areas in which the contemplated project is to be located. The projects are managed and operated by the local bodies, and applications for tenancy in the projects should be filed with these bodies.

§ 640.2 Construction and management. In order to assure the use of the housing facilities in accordance with the policies of FPHA, the contracts between the local bodies and the FPHA specify the conditions of construction and management. Inasmuch as conditions in different communities vary, the contracts do not follow a standard pattern but are adjusted according to prevailing situations.

§ 640.3 Authorization for construction and priorities assistance for materials and equipment. In connection with this program, under the limited priorities control system currently prescribed by the Civilian Production Administration and the National Housing

Agency, the FPHA has been delegated the authority to approve applications for authorization of construction under VHP–1 and for priorities assistance under CPA Priorities Regulation 33 for educational institutions and public organizations applications as well as for Federally financed housing. Materials and equipment for housing construction are controlled by CPA regulations and preference ratings established by that agency. The following procedures will be applied by the FPHA in carrying out its responsibilities.

(a) Applications and amendments. Applications for authorization of construction under Order VHP–1 and for priorities assistance under CPA Piorities Regulation 33 must be filed with FPHA on Form CPA–4336, the original of which will be returned to the applicant, after approval or rejection. An applicant may apply for an amendment to his application as follows:

(1) Changes in the plans or specifications, the proposed sales price or rent, the construction cost, or the construction schedule may be requested by letter, in triplicate.

(2) Requests for additional building or dwelling units not included in the original application may be made by a new application on Form CPA–4386, covering the new units.

(3) If the ratings granted are not to be used within 90 days of the approval of construction authorization, a supplemental application Form CPA–4387 must be submitted.

(b) Appeal. Appeals for relief from any provision of CPA Priorities Regulation 33 or any direction to the Regulation may be made to the regional office with which the application was filed, when the provisions result in exceptional and unreasonable hardships.

(1) Form of submittal. Each appeal must be in letter or memorandum form, original and two copies; accompanied by the original and three copies of the Form CPA–4386 on which the appeal is made, together with a set of plans, specifications, and all other pertinent documents. The letter or memorandum shall state the justification for the appeal, the precise nature of the appeal, and all pertinent conditions related thereto.

(2) Transmittal. Each such appeal shall be transmitted by the regional office, the Secretary, Priorities Appeals Committee, c/o The Priorities and Materials Survey Division, Longfellow Building, 1201 Connecticut Avenue, Washington 25, D. C. Each appeal which originates outside of the regional office shall be numbered and reviewed by the regional priorities liaison officer, who will prepare a transmittal memorandum setting forth regional comments and recommendations.

(c) Supplementary personal property. The FPHA will also assist in the securing of supplementary personal property required by the local bodies or contractors in connection with the provision of emergency housing for veterans.

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

PART 641—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM: POLICY

Sec.
641.1 Eligibility of local bodies.
641.2 Standards for selection of tenants.

§ 641.1 Eligibility of local bodies—(a) Submission of applications. Applications for participation in this program may be filed by any local body, i. e., a non-profit educational institution, state or political subdivision thereof, local public agency, or a non-profit organization, that meets the following conditions:

(1) The applicant has sufficient financial resources or the legal ability to obtain funds to meet its financial obligations under the contract.

(2) In the case of an educational institution, the applicant and its students are entitled to benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended (58 Stat. 284).

(3) In the case of any state, local public agency, or non-profit organization (except an educational institution) the application is endorsed by the local governing body.

(b) Availability of housing facilities. Conformity with the eligibility requirements by local bodies will not assure their receiving the units requested. The amount of housing facilities that can be made available to an applicant is restricted by the limitations of available supply and appropriations, most of which have been allocated on the basis of applications on file with FPHA.

§ 641.2 Standards for selection of tenants. In order to assure that the housing facilities made available under this program will be utilized for the benefit of distressed veterans, servicemen, and their families, the FPHA requires that all contracts obligate local bodies to adopt the following standards for occupancy.

(a) Definition of eligible groups. Eligibility for admission shall be determined in accordance with the following definitions:

(1) Serviceman, veteran, and single veterans attending educational institutions—(i) Serviceman. A serviceman means a person of any rank (enlisted or officer) who is now serving in the military or naval forces (Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard) of the United States.

(ii) Veteran. A veteran means a person who has served in the military or naval forces of the United States in World War II and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable.

(2) Families of servicemen or veterans. A "family" shall mean a natural family consisting of a family head and one or more persons related to the head by blood, marriage or adoption. It does not mean a group of unrelated persons living together, lodgers or persons living alone. Such related groups shall be considered the families of servicemen or veterans under the following circumstances:

(i) The veteran or serviceman is living with the family.

(ii) The veteran or serviceman is the natural family head or principal wage earner, but is temporarily absent from home by reason of a duty assignment, employment, school attendance in another locality, or hospitalization.

(iii) The veteran or serviceman, a natural family head, is permanently absent from his family by reason of death (during or subsequent to military or naval service), divorce, separation, desertion or permanent hospitalization. (The remarriage of a widow, widower or divorced spouse of a veteran or serviceman shall terminate that person's status as his family.)

(3) Distressed families of servicemen and veterans. (i) Families of servicemen and veterans are "distressed" if they are in need of housing for any one of the reasons set forth below and they are unable to find in the area adequate housing within their financial reach:

(a) They are actually without housing of any kind for themselves and their families in the locality;

(b) They are living in quarters not designed for family occupancy (for instance, no cooking facilities provided);

(c) They have been evicted or are to be evicted;

(d) They have lived doubled up with another family while a member was in the armed forces and wish to establish their own household upon that member's return;

(e) They have a dwelling which is totally unsatisfactory for their use because of some unusual hardship affecting the family—such as a health condition aggravated by the housing and a doctor has ordered removal; or

(f) They are student veterans temporarily housed (pending availability of accommodations in a project operated by an educational institution) but paying a rent beyond their ability to continue paying. The educational institution must, however, assure that the dwelling vacated will be reoccupied by the family of a veteran or serviceman. (Eviction proceedings need not have been started against student veterans in such cases.)

(ii) Families of servicemen and veterans are not "distressed" within the meaning of these regulations if they are in need of housing because:

(a) They live in a substandard house and simply wish to find a better place to live; or

(b) They are paying more rent than would be charged in the project and they want to move in order to reduce it. (A family which cannot continue to pay the rent for its present quarters and is being or is about to be legally evicted for nonpayment of rent will qualify under (c) above, while student veterans may qualify under (f) above.)

(4) Distressed single veterans attending educational institutions. This includes veterans who do not have and cannot find a place to live and who desire housing accommodations for themselves only while they are attending an educational or training institution. They shall be admitted only to accommodations designed for single person occupancy. They may or may not be receiving educational or training benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended.

(5) Non-veteran faculty members. This includes non-veteran faculty members necessary for the program of teaching at educational institutions furnishing education and training to veterans under Title II of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as amended.

(b) Eligibility for admission—(1) Family dwellings. Admission shall be limited strictly to the following:

(i) Distressed families of veterans.

(ii) Distressed families of servicemen.

(iii) Families of non-veteran faculty members, not in excess of 5 percent of the units furnished under the contract, operated by an educational institution or 5 percent of the units occupied by student veterans in projects operated by other local bodies.

(2) Dormitories. Admission shall be limited strictly to the following:

(i) Single veterans attending educational institutions.

(ii) Single non-veteran faculty members but not in excess of 5 percent of the project units.

(c) Statements and verification of eligibility. A written statement shall be obtained from each family applying for admission or for an adjustment of rent, setting forth the facts which relate to its eligibility for admission or rent adjustment. These statements shall be verified and certified as to accuracy for each family applying.

Commissioner.

PART 650—CONVERSION MANAGEMENT PROGRAM: PROCEDURE

Sec.
650.1 Acquisition and development of new program.
650.2 Selection of contract managers.
650.3 Renting.

§ 650.1 Acquisition and development of new program. No new projects are contemplated under this program. Therefore no procedure is included herein with respect to the acquisition or development of such projects.

§ 650.2 Selection of contract managers. (a) The regional director is responsible for the selection, replacement, and supervision of contract managers who actually operate and manage the homes conversion projects. Contracts with contract managers may be negotiated and do not require advertising for competitive bids. The selected contract manager and the regional director execute a Management Service Contract, Form FPHA–1320 (available at regional offices).

(b) Operations are conducted in accordance with the contract and a Contract Managers Manual which is incorporated in the contract and separately published for the convenience of the contract managers. This Manual is delivered to all contract managers at the time that the contract is entered into and is available at regional offices.

§ 650.3 Renting. Applicants for housing provided under this program should apply to the nearest contract manager. His name and address can be secured from the appropriate regional office. If there is a vacancy available, the tenant will be required to sign an agreement with the contract manager stipulating the facilities, services, and equipment to be furnished to the tenant.

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

[F. R. Doc. 46–15373; Filed, Aug. 28, 1946; 4:24 p. m.]

PART 651—CONVERSION MANAGEMENT PROGRAM: POLICY

Sec.
651.1 Principles of management.
651.2 Eligibility for tenancy.
651.3 Rents.
651.4 Disposition of projects and equipment.

§ 651.1 Principles of management. Due to the scattered nature of the program and the fact that the projects are frequently very small in size, it is the policy of FPHA to utilize the services of competent real estate management firms in the supervision, maintenance, and operation of the Homes' Conversion Program.

§ 651.2 Eligibility for tenancy. Eligibility for occupancy in public conversion properties is without restriction except that in selection of tenants, preference is given to distressed families of servicemen and veterans, families of in-migrant civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, and of private industries engaged in the completion of war contracts.

§ 651.3 Rents. (a) Dwelling units. The rent control laws administered by the OPA are applicable to housing units provided under this program. In addition to OPA controls, rentals may be increased only subject to the following limitations: (1) The shelter rent for any unit rented to a warworker will not exceed $50 a month. Non-warworkers remaining as tenants after conversion are not affected by this limitation but may be charged rents up to the generally prevailing rent for comparable accommodations. (2) Charges for additional appliances, services, and equipment may be added to the shelter rent. The maximum charges for such appliances, equipment, and services exclusive of utilities will be $3 per month per room. Any additional charges for utilities will not exceed the pro-rata cost for gas and electricity.

(b) Furniture charges. Charges for furniture in rental units including furniture provided by the Government approximate $3.50 for zero-bedroom, $4 for one-bedroom, $6 for two-bedroom and $8 for three-bedroom units. A breakdown between basic rent and furniture charges is not made in the rental agreement.

§ 651.4 Disposition of projects and equipment. As war housing need has diminished with the end of the war, termination of conversion leaseholds may henceforth be considered on a straight financial basis. In order to allow private enterprise to serve the largest possible segment of the housing market, the opportunity will be given to lessors to regain control of the converted premises through termination prior to the expiration dates set by Contract upon payment of a consideration based on the fair value of the leasehold and the unrecovered leasehold investment. It is anticipated that the consideration will in all cases at least equal the Government's potential recovery through continued operation for the balance of the lease term. Government-owned movable dwelling equipment, furniture, and furnishings may be sold to conversion property owners in connection with the termination of the Government's leasehold interest in such properties.

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

PART 660—PROCUREMENT AND DISPOSAL PROGRAM: PROCEDURES

§ 660.1 Procurement of supplies and services—(a) Procurement procedure. The FPHA uses Federal sources of supply whenever possible. When outside sources must be resorted to, it proceeds in accordance with Title 41 of the United States Code. In the case of procurement required by law to be on the basis of formal competitive bids due publicity as required by law will be given.

(b) Disposal of surplus property assigned by War Assets Administration. Surplus property assigned to the FPHA for disposal by the War Assets Administration will be sold in accordance with regulations of the War Assets Administration. All inquiries as to the time, manner and conditions of disposition should be addressed to the Regional Office having jurisdiction of the property.

D. S. MYER,
Commissioner.

PART 670—DEFENSE HOMES CORPORATION: ORGANIZATION

Sec.
670.1 Agency organization.
670.2 Description of program.
670.3 Final delegations of authority.

§ 670.1 Agency organization.—Defense Homes Corporation (hereinafter called the Corporation) is a Government-owned Corporation organized under the laws of Maryland on October 23, 1940, under a Presidential directive dated October 18, 1940, issued under the authority of the Military Appropriation Act, approved June 13, 1940, and the Naval Appropriation Act, approved June 11, 1940, "for the construction and financing of housing deemed necessary for national defense." The Certificate of Incorporation is recorded in Vol. 6, No. 119, Federal Register 2973, June 19, 1941.

§ 670.2 Description of program.—With 10,000,000.00 received from the purchase of its capital stock by the Government and with some $600,000,000.00 borrowed from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on its notes, the Corporation has constructed twenty-five housing projects in the District of Columbia and in thirteen states. Each of these projects was constructed in localities as directed by the Office of the Defense Housing Coordinator on the basis of Presidential findings of need, for occupancy by persons engaged in national defense activities. After the cessation of hostilities, tenant eligibility was extended to veterans of World War II. On February 24, 1942, the Corporation was placed under the Federal Public Housing Commissioner, National Housing Agency, by the Executive Order 9070. The Corporation is required by the provisions of the Government Corporation Control Act (Public Law 248, 79th Congress, approved December 6, 1945) to cease functioning as a Government agency and to dissolve on or before June 30, 1948. It is now in the process of liquidation.

§ 670.3 Final delegations of authority.—The Corporation has no delegations of power in effect.

WILLIAM A. ZIEGLER,
General Manager,
Defense Homes Corporation.

[F. R. Doc. 46-15376; Filed, Aug. 28, 1946; 4:24 p. m.]

PART 671—DEFENSE HOMES CORPORATION: PROCEDURES

Sec.
671.1 Procedures.
671.2 Project administration.

§ 671.1 Procedures.—The principal office of the Corporation is in Washington, D. C. (Longfellow Building, 1201 Conecticut Avenue, N. W.). Its only other office is located in Baltimore, Maryland, the State of its incorporation, solely for statutory purposes. The Corporation has no branch or field offices. Its affairs are conducted by its Board of Directors, of which both the National Housing Administrator and the Federal Public Housing Commissioner are members, the latter usually serves as President and Executive Head. The facilities of the Federal Public Housing Authority are available to the Corporation for employment of personnel, purchasing and other necessary services.

§ 671.2 Project administration.—Each of the housing projects constructed by the Corporation is operated by a resident manager under a cost-plus-fixed-fee management contract which constitutes him an independent contractor using his own facilities and personnel on a reimbursable basis. All rules and procedures for the operation of each project by the manager are contained in his management contract. The public may secure information with respect to projects or activities of the Corporation, and make submittals or request at the office of the Corporation or at any project office. In addition interested persons may examine the official records of the Corporation at the office of the Corporation upon written application addressed to the Secretary at the principal office.

WILLIAM A. ZIEGLER,
General Manager,
Defense Homes Corporation.

PART 672—DEFENSE HOMES CORPORATION: POLICIES

§ 672.1 Management policies.—The Defense Homes Corporation employs as its sole device for the management of its projects independent contractor arrangement under which a contract is entered into with a private operator or private individual prescribing the method in which the project shall be administered. All management policies are embodied in the particular management contracts.

(a) Eligible tenants.—During the war tenant eligibility was restricted through management contracts to persons engaged in national defense activities. This policy has been changed so that now veterans and servicemen and their families are eligible.

(b) Liquidation.—The Corporation is now in the process of liquidation. It is selling its individual houses and projects. The sales of individual houses are for cash; however, financing through the local renting institution with Federal Housing Administration insurance can be obtained for them. Projects are sold through the procedures prescribed under the Surplus Property Act of 1944. In all sales of projects the rights of present tenants to fill the vacancies are protected under the sales contract.

WILLIAM A. ZIEGLER,
General Manager,
Defense Homes Corporation.

SUBPART A—ORGANIZATION

§ 0300.1 (a) Central organization. The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation was created by Ttitle IV of the National Housing Act, as amended (12 U. S. C. 1724, et seq.), with its principal office at the Federal Home Loan Bank Board Building, 101 Indiana Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C. The functions, powers and duties of the Corporation are conducted under authorities set forth in Executive Order 9070 at 3 CFR, and Supps., 24 CFR, and Supps., Chs. I, II, III and IV; 12 U. S. C. 1724, et seq. and 11 F. R. 9495.

(b) General Manager. The General Manager, under authority indicated in 24 CFR, and Supps., 01.1(f) conducts the operations of the Corporation through the following administrative divisions:

(1) Underwriting and Rehabilitation Division. This Division develops programs for insurance, including rehabilitations, and makes recommendations on applications for insurance and operations of insured institutions requiring approval.

(2) Claims and Adjustments Division. This Division is charged with the responsibility of administering payment of insurance to insured members of institutions in liquidation.

(3) Liquidation and Recoveries Division. This Division is charged with the responsibility of administering liquidation of institutions for which the Corporation is receiver and of assets acquired by it. The Division also administers activities to prevent default of insured institutions and compliance by rehabilitated institutions with recovery agreements.

(4) Comptroller's Division. This Division develops and maintains financial and accounting records and reports of the Corporation, disburses funds, bills insured institutions and collects admission fees and premiums, audits all claims against the Corporation and prescribes and supervises accounting records for insured institutions in receivership. The Division makes due payment of insurance to insured members of institutions in liquidation.

(5) Operating Analysis Division. This Division complies and analyses financial and operational data pertaining to the administration of the Corporation and the Federal Home Loan Bank System and to the operations and trends of insured institutions and members of the Federal Home Loan Bank System.

(c) General counsel. The General Associate General Counsel and Assistant General Counsel of the Corporation exercise the functions, powers and duties indicated at 24 CFR, and Supps., 01.1.

(d) Secretary. The Secretary and Assistant Secretary of the Corporation exercise the functions, powers and duties indicated at 24 CFR, and Supps., 01.1.

(e) Federal Home Loan Bank System Staff. The staff of the Federal Home Loan Bank System performs certain other functions, powers and duties of the Corporation as set forth in 24 CFR, and Supps., Chs. I, II, III and IV.

§ 0300.2 (a) Field organization. Officers and employees of the Federal Home Loan Banks who have been designated by the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System act as agents of the Corporation in connection with underwriting and other phases of the Corporation's activities pursuant to instructions from the Corporation (24 CFR, and Supps., Ch. I). For the location of the Federal Home Loan Banks and the areas they service see 24 CFR, and Supps., 2.1.

(b) Field representatives. The Corporation maintains field representatives in connection with the operations of the Underwriting and Rehabilitation Division. See 0300.1 (a) (1).

(c) Claim agents and special representatives. In connection with the liquidation of insured institutions, Claim Agents and Special Representatives of the Corporation in the field make payment of insurance and supervise the liquidation of receivership assets, pursuant to instructions from the Corporation.

§ 0300.3 Public information submittals and requests. (a) All submittals and requests for information relative to the insurance program by insured associations or uninsured institutions of the savings and loan association type should be directed to the Federal Home Loan Bank of the District in which the institution is located. (See 24 CFR Supps. 2.1.)

(b) Requests for information from individuals may be addressed either to the District Federal Home Loan Banks (see 24 CFR, and Supps. 2.1, or to the General Manager, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C.

(c) Matters in connection with the liquidation of an insured institution in default, including the payment of creditor obligations, should be submitted to the Special Representative of the Corporation in charge of the liquidation in the association's offices. Matters relative to the payment of insurance to the institution's investors should be submitted to the Claim Agent of the Corporation in the association's offices. Upon termination of the liquidation, all matters concerning either payment of insurance or the liquidation should be directed to the General Manager, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, 101 Indiana Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C.

§ 0300.4 Delegation of final authority. (a) The functions, powers and duties of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation are administered in the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration by the Federal Home Loan Bank Commissioner under authorities set forth in 24 CFR, and Supps., Chs. I, II, III and IV, 11 F.R. No. 169.

(b) Duties and functions of the Corporation with respect to supervision of operating insured institutions, including routine and special examinations and audits, are lodged in the Office of the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and the District Federal Home Loan Banks (24 CFR, and Supps., Chs. I and II).

(c) All matters between insured institutions and the Corporation are to be referred by the institutions to the District Federal Home Loan Bank for review, analysis, and submission with Bank recommendations to the General Manager of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

(d) When a receiver has been appointed for an insured institution for the purpose of liquidation, Claim Agents are designated by the Corporation to perform all necessary work in the field incident to the settlement of the insured accounts of the institution. Claim Agents have authority to receive, review, and approve claims for insurance; to carry out details incident to the issuance of new insured accounts by other institutions; and to effect payment of insurance to the insured members of the institution in liquidation.

(e) When the Corporation is appointed receiver for an insured institution for the purpose of liquidation, a Special Representative of the Corporation is designated to conduct the liquidation of the association in the field. He collects payments on installment obligations, disposes of property at or above minimum sales prices established by the Corporation, employs and supervises field staffs, and carries out other functions specifically delegated by the Corporation.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURE

§ 0300.5 Formal procedures. Procedures for which definite channels, lines of authority and rules and regulations have been provided are outlined below:

(a) Obtaining insurance. (1) An eligible institution may obtain insurance by filing an application form with the Federal Home Loan Bank of the District in which it is located (see 24 CFR, and Supps., 2.1). Forms are obtainable from the Bank.

(2) The application procedure is set forth in detail in 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.2, 301.3, 301.4, 301.5, 301.6, 301.7, 301.8. The applicant association may obtain advice regarding the application procedure and additional information from the District Federal Home Loan Bank.

(3) If a hearing is desired under 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.20, the association or any interested person may submit a request as therein provided.

(4) Following approval of an association's application, the association will pay the admission fee (24 CFR, 301.6 and Supps.) and half of the first year's premium (24 CFR and Supps., 301.13) directly to the Comptroller, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C. (after billing by the Corporation) and an insurance certificate will be issued.

(b) Payment of premium. (1) Each insured institution is billed by the Corporation for annual premiums; premiums are payable in two installments directly to the Comptroller, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., the first payment at the beginning of each insurance year and the second six months later (24 CFR 301.13 and Supps.).

(2) Notice of merger, consolidation or purchase of bulk assets must be made to the District Federal Home Loan Bank (see 24 CFR, and supps. 2.1) in order that adjustment by the Corporation in the premium payments of the association may be made. (24 CFR, and Supps., 301.13 (c).)

(c) Approval of operating policies of insured institutions. In connection with the approval by the Corporation of certain phases of the operation of insured institutions, any matters covered in 24 CFR and Supps., 301.5 (c) 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 16, 17 and 18 should be taken up with the Federal Home Loan Bank of the District in which the institution is located (24 CFR, and Supps., 2.1) and statements of basic policies of institutions, contemplated revisions thereto or other data required for approval by, or information of, the Corporation, should be forwarded to the District Federal Home Loan Bank.

(d) Examinations. All matters concerning the examinations and audits of insured associations required by 24 CFR 301.14 and Supps., should be referred to the Federal Home Loan Bank of the District in which the association is located. (See 24 CFR, and Supps., 2.1.)

(e) Prevention of default. In order to enable the Corporation to take preventive or restorative action under 12 U. S. C. 1729 (f), a state, district or territorial supervisor of savings and loan institutions may notify the General Manager of the Corporation, 101 Indiana Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., of any contemplated or completed action on his part in declaring an insured institution to be in default.

(f) Payment of insurance. Following the placing of an insured institution in liquidation, the Corporation will communicate with each holder of an insured account by mail relative to the payment of insurance (24 CFR, and Supps., 301.19); each insured member will be supplied with a Proof of Claim and Subrogation of Share Interest form, which he must execute and submit directly to the Claim Agent of the Corporation in the association's offices.

(g) Liquidation of insured institutions. All necessary dealings on the part of individuals with respect to loan payments, payment of creditor obligations, purchase of assets and other phases of the liquidation of an insured institution for which the Corporation has been appointed receiver shall be made with the Special Representative of the Corporation in charge of the liquidation or with members of his staff, in the local office of the Special Representative.

(h) Termination of insurance. (1) An insured institution wishing to voluntarily terminate its insured status or corporate existence may follow the procedure set forth in 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.21. Requests for voluntary termination may be forwarded to the Federal Home Loan Bank of the District in which the association is located (see 24 CFR, and Supps., 2.1).

(2) Request for a hearing as authorized by 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.21 in connection with the termination of the insured status of an institution by the Corporation may be made as provided in 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.20.

(i) Rule making. The formal procedure followed in the promulgation of Rules and Regulations for Insurance of Accounts (24 CFR, and Supps., 301, 302) and in amendments thereto is described in detail in 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.22, 301.23.

§ 0300.6 Informal procedures. The Corporation encourages informal conferences and discussions between its representatives and interested individuals regarding policies and operations of the Corporation and the savings and loan industry. The District Federal Home Loan Banks are equipped and located for such meetings. Requests for such meetings should be directed to the General Manager, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, 101 Indiana Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., or to the District Federal Home Loan Banks (See CFR, and Supps., 2.1).

§ 0300.7 Forms and instructions. The following forms are currently in use by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation in its dealings with the public.

(a) Application for insurance of accounts. Includes (1) the form on which to record the formal application of an institution for insurance, (2) a statement of agreement of the applicant association to certain conditions regarding operation, examination, etc., required by 12 U. S. C. 1724, et seq. and 24 CFR, and Supps., 301, and (3) detailed instructions for use of the form and submission of supporting data.

(b) Certificate of insurance. Contains a certification signed by the Commissioner of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration and attested to by the Secretary of the Administration as to the insured status of an institution and a quotation of 12 U. S. C. 1728 (a), (b).

(c) Premium bills. Include statements of the annual premium of an insured institution and the amount currently due.

(d) Financial report forms. Monthly and annual report forms include statements of condition, statements of operation and other data regarding the affairs of the insured institution, required for the use of the boards of directors of the institution, the Corporation and the supervisory authorities (24 CFR, and Supps., 301.15).

(e) Proof of claim and subrogation of share interest. Includes a statement by a member of an insured institution in liquidation as to the amount of his insured account in the association and the assignment of the insured amount of his account to the Corporation in return for payment of insurance (24 CFR, and Supps., 301.19).

(f) Order for issuance of insured account. Includes the Corporation's request to an operating insured association to issue an insured account in a specified amount to an insured member of an insured association in liquidation, an acknowledgment of receipt and release of claim signed by the insured member, and a certification of an officer of the issuing association to the effect that delivery of the account has been effected (12 U. S. C. 1728, 1729 (a); 24 CFR, and Supps., 301.19).

(g) Interim receipt. Includes the receipt of the Corporation for an insured account of an insured member in an institution in liquidation, pending issuance of cash and debentures to the member (24 CFR, and Supps., 301.19, 302).

(h) Debentures. For use in connection with payment of insurance under 12 U. S. C. 1728(b), forms of debentures, approved by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and the Department of the Treasury, are available in denominations of $1,000, $500, $100, $50, $25 and amounts under $25.

(i) Creditor's proof of claim. A certification by a creditor as to the amount and nature of an indebtedness of the Corporation as Receiver due and payable to the claimant.

(j) Participation certificate. Issued by the Corporation as Receiver as evidence of an insured member's ownership of the uninsured amount of his account and of his right to participate pro rata in the proceeds from the liquidation of the assets of an insured association. Also includes a form for assignment and transfer of claim and a record of liquidating dividends paid.

SUBPART C—SUBSTANTIVE RULES

§ 0300.8 Rules and regulations. The Rules and Regulations for Insurance of Accounts adopted by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation for the purpose of implementing 12 U. S. C. 1724, et seq., are embodied in 24 CFR, and Supps., Ch. III. Rules and regulations relating to the appointment of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation as receiver for a Federal savings and loan association are found in the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR, and Supp., Ch. II).

§ 0300.9 Statements of general policy or interpretation. Determinations of general policy and interpretations formulated for the guidance of the public are embodied in the Rules and Regulations for Insurance of Accounts (24 CFR, Ch. III and Supp., 11 F. R. 9495).

200.22 Forms.

SUBPART C—SUBSTANTIVE RULES, POLICY AND INTERPRETATION

200.50 Published rules and regulations.
200.51 Statements of general policy or interpretation.

SUBPART A—ORGANIZATION

§ 200.1 The Federal Savings and Loan System. Federal savings and loan associations are chartered and supervised by the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration pursuant to the provisions of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended (12 U. S. C. and Sup., 1461 et seq., & Supps.). Each such association is required to be a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and have its accounts insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. III). In the discharge of its statutory responsibility and authority with respect to these associations, there have been issued, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II).

§ 200.2 Central organization—(a) Governor. Examination and supervision of all Federal savings and loan associations is under the direction of the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System and is administered by him through a staff of employees in Washington and the agents of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration in the field. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II).

(b) Deputy Governor. A Deputy Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System may also exercise certain of the powers, duties and functions with respect to savings and loan associations vested in or exercised by the Governor. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II, 11 F. R. 9476 et seq.)

(c) Assistant Governors. The Assistant Governors of the Federal Home Loan Bank System cooperate with and assist the Governor in directing the examination and supervision of Federal savings and loan associations. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II.)

(d) Chief Supervisor. Under direction of the Governor, the Chief Supervisor of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration is responsible for appropriate supervision over all member institutions, including Federal savings and loan associations. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II.)

(e) Chief Examiner. Under direction of the Governor, the Chief Examiner of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration is responsible for the examination and audit of Federal savings and loan associations. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II.)

(f) General Counsel. The General Counsel of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration is responsible for the legal matters for the Federal Savings and Loan System. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II, 11 F. R. 9476 et seq.)

§ 200.3 Field Organization—(a) Federal Home Loan Bank Presidents as supervisory agents. The President of each Federal Home Loan Bank, or, when designated by the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, such officers or employees other than, or in addition to, the President, serve as agent of, and represent, the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation in the supervision of Federal savings and loan associations within the Bank's district. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II, 11 F. R. 9476 et seq.)

(b) Federal Home Loan Bank officers and employees as agents. The officers of each Federal Home Loan Bank, and any of its employees, when designated by the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, serve as agents of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and the Home Owners' Loan Corporation in receiving, processing and making recommendations upon applications for Federal Savings and Loan Charters, conversions of State-chartered institutions to Federal savings and loan associations, insurance of Federal savings and loan association accounts by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation and investments in such associations by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation. (24 CFR and Supps., Chs. I and II, 11 F. R. 9476, et seq.)

(c) District examiners. Under direction of the Chief Examiner in Washington, a District Examiner, in charge of a staff of field examiners and office personnel, is stationed in each Federal Home Loan Bank District and is responsible for the examination and audit of Federal savings and loan associations within his district. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.)

§ 200.4 Delegation of final authority. Delegations of final authority or responsibility affecting the Administration of the Federal Savings and Loan System, other than as set forth in the rules and regulations (24 CFR, and Supps., Chs. I and II), are described in 11 F. R. 9476, et seq., except as follows:

(a) The Secretary to the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration holds power of attorney authorizing him to make formal requests upon all Federal savings and loan associations whose shares are held by the Secretary of the Treasury for repurchase of such shares pursuant to the provisions of section 5 of the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended (12 U. S. C. 1461 et seq.).

(b) The Governor or the Chief Supervisor, pursuant to written delegation of authority from the Governor, may approve, substitute or alternate accounting forms for particular Federal savings and loan associations. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II).

(c) The Governor, a Deputy Governor, an Assistant Governor or the Chief Supervisor may reaffirm in writing or otherwise the approval of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration of the proposal by the board of directors of any Federal association operating under Charter K to adopt any of the standard amendments to Charter K set forth and approved in § 202.9 (d) of this chapter. (24 CFR, and Supps., Ch. II, 9 F. R. 436, 11 F. R. 9476, et seq.).

§ 200.5 Public information, submittals and requests. All requests for information, interpretation, decision or other action relating to a Federal savings and loan association, and all submittals in connection therewith should be made to the President of the Federal Home Loan Bank in the area. Location of the Federal Home Loan Banks, together with the territory served by each, is set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. I. With respect to matters pertaining to the Federal Savings and Loan System as a whole, the public should deal directly with the Governor of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, 101 Indiana Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURES

§ 200.20 Formal procedures. All formalized procedures relating to the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration's responsibilities with respect to Federal savings and loan associations are governed by the provisions of the Home Owner's Loan Act of 1933, as amended (12 U. S. C. 1461 et seq.) and the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.)

(a) Organization, incorporation and conversion. Procedures with respect to the organization and incorporation of Federal savings and loan associations and the conversion of an existing State-chartered institution into a Federal savings and loan association are set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.

(b) Operation. Formal procedural reqirements relating to the operation of Federal savings and loan associations are set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.

(c) Merger, reorganization and dissolution. Procedures established with respect to the merger, reorganization or dissolution of Federal savings and loan associations are set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.

(d) Hearings. The procedures adopted and followed by the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration with respect to the holding of hearings in matters affecting Federal savings and loan associations are set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.

(e) Conservator or receiver. Procedures with respect to the appointment and powers of a conservator or receiver for Federal savings and loan associations and the conduct of such conservatorships and receiverships are set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.

(f) Changes in regulations. Procedures relating to the promulgation, amendment and repeal of the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System are set forth in 24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.

§ 200.21 Informal procedures. The officers of each of the Federal Home Loan Banks, acting as agents of the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II.), encourage informal discussions or conferences with the directors or officers of Federal savings and loan associations or other members of the public interested therein concerning matters pertaining to such associations. Officials of the Federal Savings and Loan System in Washington likewise are available for such informal conferences or discussions. Fixed procedures or requirements are not established with respect to such informal discussions or conferences.

§ 200.22 Forms. Statement of the nature and content of forms required to be used in connection with the organization, incorporation, conversion, operation, merger, reorganization and dissolution of Federal savings and loans associations appear under appropriate captions in the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II). All such forms with instructions for their execution are obtainable through the district Federal Home Loan Banks. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II).

SUBPART C—SUBSTANTIVE RULES, POLICY AND INTERPRETATION

§ 200.50 Published rules and regulations. Pursuant to authority contained in Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, as amended (12 U. S. C. and Supps., 1461 et seq.), the Federal Home Loan Bank Administration has issued and published Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II).

§ 200.51 Statements of general policy or interpretation. Determinations of general policy and interpretations formulated for the guidance of the public are embodied in the Rules and Regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System. (24 CFR and Supps., Ch. II, 11 F. R. 9476, et sec.).

NATIONAL MEDIATION BOARD

[29 CFR, Ch. XI]

PART 1201—ORGANIZATION

Sec.
1201.1 Composition of Board.
1201.2 Headquarters.
1201.3 Assignment of functions.
1201.4 Administration and information.
1201.5 Report of activities.

§ 1201.1 Composition of Board. The National Mediation Board is an independent agency in the Executive branch of the Federal government created under the Railway Labor Act of May 20, 1926, as amended June 21, 1934. It is composed of three members appointed by the President, by and with the consent of the Senate, not more than two of whom shall be members of the same political party. The terms of office of the members are for three years, one term expiring on February 1st of each year. The Board annually designates a member to act as Chairman, such designation being made as of July 1st of each year. Each member of the Board has the power to administer oaths and affirmations. The Board does not possess the power of subpena.

§ 1201.2 Headquarters. The National Mediation Board maintains its principal office in the Federal Works Agency Building, 18th and F Streets, N. W., Washington, D. C. It has no branch or field offices. However, the Board may meet at any other place whenever it deems it necessary to do so.

§ 1201.3 Assignment of functions. Under the Railway Labor Act as amended the Board is authorized to assign or refer any portion of its work, business, or functions to an individual member or to an employee or employees of the Board. When so assigned, such individual member of the Board or employee designated shall have power and authority to act as to any of the Board's work, business or functions so assigned or referred to him for action by the Board. Under this authority the Board has assigned certain of its powers and authority with respect to mediation and the investigation of representation disputes to its mediators, who operate almost exclusively in the field, under the Board's direction.

PART 1202—DEFINITIONS

Sec.
1202.1 Carrier.
1202.2 Exceptions.
1202.3 Determination as to electric lines.
1202.4 Employee.
1202.5 Exceptions.
1202.6 Representatives.

§ 1202.1 Carrier. The term "carrier" includes any express company, sleeping car company, carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, and any company which is directly or indirectly owned or controlled by or under common control with any carrier by railroad and which operates any equipment or facilities or performs any service (other than trucking service) in connection with the transportation, receipt, delivery, elevation, transfer in transit, refrigeration or icing, storage, and handling of property transported by railroad, and any receiver, trustee, or other individual or body, judicial or otherwise, when in the possession of the business of any such "carrier."

§ 1202.2 Exceptions. The term "carrier" shall not include any street, interurban, or suburban electric railway, unless such railway is operating as a part of a general steam-railroad system of transportation, but shall not exclude any part of the general steam-railroad system of transportation now or hereafter operated by any other motive power.

The term "carrier" shall not include any company by reason of its being engaged in the mining of coal, the supplying of coal to carrier where delivery is not beyond the tipple, and the operation of equipment or facilities therefor, or any of such activities.

§ 1202.3 Determination as to electric lines. The Interstate Commerce Commission is hereby authorized and directed upon request of the Mediation Board or upon complaint of any party interested to determine after hearing whether any line operated by electric power falls within the terms of this proviso.

§ 1202.4 Employee. The term "employee" as used herein includes every person in the service of a carrier (subject to its continuing authority to supervise and direct the manner of rendition of his service) who performs any work defined as that of an employee or subordinate official in the orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission now in effect, and as the same may be amended or interpreted by orders hereafter entered by the Commission pursuant to the authority which is hereby conferred upon it to enter orders amending or interpreting such existing orders: Provided, however, That no occupational classification made by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission shall be construed to define the crafts according to which railway employees may be organized by their voluntary action, nor shall the jurisdiction or powers of such employee organizations be regarded as in any way limited or defined by the provisions of this Act or by the orders of the Commission.

§ 1202.5 Exceptions. The term "employee" shall not include any individual while such individual is engaged in the physical operations consisting of the mining of coal, the preparation of coal, the handling (other than movement by rail with standard locomotives) of coal not beyond the mine tipple, or the loading of coal at the tipple.

§ 1202.6 Representatives. The term "representative" means any person or persons, labor union, organization, or corporation designated either by a carrier or group of carriers or by its or their employees, to act for it or them

PART 1203—FUNCTIONS

Sec.
1203.1 Mediation.
1203.2 Interpretation of mediation agreements.
1203.3 Representation disputes.
1203.4 Secret ballot.
1203.5 Rules to govern elections.
1203.6 Access to carrier records.
1203.7 Who may participate in elections.
1203.8 Hearings on craft or class.
1203.9 Appointment of arbitrators.
1203.10 Appointment of referees.
1203.11 Emergency boards.
1203.12 National Air Transport Adjustment Board.
1203.13 Air carriers.
1203.14 Labor members of Adjustment Board.

§ 1203.1 Mediation. The mediation services of the Board may be invoked by the parties, or either party, to a dispute between an employee or group of employees and a carrier concerning changes in rates of pay, rules, or working conditions not adjusted by the parties in conference; also, concerning a dispute not referable to the National Railroad Adjustment Board or appropriate airline adjustment board, when not adjusted in conference between the parties, or where conferences are refused. The National Mediation Board may proffer its services in case any labor emergency is found by it to exist at any time.

§ 1203.2 Interpretation of mediation agreements. Under section 5, Second, of Title I of the Railway Labor Act, in any case in which a controversy arises over the meaning or application of any agreement reached through mediation, either party to said agreement, or both, may apply to the National Mediation Board for an interpretation of the meaning or application of such agreement. Upon receipt of such request, the Board shall, after a hearing of both sides, give its interpretation within thirty days.

§ 1203.3 Representation disputes. If any dispute shall arise among a carrier's employees as to who are the representatives of such employees designated and authorized in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act, it is the duty of the Board, upon request of either party to the dispute, to investigate such dispute and certify to both parties, in writing, the name or names of individuals or organizations that have been designated and authorized to represent the employees involved in the dispute, and to certify the same to the carrier.

§ 1203.5 Rules to govern elections. In the conduct of a representation election, the Board shall designate who may participate in the election, which may include a public hearing on craft or class, and establish the rules to govern the election, or may appoint a committee of three neutral persons who after hearing shall within ten days designate the employees who may participate in the election.

§ 1203.6 Access to carrier records. Under the Railway Labor Act the Board has access to and has power to make copies of the books and records of the carriers to obtain and utilize such information as may be necessary to fulfill its duties with respect to representative of carrier employees.

§ 1203.8 Hearings on craft or class. In the event the contesting parties or organizations are unable to agree on the employees eligible to participate in the selection of representatives, and either party makes application by letter for a formal hearing before the Board to determine the dispute, the Board may in its discretion hold a public hearing, at which all parties interested may present their contentions and argument, and at which the carrier concerned is usually invited to present factual information. At the conclusion of such hearings the Board customarily invites all interested parties to submit briefs supporting their views, and after considering the evidence and briefs, the Board makes a determination or finding, specifying the craft or class of employees eligible to participate in the designation of representatives.

§ 1203.9 Appointment of arbitrators. Section 5, third (a) of the Railway Labor Act provides in the event mediation of a dispute is unsuccessful, the Board endeavors to induce the parties to submit their controversy to arbitration. If the parties so agree, and the arbitrators named by the parties are unable to agree upon the neutral arbitrator or arbitrators, as provided in Section 7 of the Railway Labor Act, it becomes the duty of the Board to name such neutral arbitrators and fix the compensation for such service. In performing this duty, the Board is required to appoint only those whom it deems wholly disinterested in the controversy, and to be impartial and without bias as between the parties thereto.

§ 1203.11 Emergency boards. Under the terms of section 10 of the Railway Labor Act, if a dispute between a carrier and its employees is not adjusted through mediation or the other procedures prescribed by the Act, and should, in the judgment of the National Mediation Board, threaten to interrupt interstate commerce to a degree such as to deprive any section of the country of essential transportation service, the Board shall notify the President, who may thereupon, in his discretion, create an emergency board to investigate and report to him respecting such dispute. An emergency board may be composed of such number of persons as the President designates, and persons so designated shall not be pecuniarily or otherwise interested in any organization of employees or any carrier. The compensation of emergency board members is fixed by the President. An emergency board is created separately in each instance, and is required to investigate the facts as to the dispute and report thereon to the President within thirty days from the date of its creation.

§ 1203.12 National Air Transport Adjustment Board. Under section 205, Title II, of the Railway Labor Act, when in the judgment of the National Mediation Board it becomes necessary to establish a permanent national board of adjustment for the air carriers subject to the act to provide for the prompt and orderly settlement of disputes between the employees and the carriers growing out of grievances, or out of the application or interpretation of working agreements, the Board is empowered by its order made, published, and served, to direct the air carriers and labor organizations, national in scope, to select and designate four representatives to constitute a Board known as the National Air Transport Adjustment Board. Two members each shall be selected by the air carriers and the labor organizations of their employees. Up to the present time, it has not been considered necessary to establish the National Air Transport Adjustment Board.

§ 1203.13 Air carriers. By the terms of Title II of the Railway Labor Act, which was approved April 10, 1936, all of Title I, except section 3, which relates to the National Railroad Adjustment Board, was extended to cover every common carrier by air engaged in interstate or foreign commerce, and every carrier by air transporting mail for or under contract with the United States Government, and to all employees or subordinate officials of such air carriers.

§ 1203.14 Labor members of Adjustment Board. Section 3, First, (f) of Title I of the Railway Labor Act relating to the settlement of disputes among labor organizations as to the qualification of any such organization to participate in the selection of labor members of the Adjustment Board, places certain duties upon the National Mediation Board. This section of act is quoted below:

(f) In the event a dispute arises as to the right of any national labor organization to participate as per paragraph (c) of this section in the selection and designation of the labor members of the Adjustment Board, the Secretary of Labor shall investigate the claim of such labor organization to participate, and if such claim in the judgment of the Secretary of Labor has merit, the Secretary shall notify the Mediation Board accordingly, and within ten days after receipt of such advice the Mediation Board shall request those national labor organizations duly qualified as per paragraph (c) of this section to participate in the selection and designation of the labor members of the Adjustment Board to select a representative. Such representatives, together with a representative likewise designated by the claimant, and a third or neutral party designated by the Mediation Board, constituting a board of three, shall within thirty days after the appointment of the neutral member investigate the claims of the labor organization desiring participation and decide whether or not it was organized in accordance with section 2, hereof, and is otherwise properly qualified to participate in the selection of the labor members of the Adjustment Board, and the findings of such boards of three shall be final and binding.

PART 1204—APPLICATIONS FOR SERVICE

Sec.
1204.1 Mediation services.
1204.2 Investigation of representation disputes.
1204.3 Interpretation of mediation agreements.

§ 1204.1 Mediation services. Applications for the mediation services of the National Mediation Board under section 5, First, of the Railway Labor Act, may be made on printed forms N. M. B. 2, copies of which may be secured from the Board's Secretary. Such applications and all correspondence connected therewith should be submitted in duplicate. The application should show the exact nature of the dispute, the number of employees involved, name of the carrier and name of the labor organization, date of agreement between the parties, if any, date and copy of notice served by the invoking party to the other, and date of final conference between the parties. Application should be signed by the highest officer of the carrier who has been designated to handle disputes under the Railway Labor Act, or by the chief executive of the labor organization, whichever party files the application. These applications, after preliminary investigation in the Board's office, are given docket numbers in series "A" and the cases are assigned for mediation to Board members or to mediators on the Board's staff.

§ 1204.2 Investigation of representation disputes. Applications for the services of the National Mediation Board under section 2, Ninth, of the Railway Labor Act to investigate representation disputes among carriers employees may be made on printed forms N. M. B. 3 copies of which may be secured from the Board's Secretary. Such applications and all correspondence connected therewith should be filed in duplicate and the applications should be accompanied by signed authorization cards from at least a majority of the employees composing the craft or class involved in the dispute. The applications should show specifically the name or description of the craft or class of employees involved, the name of the invoking organization, the name of the organization currently representing the employees, if any, the estimated number of employees in each craft or class involved, and the number of signed authorizations submitted from employees in each craft or class. The applications should be signed by the chief executive of the invoking organization, or other authorized officer of the organization. These disputes are given docket numbers in series "R".

§ 1204.3 Interpretation of mediation agreements. Applications may be filed with the Board's Secretary under section 5, Second, of the Railway Labor Act, for the interpretation of agreements reached in mediation under section 5, First. Such applications may be made by letter from either party to the mediation agreement stating the specific question on which an interpretation is desired.

This function of the National Mediation Board is not intended to conflict with the provisions of section 3 of the Railway Labor Act, providing for interpretation of agreements by the National Railroad Adjustment Board. Many complete working agreements are revised with the aid of the Board's mediating services, and it has been the Board's policy that disputes involving the interpretation or application of such agreements should be handled by the Adjustment Board. Under this section of the law, the Board when called upon may only consider and render an interpretation on the specific terms of an agreement actually signed in mediation, and not for matters incident or corollary thereto.

PART 1205—LABOR CONTRACTS

Sec.
1205.1 Making and maintaining contracts.
1205.2 Arbitrary changing of contracts.
1205.3 Filing of contracts.

§ 1205.1 Making and maintaining contracts. It is the duty of all carriers, their officers, agents, and employees to exert every reasonable effort to make and maintain contracts covering rates of pay, rules, and working conditions.

§ 1205.2 Arbitrary changing of contracts. No carrier, its officers, or agents shall change the rates of pay, rules, or working conditions of its employees, as a class as embodied in agreements except in the manner prescribed in such agreements or in section 6 of the Railway Labor Act.

§ 1205.3 Filing of contracts. Section 5, Third, (e) of the Railway Labor Act requires all carriers to file with the National Mediation Board copies of all contracts in effect with organizations representing their employees, covering rates of pay, rules, and working conditions. Several thousand of such contracts are on file in the Board's Washington office and are available for inspection by interested parties.

PART 1206—NOTICES IN RE RAILWAY LABOR ACT

Sec.
1206.1 Handling of disputes.
1206.2 Employees' Bill of Rights.
1206.3 General Order No. 1.
1206.4 Substantive rules.

§ 1206.1 Handling of disputes. Section 2, Eighth, provides that every carrier shall notify its employees by printed notices in such form and posted at such times and places as shall be specified by order of the Mediation Board and requires that all disputes between a carrier and its employees will be handled in accordance with the requirements of the Act. In such notices there must be printed verbatim, in large type, the third, fourth, and fifth paragraphs of this section.

§ 1206.2 Employees' Bill of Rights. The provisions of the third, fourth, and fifth paragraphs of section 2 are by law made a part of the contract of employment between the carrier and each employee and shall be binding upon the parties regardless of any other express or implied agreements between them. Under these provisions the employees are guaranteed the right to organize without interference of management, the right to determine who shall represent them, and the right to bargain collectively through such representatives. This section makes it unlawful for any carrier to require any person seeking employment to sign any contract promising to join or not to join a labor organization. Violation of the foregoing provisions is a misdemeanor under the law and subjects the offender to punishment.

§ 1206.3 General Order No. 1. General Order No. 1, issued August 14, 1934, is the only order the Board has issued since its creation in 1934. This order sent to the President of each carrier coming under the act transmitted a sample copy of the Mediation Board's Form MB–1 known as "Notice in re Railway Labor Act." The order prescribes that such notices are to be standard as to contents, dimensions of sheet, and size of type and that they shall be posted promptly and maintained continuously in readable condition on all the usual and customary bulletin boards giving information to employees and at such other places as may be necessary to make them accessible to all employees. Such notices must not be hidden by other papers or otherwise obscured from view.

§ 1206.4 Substantive rules. The National Mediation Board is not a rule-making agency, as that term is customarily used, and it makes no substantive rules to implement the operation of the Railway Labor Act.

PART 1207—AVAILABILITY OF BOARD'S RECORDS

Sec.
1207.1 Orders, certifications, and findings.
1207.2 Case files.

§ 1207.1 Orders, certifications, and findings. Copies of General Order No. 1, all certifications made in representation cases, and all determinations or findings on the subject of craft or class including labor contracts filed by the carriers are available in the Board's Washington office for public inspection. The certifications and findings have not been published in book form.

§ 1207.2 Case files. The Board's case files, containing correspondence, and the reports made by its members and mediators, as well as signed authorization cards and ballots cast by employees in representation elections, are considered as confidential records of the National Mediation Board.

PART 1851—ORGANIZATION

Sec.
1851.1 Price Decontrol Board.
1851.2 Offices of the Board.
1851.3 Location of offices.
1851.4 Functions of Office of Secretary.
1851.5 Functions of Office of General Counsel.
1851.6 Functions of Office of Economic Advisor.
1851.7 Functions of Office of Public Information.
1851.8 Delegation of final authority.

§ 1851.1 Price Decontrol Board. The Price Decontrol Board was established by section 3 of the Price Control Extension Act of 1946 as an independent agency in the executive branch of the government. The Board is composed of three members appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. Two members constitute a quorum and a vacancy in the membership of the Board shall not impair the power of the remaining members to exercise the Board's functions.

§ 1851.2 Offices of the Board. The offices of the Board consist of an Office of the Secretary, of the General Counsel, of the Economic Advisor, and an Office of Public Information.

§ 1851.3 Location of offices. The offices of the Board are located in the Federal Reserve Building between 20th and 21st Streets on Constitution Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C. The offices of the Board shall be open for business from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., EST., Monday through Friday, except holidays.

§ 1851.4 Functions of Office of Secretary. The Secretary for the Board shall be in charge of the Office of the Secretary. The Secretary shall receive petitions, motions, and other papers filed with the Board, and shall have custody of the original of all such papers and documents, and shall maintain in connection therewith the official dockets and files of the Board. The Secretary shall make service of documents and papers as provided in the rules of procedure of the Board. The Secretary shall authenticate orders and official actions of the board and shall certify the signature of Board members. The Secretary shall be in charge of the general administration of the offices of the Board. The Board may appoint an Assistant Secretary who shall be authorized to sign the name of the Secretary to any official act required by the Board to be performed by the Secretary.

§ 1851.5 Functions of Office of General Counsel. The General Counsel shall be in charge of the Office of the General Counsel. The General Counsel shall interpret the directives, orders, rules, and regulations of the board and shall advise persons appearing before the board with respect to their rights under the Rules and Regulations of the Board. The General Counsel shall supply the Board with legal advice.

§ 1851.6 Functions of Office of Economic Advisor. The Economic Advisor shall be in charge of the Office of Economic Advisor. The Economic Advisor shall collect and analyze economic data for use of the Board and shall supply the Board with economic advice.

§ 1851.7 Functions of Office of Public Information. The Director of Information shall be in charge of the Public Information Office. The Director of Information shall maintain, available for public inspection, such files and records of the Board as are required by the Rules of the Board to be made public. The Director of Information shall keep the press informed on the Board's activities.

§ 1851.8 Delegation of final authority. The Board has made no delegations of final authority.

Issued and effective this 6th day of September 1946.

§ 1852.0 Scope of rules. These rules of procedure govern the presentation, consideration and disposition of Industry Advisory Committee petitions made to the Price Decontrol Board pursuant to sections 1A (g) (3) and 1A (h) (3) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, hereinafter called the act.

CONTENTS OF PETITION

NOTE: The petition shall contain in separately numbered paragraphs each of the items of information specified in §§ 1852.1 through 1852.5. In the event that any of the information called for is not contained in the petition, the petition shall contain an explanation of the reasons for not including the information.

§ 1852.1 Identification. Each petition shall contain (a) the name and address of one person to receive notices and correspondence on behalf of the Industry Advisory Committee, hereinafter called the petitioner, in respect to the petition; and (b) a description of each commodity involved in such a way that the commodity can be identified and distinguished from other commodities with absolute certainty.

§ 1852.2 Jurisdiction of Board. (a) Each petition shall identify the order of the Price Administrator or Secretary of Agriculture, as the case may be, hereinafter called the respondent, for which the petition requests review. The petition shall state the date of issue of such order. However, if the petition arises out of failure of the respondent to act within the time prescribed by section 1A (g) (2) of the act, the petition shall describe such failure specifying the dates upon which the petitioner relies to establish such failure.

(b) The petition must show that it is filed in accordance with a majority vote of the petitioner held subsequent to the action of the respondent for which the petition requests review and in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation 13, issued by the Office of Price Administration. However, if the petition is filed on account of failure to act, the petition need show only that the decontrol petition on which the respondent has failed to act was filed with respondent in accordance with a duly adopted resolution of the petitioner and in accordance with the provisions of the act.

(c) The petition shall state that no order of the Board with respect to any commodity involved in the petition has been issued within a period of three months immediately preceding the date of filing the petition.

§ 1852.3 Statement of facts. The petition shall describe or otherwise identify all affidavits and other written evidence introduced into the proceedings before the respondent upon which the petitioner at the time of filing the petition intends to rely. The petition shall not contain or describe any affidavits or other written evidence which had not been presented to the respondent in the proceedings before the respondent. However, the petition may include an application to introduce additional evidence in accordance with § 1852.19, below.

§ 1852.4 Statement of argument. The petition shall contain the petitioner's argument or brief in support of the petition.

§ 1852.5 Statement of relief requested. The petition shall set forth the relief requested and shall specify the maximum prices sought to be removed and the regulation or regulations which prescribe such maximum prices.

TIME FOR FILING PETITION

§ 1852.6 Time for filing. A petition must be filed within thirty (30) days after the issue date of the order for which the petitioner seeks review or, in the case of a petition arising out of a failure to act, within thirty (30) days after the expiration of the time prescribed for action by section 1A (g) (2) of the act, and by the rules thereunder of the Office of Price Administration or the Department of Agriculture, as the case may be. For the computation of the 30-day period under this rule, time shall commence to run at midnight at the close of the day of issue of the order or the day of expiration of the time prescribed and shall cease to run at midnight at the close of the thirtieth day thereafter, except that if the thirtieth day is a Saturday, Sunday or a national holiday the time shall run to midnight at the close of the next business day.

FORM OF PETITION

NOTE: The petition, briefs and other original papers filed with the Price Decontrol Board shall conform to §§ 1852.7 through 1852.10, below, as to form and number of copies. Any deviation from the requirements of these rules must be approved by the Secretary of the Board, hereinafter called the Secretary, in advance of filing.

§ 1852.7 Caption. The caption shall contain the following: (a) the name of the Board, (b) the name of the petitioner, (c) the name of the respondent, (d) the docket number, and (e) the designation of the commodity involved. The arrangement of this caption shall be:

Price Decontrol Board
Docket No. 001
Widget Industry Committee
v.
Paul Porter, Price Administrator
Atomic Widgets

§ 1852.8 Signature. Each paper shall be signed by a representative of the petitioner, respondent, or intervenor, as the case may be, whose appearance in connection with the petition is recorded as provided in § 1852.13.

§ 1852.9 Legibility. Papers shall be legible and shall be printed, typewritten, or prepared by means of a conventional duplicating process such as mimeographing, multilithing, or photostating.

§ 1852.10 Number of copies. An original and nine (9) conformed copies of all papers shall be filed. Three (3) of the copies shall be for service upon the parties in the proceeding.

FILING, APPEARANCES, SERVICE

§ 1852.11 Place of filing and recording. Petitions, papers and other documents shall be filed, and appearances recorded, at the office of the Secretary, Room 1212 Federal Reserve Building, 20th Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C.

§ 1852.12 Docket number. Upon the filing of a petition, the Secretary shall enter the matter upon the docket in his office and shall assign a docket number to it. The docket number shall be specified in the caption of the petition and on all papers or other documents subsequently filed in the matter.

§ 1852.13 Appearances. The representative of the petitioner shall enter his appearance at the time that the petition is filed and such appearance shall be recorded by the Secretary. The representative of the respondent or any intervenor shall enter his appearance at or before the time he files his first paper in the proceeding. The appearance of either party or an intervenor may be entered by mail.

§ 1852.14 Service. Service of all papers shall be made by the Secretary. Service shall be made only upon the petitioner and respondent. The Secretary shall record in his docket the date of service of each paper upon the parties.

CONDUCT OF PROCEEDINGS

§ 1852.15 Notice of hearing. Promptly following the filing of a petition, the Secretary shall serve upon the petitioner and the respondent, and shall announce to the public a notice of hearing. The notice of hearing shall name the petitioner and respondent and the commodity involved, and shall specify the date, time and place for oral hearing on the petition, and the dates for filing with the Board (1) respondent's transcript, (2) any motion to dismiss, (3) any objection to the admittance of evidence or application to introduce additional evidence, and (4) briefs.

The Secretary, having due regard for the scope of the petition and the sessions of the Board, shall schedule these dates to conform as nearly as practicable to the following time allowances:

(a) The oral hearing shall be held approximately fifteen (15) days after the filing of the petition.

(b) The respondent's transcript or a motion to dismiss shall be filed not later than five (5) days following the service of the petition upon the respondent.

(c) The respondent's and intervenor's briefs, any objection to the admittance of evidence, and any application to introduce additional evidence shall be filed not later than three (3) days in advance of the oral hearing.

(d) Rebuttal briefs shall be filed not later than two (2) days after the oral hearing.

§ 1852.16 Respondent's transcript. The respondent shall certify and file with the Board ten (10) copies of a transcript of such portions of the proceedings before him as are material to the Board's decision and shall include in such transcript all affidavits and other written evidence described in the petition in accordance with § 1852.3. Such transcript shall include the statement of the respondent's reasons for the action he has taken or his failure to act, as the case may be, and a statement of any economic data or other facts of which he has taken official notice in connection with such action.

§ 1852.17 Notion to dismiss. The respondent may file, in lieu of the transcript, a motion to dismiss the petition in whole or in part on the ground that the Board lacks jurisdiction over the matter involved. In the event such a motion is filed, the Secretary shall arrange at once for oral or written argument on the motion. An order denying such a motion shall specify the time for filing the respondent's transcript and may extend, if necessary, the dates in the notice of hearing. A failure to file a motion to dismiss shall not be deemed a waiver of the right to object to the Board's jurisdiction.

§ 1852.18 Objection to admittance of evidence. Either the respondent or the petitioner may file an objection to the admittance of evidence on the ground that such evidence was not introduced into the proceedings before the respondent. In the event such an objection is filed, the Secretary shall arrange for oral or written argument on the objection in advance of or concurrently with the hearing on the petition.

§ 1852.19 Application to introduce additional evidence. Either the respondent or the petitioner may file an application to introduce additional evidence. Such application shall contain: (a) an offer of proof with respect to the evidence sought to be introduced, setting forth the character and form of such evidence and a summary of what such evidence would show if admitted; (b) a statement showing that such evidence could not reasonably have been offered to the respondent or included in the proceedings before the respondent; (c) a statement showing that such evidence is necessary to a proper disposition of the case. In the event such an application is made the Secretary shall arrange an opportunity for all parties to present written or oral objections thereto either in advance of or concurrently with the hearing on the petition. If the application is granted in whole or in part, the order disposing of the application shall prescribe the manner, form and time of submitting the evidence and any objections thereto or rebuttal evidence.

§ 1852.20 Briefs and rebuttal briefs. Briefs containing written argument may be filed by the respondent, any minority member or members of the petitioner who by recorded vote opposed filing the petition with the Board, the Labor and Consumers Advisory Committees and any Industry Advisory Committee of the Office of Price Administration, and any United States Federal or State Government agency. Rebuttal briefs may be filed by the petitioner and any person who has filed a brief or presented oral argument in the proceeding.

§ 1852.21 Oral argument. The Board, or a hearing commissioner appointed by the Board, shall conduct an oral hearing upon the petition. The petitioner and respondent, and in the discretion of the Board, any intervenor who has filed a brief in the proceeding, shall be given an opportunity to present their views orally. Requests to present views orally at the hearing shall be filed with the Secretary in advance of, or concurrently with, the filing of a written brief, and shall designate the person who will make the oral presentation. The Secretary shall schedule the time of appearances and, in advance of the hearing, shall notify each person of the time allowed him. The petitioner shall be entitled to open and conclude the oral argument.

§ 1852.22 Hearing commissioners. If the number of petitions filed with the Board should at any time become so great as to prevent the Board from promptly disposing of them, it may, by order in connection with any petition, designate one or more hearing commissioners, or it may designate a member of the Board as a hearing commissioner. The hearing commissioner shall conduct the proceedings in accordance with the Board's rules and, as soon as practicable after the completion of such proceedings, shall submit a report and recommendation to the Board. If the Board, after reviewing the record, approves such recommendation, it will issue an order in conformity therewith; otherwise, it will issue such orders as it deems appropriate upon the record and may conduct a new hearing upon the petition before the Board.

§ 1852.23 Consolidation of petitions. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two (2) or more petitions, the Board may consolidate such petitions.

ACTION OF BOARD

§ 1852.24 Final orders. At the earliest practicable time after the hearing on a petition, the Board shall issue an order either denying the petition, or granting it in whole or in part. An order granting the petition shall specify the maximum prices to be removed. Such an order shall not be subject to modification or review by any other department or agency of the Government or by any court.

§ 1852.25 Interlocutory orders. The Chairman of the Board, or, in his absence from the District of Columbia, any other member of the Board, may make all necessary orders of a procedural nature relating to any petition or procedure pending in the Board preparatory to a hearing or decision thereof.

MISCELLANEOUS RULES

§ 1852.26 Representative of Industry Advisory Committee. Any person may be authorized by vote of an industry advisory committee to represent the committee in respect to a petition filed with the Board. Moreover, the person authorized by the petitioner to represent it in respect to its decontrol petition before the respondent will be deemed to be authorized to represent the petitioner in respect to its petition filed with the Board, unless the petitioner has authorized a different person to represent it in respect to the petition before the Board.

§ 1852.27 Extension of time. When by these rules or by order of the Board, or by notification of the Secretary, an act is required to be done within a specified time, the Board or a member of the Board, upon a motion filed before the expiration of the specified time, may for good cause shown order an extension of time.

§ 1852.28 Board employees not to practice before Board. No employee of the Price Decontrol Board shall, after separating from that position, practice as an attorney or representative in connection with any matter pending in the Board during his term of service, or permit his name to appear on a brief filed in connection with any such matter.

§ 1852.29 Availability of record to public. A copy of any petition, and of any brief, transcript, or other paper filed with the Board in the proceedings on a petition, and of any transcript of oral hearing or other portion of the record on any petition before the Board, shall be available for inspection by the public in the Information Office of the Board—except such portions of the transcript or other papers as were granted confidential treatment by the respondent during proceedings before him.

Issued and effective this 6th day of September 1946.

ROY L. THOMPSON,
Chairman.
GEORGE H. MEAD.
DANIEL F. BELL.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURE

670.50 Determination of policy and procedure.

SUBPART A—ORGANIZATION

§ 670.1 Powers vested in the President. The Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 invested power in the President to induct men for training and service in the Armed Forces. The act enumerated men who were liable for such training and service, men who were not required to register or who having registered are exempt from training and service, and provided for the deferment of men whose employment in industry or agriculture is found necessary to national health, safety, or interest under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the President. Section 5 (g) of the act deals with persons who by reason of religious training and belief are conscientiously opposed to war in any form, also those persons who are conscientiously opposed to war but who will participate in noncombatant service. Provision was made for the assignment of persons found to be conscientiously opposed to participation in such noncombatant service, to work of national importance under civilian direction.

§ 670.2 Local boards; one or more in each county. One or more local boards were provided for each county, consisting of three or more members to be appointed by the President upon recommendation of the Governor or comparable executive official. The local boards have power within their respective jurisdictions to hear and determine, subject to right of appeal to Boards of Appeal, all claims in respect to inclusion for or exemption from, or deferment from training and service.

§ 670.3 Establishment of system, authority for appointment of director, officers, etc. The President was authorized to create and establish a Selective Service System and more specifically to appoint a Director of Selective Service who shall be directly responsible to him, and to appoint and fix the compensation of such other officers, agents and employees as he may deem necessary to carry out the provisions of the act.

§ 670.4 Delegation and re-delegation of authority. The President was authorized to delegate and provide for the delegation of any authority vested in him to such officers, agents or persons as he may designate or appoint for such purpose, or as may be appointed pursuant to such rules and regulations as he may establish.

§ 670.5 Appointment of director, delegation of authority to him. In accordance with the power vested in the President, he appointed a Director of Selective Service and delegated all necessary power to him, such as prescribing amendments to the regulations, issuing public notices, orders and instructions, obligating funds appropriated for the administration of the law, appointing officers, employees and assistants whose salary was less than $5,000 per annum, and delegating any of his functions and powers.

§ 670.6 Organizational elements of the Selective Service System. The Selective Service System, as broadly outlined in the law, consists of the following elements:

(a) National Headquarters.
(b) State Headquarters.
(c) Local Boards.
(d) Boards of Appeal.

§ 670.7 National Headquarters; delegation of authority in. National Headquarters is composed of a staff who work under the general supervision of the Director, the Deputy Director, the Assistant Deputy Director, and an Assistant Director. Since all of the work of the National Headquarters is carried on in the name of the Director, broad delegation of authority to members of the staff has not been made.

(a) The Deputy Director is authorized to act for the Director in his absence and may also obligate funds at any time.

(b) The Assistant Director is authorized to take action in respect to the assignment of conscientious objectors to camps, their transfer from one camp to another, and their discharge.

(c) Authority in respect to internal administration matters such as the approval of travel orders, the obligation of funds for printing and binding, the accountability for property, has been delegated to other members of the staff.

§ 670.8 Function of National Headquarters. The function of National Headquarters is primarily to develop plans and procedures under which the men required by the Armed Forces may be secured by induction under the general provisions of the act. Another function is to develop a program and to assist veterans in asserting their rights to reinstatement, as provided in the Selective Training and Service Act. It prepares and issues regulations and instructions to local boards, the latter being known as Local Board Memoranda. It also carries on correspondence with State Directors touching upon all phases of the operations.

§ 670.9 Divisional organization of National Headquarters. The staff of National Headquarters is arranged in organizational units known as Groups, Divisions, and Sections. A group consists of two or more divisions, each division being concerned with certain specified functions. The Chief of a group supervises and coordinates the activities of the divisions within his group, while the Chief of the division develops plans and programs relating to the activities of his particular division. Sections are the smaller units of which a division is composed. The groups and divisions are as follows:

(a) Fiscal and Personnel Group:

1. Headquarters Division.
2. Finance and Supply Division.
3. Appointments and Personnel Division.

(b) Mobilization and Demobilization Group:

1. Manpower Division.
2. Field Division.
3. Veterans Personnel.

(c) Records and Statistics Group:

1. Communications and Records Division.
2. Research and Statistics Division.

§ 670.10 Divisional functions of National Headquarters. (a) Fiscal and Personnel Group. The three divisions in this Group have functions as follows:

(1) The Headquarters Division arranges for the appointment, training, and assignment of civilian personnel at National Headquarters and maintains necessary facilities for rendering administrative services, such as mail, telephone, stenographic pool and transportation, and also maintains liaison with the public buildings administration.

(2) The Finance and Supply Division handles all fiscal and accounting matters for National Headquarters, and exercises supervision of State Procurement Officers through the State Directors.

(3) The Appointments and Personnel Division maintains records and controls for compensated and uncompensated personnel throughout the System (except at National Headquarters) and maintains liaison with the Civil Service Commission.

(b) Mobilization and Demobilization Group. The three divisions in this Group have functions as follows:

(1) The Manpower Division plans programs for the registration, classification, selection for, or deferment from military service, and delivery for induction of persons liable for training and service in the Armed Forces; apportions quotas and calls to the States and Territories; and interprets policies and renders assistance to the several State Headquarters with respect thereto.

(2) The Field Division maintains liaison with State Directors and assists in the application of policies announced by National Headquarters; advises the Director and various divisions in regard to problems as they relate to field operations and personnel.

(3) The Veterans Personnel Division develops plans and programs for rendering aid in obtaining employment or reinstatement for persons discharged from military service, and maintains liaison with other agencies of the Government having employment functions.

(c) Records and Statistics Group. The two divisions in this Group have functions as follows:

(1) The Communications and Records Division arranges for the publication and distribution of printed matter of all descriptions required in the operation of the System; maintains official files for National Headquarters; studies the use, and evaluates all records of the Selective Service System and provides the Director with recommendations relating to their disposition. Upon request provides information to the general public.

(2) The Research and Statistics Division maintains a record reporting system for the purpose of providing manpower and reemployment statistics; gathers and compiles data and prepares reports of the Director, and conducts special research incident to the operations of the System.

(d) Camp operations. Camp operations, under an Assistant Director, locates, equips, and maintains civilian public service camps established for conscientious objectors engaged in work of national importance, and maintains liaison with appropriate Federal, State, and other agencies in connection with specific projects; reviews cases of conscientious objectors, recommending action to the Director; and reviews cases of religious organizations and theological schools in connection with their placement on a list of recognized organizations.

§ 670.11 Statutory provisions affecting organization—(a) Disbursing and accounting. The Chief of Finance, United States Army, is designated by section 10 (d) of the act, to act as the fiscal, disbursing, and accounting agent of the Director of Selective Service in carrying out the provisions of the act.

(b) Veterans reemployment. Section 8 (g) of the act provided for the establishment of a Personnel Division by the Director of Selective Service, with adequate facilities for rendering aid to persons who hace completed any period of active duty; in securing reemployment in their former positions, or in securing new positions; reinstatement in a position (other than temporary) being a right conferred upon persons who leave such a position in order to perform training and service, and who satisfactorily complete such training and service and apply for reinstatement within the specified time after release.

§ 670.12 State headquarters. The Governor of each State is responsible for the administration of the Selective Service Law within his State, and, by regulation, the office by means of which this function is performed is designated as "State Headquarters for Selective Service." Each State Governor may recommend for appointment, by the President, a State Director for Selective Service, a State Procurement Officer, and one or more State Medical Officers.

One or more officers of the land or naval forces may be assigned to each State Headquarters to act as occupational advisers and to furnish information with respect to occupational deferment and labor supply.

One or more representatives of labor, industry, and agriculture, where applicable, shall be appointed by the Governor in each appeal board area, as established by the State Director, to assist the occupational advisor in securing information with respect to occupational deferments.

Additional officers of the land and naval forces have also been assigned to assist the State Director in carrying out his functions in respect to the administration of the Selective Service Law.

§ 670.13 Local Boards. The Local Boards are the chief point of contact with the public, and except for appeal procedure, which is provided for by the regulations, their decisions are final. Persons residing in the United States who come within the provisions of the Selective and Training Act of 1940, as amended, are subject to the jurisdiction of the local board for the area in which they reside. Information as to the location of a local board office for a particular area may be obtained from the respective State Headquarters. State Headquarters are located in the capital of each state, with the exception of:

State:	City.
Delaware	Wilmington.
Florida	St. Augustine.
Kentucky	Louisville.
Louisiana	New Orleans.
Maryland	Baltimore.
South Dakota	Rapid City.
Washington	Fort Lewis.

For purposes of Selective Service administration, the District of Columbia is regarded as a State, and has an office equivalent to a State Headquarters. New York City is also a separate jurisdiction. The territories have offices as follows:

Alaska	Juneau.
Hawaii	Honolulu.
Puerto Rico	San Juan.
Virgin Islands	St. Thomas.

Persons residing outside the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico are covered, so far as registration is concerned, by Part 618 of the Selective Service Regulations.

§ 670.14 Boards of Appeal. One or more Boards of Appeal were required to be established in each State. The Board of Appeal consisted, normally, of five members appointed by the President upon the recommendation of the Governor. The Boards consisted of one member from labor, a lawyer, a physician, a member from industry and, where applicable, a member from agriculture. The functions of the Board of Appeal were to review cases appealed to it, and affirm or change a decision of the Local Board.

§ 670.15 Advisory Boards. While not provided for in the law, certain Advisory Boards were established to assist the State Directors of the registrants. Medical Advisory Boards, consisting of medical specialists of various kinds, were appointed in each State. The Medical Advisory Boards examined registrants who had been rejected for, or separated from, military service or work of national importance, and submitted a report concerning their physical or mental fitness to the State Director. Advisory Boards for registrants were provided in each State by appointment by the Governor of three lawyers or other reputable persons. The registrants' advisory boards were charged with the duty of giving advice and assistance to registrants in the preparation of questionnaires, claims, or other papers serving as the basis for the classification.

SUBPART B—PROCEDURE

§ 670.50 Determination of policy and procedure. Matters of policy and procedure pertaining to all functions of the Selective Service System emanate from the Director of Selective Service. Their determination and development are in accordance with the following general pattern. For example: If a definite change takes place in the requirements of the armed forces for men which cannot readily be met under existing regulations, the Director of Selective Service would immediately determine that a new regulation is required. It then becomes the task for members of his staff to prepare a regulation which will make it possible to meet the new or changed requirements. This task is accomplished by the staff members normally concerned with the subject matter involved, in cooperation with the staff of the General Counsel. Several rewritings of the proposed change in the regulations may be required before it is finally acceptable from the standpoint of accomplishing the desired result, being satisfactory from an operating standpoint and at the same time answer all legal requirements. Upon approval of the new or revised regulation by the Director of Selective Service, it is forwarded to the Federal Register for filing and publication and at the same time disseminated to State Directors, local boards, and other elements of the system concerned with its application.

The same general procedure is followed if it is determined that due to changing conditions it is necessary to place special emphasis upon the procurement of men or perhaps the deferment of men in certain occupations under a regulation which is already in existence. In such a case the directive providing the special emphasis is prepared by the staff, examined and concurred in by the General Counsel and upon approval by the Director of Selective Service is distributed to the various elements of the system as a "Local Board Memorandum."

LEWIS B. HERSHEY, Director.

SUBPART A—CENTRAL OFFICE

§ 01.1 Organization of the Veterans Administration. (a) The Veterans Administration is under the charge of the Administrator of Veterans Affairs, who is responsible for the administration of all laws governing the Veterans Administration.

(b) In the Office of Administrator of Veterans Affairs will be an Executive Assistant Administrator who will be responsible to and assist the Administrator, and who will act for the Administrator on all matters not requiring personal action by him.

(c) The Veterans Administration organization consists of the following Offices and Board, the heads of which are directly responsible to the Administrator of Veterans Affairs for the proper performance of all the functions assigned to them:

Office of Director of Coordination and Planning.
Office of Director of Public Relations.
Office of Director of Insular and Foreign Relations.
Office of Solicitor.
Board of Veterans Appeals under a chairman.
Office of Assistant Administrator For Claims.
Office of Chief Medical Director.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Insurance.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Vocational Rehabilitation and Education.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Personnel.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Construction, Supplies, and Real Estate.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Contact and Administrative Services.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Finance.
Office of Director of Special Services.
Office of Assistant Administrator for Legislation.

(d) The functions and jurisdiction of the above Offices and Board are set forth in §§ 01.2 to 01.16 covering the activities under the charge of the respective officials and in addition, these officials perform such other matters as are assigned to them by the Administrator.

(e) Branch Offices of Central Office are established under the charge of Deputy Administrators who are directly responsible to the Administrator for the proper conduct of the Offices. Their functions and jurisdiction are set forth in §§ 01.30 to 01.42.

(f) The Hospitals, Homes, and Regional Offices, with their Sub-regional Offices, are under the charge of Managers who presently are responsible to the Deputy Administrators for the proper conduct of field stations. The Sub-regional Offices are under the jurisdiction of the Managers of Regional Offices in whose regional territory they are located. The functions and jurisdiction of Hospitals, Homes, and Regional Offices are set forth in current charts of organization and are governed by regulations and procedure and other Veterans Administration issues.

§ 01.2 Organization of Office of Director of Coordination and Planning—(a) The Director of Coordination and Planning. The Director of Coordination and Planning will have jurisdiction over and be responsible for the property conduct of the activities set forth herein to the Administrator. These activities are:

(1) Compilation, analysis and evaluation of data relative to the efficiency of the operations of all elements of the Veterans Administration;

(2) Recommendations as to changes in policy, organization, procedure and methods in situations requiring corrective action;

(3) Formulation of current operating and long range program plans, based on current and future objectives and assumptions and converting such objectives into operating plans;

(4) Establishment of programs for the examination, review, simplification and standardization of all administrative practices and procedures to insure a maximum of economy and efficiency throughout the entire Administration;

(5) Administration of work simplification and work measurement programs to improve and compare performance of all elements of the Veterans Administration;

(6) Formulation of policies and procedures relative to, and the preparation of, budget estimates, justifications, etc., for submission of the budget and hearings thereon with the Bureau of the Budget and the Appropriations Committees of Congress; and

(7) Operation of an employees' suggestion program throughout all Veterans Administration offices and hospitals;

(8) Operation of a statistical and research program designed to gather, analyze and evaluate data which can be measured quantitively, to evaluate the efficiency of the existing operations in all elements of the Veterans Administration;

(9) Development and operation of a system of recurring reports designed to keep the Administrator and the various organization elements advised of the progress of existing operations as a basis for improved management and service;

(10) Review and analysis of the organization structure to insure proper functional relationship within all organization elements of the Veterans Administration, and where appropriate, initiation of action to institute organizational changes and improvements;

(11) Improvement of all Veterans Administration forms and publications and the establishment of standards for their essentiality, design, specification, reproduction and distribution;

(12) Compilation of historical data and the annual report to Congress;

(13) Continuous research with new management practices and the initiation of programs and dissemination of information to improve the over-all management within the Veterans Administration;

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 11 NUMBER 178

Washington, Thursday, September 12, 1946

The President

PROCLAMATION 2702

ENLARGING THE DESCHUTES NATIONAL FOREST—OREGON

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS all lands in public ownership within the area hereinafter described are within six miles of the exterior boundaries of the Deschutes National Forest and have been found by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Interior to be chiefly valuable for national-forest purposes; and

WHEREAS it appears that the addition of such public lands to the said forest would be in the public interest; and

WHEREAS the addition of such lands to the said forest makes it desirable for administrative purposes to extend the exterior boundaries of the forest to include within such boundaries the private lands, as well as the public lands, within the said hereinafter-described area:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, under and by virtue of the power vested in me by the act of February 2, 1922, c. 46, 42 Stat. 362, as amended by the act of May 24, 1935, c. 140, 49 Stat. 288, do proclaim (1) that the exterior boundaries of the Deschutes National Forest, in Oregon, are hereby extended to include all lands within the following-described area, and (2) that all lands in public ownership within such area are hereby added to and reserved as a part of the said forest, subject to any valid existing claims in such lands:

TITLE 22—FOREIGN RELATIONS

Chapter I—Department of State

PART 44—STUDY AND RESEARCH IN THE DEPARTMENT

SEPTEMBER 5, 1946.

Under the authority contained in R. S. 161 (5 U. S. C. 22), and pursuant to 27 Stat. 395 (20 U. S. C. 91), Part 44 in toto of Title 22 of the Code of Federal Regulations is hereby superseded by the following regulation:

Sec.
44.1 Use of records by officials of the United States Government.
44.2 Use of records by persons who are not officials of the United States Government.
44.3 Liberal interpretation of regulation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 44.1 to 44.3, inclusive, issued under R. S. 161 (5 U. S. C. 22); 27 Stat. 395 (20 U. S. C. 91).

§ 44.1 Use of records by officials of the United States Government. The use of the records of the Department by Government officials will be subject to such conditions as the chiefs of the appropriate policy divisions in the Department of State may deem it advisable to prescribe.

§ 44.2 Use of records by persons who are not officials of the United States Government. (a) The confidential or unpublished files and records of the Department prior to December 31, 1932 (with the exception of the Department's records concerning the Paris Peace Conference of 1919 and related subjects), or such subsequent date as may be fixed by the Department, may be made available for consultation to persons who are not officials of the United States Government, subject to the following conditions:

(1) Files which are in current use in the Department or which cannot be made public without the disclosure of confidences reposed in the Department or without adversely affecting the public interest will not be made available to inquirers.

(2) Papers received by the Department from a foreign government which have not been released for publication by that government will not be made available to inquirers without the consent of the government concerned. If there is reason to believe that a foreign government may be willing to permit the use of the papers in question under certain conditions, the permission may, at the discretion of the appropriate officials of the Department, be requested. If such permission is requested, the expenses of communicating with the foreign government (cost of telegrams, postage, et cetera) will be met by the person desiring to consult the papers.

(3) Permission to consult the records of the Department through the date fixed by the Department may be granted, subject to the limitations set forth in this regulation, to such persons as lawyers, publicists, historians, instructors, and professors in accredited colleges and universities and holders of the doctor's degree (or its equivalent) in foreign relations or allied subjects from such colleges and universities: Provided, That:

(i) The applicants are authorities of recognized standing in the field to which the records relate and that they have an important and definite use for the information desired.

(ii) Requests for permission to consult material are definitely limited in scope and are confined to specific subjects or particular papers. Owing to a lack of personnel, the Department is not in a position to assemble large quantities of papers or extensive files for consultation by persons not officials of the Government.

(4) An application from an alien to consult the records of the Department under this regulation will be considered only if such application is accompanied by a letter from the head of the embassy or legation in Washington of the country of which the alien is a citizen, subject, or national. Such letter will show that the applicant is favorably known to the appropriate embassy or legation and that the mission is familiar with the purpose of the applicant's work.

(5) All applications to consult the original records of the Department of dates prior to the one fixed by the Department will be referred to the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication. If the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication is of the opinion that the applicant possesses the requisite qualifications as set forth in the regulations in this part, the applications will be handled as follows:

(i) Documents or papers previously released or published and unpublished papers clearly involving no question of policy, intelligence, or security may be made available to qualified applicants by the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication without reference to other officials.

(ii) Material or information bearing a security classification originating with another Government agency will not be made available for inspection unless specific approval is obtained from the agency of origin.

(iii) For requests for all other material, information, or documents, the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication will have assembled all of the relevant papers and files which the applicant desires to consult and will have them submitted to the chief of the policy division charged with the consideration of questions in the field which is the object of the research or inquiry.

(iv) If the chief of the policy division concerned determines that the applicant will be permitted to use all or part of the papers desired, he will inform the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication of the conditions under which the papers may be examined—that is, whether copies may be made of the relevant documents or whether only notes may be taken; whether the copies or notes may be published in whole or in part or used only for background information; or any other conditions which the chief of the policy division may deem it advisable to prescribe. This decision will be final except in cases of unusual importance where the question may be referred to an Assistant Secretary of State or higher officer.

(v) Upon receiving the decision of the chief of the policy division setting forth the conditions deemed advisable and necessary to prescribe, the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication will arrange for the applicant to consult the files, subject to the conditions mentioned.

(vi) After the applicant has consulted the papers, he will submit to the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication all notes, copies of documents, and the like which he has made. The Chief of the Division of Research and Publication will refer these notes, copies, and the like, except those based on the documents or papers referred to in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, to the chief of the policy division for examination if the chief of the policy division so desires.

(vii) The chief of the policy division may, after such examination, return the papers to the Chief of the Division of Research and Publication for transmittal to the applicant, or he may, at his discretion, retain the notes and refuse the applicant permission to use them.

(b) In order that the records of the Department may be made available as liberally as circumstances permit, the Department, each year, will give consideration to the situation then existing with a view to advancing the date fixed whenever such action is deemed possible.

§ 44.3 Liberal interpretation of regulations. The provisions of the regulations in this part are to be interpreted as liberally as possible. In this regard it is to be borne in mind that the further it is possible to go in the way of promoting legitimate historical research and the study of the foreign policy of the United States without violating the confidences necessary for the transaction of diplomatic affairs, the more likely the Department will be to receive the support and trust of the intelligent public.

This regulation shall become effective immediately upon registration in the Division of the Federal Register.

Acting Secretary of State.

(a) "The act" means the Immigration Act, approved May 26, 1924, as amended.

(b) "Alien" means an individual who is not a native-born or naturalized citizen of the United States, but this definition shall not be held to include citizens of the islands under the jurisdiction of the United States.

(c) "Immigrant" means an alien who is not classifiable within any of the nonimmigrant categories mentioned in section 3 of the act.

(d) "Nonimmigrant" means an alien who is classifiable within one or more of the categories mentioned in section 3 of the act.

(e) "Seaman" or "airman" means any alien whose occupation or calling as such is bona fide, and who is employed in any capacity on board any vessel or aircraft arriving in the United States from any place outside of the United States.

(f) "Passport" means a document of identity and nationality issued by the appropriate authorities of a recognized foreign government to which the bearer owes allegiance, identifying the bearer and stating his nationality or, in the case of an alien unable to obtain such a document, a travel document in the nature of a passport issued by a duly authorized official and showing the bearer's identity and nationality.

(g) "Crew-list visa" means the stamp and notations placed by a consular officer on a list of seamen or airmen who are members of the crew of a vessel or aircraft proceeding to the United States.

(h) "Consular officer" means an officer of the Foreign Service of the United States (except a consular agent), authorized to act in a consular capacity at a diplomatic or consular office, the Executive Secretary of the Panama Canal or a shipping commissioner in the Canal Zone, the Governors of Guam and American Samoa, or such officers subordinate to them as they may authorize to issue crew-list visas.

(i) "Nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card" means a card issued to an alien, who is a native-born or naturalized citizen of Canada domiciled or residing therein, or a British subject domiciled or residing in Canada, showing that the bearer has been found to be entitled to apply for admission into the United States as a nonimmigrant.

(j) "Resident alien's border-crossing identification card" means a card issued to an alien, who is a lawful permanent resident of the United States, showing that the bearer has been found to be entitled to apply for admission into the United States as an immigrant.

(k) "An alien who is a lawful permanent resident of the United States" means an alien who has been lawfully admitted into the continental United States, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, or Hawaii for permanent residence therein, and who has since such admission maintained his domicile in the United States: Provided, That this term shall not include Philippine citizens residing in Hawaii, who are not citizens of the United States, who entered Hawaii without an immigration visa, unless such Philippine citizens are declared to be nonquota immigrants under section 4 of the act, other than subdivisions (c) and (e) thereof.

(l) "Government vessel" or "government aircraft" means a vessel or aircraft owned and operated, or merely operated, directly by the Government of the United States in the public business with government personnel and not operated on a commercial or profit basis, or a foreign flag vessel or foreign aircraft owned and operated, or merely operated, directly by a recognized foreign government in its public business and by official personnel, and not operated for what would ordinarily be regarded as commercial purposes or for profit. This definition does not include vessels or aircraft which are merely government-controlled or subsidized.

(m) "United States" means the States, the territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands.

(n) "Continental United States" means the territory of the several States, the District of Columbia, and Alaska.

§ 65.52 Passports and visas required. Before a seaman or an airman may be admitted into the United States for any purpose he must present a valid passport that is unexpired at the time of his admission and that bears his photograph, and a visa appropriate to his case, unless exempted from these requirements by these regulations.

Exemptions from these requirements stated herein are under two headings: exemptions, immigrant (resident) seamen or airmen; and exemptions, nonimmigrant (non-resident) seamen or airmen.

§ 65.53 Exemptions, immigrant (resident) seamen or airmen—(a) Passport and visa not required. An alien seaman or airman who is a lawful permanent resident of the United States is not required to present a passport or a visa if arriving in the United States under the following circumstances:

(1) As a seaman or airman who is the holder of a resident alien's border-crossing identification card, and who is employed on vessels of United States, British, or Canadian registry, engaged solely in traffic on the Great Lakes and connecting waterways, or on aircraft traveling solely between the United States and Canada. (See § 61.202 (d) of this chapter.)

(2) As a passenger who is a shipwrecked or castaway seaman or airman rescued by, or transferred at sea to, a vessel or aircraft bound to a port in the United States.

(3) As a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft who is in possession of a valid reentry permit.

(b) Passport not required. An alien seaman or airman who is a lawful permanent resident of the United States whose case does not fall within paragraph (a) of this section is not required to present a passport if arriving in the United States under the following circumstances:

(1) As a seaman or airman who has lost his passport, who is unable to obtain a replacement thereof, who is arriving as a member of the crew of a United States vessel or aircraft, or a United States-owned Panamanian flag vessel, and who presents evidence, when required, of having been examined for security by the United States Coast Guard: Provided, That this waiver of the passport requirement shall be valid only for a single entry of such seaman or airman, unless such waiver is extended by the Secretary of State.

(2) As a seaman or airman in whose case an individual waiver of the passport requirement has been granted by the Secretary of State, except that for a seaman or airman arriving at a port in the Virgin Islands, the Governor thereof may grant such waiver, and for a seaman or airman arriving at a port of the Canal Zone, the Governor thereof may grant such waiver: Provided, That such waivers may be granted only in cases of hardship in which the public security is not jeopardized.

(c) Visa not required. An alien seaman or airman who is a lawful permanent resident of the United States whose case does not fall within paragraph (a) of this section is not required to present a visa if arriving in the United States on a vessel or aircraft under the following circumstances:

(1) As a seaman or airman whose name is included in the visaed crew list of the vessel or aircraft upon which he arrives.

(2) As a passenger who was a member of the crew of a United States vessel or aircraft which has been sold and delivered abroad when the contract of employment provides for the return of the crew or the laws of the United States provide for their return to a port in the United States.

(3) As a passenger who is returning to the United States in accordance with the terms of the articles of the vessel or aircraft on which he formerly served.

(4) As an alien (American) seaman who is a consular passenger, or is repatriated after and in accordance with the terms of his discharge in a foreign port before a consular officer, but who, for any reason, cannot be considered as serving as a seaman on the vessel on which he arrives at a port in the United States. (See § 61.203 (a), (b), and (c) of this chapter.)

§ 65.54 Exemptions, nonimmigrant (nonresident) seamen or airmen—(a) Passports and visas not required. An alien nonresident seaman or airman is not required to present a passport or a visa if arriving in the United States under the following circumstances:

(1) As an airman employed on an aircraft proceeding from one place to another in foreign contiguous territory and landing temporarily in the United States under emergency conditions. (See § 61.107 (u) of this chapter.)

(2) As a seaman or airman who is the holder of a nonresident alien's border-crossing identification card, and who is employed on vessels of United States, British, or Canadian registry, engaged solely in traffic on the Great Lakes and connecting waterways, or on aircraft traveling solely between the United States and Canada. (See § 61.109 (b) of this chapter.)

(b) Passports not required. A nonresident seaman or airman whose case does not fall within paragraph (a) of this section is not required to present a passport if arriving in the United States under the following circumstances:

(1) As a seaman or airman who has lost his passport, who is unable to obtain a replacement thereof, who is arriving in the United States as a member of the crew of a United States vessel or aircraft or a United States-owned Panamanian flag vessel, and who presents evidence, when required, of having been examined for security by the United States Coast Guard: Provided, That this waiver of the passport requirement shall be valid only for a single entry of such seaman or airman after the loss of his passport, unless such waiver is extended by the Secretary of State.

(2) As a seaman or airman in whose case an individual waiver of the passport requirement has been granted by the Secretary of State, except that for a seaman or airman arriving at a port in the Virgin Islands, the Governor thereof may grant such waiver, and for a seaman or airman arriving at a port of the Canal Zone, the Governor thereof may grant such waiver: Provided, That such waivers may be granted only in cases of hardship in which the public security is not jeopardized.

(c) Visas not required. A nonresident seaman or airman whose occupational status as such is found to be bona fide, entering a port of the United States solely in pursuit of his calling, but as a passenger on a vessel or aircraft and not as a member of the crew of the vessel or aircraft on which he arrives, may be admitted temporarily as a nonimmigrant in the discretion of the Attorney General and under regulations prescribed by him. Such an alien must present a passport but not a visa, if he is arriving in the United States under the following circumstances:

(1) As a seaman or airman who was a member of the crew of an American vessel or aircraft, which has been sold and delivered abroad, when the contract of employment provides for the return of the crew or the laws of the United States provide for their return to an American port.

(2) As a seaman or airman who is returning to the United States in accordance with the terms of the articles of the outward voyage.

(3) As a shipwrecked or castaway seaman or airman rescued by, or transferred at sea to, a vessel or aircraft bound to a port in the United States. (In this case a passport will not be required for the first entry if the alien has lost his passport): Provided, That such a seaman or airman must agree to reship foreign or depart from the United States at the first available opportunity.

(4) As an alien (American) seaman who is a consular passenger, or is repatriated after, and in accordance with the terms of, his discharge in a foreign port before a consular officer, but who, for any reason, cannot be considered as serving as a seaman on the vessel on which he arrives at a port in the United States.

(5) As a shipwrecked or castaway seaman or airman, who was taken aboard a vessel or aircraft in a foreign port or place where no American consular officer was stationed, and who was brought to the United States as a passenger without touching at any port or place where such an officer was stationed: Provided, That such a seaman or airman must agree to reship foreign or depart from the United States at the first available opportunity.

(6) As a nonresident Canadian national, occupationally a seaman or airman, who is being sent forward to join a vessel or aircraft in a port of the United States, provided he presents a valid seamen's or airmen's identification certificate issued by an appropriate Canadian Government agency.

§ 65.55 Crew-list visa required. (a) Except as otherwise provided in the regulations in this part, there shall be submitted to an American consular officer for visa a list of all the alien members of the crew of each vessel or aircraft proceeding to the United States from any foreign port or place from which the vessel or aircraft commences its voyage to the United States. No seaman or airman shall hereafter enter the United States as a member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft unless his name appears on a visaed crew list, or unless he is in possession of an appropriate individual visa, except where the vessel or aircraft is exempted from the requirement of submitting a visaed crew list under §§ 65.51 to 65.62, inclusive.

(b) If there is no American consular officer stationed at the port or place from which the vessel or aircraft commences its voyage to the United States, but there is one stationed at a nearby port or place to whom the crew list may be submitted by mail, or by other means, for visa without delaying the departure of the vessel or aircraft, the crew list must be so submitted. If there is no American consular officer stationed nearby, the crew list must be submitted for visa at the first port or place of call where an American consular officer is stationed.

(c) A vessel or aircraft arriving at a port in the continental United States, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, after entering and clearing from a port or place in the Canal Zone for purposes other than transit, refueling, or landing passengers for medical treatment, shall be subject to all the crew-list visa requirements applicable to vessels or aircraft arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place.

(d) Supplemental crew-list visas should be obtained at subsequent ports or places of call to cover any additional seamen or airmen who have been signed on since the original or a prior supplemental crew-list visa was obtained.

(e) If one or more alien members of the crew are signed on after the crew list has been visaed and prior to the departure of the vessel or aircraft, the names of such aliens must be submitted to the consular officer for addition to the copies of the crew list.

§ 65.56 Crew-list visas not required. Crew-list visas are not required for the following classes of cases:

(a) Vessels or aircraft proceeding from a port or place where no American consular officer is stationed and it is not possible for such vessel or aircraft to comply with the conditions of § 65.55 (b).

(b) Government vessels or government aircraft.

(c) Vessels or aircraft operating between a port of the United States and a port of Canada or Newfoundland, and not touching at a port of any other country.

(d) Vessels or aircraft operating on a regular service exclusively between a port in Florida and Habana, Cuba, except that a new crew-list visa must be presented (1) to cover the first trip each month, and (2) at any other time during the month whenever a new crewman is signed on.

(e) A member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft who is in possession of an appropriate individual visa or a reentry permit.

(f) A member of the crew of a vessel or aircraft in whose individual case an emergency waiver of the crew-list visa requirements has been granted by the Secretary of State.

(g) A vessel or aircraft proceeding from one foreign place to another, which is diverted from its course under emergency conditions and enters a port of the United States, provided the crew-list visa requirement is waived by the Secretary of State.

§ 65.57 Refusal of crew-list visa. (a) If a consular officer has definite knowledge that a crew list contains the name of an alien who is not a seaman or airman, or whose admission into the United States would be contrary to the public safety, or who is endeavoring to enter the United States in evasion of the immigration laws, the crew-list visa shall be withheld until the name of such alien has been removed from the crew list of the vessel or aircraft, or until such alien, if admissible into the United States, shall have made application for and received an appropriate individual visa.

(b) If a consular officer has doubt as to the admissibility into the United States of an alien named in a crew list, but the evidence is not sufficient to warrant the refusal of a visa, he should advise the master, commanding officer, or agent of the vessel or aircraft that the admissibility of the seaman or airman into the United States is doubtful. If the name of the alien concerned is not removed from the crew list, the consular officer may grant the visa, telegraphing a report to the Department and including in such report the name of the suspected alien and the facts on which the doubt is based.

(c) When a crew-list visa is refused in any case, a full report should be forwarded by the consular officer to the Department in sufficient time to reach the United States before the arrival of the vessel or aircraft. The original of the crew list may be returend to the master, commanding officer, or agent, but the duplicate should be filed in the consular office.

(d) Unless there is specific evidence that a previously deported alien, or removed alien (that is, an alien previously removed from the United States under the authority and provisions of section 23 of the act of February 5, 1917, as amended), included in a crew list intends to leave the vessel or aircraft in evasion of the law, in a port or place under the jurisdiction of the United States, the crew-list visa should not be refused. However in the cases of seamen, a notation (preferably in red ink) of the fact of the previous deportation or removal should be placed in the remarks column of the crew list after the name of the deportee or removed alien, and in the cases of airmen such notation may be made in an appropriate place on the aircraft crew list. The master, commanding officer, or agent of the vessel or aircraft should be informed that such an alien may not be admitted by the immigration authorities after the vessel or aircraft arrives in the United States.

(e) If the fact of deportation or removal has been discovered after the crew list has been visaed and the crew list does not, therefore, carry an appropriate notation in the remarks column, the Department should be immediately informed by telegraph or airmail.

§ 65.58 Crew-list form. (a) Crew lists or manifests of aliens employed on vessels as members of the crew shall be prepared in duplicate on Department of Justice Form I-480, or such other form as the Department of Justice may prescribe. Masters or agents of vessels will ordinarily have a supply of crew-list forms, which they may purchase in the United States from collectors of customs, but consular offices having a possible demand for such forms will keep a supply on hand from which they may furnish copies in an emergency. Consular officers may obtain copies from the Department upon requisition.

(b) In view of the limited number of persons composing the crews of aircraft, and for other reasons, the crew lists or declarations of aircraft commanders covering the aliens employed on the aircraft shall be prepared on such form as the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may prescribed or approve.

(c) No form of application for a crew-list visa shall be required other than the presentation of the complete crew list and all necessary information with respect thereto.

§ 65.59 Preparation of crew lists. (a) All entries on the crew lists of both vessels and aircraft shall be made in the English language. Bilingual or multilingual entries may be made if one of the languages is English. All entries on both copies shall preferably be printed in ink or typewriten; however, script copies may be accepted by the consular officer. The name of every member of the crew, citizens and nationals of the United States as well as aliens, should be included in the crew list. Citizens and nationals of the United States and alien immigrant seamen or immigrant airmen who are in possession of immigration visas, or reentry permits, or who are admitted under section 13 (b) of the act of 1924, as amended are not considered as being documented as nonimmigrant aliens, even if their names are included in a crew list which has been visaed. (E. O. 9352, Part III, June 15, 1943)

(b) There shall be inserted before the name of each seaman who is an alien, and who was not employed on the vessel on its last preceding trip to the United States the word "first." In addition the initials "PE" (meaning "Previous Experience") should be inserted immediately after the word "first" in the cases of seamen proceeding to the United States on their first trip on a vessel to which they have been transferred from another vessel of the same company. The neglect, failure, or refusal of the owner, agent, consignee, master, or other responsible person to comply with this requirement may constitute a violation of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and such persons should be so informed by consular officers, but a failure to warn them will not relieve them of liability.

(d) In order to facilitate the handling of the crew list of a large vessel, a consular officer is authorized to separate a crew list containing 400 or more names into four separate sections. The separate sections should correspond to the following departments of the crew of the vessel: (1) Deck Department, (2) Engine Department, (3) Catering Department, and (4) Armed Guard. The crew-list visa should be placed on the last page of the last section of the crew list. Each section of the crew list should be closed in such a manner as to prevent any additions to the list after the visa has been granted with the words "I. Deck Department, (or II. Engine Department, III. Catering Department, or IV. Armed Guard), Containing ------ members of crew". The final section of the crew list should further carry the words "Crew list in four parties: Total members ----".

(e) If the name or names of seamen or airmen submitted as signed on after the crew list was visaed are in substitution for other members of the crew, the names of the latter seamen or airmen should be stricken from the list with pen and ink and the initials of the consular officer should be placed on the line opposite the names deleted. If there should not be sufficient time in which to complete an investigation of the seamen or airmen, the consular officer should not delay the vessel or aircraft, but may authorize the addition of such names to the crew list and telegraph the Department regarding any such alien in whose case investigation discloses information indicating a mala fide seaman or airman, or other grounds for exclusion at the port of entry.

(f) If the additional members of the crew are signed on in an emergency under circumstances which make it impossible to submit the names to the consular officer before sailing, the facts should be reported at the first port of call at which an American consular officer is stationed. The latter officer may issue a supplemental crew-list visa covering the members of the crew in question if satisfied regarding their bona fides. He should communicate with the consular officer at the port of shipment, before the visa is granted if time permits, and request information concerning the seamen or airmen in order that the Department may be advised regarding those whose status may be in doubt. The consular officer first discovering the doubtful status of the members of the crew should report the facts to the Department and advise the other officer that he has done so.

§ 65.60 Form of crew-list visa. The passport visa stamp should be affixed, signed, and sealed, and the clauses concerning the period of validity of the visa should be struck out, as a crew-list visa is valid for only one entry. The visa should be shown as granted under section 3 (5) of the Immigration Act of 1924, and the notation "seamen" or "airmen" should be entered on the classification line below. The visa should be placed on the crew list in such a manner as to prevent any addition being made to the list after the visa has been granted. The words "Closed with ---- members of crew" should be written at the end of the crew list and just ahead of the visa.

(a) Numbering, fees, and fee stamps. Crew-list visas need not be numbered. The fee for visaing a crew list is $2.00, as prescribed by Item No. 7 of the Tariff of United States Foreign Service Fees. No fee should be charged for a crew-list visa issued to a United States vessel or aircraft or for supplemental visa issued to any vessel or aircraft. Fee stamps in the prescribed amount will be placed on the visa and canceled.

§ 65.61 Disposition of crew list. After the crew-list visa has been granted or refused, the original copy of the crew list should be returned to the master, commanding officer, or agent of the vessel or aircraft for delivery to the appropriate authorities at the first port or place of arrival in the United States. The crew list on Form I-480 or other prescribed form is for ultimate delivery to the immigration authorities in the United States. The duplicate copy of Form I-480 or other prescribed form should be filed in the consular office and should bear appropriate notations to identify the service, its date, fee, and fee number.

§ 65.62 Effective date. Sections 65.51 to 65.62, inclusive, shall become effective on September 10, 1946.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VIII—Office of Housing Expediter

[Priorities Reg. 5, Amdt. 1]

PART 803—PRIORITIES REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

Section 803.5, Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 5, is amended in the following respects:

1. Subparagraph (c) (1) (vi) is amended to read as follows:

(vi) A person who wishes authorization to make repairs or alterations to dwelling accommodations in order to maintain them in a habitable condition or to return them to a habitable condition, or to provide space for additional persons who are veterans or members of the immediate family of the applicant: Provided, That the estimated cost of the construction to provide such additional space for any such person shall not exceed $1,500. Priorities assistance will be granted under this subparagraph only for emergency plumbing and heating repairs as explained in (a) below or for general repairs as explained in (b) below.

(a) Priorities assistance will be granted for the delivery of plumbing and heating supplies listed in Schedule A to CPA Priorities Regulation 33 to make emergency repairs to a dwelling rendered uninhabitable by the failure of plumbing or heating facilities to function, if it is not possible to make the facilities function without such supplies. A dwelling will be considered uninhabitable only if continued occupancy would constitute a threat to the health or safety of the occupant. The estimated total cost of supplies for which priorities assistance is approved on an application under this subdivision (a) may not exceed $200 (or $500 in the case of such supplies to repair a building designed for occupancy by six or more families).

(b) Priorities assistance will be granted for any repairs necessary to return a dwelling to a habitable condition which has been vacant for at least six months for lack of such repairs, and in such cases the dwellings repaired shall be subject to the same limitations and restrictions as provided for dwellings approved under paragraph (c) (1) (ii) of this section.

2. Subparagraph (c) (2) is amended by inserting the following after the words "NHA Form 14-56" in the first sentence: "(or on NHA Form 14-92 in cases of applications for priorities assistance for emergency plumbing and heating repairs under subparagraph (c) (1) (vi))."

This amendment shall become effective October 1, 1946.

Chapter IX—National Capital Housing Authority

PART 901—ORGANIZATION

Sec.
901.1 Creation and authority.
901.2 General purpose and functions.
901.11 Central offices.
901.12 Office of the Executive Officer.
901.13 Administration Division.
901.14 Operations Division.

§ 901.1 Creation and authority. The National Capital Housing Authority was established by the District of Columbia Alley Dwelling Act approved June 12, 1934 (48 Stat. 930), amended by subsequent acts approved June 25, 1938 (52 Stat. 1186) Title 5, D. C. Code 1940, sec. 103 and the District of Columbia Redevelopment Act of 1945, Public Law, 592, 79th Congress, approved August 2, 1946. The agency of the Government to carry out the provisions of the act was designated in the legislation as "the Authority". It was given the name of "The Alley Dwelling Authority" in Executive Order 6868, of October 9, 1934; this order designated two officers of the Federal Government and one officer of the District of Columbia Government to serve, ex officio, as the Authority. The order also directed the Authority to appoint an executive officer, who would act as secretary, and to prescribe his duties and responsibilities. Changes in the membership of the Authority were authorized by Executive Order 7784-A of January 5, 1938, and Executive Order 8033 of January 11, 1939. The name of the Authority was changed from "The Alley Dwelling Authority" to the "National Capital Housing Authority" by Executive Order 9344, May 21, 1943, 8 F. R. 6805. The Authority consists of the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, the Architect of the Capitol, and the Director of Planning of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission. The members of the Authority elect annually a chairman and a vice-chairman of the Authority.

§ 901.2 General purpose and functions. The general purposes of the Authority are to eliminate communities in the inhabited alleys and sub-standard housing conditions in the District of Columbia and to provide public low-rent housing to prevent a shortage of an adequate supply of decent, safe, adequate and sanitary dwellings for families of low income in the District of Columbia. The Authority serves as the public housing agency for the national capital. The program of the original Alley Dwelling Act was greatly enlarged by the Authority's participation under the United States Housing Act of 1937, 50 Stat. 897, which provides Federal aid on a Nation-wide basis for low-rent housing for persons whose incomes are too low to cause private enterprise to provide such housing. Under the District of Columbia Redevelopment Act of 1945, Public Law 592, 79th Congress, approved August 2, 1946, the Authority is designated as a public redevelopment company to aid in the development of blighted areas in the District of Columbia only in the event private enterprise shall not be reasonably available for such development.

(b) The Authority manages housing built by it and by other agencies for occupancy by low-income families. During the war emergency Congress provided for defense housing under Public Law 781, 76th Congress, 54 Stat. 872, Public Law 671, 76th Congress, 54 Stat. 681, 42 U. S. C. 1501, and Public Law 849, 76th Congress 42 U. S. C. 1521. The Authority has been designated at various times as an agent of the President, of the Federal Works Administrator and of the Federal Public Housing Authority to provide and manage permanent and temporary housing for essential war workers and veterans in the District of Columbia and in Prince Georges County and Montgomery County, Maryland, adjacent to the District of Columbia; any vacancies in the war housing are made available by the Authority to the families of distressed veterans and of men who are absent in military service.

(c) The housing management operations of the Authority include establishment of rent and income schedules, selection of tenants from among qualified applicants, execution of leases and of subsequent rent adjustments, collection and deposit of rents and service charges, maintenance of buildings, grounds and equipment and examinations of tenants to ascertain eligibility for continued occupancy.

§ 901.11 Central offices. The central offices of the National Capital Housing Authority are located at 1737 L Street NW., Washington, D. C. By inquiry at these offices, members of the public may obtain authorized information with respect to forms and procedures affecting members of the public and the locations of the various offices of property managers and other sub-offices of the Authority.

§ 901.12 Office of the Executive Officer. The Executive Officer is the secretary of the Authority, chief of its staff, and principal representative of the Authority in all official contacts, except on such specific occasions when the Authority is required by law or by public policy to take such official actions or make such official contacts as the necessity of a particular occasion may require. The Executive Officer acts in an executive and ministerial capacity for the Authority. The office of the Executive Officer includes the office of the General Counsel and the Budget Office of the Authority.

§ 901.13 Administration Division. The Administrative Officer is chief of the Administration Division, and is principal assistant to the Executive Officer for purposes of general internal administration; and acts for the Executive Officer in the absence of the latter.

§ 901.14 Operations Division. The Deputy in Charge of Operations is chief of the Operations Division, and is principal assistant to the Executive Officer in all phases of project development, property management, and property maintenance.

PART 902—PROCEDURES

§ 902.1 Applications for housing accommodations. Information and office forms required by members of the public who wish to make application for housing accommodations and to become tenants of the Authority, are available at the central offices of the Authority, 1737 L Street NW., Washington, D. C., on Mondays through Fridays, from 8:30 a. m. to 5:15 p. m., except on legal holidays and on other days declared to be nonwork days in the Federal service.

§ 902.2 Property management offices. The Authority maintains property management offices under the direction of the Deputy in Charge of Operations at various locations in or near the various housing properties under the management of the Authority. The list of the properties and property management offices is in the central offices of the Authority, 1737 L Street NW., Washington, D. C. Chapter IX—Civilian Production Administration

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 33, Direction 1A, as Amended September 11, 1946]

SOFTWOOD PLYWOOD

The fulfilment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of softwood plywood for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

(a) What this direction does. This direction provides that the manufacturers of softwood plywood shall produce a percentage of their total production in construction and door panel grades and reserve a percentage of those grades for certified orders from prefabricators, distributors, cabinet manufacturers, door manufacturers, house trailer manufacturers and housing contractors. It provides that the construction and door plywood delivered on certified orders and the product into which it is incorporated, may only be sold in accordance with the applicable regulations under which priorities assistance is granted.

(b) Definitions for the purpose of this direction. (1) "Softwood plywood" means laminated veneers of any species of softwood united with a bonding agent to produce board.

(2) "Construction plywood" means plywood of one or more softwood panels, 12 feet and shorter and without external sealer treatment of the following grades: Interior (moisture resistant) type as follows: ¼" sanded or 5/16" unsanded wallboard; 3/8" sanded or 5/16" unsanded wallboard; ½" sanded or 5/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel; 3/8" sanded or 5/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel; 5/16" sheathing; 3/8" sheathing; ½" sheathing and 5/8" sheathing; and Exterior type ¼" sanded or 5/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel and 3/8" sanded or 5/16" unsanded sound one side plypanel.

(3) "Door plywood" means softwood plywood, Interior (moisture resistant) and Exterior type without external sealer treatment of ¼" sound two sides door plypanel.

(4) "Plywood manufacturer" means a person engaged in the manufacture of softwood plywood.

(5) "Prefabricator" means a person engaged in the manufacture of prefabricated houses, panels or sections who has been granted priorities assistance on Form CPA-4415 or NHA-14-53 to build prefabricated houses, panels or sections.

(6) "Housing contractor" means a builder (applicant) who has been directly assigned an HH rating by CPA, FHA or NHA. It also includes a general contractor who has been directly authorized by such a builder to use the HH rating for the whole job. It does not include a subcontractor authorized to use the HH rating for a part of the job.

(7) "Distributor" means a person who buys and stocks softwood plywood for resale as plywood at wholesale or retail.

(8) "Cabinet manufacturer" means a person who produces kitchen cabinets for built-in installation in housing.

(9) "Door manufacturer" means a person who consumes softwood plywood in the manufacture of standard house doors.

(10) "Square footage" means measurement on a 3/8" rough basis.

(11) "Certified order" means any order for the delivery of softwood plywood bearing the certificate prescribed in paragraph (j).

(12) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust corporation, governmental corporation or agency or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

Plywood Manufacturers

(c) Plywood manufacturers reserve production. The following conditions will govern the amount of construction plywood and door plywood, plywood manufacturers shall produce and reserve for certified orders:

(1) Each softwood plywood manufacturer shall reserve in his total over-all production of softwood plywood in square footage for the month of April, 1946, and for each calendar month thereafter, time and supplies sufficient to produce and deliver within such month: (i) at least 45% of his expected monthly production of softwood plywood in the form of construction plywood of which not more than 20% of the construction plywood may be in exterior type; (ii) at least 5% of his expected monthly production of softwood plywood in the form of door plywood, for delivery on certified orders.

The CPA may from time to time change such percentages by amendments published in the FEDERAL REGISTER prior to the first day of any month.

(2) Every plywood manufacturer must hold 60% of his production of construction plywood in square footage in any month for delivery on certified orders. A plywood manufacturer must accept and ship such certified orders in preference to all other orders (except AAA) to the extent that such orders do not require more than 60% of his production of construction plywood for that month. When a plywood manufacturer has accepted certified orders for construction plywood for this amount, he must not accept additional certified orders for construction plywood produced in that month. Any portion of the plywood manufacturer's reserve which is not required to fill certified orders received in the month it was produced, may be sold only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(3) A plywood manufacturer must reserve 40% of his total production of construction plywood in square footage beginning with the month of April, 1946, and for each calendar month thereafter for delivery only on uncertified and unrated orders from distributors.

(4) A plywood manufacturer must hold his reserve production of door plywood in any month for delivery on certified orders from door manufacturers or distributors. He must accept and ship such certified orders in preference to all other orders (except AAA) to the extent that such certified orders do not require more than the monthly reserve production of door plywood. When a plywood manufacturer has accepted certified orders for door plywood for the amount of his reserve production, he must not accept additional certified orders for door plywood produced in that month. Any portion of the plywood manufacturer's reserve of door plywood which is not required to fill certified orders received in the month in which it was produced, may be sold only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

Prefabricators and House Trailer Manufacturers

(d) The following provisions tell how prefabricators or house trailer manufacturers may place with a plywood manufacturer or distributor certified orders for construction plywood:

(1) A prefabricator or a house trailer manufacturer may place certified orders with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor for construction plywood in the amount for which he has received priorities assistance on Form CPA-4115, NHA-14-53 or on Form NHA-14-44. A prefabricator or house trailer manufacturer must order, accept delivery and use construction plywood in accordance with the provisions of Direction 8 or Direction 13 to Priorities Regulation 33.

(2) A prefabricator or house trailer manufacturer may not apply or extend an HH rating for construction plywood.

Housing Contractors

(e) Housing contractors. The following provisions tell how a housing contractor may place certified orders or HH rated orders with a plywood manufacturer or distributor for contruction plywood.

(1) A housing contractor may apply the HH rating on orders for construction plywood to a distributor, but not to a plywood manufacturer, or a housing contractor purchasing in not less than carload lots, may place certified orders for mill shipment delivery each month starting with the month of April 1946, with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor, in an amount in square footage not in excess of the total construction plywood required to meet his construction schedule for housing for which he has received priorities assistance on Form CPA-4386. A housing contractor may not place HH rated or certified orders for construction plywood except for use in kitchen cabinets and bathroom and kitchen flooring. He may not apply the HH rating or use a certificate for an amount in excess of 300 square feet per house or apartment. If kitchen cabinets are purchased as millwork the total permissible amount of construction plywood must be reduced by the amount of plywood in the cabinets.

(2) A housing contractor must not specify delivery dates (at site or warehouse) on certified orders or HH rated orders, more than 30 days from the time that the construction plywood is needed for incorporation into the housing. Furthermore, the housing contractor must not place certified orders for construction plywood in which is specified a delivery date later than the third calendar month after the time when the purchase order is placed. A housing contractor may place certified orders for construction plywood only to the extent that HH rated orders have not been placed with a distributor.

(3) A housing contractor must use the construction plywood obtained on certified orders or HH rated orders on housing construction for which the HH rating was authorized.

Cabinet Manufacturers

(f) Cabinet manufacturers. The following provisions tell how a cabinet manufacturer may obtain authority to place certified orders with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor for construction plywood for use in drawer bottoms of built-in kitchen cabinets and how the cabinets must be sold:

(1) A cabinet manufacturer wishing to place certified orders with a plywood manufacturer or a distributor for construction plywood to be used in the manufacture of drawer bottoms for kitchen cabinets, shall apply to the CPA for authority to place such orders. A cabinet manufacturer must apply to CPA before May 10, 1946, unless already authorized, for the months of May and June, 1946, and for calendar quarters thereafter must apply at least 20 days before the first day of the quarter, by letter stating: (i) average monthly consumption of construction plywood in drawers for built-in kitchen cabinets in year 1940 (required in first application only); (ii) average anticipated monthly production of kitchen cabinets in units to be produced in the period for which authorization is requested, and (iii) total requirements in 3/8" basis of construction plywood for drawers for built-in kitchen cabinets in item (ii) above. Such application will be processed equitably. A cabinet manufacturer must not specify delivery dates (at plant or warehouse) on certified orders more than 30 days before the time the construction plywood is needed for incorporation into the kitchen cabinet drawers. Furthermore, the cabinet manufacturer must not place certified orders for construction plywood in which is specified a delivery date later than during the third calendar month after the time the purchase order was placed.

(2) Authorizations to cabinet manufacturers will bear a serial number which must be inserted by the cabinet manufacturer in the place provided in the certificate required by paragraph (j) below.

(3) A cabinet manufacturer must use the construction plywood received on certified orders in the production of built-in kitchen cabinets suitable for housing. The cabinets manufactured from the construction plywood must be held for sale as millwork and sold in conformity with paragraph (f) (2) of Direction 1 to PR 33 providing for the sale of millwork.

Door Manufacturers

(g) Door manufacturers. The following provisions tell how door manufacturers may place with plywood manufacturers or distributors certified orders for door plywood for the manufacture of standard house doors and how the doors must be sold.

(1) A door manufacturer may place certified orders for door plywood for delivery in each month beginning with the month of April, 1946, with the plywood manufacturer or a distributor for an amount in square footage not in excess of 10% of the amount in square footage of door plywood consumed by him in the manufacture of standard house doors in the year 1940.

(2) A door manufacturer must use each month, all the door plywood received on certified orders in the manufacture of standard house doors. The doors so manufactured must be held for sale as millwork and sold in conformity with paragraph (f) (2) of Direction 1 to PR 33 providing for the sale of millwork.

Distributors

(h) Distributors. The following provisions tell how distributors may place orders for construction plywood, and how the construction plywood may be sold:

(1) A distributor may place uncertified and unrated orders for delivery each month for construction plywood with a plywood manufacturer. Every distributor must reserve 75% of the construction plywood received in any month for delivery on certified and rated orders. A distributor must accept all certified and rated orders which are received before the end of the month up to the reserve quantities regardless of whether such orders call for delivery within that month. A distributor, however, may not accept for delivery in any month orders rated MM for more construction plywood than 5% of the quantity reserved in that month. In addition, he must not accept certified or rated orders (except AAA) for construction plywood for a quantity in excess of the reserve. Any construction plywood which a distributor is not required to reserve, and any construction plywood in the reserve for which certified and rated orders are not received during the month, may be delivered by a distributor only on uncertified and unrated (except AAA) orders.

(2) A distributor who has received a certified order for construction or door plywood may place the certified order with a plywood manufacturer to get the construction or door plywood which will be delivered direct to consumer subject to the applicable inventory regulations. A distributor may not place a certified order with a producer for replacement of inventory.

(i) Newcomers. (1) A person who in the year 1940 was not established as a cabinet manufacturer or a door manufacturer, and who wants to place monthly certified orders for construction plywood for use in kitchen cabinets or for door plywood for use in standard house doors, may apply to CPA for authorization to place certified orders for a calendar quarter. Authorization will be issued on a quarterly basis and application by letter must be filed at least 30 days before the first day of the calendar quarter for which authorization is asked. The letter should state: (i) location of plant; (ii) amount of equipment and its production capacity to manufacture kitchen cabinets or house doors; (iii) line of kitchen cabinets to be produced; (iv) anticipated monthly production of house doors or kitchen cabinets in which plywood is required; (v) total requirements on a 3/8" basis of plywood for house doors or kitchen cabinets for the next current quarter. Such application will be processed in an equitable manner.

(2) A person receiving authorization to place a certified order under paragraph (i) (1) above, must hold kitchen cabinets or doors manufactured for sale in conformity with the provisions of paragraph (f) (3) and (g) (2) above, respectively.

Certification

(j) General provisions. An order for construction plywood may only be certified by endorsing or attaching one of the following forms of certificate on the purchase order, sales ticket or other order calling for the delivery of construction plywood. Certificates must be signed manually or as explained in PR 7. However, the standard form described in that regulation cannot be used in place of the certificates described in this direction. The certification required by this direction cannot be waived under paragraph (f) of PR 7. The Serial Number must be inserted by all persons permitted to place certified orders except door manufacturers in the place provided in the certificate. An order bearing a certification without a Serial Number where required must be treated as an uncertified and unrated order.

Manufacturers and distributors who place certified orders calling for delivery of construction plywood or door plywood must use the certificate reading substantially as follows:

"The undersigned certifies to the supplier and to the CPA that he is a ------ (prefabricator, house trailer manufacturer, housing contractor, cabinet manufacturer, door manufacturer or distributor) and that the quantities of construction plywood or door plywood covered by this order (together with all other certified orders placed with this or other suppliers for construction plywood or door plywood for delivery in the months specified in this order) do not exceed the amount he has been allowed under Direction 1A of PR 33 with the provisions of which he is familiar.

Miscellaneous

(k) Miscellaneous. The following provisions generally affecting plywood manufacturers, prefabricators, housing contractors, cabinet manufacturers, door manufacturers, house trailer manufacturers and distributors should be carefully read:

(1) Status of certified orders. Certified orders for the purpose of this direction are subject to the rules for acceptance and rejection of rated orders as provided in Priorities Regulation 1 as if they were rated orders. The order of precedence where orders are received by distributors, cabinet manufacturers and door manufacturers is (subject to any provision of this direction limiting the quantity of orders that need be accepted) as follows: (i) AAA; (ii) MM; (iii) CC, HH and certified orders which are of equal value.

(2) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise required by this direction Priorities Regulations 1 and 3 govern the use of ratings and the acceptance, scheduling and filling of orders. All other applicable regulations and orders of the Civilian Production Administration must be observed.

(3) Extension of rated orders. Ratings (except AAA) may not be applied or extended to a plywood manufacturer for construction or door plywood. However, any person who has received a rated order for the delivery of construction or door plywood may extend the rating to his suppliers (except to a plywood manufacturer) to get plywood which he will deliver on that order subject to applicable inventory regulations. If a person has made delivery of construction or door plywood on a rated order, he may extend the rating to his suppliers (except to a plywood manufacturer) to replace the amount in his inventory subject to the applicable inventory regulations. A millwork manufacturer who has received a rated order (except AAA) for millwork or who has delivered millwork on a rating (except AAA), may not extend the rating (except AAA), for construction or door plywood for incorporation into millwork. These rules supersede paragraphs (d) and (d-1) of Priorities Regulation 3 on the extension of ratings.

(4) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provisions of this direction, willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(5) Reports. Every person shall file with the Civilian Production Administration, or any other federal agency, through which the Civilian Production Administration may distribute plywood, such reports and questionnaires as the Civilian Production Administration or such other agency may from time to time require subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(6) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this direction shall be made by mailing a letter in triplicate to the Civilian Production Administration, Forest Products Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Direction A to PR 33 stating the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds for the appeal.

(7) Communications. All communications unless otherwise directed must be addressed as follows: Civilian Production Administration, Forest Products Division, Washington 25, D. C.

(8) Directives. The Civilian Production Administration may issue directives to plywood manufacturers, cabinet manufacturers, door manufacturers or distributors to set aside specific quantities or percentages of production or shipments for persons placing certified or rated orders. CPA may also allocate the production or shipments to specified persons for specified uses and may direct how and in what quantities deliveries to specified persons or uses may be made. It may also direct distribution to particular areas and may direct or prohibit the production by any person of particular items of softwood plywood, cabinets, or doors. Directives according to their terms supersede any preference rating or certification assigned to particular purchase orders or contracts. They may be issued for the satisfaction of Veterans' Emergency Housing Program and essential civilian requirements, including Temporary Re-use Housing under Direction 11 to PR 33, and in order to carry out more fully the purpose of this direction.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PART 1347—PAPER, PAPER PRODUCTS, RAW MATERIALS FOR PAPER AND PAPER PRODUCTS, PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[RMPR 187,[1] Amdt. 12]

CERTAIN PAPERBOARD PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 187 is amended in the following respects:

In Appendix C, paragraph (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) (1) Maximum prices for lining paperboard sheets. (1) Where the manufacturer supplies the lining paper, the manufacturer's price shall not exceed the following:

News lining paper	$1.40 per 100 sheets (25 x 40 basis).
Book lining paper	$1.90 per 100 sheets (25 x 40 basis).
Other lining paper	The maximum price computed pursuant to section 1 (c) or Appendix A plus an amount not to exceed $0.40 per 100 sheets (25 x 40 basis).

(ii) In the case of specialty grades where the customer supplies the lining paper, the maximum price computed pursuant to Section 1 (c) or Appendix A plus an amount not to exceed $0.25 per 100 sheets (25 x 40 basis).

(2) If the manufacturer has been granted an individual adjustment in his maximum price by the Office of Price Administration, he may continue to charge the individually adjusted price, or he may charge the maximum price computed pursuant to paragraph (c) (1) of this Appendix C whichever is the higher, but he shall in no event add the increases provided for in paragraph (c) (1) to his individually adjusted price.

This amendment shall become effective September 16, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PART 1398—OFFICE AND STORE MACHINES

[MPR 596, Amdt. 4]

TRADE-IN ALLOWANCES

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 596 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 16 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 16. Trade-in allowances. A seller of used business machines may not reduce his trade-in allowances below those he had in effect during March 1942 except that in no case need a trade-in allowance be greater than the maximum price for a sale of the article being traded in when sold by the person trading it in to the person accepting the article as a trade-in. A seller not engaged in the sale of used business machines in March 1942 may not make trade-in allowances below those of his closest competitor who was in business at that time.

This amendment shall be effective on the 16th day of September 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[MPR 188, Amdt. 88]

MANUFACTURERS' MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CONSUMER GOODS OTHER THAN APPAREL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1499.168 (b) (1) is amended by changing the item "comforters" to read: "Comforters, down and feather filled", and deleting the following item: "High chair, play yard, basket and nursery seat pads, and other nursery pads, made with new or used filling materials."

2. Section 1499.168 (b) (3) is amended by eliminating the semicolon at the end of the first item and adding the following to that item: "and floor coverings made principally of fiber, grass, hemp or sisal".

3. Section 1499.168 (b) (c) is amended by deleting the following items:

Scythes and snaths.
Sprayers and dusters, hand operated, insecticide.
Lawn mowers, hand operated.
Oilers.

4. Section 1499.168 (b) (5) is amended by deleting the following item: "Air conditioning equipment, portable, under one horse power".

5. Section 1499.168 (b) (9) is amended to read as follows:

(9) The following articles of glassware:

Articles used for the preparation, service, and storage of foods and beverages, but not including bar glassware and soda fountain glassware. (Tumblers with bottoms $\frac{3}{8}$" thick and over are articles of bar glassware; and tumblers marked with a trade name are articles of soda fountain glassware.)
Lamp chimneys.
Lantern globes.
Illuminating glassware.
Glass bottles and containers, including malt beverage glass containers (but not other spirituous glass containers).

6. Section 1499.168 (b) (12) is amended to read as follows: "(12) Table flatware (table ware and cutlery, silver plated, or base metal)."

7. Section 1499.168 (b) (14) is amended by deleting the following items:

Motor scooters.
Baby carriages, strollers, and walkers.

8. Section 1499.168 (b) (15) is amended to read as follows:

(15) The following optical goods:

Finished and semi-finished lenses for optical, ophthalmic, and scientific use.
Frames and mountings for eye glasses, spectacles, and sun glasses.

9. Section 1499.168 (b) (20) is amended by deleting the following items:

Dry batteries.
Fountain pens and mechanical pencils, and sets.
Razors and razor blades.

10. The item "Buckles and parts, fasteners (slide and snap), and parts; hooks and eyes, clasps" in the list in Section 1499.168 (b) (20) is changed to read as follows: "Fasteners, slide, including parts".

This amendment shall become effective on the 11th day of September 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[RMPR 539[1], Amdt. 4]

CUSTOM MILLING AND KILN DRYING OF WESTERN SOFTWOODS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

In section 13 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 539, General Note 1 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) No charge may be made for ripping or resawing any stock thicker than four inches (4") or wider than twelve inches (12") except stock two inches (2") thick and thinner in random width shipments.

Where the stock is green, four and a quarter inch (4¼") stock shall be, for the purposes of this regulation, considered as though it were four inches (4") thick, and a charge for the required custom milling may be made, based on the four inch (4") thickness.

This amendment shall become effective September 16, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter II—United States Maritime Commission

Subchapter B—Regulations Affecting Maritime Carriers

[G. O. 65]

PART 231—TARIFF REGULATIONS; COMMON CARRIERS BY WATER IN INTERSTATE COMMERCE

Section 231.0 is amended to read:

§ 231.0 Statutory provisions. Every common carrier engaged in the transportation by water of passengers or property on the high seas, on regular routes from port to port, between one State, Territory, District, or possession of the United States, and any other Territory, District, or possession of the United States, or between places in the same Territory, District, or possession of the United States, is required by law (section 18 of the Shipping Act, 1916 (39 Stat. 735) the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933 (47 Stat. 1425); section 43 of Public, No. 705, 75th Congress (52 Stat. 964), to establish, observe, and enforce just and reasonable rates, fares, charges, classifications, and tariffs, and just and reasonable regulations and practices relating thereto and to the issuance, form, and substance of tickets, receipts, and bills of lading, the manner and method of presenting, marking, packing, and delivering property for transportation, the carrying of personal, sample, and excess baggage, the facilities for transportation, and all other matters relating to or connected with the receiving, handling, transporting, storing, or delivering of property.

Section 18 of the Shipping Act, 1916, and section 2 of the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, further provide that every such common carrier by water shall file with the United States Maritime Commission and keep open to public inspection, in the form and manner and within the time prescribed by the Commission, the rates, fares, and charges for or in connection with the transportation between points on its own route, and points on the route of any other carrier by water.

The rates, fares and charges concerned shall be published in tariffs conforming to the following regulations in this part and shall be filed with the Commission and posted for public inspection in conformity with said regulations not later than the day on which the transportation to which they relate is begun.

Tariffs lawfully filed with the Commission on or before April 30, 1920, and not cancelled, suspended, or otherwise superseded, will be treated as continued in effect until they can be reissued in accordance with the regulations in this part. Tariffs thereafter filed with the Commission shall conform to the provisions in the sections following.

Part 234 is amended to read:

PART 234—TERMINAL FACILITIES; INTERCOASTAL CARRIERS

Sec.
234.1 Special Permission No. 920 as amended; establishing additional facilities.
234.2 Special Permission No. 1834; changes in rates, charges and provisions of terminal operators.
234.10 Special permissions not waiver of rules.

§ 234.1 Special Permission No. 920, as amended; establishing additional facilities—(a) Three day notice. All common carriers by water in intercoastal commerce, as defined in the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, as amended, and in interstate commerce, subject to the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, or their duly appointed agents, shall publish and file schedules establishing additional terminal facilities for the loading and/or discharging of one or more commodities at the rates concurrently applicable at other facilities in the same port or harbor for account of the carrier for which the additional facility is established, such schedules to be made effective upon not less than three days' filing and posting in the manner required by law.

(b) Notation on schedules. The schedules posted and filed under this section shall bear the notation: "Issued on not less than three days' notice under Special Permission of the United States Maritime Commission No. 920, as amended."

§ 234.2 Special Permission No. 1834, changes in rates, charges and provisions of terminal operators—(a) Ten day notice by carriers. Common carriers by water in interstate (including intercoastal) commerce, or their duly appointed agents, are authorized to publish, file and post schedules establishing changes in rates, charges and provisions of terminal operators, over which such carriers have no control and also changes in provisions for absorption of said terminal rates and charges, such schedules to be made effective upon not less than ten days' filing and posting in the manner prescribed by law, but not earlier than the date the said changes are made effective by said terminal operators.

(b) The schedules posted and filed under this section shall bear the notation: "Issued on ten days' notice, authority of the United States Maritime Commission, Special Permission No. 1834. Said authority does not constitute an approval of the changes therein authorized to be published, same being subject to review, on complaint, in the manner prescribed by law."

§ 234.10 Special permissions not waiver of rules. The special permissions prescribed in this part do not constitute a waiver of the requirements of the Commission's published rules relative to the construction and filing of the tariff schedules, nor a modification of any of the provisions of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended, or the Intercoastal Shipping Act, 1933, as amended, except as to the notice to be given.

PART 235—SCHEDULES OF COMMON CARRIERS BY WATER IN FOREIGN COMMERCE

Section 235.3 Sworn statement is revoked.

(39 Stat. 735; 47 Stat. 1425; 52 Stat. 964)

By order of the United States Maritime Commission.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

PART 56—ISSUANCE OF SECURITIES, ASSUMPTION OF OBLIGATIONS, AND FILING OF CERTIFICATES AND REPORTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 4, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 9th day of August A. D. 1946.

Rules and regulations governing applications under Sections 20a and 214 of the Interstate Commerce Act for authority to issue securities and assume obligation or liability in respect of the securities of others and the filing of certificates of notification and reports relating to such issue and assumption.

The matters of (a) applications under sections 20a and 214 of the interstate commerce act for authority to issue securities or to assume obligation or liability, as lessor, lessee, guarantor, indorser, surety, or otherwise in respect of the securities of any other person, natural or artificial, (b) certificates of notification of securities sold, pledged, repledged, or otherwise disposed of required by paragraph (5) of said section 20a, (c) certificates of notification of the issue of notes maturing not more than two years after the date thereof required by paragraph (9) of said section 20a, and (d) periodical reports required by paragraph (10) of said section 20a of (1) disposition made of securities authorized by the commission, and/or (2) notes maturing not more than two years after the date thereof for which under paragraph (9) of said section 20a authorization is not required, and (3) the application of the proceeds of such securities and/or notes being under consideration:

It is ordered, That the following rules and regulations be, and they are hereby, approved and prescribed, and that on and after September 9, 1946, all carriers and other persons subject to sections 20a and 214 of the Interstate Commerce Act observe and comply with these rules and regulations (a) in making application for authority (1) to nominally issue securities, (2) to sell, pledge, repledge, or otherwise dispose of securities nominally or conditionally issued, or assumed, (3) to actually issue securities, or (4) to assume any obligation or liability as lessor, lessee, guarantor, indorser, surety, or otherwise in respect of the securities of any other person, natural or artificial, and (b) in filing certificates of notification required under the provisions of paragraphs (5) and (9) of said section 20a, and periodical reports required under the provisions of paragraph (10) of said section 20a (note 1):

Sec.
56.1 Form and contents of application.
56.2 Required exhibits.
56.3 Procedure.
56.4 Certificates of notification required by paragraph (5) of section 20a.
56.5 Certificates of notification required by paragraph (9) of section 20a.
56.6 Periodical reports required by paragraph (10) of section 20a.

AUTHORITY: §§ 56.1 to 56.6, inclusive, issued under 41 Stat. 494, 49 Stat. 557, 52 Stat. 1249, 54 Stat. 924; 49 U. S. C. 20a, 214.

§ 56.1 Form and contents of application. The application and supporting exhibits shall conform to Rule 15 of the General Rules of Practice (See Appendix C and Note 2), and shall show, in the order indicated and under section numbers and letters corresponding to those used in the regulations in this part, the following information:

(a) Full and correct name and business address of the applicant (street and number, city and zone, county and State).

(b) Whether applicant is a corporation, partnership, association, individual, or trustee, receiver, assignee, or other fiduciary, and trade name or style, if any, under which applicant is doing business, and,

If applicant is a corporation, date of incorporation, and the Government, State, or Territory under the laws of which applicant was organized and received its present charter (Note 3);

If applicant is a partnership (1) date on which partnership was formed and the State and county in which it was formed (Note 3), and (2) the names and business addresses of all present partners, including silent partners and their respective interests;

If applicant is an association or other form of organization, except a corporation, (1) date of organization and place of organization (Note 3), and (2) full description of the nature and objectives of the organization;

If applicant is a trustee, receiver, assignee, or other fiduciary (1) the name and address of the court, if any, under the direction of which the applicant is acting, and (2) the nature of the proceeding, if any, in which the applicant was appointed.

(c) Whether applicant is a carrier by railroad, a common or contract carrier by motor vehicle, a corporation organized for the purpose of engaging in transportation as any such carrier, or a person who is not a carrier but which has been authorized by order entered under section 5 (2) of the interstate commerce act to acquire control of any such carrier.

(d) The name of each State in which the applicant carrier operates, has been authorized by certificate to operate, or proposes to operate.

(e) The nature of the application and the purposes and uses of the proposed issue and the proceeds thereof, or the proposed assumption of obligation or liability in respect of the securities of any other person, natural or artificial (Note 4).

(f) The facts and circumstances on which the applicant relies to establish that the proposed issue or assumption (1) is for some lawful object within its corporate purposes, and compatible with the public interest, which is necessary or appropriate for or consistent with the proper performance by the carrier of service to the public as a common carrier, and which will not impair its ability to perform that service, and (2) is reasonably necessary and appropriate for such purpose.

(g) At what price or prices, rate or rates, and upon what terms and conditions it is proposed to sell or otherwise dispose of the securities, including an estimate of the expenses to be incurred in connection with such sale or other disposition (Note 5).

(h) How and to whom, and by or through whom, it is proposed to issue the securities, with details of all contracts, underwritings, and other arrangements made or proposed to be made in connection with the issue.

(i) Reference to action by stockholders or directors of applicant, if a corporation, by directors or members of applicant, if an association, and by the court having jurisdiction over the applicant, if a trustee, receiver, or other fiduciary authorizing the proposed issue or assumption and the making and filing of the application, giving dates and places of meetings of stockholders, directors or association members, the date of the court's order, and the names, titles, and post-office addresses of the applicant's president, secretary, principal attorney, or other officer or person authorized to sign, verify, and file the application on behalf of the applicant.

(j) The name, title, and post-office address of counsel, officer, or other person to whom correspondence in regard to the application is to be addressed.

§ 56.2 Required exhibits. There shall be filed with and made a part of each original application and, except as otherwise provided, with each copy thereof, the following exhibits:

(a) As Exhibit 1 (with the original application but not with copies thereof), one or more of the following documents as may be appropriate (Note 6):

A copy of the charter or articles of incorporation, with amendments to date, of the applicant corporation, duly certified by the appropriate public officer, and a copy of the applicant's bylaws, with amendments to date, authenticated by a proper executive officer of the applicant.

A properly authenticated copy of articles or agreement pursuant to which the applicant partnership was formed.

A properly authenticated copy of the articles of association, trust agreement, or other documents evidencing organization of applicant association, or other organization, except a corporation.

A duly certified copy of the order of the court, or instrument appointing each applicant trustee, receiver, assignee, or other fiduciary.

(b) As Exhibit 2, one or more of the following as may be appropriate:

If applicant is a corporation (1) copies of all resolutions of directors authorizing the proposed issue of securities or the proposed assumption of obligation or liability for which authority is requested, authenticated by a proper executive officer of the applicant; (2) if the charter or bylaws require approval by stockholders, copies of resolutions of stockholders, authorizing such issue or assumption, all such resolutions of stockholders to be accompanied by sufficient transcripts of the minutes of their meetings to show the number of shares voted for and against the resolutions, and the number of share-votes required to adopt the resolution; and (3) copies of resolutions of stockholders or directors, or duly authorized committee thereof, authenticated by a proper executive officer of the applicant, designating by name and for that purpose the executive officer by whom the application is signed, verified, and filed on behalf of the applicant.

If applicant is an association or other organization except a corporation, documentary evidence showing authorization of the proposed issue or assumption and designation of the individual signing, verifying, and filing on behalf of the applicant.

If applicant is a trustee, receiver, assignee, or other fiduciary, a certified copy of the order, if any, of the court having jurisdiction, authorizing the proposed issue or assumption, and the filing of the application.

(c) As Exhibit 3, opinion of counsel that the issue or assumption with respect to which the application is made meets the requirements of the law as set forth in § 56.1 (f), and will be legally authorized and valid if approved by the commission, with specific reference to any specially pertinent provisions of charter or articles of incorporation or association.

(d) As Exhibit 4, if applicant is a carrier by railroad, a map of applicant's existing railroad and a map and profile of the line or lines to be constructed, if any; if applicant is a motor carrier, a general or key map clearly indicating the lines or routes of the applicant, identifying them by United States highway numbers, whenever applicable, otherwise by state or county highway numbers; or if applicant is an operating company other than a carrier by railroad or a motor carrier, a general or key map clearly indicating the applicant's operations.

(e) As Exhibit 5, specimens or forms where specimens are not available, of all securities with respect to which the application is made.

(f) As Exhibit 6, in case of the issue or assumption of bonds or evidences of indebtedness, a copy of the mortgage or indenture by which secured or proposed to be secured (Note 6).

(g) As Exhibit 7, a verified copy of the applicant's general balance sheet as of the latest practicable date.

(h) As Exhibit 8, a verified copy of the applicant's income and profit and loss statement for the last calendar year, unless such copy is on file with the commission, and a copy of such statement for the current calendar year to the latest available date.

(i) As Exhibit 9, if the application is with respect to the acquisition of property other than equipment, a statement showing:

(1) The name and post-office address of the owner or vendor of the property to be acquired.

(2) A general description as to character and size of the property and its location, accompanied by a general map and profile or by a general plan, as may be appropriate.

(3) The agreed or estimated purchase price, and the full terms of the contract, if any has been made, for such acquisition.

(4) Such other information or data as may be necessary for a determination of the reasonableness of the agreed or estimated purchase price.

(5) The account or accounts of the commission's effective classifications of accounts in which the cost of such property would be properly classified.

(j) As Exhibit 10, if the application is with respect to the acquisition of equipment, a statement showing:

(1) The name and post-office address of the owner or vendor of the equipment to be acquired, the name of builder, and the unit prices paid or to be paid; whether the equipment was purchased through competitive bidding; and, if the unit prices shown are not the lowest bids received, the reason for accepting a higher bid.

(2) A general description of the equipment showing:

For steam locomotives:
Service type (passenger, freight, or switch), kind of fuel used, Whyte symbols, cylinder size (diameter and stroke), whether saturated or superheated, total light weight of engine and tender, and list of any special devices contributing materially to cost, such as stokers, feed water heaters, etc.
For other locomotives:
Kind, drive (geared, rod, etc.), number of units coupled, total light weight (type of current, voltage if electric, and maximum sustained tractive effort), and a list of special devices contributing materially to cost.
For freight-train cars:
Service type (box, gondola, stock, flat, etc.), kind of body and underframe (steel, wood, or composite), capacity, length (over end sills), trucks (kind).
For refrigerator cars, furnish one complete set of drawings and specifications.
If motor equipped, state kind of motor equipment used and builder, if electric, give also horsepower of motor, type of current, and voltage used; if gasoline or oil driven, give number and size of cylinders (diameter and stroke).
For passenger-train cars:
Service type (coach, baggage, postal, etc.), capacity in passengers or pounds, kind of vestibules, kind of lighting, kind of body and underframe (wood, steel, or composite), kind of trucks, and a list of special devices contributing materially to cost.
If motor equipped, state kind of motor equipment used and builder; if electric, give also horsepower of motor, type of current, and voltage used; if gasoline or oil driven, give number and size of cylinders (diameter and stroke).
For floating equipment:
Service type (tug, float, ferry, lighter, etc.), builder, displacement tonnage, length over all, and cargo capacity.
For work equipment:
Kind (derrick, cinder car, steam shovel, etc.); give builder, size, and capacity; where applicable, describe units in conformity with the requirements of the preceding paragraphs.
If motor equipped, state kind of motor equipment used, and builder; if electric, give also horsepower of motor, type of current, and voltage used; if gasoline or oil driven, give number and size of cylinders (diameter and stroke).

(3) For carriers by motor vehicle subject to section 214 a general description of the equipment showing:

For trucks, make and model, wheel base, tire size front and rear (S for single, D for dual rear), engine, Diesel or gasoline, number of cylinders, bore and stroke, gross vehicle weight for normal service and limit load capacity.
For tractor, trailer, semitrailer units, service cars, automobiles, and dollies give pertinent description from above outline.
In addition to the foregoing show any special devices contributing materially to cost.
For buses, automobiles, and dollies, make and model, wheel base, tire size front and rear (S for single, D for dual rear), engine, Diesel or gasoline, number of cylinders, bore and stroke, gross vehicle weight for normal service and rated passenger capacity. In addition show any special devices contributing materially to cost.

In addition to the foregoing show:

For equipment purchased secondhand:
Name of builder, date built, and name of former owner.
For equipment to be rebuilt:
Date built, original cost, a bill of material showing reusable material, the price at which it is to be taken into the rebuilt unit, new material, and labor used in rebuilding.

(k) As Exhibit 11, if the application is by a common carrier by railroad and is with respect to the construction, completion, extension, or improvement of facilities, or additions and betterments thereto (accomplished expenditures or expenditures not yet made), a report in accordance with Form A of Appendix A hereof, showing quantities and prices (actual or estimated) attested by a competent engineer, also distribution of total cost by the primary accounts of the commission's classification of investment in road and equipment, together with one copy of each A. F. E. (authority for expenditure) or of each completion report, as may be appropriate.

(l) As Exhibit 12, if the application is with respect to the discharge of refunding of existing obligations (including notes maturing not more than two years after the date thereof, issued under paragraph (9) of section 20a of the Interstate Commerce Act), a statement containing a full description, together with terms and conditions (including discounts and commissions, counsel fees, and all other expenses) of sale or other disposition of such existing obligations.

(m) As Exhibit 13, if the application is with respect to the reimbursement of money expended from income or from other moneys in the treasury of the applicant (including proceeds of notes maturing not more than two years after the date thereof, issued under paragraph (9) of section 20a of the act), not yet capitalized, a statement showing:

(1) The period covered by the total disbursement.

(2) The purposes of the disbursements.

(3) The amount of disbursements (gross capital charge) and all credits to capital account within the period.

(4) The primary accounts of the commission's accounting classification to which the disbursements or retirements were charged or credited.

If the expenditures were for any of the purposes stated in paragraph (k) of this section, a report in accordance with Form A of Appendix A hereof, with quantities and prices attested by a competent engineer, together with one copy of each A. F. E. or of each completion report, as may be appropriate.

(n) As Exhibit 14, if the application is with respect to other purposes than those classified in paragraphs (i) to (m), inclusive, of this section, a statement containing complete details of the purposes of the proposed issue or assumption.

§ 56.3 Procedure. The following procedure shall govern the execution, filing, and disposition of the application:

(a) The original application shall be signed in ink by the applicant or applicants, if an individual or individuals, by all partners, if a partnership, and, if applicant is a corporation, an association or other similar form of organization, by its president, a vice president, auditor, comptroller, or other executive officer having knowledge of the matters therein set forth and duly designated for that purpose by the applicant, shall be made under oath and shall show, among other things, that the affiant is duly authorized by the applicant to verify and file the application.

(b) The original application and supporting papers, six copies thereof for the use of the commission, and one copy for the governor of each State in which the applicant operates, and in case of holding companies, one copy for the governor of each State in which the applicant is incorporated or authorized to do business, shall be filed with the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., sufficiently in advance of the date of the proposed issue or assumption to give the commission reasonable time, not less than 30 days, for the notices and investigation required by law. Each copy shall bear the dates and signatures that appear in the original and shall be complete in itself, but the signatures in the copies may be stamped or typed, and the notarial seal may be omitted: Provided, That if unusual difficulties arise in the furnishing of any of the exhibits specified in paragraphs (a) to (f), both inclusive, of § 56.2, the applicant may, with the consent of the commission, file not less than an original and two copies of such exhibit.

(c) Upon receipt of the application the commission as provided in paragraph (6) of said section 20a, will cause notice thereof to be given to, and a copy of the application to be filed with, the governor of each State in which the applicant operates, and in the case of holding companies, with the governor of each State in which the applicant is incorporated or authorized to do business, with inquiry as to whether such governor or other appropriate authority of the State desires to be heard in the matter.

(d) Petitions for leave to intervene may be filed by persons interested in the application within 15 days after the filing thereof or prior to or at the time the application is called for hearing, if a hearing is ordered, but not after, except for good cause shown, the practice in regard to such petitions and answers thereto to be governed as nearly as may be by the Commission's General Rules of Practice. If deemed necessary, a public hearing on the application will be ordered.

§ 56.4 Certificates of notification required by paragraph (5) of section 20a. The certificate of notification of securties sold, pledged, repledged, or otherwise disposed of required by paragraph (5) of section 20a of the interstate commerce act shall be made in accordance with Form B of Appendix A hereof.

§ 56.5 Certificates of notification required by paragraph (9) of section 20a. The certificate of notification for the issue of notes maturing not more than two years after the date thereof required by paragraph (9) of section 20a of the interstate commerce act shall be made in accordance with Form C of Appendix A hereof.

§ 56.6 Periodical reports required by paragraph (10) of section 20a. Periodical reports (required by paragraph (10) of section 20a of the interstate commerce act) of the disposition made of securities issued under authority of the commission and notes maturing not more than two years after the date hereof (for which under paragraph (9) of said section 20a authorization is not required), and the application of the proceeds of such securities and notes, shall be made for the 6 months' periods ending June 30 and December 31, respectively, in accordance with Forms D–1 and D–2 of Appendix A hereof.

And it is further ordered, That this order shall, and it does hereby, supersede the order of February 19, 1927 (49 CFR 56.1–56.10), and the orders of Division 5 dated January 10, 1936 (49 CFR 7.22–7.23), and August 3, 1936, in the aforesaid matters (1 F. R. 1037–1038, 49 CFR 7.28, 7.29, 7.30) and that notice of these regulations will be given to the general public by posting copies in the Office of the Secretary, Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C., and by filing with the Director of the FEDERAL REGISTER, Washington, D. C.

By the Commission, Division 4.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

NOTES

1. Capital stock is considered to be nominally issued when certificates are signed and sealed and placed with the proper officer of the carrier for sale and delivery. Funded debt securities are considered to be nominally issued when certified by trustees and placed with the proper officer of the carrier for sale and delivery. "Securities" as that term is defined in section 20a are considered to be (a) conditionally issued when pledged or otherwise placed in some special fund of the obligor or issuing carrier, and (b) actually issued when they have been sold to a bona fide purchaser for valuable consideration.

2. Exhibits may be in any convenient size, but shall be folded to conform to the size of the application.

3. If the applicant is incorporated or organized under the laws of, or authorized to operate in, more than one State, Territory, or Federal District, give all pertinent facts as to such incorporation, organization, or authorization.

4. The statement in response to paragraph (e) of § 56.1 should be condensed, as most of the details will be supplied in the exhibits required by § 56.2, but should give a detailed description of the securities proposed to be issued. If the application covers the issue of stock, the detailed description should include (1) the kind and class of stock, (2) the number of shares authorized, outstanding and to be issued, (3) par value of each share and/or stated value, if having no par value, (4) amount, (5) voting rights, (6) preferences, (7) conversion privileges, (8) call provisions, and (9) liquidation rights. If the application covers the issue of securities other than stock, the detailed description should include (1) full title of the securities, (2) title and date of the indenture, if any, under which the securities are to be issued, and the name of the trustee or trustees under the indenture, (3) principal amount authorized, previously issued, and proposed to be issued under the indenture, (4) denominations of the securities to be issued, (5) date of the securities, (6) interest rate or rates, (7) interest payment dates, (8) date or dates of maturities, with amounts maturing on each date, if maturing serially, (9) reference to provisions of the indenture, if any, under which the securities will be issued, permitting the proposed issue of securities thereunder, and relating to sinking funds, redemption features, and conversion rights.

5. The estimate of expenses to be incurred in connection with the sale or other disposition of securities should be itemized to show the commissions to be paid, discounts to be allowed, and the total of these, and in addition, legal expenses, accounting expenses, engineering expenses, expenses for certification, expenses for authentication, other expenses, and the total expenses; also the grand total of commissions, discounts, and expenses. Where the amounts of the items grouped under "other expenses" are relatively substantial, they should also be itemized under that general item.

6. If documents here requested have been previously filed in connection with an application under the interstate commerce act, it will be sufficient to make reference to the docket number under which filed: Provided, That any change or changes occurring in such documents since the filing thereof shall be shown in an exhibit identified to correspond with the specific exhibit requested.

For finished projects attach in numerical order one copy of each completion report under Valuation Order 3, except that no completion reports will be required for projects fully reported on B. V. form 588, checked by the Bureau of Valuation and all adjustments fully accepted by the applicant.

2. The total of each page of this report shall be carried forward to a grand total at the end of the report.

3. The original report shall be signed on behalf of the applicant by its president, a vice president, auditor, comptroller, or executive officer having knowledge of the matters therein set forth, and shall be made under oath.

4. The original report and six copies thereof for the use of the commission and one copy for the governor of each State in which the applicant operates shall be filed, together with the application, with the secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Washington, D. C. Each copy shall bear the dates and signatures that appear in the original and shall be complete in itself, but the signatures in the copies may be stamped or typed and notarial seal may be omitted.

5. The report shall be on paper approximately 8½ inches by 11 inches. A margin of 1½ inches shall be left on the left side for binding.

[1] Not applicable to motor carriers.

Instructions (Form D–1)

1. Original report covering each 6 months' period ended June 30 and December 31, and two copies thereof, shall be filed with the secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission within 30 days after the end of each period.

These reports shall be continued until—

(a) In case of securities authorized under sections 20a or 214 of the Interstate Commerce Act, the disposition of all the securities and the application of all the proceeds thereof have been reported; and

(b) In case of notes issued under the provisions of paragraph (9) of section 20a of the act, the application of all the proceeds of such notes has been reported;

but if there were no transactions to report during any 6 months' period a statement to that effect may be made under oath and filed in lieu of a formal report.

2. Separate report shall be made for each order of authorization, and if the issue of more than one kind of security is authorized by the same order, separate report shall be made for each kind of security. Separate report shall be made for each note (or series of notes) maturing not more than two years after the date thereof, for which authorization is not required under the provisions of paragraph (9) of section 20a.

3. Schedule 2 of this report shall show under the following general headings the purposes to which proceeds were applied:

(a) The acquisition of property other than equipment.

APPENDIX B

SECTION 20A (1) TO (11), INCLUSIVE, AND SECTION 214 OF THE INTERSTATE COMMERCE ACT

SEC. 20a. [Added February 28, 1920.] (1) That as used in this section the term "carrier" means a common carrier by railroad (except a street, suburban, or interurban electric railway which is not operated as a part of a general steam railroad system of transportation) which is subject to this act, or any corporation organized for the purpose of engaging in transportation by railroad subject to this act.

(2) From and after one hundred and twenty days after this section takes effect it shall be unlawful for any carrier to issue any share of capital stock or any bond or other evidence of interest in or indebtedness of the carrier (hereinafter in this section collectively termed "securities") or to assume any obligation or liability as lessor, lessee, guarantor, indorser, surety, or otherwise, in respect of the securities of any other person, natural or artificial, even though permitted by the authority creating the carrier corporation, unless and until, and then only to the extent that, upon application by the carrier, and after investigation by the commission of the purposes and uses of the proposed issue and the proceeds thereof, or of the proposed assumption of obligation or liability in respect of the securities of any other person, natural or artificial, the commission by order authorizes such issue or assumption. The commission shall make such order only if it finds that such issue or assumption: (a) is for some lawful object within its corporate purposes, and compatible with the public interest, which is necessary or appropriate for or consistent with the proper performance by the carrier of service to the public as a common carrier, and which will not impair its ability to perform that service, and (b) is reasonably necessary and appropriate for such purpose.

(3) The commission shall have power by its order to grant or deny the application as made, or to grant it in part and deny it in part, or to grant it with such modifications and upon such terms and conditions as the commission may deem necessary or appropriate in the premises, and may from time to time, for good cause shown, make such supplemental orders in the premises as it may deem necessary or appropriate, and may by any such supplemental order modify the provisions of any previous order as to the particular purposes, uses, and extent to which, or the conditions under which, any securities so theretofore authorized or the proceeds thereof may be applied, subject always to the requirements of the foregoing paragraph (2).

(4) Every application for authority shall be made in such form and contain such matters as the commission may prescribe. Every such application, as also every certificate of notification hereinafter provided for, shall be made under oath, signed and filed on behalf of the carrier by its president, a vice president, auditor, comptroller, or other executive officer having knowledge of the matters therein set forth and duly designated for that purpose by the carrier.

(5) Whenever any securities set forth and described in any application for authority or certificate of notification as pledged or held unencumbered in the treasury of the carrier shall, subsequent to the filing of such application or certificate, be sold, pledged, repledged, or otherwise disposed of by the carrier, such carrier shall within ten days after such sale, pledge, repledge, or other disposition, file with the commission a certificate of notification to that effect, setting forth therein all such facts as may be required by the commission.

(6) Upon receipt of any such application for authority the commission shall cause notice thereof to be given to and a copy filed with the governor of each State in which the applicant carrier operates. The railroad commissions, public service or utilities commissions, or other appropriate State authorities of the State shall have the right to make before the commission such representations as they may deem just and proper for preserving and conserving the rights and interests of their people and the States, respectively, involved in such proceeding. The commission may hold hearings, if it sees fit, to enable it to determine its decision upon the application for authority.

(7) The jurisdiction conferred upon the commission by this section shall be exclusive and plenary, and a carrier may issue securities and assume obligations or liabilities in accordance with the provisions of this section without securing approval other than as specified herein.

(8) Nothing herein shall be construed to imply any guaranty or obligation as to such securities on the part of the United States.

(9) The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to notes to be issued by the carrier maturing not more than two years after the date thereof and aggregating (together with all other then outstanding notes of a maturity of two years or less) not more than 5 per centum of the par value of the securities of the carrier then outstanding. In the case of securities having no par value, the par value for the purposes of this paragraph shall be the fair market value as of the date of issue. Within ten days after the making of such notes the carrier issuing the same shall file with the commission a certificate of notification, in such form as may from time to time be determined and prescribed by the commission, setting forth as nearly as may be the same matters as those required in respect of applications for authority to issue other securities: Provided, That in any subsequent funding of such notes the provisions of this section respecting other securities shall apply.

(10) The commission shall require periodical or special reports from each carrier hereafter issuing any securities, including such notes, which shall show, in such detail as the commission may require, the disposition made of such securities and the application of the proceeds thereof.

(11) Any security issued or any obligation or liability assumed by a carrier, for which under the provisions of this section the authorization of the commission is required, shall be void, if issued or assumed without such authorization therefor having first been obtained, or if issued or assumed contrary to any term or condition of such order of authorization as modified by any order supplemental thereto entered prior to such issuance or assumption; but no security issued or obligation or liability assumed in accordance with all the terms and conditions of such an order of authorization therefor as modified by any order supplemental thereto entered prior to such issuance or assumption, shall be rendered void because of failure to comply with any provision of this section relating to procedure and other matters preceding the entry of such order of authorization. If any security so made void or any security in respect to which the assumption of obligation or liability is so made void, is acquired by any person for value and in good faith and without notice that the issue or assumption is void, such person may in a suit or action in any court of competent jurisdiction hold jointly and severally liable for the full amount of the damage sustained by him in respect thereof, the carrier which issued the security so made void, or assumed the obligation or liability so made void, and its directors, officers, attorneys, and other agents, who participated in any way in the authorizing, issuing, hypothecating, or selling of the security so made void or in the authorizing of the assumption of the obligation or liability so made void. In case any security so made void was directly acquired from the carrier issuing it the holder may at his option rescind the transaction and upon the surrender of the security recover the consideration given therefor. Any director, officer, attorney, or agent of the carrier who knowingly assents to or concurs in any issue of securities or assumptions of obligation or liability forbidden by this section, or any sale or other disposition of securities contrary to the provisions of the commission's order or orders in the premises, or any application not authorized by the commission of the funds derived by the carrier through such sale or other disposition of such securities, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $1,000 nor more than $10,000, or by imprisonment for not less than one year nor more than three years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 214. [Added August 9, 1935, as amended June 29, 1938, and September 18, 1940.] Common or contract carriers by motor vehicle, corporations organized for the purpose of engaging in transportation as such carriers, and corporations authorized by order of the Commission to acquire control of any such carrier, or of two or more such carriers, shall be subject to the provisions of paragraphs 2 to 11, inclusive, of section 20a of part I of this Act (including penalties applicable in cases of violations thereof): Provided, however, That said provisions shall not apply to such carriers or corporations where the par value of the securities to be issued, together with the par value of the securities then outstanding, does not exceed $500,000, nor to the issuance of notes of a maturity of two years or less and aggregating not more than $100,000, which notes aggregating such amount including all outstanding obligations maturing in two years or less may be issued without reference to the percentage which said amounts bear to the total amount of outstanding securities. In the case of securities having no par value, the par value for the purpose of this section shall be the fair market value as of the date of their issue: Provided further, That the exemption in section 3 (a) (6) of the "Securities Act, 1933" is hereby amended to read as follows: "(6) Any security issued by a common or contract carrier, the issuance of which is subject to the provisions of section 20a of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended;".

APPENDIX C

GENERAL RULES OF PRACTICE

RULE 15. Typographical specifications generally. Except as otherwise provided respecting applications (rule 38 (a)), exhibits (rule 84 (a)), and informal complaints (rule 24 (a)), all pleadings, documents, and papers to be filed under these rules shall be on opaque, unglazed, durable paper not exceeding 8½ by 11 inches. To permit of binding on covers of uniform size, margins of at least 1½ and 1 inch, respectively, shall be allowed on the left and right margins. Binding shall be on the left margin. Reproduction may be by printing, multilithing, multigraphing, or mimeographing or by any other process, provided the copies are clear and permanently legible. White-line blue-prints which cannot be reproduced by photography are not desirable. If directly typewritten, or if in facsimile reproduction of typewriting, the impression must be on one side of the paper and must be double-spaced, except that long quotations shall be single-spaced and indented. If printed, adequate leading and nothing less than 10-point type shall be used, except that 8-point type may be employed in footnotes and in tabular matter where printing limitations so require. A brief in excess of 50 pages, including cover pages, indexes, and appendixes, may not be typewritten.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[MPR 188, Order 5169]

COTTON FLOOR COVERINGS

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to § 1499.159 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of this order. This order authorizes a price increase for manufacturers of certain cotton floor coverings; and it sets forth specific pricing provisions which all sellers are to follow in calculating their maximum prices for sales of these products.

SEC. 2. Articles covered by this order. The articles covered by this order are cotton rugs made of woven cotton yarns; cotton rag or braided rugs; and cotton rugs made of woven cotton fabric back and cotton yarn pile surface.

SEC. 3. Manufacturers' adjusted maximum prices.—(a) Determination of maximum prices. The maximum prices for sales of any of the articles covered by this order by a manufacturer to each class of purchaser shall be the higher of the applicable of the following:

(1) His maximum price properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (exclusive of any permitted increase or adjustment) for sales to each class of purchaser increased by no more than 15 percent in the case of cotton rugs made of woven cotton fabric back and cotton yarn pile surface; and by no more than 20 percent in the case of cotton rugs woven of cotton yarns and cotton rag or braided rugs.

(2) His maximum price as adjusted or established by an order under Supplementary Order No. 133; or any other Office of Price Administration regulation or order.

SEC. 4. Resellers' and adjusted maximum prices. (a) Wholesalers, and retailers who determine their maximum resale prices for resales of the articles covered by this order under the General Maximum Price Regulation, of an article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order, and for which such reseller has a properly established maximum price prior to June 30, 1946, may increase that maximum price to each class of purchaser by the same percentage as that set forth in section 3 (a) (1) for the appropriate type of article described in that section.

(b) The resellers described in (a) above of an article which a manufacturer sells at an adjusted maximum price permitted under an individual adjustment order or for which the seller does not have a properly established maximum price prior to September 13, 1946 shall determine his maximum price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has determined his adjusted maximum price under (a) above. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the same group of articles set forth in paragraph (a) above which covers articles being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration, however, each seller must keep complete records, showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his maximum price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(c) If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the seller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(d) If a retailer determines his maximum price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 580, he shall compute his maximum price in accordance with the rules set forth in that regulation by using a "net cost" based on his invoice cost.

SEC. 5. Terms of sale. Every seller of an article covered by this order must maintain all of his terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials in effect during March 1942, or which have been subsequently properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations or orders.

A reseller who did not sell cotton floor coverings covered by this order during March 1942, or whose discounts, allowances and terms and other conditions of sale have not been thereafter established under OPA regulations, shall allow the same cash discounts, delivery terms, allowances, and other price differentials which his closest competitor, who was distributing cotton floor coverings covered by this order during March 1942, is required to allow in accordance with the provisions of this order.

A reseller who cannot ascertain the cash discounts, delivery terms, etc., which his nearest competitor is required to allow, shall apply to the nearest district office of the Office of Price Administration for an order under this section, establishing the conditions to which his ceiling prices are subject. Such application may be by letter and shall state the type of business he is operating (wholesaler, retailer) when he started to sell cotton floor coverings covered by this order, and the class of purchasers to whom he sells. An order will be issued under this section establishing the terms, allowances and other price differentials and conditions of sale in line with the conditions of sale generally fixed by this order.

If a reseller who did not sell cotton floor coverings covered by this order during March 1942 does not allow the same discounts, delivery terms and other price differentials allowed by his nearest competitor who did sell cotton floor coverings covered by this order during March 1942, or does not file an application in accordance with the provisions of this section, or if he fails to provide any of the information required by this section, the Price Administrator may, on his own motion, issue orders under this section fixing discounts, allowances and other price differentials in line with such conditions of sale fixed by this order. Conditions of sale so established will apply to all sales and deliveries made on and after the effective date of this order.

SEC. 6. Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in Section 4 of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resales of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

SEC. 7. Compliance with this order—(a) No buying or selling at over ceiling prices. Prices established by this order are ceiling prices. Prices lower than ceiling prices may be charged and collected at any time. However, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or deliver, and in the course of trade or business, no person shall purchase or accept delivery of any cotton floor coverings covered by this order at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by this order or before the manufacturer has properly determined his ceiling price under this offer.

If, in violation of this provision, a sale, offer to sell, or delivery of any cotton floor coverings covered by this order is made before its ceiling price has been properly established in accordance with this order, the ceiling price applicable to the sale, offer to sell, or delivery shall be the correct ceiling price for such cotton floor coverings covered by this order properly determined in accordance with this order.

(b) Certain practices forbidden. It shall be a violation of this order to charge a price above the applicable ceiling price in connection with any sale of cotton floor coverings covered by this order, either alone or in conjunction with any other consideration, even though the price increase appears only indirectly.

The following is illustrative of the things a seller is not permitted to do. A seller is not permitted to require the purchaser, as a condition of the sale or transfer of cotton floor coverings covered by this order to make payment over a period of time; to require him to finance the purchaser through any particular lending agency; to require him to purchase any equipment, accessories, repairs, parts or services so as to increase the total compensation above the article's ceiling price; to require him to purchase any other commodity or service; or to require him to make payment in whole or in part by exchanging, transferring, or trading in any other cotton floor covering covered by this order or other commodity. Where there is an exchange, transfer or trade-in in connection with a sale, it is a violation for the seller to give the purchaser an allowance for the commodity exchanged, transferred or traded in, which is less than its reasonable value.

SEC. 8. Credit charges on dealers sales. Charges for the extension of credit may be added to the retail ceiling prices established by this order or by any order issued under this order unless otherwise provided. No such credit charge may exceed that permitted by this section.

(a) Dealers who in March 1942 collected a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit on sales of cotton floor coverings covered by this order may collect a charge for the extension of credit on sales under this order, not exceeding such charge in March 1942 on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser. Dealers who did not then so state and collect an additional charge, may collect a charge for the extension of credit only on installment plan sales; and the charge shall not exceed the separately stated additional charge collected for the extension of credit on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser in March 1942 by dealer's closest competitor who made such a separately stated charge.

An installment plan sale as used in the above paragraph means a sale where the unpaid balance is to be paid in installments over a period of either (1) six weeks or more from the date of sale in the case of weekly installments, or (2) eight weeks or more in the case of other than weekly installments.

(b) All charges for the extension of credit shall be quoted and stated separately. Any charge which is not quoted and stated separately or which otherwise does not conform to this section shall for the purpose of this order, be considered to be a part of the price charged for the article sold.

(c) No dealer may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser must buy on credit.

(d) "Dealer" refers to a person making sales at retail as defined in the General Maximum Price Regulation.

SEC. 9. Definition. Unless otherwise defined herein or the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in the General Maximum Price Regulation and Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, whichever is applicable, shall apply to all terms used herein.

SEC. 10. Relationship between this order and other orders or regulations. The provisions of this order supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, of Maximum Price Regulation No. 580 and of any other previously issued orders or regulations with respect to sales and deliveries of articles covered by this order to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of those orders or regulations.

SEC. 11. Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator or District Director authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may issue orders under sections 4 and 5 of this order.

SEC. 12. Modification of the provisions of this order. Any provisions of this order, as applicable to articles or persons subject thereto, may be modified by order of general applicability issued under this section.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall become effective on the 13th day of September 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

COATED AND COMBINED FABRICS

AUTHORIZATION OF SALES AT ADJUSTABLE MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 168 under Maximum Price Regulation 478 is redesignated Revised Order No. 168 and is revised and amended to read as follows:

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to section 17 of Maximum Price Regulation 478, It is ordered:

Any manufacturer, wholesaler or supply jobber of coated or combined fabrics as defined in Maximum Price Regulation 478 may sell such fabrics to cutters, wholesalers, supply jobbers or industrial users at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action that may hereafter be taken by the Office of Price Administration, changing the existing maximum prices for sales of such coated or combined fabrics. However, no seller shall receive payment of more than the presently established maximum price for sales of such coated or combined fabrics unless and until the Office of Price Administration changes existing maximum prices. This order is automatically revoked when the Office of Price Administration changes the existing maximum prices for sales covered by this order, or on September 30, 1946, whichever is earlier.

This order may be amended or revoked by the Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective September 16, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

WINDOW AND PICTURE GLASS

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

An opinion accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order 1 under section 25 of Maximum Price Regulation 592 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 7.11 (a) (2) the reference to section 7.11 (b) is changed to read 7.11 (c).

2. Section 7.11 (c) is redesignated as section 7.11 (b) and is amended to read as follows:

(b) Discounts. The maximum list prices established under (a) above, shall be subject to all discounts, allowances including transportation allowances, services and other terms and other conditions of sale at least as favorable as the manufacturer extended or rendered or would have extended or rendered on comparable sales to purchasers of the same class during March 1942, except that the discounts and charges may be changed as follows:

(1) Any manufacturer of clear flat sheet, window and picture glass may apply not less than the following adjusted discounts to his presently established maximum list prices for these items as set forth in paragraph (a) above:

Unadjusted discounts (percent)	Adjusted discounts (percent)
85–30–5	80–38–5
90–4	80–38–5
88–4–5	80–32–5
88–4–5–5	80–32–5
88–10–5	85–15–5

(2) The Fourco Glass Company, Clarksburg, West Virginia, may apply discounts of 80–38–5 percent to its list prices for heavy sheet glass and strips included in its price bulletin dated January 1, 1942.

(3) Manufacturers' fractional cutting charges applicable to the pricing of single strength and thinner glass shall not be in excess of:

1 fraction—30¢ per 50' box net charge.
2 fractions—60¢ per 50' box net charge.

(4) Manufacturers' fractional cutting charges applicable to the pricing of double strength and heavier glass shall not be in excess of:

1 fraction—40¢ per 50' box net charge.
2 fractions—80¢ per 50' box net charge.

(5) Discounts of 80–38–5 percent may be applied to the following manufacturers' list prices for Bulb Edge glass:

Bracket	Single strength	Double strength	3/16" and 7/32"	¼"
Up to 2'8"	$0.80	$0.90	$1.00	$1.40
2'6" to 5'	.90	1.00	1.10	1.50
5' to 7'	1.00	1.10	1.20	1.60
7' to 10'	1.10	1.20	1.30	1.70
10' and over	1.40	1.50	1.60	2.00

3. Section 7.11 (b) is redesignated as section 7.11 (c) and is amended by the addition of subparagraph (4) thereto, to read as follows:

(4) Any person purchasing any of the products for which discounts are adjusted in paragraph (b) above for the purpose of resale in the same form may increase his presently established maximum prices under the General Maximum Price Regulation by an amount not exceeding his actual percentage increase in costs resulting from the increase permitted the manufacturer in (b) above.

This amendment shall become effective September 11, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September, 1946.

Regional and District Office Orders.

[Newark Adopting Order 5 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 2]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN NEWARK, N. J. DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region II by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order 68 as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated by such Regional Administrator to the District Director, Newark District Office, It is hereby ordered:

1. Adopting Order No. 5 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, is hereby amended by striking out Schedule A annexed to said order and inserting in place thereof Revised Schedule A hereto annexed,[1] and made a part of this amendment and of said adopting order.

2. Adopting Order No. 5 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, is further amended by adding a new section 3 (a) as follows:

SEC. 3a. Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area order issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

3. Except as hereby amended, Adopting Order No. 5 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, shall remain the same and all provisions thereof remain in full force and effect.

This amendment shall become effective immediately.

Issued this 30th day of August 1946.

RICHARD J. TARRANT,
District Director.

[Newark Adopting Order 6 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 2]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN NEWARK, N. J., DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region II by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order 68 as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated by such Region Administrator to the District Director, Newark District Office, It is hereby ordered:

1. Adopting Order No. 6 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, is hereby amended by striking out Schedule A annexed to said order and inserting in place thereof Revised Schedule A hereto annexed,[1] and made a part of this amendment and of said adopting order.

2. Adopting Order No. 6 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, is further amended by adding a new section 3 (a) as follows:

SEC. 3a. Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area order issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

3. Except as hereby amended, Adopting Order No. 6 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, shall remain the same and all provisions thereof remain in full force and effect.

This amendment shall become effective immediately.

Issued this 30th day of August 1946.

RICHARD J. TARRANT,
District Director.

[Region III Order G-43 Under RMPR 251]

SPECIFIED RE-ROOFING IN CINCINNATI, OHIO-COVINGTON, KENTUCKY, AREA

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion, which has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, and pursuant to the provisions of Regional Basic Order No. 1-B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, this order is issued:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This adopting order establishes dollars-and-cents maximum prices for the composition roofing materials specified in section 4, hereof, when sold installed on residential structures in the Cincinnati, Ohio-Covington, Kentucky Area.

SEC. 2. Area covered. For the purposes of this order, the "Cincinnati, Ohio-Covington, Kentucky Area" consists of the County of Hamilton in the State of Ohio and the Counties of Boone, Campbell and Kenton in the State of Kentucky.

SEC. 3. Applicability of Basic Order No. 1-B. All the provisions of Basic Order No. 1-B, consistent with this Adopting Order, No. G-43, are hereby adopted by, and incorporated by reference into, this order and are just as much a part of this order as though fully re-written herein. If Basic Order No. 1-B is amended in any respect, all of the provisions of that order, as amended, shall likewise, without other action, be a part of this order. All persons subject to this adopting order are also subject to, and should read and be familiar with, the provisions of Basic Order No. 1-B.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices. (a) The maximum prices for the specified re-roofing materials on an installed basis shall be as follows:

12 in. (3 in line) asphalt strip shingles, 210 lbs. per sq.: $13.44 per square.

(b) The above prices include related materials and services as defined in section 11 of Basic Order No. 1-B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

[Newark Adopting Order 52 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN MONMOUTH AND OCEAN COUNTIES, N. J.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region II by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order No. 68 as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated to all District Directors in Region II, is is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order covers. This adopting order under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, covers sales by all persons to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis, of certain building materials listed in Scheduled A hereto annexed [1] and generally known as "Hard mason materials". All provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, are adopted in this order and are just as much a part of this order as if specifically set forth herein. If Basic Order No. 1 as amended, is further amended in any respect, the provisions of said order, as amended, shall likewise without further action, become part of this order. All persons subject to this adoption order are also subject to Basic Order No. 1 as amended under General Order 68 as amended, and should be familiar with the provisions of said order.

SEC. 2. Territory covered by this order. The geographical area covered by this order is the area consisting of the Counties of Monmouth and Ocean, both in the State of New Jersey.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the building materials covered by this order are set forth in Scheduled A hereto annexed [1] and made a part of this order. The prices fixed in Schedule A cover all sales in the territory covered by this order, regardless of the location of the place of business of the seller.

(a) Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment, or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

SEC. 4. Discount, allowances, and terms of sale. All customary allowances, discounts and differentials must be preserved. The maximum prices set forth in Schedule A are delivered prices unless otherwise stated in such Schedule A.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, and to General Maximum Price Regulation, and other maximum price regulation. As previously stated, all provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by the General Maximum Price Regulation, or by any other applicable regulation or order. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulations, or of any other applicable regulation or order shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of the list of maximum prices fixed by this order in each place of business within the area covered by this order.

SEC. 7. Records and sales slips—(a) Required information. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order, as if specifically set forth herein, and also on any sale of $25 or more, each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of Transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Schedule A of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 8. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective August 30, 1946.

Issued this 30th day of August 1946.

RICHARD J. TARRANT,
District Director.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, and to General Maximum Price Regulation and other maximum price regulations. As previously stated, all provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by the General Maximum Price Regulation, or by any other applicable regulation or order. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulations, or of any other applicable regulation or order shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of the list of maximum prices fixed by this order in each place of business within the area covered by this order.

SEC. 7. Records and sales slips—(a) Required information. The provisions of section (r) of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order, as if specifically set forth herein, and also on any sale of $25 or more, each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION.

[File No. 70-1361]

UNITED CORP.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 6th day of September 1946.

The Commission on August 14, 1943 having issued its Order pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 directing The United Corporation ("United"), a registered holding company, to change its capitalization to one class of stock, namely, common stock, and to take such action, in a manner consistent with the provisions of the act, as will cause it to cease to be a holding company; and

The Commission on November 30, 1944 having issued its Order pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the act directing Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation ("Columbia"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of United, inter alia, to dispose of its interests in its subsidiary, The Cincinnati Gas & Electric Company ("Cincinnati"); and

The Commission having on August 22, 1946 approved Columbia's proposal for the disposition of all of the common stock of Cincinnati by means of an underwritten offer to stockholders through warrants, expiring on September 9, 1946, issued to all holders of the common stock of Columbia of record as of August 22, 1946 evidencing the right of such holders to purchase at $26 per share one share of common stock of Cincinnati for each six shares of Columbia common stock held; and

United, the owner of 1,919,856 shares (15.7%) of the common stock of Columbia, having filed on August 28, 1946 an application for authority to exercise its rights pursuant to such warrants to purchase from Columbia, on or before September 9, 1946, its pro rata portion (319,976 shares) of the Cincinnati stock at a total price of $8,319,376; and

Notice of such filing having been duly given in the manner and form prescribed under Rule U-23 and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said application within the period specified in such notice or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission having heretofore found that the disposition by Columbia to its stockholders of its interest in Cincinnati is in compliance with the Commission's outstanding divestment order of November 30, 1944; and it appearing to the Commission that the ownership by United of the shares of Cincinnati stock proposed to be acquired through the exercise of warrants is subject to the Commission's outstanding order directing United, inter alia, to cease to be a holding company; and

It further appearing to the Commission that the circumstances of this case are such as do not necessitate adverse findings under the provisions of section 10 (b) of the act with respect to the proposed acquisition by United; and the Commission finding that such acquisition has the tendency required by section 10 (c) (2) of the act, and that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interests of investors and consumers that said application be granted:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 of the applicable provisions of said act and subject to the terms and conditions promulgated under Rule U-24, that the aforesaid application be, and the same hereby is, granted forthwith on the condition, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as altering, supplementing, modifying or limiting in any respect the Commission's outstanding order of August 14, 1943 directing United to change its present capitalization to one class of stock, namely, common stock, and to take such action, in a manner consistent with the provisions of the act, as will cause it to cease to be a holding company.

By the Commission.

Hope Engineering Company ("Hope"), formerly a registered holding company, and Texas Eastern Oil Company ("Texas"), its subsidiary, having filed a joint application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, proposing the issue by Texas to Hope and the acquisition by Hope of shares of the common stock of Texas, an extension of the maturity date of certain registered notes of Texas held by others than Hope, and other related transactions; and

The Commission, by order dated May 20, 1946, having ordered and declared, among other things, that Hope has ceased to be a holding company, and pursuant to said order Hope's registration as a holding company having ceased to be in effect; and

Hope and Texas having now requested permission to withdraw said application-declaration, and the Commission having considered the request and it appearing that the withdrawal of said application-declaration is consistent with the public interest;

It is ordered, That the request of Hope Engineering Company and Texas Eastern Oil Company for withdrawal of the application-declaration herein be and it hereby is granted, and that said application-declaration is hereby deemed withdrawn.

By the Commission.

[File No. 70-1358]

PROVINCETOWN LIGHT AND POWER CO. AND NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 9th day of September 1946.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by New England Gas and Electric Association ("New England"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary Provincetown Light and Power Company ("Provincetown"); and Notice is further given that any person may, not later than September 23, 1946, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reason for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter, such application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration, which is on file in the offices of said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

New England presently owns all of the outstanding common stock of Provincetown. Provincetown proposes to issue and sell to New England an additional 125 shares of common stock, of the par value of $100.00 per share, at a price of $100.00 per share, or an aggregate of $12,500. The proceeds from the proposed sale are to be used for the partial payment of indebtedness amounting to $18,375, incurred by Provincetown for extensions, additions and improvements to its plant and property. Such indebtedness is represented by a six month note, dated June 26, 1946, for $18,375 payable to The First National Bank of Boston with interest at 3% per annum.

The application by Provincetown is filed pursuant to section 6 (b) of the act for exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the act as to the issue and sale of the 125 shares of common stock, such issue and sale having been expressly authorized by the Department of Public Utilities of Massachusetts by order dated July 22, 1946. New England has joined in the filing under sections 9 (a), 10 and 12 (f) of the Act in respect to its acquisition of the additional shares of common stock of Provincetown.

By the Commission.

[Vesting Order 6866]

JACOB SONNEN

In re: Real property, property insurance policies and claims owned by Jacob Sonnen.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation, finding:

1. That Jacob Sonnen, whose last known address is Dusseldorf, Germany, is a resident of Germany and a national of a designated country (Germany);

2. That the property described as follows:

a. Real property situated in the City of St. Louis, State of Missouri, particularly described in Exhibits A, B and C, attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with all hereditaments, fixtures, improvements and appurtenances thereto, and any and all claims for rents, refunds, benefits or other payments arising from the ownership of such property,

b. All right, title and interest of Jacob Sonnen, in and to the following property insurance policies, which are in the possession of Harry M. Boeckmann, 3521 Franklin Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri:

Policy No. 6142 of the Great American Insurance Company, New York, New York, issued in the names of Jacob J. Sonnen and Harry M. Boeckmann, Executor for John Sonnen, deceased, as their respective interests appear, covering premises 3435 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, for fire and extended coverage in the sum of $3,500 for the three year period ending January 25, 1947.

Policy No. 0C7627 of the Great American Insurance Company, New York, New York, issued in the name of Harry M. Boeckmann, agent for Jacob Sonnen, covering premises 3437 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, for fire and extended coverage in the sum of $2,000 for the three year period ending July 7, 1948.

Policy No. 25679 of the National Liberty Insurance Company of America, New York, New York, issued in the name of Harry M. Boeckmann, agent for Jacob Sonnen, for fire and extended coverage on premises 3437 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, in the sum of $2,000 for the three year period ending July 7, 1948.

Policy No. 89707 of the Phoenix Insurance Company, of Hartford, Connecticut, issued in the name of Harry M. Boeckmann, Executor of the Estate of John Sonnen, deceased, covering premises 3439 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, for fire and extended coverage in the sum of $3,500 for the three-year period ending January 11, 1947.

c. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of Jacob Sonnen, in and to any and all obligations, contingent or otherwise and whether or not matured, owing to him by Harry M. Boeckmann, 3521 Franklin Avenue, St. Louis, Missouri, including particularly but not limited to those sums arising by reason of rents collected from the real property described in subparagraph 2-a hereof, and any and all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any and all such obligations and the right to enforce and collect the same, and

d. All right, title, interest and claim of any name or nature whatsoever of Jacob Sonnen, in and to any and all obligations, contingent or otherwise, and whether or not matured, owing to him by George Bitter, and which is deposited at Trade Bank and Trust Company, 7th Avenue and 36th Street, New York, New York, in an account in the name of "George Bitter, attorney in fact for Jacob Sonnen", including but not limited to those sums arising by reason of rents collected from the real property described in subparagraph 2-a hereof, and any and all security rights in and to any and all collateral for any or all such obligations and the right to enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country;

And determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

And having made all determinations and taken all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, and deeming it necessary in the national interest, hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraph 2-a hereof, subject to recorded liens, encumbrances and other rights of record held by or for persons who are not nationals of designated enemy countries, and hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described in subparagraphs 2-b to 2-d hereof, inclusive.

All such property so vested to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in an appropriate account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This order shall not be deemed to constitute an admission by the Alien Property Custodian of the lawfulness of, or acquiescence in, or licensing of, any set-offs, charges or deductions, nor shall it be deemed to limit the power of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof in whole or in part, nor shall it be deemed to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined to take any one or all of such actions.

Any person, except a national of a designated enemy country, asserting any claim arising as a result of this order may, within one year from the date hereof, or within such further time as may be allowed, file with the Alien Property Custodian on Form APC-1 a notice of claim, together with a request for a hearing thereon. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to constitute an admission of the existence, validity or right to allowance of any such claim.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order No. 9095, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on July 1, 1946.

[SEAL] JAMES E. MARKHAM,
Alien Property Custodian.

MRS. ANNA BLOTEVOGEL

In re: Bank account owned by Mrs. Anna Blotevogel. F-28-13442-E-1.

Under the authority of the Trading with the Enemy Act, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9095, as amended, and pursuant to law, the undersigned, after investigation, finding:

1. That Mrs. Anna Blotevogel, whose last known address is Germany, is a resident of Germany and a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the property described as follows: That certain debt or other obligation of First National Bank, Odessa, New York, arising out of a checking account, entitled "Hanns P Kniepkamp as attorney in fact Mrs. Anna Blotevogel", and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, Mrs. Anna Blotevogel, the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country;

And determining that to the extent that such national is a person not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such person be treated as a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

And having made all determinations and taken all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, and deeming it necessary in the national interest, hereby vests in the Alien Property Custodian the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest and for the benefit of the United States.

Such property and any or all of the proceeds thereof shall be held in an appropriate account or accounts, pending further determination of the Alien Property Custodian. This order shall not be deemed to constitute an admission by the Alien Property Custodian of the lawfulness of, or acquiescence in, or licensing of, any set-offs, charges or deductions, nor shall it be deemed to limit the power of the Alien Property Custodian to return such property or the proceeds thereof in whole or in part, nor shall it be deemed to indicate that compensation will not be paid in lieu thereof, if and when it should be determined to take any one or all of such actions.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order No. 9095, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on August 15, 1946.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 11 NUMBER 179

Washington, Friday, September 13, 1946

The President

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9778

REGULATIONS GOVERNING TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION EXPENSES OF NEW APPOINTEES TO POSITIONS IN THE GOVERNMENT SERVICE LOCATED OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES AND SUCH EXPENSES OF EMPLOYEES RETURNING TO THE UNITED STATES

By virtue of and pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 7 of the act of August 2, 1946, Public Law 600—79th Congress, I hereby prescribe the following regulations governing the expenses of travel of new appointees, expenses of transportation of their immediate families and expenses of transportation of their household goods and personal effects from places of actual residence at time of appointment to places of employment outside continental United States and for such expenses on return of employees from their posts of duty outside continental United States to places of their actual residence at time of assignment to duty outside the United States:

SECTION 1. Expenses authorized by section 7 of the said act of August 2, 1946, shall not be allowed new appointees unless and until the person selected for appointment shall agree in writing to remain in the Government service for the twelve months following his appointment, unless separated for reasons beyond his control. In case of a violation of such agreement, any moneys expended by the United States on account of such travel or transportation shall be considered as a debt due by the individual concerned to the United States.

SECTION 2. The travel expenses of new appointees from their places of actual residence at time of appointment to places of employment outside continental United States and of employees returning from their posts of duty outside continental United States to the places of their actual residence at the time of their assignment to duty outside the United States shall, until November 1, 1946, be in accordance with the Subsistence Expense Act of 1926, as amended (5 U. S. C. 821–823), the Standardized Government Travel Regulations and the act of February 14, 1931, as amended (5 U. S. C. 73 (a)).

SECTION 3. The expenses of transportation of the immediate families and expenses of transportation of the household goods and personal effects of new appointees from places of actual residence at time of appointment to places of employment outside continental United States and such expense on return of employees from their posts of duty outside continental United States to places of their actual residence at time of assignment to duty outside the United States shall, until November 1, 1946, be in accordance with Executive Order 9743 and Executive Order 8588, as amended.

SECTION 4. Beginning November 1, 1946, expenditures within the purview of section 2 and 3 of this order shall be in accordance with regulations to be issued under authority of section 1 of the aforesaid act of August 2, 1946.

SECTION 5. The provisions of these regulations shall not apply to expenditures from appropriations for the Foreign Service, Department of State, or to persons whose pay and allowances are established by the Pay Readjustment Act of 1942 (37 U. S. C. 101).

This order shall be effective as of August 2, 1946, and shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

SOURCE: The source of §§ 201.00–1 to 201.00–2, inclusive, is general provisions of Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. V, 1–2. The uniform system of accounts and the order adopting it dated Nov. 3, 1939, were filed with the Division of the Federal Register, Dec. 4, 1939; 4 F. R. 4764.

MODIFICATION: This Part formerly designated "Part 151, Subchapter D—Accounts, Natural Gas Act." See Order 132, Aug. 23, 1946, apearing in Part II of the September 11, 1946, issue of the Federal Register.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 201.00–1 Prescribing a system of accounts for natural gas companies under the Natural Gas Act. The Federal Power Commission acting pursuant to authority granted by the Natural Gas Act (52 Stat. 821), particularly sections 8 (a), 10 (a), and 16 thereof, and finding such action necessary and appropriate for carrying out the provisions of said act, orders that:

(a) The accompanying system of accounts, entitled "Uniform System of Accounts Prescribed for Natural Gas Companies Subject to the Provisions of the Natural Gas Act," and the rules and regulations contained therein, be and they are hereby adopted;

(b) Said system of accounts and said rules and regulations contained therein be and the same are hereby prescribed and promulgated as the system of accounts and rules and regulations of the Commission to be kept and observed by natural gas companies subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, to the extent and in the manner set forth therein;

(c) Said system of accounts and rules and regulations therein contained shall, as to all natural gas companies now subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, become effective on January 1, 1940, and as to any natural-gas company which may hereafter become subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, they shall become effective as of the date when such natural gas company becomes subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission;

(d) A copy of said system of accounts and rules and regulations contained therein be forthwith served upon each person which may be subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission under the Natural Gas Act;

(e) The Secretary of the Commission shall cause this order and the system of accounts prescribed thereby to be forthwith published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 201.00–2 Authority under which accounting rules and regulations are prescribed. This uniform system of accounts for natural gas companies is issued and prescribed under the following provisions of the Natural Gas Act (52 Stat. 821 ff.; 15 U. S. C. 717–717w):

SEC. 8. (a) Every natural-gas company shall make, keep, and preserve for such periods, such accounts, records of cost-accounting procedures, correspondence, memoranda, papers, books, and other records as the Commission may by rules and regulations prescribe as necessary or appropriate for purposes of the administration of this act: Provided, however, That nothing in this act shall relieve any such natural-gas company from keeping any accounts, memoranda, or records which such natural-gas company may be required to keep by or under authority of the laws of any State. The Commission may prescribe a system of accounts to be kept by such natural-gas companies, and may classify such natural-gas companies and prescribe a system of accounts for each class. The Commission, after notice and opportunity for hearing, may determine by order the accounts in which particular outlays or recepits shall be entered, charged, or credited. The burden of proof to justify every accounting entry questioned by the Commission shall be on the person making, authorizing, or requiring such entry, and the Commission may suspend a charge or credit pending submission of satisfactory proof in support thereof.

SEC. 10. (a) Every natural-gas company shall file with the Commission such annual and other periodic or special reports as the Commission may by rules and regulations or order prescribe as necessary or appropriate to assist the Commission in the proper administration of this act. The Commission may prescribe the manner and form in which such reports shall be made, and require from such natural-gas companies specific answers to all questions upon which the Commission may need information. The Commission may require that such reports shall include, among other things, full information as to assets and liabilities, capitalization, investment and reduction thereof, gross receipts, interest due and paid, depreciation, amortization, and other reserves, cost of facilities, cost of maintenance and operation of facilities for the production, transportation, or sale of natural gas, cost of renewal and replacement of such facilities, transportation, delivery, use, and sale of natural gas. The Commission may require any such natural-gas company to make adequate provision for currently determining such costs and other facts. Such reports shall be made under oath unless the Commission otherwise specifies.

SEC. 16. The Commission shall have power to perform any and all acts, and to prescribe, issue, make, amend, and rescind such orders, rules, and regulations as it may find necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of this act. Among other things, such rules and regulations may define accounting, technical, and trade terms used in this act; and may prescribe the form or forms of all statements, declarations, applications, and reports to be filed with the Commission, the information which they shall contain, and the time within which they shall be filed. Unless a different date is specified therein, rules and regulations of the Commission shall be effective thirty days after publication in the manner which the Commission shall prescribe. Orders of the Commission shall be effective on the date and in the manner which the Commission shall prescribe. For the purposes of its rules and regulations, the Commission may classify persons and matters within its jurisdiction and prescribe different requirements for different classes of persons or matters. All rules and regulations of the Commission shall be filed with its secretary and shall be kept open in convenient form for public inspection and examination during reasonable business hours.

SEC. 2. When used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires—

(1) "Person" includes an individual or a corporation.

(2) "Corporation" includes any corporation, joint-stock company, partnership, association, business trust, organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, receiver or receivers, trustee or trustees of any of the foregoing, but shall not include municipalities as hereinafter defined.

(3) "Municipality" means a city, county, or other political subdivision or agency of a State.

(5) "Natural gas" means either natural gas unmixed, or any mixture of natural and artificial gas

(6) "Natural-gas company" means a person engaged in the transportation of natural gas in interstate commerce, or the sale in interst te commerce of such gas for resale.

(7) "Interstate commerce" means commerce between any point in a State and any point outside thereof, or between points within the same State but through any place outside thereof, but only insofar as such commerce takes place within the United States.

SEC. 6. (a) The Commission may investigate and ascertain the actual legitimate cost of the property of every natural-gas company, the depreciation therein, and, when found necessary for rate-making purposes, other facts which bear on the determination of such cost or depreciation and the fair value of such property.

(b) Every natural-gas company upon request shall file with the Commission an inventory of all or any part of its property and a statement of the original cost thereof, and shall keep the Commission informed regarding the cost of all additions, betterments, extensions, and new construction.

SEC. 20. (a) Whenever it shall appear to the Commission that any person is engaged or about to engage in any acts or practices which constitute or will constitute a violation of the provisions of this act, or of any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, it may in its discretion bring an action in the proper district court of the United States, the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, or the United States courts of any Territory or other place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, to enjoin such acts or practices and to enforce compliance with this act or any rule, regulation, or order thereunder, and upon a proper showing a permanent or temporary injunction or decree or restraining order shall be granted without bond. The Commission may transmit such evidence as may be available concerning such acts or practices or concerning apparent violations of the Federal antitrust laws to the Attorney General, who, in his discretion, may institute the necessary criminal proceedings.

(b) Upon application of the Commission the district courts of the United States, the District Court of the United States for the District of Columbia, and the United States courts of any Territory or other place subject to the jurisdiction of the United States shall have jurisdiction to issue writs of mandamus commanding any person to comply with the provisions of this act or any rule, regulation, or order of the Commission thereunder.

SEC. 21. (a) Any person who willfully and knowingly does or causes or suffers to be done any act, matter, or thing in this act prohibited or declared to be unlawful, or who willfully and knowingly omits or fails to do any act, matter, or thing in this act required to be done, or willfully and knowingly causes or suffers such omission or failure, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than $5,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

(b) Any person who willfully and knowingly violates any rule, regulation, restriction, condition, or order made or imposed by the Commission under authority of this act, shall, in addition to any other penalties provided by law, be punished upon conviction thereof by a fine of not exceeding $500 for each and every day during which such offense occurs.

DEFINITIONS

§ 201.01–1[1] "Accounts" means the accounts prescribed in this system of accounts.

§ 201.01–2 "Actually issued", as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which have been sold to bona-fide purchasers for a valuable consideration (including those issued in exchange for other securities or other property); also securities issued as dividends on stock, and those which have been issued in accordance with contractual requirements direct to trustees of sinking funds.

§ 201.01–3 "Actually outstanding", as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which have been actually issued and are neither retired nor held by or for the utility: Provided, however, That securities held by trustees shall be considered as actually outstanding.

§ 201.01–4 "Amortization" means the gradual extinguishment of an amount in an account by prorating such amount over a fixed period, over the life of the asset or liability to which it applies, or over the period during which it is anticipated the benefit will be realized.

§ 201.01–5A "Associated companies" means companies or persons that, directly or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, control, or are controlled by, or are under common control with, the accounting company.

§ 201.01–5B "Control" (including the terms "controlling", "controlled by", and "under common control with") means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a company, whether such power is exercised through one or more intermediary companies, or alone, or in conjunction with, or pursuant to an agreement, and whether such power is established through a majority or minority ownership or voting of securities, common directors, officers, or stockholders, voting trusts, holding trusts, associated companies, contract or any other direct or indirect means.

§ 201.01–6 "Book cost" means the amount at which property is recorded in these accounts without deduction of related reserves or other accounts. As applied to gas plant, "book cost" means the amount at which property is included in account 100:6 or in accounts 100:1 to 100:4.

§ 201.01–7 "Buildings." (See Gas plant instruction 10) § 201.3–10.)

§ 201.01–9 "Construction cost, components of." (See Gas plant instruction 5, § 201.3–5.)

§ 201.01–10 "Cost" means the amount of money actually paid for property or services or the cash value at the time of the transaction of any consideration other than money. (See, however, Gas plant instruction 3, § 201.3–3.)

§ 201.01–11 "Cost of removal" means the cost of demolishing, dismantling, tearing down, or otherwise removing gas plant, including the cost of transportation and handling incidental thereto.

§ 201.01–12 "Debt expense" means all expenses in connection with the issuance and initial sale of evidences of debt, such as fees for drafting mortgages and trust deeds; fees and taxes for issuing or recording evidences of debt; cost of engraving and printing bonds and certificates of indebtedness; fees paid trustees; specific costs of obtaining governmental authority; fees for legal services; fees and commissions paid underwriters, brokers, and salesmen for marketing such evidences of debt; fees and expenses of listing on exchanges; and other like costs.

§ 201.01–13 "Depletion", as applied to natural gas producing land and land rights, means the loss in service value incurred in connection with the exhaustion of the natural resource in the course of service.

§ 201.01–14 "Depreciation", as applied to depreciable gas plant, means the loss in service value not restored by current maintenance, incurred in connection with the consumption or prospective retirement of gas plant in the course of service from causes which are known to be in current operation and against which the utility is not protected by insurance. Among the causes to be given consideration are wear and tear, decay, action of the elements, inadequacy, obsolescence, changes in the art, changes in demand and requirements of public authorities, and, in the case of natural gas companies, the exhaustion of natural resources.

§ 201.01–15 "Discount", as applied to the securities issued or assumed by the utility, means the excess of the par (stated value of no par stocks) or face value of the securities plus interest or dividends accrued at the date of the sale over the cash value of the consideration received from their sale.

[1] In §§ 201.01–1 to 201.01–39, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the dash correspond with the respective definition numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 3–5. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., account 100:6, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.100:6).

§ 201.01–18 "Improvements." (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

§ 201.01–19 "Investment advances" means advances, represented by notes or by book accounts only, with respect to which it is mutually agreed or intended between the creditor and debtor that they shall be settled by the issuance of capital stock or long-term obligations, or shall not be subject to current settlement.

§ 201.01–20 "Land and land rights." (See Gas plant instruction 9, § 201.3–9.)

§ 201.01–21 "Minor items of property" means the associated parts or items of which units of property are composed.

§ 201.01–22 "Natural gas" means either natural gas unmixed, or any mixture of natural and artificial gas.

§ 201.01–23 "Natural gas company" means a person engaged in the transportation of natural gas in interstate commerce, or the sale in interstate commerce of such gas for resale.

§ 201.01–24 "Net book cost", when applied to gas plant means the book cost less related depreciation, amortization, and depletion reserves. When applied to other property, it means book cost less related reserves for loss in value.

§ 201.01–25 "Net original cost", as applied to gas plant, means the original cost less related depreciation, amortization, and depletion reserves.

§ 201.01–26 "Net salvage value" means the salvage value of property retired less the cost of removal.

§ 201.01–27 "Nominally issued", as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which have been signed, certified, or otherwise executed, and placed with the proper officer for sale and delivery, or pledged, or otherwise placed in some special fund of the utility, but which have not been sold or issued direct to trustees of sinking funds in accordance with contractual requirements.

§ 201.01–28 "Nominally outstanding", as applied to securities issued or assumed by the utility, means those which, after being actually issued have been reacquired by or for the utility under circumstances which require them to be considered as held alive and not retired; provided, however, that securities held by trustees shall be considered as actually outstanding.

§ 201.01–29 "Original cost", as applied to gas plant, means the cost of such property to the person first devoting it to public service.

§ 201.01–30 "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a partnership, an association, a joint-stock company, a business trust, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, or any receiver or trustee.

§ 201.01–31 "Premium", as applied to the securities issued or assumed by the utility, means the excess of the cash value of the consideration received from their sale over the sum of their par (stated value of no par stocks) or face value and interest or dividends accrued at the date of sale.

§ 201.01–32 "Property retired", as applied to gas plant, means property which has been removed, sold, abandoned, destroyed, or which for any cause has been withdrawn from gas service.

§ 201.01–33 "Replacing" or "replacement", when not otherwise indicated in the context, means the construction or installation of gas plant in place of property retired, together with the removal of the property retired.

§ 201.01–34 "Salvage value" means the amount received for property retired, less any expenses incurred in connection with the sale or in preparing the property for sale, or, if retained, the amount at which the material recoverable is chargeable to Account 131, Materials and Supplies, or other appropriate account.

§ 201.01–35 "Service value" means the difference between original cost and the net salvage value of gas plant.

§ 201.01–38 "Retirement units" means those items of gas plant which, when retired, with or without replacements, are accounted for by crediting the book cost thereof to the gas plant account in which included.

§ 201.01–39 "Utility", as used herein and when not otherwise indicated in the context, means any natural-gas company to which this system of accounts is applicable.

INSTRUCTIONS, GENERAL

§ 201.02–1[2] Classification of natural gas companies. (a) For the purpose of applying the system of accountts prescribed herein, natural gas companies are divided into four classes, as follows:

Class A. Natural gas companies having either (1) annual gas operating revenues of $750,000 or more, or (2) the original cost of whose gas plant amounts to $4,000,000 or more. Such natural gas companies shall keep all the accounts prescribed herein which are applicable to their operations.

Class B. Natural gas companies having annual gas operating revenues of more than $250,000 but less than $750,000 and the original cost of whose gas plant amounts to less than $4,000,000. Such natural gas companies shall keep all the accounts prescribed herein which are applicable to their operations, except those operating expense accounts in which the letter B does not appear in the prefix.

Class C. Natural gas companies having annual gas operating revenues of more than $100,000 but not more than $250,000. Such natural gas companies shall keep the accounts applicable to their operations which are prescribed in Appendix II.

Class D. Natural gas companies having annual gas operating revenues of more than $25,000 but not more than $100,000. Such natural gas companies shall keep the accounts applicable to their operations which are prescribed in Appendix II.

(b) The class to which any natural gas company belongs shall be determined by the average of its annual gas operating revenues for the last three consecutive years; provided, however, that if the original cost of gas utility plant amounts to $4,000,000 at the end of any year, such natural gas company shall be classified as a Class A natural gas company for the succeeding year.

(c) Any natural gas company may at its option adopt the system of accounts prescribed herein for any larger class of natural gas companies.

§ 201.02–2 Records. (a) Each natural gas company shall so keep its books of account, and all other books, records, and memoranda which support in any way the entries in such books of account, as to be able to furnish readily full information as to any item included in any account. Each entry shall be supported by such detailed information as will permit a ready identification, analysis, and verification of all of the facts relevant thereto.

(b) The books and records referred to herein include not only accounting records in a limited technical sense, but all other records such as minute books, stock books, reports, correspondence, memoranda, etc., which may be useful in developing the history of or facts regarding any transaction.

(c) No natural gas company shall destroy any books or records which support entries to its accounts, unless the destruction thereof is permitted by rules and regulations of the Commission. Until rules and regulations have been issued by the Commission, each natural gas company may continue its existing practice with respect to the retention or destruction of records.

(d) Subdivisions of any account in the system of accounts prescribed herein may be kept, provided that such subdivisions do not impair the integrity of the prescribed accounts. The titles of all such subdivisions or subaccounts shall refer by number or title to the account or accounts of which they are subdivisions.

(e) Clearing accounts, in addition to those prescribed, and temporary or experimental accounts may be kept, provided such additional accounts do not impair the integrity of the prescribed accounts.

(f) All charges to the accounts prescribed in this system for gas plant, operating revenues, and operating expenses shall be just and reasonable and any payments by a natural-gas company in excess of just and reasonable charges shall be included in Account 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions.

(g) The numbers prefixed to account titles are to be considered as part of the titles. Each natural gas company may, however, adopt a different system of account numbers, provided that the numbers herein prescribed shall appear in the descriptive headings of the ledger accounts.

§ 201.02–3 Accounting period. Each natural gas company shall keep its books on a monthly basis so that for each month all transactions applicable thereto, as nearly as may be ascertained, shall be entered in the books of the natural gas company. Unless otherwise authorized by the Commission, each natural gas company shall close its books at the end of each calendar year.

§ 201.02–4 Submission of questions. To maintain uniformity of accounting, natural gas companies shall submit questions of doubtful interpretation to the Commission for consideration and decision.

§ 201.02–5 Items list, interpretation of. Lists of "items" appearing in the texts of the accounts or elsewhere herein are for the purpose of more clearly indicating the application of the prescribed accounting The lists are intended to be representative, but not exhaustive. The appearance of an item in a list warrants the inclusion of the item in the account mentioned only when the text of the account also indicates inclusion, inasmuch as the same item frequently appears in more than one list. The proper entry in each instance must be determined by the texts of the accounts.

§ 201.02–6 Delayed items. (a) The term "delayed items" means items relating to transactions which occurred prior to the current calendar year but which were not recorded in the books of account in the prior year.

(b) Delayed items shall be charged or credited to the same accounts which would have been charged or credited if the items had not been delayed: Provided, That when the amount of a delayed item is relatively so large that its inclusion in the accounts for a single month seriously distort the accounts, it may be distributed in equal amounts to the accounts for the current and remaining months of the calendar year: And provided further, That if the amount of any delayed item is relatively so large that its inclusion in the accounts for a single year would seriously distort the accounts, the amount shall be distributed to the appropriate surplus account.

§ 201.02–7 Unaudited items. When, at the end of any year or at such other time as a financial statement may be required by the Commission, it is known that a transaction has occurred which affects the accounts, but the amount involved in the transaction and its effect upon the accounts cannot be determined with absolute accuracy, then the amount shall be estimated and such estimated amount included in the proper accounts. The natural gas company is not required to anticipate minor items which would not appreciably affect the accounts.

§ 201.02–8 Transactions with associated companies. Each natural gas company shall so keep its accounts and records as to be able to furnish accurately and expeditiously a statement of all transactions with associated companies. The statement may be required to show the general nature of the transactions, the amounts involved therein, and the amounts included in each account prescribed herein with respect to such transactions. Transactions with associated companies shall be recorded in the appropriate accounts for transactions of the same nature; provided, however, that charges by associated companies shall first be entered, if necessary, in Account 901, Charges by Associated Companies—Clearing. Nothing herein contained, however, shall be construed as restraining the utility from subdividing accounts for the purpose of recording separately transactions with associated companies.

§ 201.02–9 Depreciation, and amortization and depletion accounting. Each natural-gas company shall record as of the end of each month the estimated amount of depreciation or amortization and depletion accrued during that month on gas plant subject to charges for depreciation or amortization and depletion. (See Account 503.1, Depreciation; Account 250.1, Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant; Account 503.2, Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights; and Account 250.2, Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights.)

NOTE A: Depreciation or amortization and depletion expenses applicable to property included in Account 100:2 Gas Plant Leased to Others, shall be charged to Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others.

NOTE B: Depreciation applicable to transportation equipment shall be charged to Account 903, Transportation Expenses—Clearing, and depreciation on general tools and work equipment used in construction work shall be charged to the work or job benefited. The natural gas company may, at its option, distribute depreciation on the latter items through a clearing account and it may also, at its option, charge to clearing accounts, insofar as applicable, depreciation on structures and equipment. (See, however, Gas plant instruction 5, item 5, § 201.3-5 (e).)

§ 201.02–10 Distribution of pay and expenses of employees. The charges to gas plant, operating expense, and other accounts for services and expenses of employees engaged in activities chargeable to various accounts, such as construction and operations, shall be based upon the actual time engaged in the respective classes of work, or in case that method is impracticable, upon the basis of a study of the time actually engaged during a representative period.

§ 201.02–11 Records for each plant. Separate records shall be maintained by gas plant accounts of the book cost of each plant owned or operated and the cost of operating and maintaining each plant. The term "plant", as here used, means each gas production plant, each gathering system, each transmission main, and each compressor station other than distribution compressor station; provided, however, that the cost of operating and maintaining gas wells may be grouped to include all wells within one pool of gas. If a natural gas company operates more than one gathering system, or many transmission mains, or relatively small compressor stations, it may, with the approval of the Commission, group certain gathering systems, or certain transmission mains, or certain compressor stations for the purpose of complying with the portion of this instruction requiring a segregation of the cost of operating and maintaining each plant.

NOTE A: Where gas is produced by two or more processes at one location, each process shall be accounted for separately.

NOTE B: Each natural gas company shall maintain operating or accounting records for each well drilled showing (a) acreage on which drilled, (b) dates of drilling period, (c) cost of drilling, (d) depth of well, (e) particulars and depth of each stratum drilled through, (f) geological formation from which gas obtained, (g) initial rock pressure and open flow capacity, (h) sizes of casing used and the lengths of each size, (i) total cost of well as recorded in gas plant accounts, (j) date well abandoned, for wells once productive, and (k) date drilling discontinued, for wells determined to be non-productive. The foregoing data, as appropriate, shall also be maintained for each subsequent change in the depth of each well.

§ 201.02–12 Accounting for other departments. This system of accounts is designed for use by natural-gas companies. If the natural gas company, in addition to its gas operations, operates other departments, it shall keep such accounts for the other departments as may be prescribed by proper authority, and in the absence of prescribed accounts, it shall keep such accounts as are proper or necessary to reflect the results of operating each such other department. It is not intended that proprietary and similar accounts which apply to the utility as a whole shall be departmentalized.

INSTRUCTIONS, BALANCE SHEET ACCOUNTS

§ 201.1–1[2] Purpose of balance sheet accounts. The balance sheet accounts are intended to disclose the financial condition of the natural gas company as of a given date by showing its assets and other debits, and liabilities, capital stock, surplus (or deficit), and other credits.

§ 201.1–2 Current and accrued assets. (a) Current and accrued assets are cash, those assets which are readily convertible into cash or are held for current use in operations or construction, current claims against others, payment of which is resonably assured, and amounts accruing to the utility which are subject to current settlement, except such items for which accounts other than those designated as current and accrued assets are provided.

(b) There shall not be included in the group of accounts designated as current and accrued assets any item, the amount or collectibility of which is not reasonably assured, unless an adequate reserve has been provided therefor. Items of current character but of doubtful value may be written down and for record purposes carried in these accounts at nominal value.

Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 538, instead of corresponding section number (§ 201.538).

§ 201.1–3 Current and accrued liabilities. (a) Current and accrued liabilities are those obligations which have either matured at the date of the balance sheet or which become due within 1 year from the date thereof; except, however, bonds, receivers' certificates, and similar obligations which shall be classified as long-term debt until date of maturity; accrued taxes, such as income taxes, which shall be classified in the balance sheet as accrued liabilities even though payable more than 1 year from the balance sheet date; compensation awards, which shall be classified as current liabilities regardless of date due; and minor amounts payable in installments which may be classified as current liabilities.

(b) If a liability is due more than 1 year from date of issuance or assumption by the utility, it shall be credited to a long-term debt account appropriate for the transaction, except, however, the current liabilities mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section; but, for the purpose of classification in the balance sheet, a debt, except bonds, receivers' certificates, and similar obligations, shall be classified as a current and accrued liability if due within 1 year from the balance sheet date.

§ 201.1–4 Book cost of securities owned. (a) Securities of others acquired by the utility shall be recorded in these accounts at cost at the time of acquisition. Cost does not include any amount paid for accrued interest, or dividends.

(b) The utility may write down the book cost of any security in recognition of a decline in the value thereof. Securities shall be written off or written down to a nominal value if there be no reasonable prospect of substantial value. Fluctuations in market value shall not be recorded, but a permanent impairment in the value of the securities shall be recognized in the accounts. When securities are written off or written down, the amount of the adjustment shall be charged to Account 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions, or to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or to an appropriate reserve account.

(c) When securities with a fixed maturity date are purchased at a discount (that is, when the total cost, including brokerage fees, taxes, commissions, etc., is less than par), such discount may be amortized over the remaining life of the securities through periodic debits to the account in which the securities are carried (preferably coincident with entries recording interest accruals) and credits to the same account in which the interest revenue is credited. No debits shall be made in respect to discount upon securities held as investments or in special funds if there is reason to believe that such securities will be disposed of by redemption or otherwise at less than par or will not be paid at date of maturity.

(d) When securities with a fixed maturity date are purchased at a premium (that is, when the total cost, including brokerage fees, taxes, commissions, etc., is in excess of par), such premiums may be amortized over the remaining life of the securities through periodic credits to the account in which the securities are carried (preferably coincident with entries recording interest accruals) and debits to the same account in which the interest revenue is recorded.

§ 201.1–5 Discount, expense, and premium on capital stock. (a) This system of accounts provides separate accounts for discount, expense, and premium on capital stock. These accounts shall be subdivided for each class and series of capital stock issued by the utility. Expenses applicable to capital stock shall not be added to capital stock discount nor deducted from premium on capital stock.

(b) In stating the balance sheet, discount and expense and premium shall not be set off against each other.

(c) General levies or assessments against stockholders shall be credited to the premium account for the particular class and series of capital stock so assessed.

(d) Discount and expense on capital stock may be charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, in total or in installments, or the amounts thereof may be retained in accounts 150 and 151 until the stock to which the discount and expense apply is reacquired or retired.

(e) When capital stock which has been actually issued by the utility is reacquired or retired, Account 150, Discount on Capital Stock, and Account 151, Capital Stock Expense, shall be credited with any amounts included therein which are applicable to such stock, and Account 203, Premiums and Assessments on Capital Stock, shall be debited with the amount of any unamortized premium similarly included therein. Balance Sheet Account 152, Reacquired Capital Stock, or the appropriate capital stock account, if the stock is being retired, shall be debited with the par or stated value of the reacquired or retired stock (for no par stock without stated value the debit shall be the amount at which included in the capital stock account). Any difference remaining between the amounts of the foregoing debits and credits and the amount paid for the stock plus expenses incurred in its reacquisition shall be debited or credited, as the case may be, to Account 270, Capital Surplus, unless, in the case of a debit, the amount thereof exceeds the net accumulated credit in Capital Surplus Account 270 arising from previous reacquisition or retirement of capital stock, in which event, the debit in excess of such accumulated credit shall be made to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

§ 201.1–6 Discount, expense, and premium on long-term debt. (a) A discount, expense, and premium account shall be maintained for each class and series of long-term debt (including receivers' certificates) issued or assumed by the utility, in which shall be recorded the discount, expense, and premium associated with the issuance and sale of each such class and series of debt.

(b) In stating the balance sheet, the total of the debit balances remaining in those accounts having debit balances shall be reported under Account 140, Unamortized Debt Discount and Expense, and the total of the credit balances remaining in those accounts having credit balances shall be reported under Account 240, Unamortized Premium on Debt. Accounts with debit balances shall not be set off by accounts with credit balances.

(c) The discount, expense, and premium referred to above shall be amortized over the life of the respective issues under such a plan as will equitably distribute the amounts over the life of the securities. The amortization shall be on a monthly basis, and the amounts thereof shall be charged to Account 531, Amortization of Debt Discount and Expense, or credited to Account 532, Amortization of Premium on Debt—Credit, as may be appropriate. The utility may, however, accelerate the writing off of discount and expense by charges to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

(d) When any long-term debt is reacquired or redeemed without being converted into another form of long-term debt and when the transaction is not in connection with a refunding operation, the difference between the amount paid upon reacquirement and the par or face value plus the unamortized premium or less the unamortized discount and expense, as the case may be, applicable to the debt reacquired or redeemed, shall be debited to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or credited to Account 401, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, as appropriate.

(e) When the redemption of one issue or series of bonds or other long-term obligations is financed by another issue or series before the date of maturity of the first issue, any unamortized discount, expense, or premium on the first issue and any premium paid or discount earned on reacquirement shall be debited or credited, as appropriate, to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or Account 401, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus; provided, however, that if the utility desires to amortize any of the discount, expense, or premium associated with the issuance or redemption of the first issue over a period subsequent to the date of redemption, the permission of the Commission must be obtained.

(f) Discount, expense, or premium on debt shall not be included as part of the cost of constructing or acquiring any property, tangible or intangible, except under the provisions of Gas plant instruction 5. (§ 201.3–5.)

§ 201.1–7 Contingent assets and liabilities. Contingent assets represent a possible source of value to the utility contingent upon the fulfillment of conditions regarded as uncertain. Contingent liabilities include items which may, under certain conditions, become obligations of the utility but which are neither direct nor assumed liabilities at the date of the balance sheet. The utility shall be prepared to give a complete statement of contingent assets and liabilities (including cumulative dividends on preference stock) in its annual report and at such other times as may be requested by the Commission.

§ 201.1–8 Company securities owned. Securities actually issued or assumed by the company which have been reacquired shall be either retired or carried in Account 152, Reacquired Capital Stock, or Account 153, Reacquired Long-term Debt, unless it is required by provision of a mortgage, or by decision of a trustee not subject to control by the accounting company, that they be retained alive in sinking or other funds. When so retained, they shall be considered as actually outstanding, but not otherwise.

§ 201.1–9 Nominally issued securities. (a) Each utility shall maintain, in addition to the capital stock and bond accounts shown in the balance sheet, memorandum debit and credit accounts for securities which have been nominally, but not actually, issued.

(b) When nonpar stock is nominally issued, the number of shares issued shall be shown in the memorandum accounts.

(c) Subdivisions shall be maintained under the memorandum accounts for each class of security.

BALANCE SHEET ACCOUNTS

ASSETS AND OTHER DEBITS

Utility Plant

§ 201.100 * Gas plant. There shall be reported by this caption the balances in accounts 100:1, 100:2, 100:3, 100:4, 100:5, and 100:6.

§ 201.100:1 Gas plant in service. (a) This account shall include the original cost of gas plant, included in accounts 301 to 390, together with the amounts recorded in accounts 391 and 392, owned and used by the utility in its gas operations, including such property owned by the utility but held by nominees.

(b) The cost of additions to and betterments of property leased from others shall be recorded in this account, but such cost shall be maintained in subdivisions entirely separate and distinct from those relating to owned property. (See Gas plan instruction 7, § 201.3–7.)

§ 201.100:2 Gas plant leased to others. (a) This account shall include the original cost of gas plant owned by the utility, but leased to others as operating units or systems, where the lessee has exclusive possession.

(b) The property included in this account shall be classified according to the detailed accounts (301 to 392) for gas plant in service (account 100:1), and this account shall be maintained in such detail as though the property were used by the utility in its gas operations.

§ 201.100:3 Construction work in progress. This account shall include the total of the balances of work orders for gas plant in process of construction but not ready for service at the date of the balance sheet.

NOTE: If a project, such as a gas production plant, is designed to consist of two or more units which may be placed in service at different dates, any expenditures which are common to and which will be used in the operation of the project as a whole shall be included in gas plant in service upon the completion and the readiness for service of the first unit. Any expenditures which are identified exclusively with units of property not yet in service shall be included in this account.

§ 201.100:4 Gas plant held for future use. (a) This account shall include the original cost of property owned and held for use in gas service under a definite plan for such use. There shall be included herein property acquired but never used by the utility in gas service, but held for such service in the future under a definite plan, and property previously used by the utility in gas service, but retired from such service and held pending its reuse in the future, under a definite plan, in gas service. This includes land and land rights held to insure a future supply of natural gas. (See Gas plant instruction 9–I, § 201.3–9 (i).)

(b) The property included in this account shall be classified according to the detailed accounts (301 to 392) for gas plant in service and the account shall be maintained in such manner and in such detail as though the property were in service.

NOTE A: Materials and supplies, meters, and house regulators held in reserve shall not be included in this account.

NOTE B: Include in this account natural gas wells shut in after construction which have not been connected with the line; also natural gas wells which have been connected with the line but which are shut in for any reason excepting seasonal excess capacity or governmental proration requirements or for repairs.

§ 201.100:5 Gas plant acquisition adjustments. (a) This account shall include the difference between (1) the cost to the accounting utility of gas plant acquired as an operating unit or system by purchase, merger, consolidation, liquidation, or otherwise, and (2) the original cost, estimated if not known, of such property, less the amount or amounts which may be credited to the depreciation, and amortization and depletion reserves of the accounting utility at the time of acquisition with respect to such property. The account shall be so subdivided, when practicable, as to show the amounts applicable to gas plant in service, gas plant leased to others, and gas plant held for future use. (See Gas plant instructions 2, 3, and 4, §§ 201.3–2, 201.3–3 and 201.3–4.)

(b) Whenever practicable, this account shall be subdivided according to the character of the amounts included herein for each property acquisition.

(c) The amounts recorded in this account with respect to each property acquisition shall be depreciated, amortized, or otherwise disposed of, as the Commission may approve or direct.

§ 201.100:6 Gas plant in process of reclassification. (a) There shall be closed to this account the book cost of gas plant (formerly called "fixed capital" in many systems of accounts) as of the effective date hereof. The detail or primary accounts in support of this account employed prior to such date shall be continued pending reclassification into the gas plant accounts herein prescribed (301–392), but shall not be used for additions, betterments, or new construction.

(b) No charges other than as provided in paragraph (a) above shall be made to this account, but retirements of gas plant owned as of the effective date hereof shall be credited hereto and to the supporting (old) fixed capital accounts until the reclassification shall have been accomplished.

§ 201.107. Gas plant adjustments. (a) This account shall include the difference between the original cost, estimated if not known, and the book cost of gas plant, at the effective date of this system of accounts, to the extent that such difference is not properly includible in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments. Write-ups of gas plant prior to the effective date of this system of accounts shall be recorded herein.

(b) The amounts included in this account shall be classified in such manner as to show the nature of each amount included herein and shall be disposed of as the Commission may approve or direct.

NOTE: The provisions of this account shall not be construed as approving or authorizing the recording of appreciation of gas plant.

§ 201.108 Other utility plant. There shall be included under this caption the balances in accounts for utility plant, other than gas plant, such as water, railway, etc.

Investment and Fund Accounts

§ 201.110 Other physical property. (a) This account shall include the cost to the utility of land, structures, and equipment owned by the utility, but not used in gas service and not properly includible in Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, or in Account 108, Other Utility Plant.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the nature and cost of each kind of property, from whom it was acquired, its location, and its use.

§ 201.111 Investments in associated companies. There shall be reported by this caption the amounts included in accounts 111:1 and 111:3.

§ 201.111:1 Investments in securities of associated companies. (a) This account shall include the book cost of the utility's investment in securities issued or assumed by associated companies and held as permanent or long-term investments.

(b) The account shall be maintained in such manner as to show each class of investment in each associated company.

NOTE: Securities of associated companies owned and pledged shall be included in this account but such securities if held in special deposits or in special funds shall be included in the appropriate deposit or fund account. A complete record of securities pledged shall be maintained.

* In §§ 201.100 to 201.271, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point (except that a colon has been substituted in each instance where a decimal point was used in the original account number) correspond with the respective account numbers in the Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 16–35. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 100:1, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.100:1).

§ 201.111:2 Advances to associated companies. (a) This account shall include the amount of investment advances to associated companies and interest accrued on such advances when such interest is not subject to current settlement. (See Account 126, Receivables from Associated Companies.)

(b) The account shall be maintained in such manner as to show the advances to each associated company.

NOTE A: Balances in open accounts with associated companies which are subject to current settlement shall be excluded from this account and included in Account 126:2, Accounts Receivable from Associated Companies.

NOTE B: Advances made to associated companies without expectation of reimbursement shall be charged to Account 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions.

§ 201.112 Other investments. (a) This account shall include the book cost of the utility's investment in securities issued or assumed by nonassociated companies, investment advances to such companies, and any investments not accounted for elsewhere. Securities held as temporary cash investments shall not be included in this account.

(b) The records shall be maintained in such manner as to show the amount of each investment and the investment advances to each person.

NOTE: Securities owned and pledged shall be included in this account, but securities held in special deposits or in special funds shall be included in the appropriate deposit or fund account. A complete record of securities pledged shall be maintained.

§ 201.113 Sinking funds. This account shall include the assets held in sinking funds. A separate account, with appropriate title, shall be kept for each sinking fund.

NOTE: Nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing a utility from transferring applicable sinking or other funds to Acount 121.3, Miscellaneous Special Deposits, for the purpose of paying matured sinking fund obligations, or obligations called for redemption but not presented, or the interest thereon.

§ 201.114 Miscellaneous special funds. There shall be reported by this caption the amounts included in accounts 114:1 and 114:2.

§ 201.114:1 Depreciation fund. This account shall include the assets which have been segregated in a special fund for the purpose of identifying such assets with the reserve for depreciation.

§ 201.114:2 Other special funds. This account shall include assets which have been segregated in special funds for insurance, employees' pensions, savings, relief, hospital, and other purposes not provided for elsewhere. A separate acount, with appropriate title, shall be kept for each fund.

NOTE: Amounts deposited with a trustee under the terms of an irrevocable trust agreement for pensions or other employees' benefits shall not be included in this account.

Current and Accrued Assets

§ 201.120 Cash. This account shall include the utility's current cash funds except working funds. (See Account 122, Working Funds.)

§ 201.121 Special deposits. There shall be reported by this caption the amounts included in accounts 121:1, 121:2, and 121:3.

§ 201.121:1 Interest special deposits. Special deposits with fiscal agents or others for the payment of interest shall be charged to this account. When interest is paid from the deposits the amount shall be credited to this account and charged to the appropriate accrued interest account.

§ 201.121:2 Dividend special Deposits. Special deposits with fiscal agents and others for the payment of dividends on behalf of the utility shall be charged to this account. When dividends are paid from these deposits, the amount thereof shall be credited to this account and charged to the appropriate dividends payable account.

§ 201.121:3 Miscellaneous special deposits. Special deposits with fiscal agents or others for special purposes other than the payment of interest and dividends shall be charged to this account. Such special deposits may include cash deposited with Federal, State, or municipal authorities as a guaranty for the fulfillment of obligations; cash deposited with trustees to be held until mortgaged property sold, destroyed, or otherwise disposed of, is replaced; and also cash realized from the sale of the accounting utility's securities and deposited with trustees to be held until invested in property of the utility, etc. When the purposes of such deposits are satisfied and the deposits are released, this account shall be credited with the amount released. Entries to this account shall specify the purpose for which the deposit is made.

NOTE A: The foregoing special deposit accounts shall not include any assets available for general purposes.

NOTE B: Deposits for more than one year not offset by current liabilities shall not be charged to this account but to Account 112, Other Investments.

§ 201.122 Working funds. This account shall include cash advanced to officers, agents, employees, and others as petty cash or working funds.

§ 201.123 Temporary cash investments. (a) This account shall include the book cost of investments, such as demand and time loans, bankers' acceptances, United States Treasury certificates, marketable securities, and other similar investments, acquired for the purpose of temporarily investing cash.

(b) This account shall be so maintained as to show:

Temporary Cash Investments—Associated Companies.

Temporary Cash Investments—Other.

NOTE: If any of the temporary investments are pledged, proper record of such pledged investments shall be kept.

§ 201.124 Notes receivable. This account shall include the book cost, not includible elsewhere, of all collectible obligations in the form of notes receivable and similar evidences (except interest coupons) of money due on demand or within one year from the date of issue.

NOTE A: This account shall not include notes receivable from associated companies. (See Account 126:1, Notes Receivable from Associated Companies.)

NOTE B: The amount of notes receivable discounted, sold or transferred, unless transferred without recourse, shall not be credited to this account but to Account 221, Notes Receivable Discounted.

§ 201.125 Accounts receivable. There shall be reported by this caption the balances in accounts 125:1 and 125:2.

§ 201.125:1 Accounts receivable—customers. (a) This account shall include amounts due from customers for utility services, including merchandising, jobbing, and contract work. This account shall not include amounts due from associated companies.

(b) This account shall be kept in such manner as to permit the ascertainment within a reasonable time of the amounts due for each utility service, including merchandising, jobbing, and contract work as a separate service.

§ 201.125:2 Other accounts receivable. (a) This account shall include amounts owing the utility upon the accounts with concerns or individuals, other than associated companies, and customers for utility services and for merchandising, jobbing, and contract work.

(b) This account shall be maintained in such manner as to show separately the amounts due from officers and employees, but the account shall not include amounts advanced to officers or others as working funds. (See Account 122, Working Funds.)

§ 201.126 Receivables from associated companies. (a) This account shall include the debit balances subject to current settlement in open accounts with associated companies, and notes and drafts upon which associated companies are liable and which mature and are expected to be paid in full not later than one year from date of issuance, together with itnerest thereon. Items which do not bear a specified due date but which have been carried for more than 90 days and items which are not paid within 90 days from due date shall be transferred to Account 111, Investments in Associated Companies.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

126:1 Notes Receivable from Associated Companies.

126:2 Accounts Receivable from Associated Companies.

NOTE A: On the balance sheet, accounts receivable from an associated company may be set off against accounts payable to the same company.

NOTE B: The face amount of notes receivable discounted or sold without releasing the company from liability as endorser thereon, shall not be credited to this account, but to Account 221, Notes Receivable Discounted.

§ 201.127 Subscriptions to capital stock. (a) This account shall include the balance due from subscribers upon legally enforceable subscriptions to capital stock of the utility.

(b) The amount of each subscription shall be charged to this account at the time the subscription is accepted, and concurrently there shall be credited to Account 204, Capital Stock Subscribed, the par value, in the case of stock having par value, and the stated value, in the case of stock without par value, of the stock subscribed. The difference, if any, between the above amounts shall be debited or credited, as appropriate, to Account 150, Discount on Capital Stock, or Account 203, Premiums and Assessments on Capital Stock. If nonpar stock has no stated value, the entire subscription price shall be credited to Account 204, Capital Stock Subscribed.

§ 201.128 Interest and dividends receivable. This account shall include the amount of interest on bonds, mortgages, notes, commercial paper, loans, open accounts, deposits, etc., and the amount of dividends receivable on stocks owned.

NOTE A: Interest and dividends receivable from associated companies shall be included in Account 126:2, Accounts Receivable from Associated Companies.

NOTE B: Interest which is not subject to current settlement shall be included in the account in which is carried the principal on which the interest is accrued.

§ 201.129 Rents receivable. This account shall include rents receivable or accrued on property rented or leased by the utility to others.

NOTE: Rents receivable from associated companies shall be included in Account 126.2, Accounts Receivable from Associated Companies.

§ 201.130 Accrued utility revenues. This account may include the estimated amount accrued to the utility for service rendered, but not billed, as of the end of any accounting period. (The use of this account is optional.)

NOTE: In case the utility accrues unbilled revenues, it shall likewise accrue unbilled expenses, such as for the purchase of gas.

§ 201.131 Materials and supplies. There shall be reported under this caption the total of the amounts in accounts 131:1 and 131:2.

§ 201.131:1 Materials and supplies—gas. (a) This account shall include the cost of unissued small tools and unapplied materials and supplies (including fuel) held primarily for use in the gas business. The cost shall include, when practicable, the purchase price at the point of free delivery, plus customs duties, excise and other taxes on purchases, insurance, costs of inspection, special tests prior to acceptance, loading and unloading, transportation, and other directly assignable charges.

(b) Inward transportation charges for materials as far as practicable shall be included as a part of the cost of the particular material to which they relate. When not so included, they shall be charged to Account 902, Stores Expenses—Clearing.

(c) Cash or other discounts on materials shall be deducted, when practicable, in determining the cost of the particular material, or credited to the account to which the material is charged. Discounts which are not so handled shall be credited to Account 902, Stores Expenses—Clearing.

(d) Materials recovered in connection with construction, maintenance, or the retirement of property shall be charged to this account as follows:

(1) Reusable materials consisting of large individual items shall be included in this account at original cost, estimated if not known, except that stores loading and similar costs shall not be duplicated. The cost of repairing such items shall be charged to the account appropriate for the previous use. (See also Gas plant instruction 5, item 5, 201.3–5 (5).)

(2) Reusable materials consisting of relatively small items, the identity of which (from the date of original installation to the final abandonment or sale thereof) cannot be ascertained without undue refinement in accounting shall be included in this account at current prices new for such items. The cost of repairing such items shall be charged to the appropriate expense account as indicated by previous use.

(3) Scrap and nonusable materials included in this account shall be carried at the estimated net amount realizable therefrom. The difference between the amounts realized for scrap and nonusable materials sold and the net amount at which the materials were carried in this account, as far as practicable, shall be adjusted to the accounts credited when the materials were charged to this account.

(e) Inventories of materials, supplies, fuel, etc., shall be taken at least annually and the necessary adjustments shall be made to bring this account into harmony with the actual inventories. In effecting the adjustments, large differences which can be assigned to important classes of materials shall be equitably adjusted among the accounts to which such classes of materials have been charged since the previous inventory. Other differences shall be equitably apportioned among the accounts to which materials have been charged, or included in Account 902, Stores Expenses—Clearing.

NOTE A: Interest on material bills, the payment of which has been delayed, shall be charged to Account 535, Other Interest Charges.

NOTE B: There shall not be included in this account materials, supplies, and equipment held primarily for merchandising, jobbing, and contract work or for use in departments other than the gas department. See account 131.2.)

§ 201.131:2 Materials and supplies—other. This account shall include the cost of all materials and supplies held primarily for merchandising, jobbing, and contract work or for use in departments other than the gas department.

§ 201.132 Prepayments. This account shall include amounts representing prepayments of insurance, rents, taxes, interest, and miscellaneous items, and shall be kept or supported in such manner as to disclose the amount of each class of prepayments.

§ 201.133 Other current and accrued assets. (a) This account shall include current and accrued assets of the general nature defined in accounts 120 to 132, inclusive, but not properly includible in any of those accounts.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept as to show the nature of each class of assets included herein.

Deferred Debits

§ 201.140 Unamortized debt discount and expense. This caption shall include the total of the debit balances, of those accounts having debit balances, of the discount, expense, and premium accounts, for all classes of long-term debt. (See Balance sheet instruction 6, § 201.1–6.)

§ 201.141 Extraordinary property losses. (a) This account shall include, when so authorized or directed by the Commission, losses in service value of property abandoned or otherwise retired from service which are not provided for by the depreciation or other reserves and which could not reasonably have been foreseen and provided for. It shall include, also, when so authorized or directed by the Commission, extraordinary losses, such as unforseen damages to property which could not reasonably have been anticipated and which are not covered by reserves or by insurance.

(b) The entire loss in service value of property retired which is subject to charges for depreciation or amortization and depletion shall be charged to the depreciation or amortization and depletion reserve as appropriate. If all, or a portion, of the loss in service value is to be included in this account, the depreciation or amortization and depletion reserve shall then be credited and this account charged with the amount properly chargeable hereto.

(c) This account shall be so maintained that convenient itemization may be made of all amounts included herein.

(d) Before making any entries to this account, the utility shall obtain the approval of the Commission. Application for permission to use the account shall be accompanied by a statement or statements giving a complete explanation of the nature and cause of the property loss together with a description of the property, its location, the original cost thereof, classified in accordance with the prescribed gas plant accounts, the cost to the utility, the amount of intangible value carried in the accounts with respect to such property, the amount at which the property is retired or to be retired, the amount, if any, chargeable to the depreciation or other reserves (showing cost thus chargeable, salvage, and cost of removal), the amount it is proposed to include in this account, the period over which and the accounts to which it is proposed to write off the loss, and a copy of any statement or statements made or planned to be made to a trustee under a mortgage or other indenture with respect to the property.

§ 201.142:1 Preliminary natural gas survey and investigation charges. (a) This account shall be charged with all expenditures for preliminary surveys, plans, investigations, etc., made for the purpose of determining the feasibility of acquiring land and land rights to provide a future supply of natural gas. If such land or land rights are acquired, this account shall be credited and the appropriate gas plant account (see Gas plant instruction 9–I, § 201.3–9 (i)) charged with the amount of the expenditures related to such acquisition. If the project is abandoned, the expenditures related thereto shall be charged to Account 513, Other Exploration Costs.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish, for each investigation, complete information as to the identification and location of territory investigated, the number or other identification assigned to the land tract or leasehold acquired, and the nature and respective amounts of the charges.

NOTE: The amount of preliminary survey and investigation charges transferred to gas plant shall not exceed the expenditures which may reasonably be determined to contribute directly and immediately and without duplication to gas plant.

§ 201.142:2 Other preliminary survey and investigation charges. (a) This account shall be charged with all expenditures for preliminary surveys, plans, investigations, etc., made for the purpose of determining the feasibility of projects under contemplation other than the acquisition of land and land rights to provide a future supply of natural gas. If construction results, this account shall be credited and the appropriate gas plant account charged. If the work is abandoned, the charge shall be to Account 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions, or Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, unless otherwise authorized or directed by the Commission.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish complete information as to the nature and purpose of the survey, plans, or investigations, and the nature and respective amounts of the charges.

NOTE: The amount of preliminary survey and investigation charges transferred to gas plant shall not exceed the expenditures which may reasonably be determined to contribute directly and immediately and without duplication to gas plant.

§ 201.143 Clearing accounts. This caption shall include undistributed balances in clearing accounts (see accounts 901 to 906) at the date of the balance sheet. Balances in clearing accounts shall be substantially cleared not later than the end of the calendar year unless items held therein relate to a future period.

§ 201.144 Retirement work in progress. This account shall include the total of the balances of work orders for the retirement of gas plant. The amount to be credited to gas plant shall be charged to this account at the date the property is retired from service, and the cost of removal shall be charged to the account as incurred. Credits for salvage and insurance recovered shall be made to this account. Each work order shall be closed to Account 250:1, Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant, or other appropriate reserve, upon completion of the removal, in such a manner as to record separately in the reserve the original cost of plant retired, the cost of removal, and the salvage or insurance recovered.

§ 201.145 Other work in progress. This account shall include the total of the balances in open work or job orders for work in progress, other than that includible in Account 100:3, Construction Work in Progress, and Account 144, Retirement Work in Progress.

§ 201.146 Other deferred debits. (a) This account shall include all debits, not elsewhere provided for, the proper final disposition of which is uncertain, and unusual or extraordinary expenses, not included in other accounts, which are in process of amortization.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish full information as to each deferred debit included herein.

Capital Stock Discount and Expense

§ 201.150 Discount on capital stock. (a) There shall be reported by this caption all balances in the accounts for discount on capital stock.

(b) The accounts hereunder shall be kept in such manner as to show separately the discount on each class and series of capital stock. (See Balance sheet instruction 5, § 201.1–5.)

(c) The utility may amortize the balance carried in this account by charges to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

§ 201.151 Capital stock expense. (a) This account shall include all commissions and expenses incurred in connection with the original issuance and sale of capital stock, including additional capital stock of a certain class or series as well as first issues.

(b) When any issue of capital stock, or portion thereof, has been retired, there shall be credited to this account the balance herein in respect of such retired stock. (See Balance sheet instruction 5, § 201.1–5.)

(c) The utility may amortize the balance carried in this account by charges to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

NOTE: There shall not be included in this account expenses in connection with the reacquisition or resale of the utility's capital stock.

Reacquired Securities

§ 201.152 Reacquired capital stock. (a) This account shall include the par value of capital stock actually issued by the utility and reacquired by it and not retired or cancelled, except, however, stock which is held by trustees in sinking or other funds. Stock without par value shall be included in this account at the proportionate amount at which the particular class and series of stock is included in Account 200, Common Capital Stock, or Account 201, Preferred Capital Stock.

(b) The difference between the amount at which capital stock is included in this account and the amount paid by the utility for such stock, including commissions and expenses paid in connection with the reacquisition, shall be debited or credited at the time of acquisition, to Account 270, Capital Surplus, provided, however, that debits shall be charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, if the amounts thereof exceed the balance in capital surplus; and provided further, that in no event shall debits in excess of accumulated credits from the reacquirement and sale of reacquired capital stock be charged to capital surplus. (See Balance sheet instruction 5, § 201.1–5.)

(c) When reacquired capital stock is resold by the utility, the par value (or amount included in this account for stock without par value) of the stock resold shall be credited to this account and the difference between such amount and the amount received by the utility from the resale, less commissions and expenses incurred in the resale, shall be accounted for as outlined in paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) This account shall be maintained or supported in such manner as to show the amount applicable to each class and series of stock.

§ 201.153. Reacquired long-term debt. (a) This account shall include the par or face value of bonds or other long-term debt actually issued or assumed by the utility and reacquired by it and held under conditions which do not permit the utility to treat such securities as paid, retired, or canceled but which permit the resale of the securities. It shall not include securities which are held by trustees in sinking or other funds.

(b) When the securities are reacquired, the difference between par or face value, adjusted for unamortized discount, expense, or premium, and the amount paid upon reacquisition, shall be debited or credited, as appropriate, to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or Account 401, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus. (See Balance sheet instruction 6, § 201.1–6.)

(c) This account shall be maintained or supported in such manner as to show the amount applicable to each class and series of long-term debt.

LIABILITIES AND OTHER CREDITS

Capital Stock

§ 201.200 Common capital stock.

§ 201.201 Preferred capital stock. (a) These accounts shall include the par value, the stated value of stock without par value if such stock has a stated value, and if not, the cash value of the consideration received for such nonpar stock, of each class of capital stock actually issued and actually outstanding, and also the capital stock in Account 152, Reacquired Capital Stock.

(b) When the actual cash value of the consideration received is more or less than the par or stated value of any stock having a par or stated value, the difference shall be credited or debited, as the case may be, to the discount or premium account for the particular class and series.

(c) When capital stock is retired and canceled, these accounts shall be charged with the amount at which such stock is carried herein.

(d) A separate ledger account, with a descriptive title, shall be maintained for each class or series of stock. The supporting records shall show the shares nominally issued, actually issued, and nominally outstanding.

NOTE: When a levy or assessment, except a call for payment on subscriptions, is made against holders of capital stock, the amount collected upon such levy or assessment shall be credited to Account 203, premiums and Assessments on Capital Stock.

§ 201.202 Stock liability for conversion. (a) This account shall include the par value, the stated value of stock without par value if such stock has a stated value, and if not, the cash value of the consideration for such nonpar stock, of capital stock which the utility has agreed to exchange for outstanding securities of other companies in connection with the acquisition of properties of such companies under terms which allow the holders of the securities of the other companies to surrender such securities and receive in return therefor capital stock of the accounting utility.

(b) When the securities of the other companies have been surrendered, this account shall be charged and Account 200, Common Capital Stock, or Account 201, Preferred Capital Stock, as the case may be, will be credited.

(c) The records shall be so kept as to show separately the stocks of different classes and series for which liability may exist.

§ 201.203 Premiums and assessments on capital stock. (a) This account shall include the excess of the actual cash value of the consideration received over the par or stated value and accrued dividends, of stock issued, together with assessments against stockholders representing payments required in excess of par or stated values.

(b) A separate account shall be maintained for premiums and assessments on each class and series of stock.

(c) When capital stock is retired and canceled, the amount in this account with respect to the shares of such stock retired and canceled shall be debited hereto. (See Balance sheet instruction 5, § 201.1–5.)

§ 201.204 Capital stock subscribed. (a) This account shall include the amount of legally enforceable subscriptions to capital stock of the utility. It shall be credited with the par or stated value, or with the subscription price, in the case of stock without par or stated value, exclusive of accrued dividends, if any. Concurrently, a debit shall be made to Account 127, Subscriptions to Capital Stock, for the agreed price and any discount or premium shall be debited or credited to the appropriate discount or premium account. When properly executed stock certificates have been issued representing the shares subscribed, this account shall be debited and Account 200, Common Capital Stock, or Account 201, Preferred Capital Stock, shall be credited with the par or stated value of such stock.

(b) The records shall be kept in such manner as to show the amount of subscriptions to each class and series of stock.

§ 201.205 Installments received on capital stock. (a) This account shall include the amount of installments received on capital stock on a partial or installment payment plan from subscribers who are not bound by legally enforceable subscription contracts.

(b) As subscriptions are paid in full and certificates issued, this account shall be charged and Account 200, Common Capital Stock, Account 201, Preferred Capital Stock, or Account 152, Reacquired Capital Stock, as appropriate, credited with the par or stated value of such stock. Any discount or premium on the original issue shall be included in the appropriate discount or premium account.

(c) The records shall be kept in such manner as to show the amount of installments received on each class and series of stock.

Long-Term Debt

§ 201.210 Bonds. (a) This account shall include the face value of the actually issued and unmatured bonds, which have not been retired or canceled; also the face value of such bonds issued by others, the payment of which has been assumed by the utility.

(b) This account shall be so kept or supported as to show the face value of (1) nominally issued bonds, (2) nominally outstanding bonds, and (3) actually outstanding bonds of each class and series.

NOTE A: For instructions relative to accounting for discount, expense, and premium on long-term debt, see Balance sheet instruction 6 (§ 201.1–6).

NOTE B: Matured long-term debt shall be included in Account 225, Matured Long-Term Debt.

§ 201.211 Receivers' certificates. (a) This account shall include the face value of certificates of indebtedness issued by receivers in possession of the property and acting under the orders of a court.

(b) Separate subdivisions shall be maintained for each issue of receivers' certificates.

§ 201.212 Advances from associated companies. (a) This account shall include the face value of notes owed to associated companies and the amount of open book accounts representing advances from associated companies, including interest on such advances when the interest is not subject to current settlement.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

212:1 Advances on Notes.
212:2 Advances on Open Accounts.

NOTE A: The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish complete information concerning each note and open account.

NOTE B: Notes and open accounts representing indebtedness subject to current settlement shall be included in Account 223, Payables to Associated Companies.

§ 201.213 Miscellaneous long-term debt. (a) This account shall include all unmatured long-term debt not otherwise provided for. This covers such items as real estate mortgages, executed or assumed, assessments for public improvements, notes and unsecured certificates of indebtedness not owned by associated companies, receipts outstanding for long-term debt, and other obligations maturing more than 1 year from date of issue or assumption. (See Balance sheet instruction 3, § 201.1–3.)

(b) Separate accounts shall be maintained for each class of obligation, and records shall be maintained to show separately for each class all details as to date of obligation, date of maturity, interest dates and rates, security for the obligation, etc.

Current and Accrued Liabilities

§ 201.220 Notes payable. This account shall include the face value of all notes, drafts, acceptances, or other similar evidences of indebtedness, payable on demand or which by their terms are paybale within a time not exceeding 1 year from the date of issue, to other than associated companies. (See Balance sheet instruction 3, § 201.1–3.)

§ 201.221 Notes receivable discounted. This account shall include the face value of notes receivable discounted or sold without releasing the utility from liability as endorser thereon.

§ 201.222 Accounts payable. This account shall include all amounts payable by the utility within 1 year, and which are not provided for in other accounts.

§ 201.223 Payables to associated companies. This account shall include amounts owed to associated companies on notes, drafts, acceptances, or other similar evidences of indebtedness, and open accounts payable on demand or not more than one year from date of issue or creation. This account shall be subdivided as follows:

223:1 Notes Payable to Associated Companies.
223:2 Accounts Payable to Associated Companies.

NOTE: Exclude from this account notes and accounts which are includible in Account 212, Advances from Associated Companies.

§ 201.224 Dividends declared. This account shall include the amount of dividends which have been declared but not paid. Dividends shall be credited to this account when they become a liability.

§ 201.225 Matured long-term debt. This account shall include the amount of long-term debt (including any obligation for premiums) matured and unpaid, without specific agreement for extension of the time of payment; it shall also include bonds called for redemption but not presented.

§ 201.226 Matured interest. This account shall include the amount of matured interest on long-term debt or other obligations of the utility at the date of the balance sheet unless such interest is added to the principal of the debt on which incurred.

§ 201.227 Customers' deposits. This account shall include all amounts deposited with the utility by customers as security for the payment of bills.

§ 201.228 Taxes accrued. (a) This account shall be credited during each accounting period with the amount of taxes accrued during the period, corresponding debits being made to the appropriate accounts for tax charges. Such credits may be based upon estimates, but from time to time during the year as the facts become known the amount of the periodic credits shall be adjusted so as to include as nearly as can be determined in each year the taxes applicable thereto. Any amount representing a prepayment of taxes applicable to the period subsequent to the date of the balance sheet shall be shown under Account 132, Prepayments.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the amount, by classes, of taxes accrued, the basis for each tax accrual and the accounts to which charged, and the amount, by classes, of taxes paid.

§ 201.229 Interest accrued. There shall be reported by this caption the balances included in accounts 229:1 and 229:2.

§ 201.229:1 Interest accrued on long-term debt. This account shall include the amount of interest accrued on the long-term debt of the utility except interest on advances from associated companies. This account shall not include any interest which is added to the principal of the debt on which incurred.

§ 201.229:2 Interest accrued on other liabilities. This account shall include the amount of interest accrued on liabilities of the utility other than long-term liabilities. This account shall not include any interest which is added to the principal of the debt on which incurred.

§ 201.230 Other current and accrued liabilities. This account shall include the current and accrued liabilities not provided for elsewhere.

Deferred Credits

§ 201.240 Unamortized premium on debt. This caption shall include the total of the credit balances of the discount, expense, and premium accounts, for all classes of long-term debt, including receivers' certificates. (See Balance sheet instruction § 201.1–6.)

§ 201.241 Customers' advances for construction. This account shall include such advances by customers for construction as are to be refunded either wholly or in part. When a customer is refunded the entire amount to which he is entitled, according to the agreement or rule under which the advance was made, the balance, if any, remaining in the account shall be transferred to Account 265, Contributions in Aid of Construction.

§ 201.242 Other deferred credits. This account shall include advanced billings and receipts and other deferred credit items, not provided for elsewhere; also amounts which cannot be entirely cleared or disposed of until additional information has been received or which should be credited to income or to surplus accounts in the future.

Reserves

§ 201.250:1 Reserve for depreciation of gas plant. (a) This account shall be credited with the following:

Amounts charged to Account 503:1, Depreciation, to Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others, to clearing accounts, or to income or other accounts for currently accruing depreciation.

Amounts charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, for past accrued depreciation.

Amounts of depreciation applicable to gas properties acquired as operating units or systems. (See Gas plant instruction 4, § 201.3–4.)

Amounts chargeable upon approval of the Commission to Account 141, Extraordinary Property Losses.

Amounts of depreciation applicable to gas plant donated to the utility.

(b) At the time of retirement of depreciable gas plant in service, this account shall be charged with the book cost of the property retired and the cost of removal, and shall be credited with the salvage value and any other amounts recovered, such as insurance.

(c) For balance sheet purposes, this account shall be regarded and treated as a single composite reserve. For purposes of analysis, however, each utility shall maintain records in which the depreciation reserve shall be segregated according to the following functional classification of gas plant: (1) Production—manufactured gas, (2) production—natural gas, (3) storage, (4) transmission, (5) distribution, and (6) general. The credits and debits to the reserve shall be so made as to show separately (1) the amount of the accrual for depreciation, (2) the book cost of property retired, (3) cost of removal, (4) salvage, and (5) other items, including recoveries from insurance.

(d) When transfers of property are made from one utility plant account to another or from or to nonutility property, the accounting shall be as provided in Gas plant instruction 14 (§ 201.3–14).

(e) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

250:11 Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant in Service.
250:12 Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant Leased to Others.
250:13 Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant Held for Future Use.

NOTE: The utility is restricted in its use of the reserve to the purposes set forth above. It shall not divert any portion of the reserve to surplus or make any other use thereof without the approval of the Commission.

§ 201.250:2 Reserve for amortization and depletion of producing natural gas land and land rights. (a) This account shall be credited with amounts charged to Account 503:2, Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights, or Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others, to provide for the current amortization and depletion of land and land rights from which natural gas is obtained. (See Gas plant instruction 9–I, § 201.3–9 (i).)

(b) This account shall also be credited with such amounts as are necessary to reflect, as of the effective date of this system of accounts, the portion of the cost of land and land rights which have been exhausted through the extraction of natural gas. To the extent that provision has not previously been made for amortization and depletion of such land and land rights, amounts credited to this reserve shall be concurrently debited to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

(c) When natural gas producing land or land rights are sold, relinquished, or otherwise retired from service, the book cost of the land or land rights so retired, less any proceeds realized at retirement, shall be charged to this account: Provided, however, That any excess of the book cost (less proceeds realized from sale) over the amount accumulated therefor in this reserve shall be debited to the appropriate surplus account, unless otherwise authorized or directed by the Commission.

(d) Records shall be maintained so as to show separately the balance applicable to each item of land and land rights which is being amortized or depleted, except that natural gas land and land rights which constitute an interest in one pool of gas may be grouped to form one unit for amortization and depletion and the reserve applicable thereto need not be segregated to show the amount related to each gas right included therein.

(e) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

250.21 Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights—Gas Plant in Service.
250.22 Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights—Gas Plant Leased to Others.

NOTE: The utility is restricted in its use of the reserve to the purposes set forth above. It shall not divert any portion of the reserve to surplus or make any other use thereof without approval of the Commission.

§ 201.250:3 Reserve for abandoned leases. This account shall be credited with amounts concurrently charged to Account 512, Abandoned Leases, for the purpose of providing a reserve to cover the costs of natural gas leases which may be abandoned and which have never been productive.

(b) When natural gas leases which have never been productive are abandoned, the cost thereof, including expenses incidental to abandonment, shall be charged to this account: Provided, however, That any deficiency in this reserve at the time of abondonment of the lease shall be charged to Account 512, Abandoned Leases.

(c) Records supporting this account shall be so kept as to show for each abandoned lease the date and period thereof, location, date abandoned, and the nature and amounts of the cost.

NOTE A: No provision shall be made in this reserve for the abandonment of producing natural gas leases, and the provisions of Gas plant instruction 14 (§ 201.3–14) Transfers of Property, shall not apply to amounts included herein. (See Account 250:2, Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights.)

NOTE B: The utility is restricted in its use of the reserve to the purposes set forth above. It shall not divert any portion of the reserve to surplus or make any other use thereof without approval of the Commission.

§ 201.251 Reserve for amortization of other limited-term gas investments.

(a) This account shall be concurrently credited with amounts charged to Account 504, Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, or to Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others, for the current amortization of limited-term gas investments other than land rights held for the production of natural gas.

(b) This account shall also be credited with such amounts as are necessary to reflect, as of the effective date of this system of accounts, the expired portion of the life of franchises, licenses, patent rights, and limited-term interests in land and land rights other than land rights held for the production of natural gas; or other intangible gas property which has a terminable life, the cost of which is included in gas plant. To the extent that provision has not previously been made for amortization of such limited-term utility investments, amounts credited to this reserve shall be concurrently debited to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

(c) When any franchise, patent right, limited-term interest in land or land right expires, is sold, relinquished, or otherwise retired from service, this account shall be charged with the amount previously credited in respect to such property. The book cost of the property so retired less the amount chargeable to this account and less the proceeds realized at retirement shall be included in the appropriate surplus account.

(d) Records shall be maintained so as to show separately the balance applicable to each item of property which is being amortized.

(e) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

251:1 Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments—Gas Plant in Service.
251:2 Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments—Gas Plant Leased to Others.
251:3 Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments—Gas Plant Held for Future Use.

§ 201.252 Reserve for amortization of gas plant acquisition adjustments. This account shall be credited or debited with amounts which the Commission may approve or direct to be charged or credited to Account 505, Amortization of Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments, to Account 537, Miscellaneous Amortization, or to surplus for the purpose of providing for the extinguishment of amounts in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

§ 201.253 Reserve for depreciation and amortization of other property. This account shall include the depreciation and amortization reserves applicable to property other than gas plant.

§ 201.254 Reserve for uncollectible accounts. (a) This account shall be credited each month with amounts reserved for losses on accounts receivable which may become uncollectible, and also with collections on accounts previously charged hereto. Concurrent charges shall be made to Account 783, Uncollectible Accounts, for amounts applicable to gas operations, and to corresponding accounts for other operations.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows

254:1 Utility customers.
254:2 Merchandising, jobbing, and contract work.
254:3 Associated companies.
254:4 Officers and employees.
254:5 Other.

NOTE: Accretions to this reserve shall not be made in excess of a reasonable provision against losses of the character for which the reserve is provided.

§ 201.255 Insurance reserve. (a) This account shall include amounts reserved by the utility for self-insurance against losses through accident, fire, flood, or other hazards to its own property or property leased from others. The amounts charged to Account 798, Insurance, or other appropriate accounts to cover such risks shall be credited to this account. A schedule of risks covered by this reserve shall be maintained, giving a description of the property involved, the character of the risks covered, and the rates used.

(b) Charges shall be made to this account for losses covered by self-insurance.

NOTE: Accretions to this reserve shall not be made in excess of a reasonable provision against losses of the character for which the reserve is provided.

§ 201.256 Injuries and damages reserve. (a) This account shall be credited with amounts charged to Account 799, Injuries and Damages, or other appropriate accounts, to meet the probable liability, not covered by insurance, for deaths or injuries to employees and others, and for damages to property not owned or held under lease by the utility.

(b) When liability for any injury or damage is admitted b the utility, either voluntarily or because of the decision of a court or other lawful authority, such as a workmen's compensation board, the admitted liability shall be charged to this account and credited to the appropriate liability accoun..

NOTE A: Recoveries or reimbursements for losses charged to this account shall be credited hereto; the cost of repairs to property of others, if provided for herein, shall be charged to this account.

NOTE B: Accretions to this reserve shall not be made in excess of a reasonable provision against losses of the character for which the reserve is provided.

§ 201.257 Employees' provident reserve. (a) This account shall include provision which has been made by operating expense charges, or by specific appropriations of income or surplus, and by amounts contributed by employees (whether carried in special funds or in the general funds of the utility) for pensions, accident and death benefits, savings, relief, hospital, and other provident purposes.

(b) This account shall include also the amounts accrued for pensions through charges to Account 800, Employees' Welfare Expenses and Pensions. Amounts so credited shall, when actually paid to retired employees or paid into a trust fund irrevocably devoted to the payment of pensions, be charged hereto.

(c) Separate accounts shall be kept for each kind of reserve included herein.

§ 201.258 Other reserves. (a) This account shall include all reserves maintained by the utility which are not provided for elsewhere in this system of accounts.

(b) This account shall be maintained in such manner as to show the amount of each separate reserve and the nature and amounts of the debits and credits thereto.

Contributions in aid of construction

§ 201.265 Contributions in aid of construction. (a) This account shall include donations or contributions in cash services, or property from States, municipalities, or other governmental agencies, individuals, and others for construction purposes. (See Gas plant instruction 3–F, § 201.3–3 (f).)

(b) The credits to this account shall not be transferred to surplus account or to any other account without the approval of the Commission, except as provided in Gas plant instruction 12–F (201.3–12 (f)).

(c) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the purpose of each donation, the condition, if any, upon which it was made, and the amount of donations from (1) States, (2) municipalities, (3) customers, and (4) others.

NOTE: There shall not be included in this account advances for construction which are ultimately to be repaid wholly or in part. Such advances shall be credited to Account 241, Customers' Advances for Construction.

Surplus

§ 201.270 Capital surplus. (a) This account shall include all surplus not classified herein as earned surplus. It shall include credits from sales by the utility of its reacquired capital stock, surplus arising from the retirement and cancelation of the utility's capital stock, from donations by stockholders of the utility's capital stock, from a reduction of the par or stated value of the utility's capital stock, from the forgiveness of debt of the utility, also surplus recorded at a reorganization or in connection with a recapitalization.

(b) This account shall be maintained in such manner as to permit a ready analysis of the charges and credits hereto.

§ 201.271 Earned surplus. This account shall include the balance, either debit or credit, of unappropriated surplus arising from earnings. It shall not include surplus includible in Account 270, Capital Surplus.

INSTRUCTIONS, GAS PLANT ACCOUNTS

§ 201.3–1[1] Purpose of gas plant accounts. (a) The summary gas plant accounts are as follows:

[1] In §§ 201.3–1 to 201.3–16, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the dash correspond with the respective instruction numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 38–51. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 100, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.100).

100 Gas Plant.
100:1 Gas Plant in Service.
100:2 Gas Plant Leased to Others.
100:3 Construction Work in Progress.
100:4 Gas Plant Held for Future Use.
100:5 Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments.
100:6 Gas Plant in Process of Reclassification.
107 Gas Plant Adjustments.

(b) Account 100 is a caption by which shall be reported the amounts in accounts 100:1 to 100:6, inclusive.

(c) Accounts 100:1 to 100:4, inclusive, are designed to show the original cost of gas plant acquired as operating units or systems by purchase, merger, consolidation, liquidation, or otherwise, and the cost to the utility of all other gas plant recorded in these accounts.

(d) Account 100:5 is designed to show the difference between the cost to the utility of gas plant acquired as operating units or systems by purchase, merger, consolidation, liquidation, or otherwise, and the original cost of the plant, due consideration being given to any depreciation, depletion, or amortization recorded by the accounting utility at the date of acquisition.

(e) Account 100:6 is designed to be used as a control account for gas plant at the effective date of this system of accounts pending the distribution thereof in accordance with the accounts prescribed herein.

(f) Account 107 is designed to show the amount by which the book cost of gas plant at the effective date of this system of accounts differs from the cost of the plant to the utility when the difference is not properly includible in other accounts. It shall include all write-ups in the books as of the effective date of this system of accounts.

NOTE: See balance sheet accounts 100 and 107.

§201.3–2 Classification of gas plant at effective date of system of accounts. (a) Each utility shall classify its gas plant as of the effective date of this system of accounts in accordance with the gas plant accounts prescribed herein. The classification shall be so made as to show both the original cost and the cost to the utility of its gas plant.

(b) The cost to the utility of its gas plant shall be ascertained by analysis of the utility's records. In ascertaining the cost it is not intended that any correction need be made for depreciation, depletion, or amortization applicable to operating units or systems previously acquired, whether or not such depreciation, depletion, or amortization was recorded in the books of the accounting utility. It is likewise not intended that adjustments shall be made to record in gas plant accounts amounts previously charged to operating expenses in accordance with the uniform system of accounts in effect at the time or in accordance with the discretion of management as exercised under such uniform system of accounts.

(c) The detailed gas plant accounts (301 to 390, inclusive) shall be stated on the basis of cost to the utility of plant constructed by it and the original cost, estimated if not known, of plant acquired as an operating unit or system. The difference between the original cost, as above, and the cost to the utility of plant includible in accounts 100:1 to 100:4, inclusive, after giving effect to any depreciation, depletion, or amortization recorded by the accounting utility at the time of acquisition, shall be recorded in Account 100:5 Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments. The original cost of gas plant may be determined by analysis of the utility's records or those of predecessor or vendor companies with respect to gas plant previously acquired as operating units or systems and the difference between the original cost so determined and the cost to the utility, with adjustments for retirements from date of acquisition to the effective date of this system of accounts, shall be entered in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments. When practicable, amounts recorded in account 100:5 shall be classified according to the nature of the items of which composed. Any difference between the cost of gas plant and its book cost, when not properly includible in other accounts, shall be recorded in Account 107, Gas Plant Adjustments.

(d) Not later than 2 years after the effective date of this system of accounts, each utility shall have completed the studies necessary for classifying its gas plant as of the effective date of this system of accounts in accordance with the accounts prescribed herein and it shall submit to the Commission the entries it proposes to make to carry out the provisions of this instruction. It shall submit, also, a comparative balance sheet showing the accounts and amounts appearing in its books as of the effective date of this system of accounts and the accounts and respective amounts as of the same date after the proposed entries shall have been made.

(e) Pending the classification of gas plant at the effective date of this system of accounts in accordance with the accounts prescribed herein, each utility shall maintain its present accounts with respect to such property as subaccounts of Account 100:6, Gas Plant in Process of Reclassification.

§ 201.3–3 Gas plant to be recorded at cost. (a) All amounts included in the accounts for tangible gas plant consisting of plant acquired as an operating unit or system shall be stated at the original cost incurred by the person who first devoted the property to gas service. All other tangible gas plant shall be included in the accounts at the cost incurred by the utility.

(b) All amounts included in the accounts for intangible gas plant shall likewise be stated on the basis provided in paragraph (a) of this section except as otherwise provided in the texts of the intangible accounts.

(c) Where the term "cost" is used in the detailed gas plant accounts, it shall have the meaning stated in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and shall include not only the materials, supplies, labor, services, and other items consumed or employed in the construction and installation of gas plant, but also the cost of preliminary studies, plans, surveys, engineering, supervision, and general expenses, which contribute directly and immediately to gas plant without duplication of such costs.

(d) When the consideration given for property is other than cash, the value of such consideration shall be determined on a cash basis. In the entry recording such transaction, the actual consideration shall be described with sufficient particularity to identify it. The utility shall be prepared to furnish the Commission the particulars of its determination of the cash value of the consideration, if other than cash.

(e) When property is purchased under a plan involving deferred payments, no charge shall be made to the gas plant accounts for interest, insurance, or other expenditures occasioned solely by such form of payment.

(f) Gas plant contributed to the utility or constructed by it from contributions to it of cash or its equivalent shall be charged to the gas plant accounts at original cost. There shall be credited to the depreciation, depletion, and amortization reserve accounts the estimated amount of depreciation, depletion, and amortization applicable to the property at the time of its contribution to the utility. The difference between the amounts included in the gas plant accounts and the reserve accounts shall be credited to Account 265, Contributions in Aid of Construction.

NOTE: Amounts received for construction which are ultimately to be refunded, wholly or in part, shall be credited to Account 241, Customers' Advances for Construction. When the amount to be refunded has been finally determined, any credit balance remaining in account 241 shall be credited to Account 265, Contributions in Aid of Construction.

§ 201.3–4 Gas plant purchased. (a) When gas plant constituting an operating unit or system is acquired by purchase, merger, consolidation, liquidation, or otherwise, after the effective date of this system of accounts, the cost of acquisition, including expenses incidental thereto and properly includible in gas plant, shall be charged to Account 100:1, Gas Plant in Service, Subaccount 391, Gas Plant Purchased.

(b) The accounting for the acquisition shall then be completed as following:

(1) The original cost, estimated if not known, shall be credited to Account 100:1, Gas Plants in Service, Subaccount 391, Gas Plant Purchased, and concurrently charged to Account 100:1, Gas Plant in Service, Account 100:2, Gas Plant Leased to Others, Account 100:3, Construction Work in Progress, Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, as appropriate, and distributed to the detailed accounts which they control.

(2) The depreciation, or amortization and depletion reserve requirements applicable to the original costs of the properties purchased, if required by the Commission to be recorded by the accounting utility, shall be charged to Account 100:1, Gas Plant in Service, Subaccount 391, Gas Plant Purchased, and concurrently credited to Account 250:1, Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant, Account 250:2, Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights and Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, as appropriate.

(3) The amount remaining in Account 391, Gas Plant Purchased, shall then be closed to Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

(c) A memorandum record shall be kept of the amount of contributions in aid of construction applicable to the property acquired as shown by the accounts of the previous owner.

(d) When any property acquired as an operating unit or system includes duplicate or other gas plant which will be retired by the accounting utility in the reconstruction of the acquired property or its consolidation with the previously owned property, the accounting for such property shall be presented to the Commission for consideration and approval.

(e) If property acquired in the purchase of an operating unit or system is in such physical condition when acquired that it is necessary substantially to rehabilitate it in order to bring the property up to the standards of the utility, the cost of such work, except replacements, shall be accounted for as a part of the purchase price of the property.

(f) In connection with the acquisition of gas plant constituting an operating unit or system, the utility shall procure, if possible, all existing records relating to the property acquired, or certified copies thereof, and shall preserve such records until specifically authorized by the Commission to destroy or otherwise dispose of them.

NOTE: In cases of mergers or consolidations occurring prior to the determination or original cost of the plant of the merging or consolidating utilities, the accounts of the constituent utilities, with the approval of the Commission, may be combined. In the event original cost has not been determined, the resulting utility shall proceed to determine such cost as outlined herein.

§ 201.3–5 Components of construction cost. The cost of construction properly includible in the gas plant accounts shall include, where applicable, the direct and overhead costs as listed and defined hereunder:

(a) "Contract work" includes amounts paid for work performed under contract by other companies, firms, or individuals, costs incident to the award of such contracts, and the inspection of such work. It does not include the cost of work performed by the utility on the project, a part of which is performed by others under contract.

(b) "Labor" includes the pay and expenses of employees of the utility engaged on construction work, and also workmen's compensation insurance, pay roll taxes, and similar items of expense. It does not include the pay and expenses of employees which are distributed to construction through clearing accounts nor the pay and expenses included in other items hereunder.

(c) "Materials and supplies" includes the purchase price at the point of free delivery plus customs duties, excise taxes, the cost of inspection, loading and transportation, the related stores expenses, and the cost of fabricated materials from the utility's shop. In determining the cost of materials and supplies used for construction, proper allowance shall be made for unused materials and supplies, for materials recovered from temporary structures used in performing the work involved, and for discounts allowed and realized in the purchase of materials and supplies.

NOTE A. The cost of individual items of equipment of small value (for example $10 or less) or of short life, including small portable tools and implements, shall not be charged to gas plant accounts unless the correctness of the accounting therefor is verified by current inventories. The cost may be charged to the appropriate operating expense or clearing accounts, according to the use of such items, or, if such items are consumed directly in construction work, the cost shall be included as part of the cost of the constructed unit.

NOTE B. Gas owned by the utility used in well construction shall be charged thereto at the cost with an offsetting credit to Account 749, Duplicate Charges—Credit.

(d) "Transportation" includes the cost of transporting employees, materials and supplies, tools, purchased equipment, and other work equipment (when not under own power) to and from points of construction. It includes amounts paid to others as well as the cost of operating the utility's own transportation equipment. (See paragraph (e) of this section.)

(e) "Special machine service" includes the cost of labor (optional), materials and supplies, depreciation, and other expenses incurred in the maintenance, operation, and use of special machines, such as steam shovels, pile drivers, derricks, ditchers, scrapers, material unloaders, and other labor saving machines; also expenditures for rental, maintenance, and operation of machines of others. It does not include the cost of small tools and other individual items of small value or short life which are included in the cost of materials and supplies. (See paragraph (c) of this section.) When a particular construction job requires the use for an extended period of time of special machines, transportation or other equipment, the net book cost thereof, less the appraised or salvage value at time of release from the job, shall be included in the cost of construction.

(f) "Shop service" includes the proportion of the expense of the utility's shop department assignable to construction work, except that the cost of fabricated materials from the utility's shop shall be included in "materials and supplies."

(g) "Protection" includes the cost of protecting the utility's property from fire or other casualties and the cost of preventing damages to others, or to the property of others, including payments for discovery or extinguishment of fires, cost of apprehending and prosecuting incendiaries, witness fees in relation thereto, amounts paid to municipalities and others for fire protection, and other analogous items of expenditures in connection with construction work.

(h) "Injuries and damages" includes expenditures or losses in connection with construction work on account of injuries to persons and damages to the property of others; also the cost of investigation of and defense against actions for such injries and damages. Insurance recovered or recoverable on account of compensation paid for injuries to persons incident to construction shall be credited to the account or accounts to which such compensation is charged. Insurance recovered or recoverable on account of property damages incident to construction shall be credited to the account or accounts charged with the cost of the damages.

(i) "Privileges and permits" includes payments for and expenses incurred in securing temporary privileges, permits, or rights in connection with construction work, such as for the use of private or public property, streets, or highways, but it does not include rents, or amounts chargeable as franchises and consents, for which see Account 302, Franchises and Consents.

(j) "Rents" includes amounts paid for the use of construction quarters and office space occupied by construction forces and amounts properly includible in construction costs for such facilities jointly used.

(k) "Engineering and supervision" includes the portion of the pay and expenses of engineers, surveyors, draftsmen, inspectors, superintendents, and their assistants applicable to construction work.

(l) "General administration capitalized" includes the portion of the pay and expenses of the general officers and administrative and general expenses applicable to construction work.

(m) "Engineering services" includes amounts paid to other companies, firms, or individuals engaged by the utility to plan, design, prepare estimates, supervise, inspect, or give general advice and assistance in connection with construction work. A copy of the agreement or arrangement under which such services are rendered shall be preserved.

(n) "Insurance" includes premiums paid or amounts provided or reserved as self-insurance for the protection against loss and damages in connection with construction, by fire or other casualty, injury to or death of persons other than employees, damages to property of others, defalcation of employees and agents, and the nonperformance of contractual obligations of others. It does not include workmen's compensation or similar insurance on employees included as "labor" in paragraph (b) of this section.

(o) "Law expenditures" includes the general law expenditures incurred in connection with construction and the court and legal costs directly related thereto, other than law expenses included in protection, paragraph (g) of this section, and in injuries and damages, paragraph (h) of this section.

(p) "Taxes" includes taxes on physical property (including land) during the period of construction and other taxes properly includible in construction costs before the facilities become available for service.

(q) "Interest during construction" includes the net cost of borrowed funds used for construction purposes and a reasonable rate upon the utility's own funds when so used. Interest during construction shall be charged to the individual job upon which the funds are expended and shall be credited to Account 536, Interest Charged to Construction—Credit. The period for which interest may be capitalized shall be limited to the period of construction. No interest charges shall be included in these accounts upon expenditures for construction projects which have been abandoned.

NOTE: When a part only of a plant or project is placed in operation or is completed and ready for service but the construction work as a whole is incomplete, that part of the cost of the property placed in operation, or ready for service, shall be treated as "Gas Plant in Service" and interest thereon as a charge to construction shall cease. Interest on that part of the cost of the plant which is incomplete may be continued as a charge to construction until such time as it is placed in operation or is ready for service, except as limited in paragraph (q) of this section.

(r) "Earnings and expenses during construction" include (1) all revenues derived during the construction period from property which is included in the cost of the project under construction and (2) all expenses (except taxes) which are attributable to the revenues received.

§ 201.3–6 Overhead construction costs. (a) All overhead construction costs, such as engineering, supervision, general office salaries and expenses, construction engineering and supervision by others than the accounting utility, law expenses, insurance, injuries and damages, relief and pensions, taxes, and interest, shall be charged to particular jobs or units on the basis of the amounts of such overheads reasonably applicable thereto, to the end that each job or unit shall bear its equitable proportion of such costs and that the entire cost of the unit, both direct and overhead, shall be deducted from the gas plant accounts at the time the unit of property is retired.

(b) The instructions contained herein shall not be interpreted as permitting the addition to gas plant accounts of arbitrary percentages or amounts to cover assumed overhead costs, but as requiring the assignment to particular jobs and accounts of actual and reasonable overhead costs.

(c) The records supporting the entries for overhead construction costs shall be so kept as to show the total amount of each overhead for each year, the nature and amount of each overhead expenditure charged to each construction work order and to each gas plant account, and the bases of distribution of such costs.

§ 201.3–7 Leased property, expenditures on. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b), following, the cost of initial improvements (including repairs, rearrangements, additions, and betterments) to property leased from others made in the course of preparing the property for service and the cost of any subsequent additions or betterments to such leased property shall be charged to the gas plant or other property account appropriate for the class of property leased. (See account 100:1 and Operating expense instruction 5, § 201.7–5.)

(b) When the initial improvements to leased property which are otherwise chargeable to gas plant or other property accounts are of relatively minor cost or short life or the lease is for a period of not more than 1 year, the cost shall be charged to the account in which the rent expense is included.

(c) Provision for the retirement of improvements to leased property shall be made either through Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, by concurrent charges to Account 504, Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, or through Account 250:1, Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant, by concurrent charges to Account 503:1, Depreciation. The annual amortization or depreciation provision shall be determined in the following manner:

(1) If the service life of the improvements is terminated by action of the lease and not by depreciation (see definition 14, § 201.01–14), then the service value of the improvements should be spread over the life of the lease by charges to Account 504, Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, and credits to Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments.

(2) If the service life is terminated not by action of the lease but by depreciation, then the service value of the improvements should be accounted for as depreciable plant (see accounts 503:1 and 250:1).

§ 201.3–8 Temporary facilities. When property ordinarily having a service life of more than 1 year is installed for temporary use in gas service, it shall be accounted for in the manner prescribed for gas plant in service.

§ 201.3–9 Land and land rights. (a) "Land and land rights" means land owned in fee by the utility and rights, interests, and privileges held by the utility in land owned by others, such as leaseholds, easements, natural gas rights, rights-of-way, and other like interests in land.

(b) The accounts for land and land rights shall include the first cost, including the amounts of mortgages or other liens assumed, but not rents payable periodically with respect to such rights.

(c) Where special assessments for public improvements provide for deferred payments, the full amount of the assessments shall be charged to the appropriate land account and the unpaid balance shall be carried in an appropriate liability account. Interest on unpaid balances shall be charged to the appropriate interest account. If any part of the cost of public improvements is included in the general tax levy, the amount thereof shall be charged to the appropriate tax account; otherwise the cost of public improvements, including cost of sidewalks and curbs constructed by the utility on public streets, should be charged to the accounts for land and land rights.

(d) The net profit from the sale of timber, cordwood, or other property acquired with rights-of-way or other lands shall be credited to the appropriate land and land rights account. Where land is held for a considerable period of time and timber on the land at the time of purchase increases in value, the net profit (after giving effect to the cost of the timber) from the sales of timber or its products shall be credited to Account 526, Miscellaneous Nonoperating Revenues.

(e) Separate entries shall be made for the acquisition, transfer, or retirement of each parcel of land, and each land right, or gas right (except rights-of-way for distribution lines) having a life of more than 1 year. A record shall be maintained showing the nature of ownership, full legal description, area, map reference, purpose for which used, city, county, and tax district in which situated, from whom purchased or to whom sold, payment given or received, other costs, contract date and number, date of recording of deed, and book and page of record. Entries transferring or retiring land or land rights shall refer to the original entry recording its acquisition. A parcel of land acquired and carried on the books as a unit is not required to be subdivided with transfers to other land accounts merely because of the erection thereon of an incidental structure to be used in gas operations but for a purpose differing from that for which the land is chiefly employed; for example, a small general storehouse on production plant land.

(f) Any difference between the amount received from the sale of land or land rights, less agents' commissions and other costs incident to the sale, and the book cost of such land or rights, shall be charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or credited to Account 401, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, as appropriate, unless a reserve therefor has been authorized and provided. Appropriate adjustments of the accounts shall be made with respect to any structures or improvements located on land sold.

(g) Entries to the gas plant accounts for limited-term interests in land (except rights-of-way for distribution lines) shall make specific reference to the lease, contract, or arrangement under which each interest is held or used, together with a concise statement of the terms of the lease, contract, or arrangement.

(h) The cost of buildings and other improvements (other than public improvements) shall not be included in the land accounts. If at the time of acquisition of an interest in land such interest extends to buildings or other improvements (other than public improvements), which are then devoted to gas operations, the land and improvements shall be separately appraised and the cost allocated to land and buildings or improvements on the basis of the appraisals. If the improvements are removed or wrecked without being used in operations, the cost thereof and the cost of removing or wrecking shall be charged and the salvage credited to the account in which the cost of the land is recorded.

(i) The cost of land and land rights acquired in excess of that used in gas operations shall be included in Account 110, Other Physical Property, or Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, as appropriate. Regarding land and land rights held for the production of natural gas, Account 100:1, Gas Plant in Service, shall include (1) the cost of lands owned in fee upon which producing natural gas wells are located or lands owned in fee which are being drained through the operation by the utility of wells on other land, and (2) the first cost of lands held under lease upon which the utility pays royalties for the natural gas obtained therefrom. The cost of all other land and land rights held for the production of natural gas under a definite plan for such use shall be included in Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use.

NOTE: In addition to the accounting records prescribed herein, supplemental records of land and land rights held for future use shall be kept in such manner as to permit the segregation within a reasonable time of the land and land rights constituting (1) productive but nonproducing fields, and (2) unproven or undeveloped fields, and to show the following data with respect to each natural gas lease, regardless of the accounting treatment accorded the lease costs: (a) name of lessor, (b) location of leasehold and number or other identification assigned thereto, (c) date and period of lease agreement, (d) first cost of lease including details of the elements of such cost, (e) annual rental provisions, (f) date and cost of drilling, (g) date gas determined to exist, (h) date of completion of first well drilled by the utility in each pool of gas, (i) royalty provisions, (j) amortization and depletion provisions, and (k) date of abandonment of lease.

(j) When the purchase of land for gas operations requires the purchase of land not used for such purposes, the charge to the specific land account shall be based upon the estimated cost of only that portion which is used for gas operations. The cost of the remaining land shall be included in Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, or Account 110, Other Physical Property, as appropriate.

(k) Provision shall be made for amortizing amounts carried in the accounts for limited-term interests in land. The amortization of limited-term interests in land shall be accomplished in such manner as to apportion equitably the cost of each interest over the life thereof and to produce a charge to operating expenses, for each accounting period, of the amount properly chargeable thereto for such period. For the purposes of amortization of natural gas rights, separate interests in land which constitute an interest in one pool of gas may be grouped to form a depletion unit. (See Account 250:2, Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights, Account 250:3, Reserve for Abandoned Leases, and Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments; also Account 503:2, Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights, Account 504, Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, and Account 512, Abandoned Leases.)

(l) The items of cost to be included in the accounts for land and land rights are as follows:

(1) Bulkheads, buried, not requiring maintenance or replacement.
(2) Cost, first, of acquisition including mortgages and other liens assumed (but not subsequent interest thereon).
(3) Clearing (first cost) the land of brush, trees, and debris.
(4) Condemnation proceedings, including court and counsel costs.
(5) Consents and abuting damages, payment for.
(6) Conveyancers' and notaries' fees.
(7) Fees, commissions, and salaries to brokers, agents, and others in connection with the acquisition of the land or land rights.
(8) Grading the land, except when directly occasioned by the building of a structure.
(9) Leases, cost of voiding upon purchase to secure possession of land.
(10) Removing, relocating, or reconstructing property of others, such as buildings, highways, railroads, bridges, cemeteries, churches, telephone and power lines, etc., in order to acquire quiet possession.
(11) Retaining walls unless indentified with structures.
(12) Special assessments levied by public authorities for public improvements on the basis of benefits for new roads, new bridges, new sewers, new curbing, new pavements, and other public improvements, but not taxes levied to provide for the maintenance of such improvements.
(13) Surveys in connection with the acquisition.
(14) Taxes assumed, accured to date of transfer of title.
(15) Title, examining, clearing, insuring, and registering in connection with the acquisition and defending against claims relating to the period prior to the acquisition.

§ 201.3–10 Structures and improvements. (a) "Structures and improvements" means all permanent buildings and structures to house, support, or safeguard property or persons, and improvements of a permanent character other than public improvements on or to land.

(b) "Buildings" means permanent structures to house, support, or safeguard property or persons, including all fixtures permanently attached to and made a part of buildings and which cannot be removed therefrom without cutting into the walls, ceilings, or floors, or without in some way impairing the buildings.

(c) "Improvements" means permanent improvements (other than buildings) to land.

(d) Items of cost:

(1) Architects' plans.
(2) Ash pits (when located within the building proper).
(3) Athletic field structures and improvements
(4) Boilers, furnaces, piping, wiring, fixtures, and machinery for heating, lighting, signaling, ventilating, and plumbing.
(5) Bulkheads, including dredging, riprap fill, piling, decking, concrete, fenders, etc., when exposed and subject to maintenance and replacement.
(6) Chimneys.
(7) Coal bins and bunkers.
(8) Commissions and fees to brokers, agents, architects, and others.
(9) Conduit (not to be removed) with its contents.
(10) Damages to abutting property during construction.
(11) Docks.
(12) Door checks and door stops.
(13) Drainage and sewerage systems.
(14) Elevators, cranes, hoists, etc., and the machinery for operating them.
(15) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, refill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(16) Fences and fence curbs (not including protective fences isolating individual items of equipment, which should be charged to the appropriate equipment account).
(17) Fire protection systems when forming a part of a structure.
(18) Floor covering (permanently attached).
(19) Foundations and piers for machinery, constructed as a permanent part of a building or other item listed herein.
(20) Grading when directly occasioned by the building of a structure.
(21) Holders—relief.
(22) Holders—waterless, including steel structure, piston elevators, cost of first tar seal, tar apparatus and storage tanks, stairways, etc.
(23) Holders—waterseal, including tank construction, water, holder lifts, framework, stairways, and heating equipment.
(24) Inlet and outlet lines to holders and storage tanks, including inlet and outlet valve pits and drip pumps.
(25) Intrasite communication system, poles, pole fixtures, wires, and cables.
(26) Landscaping, lawns, shrubbery, etc.
(27) Leases, voiding upon purchase, to secure possession of structures.
(28) Leased property, expenditures on.
(29) Lighting fixtures and outside lighting systems.
(30) Natural gas wells used solely for storage of gas.
(31) Painting, first.
(32) Partitions, including movable.
(33) Permits and privileges.
(34) Platforms, railings, and gratings, when constructed as a part of a structure.
(35) Power boards for services to a building.
(36) Refrigerating systems for general use.
(37) Retaining walls, except when identified with land.
(38) Roadways, railroads, bridges, and trestles intrasite, except railroads provided for in equipment accounts.
(39) Scales, connected to and forming a part of a structure.
(40) Screens.
(41) Sewer systems, for general use.
(42) Sidewalks, curbs, and streets constructed by the utility, except sidewalks and curbs on public streets.
(43) Sprinkling systems.
(44) Stacks—brick, steel, or concrete, when set on foundation forming part of general foundation and steelwork of a building.
(45) Storage facilities constituting a part of a building.
(46) Storm doors and windows.
(47) Subways, areaways, and tunnels, directly connected to and forming part of a structure.
(48) Tanks, constructed as part of a building or as a distinct structural unit.
(49) Tunnels, intake and discharge, when constructed as part of a structure, and those constructed to house mains.
(50) Vaults constructed as part of a building.
(51) Water-front improvements.
(52) Water-supply piping, hydrants, and wells.
(53) Water-supply system for a building or general company purposes.
(54) Wharves.
(55) Window shades and ventilators.
(56) Yard-drainage system.
(57) Yard-lighting system.
(58) Yard surfacing, gravel, concrete, or oil.

NOTE: The cost of disposing of material excavated in connection with construction shall be considered as a part of the cost of such work, except as follows: (a) When such material is used for filling, the cost of loading, hauling, and dumping shall be equitably apportioned between the work in connection with which the removal occurs and the work in connection with which the material is used; (b) when such material is sold, the net amount realized from such sales shall be credited to the work in connection with which the removal occurs. If the amount realized from the sale of excavated materials exceeds the removal costs and the costs in connection with the sale, the excess shall be credited to the land account in which the site is carried.

(e) Items not included in buildings: (1) Do not include in the cost of buildings, lighting, heating, or other fixtures temporarily attached for purposes of display or demonstration.

(2) The cost of specially provided foundations not intended to outlast the machinery or apparatus for which provided, and the cost of angle irons, castings, etc., installed at the base of an item of equipment, shall be charged to the same account as the cost of the machinery, apparatus, or equipment.

(3) When furnaces and boilers are used primarily for furnishing steam for some particular department and only incidentally for furnishing steam for heating a building and operating the equipment therein, the entire cost of such furnaces and boilers shall be charged to the appropriate plant account, and no part to the building account.

(4) Minor buildings and structures may be considered a part of the facility in connection with which constructed or operated and the cost thereof accounted for accordingly when the nature of the structure and facility indicates the correctness of such accounting.

§ 201.3–11 Equipment. (a) "Equipment", as used in this system of accounts, means all tangible utility plant, other than land and structures as herein defined.

(b) The cost of equipment, unless otherwise indicated in the text of an equipment account, includes, in addition to the actual price thereof, sales taxes, investigation and inspection expenses necessary to such purchase, expenses of transportation when borne by the utility, labor employed, materials and supplies consumed, and expenses incurred by the utility in unloading and placing the equipment in readiness to operate.

(c) Exclude from equipment accounts hand and other portable tools which are likely to be lost or stolen or which have relatively small value ($10 or less) or short life, unless the correctness of the accounting therefor is verified by current inventories. Special tools acquired and included in the purchase price of equipment shall be included in the appropriate plant account. Portable drills and similar tool equipment when used in connection with the operation and maintenance of a particular plant or department, such as production, transmission, distribution, etc., or in "stores", shall be charged to the plant account appropriate for their use.

(d) The equipment accounts shall include angle irons and similar items which are installed at the base of an item of equipment, but piers and foundations which are designed to be as permanent as the buildings which house the equipment, or which are constructed as a part of the building, and which cannot be removed without cutting into the floors or the walls of the building, shall be included in the building accounts.

(e) The equipment accounts shall include all the necessary costs of testing or running a plant or part thereof during an experimental or test period prior to becoming available for service. The accounting utility shall furnish the Commission with full particulars of and justification for any test or experimental run extending beyond a period of 30 days.

(f) The cost of efficiency or other tests made subsequent to the date equipment becomes available for service shall be charged to the appropriate expense accounts, except that tests to determine whether equipment meets the specifications and requirements as to efficiency, performance, etc., guaranteed by manufacturers, made after operations have commenced and within the period specified in the agreement or contract of purchase, may be charged to the appropriate gas plant account.

§ 201.3–12 Additions and retirements of gas plant. (a) For the purpose of avoiding undue refinement in accountng for additions to and retirements and replacements of gas plant, all property shall be considered as consisting of (1) retirement units and (2) minor items of property.

(b) Retirement units. Each utility shall adopt the List of Retirement Units contained in Appendix I of this system of accounts for use in accounting for additions to and retirements and replacements of gas plant.

(1) When a retirement unit is added to gas plant, the cost thereof shall be added to the appropriate gas plant account, except that when retirement units are acquired in the acquisition of any gas plant constituting an operating system, they shall be accounted for as provided in Gas plant instruction 4 (§ 201.3–4).

(2) When a retirement unit is retired from gas plant, with or without replacement, the book cost thereof shall be credited to the gas plant account in which it is included, determined in the manner set forth in paragraph (d) of this section. If the retirement unit is of a depreciable class, the book cost of the unit retired and credited to gas plant shall be charged to the depreciation reserve provided for such property. (See paragraph (g) of this section, and Gas plant instruction 13 (§ 201.3–13).

(c) Minor items of property. (1) When a minor item of property which did not previously exist is added to plant, the cost thereof shall be accounted for in the same manner as for the addition of a retirement unit, as set forth in paragraph (b) (1) of this section, if a substantial addition results, otherwise the charge shall be to the appropriate operating expense account.

(2) When a minor item of property is retired and not replaced, the book cost thereof shall be credited to the gas plant account in which it is included; and, in the event the minor item is a part of depreciable plant, the depreciation reserve shall be charged with the book cost and cost of removal and credited with the salvage. If, however, the book cost of the minor item retired and not replaced has been or will be accounted for by its inclusion in the retirement unit of which it is a part when such unit is retired, no separate credit to the property account is required, when such minor item is retired.

(3) When a minor item of depreciable property is replaced independently of the retirement unit of which it is a part, the cost of replacement shall be charged to the maintenance account appropriate for the item, except that if the replacement effects a substantial betterment (the primary aim of which is to make the property affected more useful, more efficient, of greater durability, or of greater capacity), the excess cost of the replacement over the estimated cost at current prices of replacing without betterment shall be charged to the appropriate gas plant account.

(d) Determination of book cost. The book cost of gas plant retired shall be the amount at which such property is included in the gas plant accounts, including all components of construction costs. The book cost shall be determined from the utility's records and if this cannot be done, it shall be estimated. When it is impracticable to determine the book cost of each item, due to the relatively large number or small cost thereof, the average book cost of the items, with due allowance for any differences in size and character, shall be used as the book cost of the items retired.

(e) Land retired. The book cost of land retired shall be credited to the appropriate land account. If the land is sold, the difference between the book cost (less any reserve therefor which has been authorized and provided) and the sale price of the land (less commissions and other expenses of making the sale) shall be credited to Account 401, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, or debited, to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, as appropriate. If the land is not used in gas service but is retained by the utility, the book cost shall be charged to Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, or Account 110, Other Physical Property, as appropriate.

(f) Gas plant sold. When gas plant constituting an operating unit or system is sold, conveyed, or transferred to another by sale, merger, consolidation, or otherwise, the book cost of the property sold or transferred to another shall be credited to the appropriate gas plant accounts, including amounts carried in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments, and the amounts (estimated if not known) carried with respect thereto in the depreciation and amortization reserve accounts and in Account 241, Customers' Advances for Construction, and Account 265, Contributions in Aid of Construction, shall be charged to such reserves and accounts. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commission, the difference, if any, between (1) the net amount of debits and credits and (2) the consideration received for the property (less commissions and other expenses of making the sale) shall be included in Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or Account 401, Miscellaneous Credits to Surplus, as appropriate. (See Account 392, Gas Plant Sold.)

(g) The service value of gas plant retired, which is subject to charges for depreciation, shall be charged in its entirety to Account 250:1. Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant. Any amounts which by approval or order of the Commission are charged to Account 141, Extraordinary Property Losses, shall be credited to Account 250:1, Reserve for Depreciation of Gas Plant.

(h) The accounting for the retirement of amounts included in Account 302, Franchises and Consents, and Account 303, Miscellaneous Intangible Plant, and the items of limited-term interests in land included in the accounts for land and land rights, shall be as provided in the text of Account 250:2, Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights, and Account 503:2, Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights, or Account 251, Reserve for Amortizationof Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, and Account 504, Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, as appropriate.

(i) Additions and retirements of gas plant shall not be netted in the entries or in the posting of the entries.

§ 201.13 Work order system required. (a) All changes in gas plant (except the purchase or sale of gas plant constituting an operating unit or system) shall be recorded by means of work orders or job orders. Separate work orders may be opened for additions to and retirements of gas plant or the retirements may be included with the construction work order, Provided, however, That all items relating to retirements shall be kept distinctly separate from those relating to construction, and Provided further, That any maintenance costs involved in the work shall likewise be kept distinctly separate.

(b) Each utility shall keep its work order system in such manner as to show the nature of each addition to or retirement of gas plant, the total cost thereof, the source or sources of costs, and the gas plant account or accounts to which charged or credited. Work orders covering jobs of short duration may be cleared monthly.

§ 201.3–14 Transfers of property. When property consisting of one or more retirement units is transferred from one account for gas plant to another or to Account 110, Other Physical Property, from one utility department to another, such as from gas to electric, from one operating division or area to another, to or from Account 100:1, Gas Plant in Service, Account 100:2, Gas Plant Leased to Others, and Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, the transfer shall be recorded by transferring the book cost thereof from the one account, department, or location to the other, and likewise auy related amounts carried in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments, in the depreciation reserve, and other accounts shall be transferred in accordance with the segregation of such reserves and other accounts.

NOTE: Amounts included in Account 250:3, Reserve for Abandoned Leases, shall not be related to a particular lease and, therefore, shall not be transferred under the provisions of this instruction.

§ 201.3–15 Common utility plant. (a) If the utility is engaged in more than one utility service, such as electric, gas, and street railway, and any of its utility plant is used in common for several utility services or for other purposes to such an extent and in such manner that it is impracticable to segregate it by utility services currently in the accounts, such property may, but only with the approval of the Commission, be designated and classified as "Common Utility Plant."

(b) Utility plant designated as common utility plant shall be classified according to the detailed utility plant accounts appropriate for the property.

(c) The utility shall be prepared to show at any time and to report to the Commission annually, or more frequently if required, and by utility plant accounts (301 to 392), the following: (1) The book cost of common utility plant, (2) the allocation of such cost to the respective departments using the common utility plant, and (3) the basis of the allocation.

(d) The depreciation, amortization, and depletion reserves of the utility shall be so segregated as to show the amount of each reserve applicable to the property classified as common utility plant.

(e) The expenses of operation, maintenance, depreciation, amortization, and depletion of common utility plant shall be recorded in the accounts prescribed herein, but designated as common expenses, and the allocation of such expenses to the departments using the common utility plant shall be supported in the same manner as the allocation of the cost of such property.

§ 201.3–16 Transmission and distribution plant. For the purpose of this system of accounts:

(a) "Transmission system" means the land, structures, mains, valves, meters, boosters, regulators, tanks, compressors, and their driving units and appurtenances and other equipment used primarily for transmitting gas to a particular municipality or distribution system. The transmission system begins at the outlet side of the valve at the connection between the gathering lines or other source of supply and inlet to the transmission compressor station or other gathering terminals, and includes the equipment at such connection that is used to bring the gas to transmission pressure, and ends at the inlet side of the equipment which meters or regulates the entry of gas into the distribution system. It does not include storage land or structures.

(b) "Distribution system" means the mains which are provided primarily for distributing gas within a distribution area or for connecting two or more districts within a distribution area, together with land, structures (other than storage land and structures), valves, regulators, services, and measuring devices. The distribution system begins at the inlet side of the equipment which meters or regulates the entry of gas into the distribution system, and ends with, and includes, property on the customers' premises.

GAS PLANT ACCOUNTS

INTANGIBLE PLANT

§ 201.301[*] Organization. This account shall include all fees paid to Federal or State governments for the privilege of incorporation and expenditures incident to organizing the corporation, partnership, or other enterprises and putting it into readiness to do business.

ITEMS

(1) Cost of obtaining certificates authorizing an enterprise to engage in the public utility business.
(2) Fees and expenses for incorporation.
(3) Fees and expenses for mergers or consolidations.
(4) Office expenses incident to organizing the utility.
(5) Stock and minute books and corporate seal.

NOTE A: This account shall not include any discounts upon securities issued or assumed; nor shall it include any costs incident to negotiating loans, selling bonds or other evidences of debt, or expenses in connection with the authorization, issuance, or sale of capital stock.

NOTE B: Exclude from this account and include in the appropriate expense account the cost of preparing and filing papers in connection with the extension of the term of incorporation unless the first organization costs have been written off. When charges are made to this account for expenses incurred in merges, consolidations, or reogranizations, amounts previously included herein or in similar accounts the books of the companies concerned shall be excluded from this account.

§ 201.302 Franchises and consents. (a) This account shall include amounts paid to the Federal Government, to a State or to a political subdivision thereof in consideration for franchises, consents, or certificates, running in perpetuity or for a specified term of more than 1 year, together with necessary and reasonable expenses incident to procuring such franchises, consents, or certificates of permission and approval.

(b) If a franchise, consent, or certificate is acquired by assignment, the charge to this account in respect thereof shall not exceed the amount paid there or by the utility to the assignor, nor shall it exceed the amount paid by the original grantee, plus the expense of acquisition to such grantee. Any excess of the amount actually paid by the utility over the amount above specified shall be charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus.

(c) When any franchise has expired, the book cost thereof shall be credited hereto and charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or to Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, as appropriate.

[*] In §§ 201.301 to 201.392, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective account numbers in the Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective January 1, 1940, pp. 54–74. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., account 414, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.414).

(d) This account shall be maintained in such a manner as to show separately the amounts included for perpetual franchises and for limited-term franchises.

NOTE: Assessments in respect to franchises shall not be included herein but in the appropriate operating expense account.

§ 201.303 Miscellaneous intangible plant. (a) This account shall include the cost of patent rights, licenses, privileges, and other intangible property necessary or valuable in the conduct of the utility's gas operations and not specifically chargeable to any other account.

(b) When any item included in this account is retired or expires, the book cost thereof shall be credited hereto and charged to Account 414, Miscellaneous Debits to Surplus, or Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments, as appropriate.

(c) This account shall be maintained in such a manner that the utility can furnish full information with respect to the amounts included herein.

PRODUCTION PLANT

Manufactured Gas Production Plant

§ 201.311 Land and land rights. (a) This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used and useful in connection with manufactured gas production. (See Gas plant instruction 9, § 201.3-9.)

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

311:1 Land.
311:2 Land rights.

§ 201.312 Structures and improvements. This account shall include the cost of structures and improvements used and useful in connection with manufactured gas production. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3-10.)

§ 201.313 Boiler plant equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of furnaces, boilers, steam and feed water piping, boiler apparatus, and accessories used in the production of steam at gas production plants.

ITEMS

(1) Accumulators.
(2) Air preheaters, including fans and drives, and ducts not part of building.
(3) Ash disposal equipment, including sluiceways not part of a building, pumps and piping, crane, ash bucket conveyor and drives, ash cars, etc.
(4) Boilers, including valves attached thereto, casings, safety valves, soot blowers, soot hoppers, superheaters, and feed water regulators.
(5) Cinder and dust catcher system, including mechanical and electric types.
(6) Coal and coke handling equipment, including hoppers, lorries, etc., used wholly for boilers.
(7) Combustion control system, including all apparatus installed for the regulation and control of the supply of fuel or air to boilers.
(8) Control apparatus.
(9) Cranes, hoists, etc., wholly identified with apparatus listed herein.
(10) Desuperheaters and reducing valves.
(11) Draft apparatus, including forced, induced, and other draft systems, with blowers, fans, and ducts not part of building.
(12) Economizers.
(13) Feed water heaters, including primary and stage.
(14) Flues, uptakes, and breeching, whether or not stacks are included in this account.
(15) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(16) Furnaces.
(17) Gas firing system, including gas lines, burners, etc., for gas fired boilers.
(18) Injectors.
(19) Mechanical stoker and feeding systems, clinker grinders, including drives.
(20) Meters, gages, recording instruments, etc.
(21) Oil burning equipment, including tanks, heaters, pumps with drives, burner equipment, piping, and conditioning apparatus.
(22) Piping system, steam header and exhaust header, including accessory pipe hangers, steam traps, etc., make-up water, feed water, drip, blow-off, water pipe lines used for steam plant, and valve control system.
(23) Platforms, railings, steps, gratings, etc., appurtenant to apparatus listed herein.
(24) Pulverizing equipment.
(25) Pumps and driving units, for feed water, heater condensate, condenser water, and drip.
(26) Stacks—brick, steel, and concrete, when set on separate foundations independent of substructure or superstructure of building.
(27) Steam reheaters.
(28) Steelwork, especially constructed for apparatus listed herein.
(29) Tanks, including surge, weighing, return, blow-off, feed water storage.
(30) Tar burning equipment for utilization of tar as boiler fuel, including tanks, pumps, burner equipment, piping, etc.
(31) Water purification system, including purifiers, settling tanks, filters, chemical mixing and dosing apparatus, etc.

NOTE A: This account shall not include boilers or steam pipes whose primary purpose is the heating of buildings.

NOTE B: When the system for supplying boiler or condenser water is elaborate, as when it includes a dam, reservoir, canal, or pipe line, the cost shall not be charged to this account but to a special subdivision of Account 312, Structures and Improvements—Manufactured Gas.

§ 201.314 Other power equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of electric generating and accessory equipment used for supplying electricity in gas production plants.

(b) This account shall also include the cost installed of miscellaneous power equipment at gas production plants which is not included in any other account.

ITEMS

(1) Batteries for control and general station use.
(2) Belts, pulleys, hangers, shafts, and countershafts.
(3) Cables between generators and switchboards.
(4) Compartments, including buses, connections and items permanently attached.
(5) Engines, including steam rotary or reciprocating, steam turbines, and internal combustion engines.
(6) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(7) Generators, A. C. or D. C., including excitation system.
(8) Motor generators, frequency changers, and converters.
(9) Overhead lines, including poles, crossarms, insulators, conductors, etc.
(10) Piping applicable to apparatus listed herein.
(11) Switchboards, including frames, panels, and instruments.
(12) Switching equipment, including oil circuit breakers, disconnecting switches, and connections.
(13) Transformers.
(14) Underground conduit system, including manholes and conductors.

NOTE: When any unit of equipment listed herein is wholly used to furnish power to equipment included in another single account, its cost shall be included in such account.

§ 201.315 Benches and retorts. This account shall include the cost installed of benches and retorts used for the production of coal gas.

ITEMS

(1) Benches.
(2) Charging and drawing machines.
(3) Control apparatus.
(4) Equipment for steaming retorts.
(5) Flues, uptakes, and breeching, whether or not stacks are included in this account.
(6) Foundations.
(7) Fuel handling equipment used exclusively for retorts, including weigh lorries, tracks, etc., and grinders, breakers, and screens located in retort house.
(8) Fuel system under retorts, including built-in producers.
(9) Piping, including ascension pipes, hydraulic main, liquor flushing decanter tank, liquor pump, and return line to hydraulic main.
(10) Primary atmospheric condensers.
(11) Retorts—horizontal, inclined, and vertical.
(12) Stacks—brick, steel, and concrete, when set on separate foundations independent of substructure and superstructure of building.

§ 201.316 Coke ovens. This account shall include the cost installed of coke ovens used for the production of gas.

ITEMS

(1) Apparatus for placing coal in ovens.
(2) Clay mixers.
(3) Coke and pusher benches.
(4) Collecting mains.
(5) Control apparatus.
(6) Cover lifting machinery.
(7) Driving units for coke oven machinery.
(8) Flues, uptakes, and breeching.
(9) Foundations.
(10) Fuel handling equipment used exclusively for coal to be carbonized in ovens.
(11) Fuel systems under ovens.
(12) Hot coke wharves.
(13) Hot coke cars.
(14) Ovens.
(15) Piping, including ascension pipes, hydraulic main, liquor flushing decanter tank, liquor pump, and return line to hydraulic main.
(16) Pushers, including tracks and driving equipment.
(17) Quenching towers, piping, etc.
(18) Stacks.
(19) Steel and iron work supports, platforms, stairways, etc.

§ 201.317 Producer gas equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used for the production of producer gas.

ITEMS

(1) Ash handling equipment, used exclusively for producers.
(2) Blast apparatus, including blowers, driving units, and blast mains.
(3) Control apparatus.
(4) Coolers and scrubbers.
(5) Driving apparatus for producers.
(6) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(7) Fuel handling equipment, used exclusively for producers.

(8) Piping—air, steam (commencing at steam header), water (inside of building), and producer gas (up to outlet of final piece of apparatus in building).
(9) Producer boosters, including driving units.
(10) Producers.
(11) Water separators.

§ 201.318 Water gas generating equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used in the generation of water gas.

ITEMS

(1) Automatic operation equipment.
(2) Back-run installations.
(3) Blast equipment, including blowers and driving units, piping and supports.
(4) Carburetors.
(5) Control apparatus.
(6) Dust collectors.
(7) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(8) Generators.
(9) Hydraulic operation equipment.
(10) Oil handling and storage apparatus used solely for water gas apparatus.
(11) Operating floors and supports, stairways, etc.
(12) Piping and valves—steam (commencing at steam header), tar (to decanter), water (inside of building) and gas (up to outlet of final pieces of apparatus in building).
(13) Seal pots.
(14) Superheaters and superheater stacks.
(15) Valve operating mechanisms.
(16) Wash boxes.

§ 201.319 Petrolcum gas equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used for the production of gas from petroleum derivatives, such as propane, butane, or gasoline.

(b) Subdivisions of this account shall be maintained for each producing process for which this account is provided. A separate subaccount shall be maintained also for bottling equipment included herein.

ITEMS

(1) Bottling equipment.
(2) Carbureting equipment.
(3) Compression equipment.
(4) Control apparatus.
(5) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(6) Mixing or proportioning equipment.
(7) Piping—steam (commencing at steam header), water (inside of building), oil (from supply tank), and gas (up to outlet of final piece of apparatus in building).
(8) Pumps, including driving units.
(9) Storage equipment.
(10) Valves—regulating and check.
(11) Vaporizing equipment.

§ 201.320 Other gas generating equipment. This account shall include, with subdivisions for each type of gas produced, the cost installed of generating equipment which is not included in any of the foregoing accounts, such as equipment used for generating oil gas or acetylene gas.

§ 201.321 Coal, coke, and ash handling equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of structures or equipment used for the transportation, storage, washing, and treatment of coal, coke, and ashes, when used for general gas plant operations.

ITEMS

(1) Bins—mixing, refuse, storage, etc.
(2) Breaker equipment.
(3) Bridges, bridge track, and machinery.
(4) Bucket conveyors.
(5) Cars.
(6) Chutes.
(7) Coal preparation machinery, including washing and drying equipment.
(8) Conveyors and supports.
(9) Cranes.
(10) Driving apparatus for equipment listed herein.
(11) Elevators.
(12) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(13) Loading towers and equipment.
(14) Locomotives.
(15) Pits.
(16) Pulverizing equipment.
(17) Railroad sidings and yard tracks.
(18) Sampling equipment.
(19) Scales.
(20) Screens.
(21) Sheds.
(22) Transfer cars and trucks.
(23) Tresties.

§ 201.322 Gas reforming equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used primarily for reforming gas with resultant changes in its chemical composition and calorific value.

ITEMS

(1) Blast equipment, including blowers and driving units, piping, and supports.
(2) Control apparatus.
(3) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(4) Fuel and ash handling equipment, used wholly in reforming gas.
(5) Oil gas apparatus, used for reforming gas.
(6) Piping—steam (commencing at steam header), water (inside of building), and gas (up to outlet of final piece of apparatus in building).
(7) Pumps and driving units.
(8) Purifiers for gas to be reformed.
(9) Regulators.
(10) Water gas generators, used primarily for reforming gas.

§ 201.323 Purification equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of apparatus used for the removal of impurities from gas and apparatus for conditioning gas, including pumps, wells, and other accessory apparatus.

ITEMS

(1) Condensers and washer coolers.
(2) Dehydrators.
(3) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the equipment for which provided.
(4) Naphthalene and light oil scrubbers.
(5) Other accessory equipment such as coolers, spray ponds, pumps, platforms, railings, stairs.
(6) Piping—air, steam, water, gas, condensate, liquor, tar, etc., from inlet valve of first piece of apparatus to outlet valve of final piece of apparatus (or, in building, from entrance to building to exit from building).
(7) Purifiers—iron oxide or liquid, including first filling.
(8) Scrubbers.
(9) Sulfur removal apparatus.
(10) Tar extractors and Cottrell precipitators.
(11) Wash boxes.

§ 201.324 Residual refining equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of apparatus used in refining and handling of residuals except where the apparatus is necessary for the operation of property included in Account 323, Purification Equipment.

ITEMS

(1) Ammonia stills, condensers, etc.
(2) Apparatus for removal of ersiduals from purifier liquids.
(3) Condensers.
(4) Control apparatus.
(5) Coolers.
(6) Decanters.
(7) Foundations specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(8) Instruments.
(9) Light oil stills, washers, etc.
(10) Piping and pumps.
(11) Separators.
(12) Storage tanks.
(13) Tar dehydrators, stills, etc.

§ 201.325 Other production equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used in the production of gas, when not assignable to any of the foregoing accounts.

ITEMS

(1) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(2) Gas mixing equipment.
(3) Odorizing equipment.
(4) Office furniture and equipment.
(5) Oil foggers.
(6) Piping—yard, and not includible in other accounts.
(7) Production laboratory equipment.
(8) Works exhauster, including driving unit and governor.
(9) Works station meters, including gauges, piping, and accessories.

Natural Gas Production Plant

§ 201.330:1 Natural gas producing lands. This account shall include the cost of lands held in fee on which producing natural gas wells are located, and lands held in fee which are being drained of natural gas through the operation by the utility of wells on other land. (See Gas plant instruction 9–I, § 201.3–9 (i).)

§ 201.330:2 Natural gas producing leaseholds. (a) This account shall include the cost to the utility of acquiring leaseholds on which the utility pays royalties for natural gas obtained therefrom. (See Gas plant instruction 9–I, § 201.3–9 (i).)

(b) Exclude from this account rents paid periodically for rights obtained under leases. Exclude also from this account the cost of leaseholds which terminate in one year or less after they become effective.

§ 201.330:3 Natural gas rights. This account shall include the cost to the utility of natural gas rights used in producing natural gas, whereby the utility obtains ownership in gas underlying land not owned or leased by the utility. It does not provide for gas rights which are leased and which are properly chargeable to Account 330:2, Natural Gas Producing Leaseholds.

§ 201.330:4 Rights-of-way. This account shall include the first cost of all interests in land which do not terminate until more than one year after they become effective and on which are located gathering pipe lines, telephone pole lines, and like property used in connection with the production of natural gas.

§ 201.330:5 Other land and land rights. This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with the production of natural gas, when not properly assignable to any of the foregoing accounts.

§ 201.331:1 Gas well structures. This account shall include the cost of well structures and improvements used in connection with the housing of permanent boilers and other equipment necessary to keep the wells in operation. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

§ 201.331:2 Field measuring and regulating station structures. (a) This account shall include the cost of structures and improvements used in connection with the housing of meters, regulators, and appurtenant appliances for regulating and/or measuring natural gas before it is conveyed to the terminus of the field lines. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

331:21 Field Compressor Station Structures.
331:22 Field Measuring and Regulating Station Structures.

§ 201.331:3 Other production system structures. This account shall include the cost of structures and improvements used in connection with natural gas production not provided for elsewhere. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

§ 201.332:1 Producing gas wells—well construction. This account shall include the cost of drilling producing gas wells.

ITEMS

(1) Labor.
(2) Clearing well site.
(3) Drilling contractors' charges.
(4) Drive pipe.
(5) Fuel or power, cost of.
(6) Rent of drilling equipment.
(7) Water used in drilling, obtained either by driving wells, piping from springs or streams, or by purchase.
(8) Cost of hauling, erecting, dismantling, and removing boilers, portable engines, derricks, rigs, and other equipment and tools used in drilling.

§ 201.332:2 Producing gas wells—well equipment. This account shall include the cost of equipment in producing gas wells.

ITEMS

(1) Casing.
(2) Fittings, including shut-in valves, separators, drips, braden heads and casing heads.
(3) Packing.
(4) Boilers and drives permanently connected.
(5) Tubing.

§ 333:1 Field lines. This account shall include the cost installed of field lines used in conveying natural gas from the wells to the point where it enters the transmission or distribution system.

ITEMS

(1) Line drips and separators.
(2) Gathering lines, including pipe, valves, fittings, and supports.

§ 201.333:2 Field measuring and regulating station equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of meters, gages, and other equipment used in measuring or regulating natural gas collected in field lines before it is conveyed to the point where it enters the transmission or distribution system.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

333:21 Field Compressor Station Equipment.
333:22 Field Measuring and Regulating Station Equipment.

ITEMS

(1) Boosters.
(2) Driving units.
(3) Instruments, meters, pressure gages, etc.
(4) Pressure regulators.
(5) Pumps.

§ 202.334 Drilling and cleaning equipment. This account shall include the cost of implements and equipment used in drilling and cleaning natural gas wells.

ITEMS

(1) Bailers.
(2) Boilers.
(3) Derricks.
(4) Drilling cables.
(5) Drilling machines.
(6) Engines.
(7) Motors.
(8) Pulling machines.
(9) Rigs.

§ 201.335 Purification equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of apparatus used for the removal of impurities from gas and apparatus for conditioning gas including pumps, wells, and other accessory apparatus.

ITEMS

(1) Condensers and washer coolers.
(2) Dehydrators.
(3) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the equipment for which provided.
(4) Other accessory equipment, such as coolers, spray ponds, pumps, platforms, railings, stairs.
(5) Piping, from inlet valve of first piece of apparatus to outlet valve of final piece of apparatus (or, in building, from entrance to building to exit from building).
(6) Scrubbers.
(7) Sulfur removal apparatus.

§ 201.336 Residual refining equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of apparatus used in extracting, refining, and handling of gasoline and other useful residuals.

ITEMS

(1) Apparatus for removal of residuals from purifier liquids.
(2) Condensers.
(3) Control apparatus.
(4) Coolers.
(5) Decanters.
(6) Foundations specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(7) Instruments.
(8) Light oil stills, washers, etc.
(9) Natural gas gasoline absorption and refining equipment.
(10) Piping and pumps.
(11) Separators.
(12) Storage tanks.
(13) Oil well gas gathering and residue return lines when primarily devoted to gasoline extraction.

§ 201.337 Other production equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of equipment used in the production of gas, when not assignable to any of the foregoing accounts.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

337:1 Other Production Equipment—Mixing Equipment.
337:2 Other Production Equipment—Production Laboratory Equipment.
337:3 Other Production Equipment—Miscellaneous.

ITEMS

(1) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(2) Gas mixing equipment.
(3) Odorizing equipment.
(4) Office furniture and equipment.
(5) Oil foggers.
(6) Piping—yard, and not includible in other accounts.
(7) Production laboratory equipment.
(8) Works exhauster, including driving unit and governor.
(9) Works station meters, including gages, piping, and accessories.

STORAGE PLANT

§ 201.341 Land and land rights. This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with gas storage. (See Gas plant instruction 9, § 201.3–9.)

§ 201.342 Structures and improvements. This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with gas storage. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

NOTE: Include relief holders in this account.

TRANSMISSION PLANT

§ 201.351 Land and land rights. (a) This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with transmission operations. (See Gas plant instruction 9, § 201.3–9.)

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

351:1 Land.
351:2 Land Rights.

§ 201.352 Structures and improvements. (a) This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with transmission operations. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

352:1 Pumping Station Structures.
352:2 Measuring and Regulating Station Structures.

§ 201.353 Mains. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of transmission system mains.

(b) The records supporting this account shall be so kept as to show separately the cost of mains of different sizes and types and of each tunnel, bridge, or river crossing.

ITEMS

(1) Drip lines and pots.
(2) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, pumping, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(3) Municipal inspection.
(4) Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
(5) Permits.
(6) Pipe coating.

(7) Pipe and fittings.
(8) Pipe laying.
(9) Pipe supports.
(10) Protection of street openings.
(11) Valves where not installed in pits.

§ 201.354 Pumping and regulating equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of pumping, regulating, and measuring equipment, including all transmission property other than land, structures, and mains.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

354:1 Pumping Station Equipment.
354:2 Measuring and Regulating Station Equipment.

ITEMS

(1) After-cooling equipment and accessories.
(2) Boosters.
(3) Compressors.
(4) Driving units for items listed herein.
(5) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, pumping, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(6) Foundations and vaults for items listed herein.
(7) Meters located on lines.
(8) Odorization equipment.
(9) Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
(10) Piping and fittings for equipment.
(11) Pressure indicators.
(12) Valves and valve pits.
(13) Governors or regulators.
(14) Office furniture and equipment.

DISTRIBUTION PLANT

§ 201.357 Land and land rights. (a) This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used in connection with distribution operations. (See Gas plant instruction 9, § 201.3–9.)

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

357:1 Land.
357:2 Land Rights.

§ 201.358 Structures and improvements. This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used in connection with distribution operations. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

§ 201.359 Mains. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of distribution system mains.

(b) The records supporting this account shall be so kept as to show separately the cost of mains of different sizes and types and of each tunnel, bridge, or river crossing.

ITEMS

(1) Drip lines and pots.
(2) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, pumping, back-fill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(3) Municipal inspection.
(4) Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
(5) Permits.
(6) Pipe coating.
(7) Pipe and fittings.
(8) Pipe laying.
(9) Pipe supports.
(10) Protection of street openings.
(11) Valves where not installed in pits.

§ 201.360 Pumping and regulating equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of pumping, regulating, and measuring equipment, including all equipment on distribution lines not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

(1) Boosters.
(2) Compressors.
(3) Driving units for items listed herein.
(4) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, pumping, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(5) Foundations and vaults for items listed herein.
(6) Governors or regulators for pressure in mains.
(7) Meters located on lines.
(8) Odorizing equipment and oil foggers and saturators, when installed in pumping and regulating pits on distribution mains.
(9) Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
(10) Piping and fitting for equipment.
(11) Pressure indicators.
(12) Pressure regulating devices.
(13) Valves and valve pits.

§ 201.361 Services. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of service pipes, from the point at which the main is tapped to and including the first fitting or valve inside of the building wall, when the utility incurs such cost or when the utility assumes full responsibility for the maintenance and replacement of property paid for by the customer. This includes the cost of stub services run in anticipation of future use, even if such services have never been used.

(b) The utility shall maintain records to show separately the number and average length of services of each diameter and material, the book cost of which is included in this account; those through which gas is being delivered; those which have been used but which are inactive; and those to which no meters are attached.

(c) Services which have been used but have become inactive shall be retired or transferred to Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, immediately if there is no prospect of reuse, and, in any event, shall be retired by the end of the second year following that during which the service became inactive unless reused during the interim. No portion of a completed service shall be accounted for as a stub service after the use thereof has been discontinued.

ITEMS

(1) Curb valves and curb boxes.
(2) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, pumping, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(3) Municipal inspection.
(4) Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
(5) Permits.
(6) Pipe and fittings, including saddle, T, or other fitting on street main.
(7) Pipe coating.
(8) Protection of street openings.

NOTE: When a customer pays all or a part of the cost of the service and such cost is properly includible in this account, the amount borne or contributed by the customer shall be credited to Account 265, Contributions in Aid of Construction.

§ 201.362 Meters. (a) This account shall include the cost of meters or devices for use in measuring the quantity of gas delivered to users, whether actually in service or held in reserve.

(b) When a meter is permanently retired from service, the amount at which it is included herein shall be credited to this account.

(c) The records covering meters shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the number of meters of various capacities in service and in reserve as well as the location of each meter owned.

ITEMS

(1) Meters, including badging and initial testing.

NOTE: The cost of removing and resetting meters shall be charged to Account 768, Operation of Meters.

§ 201.363 Meter installations. (a) This account shall include the cost of labor employed, materials used, and expenses incurred in connection with the original installation of customers' meters.

(b) Except as modified by paragraph (c) of this section, when a meter installation is permanently retired from service, the cost thereof shall be credited to this account.

(c) The utility shall maintain records to show the total number of meter installations divided between those in service and those not in service. Meter installations in excess of the number of meters installed, both active and inactive, shall be retired immediately if there is no prospect of reuse, and in any event shall be retired by the end of the second year following that during which the meter was removed, unless reused during the interim.

ITEMS

(1) Cocks.
(2) Locks.
(3) Meter bars.
(4) Pipe and fittings.
(5) Seals.
(6) Shelves.
(7) Swivels and bushings.

§ 201.364 House regulators. (a) This account shall include the cost of house regulators whether actually in service or held in reserve.

(b) Where a house regulator is permanently retired from service, the amount at which it is included herein shall be credited to this account.

(c) The records covering house regulators shall be so kept that the utility can furnish information as to the number of house regulators of various capacities in service and in reserve as well as the location of each house regulator.

§ 201.365. House regulator installations. (a) This account shall include the cost of labor employed, materials used, and expenses incurred in connection with the original installation of house regulators.

(b) Except as modified by paragraph (c) of this section, when a house regulator installation is permanently retired from service, the cost thereof shall be credited to this account.

(c) The utility shall maintain records to show the total number of house regulators divided between those in service and those not in service. House regulator installations in excess of the number of house regulators installed, both active and inactive, shall be retired immediately if there is no prospect of reuse and in any event shall be retired by the end of the second year following that during which the house regulator was removed unless reused during the interim.

ITEMS

(1) Cocks.
(2) Locks.
(3) Pipe and fittings.
(4) Regulator vents.
(5) Swivels and bushings.

§ 201.366 Other property on customers' premises. This account shall include the cost, including first setting and connecting, of equipment owned by the utility installed on customers' premises which is not includible in other accounts.

§ 201.367 Street lighting equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of property used solely for street lighting.

ITEMS

(1) Antifreezers.
(2) Burners and burner regulators.
(3) Excavation, including shoring, bracing, bridging, pumping, backfill, and disposal of excess excavated material.
(4) Lampposts.
(5) Lamps.
(6) Lamp services and risers.
(7) Municipal inspection.
(8) Pavement disturbed, including cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks.
(9) Permits.
(10) Protection of street openings.

§ 201.368 Other distribution system equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of all other distribution system equipment not provided for in the foregoing accounts.

GENERAL PLANT

§ 201.370 Land and land rights. (a) This account shall include the cost of land and land rights used for gas utility purposes, the cost of which is not properly includible in other land and land rights accounts. (See Gas plant instruction 9, § 201.3–9.)

(b) Records shall be kept to show separately the cost of land and land rights devoted to the following uses: Office, transportation, stores, shop, laboratory, communication, and miscellaneous.

§ 201.371 Structures and improvements. (a) This account shall include the cost in place of structures and improvements used for gas utility purposes, the cost of which is not properly includible in other structures and improvements accounts. (See Gas plant instruction 10, § 201.3–10.)

(b) Records shall be kept to show separately the cost of structures and improvements devoted to the following uses: Office, transportation, stores, shop, laboratory, communication, and miscellaneous.

§ 201.372 Office furniture and equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost of office furniture and equipment owned by the utility and devoted to gas service, and not permanently attached to buildings, except the cost of such furniture and equipment which the utility elects to assign to other plant accounts (such as Account 337, Other Production Equipment) on a functional basis. Articles of slight value or short service life acquired subsequent to the commencement of operations shall be charged to the appropriate operating expense account and not to this account.

(b) If the utility has equipment includible in this account at more than one location, separate records shall be maintained for each location.

ITEMS

(1) Bookcases and shelves.
(2) Desks, chairs, and desk equipment.
(3) Drafting room equipment.
(4) Filing, storage, and other cabinets.
(5) Fire extinguishers (portable).
(6) Floor covering (not permanently attached).
(7) Library and library equipment.
(8) Mechanical office equipment, such as accounting machines, typewriters, etc.
(9) Safes.
(10) Tables.

§ 201.373 Transportation equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost of transportation and garage equipment when such equipment is not an integral part of the housing structures.

(b) If the utility has garage equipment at more than one location, separate records shall be maintined for each location.

ITEMS

(1) Airplanes and other aviation equipment.
(2) Automobile repair shop equipment.
(3) Automobiles.
(4) Barges, scows, and tankers.
(5) Battery charging equipment.
(6) Bicycles.
(7) Drays.
(8) Electric vehicles.
(9) Gasoline and oil pumps (portable).
(10) Gasoline and oil storage tanks.
(11) Greasing tools and equipment.
(12) Horses, wagons, and harness.
(13) Horseshoeing equipment.
(14) Mortorcycles.
(15) Motor trucks.
(16) Repair cars or trucks.
(17) Tractors.
(18) Trailers.
(19) Trucks.
(20) Tugs.
(21) Other garage or stable equipment.

§ 201.374 Stores equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost of equipment used for the receiving, shipping, handling, and storage of materials and supplies, which are not includible in other accounts.

(b) If the utility has equipment includible in this account at more than one location, separate records shall be maintained for each location.

ITEMS

(1) Chain falls.
(2) Counters.
(3) Cranes (portable).
(4) Elevating and stacking equipment (portable).
(5) Hoists.
(6) Lockers.
(7) Scales.
(8) Shelving.
(9) Storage bins.
(10) Trucks, hand and power driven.
(11) Wheelbarrows.

§ 201.375 Shop equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of equipment specially provided for general shops when such equipment is not an integral part of the housing structure.

(b) If the utility has equipment includible in this account at more than one location, separate records shall be maintained for each location.

ITEMS

(1) Anvils.
(2) Belts, shafts, and countershafts.
(3) Boilers.
(4) Cranes and hoists.
(5) Drill presses.
(6) Electric equipment.
(7) Engines.
(8) Forges.
(9) Foundations and settings, specially constructed for and not intended to outlast the apparatus for which provided.
(10) Furnaces.
(11) Lathes.
(12) Machine tools.
(13) Meter provers.
(14) Motor driven hand tools.
(15) Motors and engines.
(16) Pipe threading and cutting machines.
(17) Pneumatic tools.
(18) Smithing equipment.
(19) Tool racks.
(20) Vises.
(21) Work benches, etc.

§ 201.376 Laboratory equipment. (a) This account shall include the cost installed of laboratory equipment used for general laboratory purposes and not specially provided for or includible in other utility plant accounts.

(b) If the utility has equipment includible in this account at more than one location, separate records shall be maintained for each location.

ITEMS

(1) Balances and scales.
(2) Barometers.
(3) Calorimeters—bomb, flow, recording types, etc.
(4) Electric furnaces.
(5) Gas burning equipment.
(6) Gages.
(7) Glassware, beakers, burrettes, etc.
(8) Humidity testing apparatus.
(9) Laboratory hoods.
(10) Laboratory tables and cabinets.
(11) Muffles.
(12) Oil analysis apparatus.
(13) Piping.
(14) Specific gravity apparatus.
(15) Standard bottles for meter prover testing.
(16) Stills.
(17) Sulfur and ammonia apparatus.
(18) Tar analysis apparatus.
(19) Thermometers—indicating and recording.
(20) Any other item of equipment for testing gas, fuel, flue gas, water, residuals, etc.

§ 201.377 Tools and work equipment. This account shall include the cost of tools, implements, and equipment used in construction or repair work exclusive of equipment includible in other equipment accounts.

ITEMS

(1) Air compressors, including driving unit and vehicle.
(2) Boilers.
(3) Concrete mixers and distributors.
(4) Derricks.
(5) Engines.
(6) Forges.
(7) Furnaces.
(8) Hoists.
(9) Lathes.
(10) Motors.
(11) Pile drivers.
(12) Pipe machines.
(13) Pneumatic tools.
(14) Pumps.
(15) Steam shovels.
(16) Surveying and leveling equipment.
(17) Tool carts.
(18) Trenching machinery.

§ 201.378 Communication equipment. This account shall include the cost installed of telephone, telegraph, and wireless equipment for general use in connection with the utility's gas operations.

ITEMS

(1) Antennae.
(2) Booths.
(3) Cables.
(4) Distributing boards.
(5) Extension cords.
(6) Gongs.
(7) Hand sets, manual and dial.
(8) Insulators.
(9) Intercommunicating sets.
(10) Loading coils.
(11) Operators' desks.
(12) Poles and fixtures used wholly in telephone or telegraph wire.
(13) Radio transmitting and receiving sets.
(14) Sending keys.
(15) Storage batteries.
(16) Switchboards.
(17) Telautograph circuit connections.
(18) Telegraph receiving sets.
(19) Testing instruments.
(20) Towers.
(21) Underground conduits used wholly for telephone or telegraph wire and cable wires.

§ 201.379 Miscellaneous equipment. This account shall include the cost of equipment, apparatus, etc., used in the utility's gas operations, which is not includible in any other equipment account of this system of accounts.

ITEMS

(1) Billiard tables, including equipment.
(2) Bowling alleys, including equipment.
(3) Hospital and infirmary equipment.
(4) Kitchen equipment.
(5) Miscellaneous recreation equipment.
(6) Operators' cottage furnishings.
(7) Radios.
(8) Restaurant equipment.
(9) Soda fountains.
(10) Other miscellaneous equipment.

§ 201.390 Other tangible property. This account shall include the cost of tangible gas plant not provided for elsewhere.

§ 201.391 Gas plant purchased. (a) This account shall include the cost of gas plant acquired as an operating unit or system by purchase, merger, consolidation, or otherwise, pending the distribution thereof to the appropriate accounts in accordance with Gas plant instruction 4, § 201.3–4.

(b) Within 6 months from the date of acquisition of property recorded herein, there shall be filed with the Commission the proposed journal entries to clear from this account the cost to the utility of the property acquired.

§ 201.392 Gas plant sold. (a) This account shall be credited temporarily with the selling price of gas plant constituting an operating unit or system, sold, conveyed, or transferred to another through sale, merger, consolidation, or otherwise, pending the completion of the accounting for the transaction as provided in Gas plant instruction 12, § 201.3–12.

(b) Within 6 months from the date of sale or transfer of the property, there shall be filed with the Commission the proposed journal entries to clear from this account the amounts recorded herein.

INSTRUCTIONS, EARNED SURPLUS ACCOUNT

§ 201.4–1 Purpose of earned surplus account. The earned surplus account is the collective title for a group of accounts which form the connecting link between the income account and the balance sheet. The several accounts thereof (400 to 414) are designed to show the changes in earned surplus or deficit during each calendar year resulting from (a) the operations and other transactions during the period as reflected in the income accounts, (b) appropriations or other reservations of earned surplus for specific purposes, (c) accounting adjustments not properly attributable to the period, (d) miscellaneous gains and losses not accounted for elsewhere, and (e) appropriations for dividends. (Instructions, Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective January 1, 1940, p. 75.)

EARNED SURPLUS ACCOUNT

CREDITS

§ 201.400[1] Credit balance transferred from income account. This account shall include the net credit balance transferred from the income account for the year.

§ 201.401 Miscellaneous credits to surplus. (a) This account shall include all credits affecting the earned surplus or deficit but not provided for elsewhere. Among the items which shall be credited to this account are:

(1) Credits for amounts previously written off through charges to earned surplus.

(2) Delayed credits to income, operating revenue, and operating expense accounts as provided in General instruction 6 (§ 201.02–6).

(3) Profits on retirements of the utility's debt securities. (See Balance sheet instruction 6, § 201.1–6.)

(b) All items included in this account shall be sufficiently described in the entries relating thereto as to identify them with all accounts affected, and if the credits relate to prior years the amount applicable to each fiscal year shall be shown.

DEBITS

§ 201.410 Debit balance transferred from income account. This account shall include the net debit balance transferred from the income account for the year.

§ 201.411 Dividend appropriations—preferred stock. (a) This account shall include amounts declared payable out of surplus or earnings as dividends on actually outstanding preferred or prior lien capital stock issued by the utility, or the amounts credited to a reserve for dividends.

(b) Dividends shall be segregated as to those payable in cash, stock, and other forms. If not payable in cash, the medium of payment shall be described with sufficient particularity to identify it.

(c) This account shall be maintained or supported in such manner as to show separately the dividends on each class and series of preferred stock.

§ 201.412 Dividend appropriations—common stock. (a) This account shall include amounts declared payable out of surplus or earnings as dividends on actually outstanding common capital stock issued by the utility, or the amounts credited to a reserve for dividends.

(b) Dividends shall be segregated as to those payable in cash, stock, and other forms. If not payable in cash, the medium of payment shall be described with sufficient particularity to identify it.

(c) This account shall be maintained or supported in such manner as to show separately the dividends on each class and series of common stock.

§ 201.413 Miscellaneous reservations of surplus. (a) This account shall include the reservations or appropriations of earned surplus for purposes not provided for elsewhere in this system of accounts.

(b) The entries to this account shall show the nature of each reservation of earned surplus.

§ 201.414 Miscellaneous debits to surplus. (a) This account shall include amounts chargeable to earned surplus but not provided for elsewhere. Among the items which shall be charged hereto are:

(1) Amounts charged to earned surplus to cover past accrued depreciation, amortization, and depletion not provided for.

(2) Decline in value of investments. (See Balance sheet instruction 4, § 201.1–4.)

(3) Delayed debits to income, operating revenue, and operating expense accounts, as provided in General instruction 6 (§ 201.02–6).

(4) Payments of amounts previously credited to earned surplus.

(5) Losses on reacquirement of utility's debt securities. (See Balance sheet instruction 6, § 201.1–6.)

(6) Losses which are not properly chargeable to operating expenses or income and for which reserves have not been provided.

(b) All items included in this account shall be sufficiently described in the entries relating thereto as to identify them with all accounts affected, and if the charges relate to prior years, the amount applicable to each fiscal year shall be shown.

INSTRUCTIONS, INCOME ACCOUNTS

§ 201.5–1[2] Purpose of income accounts. The income accounts (501 to

[1] In §§ 201.400 to 201.414, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective account numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective January 1, 1940, pp. 76, 77.

[2] In §§ 201.6–1 to 201.5–4, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the dash correspond with the respective instruction numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, p. 78. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 113, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.113).

540) are designed to show for each month and each calendar year the operating revenues and expenses, the other income, the income deductions, the net income, the miscellaneous reservations of net income, and the amount of income or loss remaining for transfer to earned surplus.

§ 201.5–2 Records for other income. The records supporting the other income shall be so kept that the utility can furnish detailed statements of the revenues from each source and the expenses and other deductions related to such revenues.

§ 201.5–3 Income from sinking and other funds. (a) Interest and other revenues derived from funds carried in Account 113, Sinking Funds, and Account 114, Miscellaneous Special Funds, shall be credited to Account 525, Revenues from Sinking and Other Funds.

(b) When the income is required by a mortgage or other provisions to be held in the fund from which the income arises, an amount equal to the income shall be added to the fund to which it is applicable.

(c) When income derived from sinking funds and other special funds is required to be retained in the fund and the fund is represented by a reserve, the amount of such income accretions to the fund shall be credited to the appropriate reserve account and charged to Account 540, Miscellaneous Reservations of Net Income, or Account 413, Miscellaneous Reservations of Surplus, as appropriate.

§ 201.5–4 Rents includible in income accounts. (a) Rents which the utility receives from others for gas operating property, the investment in which is properly includible in Account 100.2, Gas Plant Leased to Others, shall be recorded in Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others. Rentals from gas property owned by the utility and properly includible in Account 100.1, Gas Plant in Service, shall be credited to Account 610, Rent from Gas Property.

(b) All expenses, including the provisions for depreciation and amortization and depletion, if any, applicable to property, the income from which is included in Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others, shall be charged to that account.

UTILITY INCOME

§ 201.501* Operating revenues. Under this caption shall be included the total operating revenues shown in the primary revenue accounts 600 to 619, derived by the utility from its utility operations during the period covered by the income account.

§ 201.502 Operating expenses. Under this caption shall be included the total expenses shown in accounts 701 to 809, incurred by the utility in its gas operations during the period covered by the income account.

§ 201.503:1 Depreciation. (a) This account shall include the depreciation expense applicable to gas plant in service and in process of reclassification (accounts 100.1 and 100.6) for the period covered by the income account, except such depreciation expense as may be charged to clearing accounts or to construction work in progress, or to Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

503:11 Depreciation of Production Plant—Manufactured Gas.
503:12 Depreciation of Production Plant—Natural Gas.
503:13 Depreciation of Storage Plant.
503:14 Depreciation of Transmission Plant.
503:15 Depreciation of Distribution Plant.
503:16 Depreciation of General Plant.

§ 201.503:2 Amortization and depletion of producing natural gas land and land rights. (a) This account shall include the charges applicable to the period covered by the income account for amortization and depletion of producing natural gas land and land rights. (See Account 250:2, Reserve for Amortization and Depletion of Producing Natural Gas Land and Land Rights.)

(b) The charges to this account shall be made in such manner as to distribute the cost of producing natural gas land and land rights over the period of their benefit to the utility, based upon the exhaustion of the natural gas deposits recoverable from such land and land rights.

§ 201.504 Amortization of other limited-term gas investments. This account shall include the amount of amortization expenses for the period covered by the income account applicable to the amounts included in gas plant accounts for limited-term franchises, licenses, patent rights, and limited-term interests in land other than land rights held for the production of natural gas. The charges to this account shall be such as to distribute the book cost of each investment as evenly as may be over the period of its benefit to the utility. (See Account 251, Reserve for Amortization of Other Limited-Term Gas Investments.)

§ 201.505 Amortization of gas plant acquisition adjustments. A. This account shall be debited or credited, as the case may be, with amounts includible in operating revenue deductions for the purpose of providing for the extinguishment of the amount in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments, pursuant to approval or order of the Commission.

(b) Amounts recorded in this account shall be concurrently debited or credited, as the case may be, to Account 252, Reserve for Amortization of Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

§ 201.506 Property losses chargeable to operations. This account shall be charged with amounts credited to Account 141, Extraordinary Property Losses, when the Commission has authorized the amount in the latter account to be amortized by charges to operations.

§ 201.507 Taxes. (a) This account shall include the amount of Federal, State, county, municipal, and other taxes, which are properly chargeable to gas operations. (See account 228.)

(b) This account shall be charged each month with the amount of taxes which are applicable thereto, and concurrent credits shall be made to Account 228, Taxes Accrued. When it is necessary to apportion taxes to gas operations, full details as to the method of and facts considered in the apportionment shall be recorded.

(c) When it is not possible to determine the exact amount of taxes, the amount shall be estimated and the estimate for the period charged to this account, and adjustments shall be made as the actual tax levies become known.

(d) Taxes assumed by the utility on property leased from others for use in gas operations shall be charged to the appropriate rent expense or clearing account.

(e) The charges to this account shall be made or supported so as to show the amount of each kind of tax, and the basis upon which each charge is made.

NOTE A: Gasoline and other sales taxes shall be charged as far as practicable to the account to which the material on which the tax is levied is charged.

NOTE B: Taxes assumed by the utility on interest shall be charged to Account 533, Taxes Assumed on Interest.

NOTE C: Taxes on nonoperating property the income from which is included in Account 521, Income from Nonutility Operations, shall be charged to that account, and taxes on property the income from which is included in Account 522, Revenues from Lease of Other Physical Property, shall be charged to Account 527, Nonoperating Revenue Deductions.

NOTE D: Taxes on property leased to others, the revenue from which is included in Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others, shall be charged to that account.

NOTE E: For taxes chargeable to merchandising, jobbing, and contract work and to clearing accounts, see account 789 and accounts 901 to 906.

NOTE F: Amounts payable annually or more frequently under the terms of franchises shall be included in Account 805, Franchise Requirements.

NOTE G: Special assessments for street and similar improvements shall be included in the gas plant account in which the property with which the taxes are identified is included.

NOTE H: Taxes applicable to construction shall be charged to Account 100:3, Construction Work in Progress.

§ 201.508 Income from gas plant leased to others. (a) This account shall include the rental income from gas property constituting a distinct operating unit or system leased by the utility to others, and which property is properly includible in Account 100:2, Gas Plant Leased to Others.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

508:1 Revenues from Plant Leased to Others.
508:2 Expenses of Plant Leased to Others.

(c) This account shall be so kept or supported as to show separately the following for each lease:

(1) Rentals.
(2) Expenses.
(3) Depreciation, amortization, and depletion.
(4) Taxes.
(5) Uncollectible rents.

§ 201.509 Other utility operating income. (a) Under this caption shall be included revenues received and expenses incurred in connection with operations of utility plant, the book cost of which is included in Account 108, Other Utility Plant.

(d) The expenses shall include every element of cost incurred in such operations, including depreciation, rents, taxes, and insurance.

EXPLORATION AND DEVELOPMENT COSTS

§ 201.510 Delay rentals. (a) This account shall be charged with the amount of rents paid periodically on natural gas lands in order to hold natural gas land and land rights for the purpose of obtaining a supply of gas in the future.

(b) Include also in this account the cost of obtaining natural gas leases for a period of one year or less.

(c) Records supporting this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish complete details of the charges made for each natural gas leasehold. (See note to Gas plant instruction 9–I, § 201.3–9 (i).)

§ 201.511 Nonproductive well drilling. This account shall include the cost of drilling nonproductive wells during the period covered by the income account.

NOTE. Records in support of the charges to this account shall conform, as appropriate, to paragraph B of General instruction 11 (§ 201.02–11), Records for Each Plant.

§ 201.512 Abandoned leases. (a) This account shall be charged with amounts credited to Account 250.3, Reserve for Abandoned Leases, to cover the probable loss on abandonment of natural gas leases included in Account 100:4, Gas Plant Held for Future Use, which have never been productive.

(b) When natural gas leaseholds which have never been productive are abandoned, and the amounts provided in Account 250:3, Reserve for Abandoned Leases, are not sufficient to cover the cost thereof, the deficiency shall be charged to this account, unless otherwise authorized or directed by the Commission. (See account 141.)

§ 201.513 Other exploration costs. This account shall be charged with the cost of abandoned projects on which preliminary expenditures were made for the purpose of determining the feasibility of acquiring acreage to provide a future supply of natural gas. (See Account 142:1, Preliminary Natural Gas Survey and Investigation Charges.)

OTHER INCOME

§ 201.520 Income from merchandising, jobbing, and contract work. (a) This account shall include all revenues derived from and expenses incurred in the sale of gas merchandise and jobbing or contract work, including any profit or commission accruing to the utility on jobbing work performed by it as agent under agency contracts, whereunder it undertakes to do jobbing work for another for a stipulated profit or commission.

(b) The account shall be subdivided as follows:

520:1 Revenues from Merchandising, Jobbing, and Contract Work.
520:2 Costs and Expenses of Merchandising, Jobbing, and Contract Work.

Account 520:2 shall further be subdivided so as to show the major items of costs and expenses.

NOTE: The income from gas merchandising, jobbing, and contract work shall be reported in this account if State statutes or orders of the commission having jurisdiction over the utility require such income to be reported as a nonoperating income item, but the amount shall be reported in Account 789, Merchandising, Jobbing, and Contract Work, if the statutes or orders of the commission permit the income to be reported as an operating income or expense item. (See account 789 for list of items.)

§ 201.521 Income from nonutility operations. (a) This account shall include the revenues from and the expenses incurred in nonutility operations.

(b) The expenses shall include every element of cost incurred in such operations, including depreciation, rents, taxes, and insurance.

(c) Subdivide this account as follows:

521:1 Revenues from Nonutility Operations.
521:2 Expenses of Nonutility Operations.

§ 201.522 Revenues from lease of other physical property. (a) This account shall include all rent revenues from land, buildings, or other property not devoted to utility operations.

(b) All expenses, such as repairs, depreciation, taxes, uncollectible rents, etc., incurred in connection with the property leased, shall be charged to Account 527, Nonoperating Revenue Deductions.

§ 201.523 Dividend revenues. This account shall include the revenues derived by the utility from dividends on stocks of other companies.

NOTE A: No amount representing dividends receivable shall be included in this acccunt unless the dividends have been declared or guaranteed.

NOTE B: No dividends on reacquired securities issued or assumed by the utility shall be included in this account.

NOTE C: Dividend revenues from securities held in sinking or other special funds shall not be credited to this account but to Account 525, Revenues from Sinking and Other Funds.

§ 201.524 Interest revenues. Report by this caption the amounts included in accounts 524:1 and 524:2.

§ 201.524:1 Interest on securities owned. This account shall include interest revenues on investments in securities of other companies.

NOTE A: Interest accrued shall not be credited to this account unless its payment is reasonably assured.

NOTE B: Interest upon reacquired securities issued or assumed by the utility shall not be credited to this account.

NOTE C: Interest on securities held in sinking or other special funds shall not be included in this account but in Account 525, Revenues from Sinking and Other Funds.

NOTE D: This account may include for each month the applicable amount requisite to extinguish (during the interval between the date of acquisition and the date of maturity) the difference between the cost to the utility and the par value of securities on which the interest is received. Amounts thus credited or charged shall be concurrently included in the accounts in which the securities are carried. (See Balance sheet instructions 4, § 201.1–4.)

§ 201.524:2 Other interest revenues. This account shall include interest revenue on loans, notes, advances, special deposits, and all other interest-bearing assets, except as provided in account 524.1.

NOTE: Interest accrued shall not be credited to this account unless its payment is reasonably assured.

§ 201.525 Revenues from sinking and other funds. (a) This account shall include all revenues (whether interest or dividends) accrued on cash, securities, or other assets held in Account 113, Sinking Funds, and Account 114, Miscellaneous Special Funds.

(b) This account may include for each month the applicable amount requisite to extinguish (during the interval between the date of acquisition and the date of maturity) the difference between the cost to the utility and the par value of debt securities held in sinking or other funds. Amounts thus credited or charged shall be concurrently included in the accounts in which the securities are carried. (See Balance sheet instruction 4, § 201.1–4.)

(c) This account covers all revenues from sinking and other funds carried in accounts 113 and 114, whether or not such revenues are required to be retained in the funds. If the revenues are required to be retained in a special fund and the fund is represented by a reserve, the amount of such accretions to the fund shall be concurrently credited to the appropriate reserve account and charged to Account 540, Miscellaneous Reservations of Net Income, or Account 413, Miscellaneous Reservations of Surplus, as appropriate.

§ 201.526 Miscellaneous nonoperating revenues. This account shall include all revenue items, properly includible in the income account and not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

(1) Fees collected in connection with the exchange of coupon bonds for registered bonds.

(2) Profits from operations of others realized by the utility under contracts.

§ 201.527 Nonoperating revenue deductions. (a) This account shall include the expenses, taxes, and uncollectible bills applicable to the period covered by the income account which are associated or incurred in connection with the revenues which are includible in accounts 522 to 526, inclusive, and miscellaneous nonoperating expenses not provided for elsewhere.

(b) This account shall be maintained or supported in such manner as to disclose the expenses or deductions applicable to each nonoperating revenue account.

*In §§ 201.501 to 201.540, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point (except that a colon has been substituted in each instance where a decimal point was used in the original account number) correspond with the respective account numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective January 1, 1940, pp. 80–86. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 507, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.507).

INCOME DEDUCTIONS

§ 201.530 Interest on long-term debt. (a) This account shall include in each accounting period the amount of interest applicable thereto on outstanding long-term debt issued or assumed by the utility, the liability for which is included in Account 210, Bonds, Account 211, Receivers' Certificates, or Account 213, Miscellaneous Long-Term Debt.

(b) The amount charged to this account shall be credited concurrently to Account 229:1, Interest Accrued on Long-Term Debt.

(c) This account shall be so kept or supported by other records as to show the interest accruals on each class and series of long-term debt.

NOTE: This account shall not include interest on nominally issued or nominally outstanding long-term debt, including securities assumed.

§ 201.531 Amortization of debt discount and expense. (a) This account shall include in each accounting period the portion of unamortized debt discount and expense on outstanding long-term debt which is applicable to such period.

(b) The amount of unamortized debt discount and expense chargeable to each accounting period shall be determined in accordance with Balance sheet instruction 6 (§ 201.1–6).

(c) Amounts charged to this account shall be credited concurrently to Account 140, Unamortized Debt Discount and Expense.

§ 201.532 Amortization of premium on debt—cr. (a) This account shall include in each accounting period the portion of unamortized premium on outstanding long-term debt which is applicable to such period.

(b) The amount of unamortized premium on debt includible in each accounting period shall be determined in accordance with Balance sheet instruction 6 (§ 201.1–6).

(c) Amounts credited to this account shall be charged concurrently to Account 240, Unamortized Premium on Debt.

§ 201.533 Taxes assumed on interest. This account shall include amounts paid to holders of the bonds or other indebtedness of the utility, or amounts paid to governmental agencies in their behalf in respect to income and other taxes levied against the income from such debt or levied as a tax on ownership of the debt, where such taxes are assumed by the utility.

§ 201.534 Interest on debt to associated companies. There shall be reported by this caption the amounts included in Accounts 534:1 and 534:2.

§ 201.534:1 Interest on advances from associated companies. (a) This account shall include interest accrued on amounts included in Account 212, Advances from Associated Companies.

(b) The record supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept as to show to whom the interest is to be paid, the period covered by the accrual, the rate of interest, and the principal amount of the advances on which the interest is accrued.

§ 201.534:2 Interest on other debt to associated companies. (a) This account shall include interest accrued on amounts recorded in Account 223:1, Notes Payable to Associated Companies, on amounts recorded in Account 223:2, Accounts Payable to Associated Companies, and on any other obligation to associated companies, except advances from such companies, the interest on which is includible in account 534:1.

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept as to show to whom the interest is to be paid, the period covered by the accrual, the rate of interest, the nature of the obligation on which accrued, and the account or accounts credited with the accrual.

§ 201.535 Other interest charges. (a) This account shall include all interest charges not provided for elsewhere.

(b) A list of some of the items of indebtedness, the interest on which is chargeable to this account follows:

(1) Assessments for public improvements past due.
(2) Claims and judgments.
(3) Customers' deposits.
(4) Notes payable on demand or maturing 1 year or less from date, except notes payable to associated companies.
(5) Open accounts, except with associated companies.
(6) Tax assessments past due.

§ 201.536 Interest charged to construction—Credit. This account shall include concurrent credits for interest charged to construction in accordance with Gas plant instruction 5 (17) § 201.3–5 (17)).

§ 201.537 Miscellaneous amortization. This account shall include amortization expenses not elsewhere provided for in this system of accounts, and also such amounts as the Commission may, by order, require to be included herein, such as amortization of amounts in Account 100:5, Gas Plant Acquisition Adjustments.

§ 201.538 Miscellaneous income deductions. This account shall include miscellaneous debits to income, not provided for elsewhere.

ITEMS

(1) Decline in value of investments. (See Balance sheet instructions 4, § 201.1–4.)
(2) Donations.
(3) Expenditures for associated companies for which the utility will not be reimbursed.

DISPOSITION OF NET INCOME

§ 201.540 Miscellaneous reservations of net income. (a) This acount shall include reservations of net income, such as may be required under the terms of mortgages, deeds, of trust, orders of courts, contracts, or other agreements, and other reservations of net income.

(b) Amounts charged to this account shall be credit concurrently to the appropriate reserve account.

(c) The entries in this account shall show the nature of each reservation of income.

INSTRUCTIONS, OPERATING REVENUE ACCOUNTS

§ 201.6–1 [10] Purpose of operating revenue accounts. The operating revenue accounts (600 to 619) are designed to show the amounts of money which the utility becomes entitled to receive from furnishing gas utility service and from service incidental thereto, including amounts for services rendered but not yet billed, where the utility exercises its option and records on its books such accrued gas revenue. (See Account 130, Accrued Utility Revenues.)

§ 201.6–2 Basis of credits to operating revenue accounts. (a) Credits to the operating revenue accounts shall be made on the basis of the net price charged. Discounts forfeited and penalties charged for delayed payments shall be credited to Account 612, Customers' Forfeited Discounts and Penalties. Corrections of overcharges and overcollections theretofore credited, authorized abatements and allowances, and other corrections shall be charged to the revenue accounts to which they relate.

(b) Separate subdivisions shall be maintained under each revenue account, as appropriate, for revenues derived from sales of gas on an unmetered basis.

§ 201.6–3 Commissions on gas sales. If the utility distributes all or a part of its gas through an agent but the sales are made to consumers under rate schedules filed by the utility, then the utility shall credit its revenue accounts with the full amount of sales to consumers. The commission paid to the agent shall be charged to Account 804, Commissions Paid Under Agency Sales Contracts, and any distribution expenses charged by the agent shall be debited to the appropriate expense accounts. Agents shall credit the amount of commissions earned to Operating Revenue Account 619, Miscellaneous Gas Revenues.

§ 201.6–4 Gas supplied without direct charge. Gas supplied to municipalities, or to other governmental units, without charge, in accordance with franchise and similar requirements, shall be charged to Account 805, Franchise Requirements, and credited concurrently to Account 806, Duplicate Miscellaneous Charges—Credit.

§ 201.6–5 Gas used by utility. (a) If the utility desires to charge the appropriate accounts in any of its gas operations with the cost of gas used from its own supply, the credit therefore shall not be made to operating revenue accounts, but to the appropriate duplicate charges credit account.

(b) Gas supplied by the utility from its own supply to other departments shall be accounted for in the following manner: If the gas is supplied under a definite arrangement whereby the actual costs, by accounts, are allocated between or among the departments using the gas, the credit in the accounts of the gas department shall be made to the appropriate joint expense credit account or accounts, except that the amount of any return or interest, and the amount of depreciation and taxes charged against the other departments shall be credited to Account 611, Interdepartmental Rents. If the charges are at specified rates or at tariff rates for the gas supplied, then the entire amount charged shall be credited to Account 607, Interdepartmental Sales.

§ 201.6–6 Supporting records. Each utility shall so keep the records supporting the entries to each gas operating revenue account that it can furnish (1) the name of each customer, (2) the quantity (uniform basis of measurement) of gas furnished to each customer, (3) the amount charged for gas furnished each customer, and (4) the rate schedule or schedules under which the charge is made. Each utility shall also be prepared to report, upon request, within a reasonable time, for each month or other billing period and for each year, the quantity of gas sold and the charges therefor, by rate schedules.

§ 201.6–7 Segregation of sales to associated companies. The utility shall keep its records in such manner as to be able to report by rate schedules the quantity of gas sold and the amount received therefor on sales to each associated company.

OPERATING REVENUE ACCOUNTS

GAS SERVICE REVENUES

§ 201.600 [11] Residential sales. (a) This account shall include revenues from gas supplied for residential purposes.

(b) When gas supplied through a single meter is used for both residential and commercial purposes, the total revenue shall be included in this account, or in Account 602, Commercial and Industrial Sales, according to the principal use.

§ 201.602 Commercial and industrial sales. (a) This account shall include revenues from gas supplied for commercial and industrial purposes.

(b) When gas supplied through a single meter is used for both commercial and residential purposes, the total revenue shall be included in this account, or in Account 600, Residential Sales, according to the principal use.

(c) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

602:1 Commercial Sales.
602:2 Industrial Sales.

[10] In §§ 201.6–1 to 201.6–7, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the dash correspond with the respective instruction numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 87, 88 Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account numbers, e. g., Account 130 instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.130).

[11] In §§ 201.600 to 201.619, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective account numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 90–92. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 615, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.615).

§ 201.603 Public street and highway lighting. This account shall include revenues from gas supplied and services rendered for the purpose of lighting streets, highways, parks, and other public places for municipalities, or other divisions or agencies of State or Federal governments.

§ 201.604 Other sales to public authorities. This account shall include the revenues from the sale of gas supplied to municipalities or divisions, or agencies of Federal or State governments, under special contracts or agreements or service classification applicable only to public authorities, except such revenues as are includible in accounts 603 and 605.

§ 201.605 Sales to other gas utilities. (a) This account shall include revenues from gas supplied to other gas utilities or to public authorities for redistribution.

(b) Revenues from gas supplied to other public utilities, for use by them and not for distribution, shall be included in account 602, unless supplied under the same contract as and not readily separable from revenues includible in this account.

§ 201.607 Interdepartmental sales. This account shall include the amounts charged to other departments of the utility by the gas department for gas supplied by the latter, if the charges are at tariff or other specified rates for the gas supplied. (See Operating revenue instruction 5 (§ 201.6–5) and Account 611, Interdepartmental Rents.)

§ 201.608 Other sales. This account shall include revenues derived from sales of gas which are not properly includible in the revenue accounts 600 to 607, inclusive.

OTHER GAS REVENUES

§ 201.610 Rent from gas property. (a) This account shall include rents received for the use by others of land, buildings, and other property devoted to gas operations by the utility. This covers such matters as rent from office buildings, stations, land, etc.

(b) When the utility employs some of its gas plant for the benefit of another or others under a definite arrangement for apportioning the actual expenses by accounts among the several participants in the arrangement, and such arrangement provides for the receipt by the accounting utility of any profit or return upon its property, such profit or return, together with the amount of depreciation and taxes charged to another or others pursuant to the arrangement, shall be credited to this account. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.6–6.)

NOTE: No not include rents from property constituting an operating unit or system in this account. (See Account 508, Income from Gas Plant Leased to Others.)

§ 201.611 Interdepartmental rents. This account shall include the rents creditable to the gas department on account of rental charges made against other departments of the utility. In the case of property operated under a definite arrangement to allocate the costs, by accounts, among the departments using the property, the reimbursement to the gas department for operating and maintenance expenses shall be credited to the appropriate joint expense credit account or accounts, but the reimbursements for interest or return and depreciation and taxes shall be credited to this account. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.6–6.)

NOTE: Charges for gas supplied other departments at tariff or other specified rates shall not be included in this account but in Account 607, Interdepartmental Sales. (See Operating revenue instruction 5, § 201.7–5.)

§ 201.612 Customers' forfeited discounts and penalties. This account shall include the amounts which the utility allows its customers on condition that they pay their gas bills on or before a specified date and which are forfeited by the customers because of failure to pay within the specified time, as well as the amounts of penalties imposed by the utility on its customers because of failure to pay bills within a specified time.

§ 201.614 Servicing of customers' installations. This account shall include revenues accruing to the utility from charges to customers on account of the maintenance of appliances, piping, or other installations on customers' premises.

§ 201.615 Revenue from transportation of gas of others. This account shall include all revenue accruing to the utility from other companies for transmitting gas through its production, transmission, and distribution lines or compressor stations.

§ 201.616 Revenue from incidental gasoline sales. This account shall include the revenue derived from natural gas gasoline produced direct from gas wells, recovered from drips, and procured in connection with purification processes.

§ 201.617 Revenue from processing natural gas. This account shall include the revenue derived from royalties and permits or other basis of settlement for permission granted others from the right to remove products from natural gas.

§ 201.618 Revenue from incidental oil sales. This account shall be credited with revenues derived from the sale of oil produced from wells which produce oil and gas, the investment in which is carried in Account 332, Producing Gas Wells.

§ 201.619 Miscellaneous gas revenues. This account shall include revenues derived from gas operations not includible in any of the foregoing accounts. This covers such items as fees and charges for changing, connecting and disconnecting service, profit on the sale of materials and supplies not ordinarily purchased for resale, commissions on sales or distribution of gas of others (sold under rates filed by such others), management or supervision fees, and sale of steam (except where the utility furnishes steam heating service).

INSTRUCTIONS, OPERATING EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

§ 201.7–1[12] Purpose of operating expense accounts. The operating expense accounts (701 to 809) are designed to show in detail the cost (except depreciation, amortization and depletion, certain property losses, and taxes) of furnishing gas utility service. (See General instructions 6 and 7, §§ 201.02–6 and 201.02–7.)

§ 201.7–2 Maintenance, cost of. (a) The cost of maintenance, chargeable to the various operating expense accounts and to clearing accounts includes labor, materials, overhead, and other expenses incurred in maintenance work, such as:

(1) Associated costs of local plant supervision.

(2) Cost of transportation, shop and stores expense, and use of tools and implements.

(3) Cutting and replacing pavement, pavement base, and sidewalks in connection with repairs.

(4) Inspecting and testing after repairs have been made.

(5) Inspecting, testing, and reporting on the condition of gas plant in service specifically to determine the need for repairs, minor replacements, rearrangements, and changes.

(6) Replacing minor items of plant. (See Gas plant instruction 12–C, § 201.3–12 (c).)

(7) Rearranging and changing the location of property not retired.

(8) Repairing materials for reuse.

(9) Restoring the condition of property damaged by storms, breakage, floods, fire, accident, or other casualties. (See paragraph (b) of this section.)

(10) Restoring the condition of property damaged by wear and tear, decay, or action of the elements. (See paragraph (b) of this section.)

(11) Routine work (see also paragraph (b) of this section to prevent trouble).

(12) Testing for, locating, and clearing trouble, including stopping leaks.

(13) Training employees for maintenance work.

(b) The cost of maintenance does not include the cost of replacing items of property designated as "units of property." (See Gas plant instruction 12, § 201.3–12.)

(c) Materials recovered in connection with the maintenance of property shall be credited to the same account to which the maintenance cost was charged.

(d) If the book cost of any property is carried in Account 391, Gas Plant Purchased, the cost of maintaining such property shall be charged to the accounts for maintenance of property of the same class and use, the book cost of which is carried in other gas plant in service accounts. Maintenance of property leased from others shall be treated as provided in Operating expense instruction 5 (§ 201.7–5).

§ 201.7–3 Salvage and insurance. (a) Salvage and insurance recovered in connection with maintenance jobs shall be credited to the appropriate maintenance accounts.

(b) If the amount of insurance recovered is relatively large, and is received before the repairs have been completed, a disproportionate credit to operating expenses may be avoided by crediting the amount of the insurance recovered to a suspense account, to which the cost of repairs shall then be charged to the extent covered by insurance.

(c) Insurance recovered in connection with personal injuries charged to Account 799, Injuries and Damages, shall be credited to that account.

(d) Dividends distributed by mutual insurance companies shall be credited to the accounts to which the insurance premiums were charged.

(e) Recoveries under fidelity bonds shall be credited to the account charged with the loss.

§ 201.7–4 Supervision and engineering. The supervision and engineering includible in the operating expense accounts shall consist of the pay and expenses (company and railroad transportation, lodging, meals, taxi, and carfares and other traveling and incidental expenses) of superintendents, engineers, clerks, other employees, and consultants engaged in supervising and directing the operations and maintenance of each gas utility function; also office supplies and expenses, including the maintenance of office furniture and equipment. Wherever allocations are necessary in order to arrive at the amount to be included in any account, the method and basis of allocation shall be preserved.

§ 201.7–5 Operating rents. (a) Rent expense accounts are provided under each functional group of expense accounts. These accounts shall be charged with all rents paid for property used in gas operations. If the rents cover property used for more than one function, such as production and transmission, the rents shall be apportioned to the appropriate rent expense accounts on an actual, or, if necessary, an estimated basis.

(b) Rents paid for property devoted to operations for which clearing accounts are used shall be charged to the appropriate clearing account.

(c) The cost, when incurred by the lessee, of operating and maintaining leased property, shall be charged to the accounts appropriate for the expense if the property were owned.

(d) Taxes paid by the lessee upon leased property shall be charged to the appropriate rent expense or clearing account.

(e) When the lessee is responsible for the replacement of gas plant leased from others, the cost of replacements shall be charged to the appropriate rent expense or clearing account, unless a reserve therefor has been provided, in which event the charge shall be to the reserve. (See Gas plant instruction 7, § 201.3–7.)

(f) When a portion of property or equipment rented from others for use in connection with gas operations is subleased, the revenue derived from such subleasing shall be credited to Account 610, Rent from Gas Property; provided, however, that in case the rent was charged to a clearing account, amounts received from subleasing the property shall be credited to such clearing account.

(g) If leased property is used by more than one department, the rental on such property shall be apportioned to the appropriate rent or clearing accounts of the various departments of the utility.

(h) Property operated jointly by the utility and another or others under a definite arrangement whereby the actual segregated costs are shared between or among the parties shall be considered for the purpose of this system of accounts as a joint facility, and the accounting in connection therewith shall be handled as provided in Operating expense instruction 6 (§ 201.7–6), following.

§ 201.7–6 Joint facility rents and expenses. (a) A joint facility for the purpose of this system of accounts is defined as any property occupied or used jointly by the utility and another or others under a definite arrangement whereby the actual segregated costs are shared between or among the parties. Property of the utility occupied or used under a similar definite arrangement between the gas department and a coordinate department or departments shall likewise be considered as a joint facility. (See Operating revenue instruction 5, § 201.6–5.)

(b) Where the utility owns the joint facility, any amount received or transferred as reimbursement of operating or maintenance expenses shall be credited to the appropriate "joint expense—credit" or clearing account. Amounts received or transferred covering depreciation, taxes, and interest or return, shall be credited, in the case of another or others, to Account 610, Rent from Gas Property, and in the case of coordinate departments to Account 611, Interdepartmental Rents.

(c) Any amount paid by or transferred to the utility for occupancy or use of a joint facility shall be charged to the appropriate "joint expense—debit" or clearing account or accounts.

(d) In the event that joint facilities are used by either party in connection with construction work, credits for the full amount received and charges for the full amount paid, as the case may be, shall be made direct to the construction accounts affected.

(e) These instructions are not intended to cover cases of joint ownership of property where each joint owner bears the cost of operating and maintaining its own property. In such cases the cost of operation and maintenance shall be recorded in the appropriate operating expense accounts other than the "joint expense" debit or credit accounts even though one of the joint owners operates or maintains the property and bills against other owners for all or a portion of the expenses incurred.

[12] In §§ 201.7–1 to 201.7–6, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the dash correspond with the respective instruction numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 93–95. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 709, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.799).

(f) Gas supplied by the utility from its own supply to a coordinate department shall be accounted for as provided in Operating revenue instruction 5 (§ 201.6–5). If the utility desires to charge the appropriate accounts in any of its gas operations with the cost of gas used from its own supply, credit therefor shall not be made to joint expense accounts but to the appropriate duplicate charges credit account.

(g) If the arrangement regarding use of facilities does not provide for the allocation of actual segregated costs, the facilities shall not be considered as joint.

OPERATING EXPENSE ACCOUNTS

PRODUCTION EXPENSES

Manufactured Gas Production

§ 201.701 B A[13] Operation supervision and engineering. This account shall include the cost of supervising and directing the operation of manufactured gas production facilities. (See Operating expense instruction 4, § 201.7–4.)

NOTE: The cost of fuel analyses shall be charged to Account 131:1, Materials and Supplies—Gas.

§ 201.702 B A Boiler and other power labor. This account shall include the pay of employees in boiler rooms and elsewhere about the premises engaged in making steam and producing power for use in the manufacture of gas.

ITEMS

(1) Blowing flues.
(2) Cleaning boilers.
(3) Handling coal and ashes (within the boiler plant).
(4) Pulverizing coal.
(5) Testing steam meters and gauges and other instruments.

§ 201.703 B Coal gas and producer gas labor.

§ 201.703:1 A Retort labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating retorts for the production of coal gas.

ITEMS

(1) Charging and drawing retorts.
(2) Cleaning retorts, pipes and lids.
(3) Handling coal, fuel, and ashes within works.
(4) Quenching coke.

§ 201.703:2 A Coke oven labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating coke ovens for the production of coal gas.

ITEMS

(1) Charging and discharging of ovens.
(2) Cleaning pipes and lids.
(3) Firing ovens.
(4) Handling coal within works.
(5) Operating door machinery and luting doors.
(6) Quenching coke and delivering to wharf.

§ 201.703:3 A Producer gas labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in making producer gas.

ITEMS

(1) Cleaning producers.
(2) Handling fuel and ashes within works.
(3) Operating air and gas boosters.

§ 201.704 B Gas generating labor.

§ 201.704:1 A Water gas generating labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating water gas sets.

ITEMS

(1) Charging generators.
(2) Cleaning generators.
(3) Handling coal, coke, and ashes within works.

§ 201.704:2 A Petroleum gas generating labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating equipment used for the production of gas from petroleum derivatives, such as propane, butane, or gasoline.

§ 201.704:3 A Other gas generating labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating equipment used in the production of gas by any process not provided for in foregoing accounts, such as oil gas or acetylene gas.

§ 201.704:4 A Gas reforming labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in reforming gas into gas of a different calorific value.

ITEMS

(1) Charging and cleaning generators used for reforming.
(2) Handling coal, coke, or ashes within works.
(3) Purifying refinery gas before reforming.

§ 201.705 B A Purification labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating purification equipment and apparatus used for conditioning manufactured gas.

ITEMS

(1) Emptying, cleaning, and refilling purifier boxes.
(2) Emptying, cleaning, and refilling shavings scrubbers.
(3) Oiling dip sheets of purifier cover.
(4) Revivifying oxide and removing spent oxide to refuse pile.
(5) Steaming and cleaning condensers.

§ 201.707 B A Miscellaneous production labor. This account shal include the pay of employees engaged in operating gas works which is not chargeable to the foregoing accounts.

ITEMS

(1) Elevator men.
(2) Janitors.
(3) Messengers.
(4) Watchmen.
(5) Yard and building cleaners.

§ 201.708 B A Boiler fuel. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of coal, oil, gas, or other fuel used in the production of steam. It shall also include the net cost of, or the net amount realized from, the disposal of ashes.

(b) Records shall be maintained to show the quantity and cost of each type of fuel used.

§ 201.709 B A Water. This account shall include the cost of water used in manufactured gas production processes. If water is purchased, the charge shall be at the contract price or the meter rate; if pumped by the utility, the cost of pumping and purifying shall be charged to this account.

ITEMS

(1) Employees:
(a) Filter cleaners.
(b) General labor.
(c) Pumping station operators.
(d) Water supply system operators.
(2) Supplies:
(a) Boiler compounds.
(b) Chemicals.
(c) Lubricants.
(d) Pumping supplies.
(e) Supplies (miscellaneous).
(f) Water purchased.

§ 201.710 B A Fuel under retorts. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of fuel used under retorts in making gas. It shall also include the net cost of, or the net amount realized from, the disposal of ashes.

(b) When gas produced by the utility is used as fuel, concurrent credit shall be made to the appropriate duplicate charges credit account.

(c) Records shall be kept to show the quantity and the cost of each type of fuel used.

§ 201.711 B A Fuel under coke ovens. (a) This account shall include the cost of gas, other than producer gas, or other fuel used under coke ovens for making coal gas. Concurrent credits for gas made by the utility and so used shall be made to the appropriate duplicate charges credit acccunt.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the quantity and the cost of each type of fuel used.

§ 201.712 B A Producer gas fuel. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of fuel used in making producer gas. It shall also include the net cost of, or the net amount realized from, the disposal of ashes.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the quantity and the cost of each type of fuel used.

§ 201.713 B A Coal carbonized in retorts. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of coal used in retorts for making coal gas.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of coal used.

§ 201.714 B A Coal carbonized in coke ovens. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of coal used in coke ovens for making coal gas.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of coal used.

§ 201.715 B A Water gas generator fuel. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of fuel used in water gas generators, including fuel used for reforming gas by means of water gas generator. It shall also include the net cost of, or the net amount realized from, the disposal of ashes.

[13] In §§ 201.701ba to 201.809ba, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point (except that a dash has been substituted in each instance where a decimal point was used in the original account number and the letters preceding the original account numbers transposed to succeed the section numbers) correspond with the respective account numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940, pp. 101–130. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 702, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.702).

(b) Records shall be kept to show the quantity and the cost of each type of fuel used.

§ 201.716 B A Oil for water gas. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of oil used in carbureting water gas.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of oil used.

§ 201.717 B A Gas enricher. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of materials used for enriching gas.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of materials used.

§ 201.718 B A Liquefied petroleum gas. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of liquefied petroleum gas, such as propane, butane, or gasoline, used in making gas.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of liquefied petroleum gas.

§ 201.719 B A Oil for oil gas. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of oil used in making oil gas.

(b) Records shall be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of oil used.

§ 201.720 B A Raw materials for other gas processes. (a) This account shall include the cost delivered at works of raw materials and fuel used in the production of any kind of gas other than coal gas, water gas, liquefied petroleum gas, oil gas, reformed gas, or natural gas.

(b) Records shal be kept to show the type, quantity, and cost of raw materials used.

§ 201.721 B A Purification supplies. This account shall include the cost delivered at works of materials used in purifying and conditioning manufactured gas.

ITEMS

(1) Iron oxide.
(2) Lime.
(3) Oil for oil-fogging process.
(4) Shavings.
(5) Soda ash for liquid purifiers.
(6) Sulphuric acid.
(7) Wash oil for naphthalene scrubber.

NOTE: Do not include in this account the cost of supplies consumed solely for the purpose of refining residuals.

§ 201.722 B A Miscellaneous works expenses. This account shall include the cost of supplies used and expenses incurred in connection with the produotion of manufactured gas not includible in any other production account.

ITEMS

(1) Building service (not including rent).
(2) Communication service.
(3) Fuel for internal combustion engines.
(4) Lubricants.
(5) Packing.
(6) Stationery.
(7) Tools, hand.
(8) Waste.

§ 201.723 B A Maintenance supervision and engineering. This account shall include the cost of supervising and directing the maintenance of manufactured gas production facilities. (See Operating expense instruction 4, § 201.7–4.)

§ 201.724 B A Maintenance of structures and improvements. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of manufactured gas production buildings, structures, fixtures, and improvements, the book cost of which is included in Account 312, Structures and Improvements.

§ 201.725 B Maintenance of power equipment.

§ 201.725:1 A Maintenance of boiler plant equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of boiler plant equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 313, Boiler Plant Equipment.

§ 201.725:2 A Maintenance of other power equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of other power equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 314, Other Power Equipment.

§ 201.726 B Maintenance of producing and generating equipment.

§ 201.726:1 A Maintenance of benches and retorts. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of benches and retorts, the book cost of which is included in Account 315, Benches and Retorts.

§ 201.726:2 A Maintenance of coke ovens. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of coke ovens, the book cost of which is included in Account 316, Coke Ovens.

§ 201.726:3 A Maintenance of producer gas equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of producer gas equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 317, Producer Gas Equipment.

§ 201.726:4 A Maintenance of water gas generating equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of water gas sets, the book cost of which is included in Account 318, Water Gas Generating Equipment.

§ 201.726:5 A Maintenance of petroleum gas equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of petroleum gas equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 319, Petroleum Gas Equipment.

§ 201.726:6 A Maintenance of other gas generating equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of other gas generating equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 320, Other Gas Generating Equipment.

§ 201.726:7 A Maintenance of coal, coke, and ash handling equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of property, the book cost of which is included in Account 321, Coal Coke, and Ash Handling Equipment.

§ 201.727 B Maintenance of other manufactured gas property.

§ 201.727:1 A Maintenance of gas reforming equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of gas reforming equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 322, Gas Reforming Equipment.

§ 201.727:2 A Maintenance of purification equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of manufactured gas purification equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 323, Purification Equipment.

§ 201.727:3 A Maintenance of other production equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of equipment the book cost of which is included in Account 325, Other Production Equipment, except such maintenance as is chargeable to Account 753:1, Maintenance of Gas Mixing Equipment, and Account 753:2, Maintenance of Production Laboratory Equipment.

§ 201.728 B A Power from other sources. (a) This account shall include the cost of steam, electricity, or other power purchased for use in gas generators or driving units in manufactured gas production plants.

(b) This account shall be kept so as to show separately for each company from which power or steam is purchased, the point of delivery, the quantity, the price, and the total charge.

§ 201.729 B A Rents. This account shall include all rents for property of others used, occupied, or operated in connection with the production of manufactured gas. (See Operating expense instruction 5, § 201.7–5.)

§ 201.730:1 B A Residuals produced—credit. (a) This account shall be credited and the appropriate subdivisions of Account 131:1, Materials and Supplies—Gas, debited monthly with the estimated value of residuals and other byproducts obtained in connection with the production of manufactured gas, whether intended for sale or for use in operations.

(b) If the net amount realized from the sale of residuals is greater or less than the amount at which they were originally credited hereto, an adjusting entry shall be made crediting or debiting this account and charging or crediting the appropriate subdivision of Account 131.1, Materials and Supplies—Gas, with the difference.

(c) Records shall be so kept as to show for each type of residual or other byproduct the quantity produced and the amount at which charged to Account 131:1, Materials and Supplies—Gas; the quantity sold and the price received therefor; and the quantity and value of residuals used.

§ 201.730:2 B A Residuals operation expenses. (a) This account shall include all operation expenses incurred in handling, preparing, refining, and marketing residuals produced in manufactured gas production processes, including uncollectible residual accounts.

(b) Divisions of this account shall be maintained for each of the principal types of expenses chargeable hereto and for each residual or byproduct carried in Account 730:1, Residuals Produced—credit.

§ 201.730:3 B A Residuals maintenance expenses. (a) This account shall include the cost of maintenance of residual refining equipment used in refining manufactured gas residuals or byproducts, the book cost of which is included in Account 324, Residual Refining Equipment.

(b) Divisions of this account shall be maintained for each residual or byproduct carried in Account 730:1, Residuals Produced—credit.

§ 201.731:1 B A Joint expenses—debit. (a) This account shall include amounts payable by the gas department to others or to a coordinate department for joint facilities used, occupied, or operated in connection with the production of manufactured gas. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.7–6.)

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish a complete explanation of the debits to this account, including the following:

(1) Charges from others.
(2) Charges from coordinate departments.

§ 201.731:2 B A Joint expenses—credit. (a) This account shall include such portion of the cost of operating and maintaining joint facilities operated by the gas department in connection with the production of manufactured gas as is charged to others or to a coordinate department. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.7–6.)

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish a complete explanation of the credits to this account, including the following:

(1) Charges to others.
(2) Charges to coordinate departments.

§ 201.732 B A Duplicate charges—credit. This account shall include concurrent credits for charges which are made to operating expense or other accounts of the gas department for manufactured gas consumed for which there is no direct money outlay. (See Gas plant instruction 5 and Operating revenue instruction 5; §§ 201.3–5 and 201.6–5.)

Natural Gas Production

§ 201.733 B A Operation supervision and engineering. This account shall include the cost of supervising and directing the operation of natural gas production facilities. (See Operating expense instruction 4; § 201.7–4.)

§ 201.734 B Operation labor.

§ 201.734:1 A Gas well labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in the operating of gas wells.

ITEMS

(1) Bailing.
(2) Blowing.
(3) Cleaning.
(4) Gauging.
(5) Pumping.
(6) Shutting off and turning on.

§ 201.734:2 A Field line labor. This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in the operation of field lines.

ITEMS

(1) Flowing or pumping drips.
(2) Fighting fires.
(3) Patrolling lines.
(4) Taking pressures.

§ 201.734:3 A Field measuring and regulating station labor. (a) This account shall include the pay of employees engaged in operating field measuring and regulating stations.

(b) This acount shall be subdivided as follows:

734:31 Field Compressor Station Labor.
734:32 Field Measuring and Regulation Station Labor.

ITEMS

(1) Inspecting and operating regulators.
(2) Operating, inspecting, and reading production meters, other than those for purchased gas.
(3) Operating reducing stations.

§ 201.734:4 A Other production labor. This account shall include the pay of employees not provided for elsewhere, whose services are used in connection with the production of natural gas.

§ 201.735 B Operating supplies and expenses.

§ 201.735:1 A Gas well supplies and expenses. This account shall include the cost of supplies used and expenses incurred in the operation of gas wells.

ITEMS

(1) Fuel.
(2) Lubricants.
(3) Power.
(4) Tools, hand.
(5) Transportation.
(6) Traveling expenses.
(7) Waste.

§ 201.735:2 A Field line supplies and expenses. This account shall include the cost of supplies used and expenses incurred in the operation of field lines.

ITEMS

(1) Fuel.
(2) Lubricants.
(3) Power.
(4) Tools, hand.
(5) Transportation.
(6) Traveling expenses.

§ 201.735:3 A Field measuring and regulating station supplies and expenses. (a) This account shall include the cost of supplies consumed and expenses incurred in the operation of field measuring and regulating stations.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

735:31 Field Compressor Station Supplies and Expenses.
735:32 Field Measuring and Regulating Station Supplies and Expenses.

ITEMS

(1) Fuel.
(2) Oil.
(3) Waste.
(4) Small tools.
(5) Attendants' supplies.
(6) Meter and regulator charts and supplies, except purchased gas.
(7) Transportation.
(8) Traveling expenses.

§ 201.735:4 A Other supplies and expenses. This account shall include the cost of supplies consumed and expenses incurred in the operation of field equipment not provided for elsewhere.

§ 201.736 B A Purification supplies and expenses. This account shall include the cost of labor and materials used and expenses incurred in purifying and conditioning natural gas.

ITEMS

(1) Emptying, cleaning, and refilling purifier boxes.
(2) Iron oxide.
(3) Liquid purification supplies.
(4) Odorizing material.
(5) Oil for oil-fogging.
(6) Revivifying oxide and removing spent oxide to refuse pile.

§ 201.737 B A Production maps and records. This account shall include salaries paid and expenses incurred in connection with the preparation of production maps and records, including the cost of stationery, drawing materials, etc.

§ 201.738 B A Miscellaneous production expenses. This account shall include the cost of supplies used and expenses incurred in connection with the production of natural gas not includible in any other production account.

ITEMS

(1) Building service (not including rent).
(2) Communication service.
(3) Stationery.
(4) Tools, hand.

§ 201.739 B A Maintenance supervision and engineering. This account shall include the cost of supervising and directing the maintenance of natural gas production facilities. (See Operating expense instruction 4, § 201.7–4.)

§ 201.740 B Maintenance of structures and improvements.

§ 201.740:1 A Maintenance of gas well structures. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of gas well structures, the book cost of which is included in Account 331:1, Gas Well Structures.

§ 201.740:2 A Maintenance of field measuring and regulating station structures. (a) This account shall include the cost of maintenance of buildings used for housing field measuring and regulating station equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 331:2, Field Measuring and Regulating Station Structures.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

740:21 Maintenance of Compressor Station Structures.
740:22 Maintenance of Field Measuring and Regulating Station Structures.

§ 201.740:3 A Maintenance of other production system structures. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of all other production system structures, the book cost of which is included in Account 331:3, Other Production System Structures.

§ 201.741 B A Maintenance of producing gas well equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of property, the book cost of which is included in Account 332:2, Producing Gas Wells—Well Equipment.

§ 201.742 B Maintenance of field lines and equipment.

§ 201.742:1 A Maintenance of field lines. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of field lines, the book cost of which is included in Account 333:1, Field Lines.

§ 201.742:2 A Maintenance of field measuring and regulating station equip- ment. (a) This account shall include the cost of maintenance of field measuring and regulating station equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 333:2, Field Measuring and Regulating Station Equipment.

(b) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

742:21 Maintenance of Compressor Station Equipment.
742:22 Maintenance of Measuring and Regulating Station Equipment.

§ 201.743 B A Maintenance of drilling and cleaning equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of drilling and cleaning equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 334, Drilling and Cleaning Equipment.

§ 201.744 B A Maintenance of other natural gas property. This account shall include the cost of maintenance equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 335, Purification Equipment; and Account 337, Other Production Equipment, except such maintenance of equipment included in account 337 as is chargeable to Account 753:1, Maintenance of Gas Mixing Equipment, and Account 753:2, Maintenance of Production Laboratory Equipment.

§ 201.745 B A Gas well royalties. (a) This account shall include royalties paid for natural gas produced by the utility from land owned by others.

(b) Records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish the name of the parties to each contract involving royalties, the terms of each contract, the location of the property involved, the method of determining the royalties, and the amounts payable.

§ 201.746 B A Natural gas rents. This account shall include rents includible in operating expenses for property of others used in connection with the production of natural gas other than rentals on land and land rights held for the supply of natural gas.

ITEMS

(1) Rents for right to lay and maintain field lines.
(2) Rents for measuring and regulating station sites on production system.

NOTE. See Account 510, Delay Rentals, for rentals paid on lands held for the supply of natural gas.

§ 201.747:1 B A Residuals produced—credit. (a) This account shall be credited and the appropriate subdivisions of Account 131:1, Materials and Supplies—Gas, debited monthly with the estimated value of residuals and other byproducts obtained in connection with the production of natural gas, whether intended for sale or for use in operations.

(b) If the net amount realized from the sale of residuals is greater or less than the amount at which they were originally credited hereto, an adjusting entry shall be made crediting or debiting this account and charging or crediting the appropriate subdivision of Account 131:1, Materials and Supplies—Gas, with the difference.

(c) Records shall be so kept as to show for each type of residual or other byproduct the quantity produced and the amount at which charged to Account 131:1, Materials and Supplies—Gas; the quantity sold and the price received therefor; and the quantity and value of residuals used.

NOTE: Do not include in this account the revenues derived from incidental gasoline or oil sales, or royalties and permits for permission granted others for the right to remove products from natural gas. Such revenues shall be credited to accounts 616, 617, or 618, as appropriate.

§ 201.747:2 B A Residuals operation expenses. (a) This account shall include all operation expenses incurred in handling, preparing, refining, and marketing residuals produced in natural gas production processes, including uncollectible residual accounts.

(b) Divisions of this account shall be maintained for each of the principal types of expenses chargeable hereto and for each residual or byproduct carried in Account 747:1, Residuals Produced—Credit.

§ 201.747:3 B A Residuals maintenance expenses. (a) This account shall include the maintenance of residual refining equipment used in refining natural gas residuals or byproducts, the book cost of which is included in Account 336, Residual Refining Equipment.

(b) Divisions of this account shall be maintained for each residual or byproduct carried in Account 747:1, Residuals Produced—Credit.

§ 201.748:1 B A Joint expenses—debit. (a) This account shall include amounts payable by the gas department to others or to a coordinate department for joint facilities used, occupied, or operated in connection with the production of natural gas. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.7–6.)

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish a complete explanation of the debits to this account, including the following:

(1) Charges from others.
(2) Charges from coordinate departments.

§ 201.748:2 B A Joint expenses—credit. (a) This account shall include such portion of the cost of operating and maintaining joint facilities operated by the gas department in connection with the production of natural gas as is charged to others or to a coordinate department. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.7–6.)

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish a complete explanation of the credits to this account, including the following:

(1) Charges to others.
(2) Charges to coordinate departments.

§ 201.749 B A Duplicate charges—credits. This account shall include concurrent credits for charges which are made to operating expense or other accounts of the gas department for natural gas consumed, for which there is no direct money outlay. (See Gas plant instruction 5 and Operating revenue instruction 5, §§ 201.3–5 and 201.6–5.)

NOTE: The records supporting this account shall be kept in such manner as to enable the natural gas company to report the offsetting debits by accounts affected.

Other Production Expenses

§ 201.750 B A Operation of storage facilities. This account shall include the cost of labor and materials used and expenses incurred in the operation of structures and equipment used in storing gas.

ITEMS

(1) Operating holder valves.
(2) Pressure gauge charts and supplies.
(3) Pumping inlet and outlet holder drips.
(4) Meter charts and supplies.
(5) Recording holder readings.
(6) Steam for holder cups.

§ 201.751 B A Gas mixing expenses. This account shall include the cost of labor and materials used and expenses incurred in connection with the operation of gas mixing equipment.

§ 201.752 B A Maintenance of storage facilities. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of structures, buildings, fixtures, and improvements, the book cost of which is included in Account 342, Structures and Improvements.

§ 201.753 B Maintenance of other production property.

§ 201.753:1 A Maintenance of gas mixing equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of gas mixing equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 325, Other Production Equipment (Manufactured Gas Plant), or Account 337, Other Production Equipment (Natural Gas Plant).

§ 201.753:2 A Maintenance of production laboratory equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of laboratory equipment used in the production laboratories, the book cost of which is included in Account 325, Other Production Equipment (Manufactured Gas Plant), or Account 337, Other Production Equipment (Natural Gas Plant).

§ 201.754 B A Gas purchased. (a) This account shall include the cost at the point of delivery to the utility of all gas purchased for resale including charges for readiness to serve and amounts payable to others for their gas sold by the accounting utility under agency agreements.

(b) When the contract is a reciprocal one, i. e., when either party thereto may take gas from the other, the amount payable for the gross quantity of gas received shall be charged hereto in each accounting period and the amount receivable for the gross quantity supplied to the other party shall be included in the appropriate revenue account.

(c) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept as to show for each company from which gas is obtained the type of gas, the point of delivery, the quantity thereof, the basis of the charges, and the amount payable therefor.

(d) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

754:1 Gas Purchased—Natural Gas.
754:2 Gas Purchased—Other Gas.

§ 201.755 B A Purchased gas expenses. (a) This account shall include expenses incurred directly in connection with the purchase of gas for resale.

(b) Each utility shall subdivide this account, as nearly as practicable, in conformity with other production expense accounts prescribed herein, showing separately operation and maintenance expenses applicable to purchased gas.

§ 201.799 B A Injuries and damages. (a) This account shall include losses not covered by insurance on account of injuries or deaths to employees or others, which occur in connection with gas operations, and payments and expenses on account of damages to the property of others or for nonperformance of contractual obligations, whether the loss be occasioned by fire, flood, storm, or other cause. Amounts may be accrued monthly sufficient to meet the probable liability for such losses, concurrent credits being made to Account 256, Injuries and Damages Reserve, in which case losses sustained shall be charged to the reserve.

(b) This account shall also include:

Pay and expenses of officers and employees regularly engaged in or specifically assigned to work in connection with injuries to employees or others, damages to property of others, etc.

Payments to attorneys, investigators, and adjusters, court costs, etc.

Insurance premiums for protection against claims from injuries and damages, including public liability, property damages, boiler, casualty, employees' liability, etc., except as provided in note (c) hereunder.

(c) Reimbursements from insurance companies or others for expenses charged hereto on account of injuries and damages, and insurance dividends or refunds, shall be credited to this account.

NOTE A: Payments to or in behalf of employees, including accident and death benefits, salaries, hospital expenses, medical supplies; also salaries, fees, and expenses of surgeons, doctors, nurses, etc., or amounts reserved for such payments; when provided for through a plan for employees' benefits, shall be charged to Account 800, Employees' Welfare Expenses and Pensions.

NOTE B: No part of the salaries of officers or employees of the law department shall be included in this account for merely incidental services in connection with injury and damage claims.

NOTE C: Losses or insurance premiums paid in connection with transportation and garage equipment shall be charged to Account 903, Transportation Expenses—Clearing.

NOTE D: Exclude from this account insurance on officers and employees and the cost of injuries and damages chargeable directly to gas plant accounts, clearing accounts, or to other appropriate accounts.

§ 201.800 B Employees' welfare expenses and pensions.

§ 201.800:1 A Employees' welfare expenses. This account shall include the expenses incurred in conducting employees' accident prevention, educational, and recreational activities; the cost of employees' relief and benefits (other than pensions, and injuries and damages chargeable to Account 799, Injuries and Damages) and the cost of life insurance for employees where the utility is not the beneficiary.

NOTE: When the utility is the beneficiary of insurance on officers or employees, the cost of such insurance shall be charged to Account 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions, or, at the option of the utility, the cash surrender value may be included in Account 133, Other Current and Accrued Assets, in which event the excess of cost of the insurance over such cash surrender value shall be charged to Account 538, Miscellaneous Income Deductions.

§ 201.800:2 A Pensions. (a) This account shall include persions paid to retired employees or to their heirs.

(b) If the utility has definitely undertaken by contract to pay pensions to employees of its gas department when retired, it shall charge to this account monthly amounts to provide for the payment of such pensions or for the purchase of annuities for that purpose. The amounts so charged shall be credited concurrently to Account 257, Employees' Provident Reserve.

(c) The utility shall maintain a complete record of the computations of the accruals of its pension liabilities.

(d) The utility shall inform the Commission of the details of its pension plan, giving a full statement of the facts thereof, together with the actuarial formula, if any, under which it has created or proposes to create its pension fund, and shall furnish a copy of the declaration of trust or resolution under which the pension plan is established.

§ 201.801 B A Miscellaneous general expenses. This account shall include such items of expense applicable to the gas department as the cost of publishing and distributing annual reports to stockholders; advertising notice of stockholders' meetings; dividend and other corporate and financial notices of a general character; association dues; contributions for conventions and meetings of the industry; cost of research and experimental work conducted for the benefit of the gas department or the industry or for the improvement of gas service (except for such amounts as may be properly chargeable to other accounts); fees of transfer agents, registrars of stock, and fiscal agents; directors' fees; and any other miscellaneous expenses connected with the general management and not otherwise provided for.

§ 201.802 B Maintenance of general property.

§ 201.802:1 A Maintenance of structures and improvements. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of general buildings, the book cost of which is included in Account 371, Structures and Improvements.

§ 201.802:2 A Maintenance of office furniture and equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of office furniture and equipment used by the administrative divisions of the gas department.

NOTE: The cost of maintenance of office furniture and equipment used elsewhere than in the administrative departments shall be charged to the appropriate maintenance, construction, or clearing accounts.

§ 201.802:3 A Maintenance of communication equipment. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of communication equipment for general use in connection with the utility's operations, the book cost of which is included in Account 378, Communication Equipment.

NOTE: If a clearing account is kept for distribution of communication expenses to the appropriate accounts, the maintenance of communication equipment may be charged thereto and the use of this account discontinued.

§ 201.802.4 A Maintenance of miscellaneous property. This account shall include the cost of maintenance of miscellaneous property not provided for elsewhere, including miscellaneous general equipment, the book cost of which is included in Account 379, Miscellaneous Equipment, and tools and work equipment included in Account 377, Tools and Work Equipment.

NOTE: Maintenance of tools and work equipment may be charged to clearing account 906.

§ 201.803 B A Rents. This account shall include rent properly includible in gas operating expense covering the property of others used, occupied, or operated in connection with the general and administrative functions of the utility. (See Operating expense instruction 5, § 201.7–5.)

§ 201.804 B A Commissions paid under agency sales contracts. This account shall include the amount paid or payable by the utility to agents as commission for distributing gas over the agent's distribution lines and selling the same, and for all services performed in connection therewith.

NOTE A: This account shall be used only when sales are made under rate schedules filed by the accounting utility and when the gross receipts therefrom are credited to it; otherwise the transactions shall be accounted for as sales of gas.

NOTE B: Records pertaining to each agency sales contract shall be so kept by the utility as to show full particulars as to amounts paid for each kind of service rendered thereunder.

§ 201.805 B A Franchise requirements. (a) This account shall include payments to municipal or other governmental authorities, and the cost of materials, supplies, and services, furnished such authorities without reimbursement in compliance with franchise, ordinance, or similar requirements, provided, however, that the utility may charge to this account at regular tariff rates, instead of cost, gas furnished without charge under provisions of franchises.

(b) When no direct outlay is involved, concurrent credits for such charges shall be to Account 806, Duplicate Miscellaneous Charges—Credit.

(c) This account shall be subdivided as follows:

805:1 Cash Outlays.
805:2 Gas Supplied without Charge—Debit.
805:3 Other Items Furnished without Charge—Debit.

NOTE A: Taxes shall not be charged to this account. (See Account 507, Taxes.)

NOTE B: The cost of plant, supplies, etc., given as an initial consideration for a franchise running for more than one year, shall be charged to Account 302, Franchises and Consents.

§ 201.806 B A Duplicate miscellaneous charges—credit. (a) This account shall include concurrent credits for charges which are made to Account 805, Franchise Requirements, to the extent that such charges do not represent direct outlays. It shall also include concurrent credits for duplicate charges made to operating expense or other accounts of the gas department which are not provided for elsewhere.

(b) This account shall be kept in such manner as to disclose the nature and aount of each item included herein.

§ 201.807 B A Administrative and general expenses transferred—credit (a) This account shall be credited with amounts recorded in administrative and general expenses which are properly includible in construction costs.

(b) The records supporting this account shall be so kept as to show the bases of determining the amounts which are transferred to construction. (See also Gas plant instruction 6, § 201.3–6.)

§ 201.808 B A Joint expenses—debit. (a) This account shall include amounts payable by the gas department to others or to a coordinate department for joint facilities used, occupied, or operated in connection with administrative and general functions of the utility. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.7–6.)

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish a complete explanation of the debits to this account, including the following:

(1) Charges from others.
(2) Charges from coordinate departments.

§ 201.809 B A Joint expenses—credit. (a) This account shall include such portion of the cost of operating and maintaining joint facilities operated by the gas department in connection with its administrative and general functions as is chargeable to others, or to a coordinate department. (See Operating expense instruction 6, § 201.7–6.)

(b) The records supporting the entries to this account shall be so kept that the utility can furnish a complete explanation of the credits to this account, including the following:

(1) Charges to others.

(2) Charges to coodinate departments.

CLEARING ACCOUNTS

§ 201.901[11] Charges by associated companies; clearing. (a) This account shall include all charges made by associated companies against the utility for any purposes whatsoever, except interest, including charges for management, supervision, purchasing, construction, accounting, engineering, legal, financial, rent, advertising, materials and supplies, equipment and other property, commissions, taxes, and other items.

(b) This account shall be cleared by charging the appropriate accounts with the expenditures applicable thereto.

(c) The records supporting this account shall be so kept as to show the nature of each charge together with the account or accounts to which each charge is cleared.

NOTE: The mandatory use of this account may be suspended upon notice of such suspension filed with the Commission, provided the natural gas company keeps a separate account for transactions with each associated company and that all charges by associated companies be recorded in the associated company accounts, and provided further that such accounts be maintained so as to permit ready analysis.

§ 201.902 Stores expenses; clearing. (a) This account shall include the cost of supervision, labor, and expenses incurred in the operation and maintenance of the gas general storerooms, including storage handling and distribution of materials and supplies.

(b) Cash discounts shall be credited hereto when such discounts cannot be applied to the cost of particular materials.

(c) This account shall be cleared by adding to the cost of materials and supplies a suitable loading charge which will distribute the expense equitably over stores issued.

ITEMS

(1) Adjustments of inventories of materials and supplies.

(2) Books, stationery, and office supplies.

(3) Building service.

(4) Collecting and handling scrap materials in stores.

(5) Communication service.

(6) Discount on materials when not assignable to specific items.

(7) Freight, express, etc., when not assignable to specific items.

(8) Heat, light, and power for storerooms and stores offices.

(9) Injuries and damages.

(10) Inspecting and testing materials and supplies, when not assignable to specific items.

(11) Insurance on materials and supplies and on stores equipment.

(12) Losses due to breakage, leakage, evaporation, fire, and other causes. Credit any amounts received from insurance, transportation companies, or others in compensation of such losses.

(13) Maintenance of stores equipment.

(14) Pay and expenses of storekeepers, clerks, and others employed in storerooms or in store offices.

(15) Postage, stationery, and printing.

(16) Rents.

(17) Taxes, direct.

(18) Transporting materials into storehouse, when not assignable to specific items.

NOTE A: Large differences in the accounts disclosed by inventories, which can readily be assigned to important classes of materials, shall be equitably adjusted among the accounts to which such classes of materials have been charged since the previous inventory. Other differences shall be equitably apportioned among the accounts to which materials have been charged, or included in Account 902, Stores Expenses—Clearing.

NOTE B: Transportation charges on materials recovered from retirements of gas plant shall be charged to the account to which the cost of removal was charged.

§ 201.903 Transportation expenses—clearing. (a) This account shall include the cost of supervision, labor, and expenses incurred in the operation and maintenance of the gas general transportation equipment of the utility including direct taxes and depreciation on transportation equipment.

(b) This account shall be cleared by apportionment to operating expenses, gas plant, or other accounts on a basis which will distribute the expenses equitably. Credits to this account shall be made in such detail as to permit ready analysis thereof.

ITEMS

[11] In §§ 201.901 to 201.906, inclusive, the numbers to the right of the decimal point correspond with the respective account numbers in Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Federal Power Commission, effective January 1, 1940, pp. 132–135. Cross references to accounts are made by citing the account number, e. g., Account 902, instead of the corresponding section number (§ 201.902).

PART 204—APPLICATION OF UNIFORM SYSTEM OF ACCOUNTS TO CLASS C AND CLASS D NATURAL GAS COMPANIES

Sec.

204.1 Application of uniform system of accounts to Class C and Class D natural gas companies.

204.2 Balance sheet accounts for natural gas companies.

204.3 Gas plant accounts for natural gas companies.

204.4 Earned surplus account for natural gas companies.

204.5 Income accounts for natural gas companies.

204.6 Operating revenue accounts for natural gas companies.

204.7 Operating expense accounts for natural gas companies.

204.8 Clearing accounts for natural gas companies.

AUTHORITY: §§ 204.1 to 204.8, inclusive, issued under secs. 8 (a), 10 (a), 16, 52 Stat. 821, 825, 826, 830; 15 U. S. C., 717g (a), 717i (a), 717o.

SOURCE: The source of §§ 204.1 to 204.8 inclusive, is Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Appendix H, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940.

§ 204.1 Application of uniform system of accounts to Class C and Class D natural gas companies. This part is designed to show the accounts required to be kept by Class C and Class D natural gas companies. The accounts required to be kept by each class of natural gas companies are shown in comparative form in order clearly to designate and identify the accounts required to be kept by the Class C and Class D natural gas companies. Class C and Class D natural gas companies are defined as follows:

Class C. Natural gas companies having annual gas operating revenues of more than $100,000 but not more than $250,000.

Class D. Natural gas companies having annual gas operating revenues of more than $25,000 but not more than $100,000.

Each Class C natural gas company shall keep all of the accounts listed in this appendix, insofar as applicable, that contain, as a part of the title, the four digit numbers beginning with the figure 1 (for example, Account 1100, Gas Plant).

Each Class D natural gas company shall keep all of the accounts listed in this appendix, insofar as applicable, that contain, as a part of the title, the four digit numbers beginning with the figure 2 (for example, Account 2100, Gas Plant).

Any Class C or Class D natural gas company may at its option keep the accounts prescribed for Class A or Class B natural gas companies, or any Class D natural gas company may keep the accounts prescribed for Class C natural gas companies.

The Uniform System of Accounts is applicable in principle to all natural gas companies subject to the Commission's accounting requirements under the Natural Gas Act. Many of the accounts that are required to be kept by Class A and Class B natural gas companies, however, have been grouped or combined in order that the accounting system prescribed for the smaller Class C and Class D natural gas companies may conform more nearly to the nature and volume of their transactions. The definitions and all instructions contained in the main body of the Uniform System of Accounts apply in principle to Class C and Class D natural gas companies. References in said definitions and instructions to accounts which have been combined herein shall apply in principle to the combined account. The texts and lists of items appearing under the accounts prescribed for Class A and Class B natural gas companies shall apply in detail to the accounts prescribed herein for Class C and Class D natural gas companies.

Part 216—Units of Property for Use in Accounting for Additions to and Retirements of Gas Plant

Sec.
216.1 Instructions.
216.2 List of retirement units.

Authority: §§ 216.1 and 216.2 issued under secs. 8 (a), 10 (a), 16, 52 Stat. 821, 825, 826, 830; 15 U. S. C., 717g (a), 7171 (a), 717o.

Source: The source of §§ 216.1 and 216.2 is Uniform system of accounts prescribed for natural gas companies, Appendix I, Federal Power Commission, effective Jan. 1, 1940.

§ 216.1 Instructions. (a) The retirement units listed herein are prescribed and are to be accounted for in accordance with Gas plant instruction 12 (§ 201.3–12 of this chapter). Additions and Retirements of Gas Plant, contained in the main body of this system of accounts. The list of units may be expanded by any natural gas company without authorization from the Commission, but the list shall not be condensed. Thus, the units listed herein are of maximum size and while subdivision thereof, or of the addition of other units, is permitted, the cambination or the increase in size of such units is enjoined.

(b) Wherever appropriate, the retirement of any retirement unit in the structures or equipment accounts shall include all costs of associated items which pertain solely to that unit, such as the cost of foundations, support, ladders, runways, enclosures, guards, driving mechanisms, indicating, recording, and measuring devices with their mountings, starting, control, regulating, protective, and safety devices, switchboards, special lighting conduits and wiring, pipes, ducts, spouts, chutes, hoppers, etc.

(c) If, because of a contract previously entered into, adherence to the list of retirement units contained herein would cause an undue hardship, such as the loss of revenue to a particular utility, a petition for relief, giving therein a full disclosure of the facts and a suggested modification of the list necessary to avoid the hardship during the period of the contract, should be submitted to the Commission.

(d) It is contemplated that the list of units contained herein will be revised and amended from time to time as experience and conditions warrant.

§ 216.2 List of retirement units. (The article a, an, or the, as appropriate, should be read in connection with each retirement unit listed.)

Note: In all accounts where they occur the following shall be units if relatively costly and not an integral part of an item elsewhere classified as a retirement unit.

1. Assembly for two or more retirement units.
2. Blower or fan.
3. Control installation, automatic, semi-automatic, or remote.
4. Coupling device, i. e., speed reducer, speed increaser clutch, etc.
5. Driving unit, i. e., prime mover, motor, gas engine, etc.
6. Enclosure for two or more retirement units.
7. Foundation for a unit or item of equipment which is not intended to outlast the equipment for which provided.
8. Indicating instrument.
9. Piping, branch run of any class, 2 inches and over in size, between one or more units of property and a header.
10. Piping, run of any class, 2 inches or over in size, between two or more units of property.
11. Piping header.
12. Platforms, ladders, and runways.
13. Pump.
14. Recording device or instrument.
15. Tank.
16. Valves and cocks, 6-inch nominal pipe size and larger.
17. Valves and cocks below 6-inch nominal pipe size, rated for 300 pounds test pressure per square inch or greater.
18. Valves, special, i. e., motor-operated, hydraulic-operated, etc.
19. Weighing devices.

Production Plant

Manufactured Gas Production Plant

§ 216.2–312 Structures and improvements—manufactured gas.

1. Air conditioning or ventilating system.
2. Boiler, furnace, hot-water heater, or automatic stoker.
3. Burner system, gas or oil.
4. Coal or ash conveying system.
5. Elevator complete with operating mechanism.
6. Equipment item, such as a motor, generator, engine turbine, pump, compressor, ventilating fan, air washer, elevator drum, or similar item of equipment includible in structures, with or without associated wiring, control equipment, etc.
7. Fire escape system.
8. Fire protection system.
9. Foundation, when includible in structures.
10. House-lighting or power board.
11. Lighting fixtures, with or without associated wiring and conduit.
12. Roof, with or without supporting members. (A structure of irregular shape having more than one roof level may have several isolated roofs, each of which shall be considered an entire roof. In the case of structures to which lateral extensions have been made, even though having but one roof level, that part of the roof covering an entire section built at one time shall be considered an entire roof.)
13. Structure, complete.
14. Stack, brick, concrete, or other masonry.
15. Bridge.
16. Culvert.
17. Draw span.
18. Road.
19. Trail.
20. Trestle.

§ 216.2–313 Boiler plant equipment.

(a) Steam boiler installation:
(1) Boiler.

(2) Foundation, boiler, when independent of structure.
(3) Fuel burning equipment for one boiler (grates, stokers, stoker drive, burners, etc.)
(4) Furnace.
(5) Furnace walls or arches, air or water cooled, for one boiler.
(6) Reheater.
(7) Setting, boiler.
(8) Soot blower system for one boiler.
(9) Superheater, when separate from boiler.
(b) Draft equipment:
(1) Air duct system.
(2) Air heater.
(3) Breeching system.
(4) Cinder catching equipment.
(5) Fan, draft.
(6) Stack, with or without foundation.
(c) Feed water system:
(1) Deaerator.
(2) Economizer, when separate from boiler.
(3) Heat exchanger.
(4) Heater, feed water (main or stage).
(5) Measuring and recording device.
(6) Pump (main or stage).
(7) Regulator, feed water.
(8) Tank.
(d) Coal fuel equipment:
(1) Bin or bunker not includible in structures.
(2) Capstan or winch, power.
(3) Car.
(4) Car dumper.
(5) Chutes or spouts, system of.
(6) Conveyor (belt, cableway, portable, screw, etc.).
(7) Crane (locomotive, gantry, or monorail).
(8) Crusher.
(9) Electric trolley or third rail system.
(10) Elevator (vertical, bucket, skip hoist).
(11) Gates, chutes, downtakes, spreaders or hoppers, for one boiler.
(12) Hoist or derrick.
(13) Hopper, track or weigh.
(14) Locomotive.
(15) Lorry.
(16) Scraper, drag.
(17) Screening or sizing installation.
(18) Separator, magnetic.
(19) Structure, fuel handling, with mechanism (not includible in structures).
(20) Track scale.
(21) Track system.
(22) Trestle.
(e) Pulverized fuel equipment:
(1) Air filter or washer.
(2) Air preheater.
(3) Air compressor.
(4) Conveyor.
(5) Chutes, ducts or transport pipes, system of.
(6) Coal feeder, raw or powered.
(7) Crusher.
(8) Dryer.
(9) Fan.
(10) Hopper or bin.
(11) Pulverizer.
(12) Screening or sizing installation.
(13) Separator, electric or mechanical (dust collector or concentrated).
(14) Sludge pump.
(15) Weighing machine, automatic.
(f) Oil fuel equipment:
(1) Heater.
(2) Meter.
(g) Gas fuel equipment.
(1) Holder or tank.
(2) Meter.
(3) Pressure regulator or control device.
(h) Ash handling equipment:
(1) Car.
(2) Conveyor or elevator.
(3) Crane, hoist or derrick.
(4) Electric trolley or third-rail system.
(5) Fan.
(6) Locomotive.
(7) Removal system (vacuum, steam jet, or hydraulic).
(8) Sluiceway or piping system.
(9) Storage bin or pit.
(10) Sump dredge.
(11) Track system.
(i) Water supply and purification system:
(1) Meter.
(2) Water softener or purification system.
(3) Well.
(j) Ventilating equipment:
(1) Air duct system.
(2) Blower.
(3) Cooler or heater.
(4) Washer.
(k) Instruments and meters:
(1) Automatic control installation.
(2) Master controller installation.
(3) Panel section or a switch or instrument board.
(l) Boiler plant piping:
(1) Desuperheater.
(2) Header of any class of piping, such as each pressure or temperature class of live steam, each pressure class of exhaust steam, raw water, treated water, feed water, drip and drain piping, boiler blowdown, compressed air, hot or cold service water, lubricating oil, fuel oil, gas, fire protection, etc.
(3) Piping, branch run of any class, 2 inches or over in size, between one or more units of property and a header.
(4) Piping, run of any class, 2 inches or over in size, between two or more units of property.
(5) Separator or purifier, steam.
(6) Trap, high-pressure.
(7) Valve, motor-operated, pressure-reducing, boiler nonreturn or other relatively costly valve.

Note: Wherever appropriate, the "piping" costs of additions and retirements shall include all costs for pipes, valves, fittings, specials, covering, hangers, supports, etc., pertaining to the run or header in question.

(m) Process steam equipment:
(1) Purifier or separator.
(2) Accumulator.
(3) Automatic control for accumulator.

§ 216.2:314 Other power equipment.

(a) Steam power equipment:
a. Engine-driven generating installation:
(1) Drive or connection between engine and generator.
(2) Engine.
(3) Exciter, direct-connected or belt-driven.
(4) Foundation, independent of structure.
(5) Generator.
(6) Governor control system.
b. Turbo-generator installation:
(1) Equipment, starting and turning.
(2) Exciter, direct-connected or belt-driven.
(3) Foundation, independent of structure.
(4) Generator.
(5) Governor control system.
(6) Remote control rheostat and field switch.
(7) Turbine.
c. Condensing and cooling water system.
(1) Air ejector apparatus for one condenser.
(2) Condenser.
(3) Condenser tube protective system (chemical, electric, electrolytic, etc.).
(4) Cooling tower.
(5) Fan.
(6) Intake screen and mechanism.
(7) Pump, circulating, condensate, vacuum, etc.
(8) Spraying system.
(9) Valve, atmospheric relief.
d. Central generator cooling system:
(1) Air duct system.
(2) Air washer.
(3) Blower.
(4) Cooler.
e. Central lubricating syatem:
(1) Accumulator.
(2) Cooler.
(3) Purifier or filter.
f. Instrument and meters:
(1) Panel section of a switch or instrument board.
(2) Recording or indicating device.
g. Engine and turbine plant piping:
(1) Header of any class of piping, such as each pressure or temperature class of live steam, each pressure class of exhaust steam, raw water, treated water, feed, stage, and condensate water, cooling water, gland piping, lubricating oil, insulating oil, gas, free exhaust piping, vent piping, drip and drain piping, condensing water, compressed air, hot or cold service water, oil and lubricating, etc.
(2) Piping, branch run of any class, 2 inches or over in size, between one or more units of property and a header.
(3) Piping, run of any class, 2 inches or over in size, between two or more units of property.
(4) Separator or purifier, steam.
(5) Trap, high-pressure.
(6) Valve, motor-operated, pressure-reducing, or other relatively costly valve.

Note: Wherever appropriate, the "piping" costs of additions and retirements shall include all costs for pipes, valves, fittings, specials, covering, hangers, supports, etc., pertaining to the run or header in question.

(b) Gas and oil power equipment:
a. Internal combustion engine:
(1) Air intake equipment for one engine.
(2) Drive or connection between engine and generator.
(3) Engine, with or without foundation.
(4) Governor control system.
(5) Heat exchanger.
(6) Meters and instruments for one engine.
(7) Muffler.
(8) Stack.
(9) Starting and turning equipment.
b. Central lubricating system:
(1) Cooler.
(2) Piping system, oil.
(3) Purifier or filter.
c. Central cooling water system:
(1) Heat exchanger.
(2) Piping system, cooling water.
(3) Purification system, water
(4) Spraying system.
(5) Tank, storage, surge, or hot-well.
(6) Tower, cooling.
d. Central starting system:
(1) Compressor.
(2) Piping system, starting.
(3) Tank, storage or compressed air.
e. Central intake air supply:
(1) Air duct system.
(2) Air filter or screen.
(3) Blower.
(4) Silencer.
f. Central exhaust gas system:
(1) Heat exchanger (or waste heat boiler).
(2) Muffler.
(3) Piping system, exhaust.
(4) Stack.
g. Fuel holders, producers, and accessories:
(1) Boiler, heating.
(2) Heater, not a part of tank.
(3) Holder.
(4) Mefer.
(5) Piping system.
(6) Piping system, fuel oil.
(7) Pump, compressor, booster.
(8) Purifier.
(9) Recording or indicating device.
(10) Regenerator.
(11) Scrubber or washer.
(12) Tank, including foundations, supports, and fire protection.
(13) Vaporizing unit for butane gas.
(c) Generators:
1. Exciter, direct-connected or belt-driven.
2. Generator.
3. Panel section of a switch or instrument board.
4. Recording or indicating device.
5. Remote control rheostat and field switch.

(d) Accessory electric equipment:
(1) Air duct system.
(2) Auxiliary generator set.
(3) Battery charging set.
(4) Choke coils, set of.
(5) Condenser, synchronous.
(6) Control installation, system operator's.
(7) Converter, synchronous or rotary.
(8) Exciter, separately driven.
(9) Fan or blower.
(10) Foundation equipment.
(11) Frequency changer.
(12) Frequency control system.
(13) Fuse equipment, set of high tension.
(14) Generator voltage regulator system.
(15) Induction regulator.
(16) Lightning arrester.
(17) Oil circuit breaker.
(18) Panel or panels, devoted to a single purpose, with electric equipment accessory thereto.
(19) Reactor or resistor.
(20) Rectifier.
(21) Static condensers, set or bank of.
(22) Storage battery (station control).
(23) Switches, set of disconecting.
(24) Testing equipment, set of.
(25) Transformer, not accessory to a panel.
(26) Truck switch with wiring and instruments.
(27) Wiring, power:
(a) Bus compartment, including integral cubicles for equipment.
(b) Bus—wires, cables, and insulators.
(c) Cable or conductor, each continuous circuit run.
(d) Circuit of generator leads to a bus including supports and protective barriers.
(e) Multiple conduit run between two or more units of property.
(f) Outgoing feeder or auxiliary power feeder including its individual conduit, supports, and barriers.
(e) Miscellaneous power plant equipment:
(1) Air compressor.
(2) Air conditioning or ventilating system.
(3) Barge, boat, or similar item of marine equipment.
(4) Car, railway.
(5) Communication system, station signal or call.
(6) Compressed air system.
(7) Crane, hoist or derrick.
(8) Fire protection system.
(9) Laboratory equipment, principal item, such as drying oven, calorimeter, etc.
(10) Locomotive.
(11) Oil reclaiming installation.
(12) Pump (sump, drain).
(13) Tool, principal item, such as forge, lathe, drill press, steam hammer, welding equipment, etc.
(14) Vacuum cleaning system.
(15) Exhaust heat exchanger.

NOTE: If any of the units of property listed above are a part of a structure and includible in Account 312, Structures and Improvements, they shall be accounted for through that account.

§ 216.2:315 Benches and retorts.

(1) Bench, including retorts, recuperators, and furnace.
(2) Charging machine.
(3) Coal bunker or bin.
(4) Coal dryer.
(5) Coal grinder or breaker.
(6) Decanter.
(7) Discharging machine.
(8) Economizer.
(9) Hot coke conveyor.
(10) Hydraulic main for one bench.
(11) Lorry.
(12) Magnetic separator.
(13) Primary atmospheric condenser.
(14) Quenching apparatus.
(15) Screen.
(16) Scrubber standpipe.
(17) Stack or chimney.
(18) Waste heat boiler.
(19) Well.
(20) Wharf.

§ 216.2:316 Coke ovens.

(1) Charging lorry.
(2) Clay mixer.
(3) Coal bunker or bin.
(4) Coal dryer.
(5) Coke oven.
(6) Conveyor.
(7) Door extractor.
(8) Hydraulic main for one oven.
(9) Pusher.

(6) Producer.
(7) Producer gas holder.
(8) Scrubber.
(9) Separator.
(10) Waste heat boiler.

§ 216.2:318 Water gas generating equipment.

(1) Automatic charger.
(2) Automatic control.
(3) Backrun valve.
(4) Blower.
(5) Bunker or bin.
(6) Carburetor.
(7) Dust collector.
(8) Gauge board.
(9) Generator.
(10) Hoist or elevator.
(11) Oil heater.
(12) Scales.
(13) Seal pot.
(14) Superheater.
(15) Waste heat boiler.

§ 216.2:319 Petroleum gas equipment.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–958, Amdt. and Modification]

BOWERS BATTERY AND SPARK PLUG CO.

Bowers Battery and Spark Plug Company, Spring Valley, Reading, Pennsylvania, engaged in the manufacture of storage batteries, was suspended on August 20, 1946, by Suspension Order No. S–958. It has appealed from the provisions of the order. The Chief Compliance Commissioner has directed that the order be amended.

It is hereby ordered, that: § 1010.958 Suspension Order No. S–958, issued August 20, 1946, be and hereby is amended by the substitution of the following paragraph (a) for the present paragraph (a):

(a) During the third and fourth quarters of 1946 and the first quarter of 1947 the amount of lead and lead oxide that Bowers Battery and Spark Plug Company would otherwise be entitled to use under the provisions of General Preference Order M–38 in the manufacture of replacement SLI automotive and industrial type storage batteries shall be reduced by the following amounts: Third quarter of 1946, 90,404 pounds; fourth quarter of 1946, 203,416 pounds; and the first quarter of 1947, 113,012 pounds.

Issued this 6th day of September 1946.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Regulation 28, Direction 18, as Amended Sept. 12, 1946]

IRON CASTINGS AND STEEL FOR URGENTLY NEEDED HOUSING ITEMS

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Regulation 28:

(a) What this regulation does. During the fourth quarter of 1946, most consumers of iron castings and steel should be able to obtain adequate supplies, and the emergency assistance under Directions 12 and 13 to Order M–21 will not be required. Authorizations for merchant pig iron will be given under Direction 13. The steel industry will give special consideration to the requirements of famine relief and the production of farm machinery and the orderly distribution of steel by warehouses.

CC ratings will be assigned under the regular provisions of Priorities Regulation 28 for iron castings and steel to be delivered after September 30, 1946. This limited assistance should insure the minimum needs of all industries, including the need of manufacturers of critical products listed on Schedule I to Priorities Regulation 28. However, the manufacture of certain products required by the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program must be expanded significantly in the fourth quarter. In addition, the requirements of these products for light gauge, hot and cold rolled and galvanized sheet will be quite heavy. Consequently, to insure an orderly expansion of manufacture to the greatest extent possible, and in order to permit mills to schedule production in the most effective manner, this direction provides for the assignment of CC ratings on one application for all the iron castings and steel required for the production of each of these products during the fourth quarter.

(b) How to apply. A manufacturer of any product listed in paragraph (e) below should apply to the Civilian Production Administration on Form CPA–4491 on or before August 15, 1946. Separate applications must be made for each product or product group listed below. The applications must be for only the amounts of iron castings and steel to be actually put into process in the production of the product during the fourth quarter. CC ratings for iron casing and steel will not normally be assigned for increasing inventories, and when assigned will be less than the amounts permitted by Priorities Regulation 32. The CPA may assign CC ratings for iron castings and steel required for these products if it determines that such ratings are necessary. CPA–4491 forms may be obtained at CPA Field Construction offices.

(c) Restrictions on use of rating. (1) A manufacturer who has been assigned ratings on Form CPA–4491 may not rate for delivery in any one month of the fourth quarter more than 45% of the iron castings or steel he is authorized to rate on Form CPA–4491.

(2) The CC rating assigned on Form CPA–4491 may be used only to place orders with the usual supplier or suppliers indicated on that form, in accordance with his usual purchase pattern, unless otherwise authorized by CPA.

(d) Certification. (1) Any manufacturer using a CC rating assigned on Form CPA–4491 to obtain steel must place on his order the following certification signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7.

I certify, subject to the penalties of Section 35A of the United States Criminal Code that I will use these iron castings or steel to make ------ (specify one or more of the end products listed in paragraph (e)) and that the tonnage covered by this order together with all orders rated CC placed with other producers and distributors for use in these products are not in excess of the quantity of such iron castings or steel which I am authorized to rate under the provisions of Direction 18 to Priorities Regulation 28.

The standard certifications of Priorities Regulation 3 and Priorities Regulation 7 may not be substituted for this certification.

(2) Canadian purchasers. In the case of a Canadian purchaser, the following certification should be placed on the order signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 15 of the Canadian Wartime Industries Control Regulation, to the seller, to the Canadian Priorities Office, and to the Civilian Production Administration that he will use this steel only to make ------ and that the tonnage covered by this order together with all tonnages placed with other producers on orders rated CC is not in excess of the quantity of such iron castings or steel which he is authorized to rate under the provisions of General Instruction Letter No. 68 and Direction 18 to Priorities Regulation 28, and that the end product will be sold only in accordance with the terms of that letter.

(e) List of products. Manufacturers of the following items of types suitable for low cost housing may apply on Form CPA–4491 as described in this direction.

Items

Bath tubs
Radiation (convector and cast iron)
Furnaces, warm air, including floor and wall furnaces
Furnace pipe, fittings and duct work
Lavatories
Registers and grilles for heating systems
Sinks and sink and tray combinations, including under-sink cabinets
Steel industrially made houses, panels and sections (where principal panel material is steel)
Wiring devices, electrical of the following kinds only:
  (a) Outlet and switch boxes
  (b) Box connectors
  (c) All current-carrying devices
Builders hardware of the following kinds only:
  (a) Butts, hinges and hasps
  (b) Door locks and lock trim
  (c) Sash, screen and shelf hardware
  (d) Night latches and deadlocks
  (e) Spring hinges
  (f) Sash balances and sash pulleys
Low pressure boilers of residential heating type
Screwed pipe fittings in the following classes:
  (a) Gray cast recessed drainage, 2 in. and under
  (b) Gray cast steam fittings, 8 in. and under (125 lbs. S. W. P.)
  (c) Malleable fittings, including unions, 2 in. and under (150 lbs. S. W. P.)

Issued this 12th day of September 1946.

Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

ELECTRICAL WIRING DEVICES

The "wiring devices" item listed under paragraph (e) of Direction 18 to Priorities Regulation 28 includes only the "wiring devices" specified in Schedule I to Priorities Regulation 28. (Issued Aug. 30, 1946.)

PART 4700—VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

[Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, Supp. 3 as Amended Sept. 12, 1946]

SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES AND CLASSIFICATION OF STRUCTURES AS TO SMALL JOB ALLOWANCES

§ 4700.4 (a) What this supplement does. Paragraph (d) of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 provides that it is not necessary to get permission under the order to do one or more jobs on a structure if the cost of each job does not exceed the allowance given for the kind of structure or the kind of job involved. This supplement sets forth the small job allowances generally applicable to individual structures of various classes and lists certain specific structures falling within each class. The supplement also lists exemptions applicable to a particular kind of job. In addition, this supplement explains the rules for computing the cost of a job for the purpose of determining whether it comes within the exemption given under this supplement.

(b) Classification of structures. The small job allowances given under this supplement are based in general upon the kind of structure in which the job is to be done. They are not based upon the use to which the part of a structure being altered is to be put, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this supplement. If the job involved consists of changing a structure from one class to another class, the small job allowance applicable to the conversion is the allowance for the structure after the conversion, except where the conversion is from residential purposes to non-residential purposes, in which case the job is covered by paragraph (c) of this supplement. The allowance provided for in paragraph (c) is applicable to a job covered by that paragraph, even though done in a structure which, as a whole, would have a larger allowance under this paragraph. With the exception of jobs covered by paragraph (c) of this supplement, it is not necessary to get permission under VHP–1 to do any separate construction, repair, alteration or installation job, the cost of which does not exceed the allowance given below for the individual structure involved.

(1) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kind listed below is $400 per job.

Any individual house designed for occupancy by 5 families or less even though it is on the property of a commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern and used for the purpose of housing employees of the commercial, utility, institutional or industrial concern.
A rectory or parsonage even though near a church and owned by a church.
A house on a campus owned by a college and occupied by a college official.
A boarding or rooming house designed for occupancy by 10 boarders or roomers or less.
A farmhouse or other housing accommodations on a farm (except a farm bunkhouse).
Row houses separated by party walls are considered separate houses.
All private structures situated near and used in connection with one to five family houses, such as garages, piers, tool sheds, greenhouses and the like even though these may be used in part or primarily for nonresidential purposes (except on farms, see paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement).

(2) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kinds listed below is $1,000 per job:

A boarding or rooming house designed for occupancy by more than 10 boarders or roomers.
A dormitory or fraternity.
A building used for a social club.
A service station or a commercial or service garage.
A butcher shop, bakery or other food processing establishment where most of the products which are butchered, baked or otherwise processed in the establishment are sold at retail in the establishment.
A funeral parlor or funeral home.
A radio broadcasting station.
A building in a drive-in theater, such as an enclosed projection room or a screen forming an enclosure for storage purposes, for rest rooms or for other purposes.
An individual barn or a farm building on a farm (other than a farmhouse). Chicken hatcheries, plants used to raise mushrooms and the like and farms or ranches for raising fur-bearing animals are considered "farms", wherever situated. A building on a farm used primarily for processing the products of that farm falls within this paragraph. A building situated on a farm and used primarily to process materials for use on that farm likewise falls within this category. A "farm" means a place used primarily for raising crops, livestock, dairy products or poultry for the market.
A greenhouse whether on-farm (agricultural) or off-farm (commercial).
A building used for a nursery growing trees.
A bunkhouse for labor on a farm or on the site of another establishment having a $1,000 allowance.
A building on an experimental farm.
A parish house.
A college or university laboratory, field house or class room building.
A building in a retail or wholesale lumber yard.
A repair shop, except a plant primarily engaged in reconditioning or rebuilding equipment or articles for resale.
A drycleaning or laundering establishment, whether wholesale or retail.
An office building, whether or not owned and occupied exclusively by a transportation, utility or industrial concern (except where situated on the immediate premises of a plant having a $15,000 allowance; see paragraph (c) below).
A publicly owned pier not used for steamship or railway purposes.
Other commercial piers and piers situated near and used in connection with structures entitled to a $1,000 allowance.
A store.
A hotel.
An arena.
An apartment house or other residential building designed for occupancy by more than 5 families.
A bank.
A restaurant.
A nightclub.
A theater.
A warehouse including a warehouse in which products such as liquor or cheese are kept to age.
A frozen food locker plant.
A stadium.
A grandstand used for commercial or institutional purposes.
A church.
A hospital.
A school.
A college.
A publicly owned building used for public purposes.
A building used exclusively for charitable purposes.
Any other structure used for commercial or service purposes not covered by any other classification.
A tailor's or dressmaker's establishment making, repairing or altering articles for individual customers.

(3) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kinds listed below is $15,000 per job. Paragraph (e) of VHP–1 contains separate exemptions for certain maintenance and repair work in structures covered by this paragraph.

NOTE: A structure covered by this paragraph (including a structure in a plant listed below) has an allowance of $15,000 per job even though it is owned and operated by an educational, charitable or public organization. However, a house for 1 to 5 families owned or operated in connection with any plant listed below receives only the $400 per job allowance described in paragraph (b) (1) of this supplement.

A factory, plant or other industrial structure which is used for the manufacturing, processing or assembling of any goods or materials;
A structure at a logging or lumber camp or at a mine;
A structure used for or inconnection with the operation of a railroad, street railway, commercial airport, bus line or common or contract carrier by truck;
A research laboratory or a pilot plant;
A single motion picture set;
A structure used for oil, gas or petroleum producing, refining or distributing (except service stations and commercial or residential garages);
A structure (public or private) providing directly for electric, gas, sewerage, water, central steam heating or telephone or telegraph communication services;
A grain, coal or cement elevator.
A printing plant or newspaper publishing building.
A plant engaged in the wholesale printing, developing and enlarging of photographs.
A plant engaged in mixing and bottling syrup or soft drinks.

A slaughterhouse, except on a farm.
A butcher shop, bakery or other food processing establishment where most of the products which are butchered, baked or otherwise processed in the establishment are not sold at retail in the establishment.
A government (Federal or State) printing plant or other industrial or utility building.
A plant primarily engaged in reconditioning or rebuilding articles or equipment for resale.
An off-farm plant engaged in pasteurizing, separating or bottling milk or making butter or cheese.
A scrap dealer's plant if it is primarily engaged in such processing operations as briquetting, pressing, or baling light iron, cutting up heavy melting steel, breaking up cast iron, detinning cans or smelting nonferrous materials for the purpose of making the scrap available for further use.
A cotton compress warehouse.
A building primarily used for a railroad station.
A roundhouse.
A railway or steamship pier or a pier situated near and used in connection with any structure or plant entitled to a $15,000 allowance (Warehouses and other buildings on a pier are considered part of the pier and are not separate structures).
A garage or work shop used primarily for a bus company or a common or contract carrier by truck.
An industrial or utility power house, whether public or private.
An industrial or utility pumping station for pumping gas, water or sewerage.
A telephone exchange.
A bunkhouse for employees of a plant covered by this paragraph, if located on the plant site.
A hangar, repair shop, waiting room or structure used in connection with the operation of a commercial airport (an airport operated for profit and open to the public).
A commercial or industrial research laboratory.
A radio telephone or radio telegraph station used as an international point to point radio communication carrier.
A pumphouse or terminal facility on an oil pipe line.
A mine tipple.

(4) The small job allowance under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a structure of the kinds listed below is $200 per job.

A billboard.
A private pier or bathhouse which is not situated near and used in connection with another structure.
A tourist cabin whether a single cabin or one of a group of separate cabins. A cabin is considered a separate cabin if it has independent outside walls even though the space between it and the next cabin is sheltered by a roof and is used as a garage. A management building used for operating the cabins is considered a commercial building under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement.

(c) Small job allowances for conversion from residential purposes. Regardless of the small job allowance given under paragraph (b) of this supplement for a particular structure, the small job allowance applicable to a job consisting of conversion to non-residential purposes of any part (or all) of a building last used for residential purposes is $200.

(d) Structures used for more than one purpose. If a structure is used for more than one purpose and might, therefore, fall within more than one of the classes indicated above, the use to which the greatest part of the structure will be put (computed on the basis of the floor area where applicable) determines the allowance. For example, if a building has three apartments occupying three floors of the building and a store on the ground floor, it is primarily residential and falls under paragraph (b) (1) of this supplement. If a building is half residential and half commercial or industrial or half residential and half agricultural, it is considered primarily residential. When alterations are being made to a building, the applicable small job allowance is the allowance applicable to the building as a whole under paragraph (b). Except in cases covered by paragraph (c), the purpose for which the particular space being altered was or is to be used does not effect the amount of the allowance.

(e) Subordinate structures. The allowance given for jobs on a structure applies to all subordinate or related structures situated near and used in connection with the structure. This means that office buildings, warehouses and garages situated on the immediate premises of an industrial or utility plant and used in the operation of the plant fall within paragraph (b) (3) of this supplement and the $15,000 per job allowance applies to them. However, a "downtown" office building, even though used exclusively for one industrial or utility company, does not come under this provision, but is under paragraph (b) (2) of this supplement like other office buildings. Houses, hotels and apartment houses are never considered to be used in connection with an industrial or commercial structure, except where they form an integral part of an industrial or other structure. Bunkhouses, on the other hand, if located on the plant site are considered to be used in connection with the related structures, if any, and have the same allowance as the related structure.

(f) Separate jobs. For the purpose of determining whether work is exempt from VHP–1 under this supplement, a related series of operations in a structure which are performed at or about the same time or as part of a single plan or program constitute a single job. No job which would ordinarily be done as a single piece of work may be sub-divided for the purpose of coming within the allowance given under this supplement. When a building or part of a building is being converted from one purpose to another all work incidental to and done in connection with the conversion must be considered as one job. So also if a building is being renovated, improved or modernized over an extended period all work done in connection with the modernization (other than the work done before the issuance of the order) must be considered as part of one job, even though separate contracts are let for different parts of the work. However, if related work on two or more separate structures is performed, the work is not considered one job but the work done in each structure must be considered separately under the rules stated above. For example, if two or more related structures are to be built and the cost of each does not exceed the small job allowance applicable to each structure under paragraph (b) of this supplement, each of these structures may be built without getting an authorization under VHP–1. See paragraph (f) of Supplement 2 to VHP–1 for an explanation of what jobs are exempt from the order as having been started befort it became effective.

(g) How to figure cost. For the purpose of determining whether a particular job is exempt from VHP–1 by this supplement, the "cost" of a job means the cost of the entire construction job as estimated at the time of beginning construction. (1) The cost of a job includes the following:

The cost or value of fixtures, mechanical equipment and materials incorporated in the structure, whether or not obtained without paying for them, except the items listed in paragraph (g) (2) below. (See Supplement 1 for definitions and illustrations of fixtures and mechanical equipment.)
The cost of paid labor engaged in the construction work, regardless of who pays for it, excluding, however, the cost of paid labor engaged in working on fixtures, equipment or materials the cost of which need not be included in the cost of the job under paragraph (g) (2). If it is impracticable to allocate the labor specifically to exempt or non-exempt items, the cost of all paid labor may be divided between the work on the two different classes of items in proportion to the value of the two classes of items.
The amount paid for contractors' fees.

(2) The cost of a job does not include the following:

The cost or value of previously used fixtures, previously used mechanical equipment and previously used materials, when these have been severed from the same structure or another structure owned by the builder (the owner or occupant of the building) and are to be used without change of ownership.
The cost or value of materials used in repainting or repapering an existing structure or any unchanged part of a structure. However, this exception does not apply to painting a new structure or new parts of a structure which has been altered.
The cost or value of materials used in installing loose fill, blanket or batt insulation in existing buildings or in installing insulation on existing equipment or piping.
The cost or value of materials which were produced on the property of the owner or actual or proposed occupant of the structure, except where he is in business of producing these materials for sale (this exception does not include materials or products assembled by the builder from new or used materials not themselves excepted).
The value of unpaid labor and the cost of paid labor engaged in working on fixtures, equipment or materials, the cost of which is exempt from the cost of the job.
The cost or value of machinery and equipment other than mechanical equipment.
Architects' and engineers' fees.
The cost of site preparation and other preparatory work which does not constitute beginning construction (Supplement 2 to VHP–1 contains illustrations of work which does not constitute beginning construction and the cost of which is not included in the cost of a job).

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 28, Schedule I, as Amended Sept. 12, 1946]

CRITICAL PRODUCTS

(a) Introduction. The table in this schedule lists certain of the critical products which the Civilian Production Administration has determined to be in such tight supply that they are serious threats to the national economy. (This schedule supersedes former Directions 1 through 5 and 7 through 12 to PR–28 covering critical products.) When effective assistance of other kinds is not practicable, the CPA may assign CC preference ratings under paragraph (e) of Priorities Regulation 28 for material which is needed to sustain or increase the production of these products. In addition to the rules explained in paragraph (b) below, the general rules in paragraphs (c) and (d) of Priorities Regulation 28 governing the application for and assignment of CC ratings are also applicable. Especially important is paragraph (d) (1) of Priorities Regulation 28, requiring a determination that the use of substitute and less scarce materials is not practicable, that reasonable efforts have been made to get the required item without a rating, and that a rating is required to obtain the item by the latest date and in the minimum quantity practicable after taking into consideration material in inventory and available without a rating.

(b) Explanation of table.

Column I—Critical products. Column I lists the critical products for which CC ratings may be granted to sustain or increase production. When "specialized machinery" for another critical product is listed in Column I, it includes only machinery and equipment designed solely for the production of that critical product. It does not include general types of equipment suitable for other use even though a particular piece of equipment is designed and built expressly for a producer of the critical product.

Column II—Persons eligible. Column II states the persons who may apply for CC ratings. Where Column VI indicates that CC ratings may be assigned for construction, the builder or contractor may apply instead of the person listed.

Column III—Production materials. (1) If the word "yes" appears in Column III, the CPA may assign CC ratings to the person named in Column II to get production materials needed to make the item listed in Column I regardless of the applicant's minimum economic rate of operation. Where the applicant regularly sells materials as maintenance, repair or operating supplies for the item he makes, CC ratings may also be assigned to him for such supplies or for materials needed to make them. Applications for CC ratings for textile fabrics or yarns should be made under Priorities Regulation 28A, and CC ratings may be assigned under paragraph (d) of that Regulation in accordance with subpargaraph (d) (5) (i).

(2) If the word "no" appears in Column III, CC ratings will be assigned for production materials only as provided in Priorities Regulation 28. The same rule applies to any production materials expressly excluded from Column III.

Column IV—Capital equipment. (1) If the word "yes" appears in Column IV, the CPA may assign CC ratings to the person named in Column II to get capital equipment which either (i) will result in a substantial increase in production of the item listed in Column I, or (ii) is needed to replace present operating equipment which is in danger of imminent breakdown.

(2) Where the word "no" appears in Column IV, CC ratings will be assigned for capital equipment only as provided in Priorities Regulation 28. The same rule applies to any capital equipment expressly excluded from Column IV.

Column V—MRO. (1) If the word "yes" appears in Column V, the CPA may assign CC ratings to the person named in Column II to get maintenance, repair and operating supplies (MRO) which he needs to use in making the item listed in Column I.

(2) If the word "no" appears in Column V, CC ratings will be assigned for MRO only as provided in Priorities Regulation 28.

Column VI—Construction. (1) If the word "yes" appears in Column VI, the CPA may assign CC ratings to the person named in Column II, or to his builder, for material needed for incorporation in new plants or in expanded or modernized old ones where increased production of the item listed in Column I will result, or where the construction is necessary to prevent a loss of production.

(2) If the word "no" appears in Column VI, CC ratings will be assigned for construction materials only as provided in Priorities Regulation 28.

NOTE: Table amended Sept. 12, 1946.

I Critical products	II Person eligible	III Production materials	IV Capital equipment	V MRO	VI Construction
Alcohol (produced from non-food materials):
Normal butyl alcohol	Producer	No	Yes	Yes	No.
Industrial ethyl alcohol	do	No	Yes	Yes	No.
Synthetic methanol	do	No	Yes	Yes	No.
Asbestos-cement siding shingles and flat sheets (products made from asbestos fibres and cement).	do	No	Yes (except specialized machinery for asbestos-cement siding shingles and flat sheets).	Yes	Yes.
Asbestos-cement siding shingle and flat sheet specialized machinery.	do	Yes	Yes	Yes	No.
Asphalt and tarred roofing products (smooth surfaced roll roofing, mineral surfaced roll roofing, strip and individual asphalt shingles, mineral surfaced insulation board, laminated asphalt felt and mastic core type boards, saturated felts, dry roofing felts, and saturated or coated sheathing papers)	do	No	Yes (except specialized machinery for asphalt and tarred roofing products).	Yes	Yes
Asphalt and tarred roofing products specialized machinery	do	Yes	No	Yes	No.
Boilers, low pressure for residential heating	do	Yes	Yes (replacement only)	Yes	No.
Builders' hardware, of the following kinds only: (a) Butts, hinges and hasps; (b) Door locks and lock trim; (c) Sash, screen and shelf hardware; (d) Night latches and deadlocks; (e) Spring hinges; (f) Sash balances and sash pulleys.	Manufacturer	Yes	Yes (replacement only)	Yes	No.
Building board (board made from wood pulp, vegetable fibres, pressed paper stock, or multiple plies of fibred stock).	Producer	No	Yes (except specialized machinery for building board).	Yes	Yes.
Building board specialized machinery	do	Yes	No	Yes	No.
Castings, malleable iron and gray iron, including cast iron soil pipe, cast iron pressure pipe, and railroad car brake shoes.	Producer (foundry)	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Cement, portland	Producer	Yes	Yes (replacement only) [4]	Yes	Yes (at existing plants only).
Clay building products (common and face brick, clay structural tile and clay sewer pipe).	Manufacturer	Yes	Yes (except specialized machinery for clay building products).	Yes	Yes
Clay building products specialized machinery (such as de-airing machines, extrusion heads, clay grinders and pulverizers, and brick presses).	do	Yes	No	Yes	No.
Coal, of the following kinds only: high grade metallurgical and by-product coking coal and double screened domestic coal in the areas comprising Bituminous Producing Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 13 (as defined in SFAW Regulation 27) and the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania.	Producer	No	Yes (except underground Coal mining machinery).	Yes [5]	Yes (at present mines only).
Coal mining machinery, underground	Manufacturer	Yes	Yes	Yes	No.

I Critical products	II Person eligible	III Production materials	IV Capital equipment	V MRO	VI Construction
Concrete building products (light weight and heavy weight aggregate concrete blocks and cement brick).	Manufacturer	Yes (cinders, burned clay or shale, and blast furnace slag, only).	Yes (except specialized machinery for concrete building products).	Yes	Yes.
Concrete building products specialized machinery (such as concrete block and brick machines and attachments, including concrete mixers and skip loaders as commonly used in the concrete products industry).	do	Yes	No	Yes	No.
Furnace pipe, fittings and duct work	do	Yes	Yes (replacement only)	Yes	No.
Furnaces, warm air, including floor and wall furnaces.	Producer	Yes (except iron and steel products in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule 1 to Order M-21).	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Gypsum board and gypsum lath	do	No	Yes (except specialized machinery for gypsum board and gypsum lath).	Yes	Yes.
Gypsum board and gypsum lath specialized machinery.	do	Yes	No	Yes	No.
Lead	Producer (mines and smelters)	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Logs	Producer (any person engaged in felling or bucking trees or transporting the yield from felled trees to the points of delivery for manufacture or shipment).	No	Yes (except special equipment produced only for use in log or sawmill operations).	Yes	Yes.
Lumber	Producer (operator of any plant, stationary or portable, which produces lumber not further manufactured than by sawing, resawing, passing lengthwise through a standard planing machine, cross-cutting to length and working, but not including any establishment known in the trade as a "distribution yard", engaged in either retail or wholesale business, even though it may process lumber on special orders from customers).	No	Yes (except special equipment produced only for use in log or sawmill operations).	Yes	Yes.
Millwork, suitable for housing construction	Producer	No	Yes	Yes	Yes (at existing plants only).
Motors, electric, fractional horsepower AC	Manufacturer	Yes (except electric sheet steel).	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Penicillin	Producer	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Pipe fittings, screwed, in the following classes: (a) Gray cast recessed drainage, 2" and under; (b) Gray cast steam fittings, 3" and under (125 lbs. S. W. P.); (c) Malleable fittings including unions, 2" and under (150 lbs. S. W. P.).	Manufacturer	Yes	Yes (replacement only)	Yes	No.
Plumbing fixtures (of the following types, in residential-design models only: bathtubs; lavatories; laundry trays, sinks, sink-and-tray combinations; shower stalls, receptors, stall-and-receptor combinations; water closet bowls, tanks. Trim is not included.)	Producer	No	Yes	Yes	No.
Plywood, softwood	do	No	Yes	Yes	Yes (at existing plants only).
Presses, mechanical, power-driven, 150 ton and over.	do	Yes	No	Yes	No.
Pulpwood	do	No	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Radiation, convector and cast iron	Producer	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Registers and grilles for heating systems	Manufacturer	Yes	Yes (replacement only)	Yes	No.
Rosin (formerly covered by direction 10)	Producer	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Rubber:
GRI	do	Yes	Yes (replacement only)[1]	Yes	Yes.
GRS	do	Yes	Yes (replacement only)[2]	Yes	Yes.
Reclaimed	do	No	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Steel, electrical high silicon sheet	do	No	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Streptomycin	do	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Titanium dioxide	do	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Veneer, softwood	do	No	Yes	Yes	Yes (at existing plants only).
Wire, copper magnet	do	Yes	Yes	Yes	Yes.
Wiring devices (electrical) of the following kinds only: (1) Sockets, lampholders, and lamp receptacles—medium screw base types—lighting fixtures and portable lamps not included. (A lampholder consists of a socket and a housing (generally one-piece) which attaches directly to a ceiling or wall outlet, without intervening suspending or protruding devices. It may be designed so that shades and other similar appurtenances may be attached, but, in that event, the appurtenances are not part of the lampholder itself.) (2) Convenience receptacles (outlets)—types suitable for residential use. (3) Toggle switches—types designed specifically for tools and appliances not included. (4) Wall and face plates. (5) Outlet, switch, and receptacle boxes—types suitable for residential use—covers, hangers, supports, and clamps included. (6) Box connectors for residential-type metallic or nonmetallic-sheathed cable.	do	Yes (except phenolic resin molding compound; see Schedule 121 to Order M-300).	Yes (except specialized machinery for wiring devices).	Yes	No.
Woodworking machinery, including power driven saw blades and saw bits, for the production of logs, lumber, millwork, flooring and plywood.	do	Yes	Yes	Yes	No.

[1] CC ratings will be assigned for special repair parts for underground coal mining machinery only where the repair part is essential for the continued operation of the mine and then only where it will not interfere with delivery of mining machinery for more essential purposes.

[2] CC ratings for construction for logs, lumber, and pulpwood will be assigned only for construction at existing plants or at plants which need to be relocated because of increased availability of timber, manpower or transportation facilities.

[3] Additional equipment only for increased production of Petroleum Butadiene.

[4] CC ratings will be assigned for capital equipment to increase production of portland cement only in areas where the CPA finds that the degree of local shortage is materially greater than the degree of national shortage.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-969]

GEORGE L. DUBIN AND DUBIN CONSTRUCTION CORP.

George L. Dubin and the Dubin Construction Corporation, 1925 Lee Road, Cleveland Heights, Ohio, began after March 30, 1946, without authorization from the Civilian Production Administration the construction of a building to be used as a dwelling located at 3165 South Moreland Boulevard, Shaker Heights, Ohio, the estimated cost of which was in excess of $400.00, in violation of Veterans Housing Program Order 1. This violation has diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.969 Suspension Order No. S-969. (a) Neither George L. Dubin, the Dubin Construction Corporation, their successors and assigns, nor any other person, shall do any further construction on the building to be used as a dwelling at 3165 South Moreland Boulevard, Shaker Heights, Ohio, including putting up, completing or altering the structure, unless hereafter authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(b) George L. Dubin and the Dubin Construction Corporation shall refer to this Order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Civilian Production Administration for priorities assistance.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve George L. Dubin and the Dubin Construction Corporation, their successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

PART 4600—RUBBER, SYNTHETIC RUBBER AND PRODUCTS THEREOF

[Rubber Order R-1, Appendix II as amended Aug. 15, 1946, Amdt. 1]

Appendix II, as amended August 15, 1946, List 15, Use of Tire-Type High-Tenacity Rayon Cord, Fabric or Yarn, is hereby further amended by adding a new third subparagraph in paragraph (c) reading as follows:

A Canadian manufacturer using tire-type high-tenacity rayon cord fabric or yarn may obtain it by certifying on his purchase order in substantially the following form, signed by an authorized official:

The undersigned purchaser hereby certifies, subject to the penalties of Section 15 of the Canadian Wartime Industries Control Regulations, to the seller, to the Canadian Priorities Officer and to the Civilian Production Administration, that _____ lbs. of rayon listed on the attached purchase order are being purchased for use in Canada and that the attached purchase order has been approved by the Canadian Rubber Controller.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1367—FERTILIZERS

[RMPR 205, Amdt. 16]

FERTILIZER RAW MATERIALS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 205 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (a) of section 9 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona. (1) The maximum price that may be charged for domestic sulphate of ammonia delivered to any destination in Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona shall be $36.50 per ton in bulk and $38.00 per ton in bags: Provided, That on any shipments made to destinations in Washington and Oregon where the freight charges exceed $7.21 per ton from Ironton, Utah, to such destination, such excess freight charges may be added to the maximum price: And provided further, That on any shipments made to destinations in California and Arizona where the freight charges exceed $4.53 per ton from Shell Point, California, to such destination, such excess freight charges may be added to the maximum price.

(2) The maximum price that may be charged for imported sulphate of ammonia delivered to any destination in Washington, Oregon, California and Arizona shall be $40.15 per ton in bulk and $41.80 per ton in bags.

2. Paragraph (b) of section 22 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Granulated triple superphosphate. The maximum price, as established under (1), (2) or (3) above, plus $2.00 per ton.

This amendment shall become effective September 17, 1946.

Issued this 12th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PART 1340—FUEL

[MPR 120, Amdt. 163]

BITUMINOUS COAL DELIVERED FROM MINE OR PREPARATION PLANT

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Sections 1340.210 (a) (16) and 1340.210 (a) (16) (i) are amended in the following respects:

The types of mines and amounts in cents per net ton set opposite District No. 13 are amended to read as follows:

District No.:	Cents per net ton
13 All	00

2. Section 1340.224 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1340.224 Appendix M: Maximum prices for bituminous coal produced in District No. 13. (a) The maximum prices set forth in paragraph (b) of this section are subject to the maximum price instructions provided in § 1340.210.

(b) The following maximum prices are established in cents per ton of 2,000 pounds. In the case of a rail or river shipment (which includes coal delivered by truck or wagon to a rail or river loading point) the maximum price is f. o. b. transportation facilities at the rail or river loading point. In the case of a truck or wagon shipment (i. e., delivery made entirely by truck or wagon without intervening rail shipment) the maximum price is f. o. b. the mine or preparation plant.

(1) (i) Maximum prices in cents per net ton for coals produced at underground mines for shipment to all destinations, by all methods of transportation (except truck or wagon), and for all uses, from all mines in Subdistrict No. 1.

(7) The charge for a chemical, oil or waxing treatment to allay dust or prevent freezing shall not exceed: 10 cents per net ton on coals produced at and shipped from a mine in Tennessee or Georgia; 15 cents per net ton for coals produced at and shipped from a mine in Alabama.

A producer who was rendering the service of supplying a chemical or oil treatment in the period October 1–15, 1941, and was making a charge for the service may continue to make the same charge as provided in § 1340.210 (a) (10). A producer, who was not rendering the service of supplying a chemical or oil treatment in the period October 1–15, 1941, and is now prepared to do so or a producer who was performing the service but was not charging for it, may charge an amount not in excess of 10 cents per net ton for such service where: First, the purchaser of the coal requires it; second, the producer is equipped with adequate facilities for the treatment of coal; third, the treatment is performed in an adequate and thorough manner; fourth, the charge for the service is separately stated on the producer's invoice or other memorandum of sale; and fifth, the producer has filed a report with the Solid Fuels Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., designating the service he expects to perform and describing the facilities and materials he will use in performing the services. In the event there appears to be an inadequate basis for making the charge, the Office of Price Administration may at any time deny permission to make the charge as to future transactions by notice to the producer in writing.

(8) Identification by mine index number of mines in the price group numbers specified in subparagraphs (1) and (4) of this paragraph (b). Following is a statement on the mines in each such price group. A seller of coal produced at a mine identified by mine index number shall first determine the price group number applicable to the mine. He shall then use the maximum prices applicable to the mines in the same price group number, as set forth in this paragraph (b), unless otherwise specifically provided herein.

Mine Index Nos. 30 through 54, 82, 104, 118, 127, 155, 165, 215, 238, 303, 331, 573, 616, 621, 755, 1122, 1133, 1156, 1226, 1249, 1274, 1275, 1338, 1366, 1389, 1390, 1391, 1393, 1394, 1395, 1407, 1410, 1411, 1413, 1417, 1425, 1427, 1431, 1445, 1454, 1456, 1457, 1459, 1460, 1472, 1494, 1514, 1522, 1523, 1527, 1531, 1557, 1581, 1582, 1584, 1585, 1591, 1595, 1624, 1660, 1662, 1663, 1666, 1667, 1674, 1684, 1701, 1714, 1748, 1749, 1752, 1760, 1762, 1766, 1771, 1775, 1782, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2013, 2016, 2022, 2025, 2028, 2029, 2033, 2039, 2041, 2047, 2068 are in Price Group No. 1.

(c) An order may be issued authorizing the deep-mine maximum price to be charged for a mixture of deep and strip-mined coals, upon application being filed wherein it is shown to the satisfaction of the Administrator: First, that the strip-mined coals are such that they can be prepared so as to be generally acceptable in coal-consuming markets; second, that the coals are prepared in a preparation plant or tipple equipped with screens and picking tables, and, in general, with adequate facilities for preparing coal by removing refuse before loading into transportation facilities; third, that the strip-mined coals loaded into transportation facilities are adequately prepared by use of such facilities; and fourth, that the mixture of deep-mined and strip-mined coals contains not less than approximately 25% of deep-mined coals which have been blended with the strip-mined coals in preparation.

Orders issued under this paragraph (c) may be amended or revoked at any time. Failure to observe the above described preparation standards or maintain the proper mixture of deep and strip-mined coals shall constitute grounds for immediate revocation.

This amendment shall become effective September 17, 1946.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 12th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

ADJUSTED MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CERTAIN LOW-PRICED COMMODITIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplementary Order 139 is amended in the following respects:

1. The note following step 3 in section 3 is amended to read as follows:

NOTE: In figuring his adjusted maximum price under this section, a seller may not use, as the maximum price found under Step 1 any adjusted maximum price authorized under Supplementary Order 133, Supplementary Order 149, Revised Supplementary Order 154 or Supplementary Regulation 14E. He must use the unadjusted maximum price established under the basic maximum price regulation in Step 1 above.

2. A new undesignated paragraph is added at the end of section 4 (b) to read as follows:

Where the maximum price of a commodity has been adjusted under this order and the manufacturer has filed the report therefor required by this section, and subsequent to such adjustment a larger increase factor is provided for that commodity by amendment to this order, the manufacturer may readjust his maximum price for the commodity by following the procedure in section 3 above and by filing a new report for the commodity in accordance with this section. In making such readjustment, the seller must use as his maximum price to which the new increase factor is applied, the maximum price of the commodity found under Step 1 of section 3 above.

3. Section 4 (c) is deleted.

4. The last sentence of section 5 (b) is deleted.

5. Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Rev. Gen. RO 5,[1] Amdt. 9]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

New sections 5.8, 5.9 and 5.10 are added to read as follows:

SEC. 5.8 Suspension from "use"—(a) Allotments may not be granted to institutional user who is suspended from using sugar. An institutional user against whom there is in operation an administrative suspension order, issued under Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4, which suspends him from using sugar is not entitled to receive any allotment for the period of the suspension. His allotment for any allotment period during which the suspension order is in effect shall be reduced in proportion to the part of the allotment period during which the suspension order is in operation.

(b) Ration evidences or credits may be issued to institutional users who are under suspension until ration debts are paid. There may be in operation against an institutional user an administrative suspension order which suspends him from using sugar and which, by its terms, is to continue in effect only until he repays ration debts he owes or which, although issued for a fixed period of time, contains provisions for earlier termination, modification or application for modification upon repayment of those debts. Such an institutional user is entitled to get ration evidences or credits against excess inventory during the period, as long as he satisfies all of the conditions imposed by the suspension order. For this purpose the allotment he would have been entitled to is to be computed in the following way:

(1) If his institutional user establishment ceases operations entirely during the period of suspension, his meal service allotments are figured on the basis of his operations during the corresponding period in the preceding year; if he were not in operation then, it is figured on the basis of his last full period of operation.

(2) If his establishment continues in operation during the period of suspension, his meal service allotment is figured in the same way as for any other institutional user.

(3) In all cases, his refreshment service allotment is figured in the same way as for any other institutional user. An institutional user who receives ration evidences under this paragraph cannot acquire or use sugar until: (1) all such debts have been paid and (2) he obtains a modification of his suspension order permitting the acquisition or use of sugar, if required by the terms of the suspension order.

NOTE: An institutional user is not entitled to get ration evidences or excess inventory credits in this way for any period or part of a period during which, because of seasonal operations, he would not have been in operation whether or not he was under suspension.

SEC. 5.9 Suspension from acquisition—(a) Allotments are to be granted to institutional user who is suspended only from acquiring sugar. An institutional user against whom there is in operation an administrative suspension order, issued under Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4, which suspends him from acquiring (but not from using) sugar shall continue to be credited with allotments for the period of the suspension just as if no suspension order had been issued. However, no ration evidences shall be issued to him, nor may he receive any credit against his excess inventory, with respect to those allotments, unless the suspension order provides for the repayment of debts, as specified in paragraph (b).

(b) Ration evidences or credits may be issued to institutional users who are under suspension until ration debts are paid. There may be in operation against an institutional user an administrative suspension order which suspends him only from acquiring (but not from using) sugar and which, by its terms, is to continue in effect only until he repays ration debts he owes or which, although issued for a fixed period of time, contains provisions for earlier termination, modification or application for modification upon repayment of those debts. Such an institutional user is entitled to receive ration evidences or have ration evidences credited against his excess inventory in an amount equal to his allotments during the period of the suspension so long as he satisfies all of the conditions imposed by the suspension order. The amount of evidences he may get upon closing is figured in the way provided under 5.8 (b). An institutional user who receives ration evidences under this paragraph cannot acquire sugar until (1) all ration debts have been paid, and (2) he obtains a modification of the suspension order permitting the acquisition of sugar, if required by the terms of the suspension order.

SEC. 5.10 Effect on administrative suspension orders. (a) The restriction of sections 5.8 and 5.9 as to issuance of allotments or ration evidences may be superseded in a particular case by the express provisions of a suspension order, and additional restrictions may be imposed in that order. In addition, a suspension order may substitute for the period specified in sections 5.8 (b) (1) or 5.9 (b) for use in determining the allotment of an institutional user who ceases operations during the period of suspension, any other period determined to be appropriate. Nothing in sections 5.8 and 5.9 shall be considered to affect or modify in any way any of the conditions, restrictions or prohibitions of the suspension order.

A new section 9.7 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 9.7 Excess inventory charge. Any amount of sugar or evidences which an institutional user obtains to which he is not entitled under the regulations, and any other amount of sugar used in excess of amount which he is entitled to use, shall be deemed excess inventory and must be deducted from the amount of any evidences to be issued to him on his next application for any allotment.

This amendment shall become effective September 16, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

[Rev. Gen. RO 18,[1] Amdt. 1]

DISTRIBUTION OF BASES TO CERTAIN FORMER MEMBERS OF THE ARMED FORCES

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised General Ration Order 18 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1.4 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Financing. He must not be financed directly or indirectly in the operation of his business by any person already registered as an industrial user entitled to an allotment under the sugar rationing regulations, or as an institutional user under Revised General Ration Order 5. (An industrial or institutional user may not have any financial interest in the veteran's business, or profits derived therefrom, thus the veteran may not owe an industrial or institutional user money under any arrangement where such person supplies on credit to him premises, facilities, equipment or materials needed to operate the veteran's business. However, an industrial or institutional user may sell or deliver to a veteran the ingredients contained in products the veteran will make or serve under an arrangement whereby payment in full is made within a period not exceeding thirty days after each separate delivery of such ingredients. Moreover, a bona fide lease between a veteran and such persons for premises or equipment is permissible under the order.)

2. Section 1.6 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) The facts stated in paragraph (a), (c) or (d) of section 1.4 cease to be true; or

3. Section 3.1 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) He is not and will not be financed directly or indirectly in the operation of the establishment for which he is applying by any person already registered as an industrial user entitled to an allotment under the sugar rationing regulations, or as an institutional user under Revised General Ration Order 5. (An industrial or institutional user may not have any financial interest in the veteran's business, or profits derived therefrom, thus the veteran may not owe an industrial or institutional user money under any arrangement where such person supplies on credit to him premises, facilities, equipment or materials needed to operate the veteran's business. However, an industrial or institutional user may sell or deliver to a veteran the ingredients contained in products the veteran will make or serve under an arrangement whereby payment in full is made within a period not exceeding thirty days after each separate delivery of such ingredients. Moreover, a bona fide lease between a veteran and such persons for premises or equipment is permissible under the order.)

4. Section 3.4 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) If the District Office finds that the statements made in the application are true, and that the veteran satisfies the requirements of section 3.1 (a), it shall permit the applicant to register his establishment, if necessary, and grant him an appropriate base or base-period use or increase his present bases or base-period use, in accordance with the instructions of the Washington Office. However, the veteran will not be granted a base until he has the premises and equipment to begin operations. Moreover, if the applicant's interest in the former establishment was substantial and falls within the provisions of paragraph (b) of section 3.1 the District Office shall, if the applicant meets all other requirements, send the application to the Washington Office for final action.

5. Article VII and section 7.1 are redesignated Article VIII and section 8.1, respectively, and a new Article VII is added to read as follows:

ARTICLE VII—PROHIBITIONS

SEC. 7.1 Prohibitions and restrictions. (a) Within a year after a base or an adjustment in base is granted under the provisions of this order, a veteran shall not do any of the following:

(1) Transfer (toll) any sugar or evidences for use by others obtained on the base received under this order or obtained on that part of the base received as an adjustment under this order;

(2) Use the premises, equipment or facilities in use by any other person for commercial purposes;

(3) Be financed directly or indirectly in the operation of his business by any industrial or institutional user so that the conditions imposed by sections 1.4 (c) or 3.1 (a) (2), whichever is applicable, are no longer true;

(4) Transfer the ownership interest in the business or cease to be actively engaged in the operation of the business so that the conditions imposed by sections 1.4 (a), 2.1, 2.2 or 3.1 (a) (6) no longer are true;

[1] 11 F.R. 11e.

(5) Sell or otherwise transfer the establishment except as provided in section 4.1;

(Further restrictions such as the restrictions of 1.6 (b) are provided in specific sections).

(b) In addition, the restrictions and prohibitions of Revised General Ration Order 5 and General Ration Order 8, and Third Revised Ration Order 3 apply with respect to any base or adjustment in base granted under this order except where otherwise specifically provided by this order.

This amendment shall become effective September 17, 1946.

Issued this 12th day of September 1946.

FEATHER FILLED PILLOWS AND UPHOLSTERY CUSHION INNERCASINGS

A statement of considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 584 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 10 (a) (8) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(ii) A cover allowance determined from the following table:

Finished pillow sizes (inches)	Cover allowance
	Class I	Class II	Class III	Class IV
12 x 16	$0.40	$0.33	$0.48	$0.55

21 x 39	1.39	1.22	1.61	1.80
21 x 54	2.00	1.67	2.42	2.82

NOTE: For sizes with a surface area intermediate to the surface area of the size listed above, the cover allowance of the listed size with the nearest surface area shall be used. For other sizes, use 125 percent of the cost of the fabric cover, not exceeding the maximum price of the cover on sales to the manufacturer, plus incoming freight.

2. Section 10 (c) is amended by substituting "September 17, 1946" for "May 31, 1946," in the third line of that paragraph.

3. Paragraph (a) (2) of Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

(2) Fabric cover classifications. Fabric covers for new pillows are classified as follows:

(1) Class "I," which includes 8-ounce ACA twill, and all fabrics whose maximum price f. o. b. mill, is from 29 cents to 34.99 cents per yard.

(2) Class "II," which includes 6.2-ounce twill, 8.25 ounce printed floral drills, and all fabrics whose maximum price f. o. b. mill, is from 23 cents to 28.99 cents per yard.

(3) Class "III," which includes 6-ounce to 7-ounce woven or printed, striped or floral sateen and all fabrics whose maximum price f. o. b. mill, is from 35 cents to 44.99 cents per yard.

(4) Class "IV," which includes 8-ounce woven or printed, striped or floral sateen and all fabrics whose maximum price f. o. b. mill, is from 45 cents to 52 cents per yard.

4. The note at the end of Table 1–A in Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

NOTE: The maximum prices stated above may be increased 25 cents per pair.

5. Table 1–B in Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

NOTE: All weights listed are minimum filling weights in ounces. All prices listed are maximum prices.

If the components of the filling mixture of a pillow contain more than three percent of colored chicken and turkey feathers or fibre, the maximum price of the pillow shall be determined as if such feather and fibre components were one hundred percent colored.

If the filling components of a pillow include both chicken and turkey feathers and chicken and turkey fibre, the price of the pillow shall be determined as if such feather and fibre components were one hundred percent chicken and turkey feathers.

The maximum price for sales to retailers or to institutional users of pillows 21 inches by 27 inches in size containing percentage compositions other than those listed in Table 1–B shall be the maximum price of that pillows listed in the table having the percentage composition next lowest to that of the pillow being priced.

6. Table III in Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

TABLE III—DIFFERENTIAL IF FABRIC OTHER THAN "CLASS I" FABRIC IS USED

Finished pillows sizes (inches)	Fabric
	Class II	Class III	Class IV
Sizes, 16 x 24 to and including 22 x 28	−$0.17	+$0.20	+$0.41

This amendment may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This amendment shall be effective on the 17th day of September 1946.

Issued this 12th day of September 1946.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[3d Rev. RO 3,[1] Amdt. 22]

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

1. New sections 2.15, 2.16 and 2.17 are added to read as follows:

SEC. 2.15 Suspension from "use"—(a) Allotments may not be granted to an industrial user who is suspended from using sugar. An industrial user against whom there is in operation an administrative suspension order, issued under Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4, which suspends him from using sugar is not entitled to receive any allotment for the period of the suspension. His allotment for any allotment period during which the suspension order is in effect shall be reduced in proportion to the part of the allotment period during which the suspension order is in operation.

(b) Ration evidences or credits may be issued to industrial users who are under suspension until ration debts are paid. There may be in operation against an industrial user an administrative suspension order which suspends him from using sugar and which, by its terms, is to continue in effect only until he repays ration debts he owes or which, although issued for a fixed period of time, contains provisions for earlier termination, modification, or application for modification, upon repayment of those debts. Such an industrial user is entitled to receive ration evidences or have ration evidences credited against his excess inventory, in an amount equal to the allotment to which he would have been entitled during the period of the suspension so long as he satisfies all conditions imposed by the suspension order. (He cannot, of course, use sugar since the suspension order prohibits such use.) An industrial user who receives ration evidences under this paragraph cannot acquire or use sugar until: (1) all such debts have been paid, and (2) he obtains a modification of his suspension order permitting the acquisition or use of sugar, if required by the terms of the suspension order.

SEC. 2.16 Suspension from acquisition—(a) Allotments are to be granted to an industrial user who is suspended only from acquiring sugar. An industrial user against whom there is in operation an administrative suspension order issued under Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4 which suspends him from acquiring (but not from using) sugar shall continue to be credited with allotments for the period of the suspension just as if no suspension order had been issued. However, no ration evidences shall be issued to him, nor may he receive any credit against his excess inventory with respect to those allotments, unless the suspension order provides for the repayment of debts as specified in (b).

(b) Ration evidences or credits may be issued to industrial users who are under suspension until ration debts are paid. There may be in operation against an industrial user an administrative suspension order which suspends him from using sugar and which, by its terms, is to continue in effect only until he repays ration debts he owes or which, although issued for a fixed period of time contains provisions for earlier termination, modification or application for modification upon repayment of those debts. Such an industrial user is entitled to receive ration evidences, or have ration evidences credited against his excess inventory, in an amount equal to his allotments during the period of the suspension so long as he satisfies all conditions imposed by the suspension order. (The quantity of sugar which he may use is covered by section 2.10 (b) of this order.) An industrial user who receives ration evidences under this paragraph cannot acquire sugar until (1) all ration debts have been paid, and (2) he obtains a modification of the suspension order permitting acquisition of sugar if required by the terms of the suspension order.

SEC. 2.17 Effect on administrative suspension order. (a) The restrictions of sections 2.15 and 2.16 as to issuance of allotments or ration evidences may be superseded in a particular case by the express provisions of a suspension order and additional restrictions may be imposed in that order. Nothing in sections 2.15 and 2.16 shall be considered to affect or modify in any way any of the conditions, restrictions or prohibitions of the suspension order.

This amendment shall become effective September 16, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PART 1413—LUMBER PRODUCTS

[MPR 601, Amdt. 5]

SOFTWOOD MOULDINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 601 is amended in the following respects:

1. Sections 19 (b) and 19 (c) are amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for standard or special mouldings—(1) Straight cars. A "straight car" shipment of Southern Pine mouldings is a shipment in which the car contains all mouldings or mouldings and no more than 5,000 board feet of lumber.

The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for direct mill shipment in straight car quantities for Standard or Special Southern Pine mouldings in lengths of 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', not over 5 percent 6' and/or 7' lengths, are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For all standard mouldings and for special household mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—discount 27½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—discount 22½%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen discounts in (i) above by 8½ points.

(2) Other shipments. Maximum prices f. o. b. mill for direct mill shipment, other than straight car, for Standard or Special Southern Pine mouldings in lengths 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', not over 5 percent 6' and/or 7' lengths, are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For standard mouldings and special household mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—discount 23½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—discount 18½%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen discounts in (i) above by 8½ points.

(c) Maximum prices for direct-mill sales of Soft-Texture Southern Pine mouldings—(1) Type of seller. The prices established by this paragraph (c) apply only to a seller of soft texture moulding who has received approval from the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration to sell soft textured finish lumber at prices higher than those specified for Southern Pine and who has filed a report with the Building Materials Branch showing:

(i) For a seller in business prior to 1941. During and prior to 1941, he actively promoted the sale of special soft textured finish moulding by paid advertising, direct mill solicitation or any other recognized form of establishing a trade advantage of this grade, and

He consistently charged for soft textured finish moulding a higher price than the price for regular finish and that the price, allowing for difference in transportation cost to major markets, was comparable to the price charged by mills belonging to the Arkansas Soft Pine Bureau.

(ii) For a seller who started his business after 1940. He is using soft textured finish lumber and that he will sell a grade of moulding that will meet the specifications of soft textured finish mouldings.

The Administrator may by letter order deny a seller the right to use the maximum prices established by this paragraph (c) if his report does not show conclusively that he is entitled to charge these prices and that he is not using this paragraph to evade the other provisions of this section.

(2) Maximum prices. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for direct mill shipment of Standard or Special Soft Textured finish Southern Pine mouldings in lengths of 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', and not over 5 percent 6' and/or 7' lengths, are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For standard mouldings or special house mouldings.

Pattern with list prices	Sales totaling $3,000 (list prices) or more (discount)	Sales totaling less than $3,000 (list prices) (discount)
	Percent	Percent
$2.00 and under	22½	18½
$2.01 through $3.00	17½	13½
$3.01 and over	12½	8½

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen the above discounts 8½ points.

1a. A new paragraph (f) is added to section 19 to read as follows:

(f) Definition of special house mouldings. As used in this section, special house mouldings refer to the following types of moulding:

Crown moulding.
Bed moulding.
Cove moulding.
Brick moulding.
Quarter, half and full rounds.
Window and door stops.
Nosing.
Screen moulding.
Screen stock.
Sash stock.
Frame stock.
Panel moulding.
Band moulding.
Cornice moulding.
Hook strips.
Corner bead.
Glass bead.
Chair rail.
Porch rail.
Hand rail.
Shelf cleat.
Picture moulding.
Panel strips.
Stools.
Lattice.
Drip cap and water table.
Back band.
Cap trim.
Floor and base moulding.
Astragals.
Baluster stock.

Any special moulding of a type not listed above shall be considered as an industrial moulding.

2. Sections 20 (b) and 20 (d) are amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for standard mouldings—(1) Straight cars. A "straight car" shipment of Douglas fir mouldings is a shipment of mouldings whose aggregate list prices total at least $3,000.00.

The maximum prices f. o. b. mill, for a direct mill shipment in straight car quantities for Standard Douglas fir mouldings in lengths 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', bundled, not over 15 percent under 10', are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—discount 33½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—discount 28½%.

(2) Other shipments. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for a direct mill shipment, other than straight car, for Standard Douglas fir mouldings in lengths 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', bundled, not over 15 percent under 10', are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—discount 29½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—discount 24½%.

(d) Maximum prices for special mouldings. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for a direct mill shipment of Special Douglas fir mouldings shall be as follows:

[1] 11 F. R. 177.

(1) For the following house mouldings, use the same prices as provided in section 20 (b) for Standard Douglas fir mouldings:

Crown moulding.	Glass bead.
Bed moulding.	Chair rail.
Cove moulding.	Porch rail.
Brick moulding.	Hand rail.
Quarter, half and full rounds.	Shelf cleat.
Window and door stops.	Picture moulding.
Nosing.	Panel strips.
Screen moulding.	Stools.
Screen stock.	Lattice.
Sash stock.	Drip cap and water table.
Frame stock.	Back band.
Panel moulding.	Cap trim.
Band moulding.	Floor and base moulding.
Cornice moulding.	Astragals.
Hook strips.	Baluster stock.
Corner bead.

(2) For all other special mouldings, such as industrial mouldings including cabinet mouldings, etc., use the same prices as provided in section 20 (b) of Standard Douglas fir mouldings except that the basic discounts must be lengthened 7½ points.

3. Section 21 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for standard or special mouldings. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for a direct-mill shipment of Standard or Special Cypress mouldings in length 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', bundled, not over 15 percent under 10', are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $3.00—discount 17½%.

For patterns with list prices $3.00 and over—discount 12½%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen the above discounts 8½ points.

As used in this section, special house mouldings refer to the following types of moulding:

Crown moulding.	Glass bead.
Bed moulding.	Chair rail.
Cove moulding.	Porch rail.
Brick moulding.	Hand rail.
Quarter, half and full rounds.	Shelf cleat.
Window and door stops.	Picture moulding.
Nosing.	Panel strips.
Screen moulding.	Stools.
Screen stock.	Lattice.
Sash stock.	Drip cap and water table.
Frame stock.	Back band.
Panel moulding.	Cap trim.
Band moulding.	Floor and base moulding.
Cornice moulding.	Astragals.
Hook strips.	Baluster stock.
Corner bead.	Apron.

Any special moulding of a type not listed above shall be considered as an industrial moulding.

4. Section 22 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for Standard or Special mouldings. The maximum prices f.o.b. mill for direct-mill shipment of Standard or Special Western Red Cedar mouldings in lengths of 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', bundled, not over 15 percent under 10', are the list prices in Table II of section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For standard mouldings and special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $4.00—discount 32½%.

For patterns with list prices $4.00 and over—discount 27½%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen the above discounts 8½ points.

As used in this section, special house mouldings refer to the following types of moulding:

Crown moulding.	Glass bead.
Bed moulding.	Chair rail.
Cove moulding.	Porch rail.
Brick moulding.	Hand rail.
Quarter, half and full rounds.	Shelf cleat.
Window and door stops.	Picture moulding.
Nosing.	Panel strips.
Screen moulding.	Stools.
Screen stock.	Lattice.
Sash stock.	Drip cap and water table.
Frame stock.	Back band.
Panel moulding.	Cap trim.
Band moulding.	Floor and base moulding.
Cornice moulding.	Astragals.
Hook strips.	Baluster stock.
Corner bead.	Apron.

Any special moulding of a type not listed above shall be considered as an industrial moulding.

5. Section 22 (d) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for Red Cedar lattice, dry, regular loading, S4S, bundled, per 100 lineal feet, shall be:

5/16" x 1½"	$0.50
5/16" x 1⅜"	0.56
5/16" x 1¾"	0.65

6. Section 23 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for Standard or Special moulding. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for a direct mill shipment of Standard or Special Northern White Pine mouldings in lengths 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', bundled, not over 15 percent under 10', are the list prices in Table II of Section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—discount 17½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—discount 12½%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen discounts in (i) above by 8½ points.

As used in this section, special house mouldings refer to the following types of moulding:

Crown moulding.	Glass bead.
Bed moulding.	Chair rail.
Cove moulding.	Porch rail.
Brick moulding.	Hand rail.
Quarter, half and full rounds.	Shelf cleat.
Window and door stops.	Picture moulding.
Nosing.	Panel strips.
Screen moulding.	Stools.
Screen stock.	Lattice.
Sash stock.	Drip cap and water table.
Frame stock.	Back band.
Panel moulding.	Cap trim.
Band moulding.	Floor and base moulding.
Cornice moulding.	Astragals.
Hook strips.	Baluster stock.
Corner bead.	Apron.

Any special moulding of a type not listed above shall be considered as an industrial moulding.

7. Section 24 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for Standard or Special mouldings. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill for a direct mill shipment of Standard or Special Redwood mouldings in lengths of 6' to 16' or 6' to 20', bundled, not over 5 percent 6' and/or 7' lengths, are the list prices in Table II of Section 6, less the following discounts:

(i) For standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices of $3.00 and less—discount 32%.

For patterns with list prices over $3.00—discount 27%.

For screen moulding with an 80¢ list—discount 39%.

For lattice and wallboard strips—discount 39%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, lengthen discounts in (i) above by 8½ points.

As used in this section, special house mouldings refer to the following types of moulding:

Crown moulding.	Glass bead.
Bed moulding.	Chair rail.
Cove moulding.	Porch rail.
Brick moulding.	Hand rail.
Quarter, half and full rounds.	Shelf cleat.
Window and door stops.	Picture moulding.
Nosing.	Panel strips.
Screen moulding.	Stools.
Screen stock.	Lattice.
Sash stock.	Drip cap and water table.
Frame stock.	Back band.
Panel moulding.	Cap trim.
Band moulding.	Floor and base moulding.
Cornice moulding.	Astragals.
Hook strips.	Baluster stock.
Corner bead.	Apron.

Any special moulding of a type not listed above shall be considered as an industrial moulding.

8. Subparagraphs (3), (4) and (5) of section 26 (a) are amended to read as follows:

(3) For Douglas fir house mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 8½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 15½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 26—add 42%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12 points.

(4) For Yellow Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 10½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 17½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 42%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markup in (i) above by 12 points.

(5) For Soft Texture Southern Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 17½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 through $3.00—add 24½%.

For patterns with list prices $3.01 and over—add 32%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 42%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12 points.

9. Subparagraphs (3), (4) and (5) of section 27 (a) are amended to read as follows:

(3) For Douglas fir mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 13%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 20½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices, plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 26—add 48%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

(4) For Yellow Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 14%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 21½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices, plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 48%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

(5) For Soft Texture Southern Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings on special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 21½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 through $3.00—add 29%.

For patterns with list prices $3.01 and over—36%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 48%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

10. Subparagraphs (3), (4), and (5) of section 28 (a) are amended to read as follows:

(3) For Douglas fir mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 14½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 22%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 26—add 50%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

(4) For Yellow Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 16%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 23½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 50%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

(5) For Soft Texture Southern Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 22%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 through $3.00—add 29½%.

For patterns with list prices $3.01 and over—add 87%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 50%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

11. Subparagraphs (3) and (4) of section 29 (a) are amended to read as follows:

(3) For Yellow Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 16%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 23½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 50%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

(4) For Soft Texture Southern Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 23½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 through $3.00—add 31%.

For patterns with list prices $3.01 and over—add 38½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 50%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 12½ points.

13. Subparagraphs (3), (4) and (5) of section 31 (a) are amended to read as follows:

(3) For Douglas fir mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 14½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 22%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 26—add 54%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 13 points.

(4) For Yellow Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 23½%.

For patterns with list prices $2.00 and over—add 31½%.

For aprons, casing and base, f. o. b. mill maximum prices plus freight in 2d Rev. MPR 19—add 54%.

(ii) For industrial mouldings, reduce the markups in (i) above by 13 points.

(5) For Soft Texture Southern Pine mouldings, the list prices in Table II of section 6, plus the markups as follows:

(i) For all standard mouldings or special house mouldings:

For patterns with list prices under $2.00—add 31½%.

[Reg. 9,[1] Order 5]

PART 8309—CONTRACTOR INVENTORY AND DISPOSALS BY OWNING AGENCIES

SPECIAL CASES OF SMALL LOTS TO BE DECLARED SURPLUS

Section 8309.16 (b) authorizes owning agencies to sell at the best price obtainable small lots at one place at one time, and further provides that any item or group of identical items normally constituting a single entry on Form SPB-1,[2] the cost of which (estimated if not known) does not exceed $100.00, should not be declared surplus to disposal agencies except in special cases and upon mutual agreement between the owning and disposal agency. In view of the fact that the "special cases" are not specified, it is reported that some confusion and delay is being caused thereby. The purpose of this order is to avoid confusion and attendant delays by specifying those "special cases" and setting forth particular special classifications of property which should be declared surplus, notwithstanding that they constitute line items of $100.00 or less.

Pursuant to the authority of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 as amended (58 Stat. 765 as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1611), Public Law 181, 79th Congress, 1st Session (59 Stat. 533; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1614a, 1614b), and Executive Order 9689 (11 F. R. 1265) it is hereby ordered that:

§ 8309.55 Special cases of small lots to be declared surplus. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 8309.16 (b) and (c), the following small lots of property are determined to be "special cases" and shall be declared surplus:

(a) Items of property to be set aside for veterans as listed in Exhibit A of Part 8302.[3]

(b) Small lots of cafeteria equipment in an operating unit and which comprise parts necessary for the disposal of the cafeteria as an operating unit.

(c) Small lots of child care play equipment in an operating unit and which comprise parts necessary for the disposal of a child care play equipment room as an operating unit.

(d) Small lots of clinic and infirmary equipment, including mobile clinics and infirmaries, in an operating unit and which comprise parts necessary for the disposal of the clinic or infirmary as an operating unit.

(e) Small lots of maintenance or protective equipment and supplies in complete surplus industrial facilities which are in the process of being declared surplus to the War Assets Administration by letter of intent or otherwise. Such equipment and supplies will include but not be limited to fire fighting equipment, alarm systems and cleaning units, etc., necessary for the maintenance of the facility by War Assets Administration or its agent.

(f) Small lots of necessary spare parts, tools or accessories when declared together with the mechanical equipment to which they belong. Examples of this would be tool and repair kits for machinery as well as items ordinarily sold together, such as pen staffs and bases, drinking fountains and spigots, etc.

(g) Small lots of items where separation from other lots of property and disposal by the owning agency would not be economical. This would include but would not be limited to small lots of lumber contained in piles of large lots, small lots of property created in the same case with large lots, etc. The advice of the appropriate disposal agency should be requested in making determinations under this paragraph.

(h) Small lots from owning agencies which have no small lot disposal facilities or are prohibited from selling such property. Government agencies which have been terminated or are in liquidation would have no disposal facilities.

(i) Small lots at locations where any preparations for a site sale have begun, pursuant to special agreements between the owning and disposal agencies.

(j) Small lots of new tools attachments, and accessories for machine tools (in condition N1, N2, or N3) which are described in the Standard Commodity Classification Codes 34-91000, 34-92000, 34-93000, and 34-94000.

This order shall become effective September 12, 1946.

PLUMBING SERVICES, PLUMBING AND HEATING FIXTURES AND MATERIALS IN SELMA, ALA., AREA

For the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion and under the authority conferred upon the Regional Administrator for Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 251, It is ordered:

1. This adopting order establishes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for plumbing services and installed plumbing and heating fixtures and materials, which ceiling prices are set forth in the appendix[1] following section 3.

2. This order covers ceiling prices for plumbing services and installed plumbing and heating fixtures and materials in Selma, Alabama, and Dallas, Perry, and Wilcox Counties, Alabama.

3. All the provisions of Order No. G-2 (Basic Order No. 1) for Region IV, under section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 251, are adopted in this order and are just as much a part of this order as if included herein. If Regional Order No. G-2 (Basic Order No. 1) under section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 251 is amended in any respect, all the provisions as amended shall likewise, without further action, be a part of this order.

This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective August 6, 1946.

[Region I Order G–2 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 3]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS IN MASSACHUSETTS

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and pursuant to the provisions of General Order No. 68, as amended, Region I, Order No. G–2 under General Order No. 68 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (b) of section 2 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices established by this order shall be reduced by 2% on all sales, excepting over the counter cash sales amounting to less than $50.00, whenever cash payment is made to the seller within 10 days of the date of invoice. In addition to this required discount each seller shall continue to grant such other or further discounts, allowances, differentials and terms as were in effect for such seller during March 1942.

2. In section 2, a new paragraph (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Each seller covered by this order may increase the price of any item listed in the table or tables of the applicable appendix[1] by the amount permitted all resellers of such item (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68) by any amendment or order of the Office of Price Administration which increases the maximum prices of his supplier of that item. However, this can be done only if the effective date of the action increasing his supplier's maximum price is later than the date of the price table listing such item in the applicable appendix. Thus, if the supplier's maximum price for a product is increased, and at some later date the price for the product listed in the price table is increased, the amendment to this order effecting the price table increase will supersede the increase originally granted to resellers by the amendment or order increasing the supplier's maximum price.

3. Appendix A, as amended, "Metropolitan Boston area maximum prices" is hereby revoked and "First Revised Appendix A—Metropolitan Boston area maximum prices" attached to, and made a part of this amendment, is substituted therefor and is made part of Order No. G–2.

4. Appendix B, as amended, "Central Massachusetts area maximum prices" is hereby revoked and "First Revised Appendix B, Central Massachusetts area maximum prices", attached to and made a part of this amendment, is substituted therefor and is made part of Order No. G–2.

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

(5) Appendix C, as amended, "Western Massachusetts area maximum prices", is hereby revoked and "First Revised Appendix C, Western Massachusetts area maximum prices" attached to and made a part of this amendment, is substituted therefor and is made a part of Order No. G–2.

6. Appendix D, as amended, "Northeastern Massachusetts area maximum prices", is hereby revoked and "First Revised Appendix D, Northeastern Massachusetts area maximum prices" attached to and made a part of this amendment, is substituted therefor and is made part of Order No. G–2.

7. Appendix E, as amended, "Southeastern Massachusetts area maximum prices", is hereby revoked and "First Revised Appendix E, Southeastern Massachusetts area maximum prices", attached to and made a part of this amendment, is substituted therefor and is made part of Order No. G–2.

8. Appendix F, as amended, "Barnstable County area maximum prices" is hereby revoked and "First Revised Appendix F, Barnstable County area maximum prices", attached to and made a part of this amendment, is substituted therefor, and is made part of Order No. G–2.

This amendment reflects the increases in maximum prices permitted by Supplementary Order 172 (Modification of Reseller's Maximum Prices Established under General Order 68 for Certain Building and Construction Materials). Accordingly, this amendment supersedes that supplementary order, and the maximum prices established by this amendment cannot be increased under that supplementary order.

This amendment shall become effective August 19, 1946.

Issued this 19th day of August 1946.

H. RUSSELL COX,
Acting Regional Administrator.

[Washington, D. C., Adopting Order 57 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN WASHINGTON, D. C., TRADING AREA

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region II by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order No. 68 as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated to all District Directors in Region II, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order covers. This Adopting Order under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, covers sales by all persons to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis, of certain building materials listed in Schedule A[1] hereto annexed and generally known as "hard mason materials". All provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, are adopted in this order and are just as much a part of this order as if specifically set forth herein. If Basic Order No. 1 as amended, is futher amended in any respect, the provisions of said order, as amended, shall likewise without further action, become part of this order. All persons subject to this Adopting Order are also subject to Basic Order No. 1 as amended under General Order 68 as amended, and should be familiar with the provisions of said order.

SEC. 2. Territory covered by this order. The geographical area covered by this order is the Washington, D. C. Trading Area consisting of the District of Columbia, the City of Alexandria, Virginia, the County of Arlington, Virginia, Falls Church, Virginia, and that part of the State of Maryland located within a radius of 10 miles of the zero milestone in Washington, D. C. (including but not limited to Cabin John, Glen Echo, Bethesda, Chevy Chase, Woodmont, Alta Vista, Beane, Kensington, Forrest Glen, Woodside, Wheaton, Four Corners, Burnt Mills, Whiteoak, Avenell, Lewiston, Branchville, Berwyn, Takoma Park, College Park, Riverdale, Hyattsville, Bladensburg, Mt. Ranier, Ardwick, Landover, Lanham, Tuxedo, Seat Pleasant, Largo, Capital Heights, Ritchie, Oakland, Forestville, Suitland, Silver Spring, Camp Springs, Oxon Hill and Ft. Foote).

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the building materials covered by this order are set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed and made a part of this order. The prices fixed in Schedule A cover all sales in the territory covered by this order, regardless of the location of the place of business of the seller.

(a) Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximu: prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

SEC. 4. Discount, allowances, and terms of sale. All customary allowances, discounts and differentials must be preserved. The maximum prices set forth in Schedule A are delivered prices unless otherwise stated in such Schedule A.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, and to General Maximum Price Regulation, and other maximum price regulations. As previously stated, all provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by the General Maximum Price Regulation, or by any other applicable regulation or order. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulations, or of any other applicable regulation or order shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 5a. Relationship of this order to Order No. 3 under General Order 68: This Adopting Order specifically revokes Order No. 3 under General Order No. 68 as of the effective date of this order.

SEC. 6. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of the list of maximum prices fixed by this order in each place of business within the area covered by this order.

SEC. 7. Records and sales slips—(a) Required information. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order, as if specifically set forth herein, and also on any sale of $50 or more, each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Schedule A of this order the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 8. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective August 26, 1946.

Issued this 26th day of August 1946.

VINCENT A. HOLMES,
District Director.

If said Basic Order No. 1, as amended, is further amended, in any respect the provisions of said order, as amended, shall likewise without further action become part of this order. All persons subject to this adopting order are also subject to Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order 68, as amended, and should be familiar with the provisions of said order. This revised order supersedes Adopting Order No. 19 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended under General Order 68 as amended, issued January 17, 1946, and effective February 1, 1946, and said Adopting Order No. 19 under Basic Order No. 1 under General Order No. 68 is revoked as of the effective date of this order.

SEC. 2. Territory covered by this order. The geographical area covered by this order is the Pittsburgh area consisting of the county of Allegheny in the State of Pennsylvania.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the building materials covered by this order are set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed and made a part of this order.

SEC. 4. Discounts, allowances and terms of sale. All prices listed in Schedule A are delivered prices. Customary cash discounts of 2% for payment in ten days are to be continued, and all other customary allowances, discounts and differentials must be preserved.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, and to General Maximum Price Regulation and other maximum price regulations. As previously stated, all provisions of Basic Order No. 1, as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by the General Maximum Price Regulation or by any other applicable regulation or order. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation or order shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of the list of maximum prices fixed by this order in each place of business within the area covered by this order.

SEC. 7. (a) Records and sales slips. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1, as amended, covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order as though specifically set forth herein; and also on any sale of $25 or more each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Schedule A of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 8. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator, or the District Director, Pittsburgh District Office.

This order shall become effective June 14, 1946.

Issued this 14th day of June 1946.

WILLIAM K. HARRISON,
District Director.

[Region II Adopting Order 4 Under Basic Order 1 Under General Order 68, Amdt. 2]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN WESTCHESTER AND PUTNAM COUNTIES, N. Y.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, Adopting Order No. 4 as amended, under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. A new section designated section 3a is added immediately after section 3 to read as follows:

SEC. 3a Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

2. Schedule A is amended as follows:

(a) The title of Schedule (A) is amended to read Revised Schedule A, dated June 30, 1946.

(b) Revised Schedule (A) is amended to read as follows:

[Region VIII Order G-8 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

BUILDING MATERIALS IN NEVADA

An opinion accompanying this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith. Order No. G-8 under General Order No. 68 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (g) is redesignated paragraph (h).

2. A new paragraph (g) is inserted to read as follows:

(g) Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers' price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers' maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers' maximum price for a product is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price.

3. Appendix A is amended to read as set forth on Revised Appendix A, attached hereto.[1]

This amendment shall become effective August 26, 1946.

Issued this 20th day of August 1946.

BEN C. DUNIWAY,
Regional Administrator.

[Jacksonville Order G-5 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 2]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS IN DAYTONA BEACH AREA OF VOLUSIA COUNTY, FLA.

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion and pursuant to the authority recited in Order No. G-5 under General Order No. 68, this amendment is issued.

1. Order No. G-5 under General Order No. 68 is amended by revising the Maximum prices for felt and mineral surfaced roll roofing listed in Revised Table 1 to said Order No. G-5 so that said Revised Table 1, as amended, shall read in the same manner as attached hereto and designated as Second Revised Table 1.[1]

2. Said Order No. G-5 as amended under General Order No. 68 is effective in that portion of Volusia County bounded on the North by the Township line between Townships 13 and 14 South, bounded on the West by the East line of Flagler County and by the East line of Section 27 and 34 of Township 14 South of Range 31 East, and by the Range line between Ranges 31 and 32 East through Townships 15 and 16 South, bounded on the South by the Township line between Townships 16 and 17 South through Range 32 East, and by Spruce Creek and by Ponce de Leon Inlet, and bounded on the East by the Atlantic Ocean in the State of Florida.

3. This amendment shall become effective on August 27, 1946.

Issued August 27, 1946.

STEWART C. MAXCY,
District Director.

[Region II Adopting Order 31 Under Basic Order 1, Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 2]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN DUTCHESS, ROCKLAND AND ORANGE COUNTIES, N. Y.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, Adopting Order No. 31 as amended, under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. A new section designated section 3a, is added immediately after section 3 to read as follows:

SEC. 3a. Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price.—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the Amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

2. Schedule A is amended as follows:

(a) The title of Schedule (A) is amended to read Revised Schedule A, dated June 30, 1946.

(b) Revised Schedule (A) is amended to read as follows:

[Philadelphia Adopting Order 46 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN BERKS, LEHIGH AND NORTHAMPTON COUNTIES, PA.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region II by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order No. 68 as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated to all District Directors in Region II, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order covers. This Adopting Order under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, covers sales by all persons to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis, of certain building materials listed in Schedule A [1] hereto annexed and generally known as "Hard mason materials". All provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, are adopted in this order and are just as much a part of this order as if specifically set forth herein. If Basic Order No. 1 as amended, is further amended in any respect, the provisions of said order as amended, shall likewise without further action, become part of this order. All persons subject to this Adopting Order are also subject to Basic Order No. 1 as amended under General Order 68 as amended, and should be familiar with the provisions of said order.

SEC. 2. Territory covered by this order. The geographical area covered by this order is the Counties of Berks, Lehigh and Northampton, all in the State of Pennsylvania.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the building materials covered by this order are set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed and made a part of this order. The prices fixed in Schedule A cover all sales in the territory covered by this order, regardless of the location of the place of business of the seller.

(a) Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to Area Orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

SEC. 4. Discounts, allowances, and terms of sale. All customary allowances, discounts and differentials must be preserved. The maximum prices set forth in Schedule A are delivered prices unless otherwise stated in such Schedule A.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, and to General Maximum Price Regulation, and other maximum price regulations. As previously stated, all provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by the General Maximum Price Regulation, or by any other applicable regulation or order. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulations, or of any other applicable regulation or order shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Posting of Maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of the list of maximum prices fixed by this order in each place of business within the area covered by this order.

SEC. 7. Records and sales slips—(a) Required information. The provisions of Section (e) of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order, as if specifically set forth herein, and also on any sale of $25 or more, each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Schedule A of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 8. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

This order shall become effective August 30, 1946.

Issued this 26th day of August 1946.

FRANK J. LOFTUS,
District Director.

[Region II Adopting Order 35 Under Basic Order 1, Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

CERTAIN BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN SUFFOLK COUNTY, N. Y.

For reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, Adopting Order No. 35, under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. A new section designated section 3a, is added immediately after section 3 to read as follows:

SEC. 3a. Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers price — (a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all re-sellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for re-sellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

2. Schedule A is amended as follows:

(a) The title of Schedule (A) is amended to read Revised Schedule A, dated June 30, 1946.

(b) Revised Schedule (A) is amended to read as follows:

[Philadelphia Adopting Order 30 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN PHILADELPHIA, PA., DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region 2 by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order 68 as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated by such Regional Administrator to the District Director, Philadelphia District Office, it is hereby ordered:

1. Adopting Order No. 30 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, is hereby amended by striking out Schedule A annexed to said order and inserting in place thereof Revised Schedule A[1] hereto annexed[1] and made a part of this amendment and of said adopting order.

2. Adopting Order No. 30 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, is further amended by striking out section 7 of said order and inserting in place thereof the following:

SEC. 7. (a) Records and sales slips. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1 as amended covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order as though specifically set forth herein; and also on any sale of $25 or more each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Revised Schedule A of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Revised Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

3. Adopting Order No. 30 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, is further amended by adding a new section 3 (a) as follows:

SEC. 3. (a) Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

4. Except as hereby amended, Adopting Order No. 30 under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, shall remain the same and all provisions thereof remain in full force and effect.

This amendment shall become effective immediately.

Issued this 26th day of August 1946.

3. Adopting Order No. 12 under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order 68, as amended, is further amended by adding a new section 3 (a) as follows:

SEC. 3. (a) Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

4. Except as hereby amended, Adopting Order No. 12 under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order 68, as amended, shall remain the same and all provisions thereof remain in full force and effect.

This amendment shall become effective immediately.

Issued this 26th day of August 1946.

[Philadelphia Adopting Order 13 Under Basic Order 1, Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

HARD MASON MATERIALS IN PHILADELPHIA, PA., DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region 2 by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, by General Order 68, as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated by such Regional Administrator to the District Director, Philadelphia District Office, It is hereby ordered:

1. Adopting Order No. 13 under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order 68, as amended, is hereby amended by striking out section 7 of said order and inserting in place thereof the following:

SEC. 7. (a) Records and sales slips. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1, as amended covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order as though specifically set forth herein; and also on any sale of $25 or more each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Revised Schedule A of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Revised Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

2. Except as hereby amended, Adopting Order No. 13 under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order 68, as amended, shall remain the same and all provisions thereof remain in full force and effect.

3. This amendment shall become effective immediately.

[Philadelphia Adopting Order 55 Under Basic Order 1, Under Gen. Order 68]

BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION MATERIALS IN PHILADELPHIA, PA., DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region II by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and by Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, which authority has been duly delegated to all District Directors in Region II, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order covers. This Adopting Order Under Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, covers sales by all persons to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis, of certain building materials listed in Schedule A[1] hereto annexed and generally known as "Hard mason materials". All provisions of Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, as amended, are adopted in this order and are just as much a part of this order as if specifically set forth herein. If Basic Order No. 1, as amended, is further amended in any respect, the provisions of said order, as amended, shall likewise without further action, become part of this order. All persons subject to this adopting order are also subject to Basic Order No. 1, as amended, under General Order 68, as amended, and should be familiar with the provisions of said order.

SEC. 2. Territory covered by this order. The geographical area covered by this order is the Counties of Mifflin, Juniata, Adams, Franklin, and that portion of Cumberland County not covered by Adopting Order No. 12 and that portion of York County not covered by Adopting Order No. 13; all in the State of Pennsylvania.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the building materials covered by this order are set forth in Schedule A hereto annexed and made a part of this order. The prices fixed in Schedule A cover all sales in the territory covered by this order, regardless of the location of the place of business of the seller.

(a) Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to Area Orders issued under General Order 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by an industry-wide or area-wide amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

SEC. 4. Discounts, allowances, and terms of sale. All customary allowances, discounts and differentials must be preserved. The maximum prices set forth in Schedule A are delivered prices unless otherwise stated in such Schedule A.

SEC. 5. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1, as amended. Under General Order 68, as amended, and to General Maximum Price Regulation, and Other Maximum Price Regulation. As previously stated, all provisions of Basic Order No. 1, as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by the General Maximum Price Regulation, or by any other applicable regulation or order. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, or of any other applicable regulation or order shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of the list of maximum prices fixed by this order in each place of business within the area covered by this order.

SEC. 7. Records and sales slips—(a) Required information. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1, as amended, covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order, as if specifically set forth herein, and also on any sale of $25 or more, each seller, regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity and thus determine the maximum price fixed by Schedule A of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under Schedule A of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 8. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective August 30, 1946.

Issued this 26th day of August 1946.

FRANK J. LOFTUS.
District Director.

[Jacksonville Order G-7 Under Gen. Order 68]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS IN BREVARD COUNTY, FLA., AREA

For the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Jacksonville, Florida District Office, Region IV, of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 68 issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration Region IV, Delegation Order No. 93 issued November 5, 1945, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order covers. This order covers all "retail sales" by any seller of commodities specified in this order delivered to any purchaser located in the County of Brevard in the State of Florida. This order does not apply to sales made to any person who customarily resells more than 10% of his purchases of the commodities specified herein through "retail sales," or to sales to applicators as hereinafter defined.

SEC. 2. Definition of retail sales. For the purposes of this order, a retail sale means a sale to an ultimate user including, among others, commercial users, industrial users and contractors, or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis, excluding applicators. For the purposes of this order, an applicator is defined as a contractor engaged exclusively in the business of applying roofing and/or siding and/or insulation to buildings.

SEC. 3. Description of items covered by this order. This order covers the list of "hard building materials" set forth in the annexed Table I,[1] including certain cement, lime, plaster, masonry mix, gypsum board, base rock lath, standard prestwood, grey hex asbestos shingles, white asbestos siding, strip shingles, roll roofing, felt, rockwool batts, insulation board, tile board, and metal lath. Other related items may be added from time to time by Amendment without reference being made to this section.

SEC. 4. Relation to other regulations. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously fixed by any other regulation or order. Except to the extent they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for building materials covered by this order are set forth in Table I which is annexed to and made a part of this order. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall maintain and preserve his usual and customary quantity and other discounts including discounts and differentials to different classes of purchasers.

SEC. 6. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of Table I which lists maximum prices fixed by this order in each of his places of business in Brevard County, Florida, in a manner plainly visible to all purchasers.

SEC. 7. Sales slips and records. Every seller covered by this order who has customarily given his customers a sales slip or other evidence of purchase must continue to do so. Upon request from a customer such seller regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, and name and address of the seller, name and address of the buyer, the description and number or amount of each item sold and the price received for it. If he customarily prepared his sales slips in more than one copy, he must keep for at least twelve months after delivery a duplicate copy of each sales slip delivered by him pursuant to this section.

For any sale of $50.00 or more each seller regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and address of seller.
(2) Name and address of buyer.
(3) Date of transaction.
(4) Place of delivery.
(5) Complete description and number or amount of each item sold and price charged.

SEC. 8. Amendment. This order may be amended or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This Order No. G-7 shall become effective July 1, 1946.

Issued June 27, 1946.

[Memphis Order G-2 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS IN JACKSON, TENN., TRADING AREA

An accompanying opinion, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order G-2, under General Order No. 68, is amended in the following respects:

Section 4a is added immediately following section 4, to read as follows:

SEC. 4a. Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price. (a) This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all sellers, including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68, may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for re-sellers by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the maximum price list contained in this order.

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

Thus, if your suppliers maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers maximum price.

Appendices A, B, C and D are amended as follows:

1. To reflect the increases in maximum prices permitted by Supplementary Order No. 172 (Modification of Resellers Maximum Prices Established Under General Materials). Accordingly, this amendment supersedes that supplementary order, and the maximum prices established by this amendment cannot be increased under that supplementary order.

2. To read as follows:

[Jacksonville Order G–5 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS, DAYTONA BEACH AREA, FLA.

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion and pursuant to the authority recited in Order No. G–5 under General Order No. 68, this amendment is issued.

1. Order No. G–5 under General Order No. 68 is amended by deleting metal lath and the maximum price therefor and by revising the maximum prices for certain other hard building materials listed in Table I attached to said Order No. G–5 so that said Table I, as amended, shall read in the same manner as attached hereto and designated as Revised Table I.[1]

[1] Filed as part of the original document.

2. Said Order No. G–5 under General Order No. 68 is effective in that portion of Volusia County bounded on the North by the Township line between Townships 13 and 14 South, bounded on the West by the East line of Flagler County and by the East line of Sections 27 and 34 of Township 14 South of Range 31 East, and by the Range line between Ranges 31 and 32 East through Townships 15 and 16 South, bounded on the South by the Township line between Townships 16 and 17 South through Range 32 East, and by Spruce Creek and by Ponce de Leon Inlet, and bounded on the East by the Atlantic Ocean, in the State of Florida.

3. This amendment shall become effective on August 24, 1946.

Issued August 21, 1946.

STEWART C. MAXCY,
District Director.

[Memphis Order G–1 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 2]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS IN MEMPHIS, TENN.

An accompanying opinion, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order G–1, as amended, under General Order No. 68, is further amended in the following respects:

Section 4a is added immediately following section 4, to read as follows:

SEC. 4a. Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's prices. (a) This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all sellers, including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68, may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for re-sellers by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the maximum price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

Appendices A, B, C and D are amended as follows:

1. To reflect the increases in maximum prices permitted by Supplementary Order No. 172 (Modification of Re-Sellers Maximum Prices Established Under General Order No. 68 for Certain Building and Construction Materials). Accordingly, this amendment supersedes that supplementary order, and the maximum prices established by this amendment cannot be increased under that supplementary order.

[Region III Order G–6 Under RMPR 251, Amdt. 1]

RE-ROOFING IN LOUISVILLE, KY., AREA

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion which has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator by section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251 and pursuant to the provisions of Regional Basic Order No. 1–B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, It is hereby ordered:

(a) That Order No. G–6 be amended to read as follows:

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion, which has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, and pursuant to the provisions of Regional Basic Order No. 1–B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, this order is issued:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This adopting order establishes dollars-and-cents maximum prices for the composition roofing materials specified in section 4, hereof, when sold installed on residential structures in the Louisville, Kentucky, Area.

SEC. 2. Area covered. For the purposes of this order, the "Louisville, Kentucky, Area" consists of the County of Jefferson in the State of Kentucky and the Counties of Clark and Floyd in the State of Indiana.

SEC. 3. Applicability of Basic Order No. 1–B. All the provisions of Basic Order No. 1–B, consistent with this Adopting Order No. G–6, are hereby adopted by, and incorporated by reference into, this order and are just as much a part of this order as though fully rewritten herein. If Basic Order No. 1–B is amended in any respect, all of the provisions of that order, as amended, shall likewise, without other action, be a part of this order. All persons subject to this Adopting Order are also subject to, and should read and be familiar with, the provisions of Basic Order No. 1–B.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the specified re-roofing material on an installed basis shall be as follows:

	Per sq.
12 in. (3 in line) strip shingles, 210 lbs. per sq	$11.85
11⅓ in. hexagon strip shingles, 167 lbs. per sq	10.30
Re-roofer type shingles, 138 to 140 lbs. per sq	10.25
Roll roofing, mineral surface, 90 lbs. per sq	5.25

On any sale of re-roofing on an installed basis which involves the application of specified roofing on areas known as towers, eyebrows, bay windows, overhangs or shelves, the seller may charge a price not more than fifty percent in excess of the applicable price listed above for the amount of roofing actually installed on such areas.

The above maximum prices include related materials and services (as defined in section 11 of Basic Order No. 1–B, under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251), and flashing around chimneys.

This Amendment No. 1 to Order No. G–6 shall become effective August 8, 1946.

Issued August 8, 1946.

E. C. TURNEY,
Acting Regional Administrator.

[Region III Order G–31 Under RMPR 251]

RE-ROOFING IN RICHMOND, IND., AREA

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion which has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, and pursuant to the provisions of Regional Basic Order No. 1–B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, this order is issued:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This adopting order establishes dollars-and-cents maximum prices for the composition roofing materials specified in section 4, hereof, when sold installed on residential structures in the Richmond, Indiana, Area.

SEC. 2. Area covered. For the purposes of this order, the "Richmond, Indiana, Area" consists of the Counties of Fayette, Franklin, Henry, Randolph, Rush, Wayne and Union in the State of Indiana.

SEC. 3. Applicability of Basic Order No. 1–B. All the provisions of Basic Order

No. 1–B, consistent with this Adopting Order No. G–31, are hereby adopted by, and incorporated by reference into, this order and are just as much a part of this order as though fully re-written herein. If Basic Order No. 1–B is amended in any respect, all of the provisions of that order, as amended, shall likewise, without other action, be a part of this order. All persons subject to this Adopting Order are also subject to, and should read and be familiar with, the provisions of Basic Order No. 1–B.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices. (a) The maximum prices for the specified re-roofing materials on an installed basis shall be as follows:

12 in. (3 in line) asphalt strip shingles, 210 lbs. per sq	$12.10
11½ in. hexagon strip, 167 lbs. per sq.	11.00
Re-roofer type shingles, 138–140 lbs. per sq	10.30
Re-roofer type shingles, 160–162 lbs. per sq	10.75
Roll-roofing (mineral surface), 90 lbs. per sq	6.65

(b) The above prices include related materials and services as defined in section 11 of Basic Order No. 1–B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

(c) A charge of not more than $0.50 per square may be added to the above prices for re-roofing work done beyond the limits of the county wherein the seller is located: Provided, however, That if the work is done in a county not in the Richmond, Indiana, Area, as defined above, the maximum prices for such transaction shall be determined under the applicable Area Order or Maximum Price Regulation.

SEC. 5. Effective date. This Order No. G–31 shall become effective August 22, 1946.

Issued August 8, 1946.

[Region VIII Order G–7 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 1]

BUILDING MATERIALS IN TUCSON, ARIZ., AREA

An opinion accompanying this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith. Order No. G–7 under General Order No. 68 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (g) is redesignated paragraph (h).

2. A new paragraph (g) is inserted to read as follows:

(g) Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers' maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price.

3. Appendix A and Appendix B are amended to read as set forth on Revised Appendix A and Revised Appendix B, attached hereto.[1]

This amendment shall become effective August 26, 1946.

Issued this 20th day of August 1946.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This adopting order establishes dollars-and-cents maximum prices for the composition and asbestos-cement siding materials specified in section 4, hereof, when sold installed on residential structures in the Terre Haute, Indiana, Area.

SEC. 2. Area covered. For the purposes of this order, the "Terre Haute, Indiana, Area" consists of the counties of Vigo, Green, Clay, Owen, Park, Vermillion, and Sullivan in the State of Indiana.

SEC. 3. Applicability of Basic Order No. 1–B. All the provisions of Basic Order No. 1–B, consistent with this Adopting Order No. G–55, are hereby adopted by, and incorporated by reference into, this order and are just as much a part of this order as though fully rewritten herein. If Basic Order No. 1–B is amended in any respect, all of the provisions of that order, as amended, shall likewise, without other action, be a part of this order. All persons subject to this adopting order are also subject to, and should read and be familiar with, the provisions of Basic Order No. 1–B.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices. (a) The maximum prices for the specified residing material on an installed basis shall be as follows:

TABLE I

Type of siding	Maximum price per square
Asbestos-cement siding, standard surface hardness, standard colors, 12 in. x 24 in. or 12 in. x 27 in	$23.35
Composition siding (insulated brick)	28.50
Composition siding (roll brick)	17.25

The above maximum prices include related materials and services as the term is defined in section 11 of Basic Order No. 1–B under section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

(b) When any of the siding materials listed in Table I, above, are installed over a type of backing listed in Table II, below, sellers may add not more than the applicable amount listed in Table II to the price listed in Table I.

TABLE II

Type of backing	Maximum addition per square
Asphalt or tarred roofing felt 15 lbs. per square	$1.50
Asphalt or tarred roofing felt 30 lbs. per square	2.00
Rigid insulation backerboard ¼ in. thick or less	5.00
Rigid insulation backerboard, over ¼ in. but not more than ½ in. thickness	6.00

(c) When siding is installed on premises located beyond the limits of the county where in the seller's place of business is located, a charge not exceeding one dollar ($1.00) per square may be added to the applicable price listed in Table I, above.

SEC. 5. Effective date. This Order No. G–55 shall become effective August 22, 1946.

Issued August 8, 1946.

J. F. KESSEL,
Regional Administrator.

[Region VI Order G–119 under 18 (c)]

TRANSPORTATION OF MILK IN LAKE COUNTY, IND.

For the reasons set forth in the opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator for Region VI of the Office of Price Administration, by § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, it is hereby ordered:

(a) Effect of this order. This order adjusts maximum rates for the transportation of fluid milk by for-hire carriers from producers' farms or loading platforms within Lake County, Indiana or Porter County, Indiana, to dairies, milk processing plants, milk receiving stations or other concentration points located within Lake County, Indiana or within the State of Illinois.

(b) Maximum rates. The maximum rate that may be charged by any for-hire carrier of milk subject to this order for a transportation service covered hereby shall be the sum of 29¢ per cwt.

(c) A "for-hire" carrier of milk is one who transports fluid milk by wagon or by motor vehicle (other than a tank truck or semi-trailer) for a compensation paid by the persons he serves, and who has no financial interest in such milk. Therefore, the term does not apply to milk processors who transport, in their own conveyances, milk to which they have acquired title.

(d) Lower prices for any service covered by this order may be charged, offered, demanded or paid.

(e) Order No. G–55 under § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall be inapplicable to services and milk haulers covered by this order, and the order issued April 29, 1943 to A. G. Nicholson, et al., is hereby revoked.

This order shall become effective on August 14, 1946 and may be amended, revised or revoked at any time.

Issued this 14th day of August 1946.

H. W. WERTZ,
Acting Regional Administrator.

PONDEROSA PINE DOORS IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA

An opinion accompanying this Amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith. Order No. G–5 under General Order No. 68 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (g) is redesignated paragraph (h).

2. A new paragraph (g) is inserted to read as follows:

(g) Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers' price—(1) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers (including those subject to area orders issued under General Order No. 68) may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(2) Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers' maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers' maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price.

3. Appendix A is amended to read as set forth on Revised Appendix A, attached hereto.[1]

This amendment shall become effective August 26, 1946.

Issued this 19th day of August 1946.

[Region III, Order G-20 Under MPR 251]

RE-SIDING IN TOLEDO, OHIO, AREA

For the reasons set forth in an accompanying opinion, which has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and under the authority vested in the Administrator of Region III of the Office of Price Administration by section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, and pursuant to the provisions of Regional Basic Order No. 1-B under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, this order is issued:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This adopting order establishes dollars-and-cents maximum prices for the composition and asbestos-cement siding materials specified in section 4, hereof, when sold installed on residential structures in the Toledo, Ohio, Area.

SEC. 2. Area covered. For the purposes of this order, the "Toledo, Ohio, Area" consists of the County of Lucas in the State of Ohio.

SEC. 3. Applicability of Basic Order No. 1-B. All the provisions of Basic Order No. 1-B, consistent with this Adopting Order No. G-20, are hereby adopted by, and incorporated by reference into, this order and are just as much a part of this order as though fully rewritten herein. If Basic Order No. 1-B is amended in any respect, all of the provisions of that order, as amended, shall likewise, without other action, be a part of this order. All persons subject to this adopting order are also subject to, and should read and be familiar with, the provisions of Basic Order No. 1-B.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices. The maximum prices for the specified re-siding material on an installed basis shall be as follows:

TABLE I

	Per sq.
Asbestos-cement siding of standard surface hardness, 12 in. x 24 in. or 12 in. x 27 in	$27.85
Installed over felt weighing 30 lbs. per sq	28.35
Installed over 3/16 in. backer board	29.35
Insulated brick or insulated stone siding, 14⅜ in. x 43⅞ in., 13⅞ in. x 43⅞ in. or 14 in. x 43 in	30.45

The above maximum prices include related materials and services as the term is defined in section 11 of Basic Order No. 1-B under section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

SEC. 5. Effective date. Reissued August 8, 1946. Effective August 22, 1946.

AUTHORITY: §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive, issued under 52 Stat. 38, 47, 66; 53 Stat. 1261; 54 Stat. 392; 56 Stat. 51; 57 Stat. 387; 58 Stat. 136; 7 U. S. C. 1301(b), 1313, 1375; 60 Stat. 21.

GENERAL

§ 725.311 Definitions. As used in §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive, and in all instructions, forms and documents in connection therewith the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) Committees. (1) "Community committee" means the group of persons elected within a community to assist in the administration of the Agricultural Conservation Program in such community.

(2) "County committee" means the group of persons elected within a county to assist in the administration of the Agricultural Conservation Program in such county.

(3) "State committee" means the group of persons designated as the State committee of the Production and Marketing Administration charged with the responsibility of administering Production and Marketing Administration programs within the State.

(b) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Field Service Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and

(2) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(c) "New farm" means a farm on which tobacco will be produced in 1947 for the first time since 1941.

(d) "Old farm" means a farm on which tobacco was produced in one or more of the five years 1942 through 1946.

(e) "Cropland" means that land on the farm which is included as cropland for purposes of the 1946 Agricultural Conservation Program but shall not include wood or wasteland from which no cultivated crop was harvested in any of the years 1942 through 1946.

(f) "Community cropland factor" means that percentage determined by dividing the total cropland for all old farms in the community in 1946 into the total of the 1946 tobacco acreage allotment for such old farms: Provided, That, if the county committee determines that the cropland factor for all communities in the county are substantially the same, the county committee may consider the entire county as one community.

(g) "Acreage indicated by cropland" means that acreage determined by multiplying the number of acres of cropland in the farm by the community cropland factor.

(h) "Operator" means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(i) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust or other business enterprise or other legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State, or any agency thereof.

(j) "Tobacco" means flue-cured tobacco, types 11, 12, 13, and 14, or Burley tobacco, type 31, as classified in Service and Regulatory Announcement No. 118 (7 CFR 30) of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, or both as indicated by the context.

§ 725.312 Extent of calculations and rule of fractions. All acreages shall be calculated to the nearest one-tenth acre. Fractions of fifty-one thousandths of an acre or more shall be rounded upward, and fractions of five-hundredths of an acre or less shall be dropped. For example, 1.051 would be 1.1 and 1.050 would be 1.0.

§ 725.313 Instructions and forms. The Director, Tobacco Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, shall cause to be prepared and issued such instructions and forms as may be deemed necessary or expedient for carrying out §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive.

§ 725.314 Applicability of §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive. Sections 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive, shall govern the establishment of farm acreage allotments and normal yields for tobacco in connection with farm marketing quotas for the marketing year beginning July 1, 1947, in the case of flue-cured tobacco, and October 1, 1947, in the case of Burley tobacco. The applicability of §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive, to Burley tobacco is contingent upon approval by growers in a referendum with respect to the national marketing quota to be proclaimed on or after October 1, 1946.

ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS FOR OLD FARMS

§ 725.315 Determination of 1947 preliminary acreage allotments for old farms. The preliminary acreage allotment for an old farm shall be the 1946 allotment with the exceptions stated below:

(a) If the acreage of tobacco harvested in each of the three years 1944–46 was less than 75 percent of the farm acreage allotment for each of such years, the preliminary allotment shall be the larger of (1) the largest acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in any of such three years, or (2) the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in the five years 1942–46: Provided, That any such preliminary allotment shall not exceed the 1946 allotment for such farm.

(b) If no 1946 allotment was established for the farm, the preliminary allotment shall be the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in the five years 1942–46 but not less than 0.1 acre.

(c) If the average acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in the three years 1944–46 exceeds the 1946 allotment by more than 10 percent, the preliminary allotment shall be the 1946 allotment plus one-third of the number of acres by which the three-year average exceeds the 1946 allotment.

§ 725.316 Adjustment of preliminary acreage allotments for old farms. The preliminary acreage allotment for any old farm shall be adjusted as provided below:

(a) Adjustment for flue-cured farms with small acreage allotments. For any farm with a small acreage allotment which is owned and operated by a person who lives on and depends primarily upon that farm for a livelihood and who does not own, operate or control any other farm having a flue-cured tobacco allotment, the preliminary acreage allotment shall be increased to an acreage not exceeding the smaller of (1) 2.3 acres or (2) 20 percent of the cropland in the farm: Provided, That such increases of the preliminary allotment shall not be required if the community committee, with the approval of the county committee, determines that the resulting preliminary allotment is larger than the acreage of tobacco which likely will be grown on the farm.

The increase in preliminary allotments for all farms pursuant to this paragraph shall be reduced uniformly (but not less than 0.1 acre in any case) if required to bring the total of such increases for all such farms within two percent of the acreage allotted to all farms in 1946.

(b) Other adjustments for flue-cured farms. (1) The preliminary allotment for any farm (including any small farm after adjustment pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section) may be increased within the limits stated in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph if the community committee, with the approval of the county committee, finds it to be smaller in relation to the land, labor, and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm than the average of the preliminary allotments for all old farms in the community in relation to such factors.

(2) If the preliminary allotment for any farm is greater than the 1946 allotment because the 1944–46 average harvested acreage exceeded the 1946 allotted acreage by more than 10 percent such preliminary allotment shall be decreased to the smallest acreage determined in accordance with the limits stated in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) The preliminary allotment for any farm as adjusted pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (b) shall be limited to an acreage not in excess of the smallest of (i) 90 percent of the acreage indicated by cropland; (ii) 20 percent of the cropland in the farm; (iii) 4 acres for each family living on the farm and engaged in the production of tobacco in 1946; or (iv) 3.5 acres for each curing barn on the farm in 1946: Provided, That no preliminary allotment shall be reduced below the 1946 allotment because of the limits stated in this subparagraph; and Provided further, That such limits shall not prevent increasing the preliminary allotment for any farm to as much as the 1946 allotment for the farm if the community committee, with the approval of the county committee, finds that service in the armed forces on the part of labor regularly engaged in producing tobacco on the farm prior to entry into the armed forces caused the harvested acreage of tobacco to be less than 75 percent of the allotted acreage for such farms in the three years 1944–46 and if such labor either returns to the farm in 1947 or cannot return to the farm because of death or injury while in the armed forces and is replaced in 1947 by other labor.

(4) The increases pursuant to § 725.315 (c) and subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (adjusted preliminary allotment minus 1946 allotment), shall not exceed an amount equal to two percent of the acreage allotted to all farms in the State in 1946. Any decreases in the adjustments of preliminary allotments required to bring the amount of such adjustments within this limit shall be made by decreasing uniformly (by not less than 0.1 acre in any case) the adjustments made pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(c) Adjustments of preliminary allotments for old Burley tobacco farms. (1) The preliminary allotment for any farm may be increased within the limits stated in subparagrah (3) of this paragraph if the community committee, with the approval of the county committee, finds it to be smaller in relation to the land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco on the farm than the average of the preliminary allotments for all old farms in the community in relation to such factors.

(2) If the preliminary allotment for any farm is greater than the 1946 allotment because the 1944–46 average harvested acreage exceeded the 1946 allotted acreage by more than 10 percent such preliminary allotment shall be decreased to the smallest acreage determined in accordance with the limits stated in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) The preliminary allotment as adjusted for any farm pursuant to this paragraph shall not exceed the smaller of (i) the acreage capacity of curing barns located on the farm which are in usable condition and available for curing of tobacco, or (ii) 90 percent of the acreage indicated by cropland: Provided, That no preliminary allotment shall be reduced below the 1946 allotment because of such limits: Provided further, That such limits shall not prevent increasing the preliminary allotment for any farm to as much as the 1946 allotment for the farm if the community committee, with the approval of the county committee, finds that service in the armed forces on the part of labor regularly engaged in producing tobacco on the farm prior to entry into the armed forces caused the harvested acreage of tobacco to be less than 75 percent of the allotted acreage for such farm in the three years 1944–46 and if such labor either returns to the farm in 1947, or cannot return to the farm because of death or injury while in the armed forces and is replaced in 1947 by other labor.

(4) The total of the increases of the preliminary allotments in any county pursuant to § 725.315 (c) and subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph shall not exceed one percent of the total acreage allotment for all farms in the county in 1946 unless otherwise approved by the State committee. The total acreage available hereunder for all farms in each State shall not exceed two percent of the total acreage allotted to all farms in each State in 1946.

§ 725.317 1947 old tobacco farm acreage allotment. The total of the preliminary allotments calculated for all old farms in any State pursuant to § 725.315 and adjusted in accordance with § 725.316 shall be adjusted uniformly so as to make such total equal the State acreage allotment and the individual farm acreage allotment so adjusted shall be the 1947 acreage allotment: Provided, That any Burley farm acreage allotment determined as provided above shall be increased if necessary to the smaller of (a) the 1946 allotment, or (b) 0.9 acre.

§ 725.318 Reduction of acreage allotment for violation of the marketing quota regulations for a prior marketing year. If tobacco was marketed or was permitted to be marketed in any marketing year as having been produced on any farm which in fact was produced on a different farm, the acreage allotments established for both such farms for 1947 shall be reduced by the amount of tobacco so marketed: Provided, That such reduction for any such farm shall not be made if the Secretary, through the county committee, determines that no person connected with such farm caused, aided, or acquiesced in such marketing. The operator of the farm shall furnish complete and accurate proof of disposition of all tobacco produced on the farm at such time and in such manner as will insure payment of the penalty due and in the event of refusal or failure for any reason to furnish such proof, the acreage allotment for the farm shall be reduced by that amount of tobacco with respect to which accurate proof of disposition has not been furnished: Provided, That if the farm operator establishes to the satisfaction of the county and State committee that failure to furnish such proof of disposition was unintentional on his part and that he could not reasonably have been expected to furnish accurate proof of disposition, reduction of the allotment will not be required if the failure to furnish proof of disposition is corrected and payment of all additional penalty due is made. Any such reduction shall be made with respect to the 1947 farm acreage allotment, provided it can be made prior to the delivery of the marketing card to the farm operator. If the reduction cannot be so made effective with respect to the 1947 crop, such reduction shall be made with respect to the farm acreage allotment next determined for the farm. This section shall not apply if the allotment for any prior year was reduced on account of the same violation.

The amount of tobacco involved in the violation will be converted to an acreage basis by dividing such amount of tobacco by the actual yield for the farm during the year in which such tobacco was produced, or, if the actual yield cannot be determined, by the estimated actual yield determined by the county committee for the farm for such year.

§ 725.319 Reallocation of allotments released from farms removed from agricultural production. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, the tobacco allotment determined for which would have been determined for any land which is removed from agricultural production because of acquisition by a State or Federal Agency for any purpose shall be available to the State committee for use in providing equitable allotments for farms on which tobacco was grown in one or more of the past five years, and which are owned in 1947 by persons who owned land so removed from agricultural production. Insofar as possible the allotments for farms owned by such persons shall be comparable to the allotments for other old farms in the same community which are similar with respect to land, labor and equipment, available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices, soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco, taking into consideration the allotment for the land removed from agricultural production. The allotment so determined shall not exceed the 1947 allotment which was or would have been determined for the land removed from agricultural production, nor shall it exceed the larger of (1) 50 percent of the acreage of cropland in the farm in the case of flue-cured tobacco and 20 percent of the acreage of cropland in the farm in the case of Burley tobacco, or (2) three acres.

(b) The allotment determined or which would have been determined for any land acquired on or since January 1, 1940, by any Federal agency for national defense purposes shall be placed in a State pool and shall be used in determining equitable allotment for farms owned or purchased by owners displaced because of acquisition of their farm by a Federal agency for national defense purposes. Upon application to the local committee within five years from the date of the acquisition of the farm by a Federal agency for national defense purposes, any owner so displaced shall be entitled to have an allotment for any one of the other farms owned or purchased by him equal to an allotment which would have been determined for such other farm plus the allotment which would have been determined for the farm acquired by the Federal agency: Provided, That such allotment shall not exceed 50 percent of the acreage of cropland in the farm in the case of flue-cured and 20 percent of the acreage of cropland in the farm in the case of Burley tobacco. The provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable if (1) there is any marketing quota penalty due with respect to the marketing of tobacco from the farm or by the owner of the farm at the time of its acquisition by the Federal agency; (2) any tobacco produced on such farm has not been accounted for as required by the Secretary; or (3) the allotment next to be established for the farm acquired by the Federal agency would have been reduced because of false or improper identification of tobacco produced on or marketed from such farm.

§ 725.320 Farms subdivided or combined. (a) If land operated as a single farm in 1946 has been subdivided and will be operated in 1947 as two or more farms the 1947 tobacco acreage allotment determined or which otherwise would have been determined for the entire farm shall be apportioned among the tracts in the same proportion as the acreage of cropland suitable for the production of tobacco on each such tract in such year bore to the total number of acres of cropland suitable for the production of tobacco on the entire farm in such year unless otherwise recommended by the county committee and approved by the State committee: Provided, however, That when a farm is to be subdivided in 1947 into two or more farms which were separate and distinct prior to a combination in 1942 or any subsequent year, the allotment shall be divided among such farms in the same proportion that each contributed to the farm acreage allotment, unless otherwise recommended by the county committee and approved by the State committee.

(b) If two or more farms operated separately in 1946 are combined and operated in 1947 as a single farm, the 1947 allotment shall be the sum of the 1947 allotments determined for each of the farms composing the combination, or if smaller, the allotment determined or which would have been determined for the farm as constituted in 1947.

§ 725.321 Determination of normal yields. The normal yield for any old farm shall be that yield which the county committee determines is normal for the farm taking into consideration (a) the yields obtained on the farm during the years 1940–44; (b) the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco on the farm; and (c) the yields obtained on other farms in the locality which are similar with respect to such factors. The weighted average of the normal yields for all farms in each county shall equal the normal yield established for the county for 1946.

ACREAGE ALLOTMENTS AND NORMAL YIELDS FOR NEW FARMS

§ 725.322 Determination of acreage allotments for new farms. The acreage allotment, other than an allotment made under § 725.319, for a new farm shall be that acreage which the county committee determines is fair and reasonable for the farm taking into consideration the land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices, the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco: Provided, That the acreage allotment so determined shall not exceed in the case of flue-cured tobacco the smaller of (a) 15 percent of the cropland in the farm or (b) 75 percent of the allotments for old flue-cured farms which are similar with respect to land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco; and in the case of Burley tobacco 50 percent of the allotments for old Burley farms which are similar with respect to land, labor and equipment available for the production of tobacco, crop rotation practices, and the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this section a tobacco acreage allotment shall not be established for any new farm unless each of the following conditions has been met:

(1) The farm operator shall have had experience in growing the kind of tobacco for which an allotment is requested either as a sharecropper, tenant, or as a farm operator during two of the past five years: Provided, however, That a farm operator who has been in the armed services shall be deemed to have met the requirements hereof if he has had experience in growing the kind of tobacco for which an allotment is requested during one year within the five years immediately prior to his entry into the armed services.

(2) The farm operator shall live on and be largely dependent for his livelihood on the farm covered by the application unless the community committee, with the approval of the county committee, determines that he does not live on the farm because of conditions beyond his control, such as inability to obtain material with which to repair or construct a house on the farm;

(3) The farm covered by the application shall be the only farm owned or operated by the farm operator on which any flue-cured or Burley tobacco is produced in 1947;

(4) The farm will not have a 1947 allotment for any kind of tobacco other than that for which application is made hereunder; and

(5) The farm was not a part of an old tobacco farm in any of the past five years 1942–46, or if it was part of an old farm during such period, was not eligible for a tobacco allotment as an old farm because it made no contribution to the allotment on the old farm when it was combined therewith.

The acreage allotments established as provided in this section shall be subject to such downward adjustment as is necessary to bring such allotments in line with the total acreage available for allotment to all new farms. The acreage available for establishing allotments for new farms shall be one percent of the national acreage allotment for 1947 in the case of flue-cured tobacco and one-half of one percent in the case of Burley tobacco.

§ 725.323 Time for filing application. An application for a new farm allotment shall be filed with the county committee prior to February 1, 1947, unless the farm operator was discharged from the armed services subsequent to December 31, 1946, in which case such application shall be filed within a reasonable period prior to planting tobacco on the farm.

§ 725.324 Determination of normal yields. The normal yield for a new farm shall be that yield per acre which the county committee determines is reasonable for the farm as compared with yields for other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar.

§ 725.325 Determination of acreage allotments and normal yields for farms returned to agricultural production. (a) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive, the acreage allotment for any farm which was acquired by a State or Federal agency for any purpose and which is returned to agricultural production in 1947, or which was returned to agricultural production in 1946 too late for a 1946 allotment to be established, shall be determined by one of the following methods:

(1) If the land is acquired by the original owner, any part of the acreage allotment which was or could have been established for such farm prior to its retirement from agricultural production which remains in the State pools (adjusted to reflect the uniform increases and decreases in comparable old farm allotments since the farm was acquired by the State or Federal agency) may be established as the 1947 allotment for such farm by transfer from the pools, and if any part of the allotment for such land was transferred by the original owner through the State pools to another farm now owned by him, such owner may elect to transfer all or any part of such allotment (as adjusted) to the farm which is returned to agricultural production.

(2) If the land is acquired by a person other than the original owner, or if all of the allotment was transferred through the State pools to another farm and the original owner does not now own the farm to which the allotment was transferred, the farm returned to agricultural production shall be regarded as a new farm.

(b) The normal yield for any such farm shall be that yield per acre which the county committee determines is reasonable for the farm as compared with yields for other farms in the locality on which the soil and other physical factors affecting the production of tobacco are similar.

§ 725.326 Approval of determinations made under §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive. The State committee will review all allotments and yields and may correct or require correction of any determinations made under §§ 725.311 to 725.326, inclusive. All acreage allotments and yields shall be approved by the State committee and no official notice of acreage allotment shall be mailed to a grower until such allotment has been approved by the State committee.

PART 802—SUGAR DETERMINATIONS

PROPORTIONATE SHARES FOR FARMS IN THE DOMESTIC BEET SUGAR AREA FOR THE 1946 CROP

Pursuant to the provisions of subsection (a) of section 302 of the Sugar Act of 1937, as amended, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 802.171 Proportionate shares for farms in the Domestic Beet Sugar Area for the 1946 crop. The proportionate share for the 1946 crop for each farm in the domestic beet sugar area shall be the number of acres of sugar beets planted thereon for the production of sugar beets to be marketed (or processed by the producer) for the extraction of sugar or liquid sugar during the 1946 crop season. (Sec. 302, 50 Stat. 910; 7 U. S. C. 1132)

Issued this 10th day of September 1946.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders)

PART 961—MILK IN THE PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK IN PHILADELPHIA, PA.

§ 961.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure covering the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq., 10 F. R. 11791, 11 F. R. 7737), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

The foregoing findings are supplementary and in addition to the findings made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and the findings made in connection with the issuance of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings may be in conflict with the findings set forth herein.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping milk covered by this amended order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, which is marketed in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order further amends the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during July 1946 determined to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

Revise paragraph (a) (1) of § 961.4 to read:

(1) Class I milk. $5.56 per hundredweight for the months July through March each year and $5.11 per hundredweight for the months of April, May and June: Provided, That such prices shall be increased 40 cents per hundredweight if the average of the highest prices for 92-score butter sold wholesale at New York as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the last ten market days of the preceding month is 82 cents or over, and such price shall be decreased 40 cents per hundredweight if such average price for butter is 67 cents or less: And provided further, That the price shall be at least $5.56 for each month until but not including March 1947.

(48 Stat. 31, 670, 675; 49 Stat. 750; 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 6th day of September 1946, to be effective on and after the 14th day of September 1946.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 945—MILK IN THE WASHINGTON, D. C., MARKETING AREA

HANDLING OF MILK IN WASHINGTON, D. C., AREA

§ 945.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), and the rules of practice and procedure covering the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq., 10 F. R. 11791, 11 F. R. 7737), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D. C., marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The prices calculated to give milk produced for sale in said marketing area a purchasing power equivalent to the purchasing power of such milk as determined pursuant to sections 2 and 8 (e) of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which effect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

The foregoing findings are supplementary and in addition to the findings made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and the findings made in connection with the issuance of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings are hereby ratified and affirmed except insofar as such findings may be in conflict with the findings set forth herein.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping milk covered by this amended order) of at least 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, which is marketed in the Washington, D. C., marketing area, refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the Washington, D. C., marketing area; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign such tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order further amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order further amending the said order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during March 1946, determined to be a representative period, were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

§ 945.2 Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Washington, D. C. marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Revise § 945.7 (a) (1) and (2) to read:

(1) Class I. The price for Class I milk shall be $5.60 for the delivery periods from July through March and $5.35 for the delivery periods of April, May and June: Provided, That if the average of the highest prices for 92-score (grade A) butter sold wholesale at New York reported by the United States Department of Agriculture for the last ten market trading days in the preceding month is 82 cents or above the price shall be increased 40 cents and if such butter price is 67 cents or less the above price shall be decreased 40 cents; And provided further, That the price shall be not less than $5.60 for each delivery period until but not including March 1947.

(2) Class II. The price for Class II milk shall be $3.55 or the price computed for Class III milk whichever is higher.

2. Revise § 945.10 (d) (1) to read as follows:

(1) In making payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, handlers shall pay the applicable premium rates set forth in this paragraph for each producer's deliveries on that quantity of milk received from each producer which represented such producer's proportionate share of all producer milk classified as Class I and Class II. The premium rates referred to in this paragraph shall be determined from the following schedule with respect to the cattle scores and farm scores recorded for each producer by the respective health departments requiring permits to sell milk to handlers in the marketing area, except that for all producers delivering to a plant located in the State of Maryland and from which no milk is disposed of in the District of Columbia or that part of the marketing area within the State of Virginia the rate shall be 41 cents per hundredweight during any period in which the applicable health department assigns no numerical scores to producers delivering milk to such plant:

Farm score	With cattle score under 95	With cattle score 95 or over, but under 98	With cattle score 98 or over
	Per cwt.	Per cwt.	Per cwt.

[Marketing Agreements and Orders]

PART 966—ORANGES, CALIFORNIA-ARIZONA

RULES AND REGULATIONS

The following rules and regulations, effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.) and Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.) regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, have my approval. Sections 966.103, 966.105, 966.106, 966.108, and 966.109 of the rules and regulations have been adopted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the order, as the agency to administer the terms and provisions thereof. Sections 966.104 and 966.107 of the rules and regulations are prescribed pursuant to §§ 966.4 and 966.7, respectively, of the order.

Sec.
966.103 Definitions.
966.104 Nomination procedure.
966.105 Delinquent assessments.
966.106 Regulation.
966.107 Prorate districts.
966.108 Oranges not subject to regulations.
966.109 Reports.

§ 966.103 Definitions. The terms used herein shall have the same definitions as are set forth in Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.). In addition, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Oranges in fresh form" means oranges and their component parts which are fit for human consumption and which have not been treated or processed in such a manner as to make their edible qualities last indefinitely.

(b) "Handling of oranges for conversion into by-products" means the handling of oranges for treatment or processing so that the oranges and their component parts are transformed from a fresh perishable state to a preserved and non-perishable state.

§ 966.104 Nomination procedure. (a) The time of nominating members and alternate members of the Orange Administrative Committee shall be not later than 20 days preceding the date of expiration of the terms of the members and alternate members of the Administrative Committee and the manner of nominating members and alternate members of said committee shall be as follows:

(1) The California Fruit Growers Exchange, a California nonprofit cooperative marketing association with its principal place of business at Los Angeles, California, so long as it continues to market more than 50 percent of the total volume of such oranges marketed in fresh form, as provided in Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.), shall, by resolution adopted by its board of directors, nominate not less than 6 growers for 3 members and 6 growers for 3 alternate members of the committee.

(2) A meeting shall be held at such time and place as may be designated by the agent of the Secretary, at which all cooperative marketing organizations which market such oranges, other than the California Fruit Growers Exchange (which includes its affiliated district exchanges and local associations), shall nominate not less than 2 growers for a member and 2 growers for an alternate member of the committee. The vote of each such organization shall be weighted by the quantity of oranges which it marketed in fresh form during the fiscal year (as defined in Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.)), the end of which is nearest the date on which the meeting is held. Any person who votes at any such meeting shall submit to the agent of the Secretary written evidence of his authority to vote for such an organization.

(3) Not less than 7 and not more than 15 meetings shall be held at such times and places (throughout the orange producing areas in California and Arizona) as may be designated by the agent of the Secretary, at which growers who are not members of, or affiliated with, the organizations included under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph may vote. At each such meeting, the growers present shall nominate 2 growers. The number of ballots to be cast in selecting the 2 nominees for each meeting shall be determined at the respective meeting. All growers voting at any such meeting shall submit their names and addresses to the agent of the Secretary.

(4) The names and addresses of the growers who have been selected at each of the grower meetings to be held pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph shall be placed on a ballot which shall be mailed to all growers of record, and otherwise made available to growers, who are not members of, or affiliated with, a cooperative marketing organization which markets oranges, with instructions to vote for 4 growers (2 for members and 2 for alternates) whose names appear on the ballot, and to sign the ballot and return it within such reasonable time as may be determined by the agent of the Secretary.

(5) The agent of the Secretary shall give adequate notice of any meeting to be held pursuant hereto and of the voting for nominees by growers who are not members of, or affiliated with, a cooperative marketing organization, as provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

§ 966.105 Delinquent assessments. (a) If an assessment is not paid within thirty (30) days of the date due, the committee shall obtain the approval of the Secretary to maintain a suit in the name of the committee to enforce the payment of any and all assessments then due and payable by such handler.

(b) If suit is instituted for payment of delinquent assessments, the handler shall pay, in addition to the amount of the delinquent assessments, interest thereon from the due dates at the rate of six (6) percent per annum, and costs of suit.

§ 966.106 Regulation—(a) Control of oranges. (1) In order to control oranges within the meaning of (i) and (iii) of § 966.6 (d) (3), the following facts must exist:

(i) The handler and a grower shall have executed a written agreement. Such agreement shall contain all of the basic requirements of a legal contract including (a) a legal consideration, that is, mutual promises or other consideration which is enforceable by either party or both parties by an action of law, and (b) certainty as to parties, the quantity of oranges involved, and the amount to be received for the fruit. This agreement will be considered sufficiently definite as to the quantity of fruit if it specifies all the oranges of a described acreage, and as to the amount to be received for the fruit if it specifies a certain amount or sets forth an enforceable method of determining the amount to be paid.

(ii) The agreement shall have been entered into by both parties in good faith. It shall be entered into with the purpose and intent of giving absolute control of the oranges to the handler. It cannot, therefore, be entered into (a) for the purpose of merely giving the prorate base allotment to the handler, or (b) subject to some other written or oral agreement or understanding altering its terms, or (c) under an oral or written understanding that neither of the parties will legally enforce the terms of the contract. Any statement in the contract which permits the termination thereof without legal liability will be considered evidence of a lack of good faith.

(iii) The agreement shall give the handler exclusive, unconditional, and unlimited authority to handle the oranges. This authority must be for such period of time as may be necessary to move the oranges covered by the agreement.

(2) If a person loses control of oranges and has handled a quantity thereof less than the quantity that could have been handled under allotments issued thereon, the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by such person shall be adjusted by deducting therefrom a quantity of oranges equivalent to the quantity upon which allotments were issued, but which were not utilized thereon. The quantity so determined shall be deducted during a 4-week period (or balance of the season if the balance of the season is less than 4 weeks): Provided, however; That in no instance should the amount of deduction exceed one-half of the current allotment issued to such handler, and, if necessary to comply with this requirement, the 4-week period may be extended to accomplish that purpose.

(b) Prorate bases. (1) The prorate bases of handlers shall be adjusted to correct errors, omissions, or inaccuracies as provided in the order, during a 4-week period (or balance of season if the balance of the season is less than 4 weeks); Provided, however, That in no instance should the amount of adjustment in any weekly period exceed one-half of the current allotment issued to such handler, and, if necessary to comply with this requirement, the 4-week period may be extended to accomplish that purpose.

(2) When a handler has moved all the oranges under his control in a particular prorate district of the variety being regulated and has received allotments sufficient to repay any allotments received by him from an allotment pool or loan for handling such oranges, such handler shall be removed from the prorate base schedule and shall thereupon receive no further allotments for such oranges. If such handler during the same proration season again acquires control of oranges of the same variety in the same prorate district, he shall notify the committee in accordance with § 966.6 (d), and the handler shall thereupon be restored to the prorate base schedule and the prorate base of such handler shall be adjusted as in the case of any other handler.

(c) Allotment pools. When an allotment pool is established, the following shall apply:

(1) Upon application being made by a handler for participation in an allotment pool, the committee shall make an investigation through its Field Department to determine whether the fruit of the handlers in the locality of applicant, and the fruit of applicant, is of advanced maturity or short life within the meaning of § 966.6 (k), and the Field Department shall report back its findings at the next weekly meeting of the committee.

(2) Applications must be made at least two weeks in advance of the date on which the committee will act to determine the advisability of establishing allotment pools for any applicant or locality, except in cases where investigation of conditions in a locality has already been made, in which case applications made in accordance with subparagraph (6) of this paragraph will be sufficient.

(3) The phrase "advanced maturity or short life of oranges available for current shipment" as used herein shall mean that the fruit in a particular locality within a prorate district has generally reached such maturity or is of such condition on the trees that it must be harvested in order to be available for shipment in good marketable condition during a period differing from the harvesting period for the remainder of the prorate district: Provided, That the period of harvest for the particular locality is a normal or usual one for that locality.

(4) Upon receipt of the Field Department's appraisal, the committee shall determine whether the condition of the oranges controlled by the applicants in the locality of applicants is such as to justify the institution of an allotment pool.

(5) The committee shall also determine the limits of the locality in which such condition exists, and all growers and handlers in such locality including those making application shall be eligible, upon proper application and showing, to participate in the allotment pool, and shall be advised of such opportunity.

(6) Applicants desiring to borrow allotments from the pool must apply in writing by 12:00 o'clock noon, one day preceding the weekly meeting of the committee, stating the amount of the loan required and only the applications on file by that time will be considered as entitled to receive loans from allotments for the succeeding week.

(7) In case applications are filed the committee shall determine each week and notify the applicants on forms provided by the committee (i) the amount of the loan to be granted each applicant and (ii) the time and manner of repayment of the loan by each applicant.

(8) If a handler borrowing allotments from the allotment pool handles a quantity of oranges of the same variety borrowed from the pool less than the total quantity of such variety of oranges which such person may handle during such week, the amount of such variety of oranges covered by the loan from the pool shall be considered as a part of such handler's current weekly allotment for the purpose of determining the priorities as provided in § 966.6 (j).

(9) A handler obtaining an allotment loan from the pool may not loan it to another handler and must use the same during the period in which the allotment from which it is obtained is valid. No person may borrow allotments from the pool who cannot repay the same during the curent marketing season.

(10) The committee shall determine the percentage that the total amount of the allotment pool shall bear to the total quantity of each variety of oranges deemed advisable to be handled during the succeeding week, and this percentage, not exceeding 5 percent, shall be withheld from the allotment of each handler.

(11) The amount of allotments repaid to the pool for each week shall be determined and included in the total allotment for such week, and the sum so obtained shall be multiplied by the prorate base of each handler to determine the allotment for each handler.

(12) During the week in which a handler is required to repay loans to the pool such handler shall not ship fruit in excess of his adjusted allotment less the amount of the repayment, except as otherwise provided in Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.).

§ 966.107 Prorate districts. The following prorate districts are hereby established:

(a) Prorate District No. 1: That portion of California which is north of a line drawn due east and west through the Tehachapi Mountains.

(b) Prorate District No. 2: That portion of California which is south of a line drawn due east and west through the Tehachapi Mountains, but excluding Imperial County and that portion of Riverside County east of a line drawn due north and south through San Jacinto Peak.

(c) Prorate District No. 3: That portion of California which is outside Prorate Districts Nos. 1 and 2, and Arizona.

§ 966.108 Oranges not subject to regulation. In addition to the provisions of Order No. 66 (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.), the following shall apply:

(a) Oranges delivered to the U. S. Army which are strapped and marked for export purposes, and shipped to destinations of exportation, shall be considered by the committee as export shipments and treated as such in its administration of the order.

§ 966.109 Reports. Pursuant to § 966.9, handlers are required to submit the following reports containing the following information to the Orange Administrative Committee, 111 West Seventh Street, Los Angeles, California. Copies of the report forms may be obtained from said committee.

(a) Application for a Prorate Base and Allotments. (O. A. C. Form .1) Name and address of applicant handler; variety of oranges controlled and district where grown; total acreage and number of field boxes under control; dimensions, and cubical contents of field box; names and addresses of producers of oranges under control; description of location of each grove, and estimate of total quantity of each variety of oranges available for current shipment; and agreements or contracts proving control of oranges. (This report must be notarized.)

(b) Report of Weekly Orange Movement. (O. A. C. Form No. 3) Oranges handled in the continental United States, Alaska, or Canada in packed boxes by rail and by truck; packed and loose boxes of oranges handled within the State of California; export shipments; oranges donated to charity or disposed of otherwise; and oranges moved for use in by-products.

(c) Assignment of Allotment Certificate. (O. A. C. Form No. 8) Current weekly regulation period; name and address of consignee; variety and number of packed boxes of oranges assigned and district of production of such oranges; name of person acquiring allotment certificate; and name of person issuing assignment certificate.

(d) Sub-Certificate. (O. A. C. Form No. 9) Weekly regulation period during which Assignment of Allotment Certificate is effective; name and address of handler or purchaser of oranges; variety and number of packed boxes of oranges assigned and district of production of such oranges; name of person acquiring allotment certificate; and name of person issuing assignment certificate.

(e) Orange Diversion Report. (O. A. C. Form No. 11) Name and address of approved by-products plant or charitable organization, or otherwise; district in which oranges are produced; variety and number of boxes diverted to by-products, charity, or otherwise and net weight of such oranges; signature of by-products manufacturer or charitable organization and signature of handler diverting oranges.

[Grapefruit Reg. 71]

PART 933—ORANGES, GRAPEFRUIT, AND TANGERINES GROWN IN STATE OF FLORIDA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and the order, as amended (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 933.1 et seq.; 11 F. R. 9471), regulating the handling of oranges, grapefruit, and tangerines grown in the State of Florida, and the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendations of the committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Pursuant to the aforesaid authority, it is hereby ordered that during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., September 17, 1946, and ending at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., September 30, 1946, no handler shall ship:

(a) Any seeded grapefruit of any variety grown in the State of Florida which grade U. S. Combination Russet, U. S. No. 2 Russet, or U. S. No. 3 or lower than U. S. No. 3 grade (as such grades are defined in the U. S. Standards for Citrus Fruits, issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, effective July 12, 1943), or which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 80 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack (as such pack is defined in the aforesaid U. S. Standards), in a standard box (as such box is defined in the standards for containers for citrus fruit established by the Florida Citrus Commission pursuant to Section 3 of Chapter 20449, Laws of Florida, Acts of 1941 (Florida Laws Annotated § 595.09)); or

(b) Any seedless grapefruit of any variety grown in the State of Florida which grade U. S. Combination Russet, U. S. No. 2 Russet, or U. S. No. 3 or lower than U. S. No. 3 grade (as such grades are defined in the aforesaid U. S. Standards), or which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack 96 grapefruit, packed in accordance with the requirements of a standard pack (as such pack is defined in the aforesaid U. S. Standards), in a standard box (as such box is defined in the aforesaid standards for containers for citrus fruit).

As used herein, "variety," "handler," and "ship" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 2d Sess.) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in that the time intervening between the date when information upon which this regulation is based became available and the time when this regulation must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient for such compliance.

[Lemon Reg. 193]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN THE STATES OF CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Pursuant to the marketing agreement and the order (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 953.1 et seq.) regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective April 10, 1941, and the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, 670, 675; 49 Stat. 750; 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. Pursuant to the aforesaid authority, the quantity of such lemons which may be handled during the said period is hereby fixed at 275 carloads, or an equivalent quantity; and the prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

The Lemon Administrative Committee, in accordance with the provisions of the said marketing agreement and order, shall calculate the quantity of lemons which may be handled by each such handler during the aforesaid period.

As used herein, "handled," "boxes," "handler," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such word in the said marketing agreement and order.

It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN THE STATES OF CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Pursuant to the provisions of the order (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 966.1 et seq.) regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, issued under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation of the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said order, and other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as provided herein, during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., September 15, 1946, and ending at 12:01 a. m.,

P. s. t., September 22, 1946, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Pursuant to the aforesaid authority, the quantity of such oranges which may be handled during the said period is hereby fixed as follows:

(a) Valencia oranges. (1) Prorate District No. 1, zero (0) carloads; (2) Prorate District No. 2, 1,400 carloads; and (3) Prorate District No. 3, zero (0) carloads.

(b) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. Prorate Districts Nos. 1, 2, and 3, zero (0) carloads.

The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference. The Orange Administrative Committee, in accordance with the provisions of the said order, shall calculate the quantity of oranges which may be handled by each such handler during the aforesaid period.

As used herein, "handled," "handler," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in the said order; and "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," and "Prorate District No. 3" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in the order of the Secretary of Agriculture, dated February 11, 1943, establishing prorate districts under the order regulating the handling of California-Arizona oranges.

It is hereby further found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 2d Sess.) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest in that the time intervening between the date when information upon which this regulation is based became available and the time when this regulation must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, is insufficient for such compliance.

Chapter XI—Production and Marketing Administration (War Food Distribution Orders)

[WFO 145, Amdt. 4]

PART 1468—GRAIN

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF GRAIN

War Food Order No. 145, as amended (11 F. R. 4783, 8859, 9551), is hereby further amended as follows:

1. By deleting paragraph (b) (1) and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Mixed feed manufacturers; use of grain and grain by-products. (1) No mixed feed manufacturer shall, during any calendar quarter, use grain, grain products, or grain by-products in a quantity in excess of 85 percent of all grain, grain products and grain by-products used by such manufacturer during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1945: Provided, however, That during the month of September 1946, no mixed feed manufacturer shall use grain, grain products, or grain by-products in a quantity in excess of 85 percent of all grain, grain products and grain by-products used by such manufacturer during the month of September 1945, or in excess of 85 percent of the average monthly quantity of grain, grain products, and grain by-products used by such manufacturer during the months of July, August and September 1945, whichever is the greater. These provisions shall not modify any other limitation with respect to the use, under existing war food orders, of specific types of grain, grain products, or grain by-products.

This order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., September 1, 1946. With respect to violations, rights accrued, liabilities incurred, or appeals taken, prior to said date, under War Food Order No. 145, as amended, all provisions of said order shall be deemed to remain in force for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding, with respect to any such violation, right, liability, or appeal.

(E. O. 9280, 7 F. R. 10179; E. O. 9577, 10 F. R. 8087)

Issued this 10th day of September 1946.

TITLE 24—HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter VIII—Office of Housing Expediter

[Priorities Reg. 3, Amdt 1]

PART 803—PRIORITIES REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Section 803.3, Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 3, is amended by the following changes:

1. The third sentence of paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows: "It applies to all such equipment in WAA stocks (whether in WAA 'confirmed inventory' or not) unless a written offer has been made by WAA for the disposal of such equipment and (1) prior to September 3, 1946 the offer was accepted in writing or (2) on September 3, 1946 the offer had not yet expired under its own terms, and prior to its expiration it is accepted in writing."

2. The last sentence of paragraph (b) is deleted.

3. The first sentence of paragraph (c) is amended to read as follows: "During the period of time defined in paragraph (d) of this section, the War Assets Administration shall not advertise, offer, sell, or dispose of any equipment covered by this section, except in accordance with an offer made in writing by WAA prior to September 3, 1946, or in accordance with a Housing Expediter directive, a Housing Expediter certificate (issued under Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4), a special directive issued by the Civilian Production Administration, or an urgency certificate issued by the Civilian Production Administration."

4. The fifth item in the table at the end of the section is amended to read:

Portable air compressors from 100 c. f. m. to 500 c. f. m., inclusive.

(Title III, 56 Stat. 177, as amended, 60 Stat. 207; 50 U. S. C. App. Supp. 633, CPA Dir. 44, 11 F. R. 8936)

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

[SEAL] WILSON W. WYATT,
Housing Expediter.

[Priorities Reg. 4]

PART 803—PRIORITIES REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

CERTIFICATES FOR SURPLUS MATERIALS AND EQUIPMENT

§ 803.4 Housing Expediter certificates for surplus materials and equipment for the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program—(a) What this section provides. This section provides for special assistance in obtaining from War Assets Administration certain surplus materials or equipment which are needed by persons who will use the materials or equipment in construction or production which will make a substantial contribution to the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program. This section is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to effectuate the purposes of the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946.

The special assistance is in the form of a "Housing Expediter certificate" which entitles the holder to receive a preference in acquiring from WAA the items of material or equipment covered by the certificate, if the items are in available WAA stocks. This section explains how applications should be filed for Housing Expediter certificates, describes the standards for approval of applications, and describes the issuance and effect of Housing Expediter certificates. Among other things, it explains the circumstances in which preference will be given by WAA to veterans holding Housing Expediter certificates.

DEFINITIONS

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this section:

(1) "Available WAA stocks" means all materials and equipment in WAA stocks at any given time except those (i) which are committed to the Veterans' Administration or the Federal Public Housing Authority, (ii) which have been publicly advertised or publicly offered for sale, (iii) for which a written offer for sale by WAA has been accepted in writing, or (iv) for which a written offer for sale by WAA has not yet expired under its own terms at the time in question. The term "available WAA stocks" includes any such materials or equipment held by WAA as surplus, whether in WAA "confirmed inventory" or not. It also includes any such materials or equipment listed on Exhibit A of WAA Regulation 2, as amended, "Property to be set aside for Veterans."

(2) An "industrially-made house, section, or panel" is one which is made in a factory or, in the case of concrete, precast either in a factory or on the building site.

(3) A "critical product" is one which the Housing Expediter has determined to be in such tight supply that the shortage of the product presents a serious threat to the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program. All such products are listed in the table at the end of this section.

(4) "New type material" means any material possessing some characteristics (such as composition, application, or design) different from existing conventional types of materials.

(5) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any other organized group of persons (whether incorporated or not), or legal successor or representative of any of these, or any Federal, State, or local government, or agency, instrumentality, or subdivision thereof.

MATERIALS AND EQUIPMENT COVERED

(c) Type of materials and equipment covered by this section. Housing Expediter certificates may be issued under this section for materials and equipment which are in short supply and are needed by persons who can qualify under paragraphs (h) through (n) of this section. Such materials or equipment may be:

(1) Production materials (to be incorporated directly into a product),

(2) Construction materals (building materials, supplies, and equipment),

(3) Capital equipment (for construction, or for production of products or services), or

(4) Maintenance, repair, or operating supplies (including spare and replacement parts).

(d) Only government-owned surplus. Preference ratings issued under other regulations by the Civilian Production Administration or the National Housing Agency may be used to get materials or equipment out of new production. Housing Expediter certificates issued under this section may not be used to get materials or equipment from new production, but only to acquire government property which has been declared surplus to War Assets Administration and is in available WAA stocks. However, such surplus property may be new or used (including materials and equipment recovered or salvaged from dismantled surplus structures).

APPLICATIONS FOR HOUSING EXPEDITER CERTIFICATES

(e) Filing of applications. An application for a Housing Expediter certificate under this section should be made in duplicate on Form NHA 14–82. Copies of Form NHA 14–82 may be obtained from the offices of the Regional Housing Expediters and the Locality Housing Expediters. (See paragraph (k) of this section for circumstances in which it may also be necessary to file on Form NHA 14–54.) All applications except those filed under paragraph (n) of this section should be addressed to the Regional Housing Expediter of the NHA Region in which the applicant's place of business is located. Applications filed under paragraph (n) of this section should be addressed to the Housing Expediter, Washington 25, D. C.

(f) Consideration of applications. Applications for Housing Expediter certificates will be considered for approval in the following way:

(1) Qualified applications. An application will be considered qualified if it is properly completed and meets the standards for approval described in paragraphs (h) through (n) of this section.

(2) Veterans' set-aside list. A Housing Expediter certificate may be issued upon a qualified application filed under this section for an item listed on Exhibit A of WAA Regulation 2, as amended, "Property to be Set Aside for Veterans," even though the applicant is not a veteran or does not hold a WAA Form 63 veteran's certificate.

(3) Inventory restriction. An application for a Housing Expediter certificate filed under this section will not be approved for more production materials or operating supplies than the applicant will require to meet his scheduled operations during the 60 days immediately following the date of his application, less the amount he has on hand and expects to receive from other sources during that period.

(g) Approval of applications. Housing Expediter certificates will be issued in the following way upon applications which are found to be qualified:

(1) Application filed with Regional Housing Expediter. If the application is filed with the Regional Housing Expediter, he will consider it for approval as provided in paragraph (f) of this section. If the application is approved, the Regional Housing Expediter (acting for the Housing Expediter) will issue to the applicant a Housing Expediter certificate covering the required materials or equipment. The Regional Housing Expediter will also forward a copy of the certificate to the WAA Regional Office in the WAA Region where the applicant's place of business is located.

(2) Application filed with Housing Expediter. If the application is filed with the Housing Expediter, he will consider it for approval and issue a Housing Expediter certificate upon a qualified application in the same manner as described in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

GENERAL CONDITIONS FOR APPROVAL

(h) General conditions for approval of applications. It is the general policy of the Housing Expediter not to issue certificates for surplus materials or equipment held by WAA, but instead to permit such materials and equipment to be disposed of in accordance with Housing Expediter Priorities Regulations 1 and 2, the Surplus Property Act, and applicable regulations issued under the Surplus Property Act. However, the Housing Expediter may issue such certificates under this section if special circumstances as described in one of the paragraphs (i) through (n) of this section are present, and if all the following general conditions are met:

(1) The Housing Expediter finds that the applicant's proposed use of the materials or equipment requested will make a substantial contribution to the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program.

(2) The applicant has been unable to get the materials or equipment from other sources than government-owned surplus in the time required.

(3) In the case of construction equipment, the applicant has been unable to secure in the time required contractual services to carry out the work for which the equipment is needed.

(4) The materials or equipment are purchased for use and not for resale.

(5) The applicant cannot obtain the required materials or equipment under Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 1 or 2 because (i) the materials or equipment are not covered by HEPR–1 or HEPR–2, or (ii) the applicant is not eligible to acquire them under either of those regulations. (However, this condition does not bar an application for materials or equipment covered by HEPR–1 or HEPR–2 if the application is filed by a person—such as a producer of a "critical product" as defined in paragraph (b) (3) of this section—who is not eligible under HEPR–1 or HEPR–2, respectively.)

CONSTRUCTION AND PRODUCTION IMPORTANT TO VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

(i) Continuous use of construction equipment for VEHP. Under the general conditions stated in paragraph (h) of this section, a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued for an item of construction equipment which is in short supply, if (1) the applicant is a builder; contractor; subcontractor; erector of industrially-made houses, sections, or panels (defined in paragraph (b) (2) of this section); or a utility and (2) the Housing Expediter finds that the applicant is likely to make substantially continuous use of the equipment in support of the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program.

(j) To avoid serious delays in VEHP. Under the general conditions stated in paragraph (h) of this section, a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued for an item of production material, construction material, capital equipment, or MRO (maintenance, repair, or operating supplies), if the Housing Expediter finds the item to be in such short supply that if it is not made available from surplus it will delay for a substantial period of time the construction of a large number of housing accommodations which have been partially completed under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program. (If an applicant under this paragraph is a utility, it is not necessary that the housing accommodations be partially completed.) Applicants under this paragraph should pay special attention to paragraph (h) (5) of this section.

(k) Industrially-made houses, sections, or panels. Under the general conditions stated in paragraph (h) of this section, a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued for an item of production material, construction material, capital equipment, or MRO which is in short supply and is needed by a producer of industrially-made houses, sections, or panels (defined in paragraph (b) (2) of this section). To qualify under this paragraph, an applicant must produce industrially-made houses, sections, or panels found by the National Housing Agency to meet technical standards known as "HH Minimum Property Requirements." This finding will be based upon information submitted by the producer on Form NHA 14–54 along with his application for a Housing Expediter certificate on Form NHA 14–82 (unless the information asked for in Form NHA 14–54 has already been submitted to the National Housing Agency). The HH Minimum Property Requirements are available at the National Housing Agency, Washington 25, D. C., and at all State and local offices of the Federal Housing Administration and at the offices of the Regional Housing Expediters. Copies of Form 14–54 are available at the National Housing Agency, Washington 25, D. C., at the offices of the Regional Housing Expediters, and at all State and District Offices of the Federal Housing Administration. Applicants under this paragraph should pay special attention to paragraph (h) (5) of this section.

(l) Critical products. Under the general conditions stated in paragraph (h) of this section, a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued for an item of production material, construction material, capital equipment, or MRO which is in short supply and is needed by a producer of a "critical product" that is listed in the table at the end of this section. (For the definition of "critical product," see paragraph (b) (3) of this section.) It should be emphasized that it is the materials or equipment needed to produce the critical product, rather than the critical product itself, for which a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued under this paragraph.

(m) New Type materials. Under the general conditions stated in paragraph (h) of this section, a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued for an item of production material, construction material, capital equipment, or MRO which is in short supply and is needed by a producer of a "new type material" (as defined in paragraph (b) (4) of this section) who (1) has an individual agreement with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a guaranteed market, or (2) has received other types of financial aid from a federal agency, pursuant to a directive from the Housing Expediter.

(n) Basic materials. Under the general conditions stated in paragraph (h) of this section, a Housing Expediter certificate may be issued for an item of production material, construction material, capital equipment or MRO which is in short supply and is needed by a Federal, State, or local governmental agency or instrumentality for use in a specific program established by the Expediter (in cooperation with the applicant agency or instrumentality) to increase the production of a basic material, such as logs, for the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program.

EFFECT OF HOUSING EXPEDITER CERTIFICATES

(o) Effect of Housing Expediter certificates. WAA shall give the following effect to Housing Expediter certificates:

(1) Valid for 60 days. A Housing Expediter certificate shall be valid for 60 days after its date of issuance.

(2) Search by WAA. Each WAA Regional Office, upon receiving a copy of a Housing Expediter certificate, shall determine promptly whether the materials or equipment described in the certificate are in available WAA stocks, wherever located. When one WAA Regional Office requests other WAA Regional Offices to search for described materials or equipment, the first Regional Offices to search for described the serial number of the Housing Expediter certificate on which the search is being made.

(3) Offer by WAA. If a Regional Office of a particular WAA Region locates in available WAA stocks in that Region the materials or equipment described in a Housing Expediter certificate (whether in response to a search made on a certificate received by that Office, or a certificate notice of which has been received by that Office in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph), the WAA Regional Office shall promptly offer the materials or equipment for disposal to the person who is entitled to next preference under subparagraphs (4) and (5) of this paragraph.

(4) Preference for holders of certificates. Unless the Housing Expediter or the Civilian Production Administration specifically directs otherwise (see paragraphs (p) and (t) of this section), and except as provided in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, each WAA Regional Office shall follow the order of precedence set out below in disposing of any materials or equipment in available WAA stocks in that Region: (i) Persons who hold a Housing Expediter certificate or CPA urgency certificate (issued under Direction 16 to Priorities Regulation 13 of the Civilian Production Administration) which has been received by the WAA Regional Office, covers the materials or equipment in question, and has not yet expired.

(ii) Persons who hold a Housing Expediter certificate or CPA urgency certificate notice of which has been received by the WAA Regional Office from another WAA Regional Office (see subparagraph (2) of this paragraph), which covers the materials or equipment in question, and has not yet expired.

(iii) Other classes of persons.

Within class (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph, each WAA Regional Office shall give preference to the person holding the Housing Expediter certificate or CPA urgency certificate which was received by it, or notice of which was received by it, on the earliest date, and which has not yet expired.

(5) Veterans' preference. Unless the Housing Expediter or the Civilian Production Administration specifically directs otherwise, each WAA Regional Office shall follow the order of precedence set out below in disposing of any materials or equipment in available WAA stock which are listed on Exhibit A of WAA Regulation 2, as amended, "Property to be Set Aside for Veterans":

(i) Persons who hold both a WAA Form 63 veterans' certificate which covers the materials or equipment in question, and a Housing Expediter certificate which has been received by the WAA Regional Office, covers the materials or equipment in question, and has not yet expired.

(ii) Persons who hold a Housing Expediter certificate which has been received by the WAA Regional Office, covers the materials or equipment in question, and has not yet expired.

(iii) Persons who hold a Housing Expediter certificate, notice of which has been received by the WAA Regional Office from another WAA Regional Office, which covers the materials or equipment in question, and has not yet expired.

(iv) Persons who hold a WAA Form 63 veterans' certificate which covers the materials or equipment in question.

Within class (i), (ii), or (iii) of this subparagraph, each WAA Regional Office shall give preference to the person holding the Housing Expediter certificate which was received by it, or notice of which was received by it, on the earliest date, and which has not yet expired.

(6) Terms of sale. WAA may make disposals of materials or equipment under this section upon such terms and conditions as are not in conflict with this section or with the Housing Expediter certificate upon which the disposal is made.

(p) Effect of CPA special directives. Special directives issued by the Civilian Production Administration for surplus materials or equipment shall take precedence over Housing Expediter certificates issued under this section.

USE OF HOUSING EXPEDITER CERTIFICATES

(q) How to use a Housing Expediter certificate. The following are the rules governing the use of Housing Expediter certificates:

(1) Await offer from WAA. At the time a Housing Expediter certificate is issued, the Regional Housing Expediter will advise the person to whom it is issued as to which WAA Regional Office will notify him if an offer is to be made by WAA in accordance with paragraph (o) (3) of this section. The holder of the certificate should not communicate with WAA until receipt of such an offer.

(2) Present written order to WAA. Within 10 days after WAA offers the materials or equipment described in a Housing Expediter certificate to the person named in the certificate, that person should present his copy of the certificate and his written order as required by WAA, together with adequate identification, to the WAA office designated in the offer received by him from WAA.

(3) Not transferable. A Housing Expediter certificate may be used only by the person named in it, and any rights conferred by it on that person may not be transferred.

RESTRICTIONS ON BUYERS

(r) Use of materials or equipment obtained with Housing Expediter certificates. Any material or equipment obtained from WAA by the use of a Housing Expediter certificate issued under this section may be used only for the purpose for which the certificate was obtained.

(s) Sale of materials or equipment obtained with Housing Expediter certificates. If it becomes impossible for a person who obtained materials or equipment under this section to use them for the purpose for which the Housing Expediter certificate was issued, the unused materials or equipment may be disposed of only on authorization in writing by the Housing Expediter upon the basis of a letter from the person explaining the situation and plans for disposal, if any. In general, disposal will be authorized only for purposes which would qualify for a Housing Expediter certificate under this section.

OTHER PROVISIONS

(t) Housing Expediter directives. In addition to Housing Expediter certificates, Housing Expediter directives may be issued covering government-owned surplus needed in the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program. Such directives may cover materials or equipment in WAA stocks even though the materials or equipment have already been publicly advertised or publicly offered for sale. Housing Expediter directives covering materials or equipment already publicly advertised or publicly offered for sale will, in general, be issued only if very extreme and unusual circumstances present such a serious threat to the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program that in the judgment of the Housing Expediter the action is mandatory. As with Housing Expediter certificates, such directives shall not apply to disposals of materials or equipment by WAA pursuant to special directives issued by the Civilian Production Administration.

(u) Appeals. Any person who considers that compliance with any provision of this section would result in an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may appeal for relief. An appeal shall be in the form of a letter in triplicate, addressed to the Housing Expediter, Washington 25, D. C., clearly stating the specific provision of the section appealed from and the grounds for claiming an exceptional and unreasonable hardship.

(v) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this section or who knowingly makes any statement to the Housing Expediter or the War Assets Administration, as to any matter within their respective jurisdictions, which is false in any respect, or who wilfully conceals a material fact in any certification required to be executed under this section, or who wilfully falsifies any records to be kept under this section, shall, upon conviction thereof, be subject to fine or imprisonment, or both, under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Act of 1946 and other applicable Federal Statutes. Any such person or any other person who violates any provision of this section may be prohibited from making or obtaining any further deliveries of, or from using, any materials or facilities suitable for housing construction, and may be deprived of priorities assistance for such materials or facilities.

(w) Reporting and record requirements. Each person or agency participating in any transaction to which this section is applicable shall complete and preserve, for at least two years after the date of the transaction, accurate and complete records of the details of each such transaction. All persons affected by this section shall file such information and reports as may be required by the Housing Expediter (or any person or agency authorized by him to make such requests), subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting and record requirements of this section have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(Title III, 56 Stat. 177, as amended, 60 Stat. 207; 50 U. S. C. App. Supp. 633, CPA Dis. 44, 11 F. R. 8936)

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

[SEAL] WILSON W. WYATT,
Housing Expediter.

TABLE OF CRITICAL PRODUCTS COVERED BY PARAGRAPH (1) OF THIS SECTION

[Priorities Order 3]

PART 803—PRIORITIES REGULATIONS UNDER VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING ACT OF 1946

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY

§ 801.3 Delegation of authority—(a) What this section provides. This section delegates to certain officials in the Office of the Housing Expediter the authority to issue Housing Expediter certificates in accordance with Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4, and to make findings in support of such certificates.

(b) Finding of short supply. The Regional Housing Expediter of each Region of the Office of the Housing Expediter and the Director of the Expediting Branch, Office of Materials Supply, Office of the Housing Expediter, are hereby authorized to determine whether there is a shortage in the supply of any materials or equipment for which an application for a Housing Expediter certificate is filed under Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4.

(c) Housing Expediter certificates. The Regional Housing Expediter of each Region of the Office of the Housing Expediter and the Director of the Expediting Branch, Office of Materials Supply, Office of the Housing Expediter, are hereby authorized to issue Housing Expediter certificates, in accordance with Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4, covering materials or equipment found by the Regional Housing Expediter or the Director of the Expediting Branch, Office of Materials Supply, respectively, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, to be in short supply.

AUTHORITY: §§ 02.1 to 02.8, inclusive, issued under R. S. 463; 25 U. S. C. 2; 43 CFR 4.725.

§ 02.1 Appeals. (a) Any action taken by a District Director or an Agency Superintendent under authority of this Part shall be subject to the right of appeal to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. All appeals must be filed in writing with the officer from whose action the appeal is being taken. Appeals so filed shall be transmitted promptly with the record in the case to the Commissioner. The action of the Commissioner on an appeal is subject to the right of further appeal to the Secretary of the Interior in accordance with the provisions of 43 CFR 4.700.

(b) The Assistant Commissioners of Indian Affairs are severally authorized to dispose finally of any appeal taken pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 02.2 Authority of the Assistant Commissioners. The Assistant Commissioners of Indian Affairs may severally exercise any or all of the authority conferred upon the Commissioner by the Secretary of the Interior in Subpart J, Part 4, Title 43, CFR, and in the general regulations of the Bureau of Indian Affairs appearing in Title 25, CFR.

§ 02.3 Functions relating to Indian health and welfare. (a) The District Directors may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner:

(1) The extension of State health laws and regulations to Indian reservations, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 84.

(2) The negotiation and execution of contracts with States or territories, or political subdivisions thereof, or with private organizations, for medical, nursing or hospital services, as authorized by the act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458; 25 U. S. C. 452-454), and pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 84.

(3) The negotiation and execution of contracts with States or territories, or political subdivisions thereof, or with private organizations, for social service, relief, and child welfare, authorized by the act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458; 25 U. S. C. 452-454).

(b) The Agency Superintendents may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner or the District Directors:

(1) The commitment of insane Indians to Federal or State hospitals or institutions, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 86.

(2) The quarantine of Indians refusing to submit to remedial treatment of contagious or infectious diseases, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 84.

§ 02.4 Functions relating to Indian funds and fiscal matters. (a) The District Directors may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner:

(1) The approval of surety bonds, provided that in the case of a corporate surety the bonding company has been approved by the Treasury Department.

(2) The approval of applications of individual Indians of the Sioux Nation for cash benefits under the acts of March 2, 1889 (25 Stat. 888, 894), June 10, 1896 (29 Stat. 321, 324), and June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 984, 987; 25 U. S. C. 474).

(3) The approval of applications of individual Indians for their pro rata shares of tribal trust funds, made pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 233.

§ 02.5 Functions relating to Indian education. (a) The District Directors may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner:

(1) The negotiation and execution of contracts with State Boards of Education, as authorized by the act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458; 25 U. S. C. 452-454), and pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 46.

(2) The negotiation and execution of agreements with school districts for the admission of Indian students and the payment of tuition, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 45.

§ 02.6 Functions relating to Indian forestry and grazing matters. (a) The District Directors may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner:

(1) The approval of timber sale contracts involving an estimated stumpage volume of not to exceed 15,000,000 feet board measure, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 61.

(2) The determination of the carrying capacity of Indian range lands, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR 71.5.

(3) The negotiation and execution of cooperative fire suppression agreements with Federal, State, and private agencies.

§ 02.7 Functions relating to Indian lands and minerals. (a) The District Directors may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner:

(1) The approval of exchanges of lands between individual Indians and Indian tribes, and between individual Indians and non-Indians.

(2) The approval of the purchase of lands for individual Indians and Indian tribes. This authority extends to and includes the acceptance of options for the acquisition of lands.

(3) The approval of authorizations for the sale of restricted Indian lands pledged as security for the repayment of tribal loans to individuals, and the approval or acceptance of conveyances of such lands in accordance with the terms of the pledge in the event of default.

(4) The approval and certification of allotment exchanges, correction of patent descriptions and cancellation of multiple allotments, as authorized by the act of April 23, 1904 (33 Stat. 297; 25 U. S. C. 343).

(5) The issuance of tax exemption certificates covering lands designated as tax exempt under the provisions of the act of June 20, 1936 (49 Stat. 1542), as amended by the act of May 19, 1937 (50 Stat. 188; 25 U. S. C. 412a).

(6) The approval of leases and permits of tribal lands for farming, grazing, or business purposes, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 171. This authority extends to and includes the waiver of requirements for advertising of leases and the waiver of acreage limitations on leases of lands under irrigation.

(7) The approval of permits for the excavation of ruins and archeological sites and the gathering of objects of antiquity on Indian reservations, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 11.

(b) The Agency Superintendents may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner or the District Directors:

(1) The approval and certification of applications for allotments on the public domain under authority of section 4 of the act of February 8, 1887 (24 Stat. 388, 389; 25 U. S. C. 334).

(2) The approval of leases and permits of tribal lands for farming, grazing, or business purposes, in which the annual rental does not exceed $5,000, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 171.

(3) The approval of sand, gravel, pumice and building stone leases and permits of tribal lands, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 186.

(4) The approval of the negotiation of notes given in connection with deferred payments sales of restricted lands of the Five Civilized Tribes, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR 241.41.

(5) The approval of releases of mortgages given as security for loans made from the restricted funds of individual Indians, upon proof of payment of the loan.

(6) The approval of transfers of Osage headrights belonging to any person not an Indian by blood, pursuant to the provisions of the act of April 12, 1924 (43 Stat. 94).

§ 02.8 Functions relating to irrigation matters. (a) The District Directors may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining the approval of the Commissioner:

(1) The issuance of irrigation operation and maintenance orders fixing per-acre assessments against lands included in Indian Irrigation Projects, under authority of the acts of August 1, 1914 (38 Stat. 583; 25 U. S. C. 385), and March 7, 1928 (45 Stat. 210; 25 U. S. C. 387).

(2) The approval of the purchase price of privately owned lands within the San Carlos Irrigation Project, Arizona, under authority of section 4 of the act of June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 475).

(3) The approval of contracts for the sale of water on an annual basis to lot owners in organized towns on the Crow Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, operated pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 94.

WILLIAM A. BROPHY,
Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter C—Miscellaneous Excise Taxes

[T. D. 5539]

PART 176—DRAWBACK ON DISTILLED SPIRITS AND WINE

By virtue of and pursuant to sections 2887, as amended, 3176 and 3179, Internal Revenue Code, and sections 309 (a), (b), (c), (d) and 313 (d), (i) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1309 (a), (b), (c), (d) and 1313 (d), (i), §§ 176.10, 176.21 (a), 176.57 and 176.85 of Regulations 28, as amended (26 CFR, Part 176), are hereby amended as follows:

DRAWBACK OF INTERNAL REVENUE TAX ON DOMESTIC ALCOHOL USED IN THE MANUFACTURE OF FLAVORING EXTRACTS, MEDICINAL OR TOILET PREPARATIONS, ETC.

Approval of Claim and Payment of Drawback

§ 176.10 Action on claim. Upon receipt of certificate on customs Form 4539

(including a list of the ports of destination) prepared and forwarded by the collector of customs, together with a written request addressed to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue by the claimant for payment of the amount found to be due, the Commissioner will examine the data and if found to be in order, will approve the claim and schedule the amount allowed for payment. If any certificate, Form 4539, covers alcohol used under more than one certificate on Form 646, the Form 4539 shall specify the quantity chargeable against each certificate, Form 646, and the serial number of each such certificate. (Sec. 313 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1313 (d), (i)))

DRAWBACK ON DISTILLED SPIRITS AND WINES BOTTLED ESPECIALLY FOR EXPORT

§ 176.21 Application, Form 237—(a) Procedure. The rectifier shall make application on Form 237 to bottle rectified spirits especially for export or package such spirits for subsequent bottling especially for export in accordance with the applicable provisions of §§ 190.276 to 190.312, inclusive, of this chapter, and an additional copy of such form will be prepared in each case. A notice of intention shall be inserted by the rectifier in each copy of Form 237 after the description of the spirits or wines as follows:

The above-described spirits (or wines) rectified pursuant to Form 122, serial No. ——— dated ———, 19—, are to be bottled especially for export with benefit of drawback.

When the process of manufacturing spirits or wines in accordance with § 176.20 has been completed, the rectifier shall note on Form 237 the quantity of distilled spirits, or wines, or both (calculated on a proof-gallon basis as to spirits and on a wine-gallon basis as to wines) used in manufacturing the spirits or wines. If commercial flavoring extracts containing alcohol, not prepared by the rectifier on his rectifying premises, are used in manufacturing the spirits or wines, the rectifier shall also note on Form 237 the quantity thereof in wine gallons and state the percentage of alcohol by volume. The rectification tax and wine tax, if due, will then be paid and Form 237 disposed of in accordance with the applicable provisions of §§ 190.276 to 190.312, inclusive, of this chapter, and the additional copy of Form 237 will be forwarded to the district supervisor with the original copy of Form 237. The storekeeper-gauger will, upon completion of the bottling or packaging operations, supervise the deposit of the spirits or wines in the export storage room, except as provided by § 176.22.

§ 176.57 Action on claim. The Commissioner will, upon receipt of the claim, Form 1582 or Form 1582-A, from the district supervisor, examine the claim and the records of his office, Forms 230, 122, 237, 1583 and 1600 previously furnished him as provided by §§ 176.16 to 176.23, inclusive, to determine whether the spirits or wines described in the claim have been fully tax-paid. If the Commissioner finds that such spirits or wines have been fully tax-paid he will approve the claim and schedule it for payment. If the claim is disallowed, the Commissioner will so notify the claimant and state the reasons therefor.*

DRAWBACK OF DISTILLED SPIRITS EXPORTED IN DISTILLERS' ORIGINAL PACKAGES

§ 176.85 Action on claim. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue will, upon receipt of the claim and entry, Form 1629, and accompanying documents from the collector of customs, examine the claim and the records of his office to determine whether the spirits described in the claim have been fully tax-paid. If the Commissioner finds that such spirits have been fully tax-paid, he will approve the claim and schedule it for payment. If the claim is disallowed, the Commissioner will so notify the claimant and state the reasons therefor. The duplicate of the drawback bond, Form 1628, will be retained in the files of the Commissioner. (Sections 2887, as amended, and 3176, I. R. C.)

NOTE: The asterisk at the end of § 176.57 refers to section 3179 (b), Internal Revenue Code, and section 309 (a), (b), (c), (d) of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1309 (a), (b), (c) (d)).

[SEAL] WM. T. SHERWOOD,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved: September 10, 1946.

[T. D. 5538]

PART 182—INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL

1. Pursuant to the provisions of sections 3105, 3124 (a) (6), 3176, and 3301 of the Internal Revenue Code, (U. S. C., title 26, sections 3105, 3124 (a) (6), 3176, and 3301), Regulations 3, "Industrial Alcohol" (26 CFR, Part 182), are hereby amended as follows:

OPERATION OF INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL BONDED WAREHOUSES

2. Paragraphs (a) and (c) of § 182.527 are amended to read as follows:

§ 182.527 Stamps—(a) Affixing. Tax-paid, warehousing, and export stamps shall be securely affixed to the Government head of packages or the side of cases with a good adhesive, and, when affixed to wooden packages or cases, with a tack or staple in each corner of the stamp.

(c) Covering. After the stamp has been canceled, it must be covered with a coating of transparent shellac, lacquer, or varnish, to protect it against moisture, alteration and removal. Warehousing stamps are not required to be "scalped" and therefore may be coated over with a glue that does not discolor the stamps and affords protection against moisture, alteration, and removal equal to that afforded by shellac, lacquer, or varnish. (Sec. 3301, I. R. C.)

3. The words "transfer or" are hereby deleted from the titles and cuts, Figures 2, 5, and 7, of § 182.528.

4. § 182.555 is hereby revoked.

5. The last two sentences of the first paragraph of § 182.561 which read "A transfer stamp must be affixed to each package shipped to a denaturing plant not located on the same premises, as required by § 182.555. Transfer stamps need not be affixed to packages transferred to a denaturing plant on the same premises." are hereby deleted.

(Secs. 3105, 3124 (a) (6), and 3176 of the Internal Revenue Code)

PART 184—PRODUCTION OF BRANDY

1. Pursuant to the provisions of sections 2812, 2816, 2819, 2825, 2826, 2841, 2916, 3170, and 3176 of the Internal Revenue Code (U. S. C., title 26, sections 2812, 2816, 2819, 2825, 2826, 2841, 2916, 3170, and 3176), Regulations 55, "Production of Brandy," (1940) (26 CFR, Part 184) are hereby amended, effective January 1, 1947, by inserting a new paragraph at the end of §§ 184.31 and 184.141 and amending §§ 184.128, 184.132, 184.184, 184.185, 184.186, 184.187, 184.231, 184.232, 184.239 (h), 184.240, 184.419, and 184.427 as follows:

FENCES OR WALLS AND GATES

§ 184.31 Construction. • • •

(a) Special application. Where the distiller desires to construct or maintain a fence or wall of a greater height than 5 feet around the distillery, he shall file with the district supervisor a special application therefor, in triplicate, giving a complete description of the fence or wall, including information as to materials, construction, height, and number of gates, and stating the reasons for the construction or maintenance of such fence or wall. The district supervisor will take action on such special application in accordance with the procedure prescribed in §§ 184.141 to 184.154, inclusive. (Secs. 2825, 2826, 3170, I. R. C.)

REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING CHANGES IN NAME, PROPRIETORSHIP, CONTROL, LOCATION, PREMISES, AND EQUIPMENT

§ 184.128 Changes in premises. Where the premises of a fruit distiller are to be extended or curtailed, the distiller must file with the district supervisor an amended notice, Form 27½, and an amended plat of the premises as extended or curtailed. If the plans are affected by the extension or curtailment, they must also be amended. If the distillery is within 600 feet of a rectifying plant the distiller must also file a special application, Form 1613, and plat, in accordance with §§ 184.6 to 184.11, inclusive. The additional premises covered by an extension may not be used for distillery purposes, and the portion of the premises to be excluded by a curtailment may not be used for other than distillery purposes, prior to the approval of the notice, plat and plans if required, filed in connection therewith. (Secs. 2812, 2816, 2819, 3170, I. R. C.)

§ 184.132 Changes in equipment. Where changes are to be made in the distilling apparatus and equipment, the distiller shall first secure approval thereof by the district supervisor pursuant to application, in triplicate, setting forth specifically the proposed changes: Provided, That, emergency repairs may be made under the supervision of the Government officer where one is assigned to the premises without prior approval of the district supervisor. Where such emergency repairs are made, the distiller shall file immediately a report thereof, in triplicate, with the district supervisor. Changes covered by an approved application will also be made under the supervision of the Government officer. Upon completion of any change made under his supervision, the Government officer will submit a report, in triplicate, of the changes to the district supervisor. Upon approval of the report by the district supervisor, the Government officer will authorize the removal of the dismantled equipment, and the use of the new or repaired equipment, or other change. (Secs. 2816, 3170, I. R. C.)

ACTION BY DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.141 Special application. Form 1613. • • •

(a) Fence application. Where a special application for approval of a fence or wall around a distillery premises is submitted and such application conforms to the requirements of these regulations, the district supervisor will, if he finds that the construction and maintenance of such fence or wall would not endanger the revenue or prevent ready access to the distillery by Government officers, note his approval on all copies of the special application, return one copy of the applicant, retain one copy, and forward one copy to the Commissioner with the Notice, Form 27½, bond, and other qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds that the construction and maintenance of such fence or wall is not necessary to afford protection from trespassers, or that the revenue would be endangered thereby, he will note his disapproval on the special application and return all copies to the applicant with a statement of the reasons for disapproval. (Secs. 2825, 2826, 3170, I. R. C.)

MANUFACTURE OF BRANDY

DISTILLATION

§ 184.184 Collection of singlings for redistillation. Where, under the process of distillation employed, singlings are separated and collected for redistillation otherwise than as provided in § 184.183, such singlings shall be run through closed pipes from the still into locked singlings tanks, in which they shall remain until released by the storekeeper-gauger for redistillation under his supervision.

§ 184.185 Gauging of singlings. Where singlings are collected for redistillation otherwise than in a closed, locked still as provided in § 184.183, they need not be gauged (measured and proofed) by the storekeeper-gauger before being released from the singlings tanks for redistillation. Singlings produced each month must be redistilled as expeditiously as possible. They may not be accumulated from month to month, but singlings produced during one month may be mixed with the production for the succeeding month for redistillation if the quantity on hand at the close of the month is first ascertained.

§ 184.186 Redistillation of singlings. When the singlings have been released by the storekeeper-gauger, they shall be run, by means of closed pipe lines, direct from the singlings tank into the still, or the distilling material sump, or the chargers of the still, or the distilling material pipe line leading to the still. tilling material sump, or the chargers of Where the singlings are run into the dis- the still, or the distilling material pipe line leading to the still, such sump or chargers or pipe line must be closed and the operations must take place at the time the distilling material is being run into the still and the singlings thus mixed with the distilling material and distilled with the same. The singlings will be run into the still, or distilling material sump, or chargers of the still, or distilling material pipe line, and redistilled, under the immediate supervision of the storekeeper-gauger.

§ 184.187 Record of singlings. The quantity of singlings on hand at the close of the month will be gauged by the storekeeper-gauger before the tenth day of the month following the month of production. Such quantity will be entered by the distiller on Form 15 rendered for the month of production. (Sec. 2841, I. R. C.)

COLLECTION AND REMOVAL OF DISTILLATES, DISTILLED WATER, FUSEL OIL, AND CARBON DIOXIDE

COLLECTION, AND DESTRUCTION OR REMOVAL FOR DENATURATION, OF CERTAIN DISTILLATES

§ 184.231 Distiller's records. Distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil, collected for destruction or for removal for denaturation, will be included by the distiller in the inventory of singlings reported on Form 15 until gauged and destroyed or removed for denaturation, whereupon appropriate entries will be made on such form covering the disposition of such distillates. Distillates produced during one month may not be mixed with those produced in the succeeding month without prior ascertainment of the quantity on hand at the close of the month. (Sec. 2916, I. R. C.)

§ 184.232 District supervisor's account. The district supervisor will report distillates containing one-half of 1 percent or more of aldehydes or 1 percent or more of fusel oil on Form 412, "District Supervisor's Account of Fruit Distilleries," as indicated by the headings of the columns and lines and in accordance with the instructions printed on the form. (Sec. 2916, I. R. C.)

COLLECTION AND REMOVAL OF FUSEL OIL

§ 184.239 Removal. • • •

(h) Disposition of water used for washing fusel oil. The water used for washing or purifying the oil in the tanks may be conveyed directly to the still, or it may be run into a tank or into the sewer, or it may be otherwise destroyed on the premises under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. If the washwater is run into the still or tank, the quantity will not be entered on Form 15. If the washwater is run into the sewer or otherwise destroyed, the alcoholic content and quantity will be reported on Form 1520 and included in the report of production on Form 15.

RECOVERY AND REMOVAL OF CARBON DIOXIDE

§ 184.240 Procedure. Carbon dioxide may be recovered from fermenters and removed from the distillery premises, provided it is first thoroughly washed or scrubbed and purified to remove the alcohol therefrom. Where carbon dioxide is recovered, the washwater may be collected in a tank and transferred by pipe line to a fermenter or to the distilling material sump, or measuring tank. Where the washwater is transferred to the fermenter or to the distilling material measuring tank the transfer must be made prior to the testing of the distilling material at the time of distillation. Where the washwater is transferred to the distilling material sump after the calculated yield has been determined, the alcoholic content, the number of gallons, and the calculated yield thereof, will be determined and interlined in Part 1 of Form 15. An approved ebulliometer shall be used in determining the alcoholic content of the washwater. If the washwater is not utilized in the manufacture of distilled spirits, it will be run into the sewer or otherwise destroyed on the premises under the supervision of the storekeeper-gauger. Entry of such disposition will not be made on Form 15.

DISTILLER'S RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 184.419 Entry of brandy produced. The quantity of brandy reported produced in all cases will be taken from the storekeeper-gauger's reports on Form 1520 and entered as of the date of gauge. (Sec. 2841, I. R. C.)

DISTRICT SUPERVISOR'S MONTHLY ACCOUNT OF FRUIT DISTILLERIES

§ 184.427 Form 412. District supervisors in whose districts fruit distilleries are located will prepare a monthly account on Form 412, "District Supervisor's Account of Fruit Distilleries," of every fruit distiller's monthly return, Form 15, received by them for the month. The required data for the account will be obtained from the distiller's returns, after such returns have been audited. The entries will be made as indicated by the headings of the columns and lines and in accordance with the instructions printed on the form. Form 412 will be prepared in duplicate and one copy thereof, accompanied by a copy of each distiller's return summarized therein, will be forwarded to the Commissioner not later than the last day of the month succeeding that for which rendered. The remaining copy will be retained by the district supervisor.

(Sec. 3176, Internal Revenue Code.)

[SEAL] WM. T. SHERWOOD,
Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Approved: September 10, 1946.

JOSEPH J. O'CONNELL, JR.,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

[F. R. Doc. 46-16599; Filed, Sept. 13, 1946; 9:01 a. m.]

[T. D. 5543]

PART 184—PRODUCTION OF BRANDY

Sections 2800 (e) (2) and 2815 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code provide as follows:

SEC. 2800. TAX.

* * * * * * *

(e) Lien.

* * * * * * *

(2) Exception during term of bonds. No lien shall attach to any lot or tract of land, distillery, building, or distilling apparatus, under the provisions of this subsection, by reason of distilling done during any period included within the term of any bond taken under the provisions of section 2815 (b) (1) (C).

SEC. 2815. CONDITIONS OF APPROVAL OF DISTILLER'S BOND.

* * * * * * *

(b) Ownership of land or consent of owner—(1) Requirements. No bond of a distiller shall be approved unless:

(A) The distiller is the owner in fee, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, or other lien, of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated; or

(B) The distiller files with the officer designated for the purpose by the Commissioner, in connection with his notice, the written consent of the owner of the fee, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, or other person having a lien thereon, duly acknowledged, that the premises may be used for the purpose of distilling spirits, subject to the provisions of law, and expressly stipulating that the lien of the United States for taxes and penalties shall have priority of such mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance, and that in the case of the forfeiture of the distillery premises, or any part thereof, the title to the same shall vest in the United States, discharged from such mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance; or, if consent as required under this paragraph cannot be obtained,

(C) The distiller, with the approval of the Commissioner, files with the officer designated by the Commissioner a bond, approved by the Commissioner, in the penal sum equal to the appraised value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus. Such value shall be determined, and such bond shall be executed, in such form and with such sureties, and filed with the officer designated by the Commissioner, under such regulations as the Secretary shall prescribe.

(D) In case of any distillery sold at judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, a bond may be taken at the discretion of the Commissioner, in lieu of the written consent required by this section, and the person giving such bond may be allowed to operate such distillery during the existence of the right of redemption from such sale, on complying with all the other provisions of law.

Pursuant to the above provisions of law and sections 2825 and 3176, Internal Revenue Code (U. S. C., title 26, secs. 2800, 2815, 2825, and 3176), Regulations 5, Production of Brandy (26 CFR, Part 184), is hereby amended, effective May 1, 1947, in the following respects:

1. The following paragraphs are revoked: §§ 184.4 (b), 184.4 (c) and 184.4 (s).

2. The following sections are amended: §§ 184.3, 184.60, 184.64, 184.65, 184.128, 184.130, 184.132, 184.133, 184.138 (b), 184.139 (b), 184.140 (b), 184.142, 184.143, 184.148, 184.149, 184.150, 184.151, 184.152, 184.154, 184.156, 184.158, 184.161, 184.163, 184.164, and 184.251.

3. The following new sections are added: §§ 184.67a, 184.67b, 184.67c, 184.67d, 184.67e, 184.67f, 184.67g, 184.134a, 184.134b, 184.141a, 184.155a, 184.159a, 184.161a, and 184.162a.

The effect of these amendments is that fruit distillers will be subject to all the provisions of sections 2800 (e), 2814, and 2815 (b), Internal Revenue Code, on and after May 1, 1947. Therefore, bonds filed by fruit distillers on Form 30½, effective on and after May 1, 1947, will not be approved unless:

(1) The distiller is the owner in fee, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, of the lot or tract of land on which the fruit distillery is situated; or

(2) The distiller files with the district supervisor, in connection with his notice, Form 27½, the written consent of the owner of the fee, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, or other person having a lien or other encumbrance thereon, and of any prior lessees, duly acknowledged, that the premises may be used for the purpose of distilling spirits, subject to the provisions of law, and expressly stipulating that the lien of the United States for taxes and penalties shall have priority over any right, title, or interest, whatsoever of the person giving the consent, and that in the case of the forefeiture of the premises or property, or any part thereof, the title to the same shall vest in the United States, discharged from any such right, title, or interest; except that where such consent cannot be obtained.

(3) The distiller, with the approval of the Commissioner, files with the district supervisor an indemnity bond, in a penal sum equal to the appraised value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus.

The amended and new sections shall read as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 184.3 Definitions. * * *

(s) "Prior lessee" shall mean a lessee whose lease has not terminated.

QUALIFYING DOCUMENTS

§ 184.60 Description of premises. The lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated must be described on Form 27½ by courses and distances, in feet and inches, with the particularity required in conveyances of real estate. If the premises consist of two or more lots or parcels, the condition of the title which is not the same, the entire premises shall be first described, followed by a separate description by courses and distances, in feet and inches, of each such lot or parcel. The continuity of the premises must be unbroken, except that the premises may be divided by a public street or highway, if parts of the premises so divided abut on such street or highway, directly and immediately opposite each other. The premises may be similarly divided by a railroad right of way if the railroad is a common carrier. In such cases, each tract of land constituting the premises shall be described separately on the form. If a portion of the premises is owned in fee, unencumbered, by the distiller, or a portion is owned by the distiller but is encumbered, or a portion is not owned by the distiller and he has procured consent, Form 1602, from the owner and from any encumbrancer, prior lessee, etc., the entire premises shall be described first, followed by a separate description, by courses and distances, in feet and inches, of the portions thereof which are encumbered and/or of the tract which is now owned by the distiller. (Secs. 2800 (e) (1), 2812, I. R. C.)

§ 184.64 Condition of title to premises. The condition of title to the premises shall be shown on Form 27½. If the distiller is the owner of the premises in fee, unencumbered, it shall be so stated. If the distiller is not the owner in fee, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the name and address of the owner of the fee and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, and of any person having a lien or encumbrance, and of all prior lessees thereon, shall be stated. Where the written consent of the owner of the fee and of any mortgagees, judgment-creditors, lienors, encumbrancers, or lessees, is filed, as provided in § 184.67a, or where an indemnity bond is filed in lieu of such written consent, as provided in §§ 184.67d and 184.67e, such fact, together with information as to the kind, date, and amount of the encumbrance and the balance due thereon, shall be shown on the Form 27½ in connection with the statement of the present condition of the title. If the premises are occupied under a lease, the name of the owner, the name of the lessor, the length of the term, and the date of its expiration, shall be stated. In cases where an indemnity bond is filed, the date of the Commissioner's approval of the filing of such bond shall also be given. (Secs. 2800 (e) (1), 2812, 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.65 Condition of title to apparatus and equipment. The distiller's title to, or interest in, the distilling apparatus and equipment shall be shown on Form 27½. If the distiller is not the owner of such apparatus and equipment, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, the name and address of the owner thereof and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor or encumbrancer, or conditional sales vendor, shall be stated. Where the written consent of the owner and of the mortgagees, judgment-creditors, lienors, or other encumbrancers, or conditional sales vendors, is filed, as provided in § 184.67a, or where an indemnity bond is filed in lieu of such written consent, as provided in §§ 1184.67d and 184.67e, such fact, together with information as to the kind, date, and amount of the encumbrance and the balance due thereon, or, if the apparatus was purchased under a conditional sales contract, or other form of title retaining contract, the purchase price and the balance due shall be shown in connection with the statement of the distiller's title to, or interest in, the property. In cases where an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, is filed, the date of the Commissioner's approval of the filing of such bond shall also be given. (Secs. 2800 (e) (1), 2812, 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67a Consent, Form 1602. Where the distiller is not the owner in fee of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or is not the owner of the distilling apparatus and equipment, unencumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, he must file the written consent of the owner and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, or other encumbrancer, conditional sales vendor, or prior lessee, that the premises or property may be used for the purpose of distilling spirits, subject to the provisions of law, and expressly stipulating that the lien of the United States for taxes and penalties shall have priority over any right, title, or interest of the person giving the consent, and that, in the case of the forfeiture of the premises or property, or any part thereof, the title to the same shall vest in the United States, discharged from any such right, title or interest, except that, where such consent cannot be obtained, or where the distillery was sold at a judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, and there exists a right of redemption from such sale, the distiller may file in lieu of such consent, an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, as hereinafter provided. This consent shall be executed on Form 1602, in triplicate, in accordance with the instructions printed thereon, duly acknowledged before an officer authorized to take acknowledgment of deeds, properly recorded, and submitted to the district supervisor with the notice, Form 27½, and made a part thereof. The acknowledgment and certificate of recordation shall be executed on all three copies of the form. A new consent will be required for each year beginning on the first day of May, unless the consent is given for a definite period of time exceeding one year, in which event the consent should be given in terms to expire at the beginning of an annual period, May 1. If, after such consent is filed, the premises are extended and the distiller is not the owner in fee, unencumbered of the additional premises, or additional apparatus and equipment are installed and the distiller or the party who executed the consent then in effect is not the owner thereof unencumbered, a consent on Form 1602 must be filed for such additional premises or apparatus and equipment. A new consent will also be required whenever there is a change of proprietorship, including a succession for a temporary period by a lessee or fiduciary, unless the consent procured by the predecessor specifically covers operation of the premises by his successor or assigns. In the event of failure of such consent, the distiller will be no longer qualified, unless an indemnity bond on Form 3–A is filed. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67b Permission required for filing bond, Form 3–A. Where the distiller cannot obtain the written consent of the owner of the fee of the distillery premises, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditors, lienor, prior lessee, or other person having an encumbrance thereon, or where he cannot obtain such consent of the owner of the apparatus and equipment, and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, conditional sales vendor, lienor, prior lessee, or other encumbrancer, and desires to file an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu of such consent, he shall file application, in triplicate, with the district supervisor for permission so to do. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67c Application. The application shall contain (1) an accurate description of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, and of the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus and equipment thereon; (2) a full and clear statement of the condition of the title to the premises and apparatus and equipment, including the name and address of the owner and of all mortgagees, judgment-creditors, conditional sales vendors, prior lessees, and other persons having liens or encumbrances thereon, the kind, date, and amount of each encumbrance and the balance due thereon, and, in the case of apparatus and equipment purchased under a conditional sales contract, or other form of title retaining contract, the purchase price and the balance due; and (3) a full and clear statement of the reasons why the applicant cannot obtain the prescribed written consent. The district supervisor and Commissioner will take action on such application in accordance with the provisions prescribed in §§ 184.141 to 184.158, inclusive. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67d Bond, Form 3–A. If the application is approved by the Commissioner, the distiller shall execute bond on Form 3–A, in triplicate, in conformity with the provisions of § 184.83 to 184.104, inclusive, and file the same with the district supervisor. The penal sum of the bond shall be equal to the appraised value of the lot or trace of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and the distilling apparatus. If, after such bond is filed, the value of the distillery premises, buildings, or distilling apparatus is increased by additional land, buildings, or distilling apparatus, an additional bond on such form to cover the increase of value will be required: Provided, That, if such increase in value is less than $500, no additional bond will be required. In the event of a failure of bond on Form 3–A, the distiller will be no longer qualified unless a new and satisfactory bond is filed, or consent, as required by § 184.67a is obtained, and approved as required by the regulations in this part. The appraisal shall be made in accordance with the provisions of § 184.67f. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67e Bond in lieu of consent where distillery is sold for United States. Where a distillery is sold at a judicial or other sale in favor of the United States, the distiller may give bond on Form 3–A in lieu of the consent of the person possessing the right of redemption and of any mortgage, judgment-creditor, lienor, prior lessee, or other encumbrancer, and be allowed, upon complying with all other provisions of law and the regulations in this part, to operate the distillery during the existence of the right of redemption from such sale. A distiller desiring to give bond in such case shall file application, in triplicate, with the district supervisor for permission so to do. The application shall contain a full and clear statement of the condition of the title, including the name and address of the person having the right of redemption and of all encumbrancers, the kind, date, and amount of each encumbrance, the date of the sale and the date of expiration of the right of redemption. The penal sum of the bond shall be equal to the appraised value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, together with the buildings and distillery apparatus. If, after such bond is filed, the value of the distillery premises, buildings, or distilling apparatus is increased by additional land, buildings, or distilling apparatus, an additional bond on such form to cover the increase in value will be required: Provided, That, if such increase in value is less than $500, no additional bond will be required. The appraisal shall be made in accordance with the provisions of § 184.67f. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67f Appraisal. The appraisal to determine the penal sum of the bond on Form 3–A shall be made by two or more competent persons designated by the district supervisor. The appraisers shall render to the district supervisor a report, in duplicate, showing separately the value of the land and buildings and the distilling apparatus, and containing a full and clear statement of the methods employed by them in determining their valuations. The appraisal shall be at the expense of the distiller, unless it is made by Government officers. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.67g Certificate of title. The distiller shall submit a certificate and, when required, an abstract, in triplicate, of the title to the distillery premises, prepared by a person authorized by the laws of the State in which the distillery is located to prepare such documents. The document must contain an accurate description of the distillery premises corresponding to that set forth in the distiller's notice, and any liens or other encumbrances on the property must be fully described. Such certificate shall accompany the distiller's notice and be made a part thereof. (Secs. 2800 (e), 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING CHANGES IN NAME, PROPRIETORSHIP, CONTROL, LOCATION, PREMISES AND EQUIPMENT, AND IN THE TITLE TO DISTILLERY PROPERTY OR THE ENCUMBRANCE THEREOF

§ 184.128 Changes in premises. • • •

(a) Bond, Form 3–A. In the case of an extension of the distillery premises, if the value of such premises is increased by the addition of land, buildings, equipment, etc., where an indemnity bond has been filed in lieu of consent of the owner or of any encumbrancer, a new or additional indemnity bond on Form 3–A must be filed in accordance with § 184.67d.

(b) Consent, Form 1602. Where the distiller is the owner in fee unencumbered, or has procured the consent of the owner or any encumbrancer, of the premises, and such premises are extended to include additional land, buildings, etc., the distiller, if he is not the owner in fee unencumbered of the extended premises (including buildings, etc.), must procure the consent of the owner or of any encumbrancer of such extended premises, and the buildings, apparatus and equipment thereon, in accordance with § 184.67a, or in lieu thereof, file an indemnity bond on Form 3–A, in accordance with § 184.67d. (Secs. 2812, 2815 (b), 2816, 2819, 3170, I. R. C.)

§ 184.130 Indemnity bond covering changes in buildings. If buildings on the distillery premises, or on premises which have been eliminated from the distillery premises, are to be demolished or altered in such a manner as to decrease the value of the property, and a lien for taxes exists on such property under section 2800 (e), I. R. C., the distiller, if (1) the owner of the fee unencumbered or (2) consents in accordance with § 184.67a are necessary and have been obtained, must file with the district supervisor an indemnity bond, Form 1617, in triplicate, in a penal sum equal to the decrease in the value of the property: Provided, That, if such decrease in value is less than $500 no indemnity bond will be required. (Sec. 2800 (e), I. R. C.)

§ 184.132 Change in equipment. • • •

(a) Installation of additional equipment—(1) Consent, Form 1602. Where the distiller is the owner in fee unencumbered, or has procured the consent of the owner or of any encumbrancer, of the premises, apparatus, and equipment thereon, and additional apparatus and equipment are installed, the distiller, if he is not the owner in fee unencumbered of the additional apparatus and equipment, must procure the consent of the owner or any encumbrancer in accordance with § 184.67a, or in lieu thereof file an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in a penal sum equal to the appraised value of the entire premises, including the additional apparatus and equipment in accordance with § 184.67d.

(2) Bond, Form 3–A. If the distiller has filed an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu of the consent of the owner or any encumbrancer, in accordance with the provisions of § 184.67d, and the value of the premises is increased by the installation of additional apparatus or equipment, an additional or new bond on Form 3–A to cover the increase in value will be required, in accordance with the provisions of § 184.67d. (Secs. 2815 (b), 2816, 3170, I. R. C.)

§ 184.133 Indemnity bond covering removal of equipment. If apparatus or equipment on which a lien has attached under section 2800 (e), I. R. C., for taxes on spirits produced which has not been tax-paid or withdrawn for a tax-free purpose, is to be removed from the distillery premises without replacement thereof with apparatus or equipment in kind, that will become a real fixture in law, of an equal or greater value than the apparatus or equipment to be removed (1) where the distiller is the owner of the premises in fee unencumbered, whether the property is realty or personalty, or (2) where consents in accordance with § 184.67a are necessary and have been obtained, whether the property is realty or personalty, the distiller must file with the district supervisor an indemnity bond on Form 1617, in triplicate, in a penal sum equal to the value of the apparatus or equipment to be removed or equal to the excess in value of the old apparatus or equipment to be removed over the value of the new apparatus or equipment to be substituted therefor: Provided, That, if such value, or difference in value, as the case may be, is less than $500, no indemnity bond will be required. The value of the apparatus or equipment to be removed, or the difference between the value of such apparatus or equipment and the value of the apparatus or equipment to be substituted therefor, will be determined by appraisal in the manner prescribed in § 184.67f. (Sec. 2800 (e), I. R. C.)

CHANGE IN TITLE TO DISTILLERY PROPERTY OR THE ENCUMBRANCE THEREOF

§ 184.134a Change of title. Where the title to the lot or tract of land upon which the fruit distillery is located is changed by a sale, judicial or otherwise, or where there is any change in the ownership of the premises or the apparatus or equipment, subsequent to the approval of bond, Form 30½, the distiller is no longer qualified. If the distiller desires to qualify for further operations when such a change occurs, he must file an amended notice, Form 27½, together with the necessary consent, Form 1602, or, in lieu of such consent, an indemnity bond, Form 3–A. In addition to such amended notice and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, the Commissioner may, in his discretion, require the distiller to file a new bond, Form 30½. (Secs. 2812, 2814, 2815, I. R. C.)

§ 184.134b Encumbrance. If, subsequent to the approval of the distiller's bond, Form 30½, the lot or tract of land upon which the distillery is situated, or any part thereof, or any of the apparatus or equipment becomes subject to, or encumbered by, any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, the distiller must immediately file (1) an amended notice, Form 27½, (2) consent on Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu of such consent, and (3) a consent of surety on his present bond, Form 30½, or a new bond, Form 30½, in lieu of such consent. (Secs. 2812, 2814, 2815, I. R. C.)

REQUIREMENTS GOVERNING ALTERNATE OPERATIONS AS REGISTERED DISTILLERY OR INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL PLANT

§ 184.138 Where no bonded warehouse on premises. • • •

(b) Resumption. • • •

(4a) Consent of owner or encumbrancer. File a new consent of the owner or encumbrancer on Form 1602, in triplicate, in accordance with § 184.67a, if the distillery is operated as a registered distillery or industrial alcohol plant by a person other than the fruit distiller (unless the consent procured by the fruit distiller names each grantee who is to operate the premises or his successors or assigns), or if, since operations as a fruit distillery were suspended, there has been any change in the title to the fruit distillery premises or apparatus or equipment, or if such premises, apparatus, or equipment has become encumbered by any mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or if there has been installed new apparatus or equipment not owned by the fruit distiller free of encumbrances. If such consent on Form 1602 cannot be obtained, an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu thereof, must be filed, as provided in § 184.67d.

• • • • •

(b) Resumption. Where operation of the plant as a registered distillery or industrial alcohol plant has been suspended, and operation thereof as a fruit distillery is to be resumed, the fruit distiller must comply with § 184.138 (b) (3), (4a), (5), and (6), and in addition thereto, the following requirements:

• • • • •

§ 184.140 Where bonded warehouse is discontinued or eliminated from fruit distillery premises. • • •

(b) Resumption. Where operation of the plant as a registered distillery or industrial alcohol plant has been suspended, and operation thereof as a fruit distillery is to be resumed, the fruit distiller must comply with § 184.138 (b) (3), (4a), (5), and (6), and in addition thereto, the following requirements:

• • • • •

ACTION BY DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

§ 184.141a Indemnity bond application. Where an application for permission to file an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu of the written consent of the owner of the distillery premises or apparatus or equipment, or of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, or other person having an encumbrance thereon, or conditional sales vendor, is submitted by the applicant and such application conforms to the requirements of the regulations in this part, the district supervisor will cause an investigation to be made of the facts upon which the application is based, and will designate two or more competent persons to make an appraisal of the value of the lot or tract of land on which the distillery is situated, the distillery, the buildings, and apparatus and equipment. The appraisal shall be made as provided in § 184.67f. Upon receipt and examination of the appraisal and investigation reports, the district supervisor will endorse his recommendation on the application and forward all copies thereof, together with the original report of the appraisal and a copy of the report of the investigation, to the Commissioner. Where the application is approved by the Commissioner, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of the approved copies thereof from the Commissioner, forward one copy to the applicant and retain one copy. If the application is disapproved, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of the same from the Commissioner, return all copies to the applicant with advice as to the reasons for disapproval. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.142 Examination of other qualifying documents. The district supervisor will examine the notice, plat, plans, bond, consent (Form 1602), if any, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu thereof, and other documents required by the regulations in this part of persons intending to qualify as distillers, to determine whether they have been properly executed, and whether they reflect compliance with the requirements of the law and regulations. Where any required document has not been filed, or where errors or discrepancies are found in those filed, or where the documents filed do not reflect compliance with the regulations in this part, action thereon will be held in abeyance until the omission, or error, or discrepancy has been rectified, and there has been full compliance with all requirements.

§ 184.143 Inspection of premises. When the required documents have been filed in proper form, the district supervisor will assign an inspector to examine the premises, buildings, apparatus, and equipment, and determine whether they conform with the description thereof in the notice, plat, and plans, and special application, if any, and whether the construction and measures of protection afforded meet the requirements of the law and regulations. The inspector will observe particularly the manner in which the rooms or buildings on the premises are separated from each other and from other premises, means of communication, ingress and egress, adequacy of protection afforded windows, doors, and other openings, construction of apparatus and equipment, and the suitability of the Government office and facilities. The inspector will also make careful inquiry respecting the applicant's title to, or interest in, the lot or tract of land, the distillery, and the apparatus and equipment, in order to determine whether proper consents on Form 1602 of the owner and of any mortgagees, judgment-creditors, lienors, other encumbrancers, conditional sales vendors, or prior lessees, have been procured and submitted by the applicant. To this end, the inspector will examine the records in the office of the recorder of deeds or other office where titles and matters affecting titles are filed to verify the statements of the applicant respecting this title to, or interest in, the property. The inspector should require the applicant to submit for examination invoices, bills of sale, conditional sales contracts, leases, or other commercial papers for verification of the statements made on Form 27½ respecting his title to, or interest in, the apparatus and equipment. Where the inspection discloses minor irregularities in the qualifying documents or in the construction, the inspector will, at the time of their discovery, direct the attention of the applicant to the same in order that the applicant may correct the defects before completion of the inspection. Upon completion of the inspection, a report thereof will be submitted to the district supervisor.

§ 184.148 Approval of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds, upon completion of his investigation and examination of the inspection report, that the person seeking to qualify as a fruit distiller is qualified to hold a permit and has complied in all respects with the requirements of law and the regulations in this part and if the notice, Form 27½, bond, Form 30½, and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, if any, filed in lieu thereof, may properly be approved, he will note his recommendation for approval on all copies of the notice, distiller's bond, and consent or indemnity bond (if any), and his approval on all copies of the plat, plans, and other qualifying documents, and will forward all copies of the notice, bond, consent or indemnity bond (if any), plat, plans, and other qualifying documents, together with a copy of all inspection reports, to the Commissioner for final action. The original copy of the application for permit will be forwarded to the Commissioner with such qualifying documents.

§ 184.149 Disapproval of qualifying documents. If the district supervisor finds that the applicant has not complied in all respects with the requirements of the law and regulations, or that the situation of the premises is such as would enable the applicant to defraud the United States, or that the application for permit, notice, or bond should be disapproved, he will note his recommendation for disapproval on the notice, Form 27½, bond, Form 30½, and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A (if any), filed in lieu of such consent, and will forward to the Commissioner for final action such copies of the qualifying documents as are required to be so forwarded by the preceding section in the case of recommendation for approval, together with a copy of all inspection reports. Where an application or bond is recommended for disapproval, the district supervisor will furnish the Commissioner with a full statement of the reasons therefor.

§ 184.150 Disposition of qualifying documents. Where notice, Form 27½, special application, Form 1613 (if any), bond, Form 30½, and consent, Form 1602 (if any), or indemnity bond, Form 3–A, filed in lieu thereof, are approved by the Commissioner, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of approved copies of such documents from the Commissioner, as provided in §§ 184.155 to 184.158, inclusive, forward one copy of notice, Form 27½, bond, Form 30½, and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A (if any), plat, plans, and other qualifying documents, and the original copy of the Federal Alcohol Administration Act permit, to the applicant, and will retain one copy of such qualifying documents for the file of the applicant in his office. The extra copy of the special application, Form 1613 (if any), received from the Commissioner will be placed by the district supervisor in the file of the rectifier. If the notice, Form 27½, bond, Form 30½, special application, Form 1613 (if any), and consent, Form 1602, or indemnity bond, Form 3–A (if any), are disapproved, the district supervisor will, upon receipt from the Commissioner of the disapproved copies of such documents and other qualifying documents submitted therewith, return all copies of the qualifying documents to the applicant with advice as to the reasons for disapproval. In the case of disapproval of bonds, the district supervisor shall notify the surety or sureties of such action.

CHANGES SUBSEQUENT TO ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.151 Procedure applicable. The foregoing provisions of §§ 184.141 to 184.154, inclusive, respecting the action required of district supervisors in connection with the original establishment of distilleries will be followed, to the extent applicable, where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name, or in the trade name or style, where the premises are to be operated initially under a trade name or style, or where there is a change in the proprietorship, location, premises, construction, apparatus and equipment, or in the type of plant, or in the title to the distillery property, or where such property becomes subject to a mortgage, judgment, lien, or other encumbrance, or where operations are permanently discontinued: Provided, That, where there is a change in the individual, firm, or corporate name of the distiller, or where a distillery is to be again operated under a trade name or style previously approved by the Commissioner, the district supervisor may authorize the commencement of operations prior to review of the qualifying documents by the Commissioner. In such cases, the district supervisor will notify the distiller by letter and attach one copy of such letter to the qualifying documents.

§ 184.152 Indemnity bond, Form 1617. Where changes to be made in distillery buildings or former distillery buildings or distillery equipment are such as to require the filing of an indemnity bond on Form 1617, as provided in §§ 184.130 and 184.133, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of a satisfactory bond, note his recommendation for approval thereon and forward all copies thereof to the Commissioner accompanied by the original of the report submitted by the designated appraisers. If the bond is approved by the Commissioner, the district supervisor will, upon receipt of the approved copies thereof from the Commissioner, forward one copy to the distiller and retain one copy.

ANNUAL NOTICES, CONSENTS (FORM 1602) AND BONDS, CONSENTS OF SURETY, AND ADDITIONAL AND SUPERSEDING BONDS

§ 184.154 Procedure applicable. The procedure prescribed herein for the approval and disapproval of notices and bonds submitted in connection with the establishment of fruit distilleries will, to the extent applicable, govern the approval and disapproval of annual notices, consents (Form 1602) and bonds, consents of surety, and additional and superseding bonds.

ACTION BY COMMISSIONER

ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.155a Indemnity bond application. When an application for permission to file an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, in lieu of the written consent of the owner, mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, encumbrancer, prior lessee, conditional sales vendor, etc., is received from the district supervisor, bearing his recommendation for approval or disapproval, the Commissioner will examine the same in connection with the appraisal and investigation report. If the Commissioner finds that, under the regulations, an indemnity bond may properly be accepted in lieu of such consent, and if he is satisfied that the valuation placed upon the property by the appraisers is fair, he will note his approval on all copies of the application, retain one copy and the appraisal and investigation reports submitted therewith, and return two copies to the district supervisor. If the application is disapproved, the Commissioner will note his disapproval thereon, and return all copies to the district supervisor with a statement of the reasons for disapproval. (Sec. 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.156 Other qualifying documents. The Commissioner will also review the notice, Form 27½, plat, plans, bond (Form 30½), consent (Form 1602), or indemnity bond (Form 3–A) (if any), and other qualifying documents, including application for Federal Alcohol Administration Act permit, upon their receipt from the district supervisor. If the Commissioner approves the construction and equipment of the distillery and the notice, plat, plans, bond (Form 30½), consent (Form 1602), or indemnity bond (Form 3–A) (if any), and other qualifying documents, he will assign a registry number to the fruit distillery in accordance with the provisions of § 184.157, note his approval on all copies of the notice, Form 27½, bond (Form 30½), and the consent (Form 1602), or indemnity bond (Form 3–A) (if any), retain one copy of the notice, Form 27½, bond, and consent or indemnity bond (if any), and other qualifying documents, and will return two copies of the approved notice, Form 27½, bond (Form 30½), and consent (Form 1602), or indemnity bond (Form 3–A) (if any), to the district supervisor with advice as to his action on the qualifying documents. If the Commissioner disapproves the notice, Form 27½, or bond (Form 30½), or consent (Form 1602), or indemnity bond (Form 3–A) (if any), he will note his disapproval thereon and will return all copies thereof to the district supervisor, accompanied by the other qualifying documents submitted therewith, and a statement of the reasons for disapproval. (Secs. 2814, 2815 (b), 3170, I. R. C.)

CHANGE SUBSEQUENT TO ORIGINAL ESTABLISHMENT

§ 184.158 Procedure applicable. The foregoing provisions of §§ 184.155 to 184.158, inclusive, respecting the action of the Commissioner in connection with the establishment of fruit distilleries will be followed, to the extent applicable, where there is a change in the name, or in the firm name, trade name or style, or in the proprietorship, location, premises, construction, apparatus and equipment, of the distillery, or in the type of plant, or in the title to the distillery property, or where such property becomes subject to a mortgage, judgment, or other encumbrance.

TERMINATION OF BONDS

§ 184.159a Termination of indemnity bonds—(a) Form 3–A. Indemnity bonds (Form 3–A) given in lieu of the consent of the owner of the distillery premises or property and of any mortgagee, judgment-creditor, lienor, encumbrancer, conditional sales vendor, etc., to priority of the Government's lien for taxes and penalties and other interests, run for an indefinite period. Such bonds may be terminated as to liability for future operations of the distillery, (1) pursuant to application by the surety as provided in § 184.161, (2) upon approval of a superseding bond or discontinuance of business by the principal, or (3) upon the distiller (a) becoming the owner in fee unencumbered of the property covered by the bond or (b) filing the consent of the owner or encumbrancer, and the tax-payment or lawful tax-free withdrawal of all spirits produced while such indemnity bond was in force. Application for notice of termination of such bonds upon approval of the superseding bond or discontinuance of the business or under condition (3) above must be filed in duplicate with the district supervisor.

(b) Form 1617. Indemnity bonds (Form 1617) given in connection with changes in buildings and equipment on which a lien has attached under section 2800 (e), I. R. C., may be terminated (1) upon approval of a superseding bond (Form 1617), or (2) upon tax-payment or removal for a lawful tax-free purpose of all spirits produced while the property, covering which the indemnity bond was filed, formed a part of the distillery premises and equipment. Application for notice of termination of such bonds must be filed in duplicate with the district supervisor. (Secs. 2800 (e), 2815 (b), I. R. C.)

§ 184.161 Application of surety for relief from bond. A surety on any bond required by the regulations in this part may at any time in writing notify the principal and the district supervisor in whose office the bond is on file that he desires, after a date named, which shall be at least 60 days after the date of notification, to be relieved of liability under said bond. The notice shall be executed in triplicate by the surety, who shall deliver one copy to the principal, and the other two copies to the district supervisor, who will retain one copy and transmit the remaining copy to the Commissioner. This notice may not be given by an agent of the surety unless it is accompanied by a power of attorney, duly executed by the surety, authorizing the agent to give such notice, or by a verified statement that such power of attorney is on file with the Department. The surety must also file with the district supervisor an acknowledgment or other proof of service of such notice on the principal.

(a) Extent of release from liability. If such notice is not thereafter in writing withdrawn, the rights of the principal, as supported by said bond, shall be terminated on the date named in the notice, and the surety shall be relieved (1) in the case of a fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) from liability for spirits produced wholly subsequent to the date named in the notice, (2) in the case of indemnity bonds, Form 3–A, from liability for spirits produced at the fruit distillery wholly subsequent to such date, and (3) in the case of export bonds (Forms 547, 548, 657, and 658), from liability for spirits withdrawn for export wholly subsequent to such date. If the principal fails to file a valid superseding bond prior to the date on which the surety desires to be relieved from liability under the bond, the surety, notwithstanding his release from liability as specified in conditions (1), (2), and (3) above, shall continue to remain liable under the bond for all spirits on hand on said date, until the same has been lawfully disposed of or a new bond has been filed by the principal covering the same. Sureties may be relieved from liability on indemnity bonds filed on Form 1617 only (1) upon approval of a superseding bond, or (2) upon tax-payment or removal for a lawful tax-free purpose of all spirits produced while the property, covering which the indemnity bond was filed, formed a part of the distillery premises and equipment.

(b) Notice of release from liability—(1) Bonds, Forms 30½ and 3–A. In the case of distiller's bonds on Form 30½ and indemnity bonds on Form 3–A, if the distiller files a valid superseding bond prior to the date named in the surety's application, the district supervisor will issue "Notice of Release" on Form 1491, in accordance with §§ 184.162, 184.162a, and 184.163. If the distiller fails to file such superseding bond, the district supervisor will, by letter, notify the surety of such fact and of his continued liability under the bond for brandy produced under such bonds and still on hand in the distillery or in warehouse on the date named in the surety's application. The district supervisor will also at such time (1) notify the distiller that no more brandy may be produced until a valid superseding bond is filed, and (2) instruct the storekeeper-gauger to lock the furnace doors or control valves in accordance with § 184.384.

(2) Bonds, Forms 547, 548, 657, and 658. In the case of export bonds on Forms 547, 548, 657, and 658, the district supervisor will issue "Notice of Termination" on Form 1490, in accordance with §§ 184.162 and 184.163.

(3) Bonds, Form 1617. In the case of indemnity bonds on Form 1617, if the distiller files a valid superseding bond, or tax-pays or removes for a lawful tax-free purpose all spirits produced while the property, covering which the indemnity bond was filed, formed a part of the distillery premises and equipment, the district supervisor will issue "Notice of Release" on Form 1491, in accordance with §§ 184.162, 184.162a, and 184.163.

§ 184.161a Application for notice of termination. Where the distiller has filed a proper superseding bond in lieu of a previously filed fruit distiller's bond, or indemnity bond (Form 3–A or Form 1617), or has discontinued business in accordance with the requirements of the regulations in this part, or (in the case of indemnity bond on Form 1617) has tax-paid or removed for a lawful tax-free purpose all spirits covered by the bond, and the principal or surety desires to secure notice of termination of the bond for which the principal no longer has any use, application therefor, in writing, will be made in duplicate where it is desired to secure the issuance of notices of the termination of fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) or indemnity bonds (Form 3–A or 1617).

§ 184.162a Action on application for notice of termination of indemnity bonds. When an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond, Form 3–A, as to future operations of a fruit distillery is filed with the district supervisor in a case where a superseding bond has been approved, or the principal has discontinued business, as provided in § 184.159a, the district supervisor will take action in accordance with the procedure prescribed in § 184.162, respecting application for termination of a distiller's bond. When an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond, Form 1617, covering changes in buildings or equipment is filed with the district supervisor, he will make a complete inquiry to determine whether all spirits, the tax on which constituted the lien in relation to which the bond was given, has been tax-paid or removed for a lawful tax-free purpose, and will forward one copy of such application to the Commissioner with his recommendation for approval or disapproval, determined according to the results of his inquiry, and will retain the remaining copy. The district supervisor will not issue notice of termination of any indemnity bond until he has been notified of the Commissioner's approval of the application therefor.

§ 184.163 Notices, Forms 1490 and 1491. Upon receipt of advice from the Commissioner of his approval of an application for the issuance of notice of the termination of a distiller's bond (Form 30½) or of an indemnity bond (Form 3–A) as to liability for future operations of the fruit distillery, the district supervisor will execute Form 1490, "Notice of Bond Termination," where a superseding bond has been approved, or Form 1491, "Notification of Release of Bond," where the principal has discontinued business, in quadruplicate (in quintuplicate if there are two sureties), and will forward the original to the Commissioner, one copy to each obligor on the bond, and retain one copy on file with the bond with which it relates. Similar action will be taken by the district supervisor upon receipt of advice from the Commissioner of his approval of an application for notice of termination of an indemnity bond on Form 1617.

§ 184.164 Release of collateral. The release of collateral pledged and deposited with the United States to support bonds required by the regulations in this part will be in accordance with the provisions of Department Circular No. 154, revised (31 CFR, Part 225), subject to the conditions governing the issuance of notices on Forms 1490 and 1491 of the termination of such bonds. Collateral pledged and deposited to support a fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) or an indemnity bond (Form 3–A) will not be released by the district supervisor, unless the Commissioner has authorized such action. The release of the security in the case of such bonds will not be authorized until all spirits produced while such bonds were in force and effect have been tax-paid or removed for a lawful tax-free purpose. Accordingly, collateral may not be released while spirits produced under such bonds remain in any internal revenue bonded warehouse. When an application for release of collateral deposited in support of a fruit distiller's bond (Form 30½) or an indemnity bond (Form 3–A) is received by the district supervisor, he will determine whether all spirits produced at the distillery while the bond was in effect have been withdrawn from warehouse and all outstanding liabilities settled, and will forward the application to the Commissioner with his recommendation. Collateral pledged and deposited to support an indemnity bond (Form 1617) covering changes in buildings or equipment may be released pursuant to authorization of the Commissioner, upon approval of a superseding bond or upon tax-payment or removal for a lawful tax-free purpose of all spirits the tax on which constituted the lien in relation to which the bond was given. Collateral pledged and deposited to support direct export bonds, or transportation for export bonds, may be released by the district supervisor without prior authorization of the Commissioner. The collateral in such cases will ordinarily be released upon issuance of notice of release of the bond, Form 1491. (Sec. 1126, 44 Stat. 122; 6 U. S. C. 15.)

THE TAX ON BRANDY AND OTHER DISTILLED SPIRITS

LIEN FOR TAX ON DISTILLED SPIRITS

§ 184.251 Exemption from lien. No lien attaches to any lot or tract of land, distillery, building, or distilling apparatus and equipment by reason of distilling done during any period included within the term of any bond taken on Form 3–A, pursuant to § 184.67d. (Sec. 2800 (e), I. R. C.)

PART 189—BOTTLING OF TAX-PAID DISTILLED SPIRITS

By virtue of and pursuant to sections 2803, 2871, and 3176, Internal Revenue Code, Regulations 11, "Bottling of Tax-Paid Distilled Spirits," is hereby amended effective October 1, 1946, in the following respects:

1. The following section is revoked: § 189.76.

2. The following sections are amended: §§ 189.65, 189.66, 189.70, 189.73, 189.74, 189.75, 189.77, 189.85, 189.95, 189.98, and 189.99.

3. The following new section is added: § 189.99a.

The amended and new sections shall read as follows:

DUMPING AND BOTTLING

§ 189.65 Application, Form 230. Proprietors of tax-paid bottling houses desiring to bottle tax-paid spirits will execute application on Form 230, in duplicate, giving all of the data called for by the form as indicated by the headings of the columns and lines and the instructions printed thereon. The proprietor will enter on Form 230 the details of the withdrawal gauge for tax-payment when packages of spirits are to be dumped for bottling, or when liqueurs or cordials are authorized to be bottled from the original package, as provided in § 189.78. An actual gauge of the spirits will, however, be made in either case before the bottling begins, and the details of such gauge will also be entered on the form, as provided in §§ 189.77 and 189.78. Each Form 230 will be given a serial number beginning with "1" for the 1st day of January of each year and running consecutively thereafter to December 31, inclusive. A separate application on Form 230 must be prepared for each tank of tax-paid spirits to be bottled.

§ 189.66 Distiller's original packages. Where the spirits to be dumped are contained in distiller's original packages, the proprietor will cut out with a sharp instrument that portion of each tax-paid stamp upon which is shown the serial number of the stamp, the date, the name of the distiller or warehouseman, the proof gallons, and the serial number of the package. The scalped portions of the stamps will be securely attached by means of a staple, eyelet, or similar device, to a slip of paper in such manner that the data thereon may be readily examined, and such slip of paper bearing the cut-out portions of the stamps will be securely attached to the original Form 230.

§ 189.70 Wines. Since it is impracticable to scalp wine stamps, the proprietor will, whenever wines are to be dumped from properly stamped containers, certify to such fact by writing the words "Wine stamps attached to the containers" in the columns provided for the description of stamps on Form 230. If the wine to be dumped is in a tank car, storage tank, bottles, or other container to which wine stamps representing the tax are not attached, a statement explaining the absence of the stamps will be attached to one copy of Form 230.

§ 189.73 Extra Form 237. When rectified spirits are authorized to be transferred by pipe line from a rectifying plant to a tax-paid bottling house on contiguous premises, an extra copy of Form 237 will be prepared by the rectifier and the same will be fully executed in the same manner as the original Form 237, including the storekeeper-gauger's certificate of tax-payment, if the spirits are subject to the rectification tax; or the storekeeper-gauger's certificate of exemption from the rectification tax, if the spirits are not subject to such tax.

§ 189.74 Completion and disposition of Form 237. Upon completion of the transfer of rectified spirits to the tax-paid bottling house, there shall be entered under the certificate of cases filed on all copies of Form 237 a statement that the spirits described on the reverse side of the form have been transferred by pipe line to bottling tank No. ____ in the contiguous tax-paid bottling house operated by _____, together with the date of transfer. When Form 230 authorizing the bottling of such spirits has been approved, as hereinafter provided, the serial number of such Form 230 will be noted on all copies of Form 237. The extra copy of Form 237 will be securely attached by means of a staple, eyelet, or similar device, to the original Form 230 as evidence that the proper tax on the spirits described therein has been paid.

§ 189.75 Approval by storekeeper-gauger. The proprietor will submit both copies of Form 230 for the approval of the storekeeper-gauger assigned to supervise operations at the tax-paid bottling house. The storekeeper-gauger will examine the packages described in the application and the scalped portions of tax-paid stamps, or the affidavit or statement in lieu thereof, or Form 237 (as provided in § 189.74), attached to the original copy of Form 230, and if he finds that the spirits to be bottled are as described and have been lawfully tax-paid, and the forms are properly prepared, he will execute his certificate and the authorization for bottling, and return both copies to the proprietor.

§ 189.77 Transfer of spirits to bottling tank. Upon approval of Form 230 by the storekeeper-gauger, as provided in § 189.75, the proprietor will dump the spirits and run them into an approved bottling tank, where, after reduction to the desired proof for bottling, he will gauge the same, enter the details of his gauge on all copies of Form 230 and attach one copy of the form to the bottling tank.

§ 189.85 Destruction of stamps, marks, and brands. When packages of spirits are dumped for bottling, all stamps, except the cut-out portions attached to Form 230, and all marks and brands which such packages are required by law to bear, must be completely effaced and obliterated. This should be done immediately upon completion of the dumping, draining, and rinsing of the packages. Certificates of tax-payment affixed to tank cars of distilled spirits, except the portion thereof scalped for submission to the district supervisor, must likewise be immediately destroyed when such cars are emptied. When packages of wines are emptied by any person all stamps and marks which such packages are required by law and regulations to bear must be destroyed by scraping or obliteration immediately the packages are emptied. Labels affixed to tank cars, and labels and stamps affixed to tank trucks, of wine indicating tax-payment of the contents must also be scraped or obliterated immediately the tank cars or trucks are emptied. (Secs. 2866, 3301, I. R. C.)

§ 189.95 Rebottling, relabeling, and restamping of bottled spirits. Where distilled spirits packaged in bottles are to be rebottled for domestic sale, the bottles, if of a capacity of one-half pint or greater and not exceeding 1 gallon, must conform to the requirements of Regulations 13 (26 CFR, Part 175). The spirits may be rebottled in the same bottles from which removed if such bottles containing the spirits originally conform to the requirements of Part 175 of this chapter and have not been sold to the consumer or opened, and the use of such bottles is authorized by the district supervisor in accordance with the said regulations. The new label must be covered by an appropriate certificate of label approval or a certificate of exemption from label approval issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act. If the new label is covered by a certificate of exemption from label approval, it must conform to the requirements of Part 175 of this chapter. If the spirits have left the possession of the original bottler and are to be relabeled without rebottling, authorization to relabel the spirits must be obtained in accordance with regulations issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and submitted to the Government officer supervising operations of the plant. Whenever bottled distilled spirits are dumped for rebottling, the red strip stamps on the bottles must be destroyed at the time of dumping, and new red strip stamps must be affixed to the bottles in which the spirits are rebottled. Such rebottling, relabeling, and restamping operations will be performed under the supervision of the Government officer. All products to be rebottled will be dumped pursuant to Form 230.

RED STRIP STAMPS

§ 189.98 Approval of requisition. The proprietor will submit all copies of the requisition, Form 428, to the Government officer for approval. Before approving the requisition, the approving officer will see that it is properly executed and will satisfy himself that the number of stamps for which requisition is made is necessary for the current needs of the proprietor. No red strip stamps may be issued for use at tax-paid bottling houses unless Form 428 is approved. Upon approval of the form, the approving officer will return all copies to the proprietor.

§ 189.99 Purchase and use. Red strip stamps will be purchased by proprietors of tax-paid bottling houses from the collector of the district in which the bottling house is located. Stamps may not be purchased by one proprietor from another, nor may they, except in cases of emergency, be purchased from collestors of other districts. Proprietors of tax-paid bottling houses shall not sell or transfer strip stamps. Unused strip stamps may be exchanged or redeemed in accordance with the provisions of § 189.111. Red strip stamps, used or unused, may not be purchased, sold, or possessed, except as specifically provided by laws or regulations.

§ 189.99a Remittance; delivery. All orders for strip stamps must be accompanied by cash, certified, cashiers' and treasurers' checks drawn on National and State banks and trust companies, United States postal notes, and postal, bank, express, and telegraph money orders, in a sum equal to the value of the stamps. When strip stamps are ordered sent by registered mail, the proprietor shall enclose with his order a separate remittance to cover the postage and registry fee and any required registry surcharge as provided by the postal laws and regulations. If the remittance is other than cash, the sum to cover the postage and registry fee and any surcharge must not be included in the remittance covering the cost of the stamps. The local postmaster should be consulted relative to the amount of the registry fee and surcharge required. When stamps are ordered sent by express, the same will be sent "collect." The proprietor will forward all copies of the approved Form 428 received from the approving officer to the collector of internal revenue with the remittances. The collector will enter the serial numbers of the stamps issued and stamp the date of sale on all copies of Form 428, and will retain one copy and send the original to the district supervisor and one copy (by mail) to the Government officer at the tax-paid bottling house. The collector will, in every case, forward the stamps to the Government officer at the tax-paid bottling house, in care of the proprietor. The proprietor will retain the package intact and deliver it unopened to the Government officer. The Government officer will enter receipt of the stamps in Form 182, "Storekeeper-Gauger's Monthly Record and Report of Red Strip Stamps," and will immediately place them in the Government cabinet.

PART 190—RECTIFICATION OF SPIRITS AND WINES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of and pursuant to sections 2801 (e) (1), 3175, 3176, 3300, 3304, and 3656 of the Internal Revenue Code, Regulations 15, "Rectification of Spirits and Wines," (1940) as amended, is hereby amended effective October 1, 1946, in the following respects:

1. The following sections are revoked: §§ 190.187, 190.224, 190.290, 190.291, 190.310, 190.311, 190.312, 190.345, 190.386, 190.387, 190.438, 190.441, 190.442, 190.443, 190.444.

2. The following sections are amended: §§ 190.30, 190.37, 190.151, 190.170 (a), 190.178, 190.183, 190.186, 190.212, 190.222, 190.225, 190.250, 190.288, 190.289, 190.292, 190.295, 190.296, 190.297, 190.298, 190.299, 190.300, 190.308, 190.309, 190.313, 190.315, 190.316, 190.317, 190.320, 190.321, 190.344, 190.346, 190.349, 190.358, 190.360, 190.374, 190.384, 190.385, 190.390, 190.437, 190.440, 190.453, 190.458, 190.459, 190.460, 190.461, 190.464, 190.465, 190.466, 190.466e, 190.473.

3. The following new sections are added: §§ 190.361a, 190.361b, 190.361c, 190.361d, 190.361e, 190.361f, 190.361g, 190.361h, 190.361i, 190.469a.

EQUIPMENT

§ 190.30 Scales. The rectifier must provide suitable and accurate scales for weighing spirits to be dumped from packages or storage tanks pursuant to Form 122 and for weighing rectified products drawn into packages. The beams or dials must indicate weight in half-pound graduations. (Sec. 2861, I. R. C.)

§ 190.37 Receiving tanks. Where rectified products are produced by redistillation, such as, gin and cordials, or where spirits are redistilled, the rectifier must provide a requisite number of receiving tanks. Each such tank shall be constructed of metal and shall be of uniform dimensions from top to bottom and equipped with a suitable measuring device whereby the contents will be correctly indicated. Manheads, inlets, and outlets of such tanks must be provided with facilities for locking with Government locks. Each such tank shall have plainly and legibly painted and thereon words indicating its use, as "Gin Receiving Tank," "Cordial Receiving Tank," "Heads and Tails Receiving Tank," etc., followed by its serial number and capacity in wine gallons. Receiving tanks must be located in the rectifying room. (Sec. 2829, I. R. C.)

INSTRUMENTS

§ 190.151 Accuracy of instruments to be checked. Government officers will from time to time check the accuracy of all instruments used at rectifying plants, and will be furnished suitable necessary instruments for that purpose. Great care must be taken in testing the instruments in order to get correct results. Instructions for use of the standard hydrometer set and of small stills (or wine sets) will be found in the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186) and in Regulations 7 (26 CFR, Part 178), respectively. Ebulliometers will be tested in accordance with the instructions furnished with the instruments. Instructions for the use of approved ebulliometers will be found in the Appendix to Part 178 of this Chapter.

RECEIPT OF SPIRITS

§ 190.170 Receipt at rectifying premises—(a) Receipt in tank cars. Where distilled spirits are received in tank cars or wines are received in tank cars, tanks, or tank trucks, they may be transferred directly from such containers into processing or bottling tanks if permission is first obtained from the district supervisor and the spirits or wines are first inspected by a Government officer. When liquors are so transferred, the rectifier must submit Form 122 or Form 230 to the Government officer assigned to the plant for approval as provided in §§ 190.177 to 190.201, inclusive, and 190.340 to 190.361, inclusive, immediately the tank cars, tanks, or tank trucks are emptied. Distilled spirits may be received in tank cars only if the premises of the rectifier are equipped with suitable railroad siding facilities. Before permitting spirits to be transferred from a tank car into a storage tank or a processing or bottling tank, the Government officer will see that the railroad car seals are intact on the tank car and that the car bears the collector's certificate of tax-payment, Form 1595. When spirits are transferred into or out of storage tanks, the Government officer shall open and close the Government locks, but it shall be the duty of the proprietor to manipulate the stop-cocks or valves controlling the flow of the spirits. The officer will keep a memorandum record of the quantities of spirits entered into and withdrawn from each storage tank by dates, in order that he may determine that only lawful, tax-paid spirits are withdrawn from such tanks for rectification.

GAUGING AND DUMPING SPIRITS FOR RECTIFICATION

§ 190.178 Distiller's original packages. Where spirits, including alcohol, contained in distiller's original packages are to be dumped, the rectifier will cut out with a sharp instrument, that portion of each tax-paid stamp upon which is shown the serial number of the stamp, the date, the name of the distiller or warehouseman, the proof gallons, and the serial number of the package. The scalped portions of the stamps will be securely attached by means of a staple, eyelet, or similar device to a slip of paper in such manner that the data thereon may be readily examined, and such slip of paper bearing the cut-out portions of the stamps will be securely stapled or otherwise similarly attached to one copy of Form 122. (Sec. 2813, I. R. C.)

§ 190.183 Wine stamps. Since it is impracticable to cut out or scalp wine stamps, the rectifier will, whenever wines are to be dumped from properly stamped containers, certify to such fact by writing the words "Wine stamps attached to the containers," in the columns provided for the description of stamps on Form 122. If the wine to be dumped is in a tank car, storage tank, bottles, or other containers to which wine stamps representing the tax are not attached, the rectifier will attach to one copy of Form 122 a statement explaining the absence of such stamps. (Sec. 2813, I. R. C.)

§ 190.186 Approval by officer. The rectifier will submit both copies of Form 122 to the Government officer, who, if after inspection of the spirits and verification of the entries on the application finds that the details are correctly given, will sign the certificate on each copy. If the officer is satisfied that the application covers tax-paid spirits, he will authorize the rectifier to dump the spirits described in the form by signing the approval statement on both copies and will return the same to the rectifier.

RECTIFICATION

PURIFYING AND REFINING SPIRITS

§ 190.212 Disposition. When alcohol or other spirits, such as, heads and tails or high and low feints, impure or imperfect spirits and products, residues, etc., are purified or refined at a rectifying plant, such purified or refined spirits must be promptly gauged in the receiving tank, Form 237 prepared, and the tax paid by means of rectified spirits stamps in accordance with the procedure set forth in § 190.295 for the payment of tax on spirits in bottling tanks, unless such purified or refined spirits are to be used in the rectifying plant in the manufacture of tax-exempt rectified products, as hereinafter provided. Materials used for purifying or refining spirits will be disposed of in the manner prescribed by § 190.238. (Secs. 2800 (a) (5), 2861, I. R. C.)

BLENDING OF STRAIGHT WHISKIES AND PURE FRUIT BRANDIES

§ 190.222 Application for supervision. When a rectifier desires to blend two or more straight whiskies or two or more fruit brandies distilled from the same kind of fruit, under exemption from rectifying tax, he will make written application, in duplicate, to the Government officer assigned to the plant. The application will be accompanied by Form 122, in duplicate, properly executed, to show that it is desired to blend straight whiskies aged in wood for a period of not less than four years, or fruit brandies distilled from the same kind of fruit and aged in wood for a period of not less than two years, without payment of rectification tax. (Sec. 2801 (c) (1), I. R. C.)

§ 190.225 Approval by officer. The Government officer will make the examination prescribed in the following section, and, if satisfied that the whiskies or brandies may be blended free of tax, he will execute his certificate and the approval statement on Form 122, and return both copies to the rectifier. (Sec. 2801 (c) (1), I. R. C.)

MANUFACTURE OF SPARKLING WINES

§ 190.250 Dumping of still wine. When the rectifier desires to dump still wine for bottling for champagne manufacture or for the manufacture of a sparkling wine of the champagne type by fermentation in bulk, he will submit Form 122, in duplicate, properly executed, to the Government officer for approval, and the same procedure will be followed as in the case of the dumping of wines for rectification by other processes.

GAUGE, RETURN, AND TAX-PAYMENT OF RECTIFIED SPIRITS

PAYMENT OF RECTIFICATION TAX

§ 190.288 Form 237. Where rectified spirits are subject to the rectification tax of 30 cents per proof gallon and are to be tax-paid in packages, Form 237 will be prepared in triplicate. Where rectified spirits are subject to the rectification tax of 30 cents per proof gallon and are to be tax-paid in a bottling tank, Form 237 will be prepared in duplicate, except that an extra copy will be made where the transfer of spirits by pipe line to a contiguous tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant is authorized, as provided in §§ 190.332 to 190.336, inclusive.

§ 190.289 Inspection and approval by officer. All copies of Form 237 will be submitted by the rectifier to the Government officer assigned to the rectifying plant, who will then inspect the rectified spirits. If, after inspection of the rectified spirits and verification of the entries on Form 237, the officer finds the details are correctly given on the form, and that the Form 237 covers lawful tax-paid spirits, he will, after ascertaining from the approved formula the rate of tax applicable, note his approval on each copy of the form and the tax rate to which the spirits are subject. He will then return all copies of the Form 237 to the rectifier.

§ 190.292 Remittance of tax for packages. If the rectified spirits are to be tax-paid in packages, the rectifier will, upon receipt of Form 237, duly approved, forward all copies to the collector with remittance for the tax due on the spirits. The remittance shall be in the form set forth in § 190.361c.

TAXABLE PRODUCTS TO BE BOTTLED

§ 190.295 Tax-payment. If Form 237 covers spirits in a bottling tank to be bottled, or wines, cordials, or liqueurs to be bottled in the wine bottling room from the processing receptacle in which compounded, the rectifier will, upon receipt of Form 237, duly approved, cancel the necessary stamps in the exact amount of the tax due in the manner provided by § 190.361d. He will then attach the stamps to Form 237 and return all copies to the Government officer. The Government officer will complete the cancellation of the stamps as provided by § 190.361d and will execute the certificate on Form 237 evidencing the receipt and cancellation of stamps for the amount of taxes due. He will then return all copies of Form 237 and the canceled stamps to the rectifier, who will attach the canceled stamps to the original of Form 237 by means of a staple, eyelet, or similar device, and attach one copy of the form to the board provided therefor on the bottling tank, or to the door of the wine bottling room, as the case may be. The spirits will be bottled in accordance with the procedure prescribed in §§ 190.313 to 190.331, inclusive.

§ 190.296 Disposition of Form 237 and stamps. Upon the completion of the bottling, the rectifier will execute the certificate of cases filled on all copies of Form 237, sign each copy and submit same to the Government officer, who will, after proper verification, sign and date the verification in the space provided therefor. The bottling tank or wine bottling room copy of the form will be retained in the rectifying plant available for inspection by Government officers. The rectifier will immediately forward the completed original and stamps to the district supervisor.

TAXABLE SPIRITS TO BE TRANSFERRED BY PIPE LINE TO CONTIGUOUS TAX-PAID BOTTLING HOUSE OR RECTIFYING PLANT

§ 190.297 Certificate of tax-payment. If Form 237 covers spirits in a bottling tank to be transferred by pipe line to a contiguous tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant, the procedure for tax-paying the spirits will be the same as where the spirits are to be bottled from a bottling tank. The extra copy of the form specified by § 190.288 will be attached after completion to Form 230 on the bottling tank in the contiguous tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant, as evidence that the proper tax on the spirits therein has been paid. The spirits will be transferred in accordance with the procedure prescribed in §§ 190.332 to 190.336, inclusive.

§ 190.298 Disposition of Form 237. Upon completion of transfer of the rectified spirits to the tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant, there shall be entered on all copies of Form 237 a statement that the spirits described on such form have been transferred by pipe line to bottling tank No. —— in the contiguous tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant operated by ——————, together with the date of such transfer and the serial number of the Form 230 to which the extra copy of Form 237 is to be attached in the bottling house. After execution of such statement, the rectifier will submit the form to the Government officer, who will, after proper verification, sign and date the verification in the space provided therefor. The rectifier will retain his bottling tank copy of the form at the rectifying plant, available for inspection by Government officers, and will immediately forward the original copy of Form 237 with the canceled stamps to the district supervisor.

TAXABLE SPECIAL PRODUCTS

§ 190.299 Certificate of tax-payment. Where the Commissioner has exempted the rectifier from the usual processing and bottling requirements in connection with the manufacture of champagne or other sparkling wines, artificially carbonated wines, or other special products, as provided in § 190.284, and it is impracticable to gauge the spirits and pay the tax prior to bottling in the usual manner, the 30-cent rectification tax will be paid upon completion of the bottling or, if the bottling is only a step in manufacture, upon completion of the manufacture. The rectifier will prepare Form 237, in duplicate, modified to fit the circumstances, and the same procedure will be followed in paying the tax as that prescribed in the case of products to be bottled from bottling tanks. Upon receipt of Form 237 from the Government officer with his certificate of tax-payment executed, and upon payment of the tax due (if any) under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., as provided in § 190.308, the products will be removed to the finished products room.

§ 190.300 Disposition of Form 237. Upon removal of the product to the finished products room, the rectifier will enter on each copy of Form 237 a statement that the product described on the form has been tax-paid and removed to the finished products room. The rectifier will sign each copy of Form 237 and submit same to the Government officer, who will, after proper verification, sign and date the verification in the space provided therefor, and return both copies to the rectifier. The rectifier will then forward the original copy of Form 237 with the canceled stamps to the district supervisor and retain one copy on file at the plant, available for inspection by Government officers.

PAYMENT OF TAX UNDER SECTION 3030 (A), I. R. C.

§ 190.308 Time of payment. Where rectified products subject to tax under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., in lieu of, or in addition to, the 30-cent rectification tax are manufactured, the taxes due under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., will be paid as hereinafter provided. The 30-cent rectification tax, if due, will be paid in accordance with the procedure prescribed in §§ 190.288 to 190.294, inclusive.

§ 190.309 Payable by use of wine stamps. Wine stamps will be used for the payment of taxes due under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., and for the payment of any additional wine tax due by reason of a change in the taxable grade of wine, or by an increase in the volume of wine, as provided herein. Such stamps will be canceled and attached to the original copy of Form 237 in the manner provided in § 190.295. (Sec. 3030 (b), I. R. C.)

BOTTLING OF RECTIFIED SPIRITS AND PRODUCTS

§ 190.313 Bottling tank to be used. Except as provided in §§ 190.284 and 190.318, all rectified spirits or products to be bottled will be transferred to an approved bottling tank and an accurate gauge thereof made and reported on Form 237, as provided in §§ 190.276 to 190.312, inclusive. Rectified spirits and products may be bottled only after approval of Form 237 by the Government officer assigned to the rectifying plant, and, if the spirits and products are subject to the rectification tax, upon payment of such tax as provided by §§ 190.295 and 190.308.

§ 190.315 Transfer of spirits to bottling tank. At the time of unlocking the inlet of the bottling tank, the Government officer will lock the outlet thereto, which must remain locked until the spirits have been transferred to the bottling tank, the inlet locked, the quantity of spirits in the bottling tank determined, Form 237 prepared and approved, and the rectification tax and tax due under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., if any, paid in accordance with the procedure prescribed in §§ 190.276 to 190.312, inclusive.

§ 190.316 Release of spirits from tank. Upon presentation by the rectifier of Form 237 in the case of spirits subject to rectification tax, and upon conformance with the tax-payment procedure prescribed by § 190.295, the Government officer will unlock the outlet of the tank and permit the spirits to be bottled. If Form 237 covers spirits exempt from rectification tax, the Government officer will, upon presentation of the form to him, execute his certificate and the approval statement on the form, and if the form agrees with the contents of the bottling tank, he will lock the inlet and unlock the outlet of the tank and allow the spirits to be bottled. The inlet of the bottling tank will remain locked until all spirits within the tank have been bottled and the outlet has been locked. Form 237 will then be completed and disposed of as provided in § 190.296.

§ 190.317 Filling tank in officer's absence. Where a Government officer, who is not assigned to continuous duty at the rectifying plant, is present thereat after the bottling of a lot of spirits has been completed, he will lock the outlet and unlock the inlet of the bottling tank. When such is done, the tank may be filled in the absence of the Government officer, Form 237 prepared, and, upon approval thereof, the tax due, if any, paid as prescribed in §§ 190.295 and 190.308.

§ 190.320 Release of products from wine bottling room. Upon presentation by the rectifier of Form 237 in the case of products subject to the rectification tax, and upon conformance with the tax-payment procedure prescribed by § 190.295, the Government officer will permit the products to be bottled. If the Form 237 covers products exempt from the rectification tax, and if the form agrees with the contents of the receptacles, the Government officer will execute his certificate and the approval statement on the form, and permit the products to be bottled. Form 237 will be completed and disposed of as provided in § 190.296.

§ 190.321 Separate Form 237 for each tank. A separate Form 237 must be prepared for each tank of spirits bottled.

BOTTLING OF SPIRITS AND WINES WITHOUT RECTIFICATION

§ 190.344 Approval by officer. Both copies of Form 230 will be submitted to the Government officer assigned to the plant for approval, with a request to unlock and lock the stopcocks on the bottling tank. The Government officer will examine the containers described on the form and the cut-out portions of the tax-paid stamps, or the affidavit or statement in lieu thereof, attached to one copy of the form, and if he finds that the spirits to be bottled have been lawfully tax-paid, and the forms are properly prepared, he will execute his certificate and the authorization for bottling, and return both copies to the rectifier.

§ 190.346 Transfer of spirits to bottling tank. Upon approval of Form 230 by the storekeeper-gauger, as provided in § 190.344, the rectifier will dump the spirits and run them into an approved bottling tank, where, after reduction to the desired proof for bottling (if reduction is permissible), he will gauge the same, enter the details of his gauge (corrected to volume in accordance with Table 7 of the Gauging Manual (26 CFR, Part 186)) on all copies of Form 230, and attach one copy of the form to the bottling tank. Except as provided in the following section, all spirits bottled at a rectifying plant must be bottled from approved bottling tanks. Spirits may be bottled at a rectifying plant without rectification only after approval of Form 230 by the Government officer.

§ 190.349 Transfer of products to wine bottling room. Where the rectifier desires to bottle from the original package wines, cordials, or liqueurs authorized by the district supervisor to be so bottled, such packages will be placed in the wine bottling room and Form 230 will be prepared and submitted to the Government officer assigned to the rectifying plant for approval; but no bottling will be done until the packages have been inspected by an authorized Government officer and an actual gauge of the spirits has been made and the details of such gauge entered on Form 230. When wines, cordials, or liqueurs are to be bottled in the wine bottling room, the rectifier will attach one copy of the approved Form 230 to the door of such room.

§ 190.358 Unrectified products to be kept separate. When unrectified spirits or wines are bottled in a rectifying plant, such liquors must be kept completely separate and apart from rectified spirits and products. A separate Form 230 must be prepared for each bottling tank of spirits or wines to be bottled without rectification, and the same procedure will be followed for each tank. Unrectified liquors must be kept completely separate and apart from rectified spirits and products.

§ 190.360 Rebottling, relabeling, and restamping of bottled spirits. Where distilled spirits packaged in bottles are to be rebottled for domestic sale, the bottles, if of a capacity of one-half pint or greater and not exceeding 1 gallon, must conform to the requirements of Regulations 13 (26 CFR, Part 175). The new label must be covered by an appropriate certificate of label approval or a certificate of exemption from label approval. If the new label is covered by a certificate of exemption from label approval, it must conform to the requirements of Part 175 of this chapter. If the spirits have left the possession of the original bottler and are to be relabeled without rebottling, authorization to relabel the spirits must be obtained in accordance with regulations issued under the Federal Alcohol Administration Act and submitted to the Government officer assigned to the plant. Whenever bottled distilled spirits are dumped for rebottling, the red strip stamps on the bottles must be destroyed at the time of dumping, and new red strip stamps must be affixed to the bottles in which the spirits are rebottled. Such rebottling, relabeling, and restamping operations will be performed under the supervision of the Government officer. All products rebottled will be dumped pursuant to Form 230 and will be reported in Part 4 of Form 45 in accordance with the instructions thereon. (Secs. 2803, as amended, 2871, I. R. C.)

STAMPS

RECTIFIED SPIRITS STAMPS (FOR BOTTLING TANKS)

§ 190.361a Denominations; purchase and use. Stamps for the tax-payment of rectified spirits in bottling tanks may be purchased in various denominations.

The denominations of such stamps are set forth on Form 427–C. Rectified spirits stamps for tax-paying the contents of bottling tanks should be purchased by rectifiers from the collector of internal revenue of the district in which the rectifying plant is located. Stamps may not be purchased by one rectifier from another, nor may they, except in cases of emergency, be purchased from collectors of other districts. Stamps may be sold only to proprietors of rectifying plants and only for the payment of tax on rectified spirits. Rectifiers shall not sell or transfer stamps except that they may (a) transfer such stamps to other rectifying plants operated by themselves as provided in § 190.361e pursuant to the prior approval of the district supervisor; or (b) return such stamps for redemption in accordance with § 190.361f. Rectified spirits stamps used or unused may not be purchased, sold, or possessed, except as specifically provided by law or regulations. (Secs. 3175, 3300, I. R. C.)

§ 190.361b Form 427–C. With each purchase of stamps the rectifier will submit to the collector Form 427–C, "Order for Stamps—Rectified Spirits," in triplicate, properly filled out. The collector will stamp the date of sale on all copies of Form 427–C, return one copy to the rectifier with the stamps and send one copy to the appropriate district supervisor. The remaining copy of Form 427–C will be filed in the collector's office so that all purchase of stamps may be verified at any time. The collector will refuse to sell stamps when such form is not submitted.

§ 190.361c Remittance; delivery. All orders for stamps must be accompanied by cash, certified, cashiers' and treasurers' checks drawn on National and State banks and trust companies, United States postal notes, and postal, bank, express, and telegraph money orders, in a sum equal to the value of the stamps. Unless the stamps are called for by the rectifier or his agent in person, they will be sent to him by ordinary mail, registered mail, or express, at the expense of the rectifier. When the stamps are not called for in person, the rectifier will specify on Form 427–C the means (ordinary mail, registered mail, or express) by which he desires the stamps sent to him. If the stamps are ordered sent by ordinary mail, the rectifier shall enclose with his order sufficient postage stamps, or a separate remittance to cover the postage; if the stamps are ordered sent by registered mail, the rectifier shall include the postage and registry fee and any required registry surcharge, as provided by the postal laws and regulations. If the remittance is other than cash, the sum to cover the postage, registry fee, or surcharge, must not be included in the remittance covering the cost of the stamps. The local postmaster should be consulted relative to the amount of the registry fee and surcharge required. Stamps forwarded by express will be sent "collect." (Sec. 3656, I. R. C., Supp.)

§ 190.361d Manner of cancelling stamps. At the time of delivery of the stamps to the Government officer for payment of the rectified spirits tax, the rectifier shall cancel the stamps by legibly writing or stamping on each stamp with indelible (India) ink his name, registry number, and the serial number of Form 237. The tax-paid stamps must be further canceled by being signed by the Government officer, followed by his title. Facsimile signatures of Government officers on stamps may be affixed by the use of hand stamps, provided care is taken to use only such ink as will neither fade nor blur.

§ 190.361e Transfer to other premises. When the rectifying plant is permanently discontinued, or the proprietor has no use for the stamps thereat and the proprietor operates other rectifying plants in which the stamps could be used, he may transfer the stamps to such other premises for use thereat. Permission to so transfer stamps to other premises must be first obtained from the district supervisor. If the rectifying plant to which the stamps are to be transferred is located in another supervisory district, the district supervisor granting authority to transfer the stamps will advise the district supervisor of the other district so that he may know that the receiving rectifying plant is entitled to receive the stamps. The latter district supervisor will also inform the Government officer assigned to the receiving rectifying plant of the authority to receive stamps from other rectifying plants. Record of such transfers of stamps must be made on Form 45, as provided in § 190.361i.

§ 190.361f Redemption of rectified spirits stamps. Section 3304, Internal Revenue Code, provides as follows:

(a) Authorization. The Commissioner, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary, may, upon receipt of satisfactory evidence of the facts, make allowance for or redeem such of the stamps, issued under authority of law, to denote the payment of any internal revenue tax, as may have been spoiled, destroyed, or rendered useless or unfit for the purpose intended, or for which the owner may have no use, or which through mistake may have been improperly or unnecessarily used, or where the rates or duties represented thereby have been excessive in amount, paid in error, or in any manner wrongfully collected.

(b) Method and condition of allowance. Such allowance or redemption may be made, either by giving other stamps in lieu of the stamps so allowed for or redeemed, or by refunding the amount or value to the owner thereof, deducting therefrom, in case of repayment, the percentage, if any, allowed to the purchaser thereof; but no allowance or redemption shall be made in any case until the stamps so spoiled or rendered useless shall have been returned to the Commissioner, or until satisfactory proof has been made showing the reason why the same cannot be returned; or, if so required by the said Commissioner, when the person presenting the same cannot satisfactorily trace the history of said stamps from their issuance to the presentation of his claim as aforesaid.

(c) Time for filing claims. No claim for the redemption of or allowance for stamps shall be allowed unless presented within four years after the purchase of such stamps from the Government.

(d) Finality of Commissioner's decisions. The finding of facts in and the decision of the Commissioner upon the merits of any claim presented under or authorized by this section shall, in the absence of fraud or mistake in mathematical calculation, be final and not subject to revision by any accounting officer.

§ 190.361g Claim to collector. Rectifiers desiring to have rectified spirits stamps redeemed under the foregoing provisions of law must make claim on Form 843 to the collector of internal revenue. The stamps, for which redemption is claimed, must be attached to the claim, and the number and denominations thereof must be listed on the claim or on a sheet of paper attached thereto. Where the stamps have been destroyed, evidence satisfactory to the Commissioner establishing such destruction must accompany the claim. (Sec. 3304, I. R. C.)

§ 190.361h Unredeemable stamps. Rectified spirits stamps may not be redeemed while rectified spirits, on which the stamps can be used in tax-payment, remain on hand and while the rectifying plant remains in a qualified status. When a rectifying plant is discontinued and stamps remain on hand, such stamps are not redeemable if the proprietor operates other rectifying plants at which the stamps could be used. In such cases the stamps will be transferred to the other premises for use thereat. Notation of the transfer must be made on Form 45 of both premises. (Sec. 3304, I. R. C.)

§ 190.361i Stamp record. The rectifier shall keep a record on Form 45 of all rectified spirits stamps for bottling tanks received and used at his rectifying plant. When rectified spirits stamps are surrendered for redemption, in accordance with §§ 190.361f and 190.361g, or are transferred to, or received from, other rectifying plants operated by the proprietor, as authorized in § 190.361e, record thereof must be made on Form 45, giving the reason for such surrender, transfer, or receipt, the date thereof, and the denominations of the stamps surrendered, transferred, or received, and, in cases of transfer or receipt, the name, registry number, and location of the premises to which the stamps were transferred or from which they were received.

RECTIFIED SPIRITS STAMPS (FOR PACKAGES)

* * * * *

WHOLESALE LIQUOR DEALER'S STAMPS

§ 190.374 Government officer's certificate. All copies of Form 92 will be submitted to the Government officer assigned to the rectifying plant, who, if he finds after inspection of the spirits and verification of the entries and statements in the application that the spirits are correctly described and have been properly tax-paid and have not been subjected to any act of rectification, will execute his certificate on each copy of the form and return all copies to the rectifier. (Sec. 2863, I. R. C.)

§ 190.384 Records. Where distilled spirits which have been dumped for bottling without rectification are packaged under wholesale liquor dealer's stamps, the rectifier shall enter a full description of the packages and their contents in his certificate on Form 230, together with a reference to the Form 92 under which the spirits were authorized to be so packaged. The rectifier shall also make appropriate entries and notations on Form 45 whenever any distilled spirits are packaged and removed under wholesale liquor dealer's stamps. (Sec. 2863, I. R. C.)

WINE STAMPS

§ 190.385 Purchase, transfer, record, etc., of wine stamps. Wine stamps for the payment of taxes on rectified spirits or products under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., will be provided in the denominations set forth on Form 427–B. Such stamps will be purchased by rectifiers pursuant to application on Form 427–B from the collector of the district in which the rectifying plant is located, in accordance with the provisions of § 190.361a. Wine stamps may also be received from another rectifying plant operated by the rectifier pursuant to § 190.361e. The provisions of §§ 190.361a to 190.361i, inclusive, shall be applicable to the procurement, possession, use, and record of wine stamps. (Sec. 3030 (b) (1), I. R. C.)

RED STRIP STAMPS

§ 190.390 Approval of requisition. The proprietor will submit all copies of the requisition, Form 428, to the Government officer for approval. Before approving the requisition, the approving officer will see that it is properly executed and will satisfy himself that the number of stamps for which requisition is made is necessary for the current needs of the rectifier. No red strip stamps may be issued for use at a rectifying plant unless Form 428 is approved. Upon approval of the form, the approving officer will return all copies to the rectifier. (Sec. 2803 (d), I. R. C.)

RECTIFIER'S RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 190.437 Forms to be provided by users. Records 52 and Forms 45, 52A, 52B, 122, 230, 237, and 338 will be provided by users at their own expense but must be in the form prescribed by the Commissioner: Provided, That, with the approval of the Commissioner, the forms may be modified to adapt their use to tabulating or other mechanical equipment: And provided further, That, where the form is printed in book form, including loose-leaf books, the instructions may be printed on the cover or the flyleaf of the book instead of on the individual form.

§ 190.440 Examination by Government officers. Government officers inspecting rectifying plants, or assigned to duty thereat, will examine Form 45 (and 52, if kept) from time to time to see that they are being properly kept and will see that copies of Forms 122, 230, 237, and 45 are being retained in proper order by the rectifier at the rectifying plant, available for inspection by Government officers.

OPERATING UNDER A NEW NAME OR UNDER DIFFERENT TRADE NAMES OR STYLES

§ 190.453 Records. Separate records on Forms 45 and 182, will not be required for operations under a new individual or corporate name or under each trade name or style. The rectifier shall, however, note on Form 45 the individual or corporate name or the trade names or styles under which operations were conducted during the month, and the dates of operation under each. The storekeeper-gauger will make a similar notation on Form 182.

CHANGE OF PROPRIETORSHIP

§ 190.458 Tax-payment of partially rectified products. Upon receipt from the district supervisor of Form 237, with the tax or taxes due duly specified, the outgoing rectifier shall, in the case of all partially rectified products in packages, forward all copies of the form to the collector with remittance for the rectification tax due, if any. The collector will execute the certificate of tax-payment, in all cases where remittance is received, retain one copy, and return the remaining copies to the rectifier, together with the required number of the appropriate class of rectified spirits stamps where packages are listed on the form. The outgoing rectifier will affix the rectified spirits stamps to the packages for which they were issued, and will cancel such stamps and mark and brand the packages, as provided in §§ 190.362 to 190.404, inclusive, and 190.412 to 190.423, inclusive. In the case of partially rectified products in tanks, the rectification tax of 30 cents per proof gallon shall be paid in accordance with § 190.295. If the Form 237 covers a partially rectified product in a tank, one copy thereof will be attached to the tank pending transfer to the successor, and the original copy with the canceled stamps attached will be disposed of as provided in § 190.296. If the partially rectified product is subject to tax under section 3030 (a), I. R. C., wine stamps representing such tax will be canceled and attached to Form 237 in the manner provided by §§ 190.295 and 190.296.

§ 190.459 Completion and disposition of Form 237. When the partially rectified products in packages have been tax-paid (if subject to tax) and removed to the finished products room, and such products in tanks have been tax-paid (if subject to tax) and transferred to the successor, the outgoing rectifier shall make appropriate notation of the disposition of the products on Form 237, and, after approval by the Government officer, will retain one copy of the form and forward the original copy to the district supervisor.

§ 190.460 Rectification of partially rectified products by successor. When rectified products contained in tanks are to be further rectified by the successor, he shall, immediately upon receipt thereof from the outgoing rectifier, prepare and submit Form 122 to show a constructive dumping of the products by him for rectification. The form will be prepared and submitted in the manner prescribed by §§ 190.177 to 190.201, inclusive, for the regular dumping of spirits for rectification, except that the copy of Form 237 attached to the tank by the outgoing rectifier will be removed and attached to the district supervisor's copy of Form 122 as evidence of the tax-paid character of the product, in lieu of the cut-out portions of the stamps required to be attached to the form when packages are dumped. Upon completion of the process of rectification, pursuant to an approved formula, the successor shall prepare and submit Form 237 and pay all taxes due on the product in accordance with the procedure prescribed in §§ 190.276 to 190.312, inclusive. Partially rectified products received from the outgoing rectifier in packages may be returned to the rectifying room and dumped for further rectification, pursuant to Form 122, provided appropriate entries are made in Form 45 to show a constructive transfer of the products from the finished products room to the receiving room.

§ 190.461 Bottling of partially rectified products by successor. Where partially rectified products in bottling tanks are transferred to the successor and such products are to be bottled without further rectification, the successor shall prepare and submit Form 230 in the manner prescribed by §§ 190.340 to 190.361, inclusive, except that the copy of Form 237 attached to the bottling tank by the outgoing rectifier will be removed and attached to the district supervisor's copy of Form 230 as evidence of the tax-paid character of the product in lieu of the cut-out portions of stamps required to be attached to the form when packages are dumped.

§ 190.464 Transfer of stamps forbidden—(a) Strip stamps. The outgoing rectifier may not transfer any strip stamps to his successor. Where the change of proprietorship of the plant is to be of a temporary nature, any strip stamps on hand belonging to the outgoing proprietor may be retained in the custody of the storekeeper-gauger pending the qualification and resumption of operations by such proprietor.

(b) Rectified spirits stamps and wine stamps. The outgoing rectifier may not transfer any rectified spirits stamps or wine stamps to his successor, nor may such stamps be otherwise transferred except as provided by § 190.361e. Where the change of proprietorship of the plant is to be of a temporary nature, any rectified spirits stamps and wine stamps on hand will be retained in the custody of the outgoing proprietor (the owner of the stamps) and proper report will be rendered on Form 45. The rectifier will submit a monthly report of such stamps due at the end of any monthly period during the period of temporary discontinuance in accordance with § 190.361i during such period of temporary discontinuance. (Sec. 2803 (d), I. R. C.)

§ 190.465 Records and reports. Where there is a change in proprietorship otherwise than by operation of law, the outgoing rectifier shall make appropriate entries on Form 45 covering all spirits transferred to his successor, who shall in turn enter such items on his Form 45 as received from his predecessor. The storekeeper-gauger will keep a separate record on Form 182 for the successor.

§ 190.466 Succession by fiduciary. Where a change of proprietorship is brought about by operation of law, the administrator, executor, assignee, receiver, trustee, or other fiduciary may not continue the business until the required qualifying documents have been filed and approved. In the case of such change, the fiduciary shall make appropriate notation of his succession on Form 45 and on all copies of each outstanding Form 230 and Form 237, and upon completion of the bottling of spirits covered by Form 230 or Form 237, he shall complete the execution of the forms and dispose of the same as provided in §§ 190.276 to 190.312 inclusive and §§ 190.340 to 190.361. The storekeeper-gauger will make similar notation of such succession on Form 182.

BOTTLING AND LABELING OF SPIRITS AND WINES UNDER AN APPROVED NAME OR NAMES

§ 190.466e Records. Separate records on Forms 45 and 182 will not be required for the bottling and labeling of spirits or wines under a name other than the real name or trade name in which the rectifying plant is operated.

DISCONTINUANCE OF OPERATIONS

§ 190.469a Disposition of rectified spirits and wine stamps. All of the rectified spirits stamps and wine stamps, if any, belonging to the proprietor at the time of permanent discontinuance of business will be inventoried by denomination by the storekeeper-gauger after which the same may be disposed of and an account made in accordance with §§ 190.361e to 190.361i, inclusive.

CONCERNING LOCKS AND SEALS

§ 190.473 Where locks are required. District supervisors will bear in mind that Government locks are required upon the door of the Government cabinet; upon the entrance doors of the wine bottling and export storage rooms, if any; upon the manheads, inlets, outlets, and other openings of storage tanks, receiving tanks, and bottling tanks; upon the manheads of gravity tanks; upon the valves in pipe lines which convey spirits from rectifying stills to receiving tanks where the pipe lines are equipped for refluxing the spirits to the stills or for by-passing the berry basket in the case of gin stills, or which convey spirits from bottling tanks in the rectifying plant to bottling tanks in a contiguous tax-paid bottling house or rectifying plant; and upon such other valves, stopcocks, and openings in equipment and apparatus as are required by these regulations or deemed necessary by the district supervisor to be secured with Government locks.

Subchapter E—Administrative Provisions Common to Various Taxes

PART 469—TAX-FREE SALES TO FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS OF ARTICLES FOR EXPORT

Inasmuch as the emergency which existed at the time of the promulgation of Treasury Decision 5115 (Part 469, Title 26, Code of Federal Regulations, Cum. Sup.), approved February 6, 1942, outlining the procedure to be followed with respect to article within the scope of Chapters 25 and 29 of the Internal Revenue Code sold by manufacturers or producers to foreign governments for export, no longer exists, such Treasury decision is hereby revoked as of the end of September 30, 1946. On and after October 1, 1946, the procedure outlined in §§ 314.25 and 314.26 of Regulations 44, §§ 316.25 and 316.26 of Regulations 46, articles 16 and 17 of Regulations 47, or § 319.34 of Regulations 88, whichever is applicable, shall be followed with respect to sales by manufacturers and producers of the articles enumerated in Chapters 25 and 29 of the Internal Revenue Code, when such articles are sold to foreign governments for export.

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

SHIPMENTS OF DISTRICTS 7 AND 8 COALS TO RETAIL DEALERS

In order to facilitate increased shipments of Districts Nos. 7 and 8 coal to retail dealers, the third paragraph of § 602.876 (b) of Revised Regulation No. 32 is hereby amended to read as follows:

In complying with § 602.876 (b), each shipper of coal produced in Districts 7 and 8 shall, so far as practicable, make distribution to each of his retail dealer accounts so that during each of the periods indicated below, there shall be shipped not less than the minimum nor more than the maximum percentage of the tonnage each shipper is obligated to ship to each dealer under this section, as follows:

2-month period	Minimum shipments	Maximum shipments
	Percent	Percent
June-July 1946	10	1[illegible]
August-September 1946	10	2[illegible]
October-November 1946	10	2[illegible]

The remainder of the tonnage due to each dealer shall be shipped in equal monthly instalments during the period December 1, 1946 to March 31, 1947, provided, however, the maximum shipments herein prescribed shall not be applicable to dealers who purchase 5 carloads or less per year from such shipper. The limitation as to periodic shipments is not applicable to shipments to tidewater receivers.

This amendment shall become effective immediately and shall remain in effect until further notice.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S-968]

SUPERBUILT CONSTRUCTION CORP.

Superbuilt Construction Corporation is engaged in business as a general contractor with offices located at 10 East Park Avenue, Long Beach, Long Island, New York. Subsequent to March 26, 1946 the corporation began without authorization from the Federal Housing Administration the construction of five family residences located at 216 and 220 West Beach Street and 38, 62, and 66 West Penn Street, at Long Beach, Long Island, New York. The estimated cost of each of these dwellings exceeded the limit permitted by Veterans' Housing Program Order No. 1, and the beginning and carrying on of such construction constituted a wilful violation of that order. These violations have diverted the critical materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.968 Suspension Order No. S-968. (a) The temporary suspension order issued against the Superbuilt Construction Corporation dated July 8, 1946 is hereby revoked.

(b) Neither the Superbuilt Construction Corporation, its successors or assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on any of the premises located at 216 and 220 West Beach Street and 38, 62, and 66 West Penn Street, Long Beach, Long Island, New York, including the putting up, completing or altering of any of the structures located on the premises, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration or the Federal Housing Administration.

(c) The Superbuilt Construction Corporation shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which it may file for authorization to carry on construction or for priorities assistance.

(e) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Superbuilt Construction Corporation, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 13, Direction 16, as Amended Sept. 13, 1946]

URGENCY CERTIFICATES FOR SURPLUS MATERIALS AND EQUIPMENT

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to PR 13.

(a) What this direction does. There is an urgent need for materials and equipment required in essential reconversion programs (except the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program) and many of these are not readily obtainable in sufficient quantities from new production. This direction describes how a person meeting the criteria described below may apply for a Civilian Production Administration Urgency Certificate which may help him to acquire surplus materials or equipment from the War Assets Administration if the material or equipment is available in surplus. Preference ratings have no effect on sales by WAA either by way of obliging it to sell or by way of determining as among several buyers who shall get the material or product. The urgency certificates issued under this direction are not preference ratings and may not be used to obtain materials or equipment from new production.

Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4 explains when the Housing Expediter may issue Housing Expediter certificates for surplus materials and equipment for the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program.

(b) How to apply for an urgency certificate. Application for a Civilian Production Administration urgency certificate to acquire government owned surplus material or equipment should be made on Form CPA-4425, addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: PR-13, Direction 16. Form CPA-4425 can be obtained from the Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., or Civilian Production Administration District Construction Offices. In those cases where a certification from another Government agency is required as described in paragraph (c) (1) (ii), such certification should accompany the application when filed with the Civilian Production Administration.

(c) When the Civilian Production Administration may issue urgency certificates. (1) It is the general policy of the Civilian Production Administration not to grant urgency certificates for Government-owned surplus property. However, if an applicant has been unable to obtain the material or equipment from new production as soon as required, the Civilian Production Administration may in limited cases grant such certificates good for 60 days for items of materials or equipment needed to support essential production under the following conditions:

(i) The material or equipment is required to sustain or increase his production of products listed in Schedule I of Priorities Regulation 28 (except products which are also listed in the table of Critical Products at the end of Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4), and priorities assistance would be given to obtain the particular item or items from new production. (Persons eligible for assistance under Housing Expediter Priorities Regulation 4 should apply to the appropriate Regional Housing Expediter or the Housing Expediter in accordance with that regulation.); or

(ii) The material or equipment is needed by a war contractor for production which cannot be deferred without serious results to the defense program or to the health and welfare of the enlisted personnel. In this case a certification from the War or Navy Department or the Maritime Commission recommending the issuance of a Civilian Production Administration urgency certificate is required.

(2) If a CC rating has already been assigned or an application has already been submitted for a rating and the desired material or equipment is not obtainable from new production as soon as required, an urgency certificate may be issued in place of the rating if the applicant meets the criteria stated in paragraph (c) (1). A request to substitute an urgency certificate under this direction for a rating may be made by letter addressed to Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: PR-13, Direction 16, instead of using CPA-4425.

(3) The Civilian Production Administration will carefully screen all requests and issue urgency certificates only when in its judgment such action is deemed necessary in the interests of the overall reconversion. Urgency certificates will not be issued to any applicant for more materials than the quantity which he will require to meet his current or scheduled operations during the 60 days immediately following the date of the application, less the amount he has on hand and expects to receive from other sources during that period.

(4) No urgency certificate will be issued or renewed for any item listed on Exhibit A of WAA Regulation 2 "Property to be Set-aside for Veterans."

(d) How to use an urgency certificate. If a CPA urgency certificate is issued, it will be given to the applicant in duplicate. These certificates are good only for government property which has been declared surplus to WAA and will cover material or equipment of the type requested or equivalent material or equipment. The certificate holder should present both copies of the certificate to a local sales office of WAA together with his written order or bid as required by it. It is important that these certificates be filed with WAA promptly since every urgency certificate expires 60 days after its issuance by CPA.

(e) Effect of urgency certificates on WAA. (1) Unless CPA specifically directs otherwise, the local sales office of WAA must give precedence to holders of CPA urgency certificates over any other class of buyers (except holders of Housing Expediter certificates) in selling any surplus materials or equipment of the type covered by urgency certificates which have been filed with it and which have not expired. The relative precedence among holders of CPA urgency certificates and Housing Expediter certificates will be determined by the WAA local sales offices based on the order of receipt of the certificates by WAA. CPA urgency certificates are not valid against any particular lot of materials or equipment which WAA has advertised or publicly offered for sale. Also they are not valid against any particular lot of materials or equipment which is covered by a directive issued by the Housing Expediter. The price and terms of sale of specific materials or equipment to a holder of an urgency certificate will be determined by WAA. However, in view of the conditions under which CPA urgency certificates are issued, WAA is required to effect the transaction as quickly as possible. If the sale is made through a dealer, WAA will designate the certificate holder who is to receive the material or equipment, and the dealer must give WAA a certification in substantially the following form:

> The undersigned certifies to the seller and to the Civilian Production Administration, subject to the criminal penalties of section 35 (A) of the U. S. Criminal Code that he will resell promptly the material or equipment obtained with this certificate to ---------- (insert name of urgency certificate holder designated by WAA).

The standard certification described in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used instead of this certification. Any person giving the certification described above must dispose of the material or equipment he gets with it in accordance with its terms.

(2) If a holder of an urgency certificate is unwilling or unable to meet the price and terms of sale determined by WAA, it is not required to make the sale.

(f) Expiration of urgency certificates. Every urgency certificate expires 60 days after its issuance by CPA. If any person to whom an urgency certificate has been issued is unable to obtain the material or equipment covered by the certificate before it expires, he may file an application on Form CPA-4425 for renewal, after the original certificate has expired. CPA may issue a new certificate if the applicant still meets the criteria described in paragraph (c).

(g) Effect of this direction on other directions to Priorities Regulation 13. Certain other directions issued pursuant to Priorities Regulation 13 limit sales of specific materials to buyers who certify that they will use the material for a particular purpose. Notwithstanding the provisions of any such directions, holders of urgency certificates for materials of the type covered by these directions may acquire such materials and their purchase orders take precedence over buyers eligible to purchase under the terms of the directions.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

PART 1306—IRON AND STEEL

[MPR 4, Amdt. 8]

IRON AND STEEL SCRAP

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 4 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 1, between the third and fourth paragraphs, the following is added:

No industrial producer or government or governmental agency (whether federal, state or local) shall sell or deliver unprepared iron or steel scrap to any person at prices higher than the applicable maximum prices set forth in this Regulation. No person shall buy or receive unprepared iron or steel scrap from such industrial producer or government or governmental agency at prices higher than the applicable maximum prices established by this Regulation.

2. Section 1 is amended by adding, immediately before the last paragraph, the following:

No person shall sell or deliver iron or steel scrap upon condition that the buyer shall sell or deliver to any person any other commodity. No person shall buy or receive iron or steel scrap upon the condition that he shall sell or deliver to any person any other commodity.

3. The table in section 11 (a) is amended to read as follows:

Grades	Zone A	Zone B	Zone C
1. Cast iron No. 1 (cupola cast)	$23 00	$24 00	$25 00
2. Cast iron No. 2 (charging box cast)	19 00	20 00	21 00
3. Cast iron No. 3 (heavy breakable cast)	18 00	19 00	20 00
4. Cast iron No. 4 (burnt cast)	15 75	16 75	17 75
5. Cast iron brake shoes	15 75	16 75	17 75
6. Stove plate	21 00	22 00	23 00
7. Clean auto cast	25 00	26 00	27 00
8. Unstripped motor blocks	18 00	19 00	20 00
9. Wheels No. 1	20 00	21 00	22 00
10. Malleable	22 00	23 00	24 00

4. Section 20 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The maximum basing point prices for unprepared iron or steel scrap (other than material suitable for hydraulic compression) when sold to any person other than a consumer or his broker shall be $3.50 per gross ton beneath the maximum basing point prices of the prepared base grades, No. 1 heavy melting steel or No. 1 railroad heavy melting steel, as established in section 3 or 7. The maximum basing point prices for unprepared iron or steel scrap (other than material suitable for hydraulic compression) when sold to a consumer or his broker shall be $4.00 per gross ton beneath the maximum basing point prices of the prepared base grade. No. 1 heavy melting steel or No. 1 railroad heavy melting steel, as established in section 3 or 7.

5. Section 20 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) The maximum basing point prices for unprepared material which when compressed constitutes a No. 1, No. 2 or No. 3 bundle, when sold to any person other than a consumer or his broker, shall be $4.00 per gross ton beneath the maximum basing point prices for those prepared grades as established in section 3. The maximum basing point prices for unprepared material, which when compressed constitutes a No. 1, No. 2 or No. 3 bundle, when sold to a consumer or his broker shall be $4.50 per gross ton beneath the maximum basing point prices for the prepared grades as established in section 3.

6. Section 20 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) The maximum basing point prices for tin cans or other tin or terne coated material from which Grade No. 30 (tin can bundles) is produced, when sold to any person other than a consumer or his broker shall be $3.50 per gross ton less than the maximum basing point prices established for that prepared grade in section 3. The maximum basing point prices for tin cans or other tin or terne coated material from which Grade No. 3 (tin can bundles) is produced when sold to a consumer or his broker shall be $4.00 per gross ton less than the maximum basing point prices established for that prepared grade in section 3.

7. In section 3 (b) a new subparagraph (1) is added to read as follows:

(1) The premiums established for grades 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20 may be charged only for steel scrap sold for use in electric furnaces, and acid open hearth furnaces, or foundries. No person shall charge, and no person shall pay, when purchasing such grades for use in basic open hearth or blast furnaces, a price in excess of the price for the corresponding basic open hearth or blast furnace grades unless the material is allocated to such person by the Civilian Production Administration.

8. Section 3 (a) (1) is amended to eliminate the following grades:

13. Billet, bloom and forge crops	5.00
22. Two foot foundry steel	1.50
23. One foot foundry steel	2.00
24. Springs and crankshafts	1.00

9. Section 3 (b) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) The prices established for Grade 25 (alloy free turnings) and Grade 26 (heavy turnings) may be charged only when shipped to a consumer directly from an industrial producer of such grades; otherwise the maximum price for such grades shall not exceed the price established for the corresponding grade of basic open-hearth and blast furnace scrap.

10. Section 23 is amended to eliminate items 13, 22, 23, and 24.

11. Section 28 is amended by adding a new paragraph (1) to read as follows:

(1) "Industrial producer" includes any person who generates iron or steel scrap as a result of manufacturing or fabricating operations. It also includes any common carrier, transportation company, or public utility company.

This amendment shall become effective September 11, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

PART 1389—APPAREL

[RMPR 506,[1] Amdt. 6]

MAXIMUM PRICES FOR STAPLE WORK GLOVES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 506 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new paragraph (d) is added to section 1.

(d) Computations under this regulation. The wholesalers' and manufacturers' ceiling prices for work gloves provided in this regulation shall be rounded to the nearest one-half cent, as follows:

From 0.00¢ to 0.24+¢=0¢
From 0.25¢ to 0.74+¢=0.5¢
From 0.75¢ to 0.99+¢=1¢

2. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. How to find retail ceiling prices. Ceiling prices for sales at retail are listed in the tables in Appendix B. Two tables of ceiling prices are provided. Table I lists retail ceiling prices for gloves purchased from a wholesaler (the term "wholesaler" is defined in section 3 (a)). Table II lists retail ceiling prices for gloves purchased direct from the manufacturer. The tables show the retail ceiling price which corresponds to each different supplier's net ceiling price. Before using the tables, the retailer must find his supplier's net ceiling price according to the instructions given below. Retailers should also pay particular attention to section 6 (Marking of gloves).

The "supplier's net ceiling price" is the supplier's ceiling price, less 2% (the discount available on all purchases from manufacturers).

(a) Where retailer does not know the supplier's ceiling price. If the retailer does not know the ceiling price of the manufacturer or wholesaler who supplies him, he may inquire of the supplier, who is required to disclose his ceiling price.

(b) Where retailer's suppliers have different ceiling prices. Some manufacturers have two ceiling prices for the same number—a Group I ceiling and a Group II ceiling. If the retailer pays the Group I ceiling price (or less), he takes that ceiling to figure his retail price; but if he pays the manufacturers a higher price, he takes the Group II ceiling. If, however, he buys gloves with the identical manufacturer's lot number or brand name at different prices, making one purchase at or below the Group I ceiling and another above, he must use the Group I ceiling to figure his retail price on all gloves of this lot number or brand name. Moreover, if he buys gloves with the identical manufacturer's lot number or brand name from a wholesaler and also from the manufacturer, he must use Table II in determining his retail ceiling price, and must take the manufacturers' ceiling, not the wholesalers' ceiling, to figure his retail ceiling for this number.

Example. Retailer B buys lot No. 902 from the X Company, the manufacturer, at $2.40, 2/20, net 40, per dozen, which is the manufacturer's ceiling. Later he gets more gloves of lot No. 902 from a wholesaler, who charges him $2.85 per dozen, the wholesalers' ceiling. In figuring his retail ceiling for work gloves of this lot number, B takes $2.40 less 2% as his supplier's net ceiling price, or $2.35. In Table II of Appendix B, he finds 26¢ per pair as his ceiling price for this lot number (not 32¢ based on $2.95).

(c) Where gloves are bought at a "special sale". Sales which are neither sales by a manufacturer nor "regular sales" at wholesale are called "special sales". These include sales by retailers to retailers, sales by brokers, commission merchants, job-lot dealers or like persons and sales of other types. (The difference between "regular" and "special" sales is more fully explained in section 3.)

If the retailer has bought a glove at a "special sale," he does not figure his ceiling price by taking the price of his own supplier. Instead, he takes the ceiling price of the supplier of the person who made the "special sale." If a succession of special sales has been made, he takes the ceiling price of the supplier of the person who made the first of these special sales. Thus, the retail ceiling price of a pair of gloves is the same as if the retailer had bought directly from the original supplier, without any special sale intervening.

Example 1. C, a retail chain, buys one dozen gloves from a manufacturer at $1.76, 2/20 net 40, which is the manufacturer's ceiling. C sells them to D, another retail chain for $1.81 (which is equal to C's cost plus freight actually paid by him).

In figuring his retail ceiling D assumes his supplier's ceiling to be $1.72 ($1.76 less 2%), the net ceiling of C's supplier, not $1.81, the price D actually paid. Accordingly, from Table II in Appendix B, D finds a retail ceiling of 19¢ per pair.

Example 2. E, an independent retailer, buys one dozen gloves from a wholesaler at $3.15 (the jobber's ceiling). He decides to liquidate and sells them to an auctioneer for $2.75 a dozen. The auctioneer resells them to F, another retailer, for $3.20 (this being the price paid by E, plus transportation charges incurred by the auctioneer).

In figuring his retail ceiling F takes $3.15 as his supplier's ceiling, so that his retail ceiling, found from Table I in Appendix B, is 35¢ (not 36¢).

(d) Where a retail sale is made by manufacturer. Where a sale at retail is made by a manufacturer, the retail ceiling is found from Table II in Appendix B. But since the manufacturer has no "supplier," he takes the Group I manufacturers' ceiling for these gloves and uses this as his "supplier's ceiling price."

3. Section 3 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Ceiling prices for "regular sales." The ceiling price for regular sales at wholesale is the manufacturer's Group I gross ceiling price for the gloves being priced multiplied by 1.168.

Manufacturers' Group I gross ceiling price is the manufacturer's authorized Group I ceiling price before deduction of discounts, but not including transportation and delivery charges.

The above wholesale prices are net 30 days. If the seller wishes he may extend more favorable terms, but no seller may chance these terms if the change would result under any circumstances in a higher net price.

4. In section 3 (b) (1), Examples 1 and 2 are amended to read as follows:

Example 1. G, a large retailer, buys a dozen gloves from a manufacturer at $1.76, 2/20 net 40, the manufacturer's ceiling price, and pays 10¢ per dozen freight. He now wants to sell them to H, a second retailer. G's ceiling price for this sale is $1.82 ($1.76 less 2%, plus the 10¢ freight.

Example 2. L, a wholesaler, buys one dozen gloves from a manufacturer at $3.61, 2/20 net 40, the manufacturer's ceiling price. L now liquidates and resells the gloves to auctioneer M for $3.30 per dozen. Now M wants to resell the gloves to another wholesaler.

In figuring his price for this second special sale, M takes as his cost $3.54 per dozen ($3.01 less 2%), the price paid by L, and adds freight paid by M. If M pays 10¢ for freight, M's ceiling is $3.64.

5. The first two undesignated paragraphs of section 4 (a) preceding subparagraph (1) are amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. How to find manufacturers' ceiling prices—(a) Work gloves specified in Appendix A. For a work glove specified in Appendix A, the ceiling price for a sale by a manufacturer is the appropriate "base price" specified in Column A of the tables in Appendix A (multiplied by the "Band A Multiplier" provided in Instruction 4 of paragraph (a) of that appendix, where the manufacturer qualifies therefor) plus the "materials cost adjustment" for that glove, computed in accordance with Appendix E.

Column A of the tables in Appendix A lists two manufacturers' prices for each glove specified—a Group I base price and a Group II base price. For sales at Group I ceiling prices, a manufacturer must use the Group I base price to compute his ceiling price. The Group II base price must be used to compute the Group II ceiling price. Some manufacturers must use the Group I ceiling price only, some may use the Group II ceiling price only, and some may use both, according to the rules contained in the following subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3).

6. Section 4 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Other work gloves covered by this regulation. For work gloves covered by this regulation but not specified in Appendix A, a manufacturers' ceiling price is that established pursuant to authorization of the Office of Price Administration, upon application therefore by the manufacturer. The price authorization granted by the Office of Price Administration will establish a base price for each glove applied for and an adjustment factor for each of the principal materials contained in the glove. The manufacturers receiving such authorization will then determine his ceiling price in accordance with (a) above and Appendix E, using the base price and the "materials cost adjustment" factors authorized by the Office of Price Administration in place of those set forth in Appendix A.

An application for a price authorization under this section must be filed with the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The application must contain information in the detail indicated by the suggested form in Appendix C and must be accompanied by a sample of the glove.

Pending action on such an application a person must not sell or deliver the glove except in accordance with the provisions of section 10 (b) (Adjustable pricing agreements).

Where an order has been issued under this provision prior to May 20, 1946, the manufacturer may use, as his base price for a glove, the ceiling price authorized therefor in that order, adjusted in accordance with steps 1, 2 and 3 below:

Step 1. Multiply the price authorized in the order by the applicable percentage multiplier:

Step 3. If the manufacturer meets the conditions specified in Instruction No. 4 to paragraph (a) of Appendix A, multiply the figure found in Step 2 by 1.035.

The base price found above may be adjusted by the "materials cost adjustment" provided in Appendix E. However, since the manufacturer, in order to be eligible for the adjustment provided in Appendix E, must make application to the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for authorization of materials cost adjustment factors, for each glove covered by an order issued under this provision prior to May 20, 1946. Pending the authorization by the Office of Price Administration of such materials cost adjustment fatcors, the manufacturer may, in making an Appendix E adjustment for a glove, use the materials cost adjustment factors set forth in Column B of the tables of Appendix A for a glove which contains the same materials, in the same quantity or less, as the glove whose price is being adjusted. In making application for authorization of materials cost adjustment factors under this provision, a manufacturer shall state: his name and address, the Office of Price Administration order number under which ceiling prices were authorized for his gloves prior to May 20, 1946, and the lot no. of each glove for which materials cost adjustment factors are requested.

7. A new paragraph, designated paragraph (c) is added to section 4 to read as follows:

(c) Ceiling price for seconds. The manufacturer's ceiling prices provided for in (a) and (b) above apply only to first quality work gloves. The ceiling price for "seconds" of a glove is 75% of the ceiling price for the first quality of that glove.

8. The figures in the last column of the "Retail Ceiling Price List" in section 6 (b), are deleted and the following language substituted therefor:

Retail price per pair
(Here indicate correct retail ceiling price for each glove.)

9. A new subparagraph (4) is added to section 8 (c) to read as follows:

(4) Records of ceiling price calculations. Every manufacturer must keep, and make available upon request, records of all his computations of ceiling prices made under the provisions of section 4 and Appendix E of this regulation.

10. The example in section 9 (f) is amended to read as follows:

Example. X, a wholesaler, customarily grants a trade discount of 3% to its customers. In selling gloves with ceiling of [1] 9 F.R. 10862; 11 F.R. 5498, 8091.

$2.02½ net, it may prepare the invoice as follows: Terms: 3%.

Lot No.	Quantity (dozen)	Description	Price	Amount
750	50	(Here give complete description of glove sold) $2.02½ net per dozen. Retail ceiling price 25¢ per pair	$2.08½	$104.25

11. Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

APPENDIX A—TABLES OF BASE PRICES AND MATERIALS COST ADJUSTMENT FACTORS FOR COMPUTING CEILING PRICE FOR SALES BY MANUFACTURERS

(a) Instructions for manufacturers. 1. In using the following tables, bear in mind the rules for pricing by manufacturers which are stated in section 4 (How to find manufacturers' ceiling prices).

2. Base prices are stated in column A of the tables, per dozen pair of gloves. On shipments weighing 100 pounds, or more, the seller must prepay or allow transportation costs to the city of destination. However, where such shipments are made at transportation rates higher than freight rates, the seller is required to allow or prepay only that portion of the transportation cost which is equal to the freight cost on such shipments. On less than 100 pound shipments, the seller need not allow or prepay any transportation costs.

3. All ceiling prices are net 40 days, less 2% in 20 days. If the seller wishes, he may extend more favorable terms. But no seller may change these terms if the change would result under any circumstances in a higher net price.

4. If you meet the following conditions, you may multiply the appropriate base price listed in the tables by 1.035 (the "Band A Multiplier"):

(i) The "average straight time hourly earnings" for all "employees" in all plants, during the four weeks preceding the date of the certification described in (iii) below, was at least 69 cents per hour.

(a) "Average straight time hourly earnings" shall be computed by dividing the amount paid to all "employees" for straight time work during the period by the number of hours of straight time worked by "all employees" during the period. In computing the amount paid to "all employees," exclude all payments for overtime during the period. Exclude any amounts attributable to wage increases which are not "approved," within the requirements of subpart C of the Supplementary Wage and Salary Regulations issued by the Office of Economic Stabilization on March 8, 1946. Vacation pay may be included if actually paid during the four week period, but the amount of vacation pay so included shall not exceed one thirteenth of the amount of vacation pay to "employees" during the manufacturer's most recent fiscal year.

(b) "Employees" means those who perform productive or related operations in the manufacture of staple work gloves. Include working foremen and all non-supervisory workers engaged in fabricating, assembling, inspection, receiving, storage, handling, packing, shipping, maintenance, repair, janitorial, and record-keeping and other services closely associated with the above production operations. Exclude supervisory employees (above the working foreman level) and their clerical staffs.

(ii) The "average straight time hourly earnings" for all "experienced stitchers" in all plants, during the period in (i) above, was at least 69 cents per hour.

(a) Determine your "average straight time hourly earnings" according to the rules set forth in (i) (a) above.

(b) "Experienced stitchers" are those who have been employed as work glove stitchers for at least six months.

(iii) You have certified to the Office of Price Administration (on a form similar to that set forth in Appendix D) that you meet conditions (i) and (ii). Certifications shall be filed with the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

You must not sell or deliver at prices increased by the "Band A Multiplier" until you have received Office of Price Administration acknowledgment of your certification. Certifications which meet the requirements of this instruction will be acknowledged within 10 days of their mailing, and the acknowledgment will bear a number and the following words: "Band A, Revised Maximum Price Regulation 506, Office of Price Administration No. ."

After receiving your acknowledgment, and until three months after the beginning date of the period reported, you may sell and deliver at prices increased by the "Band A Multiplier" without recomputing your "average straight time hourly earnings." Thereafter, you must not sell or deliver any gloves at prices increased by the "Band A Multiplier" unless you have maintained the averages provided in (i) and (ii), above, for a period of three months prior to any such sale or delivery.

5. In Column B of the tables below the manufacturer will find the materials cost adjustment factor for each principal material used in the gloves specified. These materials cost adjustment factors must be used only in accordance with the provisions of section 4 and Appendix E of this regulation.

(b) Tables of base prices and materials cost adjustment factors.

15. A new Appendix, designated Appendix E, is added, to read as follows:

APPENDIX E—MATERIALS COST ADJUSTMENT FOR MANUFACTURERS

(a) What this Appendix does. This Appendix provides a method whereby a manufacturer who has a properly established base price for any work glove under this regulation may add to such base price an adjustment for specified changes in materials cost to arrive at his ceiling price for that glove. The adjustment shall be computed by a manufacturer as directed in (c) below.

(b) Effective period for "material cost adjustment" under this Appendix. A new material cost adjustment, computed in accordance with (c) below, shall be made every month. Such material cost adjustment shall become effective on the 25th day of every calendar month. It shall remain in effect for all gloves delivered by the manufacturer through the 24th day of the following calendar month. For gloves delivered from September 11, 1946, through September 24, 1946 the material cost adjustment, computed by the manufacturer under (c) below (on the basis of the ceiling prices prevailing on August 10, 1946 for the principal materials used in the glove), shall become effective September 11, 1946.

(c) How materials cost adjustment is computed. The materials for which adjustments are provided by this section are canton flannel, cotton jersey and cotton tubing. To calculate the materials cost adjustment which he may add as of the 25th day of any calendar month, to his base price for any work glove covered by this regulation, manufacturer shall follow the procedure set forth below:

Step I. In Column B of each of the tables in Appendix A there is provided an adjustment factor for each of the principal materials (canton flannel, jersey or cotton tubing) used in each glove listed in Column A of that Appendix. For the particular glove being priced, find the applicable adjustment factor, or factors, in Column B. (For a glove not listed in Appendix A, the manufacturer will find the adjustment factors specified in the order of authorization granted him by the Office of Price Administration under section 4 (b) or if no adjustment factors have yet been authorized him after application therefor, he may use temporary factors in accordance with the provisions of section 4 (b).

Step II. Find the "diff rence in ceiling price" for each of the principal materials for which an adjustment factor is provided, as follows:

(1) Canton flannel. Subtract the ceiling price per yard of 8 oz. white canton flannel in effect on June 30, 1946, from the ceiling price per yard of that material in effect on the 10th day of the calendar month in which the materials cost adjustment becomes effective.

(2) Cotton jersey. Subtract the ceiling price per pound of cotton jersey in effect on June 30, 1946, from the ceiling price per pound of that material in effect on the 10th day of the calendar month in which the materials cost adjustment becomes effective.

(3) Cotton tubing. Subtract the ceiling price per pound of cotton tubing in effect on June 30, 1946, from the ceiling price per pound of that material in effect on the 10th day of the calendar month in which the materials cost adjustment becomes effective.

As used in (1), (2), and (3) above, the ceiling price of any material means the maximum net price which the manufacturer could lawfully be charged for such material if purchased on his customary terms from the source of supply most used by him in purchasing these materials during the six months ending March 31, 1942.

Step III. Multiply each principal material adjustment factor found in Step I by the amount of the difference in ceiling price for that principal material found in Step II above. The sum of all such multiplications is the amount of the materials cost adjustment factor for the glove being priced.

(d) Example of computation of materials cost adjustment under this Appendix. The following example illustrates how a manufacturer computes his materials cost adjustment for the period September 25, 1946 through October 24, 1946. The figures used as ceiling prices for materials are illustrative only.

Example: Manufacturer X has a Group I base price of $1.58½ per dozen for a 6 oz. men's Clute pattern knit wrist glove. Under Step I of (c) above, he finds in Column B of Table I of Appendix A a flannel adjustment factor of 2.03 and a tubing adjustment factor of .43 for this glove. Under Step II of (c) above he finds the difference in ceiling price for 8 oz. white canton flannel and for cotton tubing between June 30, 1946 and September 10, 1946 to be 5¢ per yard for flannel and 5¢ per pound for cotton tubing. Under Step III he multiplies the 5¢ per yard canton flannel difference by 2.03 and the 5¢ per pound tubing difference by .43 and arrives at a total materials cost adjustment of 12½¢ (5¢ × 2.03 + 5¢ × .43 = 12.30¢, rounded out to 12½¢). Therefore, X's ceiling price for this glove for the period from September 25, 1946 through October 24, 1946 is $1.71 per dozen (base price of $1.58½ plus materials cost adjustments of 12½¢). For the period October 25, 1946 through November 24, 1946 X will calculate a new adjustment on the basis of materials ceiling prices in effect on October 10, 1946.

This amendment shall become effective September 11, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Report Act of 1942.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

PART 1375—EXPORT PRICES

[3d Rev., Max. Export Price Reg., Amdt. 1]

EXPORT PRICES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Third Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 6 (d) is amended by inserting the following phrase between the date "August 20, 1946" and the words "a producer-exporter": "or which is not specifically set out in this regulation."

2. Section 24, Appendix A, is amended by adding the following commodities and markups to the table of specific commodity export markups listed thereunder:

Commodity	Export markup (need not be less than $20)	Special provisions
	Percent
Cement	10
Hops	25	On sales to Canada.
	40	On sales to destinations other than Canada.

3. Table 1 under Appendix B is amended to read as follows:

TABLE 1—COAL

The maximum price for export sales including sales to purchasing missions of foreign governments of coal to all areas except Canada shall be determined for the types of sellers named below by taking the basic price specified below and adding the applicable expenses shown below and markups if qualified as shown below:

Type of seller	Basic price	Markups per net ton of 2,000 pounds
		Cents
Producer	Exporter's maximum domestic price for the particular type or grade of coal as established by MPR 112 or MPR 120.	40
Export merchant or producer buying and reselling for his own account.	Maximum domestic price applicable to a current sale of the coal to the exporter as established by MPR 112, MPR 120 or RMPR 122.	60

Additions: 1. If the contract of sale stipulates that railroad demurrage charges shall be for the account of the exporter and not charged to the buyer outside of the continental United States, add 15 cents per net ton to the above markups.

2. On sales of less than 2,000 net tons, add 10 cents per net ton to the above markups.

3. If coal is bagged for shipment, add in lieu of all other markups under this table the following:

Number of net tons	Mark-up per net ton of 2,000 pounds	Total mark-up need not be less than
1 to 50	$3.00	....
51 to 100	2.00	$150.00
101 to 250	1.50	200.00
251 to 500	1.00	375.00
Over 500	.80	500.00

4. Add actual export expenses incurred as determined under Section 4 not included above.

Qualifications for mark-ups. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, a seller may add a mark-up under this Table 1 if he qualifies by performing all of the following functions:

1. Inspects or arranges for inspection of coal at mines or at dock.
2. Arranges for all necessary permits and governmental clearances.
3. Assembles cargo.
4. Prepays railroad freight.
5. Makes shipment to purchaser outside of the continental United States either directly or through the seller's or purchaser's agent or confirming house.
6. Sends an invoice (original or copy) directly to the purchaser located outside the continental United States and not through the medium of a third party; except, however, that if the exporter receives payment from a commercial bank located in the continental United States and the terms of payment require that invoices be presented to and forwarded by the bank, this function may be so performed.
7. Obtains an export license (where one is required) in his own name unless a blanket license is issued to the foreign purchaser or agent of such purchaser.
8. Keeps records of the transactions as required in section 17.

NOTE: The maximum prices for bituminous coal delivered or handled from shore facilities in the continental United States for use as bunker fuel on the vessel to which the delivery is made shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Maximum

Price Regulation 189, regardless of the nationality of the vessel.

4. Table 7 under Appendix B is amended to read as follows:

TABLE 7—LUMBER—HARDWOOD

The maximum price for export sales of hardwood lumber, the domestic prices for which are established under RMPR 97, MPR 146 and MPR 155 shall be determined for any seller by taking the applicable basic price specified below and adding the mark-ups and expenses shown below:

Type of seller	Basic price	Mark-up
Any person.	Maximum price, f. o. b. mill, applicable under RMPR 97, MPR 146, and MPR 155.	To Cuba—20 percent of basic price; all other destinations (except Canada) 25 percent of basic price.

Add actual export expenses incurred as determined under section 4.

5. Table 12 under Appendix B is amended to read as follows:

TABLE 12—TEXTILES

The maximum price for export sales of textiles, whether woven, twisted, or knitted, containing 75% or more by weight of cotton or artificial fibre, or a mixture of cotton nad artificial fibre, including but not limited to finished piece goods and grey goods regardless of width, and articles which are transformed from piece goods into finished articles simply by cutting and/or hemming and/or overedging (but not including wearing apparel), and yarn, thread, twine and rope of cotton or artificial fibre for the types of sellers as shown below shall be determined by taking the applicable basic price specified below and adding the applicable markup and expenses and making the deductions shown below:

Type of seller	Basic price	Mark-up
Manufacturer, producer or converter.	Maximum price applicable on a sale to a domestic purchaser similar to his foreign purchaser.	3% of basic price on sales to Canada; 7% of basic price for all other destinations.

Additions: Add actual export expenses incurred as determined under section 4.

Deductions: Make the deductions required under section 5.

This amendment shall become effective September 11, 1946.

Issued this 11th day of September 1946.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

[RMPR 129, Amdt. 13]

CERTAIN CONVERTED PAPER PRODUCTS AND CERTAIN INDUSTRIAL PAPERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 129 is amended in the following respects:

To footnote 5 in Appendix A the following paragraph is added:

Each manufacturer of jumbo rolls of toilet tissue or towels containing 50% or more of chemical pulp may increase his maximum prices prevailing during the base period on these commodities by an amount not exceeding 5% on sales to converters; Provided, That if such a manufacturer has been granted an individual adjustment of his maximum price on such a commodity, he may charge either his adjusted price or his unadjusted price plus 5%, whichever is higher.

This amendment shall become effective September 18, 1946.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 13 TO REVISED MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 129

The accompanying amendment provides an increase not to exceed 5 per cent in the maximum base period prices of jumbo roll toilet tissue and jumbo roll paper toweling having a chemical pulp content of 50 per cent or more, when sold by the manufacturer to a toilet tissue or paper towel converter.

A study has been made which reveals that the production and sales of jumbo rolls of tissue and toweling to converters has declined from 10 per cent to approximately 6.5 per cent of the normal volume of the toilet tissue and towel industry. Thus during the first five months of 1946 the manufacturers of jumbo rolls of toilet tissue and toweling stock have supplied the independent converters with 33 per cent less jumbo roll stock than during the comparable period in 1945. This situation has arisen because the manufacturers, faced with increased costs and not realizing sufficient profit from the manufacture of toilet tissue and toweling jumbo roll stock, have diverted production to more profitable products. Reports indicate that this trend has accelerated during July and August. Consequently, the converters of jumbo rolls are confronted with a serious lack of their prime conversion material. This maladjustment is significant not only because current operations are impaired, but because the relationship of converters to the large vertically-integrated producers of tissue and toweling may be jeopardized for many years.

This action is necessary in the judgment of the Administrator to maintain the present supply of jumbo rolls of toilet tissue and toweling to the converters, and thereby to permit converters to continue their operations during the transition period In view of the recent increase of 6% granted on the converted product, this increase in jumbo roll prices can be absorbed by the converters since the converters will net an increase of approximately 2 per cent as a result of the two amendments.

Since some manufacturers of jumbo rolls of toilet tissue and toweling stock have already received adjustments, each manufacturer may, under this amendment, elect to take his individual adjustment or the industry-wide adjustment, whichever is higher, but in no event may he add the industry adjustment to his individual adjustment.

After due consideration of the foregoing, I find that Amendment 13 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 129 is in accordance with and will effectuate the purposes of Executive Order 9599 and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

Administrator.

[RMPR 187,[1] Amdt. 13]

CERTAIN PAPERBOARD PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 187 is amended in the following respects:

In Appendix C (b) (1) a footnote reference[2] is added after each listed price, and a footnote[3] is added to read as follows:

[3] If the bottles are manufactured east of the Rocky Mountains and sold for delivery west of the Rocky Mountains or manufactured west of the Rocky Mountains and sold for delivery east of the Rocky Mountains, the maximum price established shall be f. o. b. seller's plant.

This amendment shall become effective September 18, 1946.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 13 TO RMPR 187

This amendment extends the prices established by Amendment 11 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 187 to sales by Eastern manufacturers to purchasers on the Pacific Coast. Amendment 11 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 187 inadvertently excluded this class of sales.

This action is required to maintain the normal price relations established in the industry and to maintain the supply of Pure Pak milk bottles to Pacific Coast users. This amendment will permit the Eastern manufacturers to sell to their several Pacific Coast customers at prices set forth in Appendix C of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 187, f. o. b. seller's plant. Prior to the issuance of this amendment, the Eastern manufacturers were required to sell to Pacific Coast customers at prices based on the prices in effect during the October 1-31, 1941, base period and, as a result had practically discontinued such sales. Since the prices established are f. o. b. mill the present action will not increase the mfr's return but will make it possible for Pacific Coast customers to purchase milk bottles at the same prices paid by other purchasers.

Although there is considerable difference between the selling practices of the Eastern and the Western manufacturers, this amendment will result in approximately equal average prices for these groups of manufacturers on sales west of the Rocky Mountains.

The action also establishes maximum prices for sales by Pacific Coast manufacturers to areas east of the Rocky Mountains in order to provide comparable prices for sales which are expected but on which no price has hitherto been established. The prices established are the same as prices established for sales of producers located east of the Rocky Mountains and, therefore, they represent no price increase.

The accompanying amendment has been discussed with representative manufacturers of Pure Pak milk bottles and due consideration has been given to their recommendations.

In view of the foregoing considerations, it has been determined that the accompanying amendment to Revised Maximum Price Regulation 187 is consistent with and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and of Executive Order 9599.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[SR 14F, Amdt. 23]

CHLORINE, CAUSTIC SODA AND SODA ASH

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplementary Regulation 14F is amended as follows:

Section 38 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 38. Chlorine, caustic soda, and soda ash—(a) Sales by producers. The maximum prices for a producer's sales of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash to any class of purchasers shall be the producer's maximum price for sales to that class of purchasers of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash established under the General Maximum Price Regulation increased by 5%.

(b) Sales by resellers. The maximum prices per pound for sales by resellers of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash shall be the sum of (1) the reseller's cost of acquisition per pound of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash and (2) the percentage markup he had in effect on March 31, 1946, to the same class of purchaser on sales of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash, as the case may be.

(c) Notification. Every seller, who increases his maximum price on or after September 16, 1946, for sales of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash, under the provisions of this section shall with or prior to the first delivery to any buyer at the increased price, furnish such buyer a written notice with the invoice or bill, setting forth the seller's maximum price for the sale of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash, as the case may be, established under the General Maximum Regulation, and the adjusted ceiling price (not in excess of the maximum price under this section), for such sale.

(d) Freight and trade practices. The maximum prices established by paragraphs (a) and (b) above shall be subject to the freight and trade practices in effect on sales of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash, as the case may be, by that seller in March 1942.

This amendment shall become effective September 16, 1946.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 23 TO SUPPLEMENTARY REGULATION 14F

The accompanying amendment increases the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation for producer's sales of chlorine, caustic soda, and soda ash and adjusts maximum prices for sales by resellers.

These products are a group of related products produced jointly by electrolytic and chemical methods. They are among the most important basic chemicals and are used in various ways in the basic industries and the manufacture of finished products.

The previously prevailing maximum prices for sales of these products were established by individual seller sales during March 1942, the base period for the General Maximum Price Regulation. The manufacturers who produce these commodities are multi-line companies.

This Office has completed a survey of the first quarter 1946 costs and the first half of 1946 overall earnings of 5 companies whose operations are believed to be representative of the industry and account for approximately 38% of the merchant production of these products. The sales of subject commodities represent 42% of the total sales made by these companies in 1945. The present overall earnings position of these companies is unfavorable compared with a normal peacetime period (1936-1939). Since none of the subject products is manufactured by single line companies, the industry earnings standard would not apply to this product group. The application of the transition product standard in the pricing of these items however, would result in the granting of a price sufficient to enable these producers to recover no more than the total costs of production of these products. Manifestly, the extension of this principle to all the product lines of these multi-line companies would result only in a recovery of overall total costs, without any allowance for a profit. Under the circumstances, the Administrator finds that there should be an increase in the ceiling prices of the subject products which will allow total costs plus a margin of profit which, if similarly realized on the sale of all other products, would result in the attainment of the desired base period profit ratio.

At the present time, based on the first half 1946 earnings, the over-all rate of return on net worth is 7.16%. In order for these companies to get their base period return on net worth each product would have to earn a profit of 11.71% on its sales price. During the first quarter of 1946 the ratio of profit to sales of the subject commodities was 9.03%. The first quarter 1946 cost statements covering these three products were adjusted to take into consideration subsequent increases in the cost of coal and approved wage increases. After adjustment for these known cost increases the industry earns 6.82% on net sales of subject products. No adjustment in costs reflecting anticipated changes in sales volume has been made since it is expected that the rate of production experienced during the reporting period will not change materially during the next 12 months. Accordingly, an increase of 5% over the previously prevailing prices is required for producer's sales of these three products.

The maximum prices established by this amendment for sales of subject commodities by resellers are computed by adding the reseller's cost of acquisition of the specific lot of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash and the percentage markup the reseller had in effect on March 31, 1946, to the same class of purchasers on sales of chlorine, caustic soda, or soda ash, as the case may be.

Insofar as practicable the industry was consulted and due consideration was given to its recommendations.

In the opinion of the Administrator, the present action is consistent with and effectuates the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Executive Orders of the President.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[2d Rev. SR 14,[1] Amdt. 42]

FACIAL TISSUES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

A new section 4.3 is added to Article IV of 2d Revised Supplementary Regulation 14 to read as follows:

SEC. 4.3 Facial tissue. (a) Each manufacturer may add to his maximum price of packaged facial tissue prevailing during March 1942, as established under the General Maximum Price Regulation, a sum not to exceed 8.0%. This increase shall not apply to packaged facial tissue made wholly of wood pulp of high alpha cellulose content, tissues which have been perfumed or medicated, tissues with an area of less than 80 sq. in. or more than 90 sq. in.

(b) A manufacturer who has received an individual adjustment of his maximum price of packaged facial tissue may elect to charge the industry-wide increase granted in paragraph (a) above, or his adjusted prices, whichever is higher, but in no event shall this industry-wide increase be added to an individually adjusted maximum price.

(c) Whenever the application of the 8% increase results in a fraction of ½¢ or more, the maximum price may be rounded out to the nearest cent by a manufacturer on a gross basis, by a distributor on a case basis and by a retailer on a package basis, but if the fraction results in less than ½¢, the seller shall drop the fraction in computing his maximum price for the appropriate unit.

(d) Instead of applying the 8% increase as provided in paragraph (a) above, each manufacturer and reseller may elect to reduce his sheet count per package by not more than 7.4% and sell the package at a price not to exceed the maximum price in effect during March 1942.

This amendment shall become effective September 18, 1946.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 42 TO REVISED SUPPLEMENTARY REGULATION 14

The accompanying amendment provides for an 8 percent increase in the ceiling prices of packaged facial tissue. This increase does not apply to facial tissue made wholly of woodpulp of high alpha cellulose content, tissues which have been perfumed or medicated, or tissues with an area of less than 80 sq. in. or more than 90 sq. in.

The Office of Price Administration in a survey embracing companies producing over 75 percent of facial tissue output, found that an increase in the maximum prices was required by law to return the industry to its base period earnings rate during the next 12 months.

The total sales of this product are estimated at $27,500,000 for the current year. The increase allowed by this action will result in an estimated $2,200,000 of increased returns to the manufacturers. This amount of relief is computed by using the 1945 experience of the companies under survey and the experience of the first accounting quarter of 1946. Adjustments are made for known recurring cost increases (other than wage increases) which arose subsequent to March 31, 1946. No average wage increase has been projected for the industry as a whole. However, the use of current costs as a basis for the action presumes the inclusion of recent approved wage increases which were in effect during the first quarter of 1946. The study indicated that a price increase aggregating slightly over $2,000,000 is necessary to restore the industry's return on net worth to the 1936–1939 level.

A few manufacturers of facial tissue (accounting for only a small portion of total production) have already received individual price adjustments. This amendment will allow a manufacturer to adhere to his individually adjusted prices or to adopt the 8 percent increase granted to the industry, but in no event may the industry increase be added to the individual adjustment.

A percentage increase for all manufacturers of facial tissues and for all subsequent resellers, is considered the most expedient and just method of apportioning the adjustment required by the industry. This percentage increase will assure continuance of distribution at all levels and in all areas. Resellers margins prevailing on March 31, 1946, are maintained by Amendment 37 to 2nd Revised Supplementary Regulation 14.

The figure of 8 per cent will, on the basis of the data collected, result in an apparent earnings rate slightly above the rate prevailing for the industry in the base period. Any increase at the manufacturing level necessitates an increase at the retail level of approximately 8 per cent to permit the retailer to round out his increase to the full cent. Anything less than 8 per cent at the manufacturing level would result in a distortion of the normal mark-up at the retail level. No smaller increase could be equitably granted and maintain the industry practice of pricing at even pennies at retail.

Furthermore, during the processing of this action additional increases in costs have been incurred, of which this Office is fully aware and the effect of which was not used in our calculations. Failure to grant an industry wide increase will cause the manufacturers to petition for individual relief under SO 156, and would place a heavy administrative burden on this Office.

The industry concerned has been consulted and concurs with the purpose and form of the amendment.

The amendment also permits manufacturers to reduce their sheet count by 7.4 per cent without reduction in price as an alternative to increasing the price on the present size package by 8 per cent. Such a reduction in count will result in the same price per sheet as an 8 per cent price increase. This alternative is provided to permit manufacturers to continue to produce packages which can be sold at 10 cents and 25 cents at retail through variety stores which follow the practice of selling only 5, 10, or 25 cent items.

After due consideration of the foregoing, I find that Amendment 42 to Revised Supplementary Regulation 14 is in accordance with and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

PART 1412—SOLVENTS

[MPR 37, Amdt. 20]

BUTYL ALCOHOL AND ESTERS THEREOF

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 37 is amended as follows:

1. The table of prices contained in § 1412.116, Appendix A (a) (1) (i) (a) is amended by adding the following:

	Butyl alcohol	Butyl acetate	Base average cost per bushel of whole grain
Produced by U. S. Industrial Chemicals, Inc., by fermentation of molasses at Curtis Bay, Md.	$0.2235	.....	.....

2. Section 1412.116 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Special pricing—(1) Sales of butyl alcohol produced wholly from grain or molasses at separate times at one plant during a given month. The maximum prices per pound for each monthly period commencing September 1, 1946, for sales by producers of butyl alcohol produced wholly from grain or wholly from molasses at one plant at separate times during such month, shall be the weighted average of the maximum prices per pound applicable to the butyl alcohols estimated to be produced during that month. At the end of each monthly period commencing September 1, 1946, such producer shall recompute the weighted average maximum price of the butyl alcohols actually produced at such plant during such period and shall calculate the amount by which the estimated exceeds or falls short of the actual weighted average price per pound. Such excess or deficit per pound, multiplied by the pounds of butyl alcohol actually produced during the monthly period, shall be a deduction or an addition, respectively, to the aggregate dollar value of the butyl alcohols estimated to be produced during the ensuing month and the maximum price per pound for the ensuing month shall be reduced or increased, respectively.

(2) Sales of butyl alcohol produced at separate plants having different maximum prices and which are owned by the some producer. Where a producer operates two or more plants having different maximum prices per pound applicable to the production of butyl alcohol at the several plants during any month, such producer may establish a uniform ceiling price per pound for that month for its entire butyl alcohol production equivalent to the weighted average maximum price per pound for the butyl alcohols estimated to be produced at all plants, combined, during that month. At the end of each monthly period commencing September 1, 1946, such producer shall recompute the weighted average maximum price of the butyl alcohols actually produced at such plant during such period and shall calculate the amount by which the estimated exceeds or falls short of the actual weighted average price per pound. Such excess or deficit per pound, multiplied by the pounds of butyl alcohol actually produced during the monthly period, shall be a deduction or an addition, respectively, to the aggregate dollar value of the butyl alcohols estimated to be produced during the ensuing month and the maximum price per pound for the ensuing month shall be reduced or increased, respectively.

(3) Sales of butyl acetate by a producer pricing under paragraphs (d) (1) or (d) (2). The base delivered maximum prices for sales of butyl acetate by a producer whose maximum prices for sales of butyl alcohol are determined pursuant to paragraphs (d) (1) or (d) (2) of this section shall be $.2115 per pound. For every increase or decrease of $.005 per pound in the weighted delivered average price of butyl alcohol as established by paragraphs (d) (1) or (d) (2) of this section from a base delivered price of $.226 per pound, the base delievred maximum price for butyl acetate shall be increased or decreased, as the case may be, by $.0035 per pound.

This amendment shall become effective September 13, 1946.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 20 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 37

The accompanying amendment accomplishes the following:

1. Increases the maximum prices for sales of butyl alcohol produced by United States Industrial Chemicals, Inc. by fermentation of molasses at its Curtis Bay, Maryland, plant.

2. Permits the averaging of maximum prices prevailing for a producer's sales of butyl alcohol when the production of butyl alcohol during a given month at one plant is made at one time wholly from molasses and at another time wholly from grain.

3. Permits the averaging of maximum prices prevailing for a producer's sales of butyl alcohol when the same producer operates two or more plants for the manufacture of butyl alcohol and the butyl alcohol produced at each of these plants has a different maximum price.

4. Establishes the producer's maximum prices for sales of butyl acetate produced from butyl alcohol as set forth in 2 and 3.

(1) Butyl alcohol is a very important organic solvent and is in short supply. Butyl alcohol and acetone are joint products resulting from the fermentation of carbohydrate containing materials such as grain or molasses. Because of their joint nature, it is necessary in determining the cost of production of normal fermentation butyl alcohol to set off against costs the value of the jointly produced acetone.

Since V-J Day the market for acetone has so declined that its net price at the plant is 5½¢ per pound, after freight absorption. Moreover, molasses has increased in price from $2.685 to $2.818 per cwt sugars. The present maximum prices for sales by the United States Industrial Chemical Company of its butyl alcohol produced from molasses at its Curtis Bay plant do not cover total costs. Total costs are being allowed for this plant's output because it is essential that all available production capacity be fully utilized.

Accordingly, this amendment permits sales by this producer of butyl alcohol, produced at its Curtis Bay plant from molasses, at $0.2235 per pound delivered.

(2) and (3) Normal fermentation butyl alcohol is principally made from grain and/or molasses. Butyl alcohols whether produced from grain or molasses serve the same purpose and are indistinguishable from each other. Maximum Price Regulation 37 provides for formula prices on butyl alcohol produced from grain which gears the prices of the finished product to the costs of grain. The regulation provides for changes in the maximum prices for fluctuations in the actual average cost of grain up or down from the base average cost of grain. Since molasses prices have been stabilized by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the regulation provides a fixed ceiling on butyl alcohol produced from this ingredient. Currently, the ceiling prices for butyl alcohol produced from grain are substantially higher than those for butyl alcohol produced from molasses.

Molasses at the present time is in short supply. This Office has been informed that producers of molasses butyl alcohol operating one or more plants may be compelled to use part or all of their plants for the production of butyl alcohol from grain. In addition, the U. S. Industrial's Curtis Bay plant's molasses butyl alcohol price is higher than this company's New Orleans plant's molasses butyl alcohol price. As a result, such producers on sales to the same purchaser would have two different prices depending upon the origin of the butyl alcohol. This leads to an undesirable result. In addition, the CPA has requested this Office to assist it in making greater grain utilization possible and to encourage the production of butyl alcohol by allowing averaging. In view of the foregoing, this amendment allows producers who operate more than one plant in the production of butyl alcohol when one plant's maximum price is higher than the other, to sell at a maximum price during any given month which shall be the weighted average price for the estimated production of such plants during such month. Any excess or deficit in price arising from over-estimation or under-estimation shall be added or deducted, as the case may be, to the maximum price established for the following month.

This amendment also allows a producer, whose plant during a given month produces butyl alcohol from only grain or molasses at different times, to sell at a maximum price for that month which shall be the weighted average price for the estimated production during that month. Any excess or deficit in price arising from an over-estimation or under-estimation shall be added or deducted, as the case may be, to the maximum price established for the following month. Unless, this were permitted, wide fluctuations in a producer's quotations would result. During the portion of the month when molasses was utilized, his ceiling price would be 18½¢ per pound of butyl alcohol while during the balance of the month, prices in excess of 28¢ per pound might apply to the grain butyl alcohol.

(4) Butyl alcohol also is a raw material used in the production of butyl acetate. The price of butyl acetate depends, among other things, upon the value of the butyl alcohol used in its production. Generally, seven-tenths of a pound of butyl alcohol is used to make a pound of butyl acetate. This gives rise to a ratio of $0.0035 per pound change in the price of butyl acetate with every change of a half-cent per pound in the price of butyl alcohol. The average price of the butyl alcohol used in butyl acetate production by a producer, described in (2) and (3), is the weighted average of the total butyl alcohol production. Consequently, if butyl acetate is produced from molasses butyl alcohol having different prices, the value at which the butyl alcohol is charged against the cost of butyl acetate is the weighted average price for all butyl alcohols produced by such producer. If this were not the case, such producer would not receive on that portion of butyl alcohol used to produce butyl acetate the weighted average price of molasses butyl alcohols to which he is entitled. Moreover, with butyl alcohol and acetate used interchangeably for some solvent purposes, a distorted price relationship between the two products would exist if the producer's butyl acetate prices reflected molasses butyl alcohol prices while his butyl alcohol sales were made at the weighted average of the prices for grain and molasses butyl alcohol. Accordingly, this amendment establishes a floating ceiling for sales of such butyl acetate which provides for changes in the maximum prices for changes in the average price of such butyl alcohols. This amendment establishes a base price of $0.2115 per pound for such acetate and provides for every increase or decrease of $0.005 per pound in the weighted average price of such butyl alcohol from a base price of $0.226 per pound, the price for such butyl acetate may be increased or decreased as the case may be, by $0.0035 per pound.

In the opinion of the Administrator, this amendment is consistent with and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the executive orders of the President.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[RMPR 165, Amdt. 13]

SERVICES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (a) (2) of section 16 is amended by the deletion of the semicolon and the word "and" at the end thereof; and by adding a period immediately after the word "elsewhere".

2. Section 16 is amended by the deletion of paragraph (a) (3) together with the first undesignated paragraph immediately following.

This amendment shall become effective September 18, 1946.

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 13 TO RMPR No. 165

The accompanying amendment to RMPR 165 removes the provision in Section 16 (a) (3) that no adjustments can be made above the prevailing level of prices in the applicant's area for the same or equivalent service.

The supply of services generally has increased sufficiently to permit the removal of this limitation without danger of increasing the general level of prices. Now, the occasional applicant who formerly would have been adversely affected by the limitation can secure the full measure of relief in accordance with the established criteria under Section 16 (a).

Issued this 13th day of September 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

PART 4001—STABILIZATION OF WAGES AND PRICES

SUPPLEMENTARY WAGE AND SALARY REGULATIONS [1]

Supplementary Wage and Salary Regulations are amended by adding a new § 4001.205 to read as follows:

§ 4001.205 Wage or salary increases in government operations. (a) In accordance with long established governmental policy, the government agency responsible for operations conducted by or for the United States may pay (or authorize the payment of) wages and salaries in such operations, comparable to the wages and salaries paid, for the same or comparable services, by other operations in the same industry. However, this applies only if both the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) Such government operations constitute less than half the total operations of the industry, when measured by either the total number of persons employed or the total dollar volume of business done; and

(2) A substantial part of the remaining operations in the industry (as above measured) are paying the comparable wages or salaries.

(b) For the purposes of this section, "operations conducted by or for the United States" do not include operations in plants, mines, or facilities in the possession of the United States under section 3 of the War Labor Disputes Act or similar laws.

(c) A wage or salary increase made under the provisions of this section may be used as a basis for reimbursement by the United States but shall be deemed an unapproved increase for the other purposes of these regulations; Provided, however, That all other provisions of these regulations (except § 4001.103) are superseded insofar as they are inconsistent with the making of a wage or salary increase (or reimbursement therefor) otherwise permitted by this section.

This amendment shall become effective September 12, 1946.

Issued this 12th day of September 1946.

AUTHORITY: §§ 4.700 to 4.725, inclusive, issued under authority of R. S. 161, 463; 5 U. S. C. 22; 25 U. S. C. 2; act of August 8, 1946 (Public Law 687, 79th Cong., 2d sess.).

The following sections are added to Part 4:

§ 4.700 Appeals. (a) Any action taken by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs under the authority of this Subpart shall be subject to the right of appeal to the Secretary of the Interior. All appeals must be filed in writing with the Commissioner, who will thereafter transmit them promptly to the Secretary, together with the complete record in the case.

(b) The Under Secretary and the Assistant Secretaries of the Interior are severally authorized to dispose finally of any appeal taken pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 4.710 Functions relating to Indian health and welfare matters. The Commissioner may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining Secretarial approval:

(a) The commitment of insane Indians to Federal or State hospitals or institutions pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 86.

(b) The quarantine of Indians refusing to submit to remedial treatment of contagious or infectious diseases, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 84.

(c) The extension of State health laws and regulations to Indian Reservations, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 84.

(d) The negotiation and execution of contracts with States or Territories, or political subdivisions thereof, or with private organizations, for medical, nursing or hospital services, as authorized by the act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458; 25 U. S. C. 452–454), and pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 84.

(e) The negotiation and execution of contracts with States or Territories, or political subdivisions thereof, or with private organizations, for social service, relief, and child welfare, authorized by the act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458; 25 U. S. C. 452–454).

§ 4.711 Functions relating to Indian funds and fiscal matters. The Commissioner may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining Secretarial approval:

(a) The approval of per capita or annuity payments from Indian tribal funds, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 224.

(b) The incurring of obligations in excess of appropriations currently available for the benefit of natives of Alaska, in conformity with the provisions of the act of June 1, 1944 (58 Stat. 266).

(c) The approval of expenditures of individual Indian moneys held in the custody of the Department. This authority extends to and includes investments, loans and donations by individual Indians.

(d) The approval of surety bonds, Provided, That in the case of a corporate surety the bonding company has been approved by the Treasury Department.

(e) The approval of the employment of attorneys for individual Indians and the determination and payment of fees paid on a quantum meruit basis from restricted or trust funds.

(f) The approval of attorney contracts with Indian tribes and the payment of fees and expenses thereunder, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 15.

(g) The approval and transmittal to the General Accounting Office, Audit Division, of accounts between the United States and Indian tribes under reimbursable appropriations, as required by the acts of April 4, 1910 (36 Stat. 270) and June 10, 1921 (42 Stat. 24; 25 U. S. C. 145).

(h) The approval of applications of individual Indians of the Sioux Nation for cash benefits under the acts of March 2, 1889 (25 Stat. 888, 894), June 10, 1896 (29 Stat. 321, 334), and June 18, 1934 (48 Stat. 984, 987; 25 U. S. C. 474).

(i) The approval of applications of individual Indians for their pro rata shares of tribal trust funds, made pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 233.

§ 4.712 Functions relating to Indian education. The Commissioner may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining Secretarial approval:

(a) The negotiation and execution of contracts with State Boards of Education, as authorized by the act of June 4, 1936 (49 Stat. 1458; 25 U. S. C. 452–454), and pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 46.

§ 4.713 Functions relating to Indian lands and minerals. The Commissioner may act in relation to the following classes of matters without obtaining Secretarial approval:

(a) The approval of leases for oil, gas, or other mining purposes covering restricted allotted Indian lands, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Parts 183, 189 and 201. The authority conferred by this subsection extends to and includes the approval or other appropriate administrative action required on all assignments of mineral leases now or hereafter in force on restricted allotted Indian lands, bonds and other instruments required in connection with such leases or assignments thereof, and the acceptance of the voluntary surrender of such leases by lessees.

(b) The approval of applications for patents in fee or certificates of competency, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 241.

(c) The approval of partitions of lands held in trust or subject to restrictions against alienation, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 241.

(d) The approval of sales and conveyances of original allotments and inherited lands pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 241. The authority conferred by this subsection extends to and includes the sale of inherited lands without the consent of the Indian owners, the approval of deeds or other instruments of conveyance, the issuance of certificates or memoranda of purchase to purchasers on deferred payment sales, the reduction or waiver of sales fees, the granting of extensions of time to purchasers to make payment, the cancellation of deferred payment sales in case of default, the approval of the negotiation of notes given in connection with deferred payment sales of restricted lands to the Five Civilized Tribes.

(e) The approval of exchanges of lands between individual Indians and Indian tribes, and between individual Indians and non-Indians.

(f) The approval of the purchase of lands for individual Indians and Indian tribes. This authority extends to and includes the acceptance of options for the acquisition of lands.

(g) The removal of restrictions against alienation of Indian lands, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 241.

(h) The approval and certification of applications for allotments on the public domain under authority of section 4 of the act of February 8, 1887 (24 Stat. 388, 389; 25 U. S. C. 334).

(i) The approval of authorizations for the sale of restricted Indian lands pledged as security for the repayment of tribal loans to individuals, and the approval or acceptance of conveyances of such lands in accordance with the terms of the pledge in the event of default.

(j) The approval and certification of allotment exchanges, correction of patent descriptions and cancellation of multiple allotments, as authorized by the act of April 23, 1904 (33 Stat. 297; 25 U. S. C. 343).

(k) The approval of permits for the excavation of ruins and archeological sites and the gathering of objects of antiquity on Indian reservations, pursuant to the provisions of 25 CFR, Part 11.

Definition of International Broadcast Stations and Allocation of Facilities

§ 3.701. Defined. The term "international broadcast station" means a station licensed for the transmission of broadcast programs for international public reception. (Frequencies for these stations are allocated from bands assigned (between 6000 and 21700 kilocycles) for broadcasting by international agreement.)

§ 3.702 Frequency assignment. (a) The following groups of frequencies are allocated for assignment to international broadcast stations:

Group A	Group B	Group C
Kilocycles	Kilocycles	Kilocycles
6040	9530	11710
6060	[1] [2] 9550	[1] [2] 11730
6080	9570	11790
6100	9590	11820
[1] 6120	9650	11830
6140	9670	11870

		21650

[1] Authorizations for international broadcast stations which permit operation on these frequencies shall be subject to the condition that the authorizations for these frequencies may be modified by the Commission to delete these frequencies without advance notice or hearing.

[2] Authorizations for international broadcast stations which permit operation on these frequencies shall be subject to the condition that there shall be no commercial or advertising announcements of any kind in the programs broadcast through the medium of these frequencies, and that the names of program sponsors shall not be broadcast.

(b) Additional frequencies allocated by international agreement may be assigned to international broadcast stations subject to the conditions that no objectionable interference results to the service of foreign international broadcast stations which, in the opinion of the Commission, have priority of assignment.

(c) Any frequency licensed to an international broadcast station shall also be available for assignment to other international broadcast stations, provided no objectionable interference is caused to the service of any United States international broadcast station.
